24 STATES URGING HIGH GAS TAX

Approving the gasoline tax as the ideal plan for highway financing, 24 states of the union including California are proposing an increase in the levy, according to the National Automobile Club.

Arizona plans an increase of 1 raise from 2 to 3. Colorado which now has a 2 cent tax proposes an incent, the present tax being 3 cents, California plan provides for a 1 cent crease to 3 or 4 cents. Idaho now has a 3 cent tax and plans an increase to 5 cents. Illinois which has no gasoline tax proposed a two cent levy. Iowa proposed a raise from 2 to 3 cents. Maine plans to raise the present 3 cent tax to 4 or 5 cents while Maryland with a 3½ cent tax proposes 4½ cents.

In Massachusetts, where no gasoline tax has been levied a 2 cents tax is plained. Michigan, an increase from 2 to 3; Minnesota from 2 to 3; New Hampshire from 2 to 3 or 4; New Jersey with no tax plans a two cent law; New York has no gasoline tax at the present time but Governor Smith has had a two cent bill introduced into the Legislature and is backing it. Proposals in Nevada suggest a raise from 4 to 5 cents, although no definite assurance is given that such a bill will pass. Ohio, with a gas tax of 3 cents, proposes to raise the levy to 3 or 4 cents. In Pennsylvania, Governor Fisher suggests a raise in the gas tax rate of 1 cent from 2 to 3 cents. Rhode Island, with a 1 cent gas tax, proposes an increase from 2 cents the present rate, to 3 cents to take effect in 1928.

In Texas a bill is before the legislature to raise the tax from 2 to 3 cents. In Vermont, Governor Weeks in his message to the Legislature, proposes a raise from 2 to 3 cents, a bill in Washington providing for a similar increase. Both houses of hte Legislature in West Virginia propose to raise the present tax of 3½ to 5 cents while in Wyoming, where the present tax is 2½ cents it is proposed to raise it at least ½ cent.

That Train Called C. P. T.

(Race Function Limited)

Will you listen just a minute, and remember what you hear?
Our meeting's just beginning, the adjourning time is near,
My subject is a timely one, for really it's a crime,
The way 'Our Folks' are shackled down, to 'Colored Peoples' Time.'

It's a funny situation, tho' we claim we're up-to-date,
Whenever there's a gathering, 'Our Folks' are always late;
If we have a business meeting, don't we have the darndest time,
To get 'Our Folks' together, before 'Colored Peoples' Time'?

For churches, clubs, and lodges, here's a plan that's up-to-date,
If the meetings set for nine o'clock, just tell the members eight,
Then you'll always have a quorum, and a lot of harmony,
'Cause colored members travel on that train called 'C. P. T.'

Bang! Whats that dearie? Oh, nothing, just a blow out, he exclaimed as he turned about and headed for home in disgust. The outing for the day spoiled by starting to San Diego without a spare. We'll not let the linotype man publish your name this time H. D. but get a spare.

Attorney E. C. Jennings is taking a few days rest from office duties. His Dodge is having a good time running him about with him.

Well C. W. you certainly spread some butter last evening. Twas a glorious night likewise a glorious sight, and long after the Hudson Super had left your door, we still were barking in the essence of pleasant memories. (The above is a paragraph to be published in our new book "Mid-April Night Dreams.)

Elsinore harbored the largest number of visitors for any one day registered thus for this year. Only 186 machines made the week end round trip. Brother Coleman, the old reliable wore a smile of welcome.

Mr. Geo. Beavors of Golden State had the emptiness to arrest out attention in the street as he passed us his Star. Good thing the madam was seated beside you.

Rev. A. P. Shaw is again shoving clutches, pushing brakes and shifting gears in his effort to help us help ourselves. Of course, being without a car doesnt really inconvenience him for as you knew, he's better than six feet and has little trouble in covering ground.

Mr. Richard City of the real estate firm of City Brothers, was noticed with a pair of crutches supporting him the other day. Hope it wasn't as serious as it looked.

Mrs. Pickens and son, William, drove in their Durant out to the hospital to see Mr. Pickens Sunday. They report that he is getting along fine.

Dr. Garrett, who for a number of years has had his dental officers uptown, recently transported by auto, all his belongings to the vicinity of 18th and Hooper where he owns a corner. The move is some addition to the neighborhood.

Three things predominated at the Sport Writers Indoor Circus last week. Fine gowned ladies, a good time, and plenty of swell automobiles tanked full of gas.

We understand a bendix spring messed up the party and caused a burned out bearing at an Barcelino. Just whose party it was, we are not free to express.

Don't forget the Sunrise Easter sunrise hold yearly Sunday week in Exeter. Try and get up, for one day in the year and drive to some place of the many others.

TRAFFIC

No matter who is to blame for an accident, and in spite of large sums of money paid for damages, the dead cannot be brought back to life, nor could anything or anybody console you in case the one killed happened to be your wife, your child, or someone else dear to you. Keep your thoughts on your driving when you are in your car and remember these safety hints of the Traffic Cop printed each week in this newspaper.

Do not park within fifteen feet of a fire plug, or in front of a mail box or within fifteen feet of a street intersection. Fire plugs in particular should be kept clear for use at all times. A delay of a few minutes to remove a parked car may mean a loss of much property and perhaps a life.

The motor car will eventually drive people underground, says a traffic expert. It often does now, if it hits a man hard enough.—Punch.

National Crook Captured

The notorious career of Clarence Johnson from Chicago, New York and points East came to a sudden termination by his arrest here a few days past, shortly after his arrival to begin operations in Los Angeles.

He was arrested by Detectives Edwards and Reed after they had observed his actions in mingling with the crowds on busses, street cars, and crowded corners, plying what proved to his trade of pick-pocket.

Upon arrest and examination, he confessed to a string of crimes that sounded like a calendar of evil: pick-pocket, thief, yeggman, burglar and confidence operator. He was tried in Judge Wm. Fredrickson's Court on Wednesday, April 13th and defended by Public Defender, Attorney Arfidd, found guilty and sentenced to a long prison term.

Johnson is a medium sized, brown-skin man, slightly bald in front and was dressed in a gray suit and tan shoes. He has a bolder, steadier look as he sat on the dock, than the average crook has and a nonchalence that seemed to show the trial was just an ordinary incident in his 30 or 35 years. His wife, Thelma, who arrived with him from the East, was his only witness at the trial.

FALSE REPORT OF DR G. W. SHIELDS

DR. G. W. SHIELDS

On last Wednesday evening, an employee of one of our local undertaking establishments, brought in the report, to this office, that Dr. G. W. Shields, well-known pastor of Douglass Temple Spiritualist Church, had passed out.

Coming to us as it did, and knowing of the standing of Dr. Shields in this city, we immediately bulletined the same on our Bulletin Board; in the interim, the young lady who prepared the death notices each week had added Dr. Shields' name to the list. Later it was discovered that the report of the doctor's death was untrue, and we immediately took down the erroneous bulletin. The proof was marked to take out the line announcing the death in the news column. Unfortunately, our make-up artist overlooked this correction and as a consequence, the terrible mistake was made.

We are aware of the great confusion it has caused, the inconvenience to Mrs. Shields and the doctor's loyal flock, and we desire to make the most abject apology for the error caused by the carelessness or negligence of the employee of this office.

This paper has never entertained any but the kindliest feeling for Dr. Shields and his followers and in turn, they have ever been loyal and true supporters and friendly indeed to our efforts. It is therefore apparent that it was an unintentional mistake which no one regrets more than ourselves.

(Signed) THE EDITOR.

ROWENA MUCKELROY TO APPEAR IN VOCAL RECITAL

Miss Rowena Sloss Muckelroy, a graduate student in the College of Music, University of Southern California, pupil of Mrs. Annie Mottrage-Craig, and a recently appointed representative of the Los Angeles District in the California Musicfolog Contest, will appear in Song Recital at the Second Baptist Church, May 10th, 1927, under the auspices of the Second Baptist Union Board.

NOTICE !

That rush for advertising and news matter overwhelmed us this issue. Your matter, if mlss, will appear in our next issue. Get in your news early at all times to insure publication.

ROLL CALL

It is now in order to publish the roll call in the City Council on the proposition of maintaining a nuisance for commercial purposes as against the comfort, peace, and happiness of a church mission and residences surrounding the same. A majority vote of the council passed an ordinance that the mission might be secure and the residents could keep on in peace and comfort. This situation, as is well known, is in the vicinity of 37th and Central avenues.

In response to representations of citizens and a masterly plea by Attorney H. E. Macbeth, the council recognized the justice and merits of the situation and voted that the nuisance complained of should not be, and voted it out.

The Mayor, however, could see no harm in a dirty, smoking, rubber factory being right in the door of Rev. L. S. Walker's Mission, established there 21 years, and other residents, and vetoed the council's act of a square deal.

We publish roll, quite interesting at this time, on just how the City Council made its final line up:

For Sustaining the Veto: Workman; Jacobson; Hall; Criswell; Allen; Ash; Barnes; and Sanborn.

Against the Veto and FOR THE PEOPLE: Colden; Hughes; Moore; Randall; Shaw; Sparks and Zahn.

8th Annual Declamation Contest To Be Held At Second Baptist Church

SO. CALIFORNIA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION TO STAGE AFFAIR APRIL 22ND

For the eighth consecutive time the Southern California Alumni Association will present to the public the students of the various high schools in their eighth annual Declamation Contest. This event looked forward to by both young and old will be held in the Second Baptist Church the evening of April 22nd at eight o'clock.

Three medals shall be given besides the beautiful silver loving cup which goes to the first place winner. This affair which has attracted so much attention was recently given space in the L. A. Teacher's journal. The article was prepared by Miss Carmelita White, a student in Polytechnic.

The public is asked to come early in order to have the best seats. The student body is anxiously awaiting the event and is holding rally meetings regularly. These are a few of the speakers:

Don't forget Friday evening, April the 22nd.

University Student Gains Laurels

Miss Rowena Muckelroy, popular soprano soloist, and a graduate student in college of music, U. S. C., won first place in the Adult Soprano Division, Los Angeles District Eisteddfod, held in Artland Studio, Fine Arts Bldg., Monday Evening, April 4th, 1927.

The marvelous quality of Miss Muckelroy's voice very distinctively gave to her rightly the opportunity of representing the Los Angeles District in the California Eisteddfod at the Southern California finals.

Miss Angebell Harrison, University student, very ably accompanied Miss Muckelroy.

Doubtlessly this is the first time any member of our group has entered the Eisteddfod District contest. Much praise and commendation should be given Miss Muckelroy for successfully meriting first place.

Easter Services At Second Baptist Church

WEDDING CEREMONY TO TAKE PLACE AFTER

The Easter Program of Second Baptist Church is expected to be of most unusual interest this year. In the Morning Services, Dr. Griffith will preach on "Zion's Glad Morning," and Miss Anna Mai Griffith will render a solo, Christ is Risen by Harker with violin obligato by Miss Juanita Craddock.

After the close of the morning services there will be a most unique ceremony. Prof. Wm. T. Wilkins and Miss Elena Rosamanda Shelton will be united in holy wedlock with an appropriate program in connection. Prof. Wilkins takes this means of making the announcement to his friends. There will be some unusual features to this ceremony.

The pastor and all the officers of the church will greatly appreciate it if all those who intend to come to the wedding will also try to be present for the morning services. It is not possible to name the exact hour when the ceremony will commence.

There will be a great song fest in the evening. For many weeks the choir under the direction of Mrs. Marie Overstreet Jackson has been working to prepare an appropriate Easter program. There will be two choirs in action at this service. All are invited to spend the day with us. Everybody talks of those wonderful organ selections rendered by Mrs. Luvenia Patterson.

Speaker Regrets Change

On last Sunday, April 10th, Atty. Willis Q. Tyler was scheduled to speak at the corner-stone laying of the Hemin Furniture Plant. Atty. Tyler regrets the change to Easter Sunday, for he will be unable to meet the change. Previous engagements pertaining to religious services must be kept by him.

State Insurance Department Commends Golden State

After a thorough examination of the business and affairs of the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company, the state insurance examiners made the following comments in a report which is now on file in the state insurance department:

"The accounting and statistical records are clearly and concisely kept.

"We have made an examination of their claims and find that they have been rendering prompt service to their policy holders.

"Our examination covered the business and affairs of the company from the commencement of business in July 1925 to November 30th, 1926. The Annual Statement of December 31st, 1926, filed by the Company with the Insurance Department was checked with the Company's books, which we found to agree.

"The affairs of the Company are conducted under the capable management of Wm. Nickerson, Jr., President of the Company and assisted by a competent office staff."

It is very gratifying to know that our company is making such favorable history and rapid progress as to receive unusual commendation from the state officers.

Every California citizen can be justly proud of this the first life insurance company incorporated in the State of California to be owned and controlled by our people. The first life insurance company in this state to give employment to 40 members of our race, and to loan money direct on homes owned by Black Americans. Truly this company is rendering a great service.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH CONFERENCE AND BABY CONTEST.

Mothers are invited to enter their children under four years of age in the contest during Health Week of May 2-6, 1927 at the Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith. Competent physicians will be in charge to examine your children and advise in general health. Don't miss the chance to help bringing in larger numbers. This will be a big event of the week for the general public.

HAWK'S HANDS

ANGERS ANIMALS; WRECKS CAR

The fanfare of Barnes Circus had died to a whisper on Sunday night; wagons were being loaded and many on the way to the train, down Washington Blvd. A brown bear, an African leopard, two hyenas and a wolf were snoozing peacefully in a huge compartment cage as they dreamed of free days in the jungle.

Along Central avenue in a red Buick roadster whizzed Ulysses Everly, a musician from Texas, with a companion. This was about 10:00 o'clock. Seeing the big wagon and that it was impossible to miss it, he tried to pass underneath its bed. He got under all right, but got without something like our dear old ma's first pan-cake; just a conglomerate mass of bolts, tin, rubber, and glass.

The wild beasts aroused by the terrific impact, set up a chorus of growls, snarls, barks, and angry screams. Everly's companion leaped out of the wreckage and fled. He is probably still going, for Everly, badly lacerated and bruised had to stay and tremble amid the alarming jungle noises till Officers Hastings and Griffith of Newton Station arrived and took him in.

After medical treatment, it was intended to book him for reckless driving, driving [illegible] and [illegible] enough by the animals without remaining longer in the "Hawk's Hands."

PRE-EASTER DRUNKS

ABNER HUGGER was collected by officers Rome and Field, while James Wilson ran afoul of Sergt. Fisher and officer Bradley. The two men were celebrating Easter early with some 20 year (hoar) old Bourbon.

MODERN MAGDALENES

JOSEPHINE BRODNAX and Lillian Smith were plying the age-old trade of the "Scarlet Woman," at 915 E. 8th street, according to passers-by. Finally they met the wrong parties in the persons of two minions of the law, Brown and Bowley. They were booked for "loitering" vagrancy and lewd.

L. A. NO PLACE FOR "YEGGS"

Albert Speare came from New York and Melvin Edwards from Texas. The two were arrested at the corner of Newton and Hooper streets on suspicion of burglary. Los Angeles is getting mean and more unsafe for burglars and stick-up men as the 'Hawk's' eyes are its friend.

THE GROCERIES WERE DAMP

Eddie Kidd was meandering along near 24th and Griffith with an innocent look on his face, and an innocent-looking but fishy paper shopping bag swinging from his hand.

"Evenin', Mr. Sheffield," he said sickeningly as he met that worthy law enforcer face to face.

"Where are you going, son?" asked the officer.

"Let's see your groceries, they might be getting damp in this mist," and as he examined the "law" exclaimed, "Why there's not only items, but wo-"

"You are under the [illegible] and [illegible] again, my accuracy Sheffield's [illegible] instinct is law-breaker in the district.

JUDGE GEORGIA BULLOCK

Judge Bullock is achieving immeasurable success in salvaging young men and women, and in bringing them back to a better understanding of their obligations to themselves and to society, the probation officer declares. It is a fundamental belief of Judge Bullock that most of the trouble between couples can be adjusted if taken in the earliest stage, and providing that the court recognizes the proper principle of sympathy and human understanding. There are hardened offenders who cannot be made to respond, but the larger number by far are in no manner criminals or criminally inclined, and when dealt with on a genuinely human basis are soon guided back to their rightful place in the scheme of life. Mrs. Barton believes that the establishment of this woman's court presided over by a woman who is herself a mother is one of the decisive steps forward in the relation of the law to the offender of the law. That Judge Bullock dispenses sound law as well as a sympathetic and human angle upon the law is demonstrated through the fact that in the two years on the bench she has received no reversals from higher courts.

Endorsed by Los Angeles Bar Association

JUDGE R. MORGAN GALBRETH

CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED HIMSELF

Speaking before United Spanish War Veterans, Camp E. L. Baker No. 11, Said in Part—

"The two most important courts to the people are the Municipal, where cases start and merits are judged and the U. S. Supreme, the court of last appeal. Every litigant should come before the bar of justice on equal footing, and is entitled to have his case decided on its merits regardless of Creed, Color or Social Position."

HOSICK FOR JUDGE OF MUNICIPAL COURT NO. 19

James Hosick for Municipal Judge, office No. 19, committee headquarters have been established at 3215 Financial Center Bldg. Telephone TRinity 2904.

Indorsements have been received from seven additional civic organizations having a total membership of over 30,000 members as well as several luncheon business and professional men and women. The widespread support being accorded Mr. Hosick assures the committee of a very high vote at the primary May 3rd. Among the prominent organizations in the California Citizens Civic League.

ELECT M. J. GORDON JUDGE OF MUNICIPAL COURT NO. 10

"Fair and impartial justice, seasoned with human understanding—that is what we seek when we go before the bar of justice today," said M. J. Gordon, candidate for Municipal Judge division No. 10, yesterday in discussing his ideas of the judicial office he seeks. Gordon has been a successful trial lawyer in Los Angeles for the last fifteen years, and has a wide knowledge of conditions here.

"We are all members of the big human family. We should develop the real humanitarian point of view so that we can deal out a greater measure of justice to our fellow men," Mr. Gordon declared. "In a position of having to deal out the law, a man should make all due allowance for the facts of life as they exist today, and look on law as but a part of the great social engineering. Let us strive for that time when our communities will be ruled over by a spirit of humanity, power, and true justice."

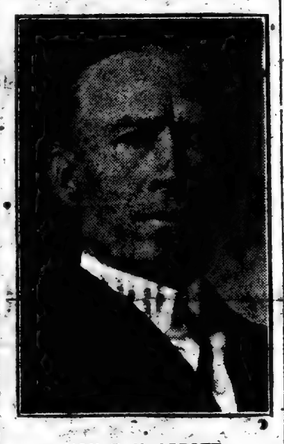
Mr. Gordon is a member of the Odd Fellows, Red Men, Yeomen, and has been active in civic life in Los Angeles for many years.

James P. Costello, Candidate for Municipal Judge, Office 9

I hav no ambition othr than a broader service to the people. I have no political machine to develop, no personal ambition to further, no enemies to punish. Only an even handed justice to all alike.

LEWIS P. RUSSELL CANDIDATE TO SUCCEED HIMSELF, DIV. 10

Judge Louis P. Russell announces his candidacy to succeed himself as Judge of the Municipal Court, Division 10, at the coming primary election, May 3rd.



Judge Russell has been on the bench for the past four years during which time he has handled some very important civil and criminal cases. Since the establishment of the Municipal Court he has handled 121 County Traffic cases, Dr.176 in number, for the year 1926.

Judge Russell has applied the duties of this office with careful attention, bringing to the task an amount of energy, a degree of enthusiasm, and a grade of ability seldom found in one elected. He has made an analytical study of traffic conditions, and of the laws relative to traffic, hence his utterances upon these subjects, whether from the bench or whether in speaking at clubs or public gatherings, are regarded as bearing the stamp of authority. His

Retain Judge Charles E. Haas, Incumbent, Div. 22 Municipal Court

Judge Haas has been a resident of Los Angeles for more than 40 years; he is a graduate of Los Angeles High School and Stanford University, George Washington University; has served as deputy city attorney for 7 years; he is fully qualified to serve the people as demonstrated by his judicial acts. He is a man who will mingle a humane understanding with one of law.

Joe Bristow Reports Progress in His Race For Councilman 10th District

Joe Bristow reports a most hopeful outlook in his canvass of the 10th Councilmanic District and declares that he will run one, two, at the Primaries, May 3rd. Mr. Bristow has a host of loyal friends who are leaving no stone unturned to make him a runner up and finally elect him to the City Council.

Mr. Bristow has for 32 years resided at the same address and is well known for his genuine ability for real service, for honor and integrity.

Why Frank H. Mouser Should Be Elected Councilman from the Eleventh District

Because he has lived in the Eleventh District eighteen years, and in Los Angeles and Southern California for forty-one years, is a property owner in the Eleventh District and knows the needs and problems of the district and entire city.

Because he has served six years as a member of the legislature and always voted for progressive and humanitarian legislation. For instance: The eight-hour law for women, minimum wage law for women, the workmen's compensation law, mothers' pension law, and the child labor laws.

Because he is for governmental efficiency and administration economy and against the present unjust system of taxation and placing overlapping assessments against property.

Councilman Moore Heavily Endorsed

Distinguished Citizens and Influential Civic Organizations in Solid Alignment.

The following organizations have gone on record through regular resolutions in support of the candidacy of E. H. Moore to succeed himself as Councilman in the Sixth Council District, comprising Venice, Mar Vista and Barnes City:

Citizens & Taxpayers League, Parent Body;
Citizens & Tax Payers League, Hyde Park Subsidiary;
Los Angeles Chapter, Disabled Emergency Officers of the World War;
United War Veterans League;
Progressive Campaign Council;
Sherman Society;

Who has the honor to preside over the City Council as its President must and will be retained in his present position.

Budgeting public improvements as a [illegible] way to carry through the city's paving program was advocated by John Topham, candidate for Councilman in the Fifth District, in an address Saturday (April 9) before the Los Angeles branch of the National Association of Stationary Engineers.

"It is of extreme importance," Topham said, "that we carry out the proposed general paving plan, notably the extension of great east and west and north and south arteries such as Washington, Adams, Vernon, Western and Vermont, to mention just a few.

"But we must put the program on an economic basis so the property owner will not be overburdened by assessments. If this is not done, the time is not far off when it will be difficult or impossible to obtain a majority of signers for a paving project. Under a budgeting system, the home owner would know approximately how much his bill would be when a petition was presented for his signature. On the other hand the City Council and Board of Public Works would have a record enabling them to avoid overlapping assessments or imposing other hardships upon the property owners.

"If elected to the Council I shall insist upon the inauguration of such a system, and I believe it will be welcomed by every interest concerned in the welfare of Los Angeles."

John Topham Candidate For Councilman Fifth District

The candidacy of John Topham for City Councilman in the Fifth District was given a strong indorsement this week by Isidore B. Dockweiler, nationally known as a lawyer and political leader, and member of an old Los Angeles family.

In a letter to Mr. Topham, Mr. Dockweiler said:

"My dear Friend:

"I am just sending you this letter to let you know how pleased I am about your candidacy for election to our City Council.

"No man is better qualified to serve our City more efficiently than yourself.

"Please be assured that I shall be delighted to advance your interests in every possible way and to bring about your election.

"Whenever and wherever you think I might be of some service to you, please command me.

"Very sincerely yours,"

Endorsement of Frank L. Shaw for re-election as City Councilman in the Eighth District has just been announced by the United Veterans of the Republic, an organization open to all ex-soldiers of all wars of the United States. Shaw's record on Council during the past two years was heavily commended.

The Retail Meat Dealers' Association also announced its endorsement of Shaw, following a general rallying to the support of business men and their organizations in this district.

THE POPPY GIRLS CLUB

The Poppy Girls Club held their regular weekly meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Beulah Johnson, 4022 Samora street. Spring flowers made effective decorations for the occasion and a daintily appointed 6:00 luncheon was served by the hostess. Prizes were won by Mrs. Willie Mae Carter, Mrs. Cordelia Curtis and Mrs. Ella Beverly. Mrs. Dorothy Gross and Mrs. Ella Beverly substituted for absent members.

Sigma and Alpha Chapters of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority will hold their Vocational Guidance program at Wesley Chapel, Sunday April 24th at 11 o'clock.

GLADYCE GREENAWAY

Well, it looks like we are going to have a nice wet Easter, which we are sure everyone will agree will be lovely.

• • •

Well, Hollywood won the Track and Field Meet, Saturday, April 9, and we must say here that that was one game the race girls and boys came out to see. West and Creecy of Jeff; Stewart of L. A.; A. W. Parrish of Lincoln are just a few of the really good track men who participated Saturday. Everyone in our vicinity including Ye Ed (during the relay) were disappointed because the Jeff team did not win. There's always another year, says we.

The All Brothers and Jackson, tap dancers appearing at the Met this week, are really bringing down the house. We were certainly glad to hear the abundance of applause which these three clever young men received from the appreciative audience. We hope to see more of them.

We hear that one of the men artists appearing on the Hi Brown Revue prologue at a downtown theatre a few weeks ago was initiated into that century old order called "The Order of the Bath," in between acts, and that it was so successful that another member will be asked to join soon.

A certain editor of a certain column which has been appearing in a certain wonderful race paper was found to be employed blowing a cornet in the circus which has just left L. A. But why all the secrecy and mystery? We hear that those red-jacketed colored musicians really brought old Al. G. Barnes more patrons in that particular side show than he had had for many a year. Yeh, bo!

THE BACHELOR GIRLS CLUB

You cannot afford to miss the after-Easter frolic to be given by the Bachelor Girls at the Republican Protective League, April 22nd.

On last Sunday afternoon Miss Marcella Robinson, secretary of the Bachelor Girls Club, entertained the Bachelor Girls and others of her many friends at her home, 941 East 11th street. The occasion being her 21st birthday (at least that was the number of candles on the beautiful and delicious birthday cake. There was a full house in spite of rain and a snappy time was had by all.

Next meeting of the Bachelor Girls Club will be held at the home of Miss Frieda Hayman.

POPULAR BACHELOR GIRL CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Despite the clouds and rain Sunday, April 10, a large crowd of young folk gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Robinson, 941 E. 11th street to the party honoring the twenty-first birthday of their daughter, Marcella.

Everyone had a most wonderful time and were highly entertained. Most enjoyable of all were the ukelele selections rendered by Miss Camille Allen, who won the Ukelele Naborhood Elimination Contest at the Rosebud Theatre recently.

Around seven o'clock, the guests departed commenting upon the pleasant afternoon and wishing Miss Marcella Robinson many more happy birthdays.

The honoree was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

The Home Art Club met last Saturday evening at the resident of Mrs. Eva Highbaugh, 1235 E. 45th St. A delicious three-course luncheon was served by the hostess. Mr. Highbaugh favored the club with a song.

The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. Evy Hudspeth.

INTRODUCING THE SANS SOUCI

Feeling the need of a social club, twelve "debs" of Los Angeles' younger set have organized the Sans Souci Social and Literary Club. At their first meeting the following officers were elected: Miss Thelma Overton, president; Miss Georgia Rosser, vice-president; Miss Anna Louise Griffin, secretary and Miss Rita Cohn, treasurer. Other members are Misses Helen Bogle, Meredith Carter, Lillian Fleet, Verlee Dandrige, Marie Mason, Portia Pruitt, Ethel Ralph and Edwinna Randalls.

MARRIED LADIES' GUILD IN FIRST CLUB LUNCHEON

One of the outstanding events of the current club year was the happy luncheon affair of the Married Ladies' Guild with Dr. J. A. Somerville as their first Luncheon speaker and who spoke brilliantly and practically to them on current political and economical events. The affair was held at the residence of the club president, Mrs. Jennie Graham, 1439 E. 23rd street, who, with the ladies of the club spared no pains to arranse the settings beautifully artistic. Over fifty ladies acted as patrons and it was the admitted by everyone present that this club had set a new and novel departure.

It is the aim of the club to present at these luncheons the very best talent in Los Angeles who shall bring to them subjects fitting in our everyday lives.

Mrs. Maudetta Rosemond Watson's contribution in song gave the program its most delightful moments. The speaker was heartily encored. Mrs. Walter L. Gordon as chairman of program promises to make these programs unusual in their merit.

THRIFTY HOUSEWIVES CLUB

Mrs. M. Wyndon of 1134 E. 24th St. was hostess to the Thrifty Housewives Club, Wednesday afternoon.

This being literary day, an excellent program was presented consisting of interesting remarks by Mrs. B. M. Estel of Kansas City, Mo. and Mrs. E. E. Stuart, and many other enjoyable numbers.

T. M. ART CLUB

Mrs. A. L. Binsley of 1268 E. 17th street was hostess to the T. M. Art Club, Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in sewing; delicious refreshments were served. Next meeting with Mrs. Clay.

BUSINESS GIRLS' LEAGUE

The Business Girls' League met at the Y. W. C. A. last Thursday, April 8 at the usual time, 6 o'clock.

After the business was over the meeting was turned over to the chairman of the program committee, Miss Emma Lue Sayers. She presented a topic for discussion, "Health" in honor of "Negro Health Week." A very interesting discussion followed. After which the girls were put through some gymnastic exercises by Miss Ollie Green, teacher in L. A. public schools. This was enjoyed by all and with many stiff joints and aching bones, the girls left to return this week to another interesting meeting.

E. PLURIBUS UNUMS CLUB

The E. Pluribus Unums Club met will meet at the home of Miss Evelyn Eldridge 1355 W. 35th St., Friday evening, April 15, with Miss Evelyn Richardson as hostess.

All members are urged to be present.

Quite a few are being extraordinarily good to the members of the club! Because of the coming of Mardi Gras Festival? I wonder? Was it you?

Spare Wild Flowers

By: OSCAR H. FERNBACH

The Golden poppy on the hills
In all its Springtime beauty thrills
The passing motorist—He goes
Where buttercup in glory blows,
Where Indian brush the landscape tints,
Where light of baby-blue-eyes glints,
Where trillium and lupin stand—
And wields, alas, a ruthless hand!

Oh, let the thought-less autoist
Unto the somber warning list;
Soon 'less we act with anxious care,
Our hills of wild flowers will be bare!
Let's guard them, to delight the eye
Let's spare them, while they multiply
For fear we reap the sigh forlorn
Of hills of floral beauty shorn.

The Allensworth Literary and Industrial Club

The Allensworth Literary and Industrial Club met at the residence of Mrs. L. B. Kelso, 122 N. Commonwealth. After business of the club was finished, Mrs. Robertson, the president, turned the meeting over to the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. L. B. Kelso, who had selected a most interesting program.

Among the most important numbers were the beautiful address by Mrs. M. J. Davis on the life of Colonel Allensworth; Remarks by Rev. T. L. Griffith, Rev. R. H. Lambert and Rev. A. E. Hines. Many excellent thoughts were brought out by each. Mr. Geo. Blain, explained fully the terms concerning Prince Hall Masonic Cemetery.

After the program the hostesses, Mrs. Cunningham and Kelso served a lovely repast. We adjourned to meet April 20th at the residence of Mrs. G. Brown, 2713 Glassell street.

EASTER

Easter comes at a glad season of the year. The festival itself, is both commemorative of the ressurection of Jesus Christ and a memorial to the atonement wrought by the death of the Master upon the Cross.

It is hailed with great acclaim in all the Chrstian Churches of the World. In Greek and Latin and in the languages derived from them Easter was known as "Paducha", "Pasch", "Paques", etc., from the Chaldean work "Pascha", the equivalent of the Hebrew "Pesach". The Destroying Angel's act is recalled by the last name in "Passing over" the households of the Hebrew, when he smote the Egyptians, as disclosed in the twelfth chapter of Exodus.

This year, Easter will fall on April 17th. The way by which Easter is determined is that of the first Sunday after the paschal full moon—the fourteenth day of the calendar moon, or the full moon which happens upon or next after March 21st; and if the full moon happens upon a Sunday, then Easter day is the first Sunday following.

As usual our churches will observe Easter with elaborate programs. It is an event that the children and the grown-ups have learned to look forward to with much pleasurable anticipation; it is an event all should remember with some beautiful thought for the day.

Many a man falls into debt, but the process of getting out is usually one of crawling.

HOW TO GET THE EASTER SPIRIT

Los Angeles and vicinity has arranged a goodly number of early or Sunrise Easter Services, and many people will attend some ,or at least one of these services.—Now to those of you who have not planned for the day, but have a lofty desire as to how you should spend the day away from home; we say, "Go to the 'Poppy Fields' ". Literally it is an ocean of wild flowers, a riot of colors. It would be trite to say that it is beautiful. Just at this time known as the Easter season Nature is furnishing a roadside drama, mostly in scene, but not entirely silent, for every little while one of Earth's feathered children comes out from the mountain, which forms a rustic background for this glorious scene, sings a plaintive, melodious tune, flops his dainty wings, and makes his way back to his home in the bush.

To reach the "Poppy Fields", Nature's Flower Garden, go by the Ridge Route to Bakersfield and come out by Tehachapi and Mojave. You can't miss it.

The Los Angeles Times of April 1th, has this to say concerning the Chicago election that made Thompson Mayor:

"Chicago Election

"Los Angeles, April 8.—(To the Editor of The Times: One of the outstanding features of the Chicago election is the fact that 90,000 Negro voters hold the balance of power in the Windy City. Dever was defeated mainly because he gave Chicago one of the best administrations it ever had, and Thompson was elected because he was Mayor for two terms before and gave Chicago the worst government it ever had.

"An election like this makes the words of H. G. Wells sound true when he says: 'There exists a great variety of indictments of political democracy, but the main, most essential one is that it has produced a special and objectionable type of ruler, the politician, with certain very definable characteristics.' "—JOSEPH W. PICKENS.

APPEARANCES

It was not a suurprise when we heard that New York's Broadway had accepted Garland Anderson's "Appearances", and had played it to a crowded House for a season. New York being the Cosmopolitan City that t is, is apt to do this sort of think without fear of criticism.

Truly Garland Anderson was a bell hop in the city of San Francisco when "Appearances was conceived. He realized that it was a love child of his f ondest imagination, but its foundation he was sure, was based on Truth.

Anderson believed so firmly in his plot, that he did not hesitate to make an appeal for "Appearances" in San Francisco, but his friends heard him not.

"Faith", saith "Appearance", "is the substance of things hoped for"—the author of "Appearances" had, and has faith.

San Francisco, the nativity of "Appearances", did not hear his pleadings, so he turned to New York, and soon it was one of Broadway's features. But when its time ran out in New York, it seamed that "Appearances" was to be relegated to the theatrical dump. Garland Anderson looked on in sorrow for he felt that even though his message had been heard in the greatest city in the world, that not yet had it done its greatest work.

He knew not why, but his yearnings turned west-ward, and he came back to California, not to San Francisco, but to Los Angeles. For a time, the public expressed neither desire nor demand for the play. To the pessimistic "Appearances" has disappeared, but to the optimistic; last Monday evening Los Angeles Theatrical Curtain arose and displayed its weekly features, among them was "Appearances" at the Majestic and their most sanguine expectations were surpassed.

The music furnished by the Majestic is exceedingly poor, but the audience's desire along this line was appeased, when at the lifting of the curtain, the dark form of Garland Anderson appeared. Mr. Anderson, in his quiet, composed fashion, as is his manner in everyday life, told his waiting audience how he had always been a servant and that he found pleasure in serving, also that when he conceived and wrote "Appearances" it was with a desire to serve the public with a dramatic production with a foundation erected on the power of Truth.

"Appearances" is beautiful in its simplicity, the author as has been said, makes no pretention to ability as a play-wright, but seeks to inspire the thinking world with the truth as to certain existing conditions.

In his plot, Mr. Anderson wove enough humor to dispel any gloom that might be pre-supposed by his propaganda.

The actors selected are able and easily adapted to their parts, especially good is Ralph Cloninger, who is presenting, directing, and acting in "Appearances".

We believe that, if Mr. Anderson could have added a little more dramatic force, and stronger word usage in his plea to the Jury as well as in his presentation speech, "Appearances" would make an even stronger appeal than it does. However, Garland Anderson, in this dramatic production, has rendered a yet untold service to his race, and delivered a message of love to the world.

Editorial Reflections

By: E. W. KYLE

Color prejudice is the profoundest, the most ridiculous ignorance in the world, compared with all the other bigotry, religious, political, scholastic. It cuts and stings and bruises the soul of any race that is trying to stand alone, unaided and unwelcomed in the march of human events. Deeper, far deeper than all questions of color is, whether events and ideas shall stand still to please a fossilized few, or move on for the benefit of mankind

* * *

The man who lives right and is right has more influence and power in his silence over his fellowmen ,than the noisy and boisterous. His character is a temple of love, with its golden bell of youth ringing forth music to the hearts of humanity.

* * *

* * *

We regard mankind worse in his character when he is gifted with a tongue to lie. There is nothing to be compared with a man or woman who assails the reputation of another.

* * *

* * *

Many and various have been the devices of mortal man to imitate the master and even duplicate Jesus' existence and yet after centuries of earnest endeavor we have but recently begun to recognize the fact that the complete success in the education of man lies in the secret of training the whole man mind, body and soul. All three are necessary in the producing of a perfect man.

* * *

Virtue in superiors will call out virtue in common folk. Try it.

* * *

All men naturally hate one another—they employ lust as far as possible in the service of the public weal. But this is only a pretence and a false image of love; for at bottom it is only hate.

What reason has the Atheist to believe that we cannot rise from the dead? Isn't it more difficult to be born than to rise again? Yes, around the Crucifixion and the Grave centers the hope of salvation—for Christ did die and was buried. He burst the grave open and ascended unto His Father.

The girl cigarette smoker is claiming the attention of the American public today and depicts the downward trend of modern civilization and a curse to future woman and motherhood No woman can reach that perfection in life if she loses her modesty and self respect—"when she has lost her modesty, she has lost fifty per cent of her virtue." No man will select a woman to be the mother of his children whom he cannot respect and trust before marriage. The Negro girl is slow to fall into the degrading habit—and may she never do so; for the saddest fate of woman is the fact that when she has lost her virtue and self-respect, she is the most miserable creature in creation.

THE BIG GOSPEL TENT

On account of the rain services were suspended Sunday night at the Big Tent, 20th and Central Ave., but if the weather permits a request sermon will be presented Sunday Night, April 17th at 7:45 P. M. by the Pastor, Evangelist F. G. Rodgers. "Is There Life Between the Grave and the Resurrection?" will be dealt with in a way that will not only be interesting but deeply spiritual as well, and all are invited to be on hand, on time, to hear it.

Wednesday night, April 20th the Silver Tone Quartette will sing and a service of rejoicing will be held at the regular service hour. The entire membership is rejoicing because they see their new church building at 37th and Wadsworth being erected without any mortgage, even though additional plans have run the original cost of the church up several thousands. Come and rejoice with us Wednesday night, April 20th and then follow the columns of the EAGLE for news regarding the progress of the New Church.

MUSIC AND ART

By: HAROLD BRUCE FORSYTHE

The public and indeed, some writers, seem to have an odd penchant for constructing myths around works of art. Fact always seems to irritate, and it must always be tempered with that substance known vulgarly as "applesauce."

"Flight," the novel by our distinguished novelist, Walter White, offers a splendid example. There exists a fallacy, launched by the press, and eagerly lapped up by the reading public, that a controversy has arisen between Mr. White and Mr. H. Wallace Thurman, over this novel. The story runs that Thurman, bitterly denouncing "Flight" excited the ire of Mr. White, who challenged the former to write a novel based on the same plot that would prove a greater work of art. Whereupon Thurman cockily accepted the challenge and is now at work.

As far as we have been able to investigate, we can report no proof to support this story, indeed, our brief research seems to place it in the light of error. It is true that the well known young Negro critic, Thurman, is at work upon a novel, and it is true that he wrote a far from flatteringtg critique on "Flight" in The Messenger, there seems to be foundation for the opinion that enmity or rivalry exists between these two sterling authors.

For the benefit of those still harboring doubts as to whether or not I know whereof I speak, allow me to quote Mr. Thurman himself, from a note just received by this department. He says: "I am writing a novel, and shall be for the next two years. The rest of the tale must have sprung from someone's bootleg inspired brain and fancy. White and I had a good laugh over it."

Thus passes one more public dream.

Langdon Hughes, whom bookish people know as the youthful Negro poet who wrote the Weary Blues, has recently had a new book brought out by Knopf. It is called Fine Clothes to the Jew.

Hughes' poem, The House of Taos, has won the Keats prize offered by "Palms." It is interesting to know that this same poem also won the Bynner prize. We doff our hat to this gifted and successful young man.

Los Angeles has, in Miss Frances Lewis, an artiste of tremendous promise. She has a rare skill in performing ing difficult and modern styles, and has originality and imagination. She will go far.

* * *

The crying need in the city of Los Angeles is for an Art Journal owned, edited, managed, and operated by the young college and high school literati. It can be readily seen that there is ample talent to draw from. There is a multitude of talented writers that need only an incentive to develop this vast project.

As to expenses, it is instantly apparent that if from 25 to 50 serious young people would put their heads and hearts together, the expenses would be very easily defrayed. At any rate, the benefits derived would repay a thousand fold any money or time spent upon this enterprise. It would have no commercial competition, as no such artistic organ exists among our group in the State.

It would first: If managed skillfully, be turned into a real money making scheme. Second: It would put Los Angeles on the cultural map. Third: It would be invaluable experience for those affiliated. Fourth: It would force the Whites to recognize the genius of the young Western Negroes. Fifth: it would be a means of combining into a compact whole the scattered talents of the city. Sixth: It would be entirely new, novel, esoteric, essentially aristocratic, and of the highest cultural significance.

If any young person, of either sex, has in mind ambition and sympathy with this great and necessary venture, or any older person who would care to sponsor it, a letter from them would be appreciated by this department. The most interesting shall be printed in this column.

We pledge ourself as heartily in favor of such a project, as it could but elevate the status not only of the city, but of the Race. We will give our heartiest co-operation and support to any person or persons who see fit to push this idea over the top.

Many of our gifted colleagues, richly home in matters of social interest, become instantly drowned when wading into the deep and dark waters of the epigram, the aphorism, and the witty quip, pertaining to love and philosophy. I offer as example, a tidbit culled from a well known columnist: "A brain is no stronger than its weakest think."

Of all the silly cracks, this one captures the ursenic coated plum pudding. Balzac once held that Rossini's "Moses" was a greater work than Mozart's "Giovanni." Conrad denounced as abominable the exquisite little intermezzo from Cavalleria. Wagner termed Liszt the world's greatest musician greater than Wagner, but made many foolish epigrams, and spent much time worrying about Eternal Recurrence. Robert Browning said: "God's in His Heaven. All's well with the world." James Huneker once confused the sonata form with the sonata as complete organism. Strindberg delved deeply in New Thought and crazy metaphysics. The author of Babbitt and Arrowsmith also wrote Mantrap. The man who wrote A Book of Prefaces also wrote inane verses The composer of A Rhapsody in Blue also wrote Somebody Loves Me. The writer of The World of William Clissold also wrote The War of the Worlds. The man who wrote Grist to the Mill also wrote You Never Can Tell. The man who wrote Falstaff also wrote Rigoletto. Mencken the magnificent cried out for Johann Strauss in preference to Mendelssohn and Debussy, and claims that Stravinsky never had a musical idea in his life. Thomas Edison is reported to be at work on a machine with which he claims he will establish intercourse with dead people. Tolstoi would have had Art reduced to the comprehension of peasants. Bach had eighteen children. A great composer of opera resigned at the height of his success and devoted the rest of his life to cooking. Millions of sane people voted for prohibition.

Now, these were palpably foolish sayings and deeds. They were "weak thinks" ergo, according to our journalistic friend, these men had weak brains.

The plain fact is that great brains are as prone to say foolish things as ordinary ones. I herewith propose that writers think before they write, or confine themselves to quips like the following, since it would not encroach upon the great field of Art: "A head of hair is no straighter than its tightest kink."

POLITICAL POT PIE

We are looking for a mighty lively scrap in the 10th District with seven candidates going to the polls at the Primaries it is really at this distance a toss up as to the two which will qualify. As they thunder down the stretch looks out or you will get run over says one to the other. In this situation for the general election we can look for a sure enough contest.

Judge Caryl Sheldon is receiving a hearty and genuine support all along the line and it look like he will win at the primaries.

Judge S. W. Richardson is going great guns and everybody is lining up for him. It looks like a Blue Monday for the high brows when they go out to beat a Judge like Richardson.

* * *

E. Morgan Galbraith has made a wonderful record on the bench and as a result thereof is receiving a heavy and enthusiastic support to succeed himself.

* * *

Joseph Marchetti is a strong contender from Department 17. He will receive a united support for election to this department. In making up your ticket do not overlook Marchetti at any stage of the game.

Judge Louis P. Russell is one of our broad gauged and just jurists. He has time and again demonstrated his worth and will receive a hearty support from all classes to succeed himself.

PEOPLE DESPAIR OF WATCHFUL WAITING

With much patience have the people waited for the fulfillment of pre-election promises. They have now despaired and lost faith in those who only yesterday made solemn and glowing promises, of a square deal for all citizens, and residents of this our fair city (yes, fair city). Los Angeles City bears the reputation in many respects, of ranking first among the great cities of the country in its natural and resourceful assets. In this she may rightfully boast.

Her soils are unsurpassed, her water supply abundantly adequate to meet the present demands, her schools are unparalelled, her roads and boulevards perfect, her parks and playgrounds gorgeous, her flowers exquisite, her climate ideal and the greatest asset of all.

For do we not invite people to this land of sunshine and flowers? Do we not maintain an all year club for the purpose of advertising our sunshine and flowers? Have we not invited the civilized world to share and enjoy with us this wonderful climate and sunshine? Did not our invitations include all peoples alike to enjoy singly or colectively, old or young?

If so, there should be no boundary. To prescribe, curtail, limit, discriminate, or embarass any of those desiring to avail themselves of these privileges is to repudiate our invitation, brand them unworthy, as not included in the program.

Shall we deny them the right which others enjoy at the expense of the whole? Are they not an integral part of this community? Do they not pay their part of the bill? Do they not contribute to the glory and splenor of this our beautiful city?

Then to deny them any part of the privileges enjoyed by others is not only a repudiation of pre-election promises, but is un-American, un-patriotic, and a reflection upon the administration; inviting disrespect for those entrusted with the destiny of our city government. It is taxation without representation, discrimination, involuntary segregation.

Such a condition should not obtain in this our fair city. It therefore becomes your and my duty as a part and parcel of this commonwealth to see to it that those of us who come at the instance of such invitations extended should enjoy all of the privileges in common with others.

To permit or tolerate an infringement of those principles which constitute the very foundation of our government is equal to an endorsement of the same.

Quoting President Lincoln, who said: "I must stand with anybody when they are right part with my friends when they go wrong."

Which side are you on? If with the people vote for men that will not repudiate their pre-election promises. Defeat the weak-kneed "yes sir" aggregation of the present city council by supporting the following named men:

5th District	John Topham

BIG BANQUET AT FRIENDSHIP

Purely as a gratuity move sponsored by Fletcher Smith, Superintendent of the Sunday School, a monster banquet was held on last Thursday night in the Social Hall of the church where more than 300 attended. It was a simple expression of the Superintendent of his appreciation for the support given him during his period as chief official of that auxiliary of the church. The nine departments of the church school were very strikingly represented by color schemes thoroughly carried out and other decorations in proportion, even the cradle roll had their rabbits and dolls which added much fascination to the other elaborate adornments. Every department was wide awake with their class yells, old and young and much hilarity was indulged in during and after the feast. Speakers from each department spoke of their accomplishments and avowed their intention of being more fervent in their efforts to make them much more efficient. Special remarks were made by Eva O. Solomon and Rev. W. R. Carter each of whom were much elated at such a large gathering which was an incentive for many timely remarks. The pastor was present but owing to his recent sickness felt his inability to stay throughout the evening's affair. This is the largest affair of this nature that has ever been held in the history of Friendship Church and the Superintendent feels that his efforts are not for naught with such a consistent corps of workers. The young women of the Dorcas Bible class served as waiters on this occasion while the following ladies presided in the culinary department to the delight of the diners and furthermore it has been said that the best the town afforded was in the charge of the cooking that night: Mesdames Correy, Overr, Stewart, Harris, Lithicomb, Stollwerth and Booker. The Superintendent says this is only the beginning of the many things he has in store for his co-workers and only asks that they continue their sturdy effort to make Friendship second to none on the coast. Fletcher though a young man has made an enviable reputation as an efficient Superintendent and deserves the solid support of the entire school and we predict he will rank along with the best the country affords irrespective of color. The banquet slogan was "Our Sunday School must grow and go and I'll help to make it so," the same as the Sunday Schools.

War Declared on Lower California Development Company

Los Angeles, Calif.,
April 11, 1927.

The more we write concerning the activities of the Lower California Mexican Land and Development Company, the more apparent becomes the motives of some of the persons connected with the Company's activities, and especially the motives of the company's attorney, Hugh E. Macbeth. Such conduct could only have been prompted by a desire for self-promotion and self-gain. For the past six weeks we have tried to tell you of some of the projects carried on within the company and by the company's attorney. Should we write for another six weeks, I do not believe we would then have told you one-half of what has taken place. This week we wish to call your attention to another project for your honest and impartial consideration. This is another case of that juggling, pussy-footing type that was so often brought in by our big, fat, slick attorney and his good friend, Robt. P. Fite.

Attorney Macbeth and Fite presented to us a Hunting Club proposition that they had already organized or were organizing. The name of this club was the Santa Clara "Nim and Rod Club." This club was supposed to have as its members several rich bankers and retired white business men. Offices were opened up by Fite or Mabeth or both somewhere uptown for the accommodation of these prospective members of the club. Quite a bit of literature and advertising matters were published and circulated. After a few weeks' advertising, Macbeth came to the Board of Directors of the Lower California Mexican Land and Development Co., telling them that through the good work of Mr. Fite several rich white men who had become interested in the hunting club, had planned a trip down to the ranch to test out the grounds. He asked for subscription and cash payment of the same from the officers and members of the company to raise funds to fix up the ranch house in order that it might be in readiness to receive our distinguished, wealthy guests and future financial backers. Of course we fell for it.

Just what Macbeth and Fita realized out of these gentlemen in the way of membership fees we cannot say, but after the hunting club proposition had died a natural death for the lack of support we got a partial report of some of the money raised in the hunting club campaign. This financial report was not a voluntary report but it slipped out through a little dispute caused by a misunderstanding between Mr. Fite and one of the members of the Board at one of our meetings one night. This night, Mr. Fite had paid us a visit with respect to one of his wild-cat schemes; we had failed to support him very spontaneously, and so he had begun to lambast us for our reluctance in these matters. Mr. Claudius Troy, one of our group, took exceptions to Mr. Fite's tactics, and proceeded to call Fite's hand. Troy asked him what did he have in this ranch proposition to be coming into our meetings demonstrating so much authority. Without reflecting, Fite immediately replied, "the $700.00 that I gave Macbeth from the proceeds that I raised in the Hunting Club Campaign." This seven hundred dollars had never been reported to the Board of the company previously by Mr. Macbeth or any one else. Naturally, the writers of this article who were all members of the Board, immediately got on Mr. Macbeth's and the seven hundred dollar's trail.

Possibly six months later Mr. Macbeth acknowledged to the Board that he got the seven hundred dollars, but said that he had not previously reported it because he had used it to settle some of the company's debts. Let us ask any clear, honest-thinking man or woman, what do you think of a man who would pull off such "stuff" as this? A Harvard graduate! A Race Leader! A champion for the Negro's cause! A church trustee! Absolutely and willfully refuses to report the finances that come into his hands that rightfully belong to his associates. It is almost inconceivable. And to prove to you just what the motives were, we can tell you that when we had our books audited a few months ago, no statement or reference could be found in our books concerning this $700.00.

We again appeal to the Race-loving Negro, to the Christian Negro, to the honor loving Negro, who wants his fellow men dealt with justly, to raise with all your might and strength and help to banish such characters from among us. There is an old adage which states "Fools rush in where Angels fear to tread." We may be the fool, but before we go further, we would like to advise certain improvement associations that it would be wise to "watch your step."

Following up the huntsmen to the ranch, we get this part of our story from a seventy-year old Christian Negro woman who was employed by the company on the ranch to look out for the larger portion of the domestic work. On one of our visits down to the ranch she gave us this story.

The hunting party arrived at the ranch in two or three automobiles that were well filled with provisions, guns and amunition. The provisions and the amunition consisted mostly of Tia Juana booze. After they had done an hour or so of quail shooting, they came in and she served them their dinner. Immediately after dinner they were shown their sleeping quarters. Until one or two o'clock A. M. she did not get a moment's rest on account of house drinking and poker playing. This is the type of manhood that our attorney interested in us, and this is the respect that he gave our old, tired and Christian Negro womanhood. In fairness to our president, Thos. W. Troy, who was on the ranch at this time, he openly and bitterly opposed all of these doings. He came to us later and in speaking to us in one of our meetings said that rather than have that kind of money, he would do without any, for God would not allow our project to succeed with money coming from such channels.

Senate Bill No. 9 Signed By Governor

SELF-GOVERNING BAR BODY CREATED

A chapter in the legal history of California was given a brilliant beginning when heads of the Bar Associations from all over the State met at Sacramento, Saturday night to celebrate Governor Young's signing the Self-Governing Bar Bill.

Senate Bill No. 9, introduced by Senator Frank C. Weller and H. C. Nelson, makes every attorney in the State of California a member of the State Bar and he is accountable to a State Bar Discipline Committee subject to the approval of the Supreme Court.

From the Southern part of the state Kemper B. Campbell, president of the Los Angeles Bar Association, Eugene Daney of San Diego, past president of the Bar Association and Thomas C. Ridgeway, president of the California Bar Assocation exchanged with Joseph Webb, the chairman of the Self-governing Bar Committee and Albert A. Rosenshine of San Francisco mutual congratulations.

In receiving his many distinguished guests Saturday night Governor Young stated, "I signed the "State Bar Act" knowing it to be a sincere effort on the part of the legal profession of California to measure up to their responsibilities. I have every confidence that through this Bill the Bar wil succeed in greatly improving the administration of justice. If I can, at any future time, be of assistance in this regard I shall be most happy to do so."

Replying to the Governor's address Mr. Thomas C. Ridgeway, speaking for the attorneys of the state, said in part.

"We are profoundly appreciative of your signature to this measure and the Bar welcomes the privilege of adequately meeting its obligation. Means are furnished to do efficiently what voluntary associations have heretofore unsuccessfully endeavored to accomplish, while the powers granted are subject to the control by the Supreme Court. In behalf of the California Bar we thank you most sincerely."

At the end of July Chief Justice Waste will appoint the four members of the Bar who will act as the first governors and with him they will arrange for the election of an additional memer from each Congressional District.

This Board of fifteen governors will have absolute charge of all Grievance Committee matters from the State of California, will hand all law examinations and pass on admissions.

When interviewed in Los Angeles, Sunday night, in regard to the State Bar Bill, Kemper B. Campbell said,

"This is a thoroughly considered, conservative and constructive reform measure. Under this law each member of the Bar will have a definite responsibility and a definite privilege of participation. In my opinion this is the most important feature of the act. It will result in a revival of idealism in the profession. The Bar will not fail to meet its obligation."

Officers of three important Bar Association committees will be announced by Joseph Ford as chm.; Gurney E. Newlin as Vice-Chairman; John O'Melveny as Secretary; Theodore T. Hull, John Biby.

A special Ethics Committee to provide for publicity work in the Bar Bulletin will be composed of Marshall Stimson, Chairman; Phil M. Swaffield, Vice-Chairman; Amelia F. Johnson, Secretary.

The Law Library Committee, who will conduct a survey of the Los Angeles County library, will be headed by the following:

Harry J. McClean, chairman; Ezra Neff, Vice-Chairman; Wm. A. Bernhill, Secretary; Robert A. Waring; Jas. B. Ogg.

The Judiciary Committee, which is considered one of the most important committees of the Bar, will be composed of the following:

Frank James, Chairman; James A. Anderson, Vice-Chairman; A. W. Gordanson, Secretary; John G Mott; William J Hunsker; Clyde Doyle; John W. Kemp; Judge Louis W. Myers; Bert L. Cooper.

SANTA MONICA

Friends and relatives gave a farewell surprise party in honor of Mrs. Dorothy Mattox, 1526½ Delmar Place, who is leaving for a visit to Baltimore where she will spend the greater part of the summer.

High-Handed Method of Liberian Transportation Co. Told by a Stockholder

On March 10, a special meeting was called to meet at 3701 Central Avenue, for the purpose of electing officers for the re-organization of the Liberian S. S. and Excelsior Mining Corp.

Although I am a member of this organization, all of the members were notified except myself. I heard of the meeting and went anyhow. Upon entering, I was met and told:

"You will get your money in two weeks. The reason you were not notified was because you are not a member. Get out!"

At the date of this writing, the money has not been received, nor have I found out why they told me to get out.

In the month of February, the State Commissioner ordered all monies refunded. I received an order for mine and went to the bank at 7th and Spring and presented it. I was told that there was only $3.20 to my credit. So I took the money order back and called up Mr. Rotera, the president, secretary and treasurer. He told me that it was a mistake and that the balance would be put in the bank. Later, I called him and he told me that the bank would not take it and to draw out the $3.20 and I could get the balance at the office. This I did, but when I got to the office, he told me that he had no money, could write me no check as the secretary was sick, but he would send me a check soon.

The check never came, so I wrote to the superintendent and told him of the situation. Instead of him presenting it to the correct body of people he took it to Mr. Roters, Secretary and Treasurer, who rendered his decision against me without investigation.

Just on the eve of the election, Mr. Rotera uses the letter as a pretext to silence my voice in the election. He knew I was not in favor of anyone being the president of a corporation which is destined to bridge the oceans from Los Angeles, California to Liberia, West Coast, Africa, who is not a tax payer, whose home is anywhere he puts his hat, who is a floater by profession and whose diploma as a mining engineer is written in the context of his imagination.

—Statement Of—
OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC.

Required by the Act of Congress of August, 1912, of
CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Published Weekly at Los Angeles, California, For April 1, 1927

State of California)
County of Los Angeles) ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Joseph B. Bass, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher—Charlotta A. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

Editor—Joseph B. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

Business Manager—J. E. Prowd, Los Angeles, Calif.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)

Charlotta A. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)

None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

JOSEPH B. BASS, Editor.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 4th day of April, 1927.

Investigate Carver Acres--- A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC:

In order to offset certain unwholesome rumors, to wit: That T. S. N. Maloof, owner of Carver Acres, is not the actual owner; we wish to make the following observation:

DEV. RICHARD H. WADE
Manager

I solicit a thorough investigation on the part of anybody who doubts the honesty, and integrity on my part in offering these lands to the public. If any statement made to the public can be proven false, or not absolutely as advertised, I agree to frofeit $1,000 gold coin U. S. money to any one proving same.

CARVER ACRES, is the property of T. S. N. Maloof, and I am in position to give title to individual purchaser, on payment for his acre, whether one acre is sold, or the whole of the acreage is sold.

The records of San Bernardino are open to the investigation by any citizen who may desire to do so.

You will find Tract 2177 of the Maloof Highland Avenue Tract 1, recorded in book 31, page 51, San Bernardino County. You will also find Maloof Highland Avenue Tract, 2178, Plot 2, recorded in book 31, page 52.

Search the records, they speak for themselves. My offer stands to any one, and every one. If it is not as we say, you don't have to buy.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make One Thousand Dollars, by anyone who doubts our word. Remember this offer is unconditional, to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

The Rev. R. H. Wade, a man of outstanding character, and 18 years of unquestioned integrity, in California, who has for the first time to deceive the public, is my General Manager. He is known as a man of the highest honor, and invites investigation to the fullest extent. And Mr. E. B. Maxey, building contractor of 20 years' residence in Los Angeles, known everywhere as an honorable man, of strong business qualities, certifies as to truth of the facts above stated.

The land is now going. Get in now. Water rights go with the land. He who hesitates will lose.

T. S. N. MALOOF, Owner.
E. B. MAXEY, Contractor.
RICHARD H. WADE, Manager.

This property, named after the great scientist of Tuskegee Industrial Institute, offers the greatest opportunity to be found anywhere in this wonderful State, for the economical development of the Race.

Located on paved boulevards, about one hour and thirty minutes drive from Los Angeles; within 30 minutes drive from the following towns: Alto Loma, Etiwonda, Cucomonger, Upland, Ontario, Chion, Corona, Arlington, Riverside, Colton and Redlands. Twelve miles from the city hall of San Bernardino. It also joins the finest Olive Grove in California.

Buy one or more acres at once. Prises advancing with improvements. Delay means loss—get in on the ground floor.

This is your one opportunity to own some of the best land in California. Rich, level soil, midst highly improved orchards, vineyards and olive groves. Geological survey shows abundant water supply; water rights with every acre. Buy one or more acres at once—$600 per acre and up.

T. S. N. MALOOF
Owner of Carver Acres

Terms—10% down and balance to suit purchaser. This amount will place you in possession of an acre of the best boulevard lands.

Gain an independence. Buy now before prices advance.

T. S. N. Maloof, is sole owner of Maloof Tract No. 2177, and 2178, Highland avenue, San Bernardino County. We guarantee to every purchaser full protection.

This is the most wonderful opportunity ever offered west of the Rocky Mountains. There will never be another such offer in your lifetime.

If you wish to get in on the ground floor in this proposition, visit our headquarters at 2727 Cenrtal avenue and you will meet our representatives who are thoroughly competent to explain all the details of this proposition.

Located in the midst of health, wealth and prosperity, on a highly improved highway, from Los Angeles to San Bernardino.

Right in line with highly improved orchards; about 54 miles from Los Angeles' Court House. Also the finest place in the State for poultry, rabbits, in fact everything that you want to raise.

This acreage is surrounded by several large cities. Plenty of water, guaranteed for domestic use by the owner.

T. S. N. Maloof will endeavor to assist you in building your home with all the necessary improvements. I am not a promoter, but owner of this tract. I am in a position to give a grant deed, and a certificate of title to each individual acre bought and paid for.

Do not measure my proposition by others of a like nature. Mine is different from any other yet given to the people of California. In fact there is nothing to compare with this proposition.

I also finance and build homes anywhere in Southern California. Resources unlimited. If you have the purchase price on your acreage we will make every effort to build for you; putting in fences, chicken corral, rabbit hatchery, allowing you to pay out in small monthly instalments.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make a substantial beginning toward an independent future. We also carry Fire Insurance, Rentals, Sales,—City, Country and Suburban properties. In fact anything in the Real Estate line. Information cheerfully given.

E. B. MAXEY

Building Department

We do a general contracting, building and financing, build-construction of every kind; painting, plastering, paper hanging, plumbing, cement contracting, architectural drawing.

Apartments, bungalows, courts, stores, duplexes, modern homes of every description, and furnish architectural drawings for same at a reasonable price.

We ask that you give us an opportunity to prove our ability to you. Give us a call at our headquarters.

Water in abundance already on the land.

Busses go up to the land Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sundays, 9:00 oclock A. M.

Sunday School Has Basket Ball Team

Pasadena, California.—That Negro churches are broadening in regard to athletic sports is evidenced by the fact that the Mohawk Pioneers is a colored team champion of the Pioneer Basket Ball League of this city. Over 200 boys of many white churches compose the league and the Mohawks is the only colored team representing the only colored church in the league. They received a big ovation at a get-together meeting recently in which they were acclaimed as the champions and received the trophy, a silver banner.

Colored Golfer Wins Mid-Winter Tournament at Public Links

BY: NIBLIC HEELS

Overton Jackson, formerly of Atlanta, Georgia, who now claims Los Angeles his home, won the Annual Mid-Winter Tournament at Griffith Park Municipal Golf Course, Sunday, April 3 Playing against Barney Lucas, while over on the Wilson course, Jackson won the 18th hole after a bitterly fought match which was full of thrills all the way.

Both players were very nervous to start with the large gallery around the starting tee, it was quite a relief to be off. After losing the first two holes, Jackson steadied down and won the next three putting him 1 up keeping the lead at the turn. On the 13th green Lucas laid Jackson a dead stymie, his ball resting about a foot from the cup while Jackson's ball was two feet away After looking the shot over carefully, he did the only thing possible, and that was to pitch the ball into the cup for a win putting him two holes in the lead. At the 15th hole, which is a short one being 95 yards in length, Jackson laid Lucas an almost impossible stymie, but the white boy came through beautifully winning the hole leaving him one down Lucas also won the 15th squaring the match.

Going to the 18th and final hole, both boys hit beautiful tee shots. Their second shots were on the edge of the green. Two fours would carry the match an extra hole. Both players being slightly nervous at this point were content on laying the ball dead for sure fours. In their anxiety, Lucas was short while Jackson was four foot past Lucas putted first, but was short again, while Jackson ran his putter down which held the line all the way cinching the match.

....The score:

	First Nine
Par.	5	4	3	4	4	4	4	4	5–37
Jackson	7	5	4	4	4	5	4	3	5–41

Women who have "IT" are very popular; hold their husbands or can take their choice of lovers.

• • •

But after all, without plenty of Uncle Sam's hard dollars, you are just out of luck. And the guy without the "IT" but holding plenty of dough will get most everything he wants. That's "IT."

Ace Hudkins Buys Home

BRINGS MOTHER TO LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA

The lure of the Golden State has drawn the most colorful and most sensational boxer in the welterweight division, to be added to its ever-growing colony of adopted sons This is no other than the great Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska Wild-Cat.

Ace has purchased for a $15000 consideration, a beautiful oms at 2302 Observatory Drive. While the deal was in progress, his brother, Art, journeyed back East to their home, returning with the mother of the famous family, and now they are comfortably located in their new home

Mrs Hudkins may well be proud of her five boys, Clyde, Art, Ab, Gwen and the famous "Ace."

A busy Spring is in line for the great fighter as he has accepted the challenge of Sid Socklyn, who is determined to come to grips with the "Wild-Cat," and believes he can beat him. They fight at Hollywood Stadium on April 22nd.

After this battle, regardless of the outcome, Ace and his brother-managers, Art and Clyde, will leave for N. Y. in answer to Tex Rickards telegram last week that they proceed East at once The great Tex has him signed to meet Sergeant Sam Baker at Madison Square Garden on May 9th.

That Gotham fans will go w lid over Ace's ripping style of battling is a foregone conclusion and it is probable that he will be offered more bouts than he will be able to take

The Hudkins combination is busy lining up a large stable of colored and Mexican boxers and have their eyes on several good prospects including Gonzales, the game Mexican battler they already have. It is rumored they may also take over Tiger Jackie Burns now back in town.

Billy Evans Makes Big Hit at Frisco. Beats Al Crisp

It is no easy thing to break into the fight game in California no matter how good you were elsewhere, but that is just what Billy Evans, the great little featherweight brought West by Harry Johnson did last week at the Dreamland Rink in Frisco. Boxing the semi-windup to the Jack Thompson-Ernico Flores, very one-sided 8 round scrap, Evans came near stealing the show.

But read what the San Francisco Chronicle on Harry Smith's leading daily sport sheet says of the bout:

"Billy Evans, colored stablemate of Thompson, showed a lot of grit and cleverness to take a six-round decision over Al Crisp, Oakland featherweight. Evans was down for a count of three in the first round, but weathered the storm to out-box and out-fight Crisp in the final five frames. Crisp was on the floor for a short count as a result of a combination slip and punch in the third."

Along Fisticuffs Row

Randolph A Fair Referee

They are still arguing about the O'Brien-Whalen fight, that ended in a foul. Now, this young fellow Randolph, the referee on that occasion, called the foul just as he saw it, and he always keeps in position, no matter how speedy the going, so that he may see what both fighters are doing. He asked Whalen, even after he saw the low blow struck if he were able to go on. Whalen answered, "No." So there was no use to call a doctor especially when the position of the cop backed up his own eye-sight. Taken all in all, there are plenty who have always known Mr. Randolph to be a fair and impartial referee.

Santiago Zorilla, The Human Whirlwind

FASTEST FIGHTERS IN THE WEST

Off from the Western shores of the Isthmus from time to time, arises an awful whirling wind, that seamen dread. It sweeps all before it, lifting small crafts out of the water and strewing the sea with wreckage of ships. It is called a typhoon and Santiago Zorilla, the fighting little Panama demon, must have taken some of the nature of that racing funnel for to have watched him at the Olympic last week against Carter was to have received an impression of flying fists and a whirling brown body that carried his opponent off his feet. Spectators wonder how a fighter can keep the pace from bell to bell that he does. Zorilla's next step to the top will be against Joey Sangor in a ten round Main Event at the Olympic Auditorium on May 17th.

Sangor will reach here after boxing Andre Martin in Milwaukee, April 26, and Andre Routis in Chicago, May 3. He then boxes Bud Taylor at the Olympic. Zorilla boxes in either the bantam or feather weight division, equally as well.

Legion Nite Club Making Successful Progress

Curtis Mosby means much to Solomon's Dance Palace, but means more to the Legion Club, formerly the "Humming Bird." Mr. Mosby and his "Blue Blowers" are considered by Mr. Solomon as the most valuable asset to the wonderful institution of recreation he has built up, but Mr. Mosby has shown that not only can he render faithful and efficient services to a proud and appreciative employer, but is also very capable of managing a business of his own. This he has done since taking over the entire management of the Legion Club.

Since it has been under his guidance, even though he cannot spare his whole time there, it has become the most popular place of amusement in the city. The best of order and barring of intoxicating liquors, has erased the usual stigma attached to Night Clubs. It has been made the mecca of club and society people as well as the usual visitors in the city seeking recreation.

The beautiful fittings, wonderful orchestra, Creole Cuties Revue, good eats, and the efficient and courteous service of the whole staff have made it a great and growing success.

Sid Socklyn Trails Hudkins Across Continent

FIGHT AT HOLLYWOOD STADIUM, APRIL 22ND

The youngest veteran of the U. S. Army is what Sid Socklyn the ex-artilleryman pugilist who aims to give Ace Hudkins the battle of his life on April 22nd at Hollywood Staudium.

Socklyn, a tough stockily built young fellow, went through the war in the 67th Artillery called the California outfit While in service, he fought many battles against some of the soldier boxers in the army gaining some of the experience that has been a great addition to his rugged strength. Socklyn has boxed many good colored boys; among them were: "One Step" Watson, Charley Long and Tiger Payne.

Socklyn's manager, Lon Dillon, has a busy program mapped out for his heavy socking warrior. Johnny Forbes the famous veteran trainer of champions has him in charge. He is working with Tony Cruz and Rudy Steiner, Micky Walker's sparring partner.

Sid says, "I want to settle once and for all as to whether I can lick that so-called wild-cat. He may be tough, but I am tougher and can hit harder." The doughty artilleryman learned to face real guns while in the army, but he has also faced the leather ones at the hands of such good boys as Sheffie Callahan, Ted Carter, Rocky Mountain champion, to a win. Also "Jazz" Tanner, Morry Slater, Al. Van Ryan and many others. He has had 150 fights without a knockout, fighting as often as 4 times in two weeks as at Sioux City, Iowa.

SANTIAGO ZORILLA

DONALD'S WRIGLEY FIELD SHOW ALL READY FOR MONDAY, APR. 18

Godfrey Big Drawing Card

Bud is recognized in 17 States as the king of the banties. He brought his $4,000 championship belt from Chicago with him. Promoter Jim Mullen presented the "Blond Terror" with the diamond studded gold girdle after Bud's fight with Tony Canzoneri in Chicago, two weeks ago.

Nationalista, the Filipino windmill, like Taylor, has never put up a bad fight in Los Angeles. Even last week at Hollywood to lose a fight after taking the most of the rounds is nothing against a fighter like Nationalista. "The human wind-mill" as he is called, hopes to not only erase that decision, but take Taylor's crown.

Of equal interest is the appearance of another Coast idol who brings joy to white and black friends alike with his fast masterly boxing and many victories. George Godfrey, the "Black Shadow of Leiperville" who is looming as the bad weather sign on Gene Tunney's reign as heavyweight champion, will block and sock in a ten rounder with Leon Chevalier of Oakland in the other half of the double windup.

The rest of the card is unusually good in the regular Donald style, and a great throng will swarm into the stands when the gates open Monday night.

This open air shot will be at popular prices of $1, $2, and $3 as the top. The other two Wrigley Field cards have been put on at a $5 top but Donald decided to give the fans a double attraction at a smaller outlay at the box office. The fight figures to draw one of the greatest crowds of the season.

Chevalier is not well known in Los Angeles, but Tim McGrath, shrewd old-time trainer and second, who is managing him says the Oakland Negro will chase Godfrey out of the ring. Chevalier stand six feet, two inches tall and weighs 210 pounds. He has hung up a long string of victories over such men as Bonnie Hill, Kid Williams, Browning Proctor and Tom Hawkins.

EXTRA!

WILLIE HENRY, The Texas Steer, boxed a draw at Fresno, Tuesday night with Louis Chevalier. Henry weighed 170 and Chevalier 211. Henry wants winner of Wrigley Field battle.

SAYINGS BY JOHNNIE CONDLE, SPORTS SCRIBE

Los Angeles fans will see the best this week in the B. B. League with Fenton, Larry, Reese and Caveney. They will show the fans some real B. B. when they start going and doing their stuff in the field. When Marty Krug sees Bus Arlett coming to bat, he will order his pitcher to walk him because he doesn't like to lose any balls L. A. will face the BEST pitching staff in the League this week in Boehler, Krause, Hasty, Hickman, Delaney and Cooper.

• • •

McEnerney now handles Young Abe Attell and is going to take him to see Butler. Dr. Butler is the beauty doctor of L. A. and he will try to make Abe a handsome sheik and perhaps then McEnerney will put him in the movies or he may take Bob Davey's or Tom Mix's job away from them.

• • •

Tommy Smith, the Oakland featherweight, has arrived in L. A. and may soon be seen in action. He is training every day at the Main St. Gym and is being handled by Handsome Johnnie Conde. Smith ought to be in good shape shortly and then the fans will be able to see a good boy in action.

Smith won 13 straight fights in 1 round and when he gets going down here, I doubt if anyone will beat him. L. A. will hear plenty from him if he stays here long enough and gets himself plenty of fights. He is also a great pleaser of the fans.

• • •

• • •

St. Louis, Mo.,
April 10th.

MR. CHAS. UPTON,
Editor Railroad Clatter,
California Eagle,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Sir: Mr. Aaron Malone of Poro College came tried to force a gift of a pair of horned-rimmed glasses on your distinguished writer, Noah D. Thompson. I understand he was out of his head at the time Maybe he thought Mr. Thompson was Harold Lloyd. Would you be kind enough to advise me whether Mr. Thompson is from Hollywood, Calif., or Los Angeles?

Respectfully,

PULMAN CAR NAMED AFTER HERO PORTER VISITS LOS ANGELES

Car Oscar J. Daniels, a Pullman, which was named after a Pullman Porter who sacrificed his life for the Pullman Co. and passengers was been in the Santa Fe Depot last week. Many passengers stopped to look at the odd name which was inscribed across the side of the car, some made inquiries of the Pullman platform man and wanted to know what it was all about. They were given the history of one of the many heroic deeds performed by a Pullman Porter in the line of duty and departed much more enlightened on the true character of the NEW PULLMAN PORTER.

WHEN IS A BLACK CAT A JINX?

On a transcontinental trip recently from Los Angeles to Chicago a black cat evidently tired of struggling along in Los Angeles where rats are scare, climbed on the rods of a fast Limited Train board for Chicago where he could live off the fat of the land under the new administration of Mayor William Hale Thompson. The porter noticed his feline passenger and declared war right away chasing him off the rods, because he was somewhat superstitious of black cats. However, at the next stop, Mr. Black Cat got off the train for a little exercise the same as the rest of the passengers. The Porter was scared stiff and when the train conductor said, "All Aboard," he again ran the cat away. The next stop being a matter of a hundred miles or so he forgot the incident, but when the train came to a stop there was Mr. Black Cat. By this time the passengers had noticed the cat and from then on Mr. Black Cat had an easy time of it. The passengers fed him at each stop. When the train arrived at Chicago the Porter whose name was William Thomas took the cat home. Thomas was telling the Black Cat story to some other porters and one of them remarked that the same Black Cat rode west with him the day after Mayor Dever got elected. Maybe the Black Cat belonged in Chicago City Hall. Who Knows?

PLLOW SLIPS

Line 3474 on trains 69-70 is giving the porters operating it plenty of grief. They can only make down one side of the car, and they do not leave till 9 P. M. The layover is very short and everybody on it is kicking at THE BIG GATE.

Wm. White had a special party in a seven drawing room car to San Diego last Sunday.

A certain porter of this district recently had a top and bottom load of passengers. He waited till the last minute to start brushing down and when he looked for his ONLY Whisk Broom it was gone. As the crowd was leaving the car in their wild stampeel to take advantage of the unfortunate occurrence the shrill notes of a radio came thru the window playing, "Bye Bye Black Bird."

MAIDS

Maid Blanche Mathison was cut out at North Platte, Neb., and deadheaded to Ogden to take the "Gold Coast."

It has been rumored that Maid Ella Greer who is en route to New York on a Special is engaged to marry Bill Weakley of Ogden, Utah, a club and hotel owner.

Watch this colum for some Big Laughs in Tales O' Sheffield.

The Maids operating on the "Gold Coast" have been going as far East as Omaha on account of the heavy travel.

All Maids have been doubling 24 hours ahead of time out of Los Angeles.

San Francisco Maids will get a new train called the "Cascade" from San Francisco to Portland.

The women's slogan for 1930: No hair at all. What will the maids do then?

UNION PACIFIC DOPE

J. R.

Aaron Todd has developed into a "Beau Brummel" since his U. P. Gift. His slogan is now 'Love will find its way with Bucks."

The temperature is at boiling point point around "King Cole's" quarters in Chicago. Seemingly someone has been victimized to such an extent that in howling his voice extended as far West as Omaha.

The "Baker Heater" committee has again gone in session this time the honorable body reports 7 and 8 put through to Chicago via the "Milwaukee."

Prosperity among U. P. Waiters is personified on the 9th and 25th of each month at the commissary, every from month at the commissary, everything from a "Henry" to a "Rols Royce," never-the-less the former are in the majority.

Millburn Norwood, better known as the "Blues Singer" of the U. P. is now swinging. There are already two strikes on him, and do not be surprised if you see him on the bench.

As yet the boys haven't been able to classify Ogden any other than a 9 o'clock town. After getting the market quotations from "Jim Hop Sing" you retire for the end of a perfect day.

Will Donovan with the assistance of Jno. Barleycorn made an unsuccessful attempt to make the Northwestern yards and set up the car, but was relieved by Agt. Thoms. "TOO MUCH HOME BREW."

Clifford Johnson has been assigned to car 394 as 8th man.

Why don't someone wake Edgar Mosley up and tell him that that chariot he is sporting these days is not an automobile.

R. W. (Peewee) Stephens has been styled the Sunkist Sheik. Be careful of your activities in the Windy City, old boy.

The antique method of making meal calls on the "De Lux" has passed into the hands of the receivers and hs been replaced by chimes. Waiters that are musically inclined will be selected to manipulate this instrument in order to produce harmony.

Our tourist season is rapidly approaching which calls for new and possibly raw material, that will be distributed among our group. The writer hopes that a spirit of co-operation and brotherly love will be demonstrated to these men. Why not burry this time worn individuality system and make a strenuous effort to raise the standard of this class of employees. Let CO-OPERATION be our slogan.

Robt. Carr and Stephen Brownlow (waiters) of Omaha were favorably mentioned in the April number of the U. P. magazine. These waiters are the oldest in point of service, having served 25 years respectively.

Chester Morris has at last decided to change his beat instead of Washington he now makes East 27th St. regularly.

It looks as though the moving van is going to Forrest Fauvers' permanent address. Why not try Beverly Hills? You may get something modern there for a moderate sum.

Miss Brooks of Cleveland, Ohio was a passenger on the "De Lux" coming West. She will make an effort to visit it with her sister.

WATTS

Mrs. Jefferson entertained Miss Florenza Louise Clarke at her home last Wednesday evening. The entire membership of the Merry Matrons Club was present, also the mother of Miss Clarke.

* * *

The violin recital given by Miss Florenza Louise Clarke, under the auspices of the Merry Matrons Club was a very brilliant and entertaining affair. The playing of Miss Clarke, combined the technique of an advanced student with the artistry of a born musician.

* * *

Mrs. Pearl Moulden sang several songs, which were received with much enthusiasm by the house. Also Mrs. M. McEachen gave several readings, all of which were generously applauded by a very interested audience.

* * *

Mrs. L. Wyatt gave a Missionary Tea at her home Friday night, April 8th.

* * *

Mrs. Marie Lewis entertained Mrs. May B. Sebree and a select company at her home Sunday evening.

* * *

The "Martha Walker Progressive Club" gave a Mother's Day program at the Second Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon, April 10th.

The program, a very interesting one, was as follows: State Federation song, by the assemblage; Prayer by the club Chaplain, Mrs. M. Myars; Several vocal solos by Mr. W. D. James, accompanied by Mrs. James; Introduction of the speaker by Mrs. M. Lewis, president of Club. The speaker, Mrs. Frank Graves, president of the white federated clubs of California, spoke on the "Responsibility of Motherhood." Her speech was interesting and well received. Many other interesting numbers were rendered by Mesdames L. Crawford, Maud Hinds, May F. Sebree and Misses G. Welcher, O. J. Lewis, and LeVaughn. Closing remarks by H. H. Mitchell, pastor of Second Baptist Church.

CITY TRAFFIC CHECKED

Traffic movement in the southwest section of the city has increased nearly double during the past three years, according to a comparison of checks made recently by the Walter H. Leimer Company with checks made by the Traffic Commission three years ago.

As a key location, the intersection of Vernon avenue and Angeles Mesa Drive, was taken by the Leimert company for intensive study of traffic conditions

February 14, 1924, the Traffic Commission's check showed that a total of 2907 automobiles traveled on Vernon avenue, west of Western avenue, during the day. At the present time, 5749 machines pass over the same street.

EARLY HOUR HEAVY

Three years ago, Angeles Mesa Drive was used so little that no attempt was made to check the number of automobiles. At present 10,743 machines pass over this street during a week day. On Sunday, the traffic is considerably heavier, the check, made on March 20, showing that 21,159 machines had crossed the intersection, going in both directions.

Interesting figures, showing the trend of traffic flow during the day, are shown. On week days the flow is very heavy between 7 and 8 a. m., dropping between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. At 3 the curve again mounts upward, until the peak is reached between 5 and 6 p. m.

SUNDAY PEAK SAME

On Sundays traffic is very light until 10 a. m., when the flow steadily increases during the day until 2 p. m. Between his hour and 7 p. m. there is not much change. After 7 p. m., the traffic flow slowly decreases.

It is interesting to note that the peak hour of week-day traffic carries practically the same flow as the peak hours on Sunday afternoon.

California One of States Reducing Auto Fatalities

Twelve States in the Union achieved a reduction in automobile fatalities last year and California is one of these, according to reports received by the Automobile Club of Southern California. This is the first time so many States have improved their casualty records. The first time that our improvement on a national scale was noted was in 1925, when eight States showed better highway safety records.

The reduction in the twelve States in fatalities is in the face of a 5 percent increase in deaths the country over, attributable to motor vehicles. Analyzing the situation, it is declared significant that the States which improved their records last year have well-defined programs of safety education. Also they are credited with the highest motor-car ownership per capita.

The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce reports on these facts and notes the corn-belt States and California, while having the largest ownership of motor cars, have had wider experience with transportation problems and as a consequence, their population is better trained in the operation and safe handling of vehicles.

California with its carefully developed traffic laws, generous distribution of warning signs, and safety curriculum in its public schools is credited with many factors in reducing auto accident deaths.

States sharing honors in 1926 in this respect with California include: Maine, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas, Wyoming, New Mexico and Nevada.

Mr. Claude McKinney, the celebrated siga artist and gentleman about town had a severe attack of auto insanity last week and injured his wife and seven children when he ordered and had delivered to his front door a Hudson super. No excuse now for being late to lodge, church and ? ? ? ?

Mr. J. H. Sykes who boasts of being treasurer of the business league had his Dodge burning up gas looking for the meeting place and hoping he would never find it. The Dodge got mad and went home.

* * *

Mr. Reece Allen, the fraternal king is all het up. He parked his Stephens on one side of the street so he declares, and when he returned for it a couple of hours later, it stood on the other side. Oh yes he was sober, we can vouch for that.

* * *

* * *

Charles Blodgett, Jr. has deserted the wheel of an Essex and become interested in the drug business. Success to you.

Friend Bruce, the Whippet auto salesman, dropped in on us last week and came near closing the deal. We took the second thought and concluded we'd wait a bit longer.

Who hired a taxi and rushed to a chop suey joint the other night when a certain lady stated she wanted some me fow ching? Don't be foolish.

Dr. Towles can't understand just why so many persons have his number when his office hours are closed. We do too.

We hear the Golden State Life Insurance Company is making great preparations to journey in body to Bakersfield on the 27th of this month via automobiles to open a new branch. In the language of Teddy R., we say, "Bully!"

S. B. W. Mays has acquired new business quarters in the Central Jefferson district, his Studebaker follows him.

Joe Anderson, the genial "big boy," who smashed his hand on Lomski's hard jaw as he took the first 6 rounds and evened the next 3 that memorable night at the Olympic, is back home now at Louisville, Ky. nursing his injured mitt.

PLAN YOUR MOTOR TRIP IN ADVANCE

Planning your motor tour ahead is one of the most advisable methods of insuring an enjoyable vacation, according to the National Automobile Club.

Prepare an outline of the places where you wish to go and not down where you wish to go and jot down to see. If you are a member of an automobile club, let them supply you with an outline of your tour and maps together with suggestions on the historical and literary objectives which may be visited along the way.

Many motorists travel to San Diego without seeing but a small portion of the interesting historical records which are preserved there. Many tourists travel over the State Highway without making the side trips that add so much to that great scenic road.

In order that you should not miss any of the interesting points along the way, it is well to plan your trip well in advance and read some of the suggestions put out by chambers of commerce, resorts and travel agencies dealing with that particular part of the country. No traveler in Europe would think of going anywhere without consulting his guide book, yet, thousands in California travel over the main trunk highways without plan or guide and miss much of the charm which is California.

LONG TOM HAWKINS, good-natured and fair-minded, never meant to foul Mack House at Pasadena. Tom wouldn't foul anybody. His arms are so long that it is difficult to keep from fouling when hooking or uppercutting to the body.

SECURITY COLLECTION AGENCY ON WAY TO STEADY PROGRESS

The Security Collection Agency is well on its way in its steady march of progress!

This collection agency is the outgrowth of an idea that originated in the minds of two thoughtful men of our race.

These men after a careful survey of the matter of debt collections came to the inevitable and logical conclusion, that there are many business and professional persons of our race; in the city of Los Angeles, who will welcome a colored agency for collecting bad, chronic debts.

The creditor may rejoice!

The debtor may feel sad or glad, however his state of mind directs. If he intends to pay his just and honest debts, and as a matter of fact carries out his intention, he may rejoice!

Numerous claims have poured in, for the attention they have long needed, since the Security Collection Agency, was established about the sixteenth of March.

And the management with no small degree of modesty, admits that many claims have likewise been settled.

The primary object of the Security Collection Agency is to deal with all persons concerned, fairly, and render good and efficient service to their clients.

Councilman E. E. Moore, incumbent stands for re-election from the sixth district. Mr Moore is one of the few councilmen who have made good. He is entitled to another term. Re-elect him.

UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS' COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF ON VISIT

Rice W. Means, U. S. Senator from Colorado and Commander-in-Chief of The United Spanish War Veterans is to arrive in the city Monday evening at 7:45 and is to remain three days. He will be the guest of the local camps including Capt. R. L. Baker No. 71. There will be a public reception held for him Tuesday evening the 19th at Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa St. All comrades will attend. There is much activity at present among the veterans with getting ready for the Department Encampment at Santa Cruz next month and Memorial Day. The Auxiliary held a Dinner at the home of Sister Carpenter recently and it was well attended.

UNITED BROTHERS OF FRIENDSHIP

McCullough Lodge No. 1 is showing progress in that it is taking in more new members at each meeting. This past Thursday evening George L. Gooden became a brother. They have been trying to tell the world what a great lodge they have and have shown proof in the way they have paid their claims. They lost two brothers recently in the persons of Brothers Smith Greer and Charles E. Smith and both claims were paid immediately. The Grand Lodge is to meet here this summer and it is expected that they will stand second to none in membership and finance when the reports are made.

What Will the Harvest Be?

Shall competent Fredella Thomas Scales, armed with diplomas, teachers' certificates and splendid references, destroy herself, simply because her Caucasian, Indian, Negro blood's combined brown cumulenes causes the powers that be in this city to bar the road to the only big ambition of her life—to be a teacher in the public schools of Los Angeles? Sad, misplaced, checkered life of a highly intellectual young woman, who feels has suicidal moods, because Los Angeles is indifferent and unkind to her. The terrible tragedy of color epitomized in her sufferings. A misplaced girl in a misplacing city!

Los Angeles, Calif.,
April 11, 1927.

To all lovers of humanity who are asked to save a young, competent school teacher from an untimely suicide's grave:

The old expression that one-half of the world does not know how the other half of the world lives must be a like sad and heart-rending case of a despondent life and a tragic near suicide-death of Fredella Thomas Scales be rewritten so that this truthful appeal of this writer shall read: "The majority of the Caucasian leaders in Los Angeles hardly realize how intensely many gifted Ethiopians, who had arrived in knowledge, ability and character suffer and die every, without having really lived!"

This intellectual young woman, driven into desperate, melancholy, whilst brooding over her established capacity as a teacher, but also her heartless rejection of an appointment to her exalted station—to be only a teacher in one of the schools of this city or neighboring cities, or also temporarily, at least, as a governess-teacher to the more wealthy young ladies' children in Los Angeles, committed near-suicide on March 4th, 1927, because her frantic appeals for recognition as a pedagogue, her highest and noblest ambitions of her young, only 25 years old life, were unrealized in our city, simply because she is a—[illegible] and possibly Ethiopian, and not a well-known quadroon Occidental teacher and mental donor!

E. Snapper Ingram For Council 10th District

FOLKS . . .

Snapper will and will be elected as our next Councilman in the 10th District. Why? Just because he is a Veteran and recognizes values of the World War, standing on a platform of democracy, fair play and justice to all regardless of race, color, creed or denomination—That, my friends, is the policy of the American Legion. Now I have said a lot in a few words, and SNAPPER will see to it that I have said.

Youth with young ideas and vision, a desire to serve mankind unselfishly and is sympathetic at all times—with the oppressed.

Not a politician, but an humble servant of the city for seventeen years, who has the guts and qualifications to look up his constituents, knows what it's all about and realizes all conditions as they now exist and about the 10th District, most of which are dirty, filthy streets, poor light, vile inspections, disconnected sewers, all of which make it favorable to those who pay checks. Above all check with the heavy appendages and those we voted those conditions, and you will find [illegible]

BLACK AMERICANS, we have said you of Ingram's platform. I repeat—FAIR PLAY, JUSTICE TO ALL REGARDLESS TO RACE, COLOR, CREED OR DENOMINATION—That, my friends, is the spirit of the American Legion. And this said INGRAM is a Legionaire. As an organization we do not play politics, but there is a spirit of cooperation among us as a rule-but-reason which binds us rigidly, and since we have that representation in the legion there WE TOO must find this same justice meted out to others.

JUDGE S. RICHARDSON
IS NATIVE SON

Judge George S. Richardson, who is a candidate for reelection to the Bench in Division 21 of the Municipal Court, is a native son. He was born at Santa Paula, Ventura County, on April 17th, 1877.

Thirteen years experience as a Police Judge has made him an adept at handling misdemeanor cases, his friends say, and his humanly sympathetic manner of dealing with hapless offenders has caused him to be named as one of the two most competent judges of such cases in the United States, by a high official who recently made a nation-wide study of juvenile delinquency.

Why Judge Bullock Should be Re-elected

JUDGE BULLOCK ENDORSED BY DIST. ATTY. JOSEPH BURBY

JUDGE GRATIAN BULLOCK

"I believe that Judge Bullock's work with the unfortunate women and children who have been brought before the municipal court is of such value to our community that to appoint for by one less experienced in such matters would be a step backward in the administration of justice in the city of Los Angeles."—Judge Paul J. McCormick, U. S. District Court, Southern District of California.

"Judge Bullock has established his ability to interpret the law although the fact that during the controversy of the bench she has sustained no reversals from higher courts, and has one perfected appeal now pending, should ordinarily be of interest to the individuals before her, only most distant lookers in evidence. She has understanding."—Judge Paul J. McCormick, former associate Supreme Court justice.

"I feel that Judge Bullock has a very unusual grasp of the problems of the municipal court and is entitled to the confidence of the community."—Judge A. [illegible]

"Judge Bullock has a very unusual knowledge of the law, and is particularly well qualified to preside over the Municipal Court."—Judge [illegible]

Dear Friend:

We are asking your support, Nonpartisan, for the City Council and Municipal Judgeships, upon which will depend the administration of justice and the enforcement of law in our city for the next four years. Otto J. Zahn is a candidate for Municipal Judge, Division No. 12, and is specially interested in the welfare and equal rights of all groups. He has never turned away any committee that has sought to interview him upon conditions in his district.

Respectfully yours,
CLARA C. HULBERT.

AN OPEN LETTER ENDORSING JUDGE HAAS

Judge Charles E. Haas,
Division 12, Municipal Court,
Room 303, Court House,
Los Angeles, Cal.
My Dear Judge:

I note that you are a candidate to succeed yourself for election at the May 3rd primary, and feel that I would be remiss in my duty were I not to pledge to you my unstinted support.

Knowing you as I have for a great many years as a deputy city attorney, a deputy county counsel and assistant county counsel, being with me in the latter two positions, and appreciating the experience gained by you during your many years of public service, it is a pleasure to do what I can to assist in your election.

If the voters realized your ability, integrity and capacity for judicial work, they would not for one moment consider dispensing with your services.

This letter is unsolicited, and you may feel free to use it in any manner which may further your candidacy.

With best wishes for your election to succeed yourself as municipal court judge in Division 12 at the primary election on May 3rd, I am

Very truly yours,
A. J. HILL.

One of the most unique affairs of the month was the tacky party given at the Christian Tavern by the popular V. I. F. club. Most everyone came dressed in costumes that must have been designed in Noah's Ark and eventually reached a rattling climax in the Ford automobile, as was seen in the costumes of the winners. Those who won the prizes for wearing the tackiest costumes were Mr. and Mrs. T. Finchback. A mammoth cake was won by Mr. E. Page, prominent musician of this city. Music was furnished by Miss Emma Miles and her Syncopatin' Blue Blowers.

The Willing Workers of the 2nd Baptist Church made the church a present of 5 lovely palms for Easter and also did the decorating. After evening services a flashlight picture was made of the decorated section and choir. Mrs. J. S. True is president of this group, Mrs. M. Jenkins, Treas. and Mr. J. H. Amey, Secy.

Under the supervision of Mr. Irvin, assisted by the leaders, Hall Wilkins, Isaac Perdue, Clarence Russell, Harry Penn, Dolario Johnson, George Wilson, Perry Washington, Melvin Lockston and George Pope, over fifty boys took advantage of the Easter Season Leave of Absence privilege. The boys to receive the highest awards for spending the vacation are Harold Anderson, Lloyd Fields, George Wilkins, Jim Richmond, Jesse Perdue, Willie Lockston, Andrew Kinch, Jr., James Jones, and Willie Arrington.

The Jefferson Senior Hi-Y and Hi-Y-D's, are at it again for the valley ball championship. We shall see.

Thirty-five lads from the Boys Division spent the Easter Week End in the mountains of the High Sierras.

Just as old sol peered over the Eastern horizon last Easter day, twenty rangers knelt in adoration and praise to the Great Ranger whose resurrection and ascension made a place in Paradise for all those who would commune with Him.

Carl Hicks, Alphonso Jones, Marshall Royal, Dennis Nealon, Felix Shakelford, Herbert Jones and John Porter of the 38th St. Boys Division entertained the South Pasadena Hi-Y Club with a Oriental Literary program last Tuesday evening.

Boys Week begins Sunday, May 1st at which time a Boy's Mass Meeting will be held at three o'clock to start off the week of events. The boys of the building will be turned over to boy officials who will occupy the department heads offices during the entire week.

THERE WILL BE NO RISING TIDE OF COLOR

The Easter Sunrise Service Sunday at the Los Angeles Coliseum, Exposition Park, was held under the auspices of the Community Development Association, Philharmonic Orchestra played, and Dr. James A. B. Sherer, director of the Southwest Museum, delivered the "Easter Message."

Just when the sun was creeping slowly over the hills, Dr. Sherer stood up to speak. He said, in part, "There will be no rising tide of color." Less than ten years ago, there was an alarm given to look out for the yellow peril that was stealing upon us. That yellow peril was Japan, but today, we have no fear, Japan has come over on the Lord's side, which is to say that Japan has cast her lot with Western Civilization and the white man.

But there were those in the great open air audience breathing the same fresh air with Dr. Sherer and lending thanks to the same God of all earth, who took exception to the learned Doctor's remarks. For said they, "Will this God to whom we turn thanks at this time and in whose hands we commit our future destiny so readily forgive Mr. White Man for all the punishments that he has and is even now heaping upon our heads?"

Dr. Sherer could not close his remarks without making some mention of the present situation in China, so he said that the outlook in the Mongolian Republic was pretty bad, but he believed that even though another great international conflict would be the result, the white man would still be left on top.

Glazing The Surface

Truly Dr. Sherer's speech on this beautiful Easter Sabbath was a pure white pacifier, but still we ask what will the harvest be?

How To Make Good

God is good, and He has said that man resembles the image of his maker. So we say to our white brother at this time—"If you would make proper and lasting retribution for your sins committed against your Black brother, call a conference of England, France, Germany, Italy, America, and in fact, all the nations which have gone into Africa and sliced this country into parts according to their own wants, constantly shoving the native back while they divided the spoils.

If you would show God proper thanks for the fruits of your boasted Western Civilization, give back Africa to the Africans, letting the whole world, however, be God's Garden in which all the children of men may roam, work, and play as they see fit. Pay them and not until then, will Dr. Sherer and the other Gospel messengers carry out the command of the Christ when he said, "Go ye into all the world and preach my gospel to every creature."

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Among passing events of the week, we note that the legislative mill at Sacramento ground out a bill introduced by Senator C. C. Baker which creates the California Crime Commission.

It is said that the purpose of the bill is to form an investigating body which will dive deeply into the subject of its causes of crime. While this looks hopeful, but not particularly helpful, it looks like building a house in the neighborhood of an A rock.

Crime is no new thing, but it must be admitted that the present subject of crime has its foundation in the youth of today. Let us all have hope to prevent a tragedy, it must be from beneath and not upon the surface.

The fundamental training for citizenship, either good or bad, starts in the home. What America needs today is the Christ home, not the type of Christian home of yesterday, but the type that will meet the new needs of today which however, shall not mean that the parent should not govern by precept. Society really believes that positiveness tempered by kindness should be the rod of correction. Father, by taking greater interest and child training should enable [illegible] and ready to [illegible] that he may be his son's companion and confidant. Mother, the all mighty, should keep all pal'd to its mentally [illegible] man life's open side by side with daughter, for she after all [illegible] girl's best pal!!

TEACHER'S DESK OR SUICIDE GRAVE

[illegible] tragic [illegible] innocent smiling face, she revealed to this writer only a few days ago that for her there is only the grave and death in sight. Pushed down by society because she is only a pretty brown girl and not a pretty white girl; this young and capable teacher, with glorious diplomas and splendid references to show to Christian and Judaic Los Angeles, is again thinking of death in once more brooding over the heartbreaking question: "Why can I, a loyal Ethiopian woman, not be a public school teacher in Los Angeles?"

Society with its flagrant and unbridled selfish individualism must answer this question, not only white society, but to a certain extent, too, Black society. If Frederik Thomas Scales commits suicide the next time with telling success at self-destruction, it will not be this writer's fault, for Los Angeles with more than sixty churches, synagogues, missions, religious societies and other public institutions is heavily subsidized to save this young teacher's life by placing her in healthful and revealed teacher's post [illegible] you can scale the precipice and to do [illegible] strive herself! More than a Million dollars are invested in charitable institutions and humane institutions in Los Angeles, and yet, a young woman of Caucasian, Indian and Negro blood must perish because the doors are locked to her to practice her noble profession as a competent teacher in our cosmopolitan city. Not upon this writer, who does his duty, but upon the head of the whole body of Los Angeles rests the solemn burden of answering [illegible] this ability. If after this warning, this young woman is not speedily rescued from her impending fate of self-destruction, if denied a position as teacher, for which she is qualified and especially fitted, and not as a servant drudge, for which her intelligence is [illegible] and her [illegible] appearance and real!

If Frederik Thomas Scales [illegible] has her own mind, the writer's mind is clear of guilt as to her suicide, for I have tried to help her and place her in recognition of her pursuit, culturally and legally, because by blood, talent, Christianity and Judaism, she is entitled, with the documents, references and indorsements that she carries with her, to be a high school teacher, and not a drudge and a menial, and decide, by the latest humanistic decree of the realizing city of Los Angeles.

If education and teaching is to be a universal and an interracial blessing for all mankind, then how is the time for our city to prove that Frederik Thomas Scales shall be appointed a teacher in our schools, for she has not only the ability to be one, but really desires to. For [illegible] and not for the [illegible] a mis-teaching teacher-outcast we forced a [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

INTRODUCING E. SNAPPER INGRAM

E. Snapper Ingram is a candidate for Councilman in the 10th District and asks the support of citizens in the district solely upon his past record as a citizen and his qualifications based upon seventeen years of municipal service.

Now an employee of the Engineering Department of the City, Snapper Ingram has for seventeen years served this city not as a politician but as an expert department worker. He is therefore qualified to know the needs of the people of the District and how to supply them. The City Hall will not by any means be strange to Snapper Ingram when he takes his seat in the council chamber.

When a budget or an assessment is brought forward for consideration, Snapper will know to the penny if the amount is correct or not, and he promises to vote to cut down wastefulness in the city administration.

A world war veteran, Mr. Ingram, in association with many Negroes in the Engineer's Department of the City and The American Legion, has shown conclusively that he is not partial to color.

Other candidates for office marvel at the E. Snapper Ingram organization of workers who put in long hours for Snapper and who will not take one cent of remuneration. Ingram has by far the largest organization of unpaid workers of any candidate for office.

They believe in "Snapper" and say that is going over the top, as he did in France.

PRIMARIES, MAY 3, 1927

Elected police judge in 1922, serving over three years at University Police Station, where he earned a reputation of fairness and impartiality, combining a systematic interpretation with a firm enforcement of the law.

PROMINENT CITIZENS FORM TOPHAM CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE

Under the manly and Christian leadership of Prof. E. L. Chew, more than one hundred prominent business, social and civic workers form working campaign committee to insure the election of John Topham as a member of the City Council from the fifth district.

Tupper S. Malone, well known business man and high class citizen, is headed strongly for councilmanic honors in the 5th district. He is well known for his business ability and absolute square dealing. A good business man with a rich and varied experience in affairs.

Through these columns he has seen fit to present his case. We ask for him a fair consideration by Eagle readers of the 5th district.

PLATFORM OF TUPPER S. MALONE FOR COUNCILMAN 5TH DISTRICT

If elected to serve in the council I can take my seat without any political axe to grind and, having made no promises, expect to give everybody a fair deal and no special privileges to anyone. I promise to do no log rolling—to the detriment of other districts. Will be the representative of the 5th district, but am for the best welfare of the entire city.

The man on a salary who is striving to pay for a home and to raise and educate his children, should not be overburdened with heavy taxes and assessments. When necessary improvements are installed the taxpayer should have from 60 to 90 days time, after the assessment is confirmed, to make arrangements to pay. The time allowed now, 20 days, is entirely too short and in many cases causes hardships. Am also opposed to overlapping assessments.

L. A. Edwards

Former Mayor L. A. Edwards of Watts is presented in this issue by the Citizens Committee of Watts and asks Eagle readers of the 15th to remember he has been tried and never found wanting and is entitled to the unswerving support of the people. The committee will set forth the high lights in the former mayor's record in our next issue.

Mr. Chew, chairman of the committee, says, "The people have tired of slipshod methods in governmental affairs and will emphasize this fact by electing an honest business man, John Topham, as member of the City Council, fifth district."

Following is a partial list of committees:

E. L. Chew, C. H. Anderson, Warren Woods, J. J. Spillers, James Stafford, C. N. Haney, J. E. Lattimore, W. E. Sandridge, L. P. Bell, S. A. Conn, John McClain, William Ellis, Robert A. PRIMARY ELECTION

ROYLE WORKMAN

Who has the honor to preside over the City Council as its President must and will be retained in his present position.

Budgeting public improvements as the proper way to carry through the city's paving program was advocated by John Topham, candidate for Councilman in the Fifth District, in an address Saturday (April 9) before the Los Angeles branch of the National Association of Stationary Engineers.

"It is of extreme importance," Topham said, "that we carry out the proposed general paving plan, notably the extension of great east and west and north and south arteries such as Washington, Adams, Vernon, Western and Vermont, to mention just a few.

"But we must put the program on an economic basis so the property owner will not be overburdened by assessments. If this is not done, the time is not far off when it will be difficult or impossible to obtain a majority of signers for a paving project. Under a budgeting system, the home owner would know approximately how much his bill would be when a petition was presented for his signature. On the other hand the City Council and Board of Public Works would have a record enabling them to avoid overlapping assessments or imposing other hardships upon the property owners.

"If elected to the Council I shall insist upon the inauguration of such a system, and I believe it will be welcomed by every interest concerned in the welfare of Los Angeles."

Of Politics

The education of our children is a matter of deepest concern to the entire people and, we owe it to our children and to ourselves to see that their future educational privileges are not unfairly safeguarded and protected. California as a whole, but Los Angeles in particular, enjoys one of the best public school systems in existence. The Board of Education which controls the schools of Los Angeles, is composed of men and women well seasoned and experienced and pledged to continue the present economic, effective and harmonious service which has brought the public schools of our city up to a high standard of efficiency. In order to continue that efficiency the Eastside Independent League has adopted the Board of Education ticket endorsed by the Citizens' School Committee and thousands of other representative citizens, and in presenting this ticket to the voters of this district do so fully convinced of the wisdom of the choice of candidates the Citizens' Committee has made. The Primary vote for Board of Education should be decisive, elect these FIVE at the Primary election Tuesday, May 3, 1927.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

CARRIE PARSONS BRYANT
ROBERT L. BURNS
LETITIA J. LYTLE
J. L. VAN NORMAN

And did you know that the present Board of Education has on its payroll 35 colored mercenaries?

And did you know that the present Board of Education has on its payroll 133 colored janitors?

EASTSIDE INDEPENDENT LEAGUE

Ella L. Cassells, Secretary.
Wood Wilson, President.

Governmental powers are prescribed or limited by the will of the people; politics are merely the active expression of that will. Officials are only servants appointed by the people to conduct their public affairs.

In exercising, therefore, the suffrage, it is not only the privileges of all citizens to participate in the selection of men to execute their will, but their duty.

The success of such a government is dependent upon an understanding of the law, and its sensible application in the interest of the people.

Is it not fair to you that the officials who fail to act in the interest of the people must be acting in sympathy and accord with a clique, or group, at the expense of the people?

Would you that your will be executed? If so, then so express yourself by voting and working finally defeat for those responsible for your burdens:

Taxation with representation.
Overlapping assessments.
Discrimination.
Segregation.

The following candidates for members of City Council are men who are known to keep their word and will carry out the will of the people and not that of the clique. Fail to elect them? Then the burden rests upon you.

It is either the will of the people or Kent Parrott and his clique.

DEV. RICHARD H. WADE
Manager

I solicit a thorough investigation on the part of anybody who doubts the honesty, and integrity on my part in offering these lands to the public. If any statement made to the public can be proven false, or not absolutely as advertised, I agree to frofeit $1,000 gold coin U. S. money to any one proving same.

CARVER ACRES, is the property of T. S. N. Maloof, and I am in position to give title to individual purchaser, on payment for his acre, whether one acre is sold, or the whole of the acreage is sold.

The records of San Bernardino are open to the investigation by any citizen who may desire to do so.

You will find Tract 2177 of the Maloof Highland Avenue Tract 1, recorded in book 31, page 51, San Bernardino County. You will also find, Maloof Highland Avenue Tract, 2178, Plot 2, recorded in book 31, page 52.

Search the records, they speak for themselves. My offer stands to any one, and every one. If it is not as we say, you don't have to buy.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make One Thousand Dollars, by anyone who doubts our word. Remember this offer is unconditional, to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

The Rev. R. H. Wade, a man of outstanding character, and 18 years of unquestioned integrity, in California, who has for the first time to deceive the publicas my General Manager. He is known as a man of the highest honor, and invites investigation to the fullest extent. And Mr. E. B. Maxey, building contractor of 20 years' residence in Los Angeles, known everywhere as an honorable man, of strong business qualities, certifies as to truth of the facts above stated.

The land is now going. Get in now. Water rights go with the land. He who hesitates will lose.

T. S. N. MALOOF, Owner.
E. B. MAXEY, Contractor.
RICHARD H. WADE, Manager.

T. S. N. MALOOF
Owner of Carver Acres

Land, Ontario, Chino, Corona, Arlington, Riverside, Colton and Redlands. Twelve miles from the city hall of San Bernardino. It also joins the finest Olive Grove in California.

Buy one or more acres at once. Prices advancing with improvements. Delay means loss—get in on the ground floor.

This is your one opportunity to own some of the best land in California. Rich level soil, under highly improved orchards, vineyards and olive groves. Geological survey shows abundant water supply, water rights with every acre. Buy one or more acres at once—$600 per acre and up.

Terms—10% down and balance to suit purchaser. This amount will place you in possession of an acre of the best boulevard lands.

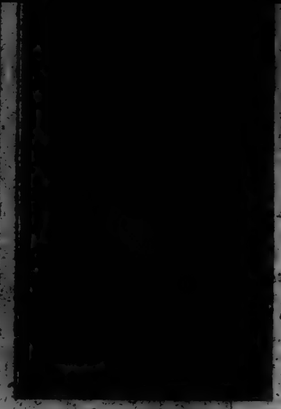
T. S. N. Maloof, is sole owner of Maloof Tract No. 2177, and 2178, Highland avenue, San Bernardino County. We guarantee to every purchaser full protection.

This is the most wonderful opportunity ever offered west of the Rocky Mountains. There will never be another such offer in your lifetime.

If you wish to get in on the ground floor in this proposition, visit our headquarters at 2727 Central avenue and you will meet our representatives who are thoroughly competent to explain all the details of this proposition.



Located in the midst of health, wealth and prosperity, on a highly improved highway, from Los Angeles to San Bernardino. Right in line with highly improved orchards; about 54 miles from Los Angeles' Court House. Also the finest place in the State for poultry, rabbits, in fact everything that you want to raise.

This acreage is surrounded by several large cities. Plenty

Do not measure my proposition by others of a like nature. Mine is different from any other yet given to the people of California. In fact there is nothing to compare with this proposition.

Farms divided and build Homes anywhere in Southern California. Resources unlimited. If you have the part down price on your acreage we will make every effort to build for you; putting in flowers, chicken corral, with lot balcony, allowing you to pay out in small monthly instalments.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make a substantial beginning toward an independent future. We also carry Fire Insurance, Rentals, Sales,—City, Country and Suburban properties. In fact anything in the Real Estate line. Information cheerfully given.

The annual banquet given by the United Brotherhoods of Pasadena was held last Friday evening. More than a thousand men were present representing all races and men from every walk of life. Among the many slogans for the year the outstanding ones are: Clean Men as City Officials, and the Bible in Public Schools. The purpose of these annual banquets is to instill into the respective brotherhoods of the city a closer feeling among all races.

Mrs. Tyler's marvelous interpretation of her numbers, especially "O Don Futsie" from "Don Carlos" by Verdi and her German number "Iohegrolle Nicht" by Schuman placed her among our foremost artists of today.

Her rendition of the Scotch number "Caller Herrin" was highly pathetic and her costume pictured vividly the lives of the fisher folk. Her group of English songs were artistically rendered. The costume of her Spanish group added greatly to the interest of the program. Her richness of tone quality, her wide range of voice were especially shown in her spirituals.

Mrs. Lavenia Harper-Patterson showed equal adaptability as an accompanist.

NOTICE

The regular meeting of the Junior Division of the N. A. A. C. P. will be held Sunday afternoon, April 24, at 3 o'clock. This meeting is held at Independent Church, Cor. 18th and Pecoma. The program promises to be an unusual one consisting of various numbers by members of the Iconoclast. All members and friends are invited to be present.

MAJOR YOUNG'S UNIT No. 112, U. S. C. I. HEADQUARTERS

The U. V. R. held an open meeting on Thursday, April 14 at 1045 Central avenue celebrating the anniversary of their organization. The meeting was very well attended. This is considered to be a revelation by the reserve men and all ex-service men are invited to participate with the unit. The commander, W. L. Montgomery opened the meeting by a short address explaining the object of the organization. After which Comrade Willis O. Tyler, master of ceremonies, was introduced and gave the meeting a very able and interesting speech which was enjoyed by all.

The following addresses on the U. S. C. I. were given: Major Young, the founder, chief Probation Officer Superior Court W. J. Hudson; Judge Y. L. Shaw; Hon. Zahn; Congressman Kenney; Judge L. [illegible]; Hon. W. H. Hornday; [illegible]

Refreshments were served after the meeting. The guests were entertained in the club room by Comrade John R. Norwood, Adj. and Comrade DeWitt Fuller, S. D. C.

The evening was well enjoyed by all present.

OPPORTUNITIES
By Frank A. Laws

There never was at any time, as many opportunities as exist at this present age. There are opportunities without end, even to serve others, to develop yourself, and make life worth while. Every man regardless to creed or color has a chance to make good. The right man will see his opportunity and grasp it, while the others continue to drift. We read of the condition in Dixie, where seemingly every thing is done to prohibit our success, yet we find men of color making history. Great institutions manned by a suppressed people are living monuments to the men that grasped their opportunities. So we that mean to get out of the rut, shall make our start today. Let us cease envying the success achieved by our fellowman. Let us no longer wish for the opportunities of the other fellow, but let us prepare ourselves and grasp the opportunities that are at our feet. Remember that extraordinary power and genius, are not needed to achieve success, the average man if powerful enough to solve his own problem if he will concentrate and keep driving himself. Opportunities are everywhere, look about yourself. In every State in every community, the man near you will find it as you look on. Even in this fair city are there opportunities galore if we will only grasp them. We cannot achieve success with our hands in our pocket, we must use our brains. Success is not easy, if so every man would have it. So let us acknowledge our need as a definite purpose, and put all we have into it. The exodus of the Negro from the cotton fields of Louisiana, from the cane fields of Louisiana, from the cane fields of Texas, was caused by the opportunities offered them in the north-ern factories. They saw and took. While are the opportunities in California? They are here, but we must grasp them. Look around you, look about you, look within yourself, and see the opportunities that are waiting for us to build up [illegible] will mean

FORMAL OPENING OF [illegible]

On April 25 at 10 o'clock, Bishop John J. Cantwell will dedicate the beautiful church, St. Odilia's and give Confirmation to a large class. Through the zeal and untiring efforts of the past, Father Schlenk, with the cooperation of a faithful few, the new buildings at 53rd and Hooper were made possible after fifteen months labor.

Already it has proven the necessity for a church so dedicated by the spiritual benefits already given and by the large number of children who crowd the Sunday School.

As usual, in Catholic churches, it is attended by both races, but this is the the first Catholic Church in California to be dedicated as "Home for our people where [illegible] and full expression of all talents [illegible]."

The church is of stucco, in mission style, slatted floor, [illegible] with seating capacity of about 350. The new rectory on Hooper street is the same style and material. A temporary social hall of wood has been built on Latham street. Altogether the buildings are a great improvement to the neighborhood and a credit to the race and city in general.

BIG GOSPEL TENT NEWS

A special resurrection sermon is promised for Sunday night, April 24th at the BIG GOSPEL TENT, 50th and Central Ave., at 7:45 P. M. sharp. The subject will be "Will the trouble in China lead to the battle of Armageddon?"

No Bible topic fascinating present day forces confronting many more than the Bible study and desiring to know what the future holds in store for the nations, should be on hand to hear Evangelist C. C. Walters present this subject.

The Harvest of Jewels will give a Tea at the home of Mrs. Bertha Hickerson on East 103 St., April 24. All are invited to attend.

Mrs. Johnson of Johnson Street was buried April 15 from Robert's Undertaking Parlors. We extend sympathy to the family.

We are glad to announce that Willis Randell, who has been ill, is much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradbury of East 115 street will leave for Chicago this week. Everyone will certainly miss them.

Mrs. MacDonald on East 114 Street directed the wonderful Cantata given at her church Easter Sunday.

Rev. Carter of the Wesley Chapel Mission on South Compton had everything in readiness for Easter with the excellent children's program at eleven o'clock.

Rev. Ramsey and his members were well pleased with the entire Easter program.

Rev. Scott is all smiles following the success of Easter programs. The chorister of the church should be complimented for his excellent work. We wish that we had more like Mr. Eggleston. He has brought many girls and boys to the house of God.

Rev. Baptist of Jerusalem Temple will have baptism Sunday at one o'clock at Leak's Lake.

The Hollis Furniture Company was quite encouraged to see the large gathering at their cornerstone laying Easter. The factory will be a great boom to Watts.

EDITED BY HARRY LEVETTE

THE MOST SENSATIONAL FIGHTER IN THE WHOLE WIDE WORLD

ACE HUDKINS HOLLYWOOD STADIUM, A SELL-OUT

Frank Kerwin, handsome, big-voiced stood in the center of the Wrigley Field ring Monday night before the Taylor-Nationalista Godfrey-Chevalier fight and said in ringing tones, "And now ladies and gentlemen, we have here the greatest, the most sensational boxer in the whole world—Ace Hudkins." And right here Mr. Kerwin said a mouthful.

Ace Hudkins has all other fighters have and a lot they haven't. A showman without knowing it, a clever boxer steadily improving, a determined battler with a fighting heart, and the "killer instinct," a powerful human machine of vitality, charged and seemingly tireless muscles. Being a "good fellow" out of the ring is not what makes him so popular and brings a roar every time he appears, but the fact that he fights, fights, fights, for the love of combat, makes even his enemies, follow him to see what the next sensation will be.

Tonight, Friday, April 22, he faces at Hollywood Stadium, a boy expected to give him plenty of trouble in Sid Socklyn. This ex-artillerysman is the only one in Hudkins' recent Coast bouts that the fore-casters have not been able to quite figure out ahead. Ace intends to beat him thoroughly, carefully, decisively, so as to leave no doubt in the minds of the Coast fans as to the outcome. And Socklyn says he won't, so there's the argument Tom Gallery has encouraged.

Ace's new stablemate, one of the boys Art and Clyde has signed to take East, will fight Teddy O'Hara in these semi-windup. This is Eddie Mahoney a tough hard hitting youngster with a string of wins from Around Fresno, Oakland and other padded empires. Don Levy either does or doesn't with Willie Brown in the feature preliminary. Betting stands at 2 to 1 and the house is practically sold out.

HEY SKIN-A-AY! LET'S GO SWIMMIN'

Warmer weather is bringing more crowds to the beaches now especially on Sundays and the water's fine.

SPRING FEVER—FISHING FEVER

Yellow tail, grunion, sheep-head, mackerel, and other salt water fish may rest some now. Trout time is here in the lakes.

YO, HO, BOATMAN!

Paul Shirtz will attempt to paddle a frail canoe across the Catalina Channel. What has become of the Skiff Skimmer's Derby to be held in June.

PLAY BALL!

A great event of 1927 baseball history occurred at N. Y. April fifteenth when Babe Ruth slammed out his first home run in the Yanks Athletic game. He was slow starting them, but he's off now.

Base Ball at Wrigley Field every afternoon.

MAIN STREET A. C. HAS BIG SATURDAY CARD

In search of thrills any big "butter and egg" man in town for a week end or any jaded punk about town needing a "kick" can drop down to the Main St. Club any afternoon and by watching the wrist-outs, see plenty of action. It is a big treat just to hear Ben Rogers, up his magnificent with "upstairs! Plenty of leaping!" Saturday fights are for full of knock-outs dead-to-wood at a fight club. Here is Saturday night's well mixed menu: Mateo Magdaleno vs. Abel Abay, eight rounds; Jimmy Shoemaker vs. Teddy Wise, eight rounds; Six Rounds. Peewee Moran vs. Sailor Garcia, six rounds. Kid Pere vs. Young Federico, four rounds. Jack Bailey vs. Barney Ward, four rounds.

THE HUMAN TYPHOON, ZORILLA WILL BLOW SANGOR AWAY

We did not like the word "human whirlwind" so we named Santiago Zorilla the "Gulf Typhoon." We predict that Joey Sangor will think he got into a flock of typhoons in the center of the Indian Ocean without a rudder. Zorilla is in splendid shape for this match and could fight right now. Mr. Wirt Ross gets a little uneasy at times, afraid that the little brown Panama Indian may get vamped away by some of the tantalizing Central Avenue shebas and forget to train. He says the natives in the isthmus wear the breech-cloth and carry the bow and arrow. But even though Zorilla looks like he just stepped off Fifth Avenue, he is just as fierce in the ring as if he were in his native wilds. There is no danger of him being led astray, he is too wise for that and too anxious to spike Bud Taylor's machine-gun, for the bantam Croix de Guerre.

MAIN STREET A. C. FEATURES MAGDALENO ON ALL-STAR SATURDAY BILL.

The colored citizens and voters of District No. 1 held a live Mass Meeting Monday night, April 4th at the Lincoln Memorial Church, 1129 East 34th street, Rev. E. E. Lightner, pastor and organized the voters of said District; and endorsed the Honorable Howard W. Davis, as the Candidate for City Council from that District; the meeting was a live one, and much enthusiasm was manifested in the meeting. Attorney C. H. Alston, called the meeting to order, and in explaining the object and purpose of the meeting, took the occasion to score the present City Administration, the inefficiency, and mis-management of the City affairs, and the discrimination and segregation of our group in this city, Attorney Alston, steered the crowd, as he generally does; immediately thereafter the meeting went into permanent organization. Attorney C. H. Alston, elected District Chairman, R. B. Ferrell Vice District Chairman and A. J. Fitzpatrick, Secretary. Thirty-one Precinct Captains were appointed, and each requested to hold at least two meetings in each precinct each week until the election. A committee of five were appointed to draft a letter to the citizens and voters of this District. This completing the organization; speech making was in order. Rev. Dr. R. H Wade, electrified the house, when he stated that the black people in Los Angeles for once had gotten together for their sole purpose of casting a solid vote, to vote our members of the present City Council who had been so unfair, unjust and un-Christianlike towards our group; he stated that he did not live in this district, but that he had come over to assist in nominating and electing the Honorable Howard W. Davis, as a member of the City Council, as what affected the black man in one district affected him in every district alike. After which good talks were made by R. B. Ferrell, A. J. Fitzpatrick, A. J. Haynes, W. E. Franklin, Mr. Stockwell and others.

Rev. E. E. Lightner extended the organization the use of this church for any and all of their meetings and pledged his whole-hearted support to the cause of the organization. Headquarters of the organization have been opened at 1202 Central Ave., and an active and extensive campaign will begin at once.

Lew Tendler Thanks Los Angeles—Really God's Country, He Says

It was a day or two after the Hudkins-Tendler fight, when the Sports Editor of this publication met that great Philadelphian Lew Tendler at the Manhattan Gym. Shaking hands he said sincerely, "Will you give a message to the people of Los Angeles for me? Tell them for me through your paper, that I thank them for the wonderful way they have treated me since I have been out here. This is my first trip west, but it never will be my last, I shall always remember it. Your climate is wonderful, and the people are more so. This is really just what they call it, 'God's Country.' In all my 14 years of fighting in many places, I have never met with the kindness of such sportsmanship. That is why I owe it all to you, that the best I could possibly do was not enough to win. I did my best, and I am glad I fought to see you all said."

GIRL-ETICS

By: GLADYS MATHONICAN

One of the first of a series of basketball games to be played by the 12th St. Center Girl Reserves was played in Pasadena Friday evening, April 22nd at the Y. W. C. A. The opponents were the Pasadena Girl Reserves and was witnessed by an enormous crowd including quite a few notables of Pasadena.

From the beginning of the game to the end the local G. R's. were outplayed but an observer could readily see that these girls had the odds against them as they were forced to play under a ruling they had not practiced playing under giving the Pasadena G. R's. an obvious advantage and a score of 24-3.

Nevertheless with odds against them the 12th St. G. R's. fought an undisputable hard fight and were good losers.

Alice Stevenson of the home team was the outstanding player of her team and made herself worthy of being guard. Mabel Jones stood next in line as a battling forward, making the 3 points for her team. Other mentionable ones were. Hazel Thomas, captain and jumping center; Katherine Johnson who played jumping center and their forward for a while; Melrose Jones also proved to be a capable guard; the other girls who played also did their best and all deserve quite a bit of credit.

Two more games with the Pasadena girls and then the victor will be decided.

Louise Tilly and Geneva Stocks were the featured players of the Pasadena G. R's. both of these girls played forward and were very technical players.

The next game is scheduled between the two teams is during the last week of April. Date will be mentioned in this column later.

SILAS MASTERS

Everybody calls him "Si." The very able manager of the Olympic Auditorium.

Mr. Silas Masters, manager of the Olympic Auditorium, has been a great factor in the success of the great events staged by the Vernon organizations during the several years that he has been connected with it. Associated with its head Jack Doyle, and matchmaker, "Wad" Wadhams, with the publicity handled by Dean Snyder the great plans mapped out for the future at the new home.

Young Harry Wills to Start at Ball Park In Frisco

After a much needed rest, Young Harry Wills made his new start against Young Corbett at Frisco on the 13th. Wills did not consider the 13th unlucky as he is determined to erase hiss[illegible] TAO TAOIN SHLU ETA erase his legs to Tendler back in the city where he gained his biggest reputation by taking down a lot of the several opponents they have lined up for him there. His next fight will be against Dutley or Silver at the Ball Park in Frisco.

The match he craves for most is a re-match with Lew Tendler. Wills learned a lot about Tendler in his Olympic match with him and figures he can keep the clever veteran out of his mid-section and also stop him from holding with the right while he hits with his left.

Wills clean-cut manager Tom Scott has a busy program lined up for his tall brown boy for the summer season and with the careful coaching of his brother-trainer Sylvester Eopse to carry him through with a string of scalps on his victory pole.

BARNETT AND BAKER'S STABLE

Hear ye! The Barnett and Baker Stable have two of the most promising youngsters on the West Coast. One is in the middleweight class by the name of Jack Miller and the other, Charlie Geisebaus, is in the lightweight class. Now all you promoters, managers, fighters match this boy, either the other is top in a year's time for he sure likes it. He's a real fighter. Now don't be surprised, as I speak to the fans in Stable terms and they and me is nothing happens to the boy, he will be a champion within a short time. If you doubt me, just see some [illegible]

Sacramento plays L. A. this week, you will see a great S. S. in French. He can get through from either side, left or right and is a great hitter. In '24, he was with the N. Y. Yankees and learned his B. B. in the Alameda sand lots. Art Koehler, S. S. for Sacto, is one of the best ruckuses in the League. Every time Ryan saw Koehler coming up, he has his own perch on the fence so he won't miss any balls.

TALES O' SHEFFIELD

By: Chas. L. Upton

With a jug of white mule to keep up their spirits, a game surrounded a table in a back room off of the kitchen. You could cut the smoke with a knife, but were the point—"Come on little joe". Bang! Bang! Bang! came a knock on the door and in came "SHEFFIELD." A wild scramble for the winnings took place right away. "Just a minute," said Sheffield, "till the wagon comes, I'm going to help you find 'Little Joe'". Central Station had plenty company that night.

The Railroad Clatter congratulates the following porters on the anniversary of their birth this month: Kling Johnson.

Mr. Harry Levette,

Dear Sir:)

Kindly advise me at once if there is any chance of getting "Peached Browning" on at the American Legion "Humming Bird" Nite Club. Wire at once. Yours,

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Under the heading of Voice of the People, The Los Angeles Illustrated Daily News, Wednesday, April 13, publishes the following letters from two of their patrons:

Wanted Employment

Los Angeles: Quite a few of your readers are complaining about employment agencies. Why don't they go out and get jobs themselves or let the state employment bureau boys take care of them? If I want work I go and ask for it myself. Why use a middleman and then not expect him to take out his cut? Service is the highest priced commodity in the world. Ask any Pullman porter.

H. HORK.

SUGGESTS NEW LAW

Watts: Have you ever gone to a barber shop without having been hounded by the Negro porter, who seeks his tip? If you pay fifty cents for a haircut, that may be all you wish to pay. What right has the porter got to try to win your favor and nickel or dime by brushing an imaginary dust, etc. What's the matter with our State Legislature passing a law to stop such practices?

HARRY CONNORS

REPLIES

In letter number one, that part in which Mr. Hork states that Service is the highest priced commodity in the world, referring to the Pullman porter for verification of the fact. Will say that the price of Service on a Pullman car is made by the Travelling Public themselves and not by the Pullman porter. Pullman porters are practically dependent upon alms from the travelling public to make up a deficiency in their salaries. They are not allowed to ask for tips, BUT shine passengers shoes, and do many other little favors, which the passenger feels obliged to give an extra fee for same. Many passengers expect such favors all the way across the continent without even saying thank you. Therefore the writer cannot agree with Mr. Hork that Service is the highest priced commodity in the world.

WATTS LETTER

I heartily agree with Mr. Harry Connors in regard to the barbershop porter. All that he does is hang your hat and coat up and brush you off which is far different from the class of service rendered by the Pullman porter who goes around in the wee hours of the night while you are slumbering peacefully and gathers your shoes which he polishes bright and clean, sends telegrams for you, gives you an extra blanket at day hour in the night that you may flag the bell right after your grips, gives you a pillow during the day that you might be comfortable, brings you ice water at any hour during the night, and acts in the capacity of your own personal private valet. Let's kill two birds with one stone by urging the State Legislature to use their influence towards an increase in the Pullman porters salary, and bring about conditions in such a manner as to relieve barber shop patrons of embarrassing moments.

It's here. Hits you right! "Tales o' Sheffield."

SELECTED FOR SPECIAL SERVICE

Ferdinand Turpin, a Chicago East Porter was selected by Mayor Wm. Hale Thompson to take charge of his private Pullman from Chicago to St. Louis.

ACTIVE PORTERS ARE NEW TRADE

Active porters make the porters of this district in being behind forward on the new trade agreement, as

Portland and Seattle, the trade having cut seven hours off its former time.

L. A. COFFIN HIRES NEW MEN

Mr. L. A. Coffin is being kept busy hiring and breaking in new porters for 32nd of May when the rates go on. Highland Park, toward the biggest rush of tourist travel in years said Mr. Coffin in an interview with the writer recently. We have orders to hire twenty-four men for Portland, twenty-four for Los Angeles, and fifteen for Salt Lake City, sixteen men are already under instructions at this writing.

THE NEW BRONX BRIGHTENS UP

The New Bronx Hotel which is the leading hotel for railroad men stopping in Los Angeles is now undergoing a complete change said Mr. L. L. Racer last week. It is our motto to insure our guests absolute quietness while stopping with us and we have arranged to have quiet signs similar to those which we now in use on the Pullmans to help us toward this end. Mr. L. L. Racer plans many new features in the hotel line, and states that when he is finished improving The New Bronx will surpass any hotel in the West for service to railroad men.

Tales o' Sheffield will appear each week in the California Eagle.

PILLOW SLIPS

Mr. Brooks, red cap at the Santa Fe depot has been lately seen carrying sweet peas and other varieties of flowers home each night after he gets off from work. We notice that after he does this he is able to get out on Central Ave. Still he says that he wears the pants at his home. We wonder? You, we wonder?

MARRIED MEN ATTENTION

Did you know that recently a law was passed wherein all married men were given the right to take one night off a week alone. Well! Try and get it.

Traveling Chef Thomas Harrison is taking every time he can get his hands on in order to put up another flat building. The writer recently gave him the price of postage for some news of the thirteen Pacific trips and up to the present writing has not yet received the news yet. But boys, don't blame me for it but jump on Big Tom.

L. High came very near being in Chicago last week when the Chicago Limited went out at San Diego.

Maid Hazel Lewis had the pleasure of spending a night in Omaha last week.

Maid Tennie Upton is spending a few days at home on account of cutting her hand on a glass.

Blackstone says he likes 'em young and fair. Watch your step Blackstone.

C. Smith Number Two was seen on Central Avenue recently looking like the last rose of summer. Oh! yes! Smith is still married.

Dr. Hooker is a wonderful man and a nice doctor but ever since he wrapped my wife's hand up with a piece of gauze bandage. I have been doing the washing.

A Union Pacific porter thought he would drop by the dance and make a little draw, but when he got there the place was so crowded with Santa Fe porters he couldn't get in.

It begins to look like the Yats are going to host the Coast team all summer.

It's about time that Wm. Mayo is making a trip to St. Louis again.

Wonder who has become of Frank Scott the Stock Mayor of Black Hawk, Wood.

R. B. Baker, the well-liked Pacific Shark, stole the limit. We hear he closed from here for home.

Read the Clatter's blurb for the latest in running stories.

Bronx Bits

BY THE MANAGEMENT

The New Bronx Hotel, 422 E. 7th St., is no doubt the best Race Hotel in the West. But from the many positions that have confronted us in the past two months, it is quite evident that our white neighbors consider us undesirables. But we are going to stay regardless of what is said.

We have here in Los Angeles, a Hotel equal to the best in entertainment—Elevator, Maid, Cafe, Valet, Billiard Hall and Taxi Service. We have now about fifteen employes in the hotel. Thanks to the Railroad and Theatrical people for their support in the past.

We are going in now for a better and cleaner hotel. You will no doubt agree with us, that any hotel in the U. S. A. is confronting with the same proposition that we have had in the past month. In checking over the the hotel we came to a conclusion that I am sure you will be pleased with. We have here in the hotel some of the finest men that you would want to meet both Railroad and Theatrical people, also a weekly list that have been with us since the Hotel has been open. All employes of the down town district, which makes it quite handy for them.

Room 307 is doing good business now. Carrying a full line of cosmetics and toilet articles. Bobbing a specialty. Mr. U. G. Green, Prop.

Claude Neal at 18th and Central invites his friends stopping at the Bronx to stop in and see him at his new well-equipped cigar and soft drink stand and shining parlor.

GO TO THE BRONX

By Management of the Hotel Bronx
CURTIS W. CARPENTIER

In order to co-operate with the Pullman employees during the dull season we are putting into effect beginning April 15, 1927, a cut-rate schedule. These rates are offered to all railroad employees. The new rates are as follows: One nite $1.00, two nites $1.75, three nites $2.50, four nites $3.25.

Again to further co-operate with the man who either need the $ or is short of funds I have arranged a large dormatory with six beds. Four face bowls with running hot and cold water and private lockers. This room adjoins two baths: plenty of hot water and towels at all times. Service is the same as if you were in a private room. This accommodation is only for a nite.

You need not be afraid any longer of not being able to sleep on account of noise or other disturbance. I have made a clean sweep of all undesirable elements. Peace and quiet now reign, so you can feel as safe and rest as comfortable as if you were in your own bed at home.

Come in and look over what we have to offer even if you do not care to stop with us. Make Bronx your headquarters regardless of where you are stopping. Let us look after your mail, etc.

Remember dear friend that when you patronize this hotel you are helping to keep fifty-two members of our race employed. Which is something to be proud of. This as you know is the only hotel in Los Angeles that we can stop in that employs members of our race. Why not help one another? The other race in this neighborhood is trying to close us out by intimidation. Can't we fight back by UNITY to KEEP the best hotel in the West for our people? Won't you help by coming in today? If not today, then next trip SURE.

Members of the Mattie Walker Progressive Club are completing preparations for their trip to Bakersfield to attend the Federated Clubs Reciprocity of the Central Division. Mrs. Pearl Moulden, District Director of music, is in charge of the entertainment and is hoping to bring home the first prize, a medal given to the club having the best program.

Members of the Second Baptist Church observed Easter Sunday by giving a very impressive and interesting program. A large percentage of the community were present.

Mrs. Z. Otey Smith, president of the Federated Women's Clubs of Central California, was a visitor in Hanford Sunday morning.

The Brave Heart Hi Y Quartette is very much in demand. They are to entertain the Odd Fellows and Kiwananas very soon.

Members of the community were treated to two wonderful Easter programs at the A. M. E. Zion Church, Sunday. The Sunday afternoon program was given by the Sunday school. The evening program was rendered by the Senior Choir.

Rev. G. W. Reed, presiding elder of the Rocky Mountain Conference, was present at the A. M. E. Zion Easter program Sunday night.

Political Pot Pie

James Hosick is receiving a strong support from all classes of our citizenship in his campaign for a place upon the Municipal Court and there is no doubt from his rich and varied experience, that he would indeed be a genuine asset to the Judiciary of this bailiwick.

* * *

Pop Sanders, Dick General for the big eight and Chas. Olivier, assisting him are laying down a strong barage all along the line which the wise ones declare will bring results on Primary day.

* * *

The big meeting at St. Paul Church on last Tuesday evening was a feature of the campaign. Much enthusiasm and right good speaking by such eminent persons as Judges Georgia Bullock, Samuel R. Blake, Caryl Sheldon, Joe Marchetti, Wilson and the runner up for City Council, Mr. Hutchinson, Preacher Wade, Col. Alston and others.

* * *

Frank H. Mouser is reported as making the campaign of his career and from the last returns has Pierson Hall on the run.

* * *

Echoes from last fall's campaign come to our ears, as we note the filing of a suit in our local courts against C. W. Craddock. Bear in mind, dear reader, C. W. Craddock, erstwhile lawyer, has just emerged as Director General of a campaign for a prominent office, last year. His man won, hands down, but Craddock, according to the complaint of C. H. Alston, has failed to pay off. This is the second suit filed, and it is said there are many more to follow. Details which will come out later fail to make Craddock a shining example as a success in conducting campaigns for he has been too long on promises, and just as short on paying off his solemn obligations. So it is said.

NOTICE

In spite of the inclemency of the weather on Sunday, April 10th, an appreciable number gathered at Bethel Baptist Church to hear Dr. Cummings in his lecture on Africa, which was an educational treat.

A musical program, arranged by Miss Helen Edwards, was rendered. An original poem, entitled "God's Rose, The Colored Man" by Mrs. Bennie Ellsop, met with hearty response.

Mr. Theodore Edwards favored us with the Negro Spirituals. The enthusiasm was so keen, it was suggested that this group form a museum for an organization in community health work.

The next meeting will be held Sunday, May 8th at 4 P. M. at Bethel Baptist Church, 4714 Hooper Ave. Hear Dr. Cummings in his lecture on Africa's Redemption.

Dr. Cummings, Chairman.
Cornelia H. Evans, Secretary.

OFFICERS RAID HOME; KILL MAN

RAID ON PRIVATE HOME BRINGS FATAL RESULTS

1358 East 51st Street

Harris and Faulkner Home

On last Sunday evening at about 9 o'clock, officers Sheffield and Randolph of the Central Station Vice squad, swopped down upon the premises of Mrs. Clara Harris, 1358 East 51st street, in search of violators of the Volstead and Wright Act. It appears that no sooner had they gained a forced entrance to the house than business began to pick up.

According to the story of the officers as related at the coroner's inquest, much confusion was caused by the head of the house making efforts to destroy the evidence. When suddenly there appeared another one on the scene who took two shots at Officer Randolph one of which struck him in the right arm. The officer says he dropped behind a table and with his left hand drew his revolver and shot the man who proved to be Samuel Faulkner, a brother of Mrs. Clara Harris. The shot was deadly, Faulkner dropped in his tracks and died there. This situation was testified to by officers Sheffield and Randolph.

A DIFFERENT STORY

In direct conflict with this version at least six persons testify that when the officers forced their way into the house they came in with drawn guns and in the excitement and confusion chairs were turned over and disorder reigned supreme. Mrs. Harris's brother, as related by his parents, who resided in the rear, was awakened and sought to find out what it was all about. Hastily throwing on his robe, he came around thru the driveway and upon the front porch followed closely by his father Jackson Faulkner. Finding the door closed he went to the window and inside to the door leading into the parlor and dining room and inquired of the trouble and was promptly shot down in his tracks by Officer Randolph.

It was further stated to an Eagle reporter and we are told testified to at the coroner's inquest, that the shooting was general by the officers only. We were shown several bullet holes in confirmation of the statement, one was through the door, between the kitchen and dining room and one through the door entering into the bath room. We were further told that when Mrs. Faulkner ran to the side of her boy and raised his head with one hand resting on the floor that one of the officers brutally stamped her hand away with his foot and pointing at her commanded her to get away from there.

We heard from quite a number and each one fully substantiated the above version. According to Mrs. Harris, there were four guests in the room when the officers arrived and all of these agree substantially upon the above. This preponderance of testimony is the danger line for the officers and each day adds resentment to the act on the part of citizens generally.

The Coroner's jury failed to justify the killing and recommended investigation by proper officers.

Much Depends Upon Calibre Of Bullet in Randolph's Arm

We are authoritatively informed as we go to press that a felony charge against Sheffield and Randolph is dependent upon the calibre of the bullet which is to be extracted today. (Friday) in the presence of the representatives of the District Attorney's office, representatives of the press and other officials.

Note the diagram at head of this article which gives in detail location of house and incidents leading up to the killing.

Immortality For Florence Cole Talbert

BY: LOUIS MICHEL

WILL AMERICA NOW BOW TO HER SUPERIOR SINGING GENIUS AS ITALY DID AND HER ALL-WHITE SUPPORTING CAST?

This Los Angeles girl has broken all annals of Negro artistry and appeared in the stellar role as "Aida" in the Grand Opera play of the same name with an entire Italian White cast in Cosenza-Naples. Received six curtain calls for her darling, epoch-marking, never before accomplished historical feat. Is now a leading woman in all mankind's history, even eclipsing in magnitude of her brave triumph the great feats of Roland Hayes. Now, Los Angeles, wake up, and America, stretch thy great muscles and expand thine heart, and give to Florence Cole Talbert her just due. Grand Concert planned at the Hoover and the Philharmonic when she arrives home in June!

The steep, long precarious mountain of highest class artistry has been climbed—the chains of indifferent neglect, of cruel refusal, of American intolerance to the greatest Negro singing artist of the world, not excepting Roland Hayes, have been broken, for Italy has starred Florence Cole Talbert, and America can only look on, and accept Italy's verdict and acclaim her, when she returns to Los Angeles, some time in June, as Roland Hayes had to be acclaimed.

Not only has Florence Cole Talbert arrived in Grand Opera in her superb role as "Aida" in the wonderful lyrical Grand Opera drama, called by this name, but Florence Talbert has made the noblest record of any Negro artist, living or dead, that has ever been made, as she has appeared with tremendous success upon European soil as a Grand Opera singer with an all-Caucasian company with her, the first Negro girl of America. She only Negro girl in the world, since the world has been created appearing in the stellar role in one of the greatest and truly imperial Grand Opera plays, "Aida"—the only Negro girl to achieve this feat first in the history of all mankind.

Then Florence Cole Talbert is now an immortal, deathless as Dumas, deathless as Frederick Douglass, deathless as Paul Laurence Dunbar, deathless as Toussaint L'Ouverture, Phyllis Wheatley and Crispus Attucks.

When she has sung in Cosenza, Italy, at one of the leading theatres there, in closest proximity to Naples, will always live in history, as Florence Cole Talbert has shown to the world, how a rejected Negro artist of America can be an elected and selected stellar world artist in Italy, supported by an entire white company, and win such honors as are indelible, historical epoch-making, undying, for this Negro girl was acclaimed by her white Italian audience and received six curtain calls after the third act, the highest honors ever received by a dark woman artist on grateful foreign soil.

By her noble art she has done more than 100,000 Negro soldiers, 100,000 Negro preachers, 100,000 Negro writers could have done—she has been the first Negro Grand Opera singer to sing in the Italian language on Italian-European-world soil, leading all of her supporting white coartists in artistry, importance and genius, leading also every living and dead Negro artist through her first original conception as a Grand Opera Singer of Negro blood in a foreign white country, establishing a new historical record in Negro art, and thus serving the oppressed Negro race in such a deathless, unprecedented and, so far, unknown manner in history, that from now on Florence Cole Talbert, no longer belongs to this generation alone, but she now belongs to posterity that will never permit her to die; she now has a seat in history!

Greater than Roland Hayes did the struggle, and greater, too, is her achievement! Roland Hayes stood with his beautiful voice, always alone, upon the stage, with no rivals, no co-singers to contend with, but Florence Cole Talbert had to appear in Grand Opera, a Negro girl of America, as "Aida," the star singer outranging all of them, and had to prove by her grand ability and her superior qualities as a dramatic soprano and skilled linguist that the white companion artists as well as the big, white audience in Italy had to accept her as not only the star genius that she is, but has acquired glorious Italian languages to an all evening performance by a foreign born Negro girl—a matchless feat, a glorious deed, a historical plunge into literary artistry, something that had never before been attempted by any Negro artist in the world, the first actual of this kind by our dark continent, unapproachable, original and deathless Florence Cole Talbert, the only Negro woman, fated by destiny and history, to finally pave the road for Grand Opera for Negro artists in the world.

She has done what even Roland Hayes did not do—broke down grand projection as the Grand Opera stage of the world, by appearing as the first Negro woman stellar figure, star singer, in a Caucasian country in Europe and Italy, by her supreme talent, ability, merit and imperishable liberty

INTERDENOMINATIONAL CONFERENCE OF NEW YORK AND VICINITY ENDORSES THE PULLMAN PORTERS UNION AND ISSUES STATEMENT IN THEIR BEHALF

The Interdenominational Ministers Conference is an active organization of preachers of all faiths in New York and vicinity. It meets once a week to discuss problems of religious, social and educational value to their respective communities.

THE STATEMENT

To Whom It May Concern:

We, the undersigned Ministers of the Gospel representing the Interdenominational Preachers' Meeting of New York and vicinity, do hereby most heartily endorse the efforts of the Pullman Porters and maids to band themselves together for the purpose of collectively bargaining with the Pullman Company with a view toward lawfully effecting an increase in their wages, a reduction in their hours of work, and an improvement in the working conditions.

We believe that these very reasonable demands of the porters and maids are not unlike those now enjoyed by the other workers of the transportation systems of the country; we further believe that the services rendered by them should not rest upon the uncertain and undignified basis of gratuity, and most Sociologists agree that tipping is a most degrading and undesirable method of reward—labor—but that they should receive an honorable and satisfactory wage, and one in keeping with the efficient services they give to the traveling public.

We recognize that in the industrial life of the nation the Negro worker is systematically held at an appalling disadvantage. In times of prosperity he is the last to be given employment; in times of adversity he is the first to feel its blighting force, and, we believe that the firm establishment of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters as a part of the great American Labor Movement will aid in remedying this situation, and will tend to eliminate antagonisms between white and Negro workers, thereby making for better race relations. Its success will also serve as a source of inspiration and encouragement to the other workers of the race in their efforts to raise their standards of living.

We therefore call upon our brethren everywhere to give to the Pullman porters and maids the whole-hearted support which their cause justly deserves. With our endorsement we wish them Godspeed and abundant success.

Car Throws Over; Girl Injured in Crash

A serious accident occurred to a party of interurban rabbit hunters Saturday night, April 16, on their way to attend the Easter Sunrise services. At the time of the crash, the car overturned, pinning it and severely injuring Miss Mildred White of 515 E. 50th street. The car was being driven by Miss Agnes Hall, 1 of the party, who was driving at a moderate rate of speed when the accident occurred. All the occupants of the car were thrown out by the impact.

COLORED WOMAN WINS $24,000.00 BACK SALARY

Maysville, Mo., April 26. (By the Associated Negro Press)—Justice took the blindfold from her eyes to gaze at the result of her decision here last Wednesday. At least the unusual scene being enacted in the courtroom of this southern Missouri city warranted such a demonstration on the part of her representatives for Sarah Duncan, an aged colored servant, was awarded $24,000 by a jury in the circuit court from the estate of H. Clay Duncan of Osborn, Mo.

For forty-seven years, Sarah Duncan, now 65 years old, had labored as a maid of all work in the proud family of Col. H. Clay Duncan, on of the aristocratic families of this section. She claimed that a verbal agreement had been made to pay her a certain salary which with the interest due her for 47 years amounted to $80,000. Under the statutes of 1865 interest could not be compounded on money due under a verbal contract, so her petition was amended cutting the sum asked for to $24,000, her salary plus simple interest, and the all-white jury after deliberating five hours returned a 10-2 verdict awarding her the money. After the verdict had been read, spectators crowded about the kindly old woman to congratulate her. During the trial, the colonel's widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, and her three daughters and the Rev. Frank Loose testified that no contract existed, between Col. Duncan and Sarah. Mrs. Duncan is bewildered by her sudden affluence and was unable to tell what her plans for the immediate future would be.

MALONE CASE IN STATUS QUO

St. Louis, Mo., April 25.—(By the Associated Negro Press)—Inaction has marked events in the Malone case for the past two weeks. Ever since, Aaron E., husband of the founder of Poro College, who is suing his wife for divorce and a half interest in the million dollar establishment, precipitated himself through the window of his friend's home in what was evidently an attempt to commit suicide, he has been held incommunicado by his lawyers and friends, "even on the Illinois side." For a time he was confined in St. Mary's Hospital in East St. Louis, Illinois, but the sisters in charge of that Catholic institution forced his removal when confining violent, he is said to have bit the finger of a nurse. His lawyers thereupon had him taken to a farm house near Lebanon, Illinois, about twenty-five miles from St. Louis, where he is kept under close guards by two burly colored men and attended daily by Dr. O. S. McClelland, the physician hired to watch him by Attorney Forstel, his white lawyer.

Pitiable stories continue to trickle in as to his condition. Many of Mr. Malone's friends are said to have felt all along that he was not strong enough mentally to stand any great strain. He is said, however, to have labored under a delusion that the worry and difficulties would be more than his wife could stand up under, and part of the plan mapped out is said to have been to so harrass her that she would give in. His lapse into insanity foiled that part of the plan.

In the meantime, his lawyers have been successful in postponing the trial, though no one about the town seems able to fathom the reason for the continued delay. The fact that Malone is kept out of Missouri, where he undoubtedly would be committed to a psychopathic hospital or asylum keeps the court from taking official recognizance of his condition. On the other hand, Illinois authorities will not confine him, because he is a resident of Missouri, and will not prove against him unless a complaint is made by a resident of Illinois. Human interference is manifesting itself by the public because of the affection in the case. "Why, there they do something!" is the question being asked by most people, but Mrs. Malone's tribulations are silent. The minister Conrad Pendleton, while still accumulating his forty ten, seems thereby averse to Poro Building and has thrown up his position as pastoral pastor of the Poro Auditorium.

Record Crowds Attend Golden State Service In Bakersfield

Sunday, April 24th, was a red letter day in the fast growing city of Bakersfield. The occasion was are celebration of the entry of the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company into the Kern County district.

Seven automobiles filled with officers, directors and field representatives of the company made the trip from Los Angeles and a record crowd of Bakersfield citizens filled the auditorium of Cain A. M. E. Church.

The real appreciation and enthusiasm of the people of Kern county for the Golden State service was evidenced by a splendid welcome address delivered by Rev. D. C. Carter. A fitting response was very eloquently rendered by Mr. S. P. Johnson, one of the Vice-Presidents of the company.

Mr. Norman O. Houston, Secretary and Treasurer of the company, gave a very concise explanation of the high class policies issued by the company and the needs they serve. He emphasized the fact that the company issued complete coverage policies and therefore every Race man and woman who could pass a satisfactory examination could own a policy in this, their own company.

The main address of the day was delivered by the distinguished President, Mr. Wm. Nickerson, Jr., who very forcefully pointed out the necessity for every Negro citizen to carry adequate insurance protection, and why he should carry it in the Golden State, the only life insurance company in California that is owned, operated and controlled by our group.

Mrs. Ada Stewart captivated the audience with a respectfully rendered reading. Splendid musical selections were rendered by Messrs. Lenny Beavers, Geo. A. Beavers, Jr., and Misses Dallas Beavers and Addie Hairgrove.

Hearty expressions endorsing the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company were made by Rev. Brown, Pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist Church; Rev. H. H. Edwards, Pastor of Galt Chapel A. M. E. Church, Mrs. W. Hall, President of the Bakersfield Branch of the N. A. A. C. P. and representatives of the Kern County Community Club. In all the speakers pledged their cooperation in urging

IN CHICAGO

BY: C. A. B.

On Friday, February 18th, National Health Night was observed by the Association at the Unity Civic Association Hall, 3140 Indiana Avenue. The speakers were: Dr. Algernon B. Jackson, director of the Dept. of Public Health, Howard University, Professor of Bacteriology and Public Health in the School of Medicine, Howard University; Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Chicago Commissioner of Health; Dr. H. Llewellyn Harris; Judge N. K. McGill and the Hon. Samuel Insull.

This particular evening was rather a cold one, not only for those of us from other sections, but likewise for Chicagoans. People living in Chicago like those who live in New York City have no particular line of division between day and night, save as a rule, they retire in the early morning hours and arise in the early afternoon.

In his opening remarks to the Association, the Hon. Samuel Insull said that he had heard that Negroes, even if they were back in everything else, they were certainly up on matters of religion, but if he had to judge their chances for Heaven according to the way they attended their public meetings, they would be late, and possibly shut out there.

With the observance of Health Night by the Negro Press Association, Black Chicago got the inspiration, and a general survey of health conditions among Negroes was started in the schools, churches and communities.

Saturday, February 19, was devoted entirely to sightseeing and a banquet in the Appomattox Club.

At the close of the Friday evening session which was made historic by the delivery of President Benjamin Jefferson Davis' annual address; the body was urged to be present at the Vencennes Hotel at ten o'clock Saturday morning where a North Shore bus line, sixty-passenger bus, provided complimentary by Mr. Britton I. Budd, President of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Railroad Company, awaited us, and soon we were seeing Chicago.

Our first stop was the Douglas National Bank, 35th street at State, also the home of the Victory Life Insurance Company.

Up to this very moment, all we knew about Negroes owning a bank was what we had heard, read, and even visualized—but here was an honest-to-goodness bank with a very good-looking Negro President, smartly attired, colored girl stenographers, bookkeepers, and clerks, serious looking young Negro cashiers, tellers and runners. For five minutes, we stood stark still, pinched our own arm to find out whether we were dreaming or realizing.

Within the premises of the Douglas Bank, there seemed to have existed an under current of joy. It was scarcely necessary to ask why—we soon learned that the Victory Life Insurance Company had just paved its way into New York State—hence the joy.

And our second stop on this world wonder sight-seeing trip was the Binga State Bank, housed in one of Chicago's most beautiful and last word modern buildings and has as its President, Mr. Binga, and a similar cortege of splendid looking young colored men and girl employees, as those at the Douglas.

Our next stop was the Chicago Whip, presided over by the Hon. Joseph D. Bibb, editor. From the Whip, we hastened on to the Chicago Defender. Robert S. Abbott has demonstrated that it can be "did" for no plant of the same magnitude is better equipped than the "Defender."

And now it was about noon and without any previous promise, we were rushed on to 1941 Michigan Avenue, the South Side Boys' Foundation, where an elaborate luncheon was served, and each visitor was presented with a souvenir. The boys staged a wrestling bout and a prize fight in our honor.

With satisfied appetites, and with our cups of joy running over, we were piloted by his royal majesty, Chas. S. Barnett into the Associated Negro Press of which Mr. Barnett is the master mind; and thence into the Liberty Life Insurance Company and still on to the great Wrigley Building and the Chicago Daily Tribune where we were shown every courtesy.

It was at the end of a well-spent day that we repaired to the Vincennes Hotel. Little time was lost getting back to the Y. W. C. A., where we stopped, for this was the evening of the banquet that would mark the close and the Twenty-eighth Annual Meeting of the National Negro Press Association.

Care Of The Mouth And Teeth

By: J. WINIFORD ROUT, D. D. S.

In presenting these weekly articles I shall offer suggestions as to the care of the mouth and teeth, also to point out the importance of mouth cleanliness in relation to the health of the human system.

The very intensive attention and interest given to mouth hygiene work in schools and among medical men in general during the last few years is not to be regarded as a fad or theory but as a realization that the body cannot be nourished properly and kept in health, by food taken into the stomach through a mouth whose very contents are filled with filth, decaying, sore teeth, harboring putrifying food and [illegible]

It is a well-known fact that 98% of all decayed teeth and other diseases of the oral cavity—including the dread disease pyorrhea—are due to neglect. A great part of this negligence is due to a lack of knowledge of the importance of mouth cleanliness. Just think; Ninety per cent of the public school children in the United States are in need of dental attention. Only ten per cent of the school children of this country are using tooth brushes daily. This appalling neglect of the mouth and teeth by the youth of the nation is largely responsible for the fact that the average person finds his teeth in a deplorable condition at a comparatively early age in life.

In closing this article let me impress upon all parents the importance of early training regarding oral hygiene, for by training your child to keep a clean mouth, you are impressing upon him a correct habit of living that will reflect itself throughout his maturity and old age in better health and stronger physical resistance to disease in general.

MME. OUTLEY PRESENTS SUCCESSFUL EASTER CANTATA

With Easter dawning bright and fair, and everyone in the spirit of Easter, great things were planned by all. Among the most successful was the great Cantata, "Lord of Lords" rendered by the St. Paul Choir under the able direction of Mrs. Moselle Te Outley, in the afternoon.

The choir was beautifully robed in white. The church was artistically decorated. A huge life-size cross of lilies and fern was suspended from the ceiling, while the entire church was a garden of palms, ferns and white flowers of every description with the Easter lily prevailing. The church was filled to capacity and each individual enjoyed the Cantata as dramatized and presented by the choir.

Mrs. Outley is well known to all Los Angeles and Eastern cities. She ranks among the [illegible] commended for the [illegible] which was one to be long remembered.

On May 8th, Mother's Day, at three o'clock, Mrs. Outley will present the St. Paul Choir in a "Mothers' Day" program, at the St. Paul Baptist Church, 21st and Naomi. Come out and spend an enjoyable afternoon. Admission free.

GIVE SMOKER FOR PROMINENT KANSAN

J. B. Tate, editor of the California Eagle, gave a smoker in honor of his life-long friend, J. B. B. Taylor, a resident of Topeka, Kansas at the Elks Hall, last Friday evening.

The smoker proved to be quite an enjoyable affair and all present enjoyed the presence of Mr. Taylor to the utmost. Short addresses were made by quite a few and were much pleased with the speech of Mr. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor left on the Rock Island, Monday at 10 A. M. after a stay of 30 days in our midst.

The Woman's Improvement Club of Venice, California, presented a troup of pupils of Lilian G. Welfare Workers Endorse Judge Geo. S. Richardson

IS NATIVE SON

Judge George S. Richardson, who is a candidate for re-election to the Bench in Division Five of the Municipal Court, is a native son. He was born at Santa Paula, Ventura County, on April 17th, 1877.

Thirteen years experience as a Police Judge has made him an adept at handling misdemeanor cases, his friends say, and his humanly sympathetic manner of dealing with hapless offenders has caused him to be named as one of the two most competent judges of such cases in the United States, by a high official who recently made a nation-wide study of juvenile delinquency.

Why Judge Bullock Should be Re-elected

JUDGE BULLOCK ENDORSED BY ATTY. JOSEPH SCOTT

JUDGE GEORGIA BULLOCK

"I believe that Judge Bullock's work with the unfortunate women and children who have been brought before the municipal court is of such value to our community that to supplant her by one less experienced in such matters would be a step backward in the administration of justice in the city of Los Angeles."—Judge Paul J. McCormick, U. S. District Court, Southern District of California.

"Judge Bullock has established her ability to interpret the law through the fact that during her occupancy of the bench she has received no reversals from higher courts, and but one perfected appeal. She has shown an intensely human interest in the individuals before her, and won signal honors in sympathy, tact and understanding."—Jefferson P. Chandler, former president California Bar Association.

"I feel that Judge Bullock fills a very much-needed niche in our judiciary, and that she has been a credit to the bench and an honor to the profession."—W. H. Anderson, of Anderson & Anderson, Attorneys-at-Law.

"Judge Bullock is learned in the law, unimpeachable in integrity and certainly most intensely human."—Former Police Judge Thomas P. White.

"Judge Bullock is entitled to the suffrage of her fellow citizens irrespective of sex because of the record she has achieved."—Attorney Joseph Scott.

"The women of Los Angeles demanded and received a woman's court with a woman judge, and when we have one whose record has been so good as that of Judge Bullock, we should keep her there."—Ida V. Wells, deputy city prosecutor.

JUDGE R. MORGAN GALBRETH

Candidate to Succeed Himself as Judge of DIVISION 19—MUNICIPAL COURT

Judge Galbreth has been a resident of Los Angeles since 1887; graduate of Los Angeles High School; attended the Law College of the University of Southern California; admitted to Practice Law in 1913; a man of Family; Department Commander of United Spanish War Veterans of California in 1922.

April 18, 1927.

Dear Friend:

We are asking your support in electing to the City Council our present councilman, Otto Zahn. Mr. Zahn is an American-born Christian gentleman, member of the Episcopal Church, who has been the treasurer of the Diocesan Commission of Social Service and Philanthropy for many years. He is an indefatigable worker for better government, a charter member of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League and has been a contributor in time, energy and money to civic progress over a period of many years, and except in his present position has never accepted a cent of remuneration.

During the war he organized the Four Minute men, among whom were several of our best men. He is endorsed by the United War Veterans League.

Councilman Zahn is connected with many organizations which aim the higher ideals of citizenship. He is personally interested in the welfare and equal rights of all groups. He has never turned away any committee that has sought to interview him upon conditions in his district.

Respectfully yours,
CLARA C. HULBERT.

Indorsed by Father W. T. Cleghorn, Rev. E. R. Driver, S. P. Johnson, Rev. C. P. Banks, Mr. A. L. Jenkins, N. M. Jackson, Mr. Elijah Cooper, Mr. C. Jackson, Bishop Wm. Bertram Stevens, H. K. Washington.

Judge Charles E. Haas,
Division 22, Municipal Court,
Room 263, Court House,
Los Angeles, Cal.
My Dear Judge:

I note that you are a candidate to succeed yourself for election at the May 3rd primary, and feel that I would be remiss in my duty were I not to pledge to you my undivided support.

Knowing you as I have for a great many years as a deputy city attorney, a deputy county counsel and assistant county counsel, being with me in the latter two positions, and appreciating the experience gained by you during your many years of public service, it is a pleasure to do what I can to assist in your reelection.

If the voters realized your ability, integrity and capacity for judicial work, they would not for one moment consider dispensing with your services.

This letter is unsolicited, and you may feel free to use it in any manner which may further your candidacy.

With best wishes for your election to succeed yourself as municipal court judge in Division 22 at the primary election on May 3rd, I am

Very truly yours,
AJH/EP A. J. HILL.

Judge Caryl M. Sheldon
TO OFFICE No. 14
Municipal Court, Los Angeles
PRIMARIES, MAY 3, 1927

Elected police judge of 1923, serving over three years in University Police District, where he gained a reputation of patrols and impartially combining a systematic interpretation with a firm enforcement of the law.

LEWIS P. RUSSELL DIV. 10

Judge Louis P. Russill announces his candidacy to succeed himself as Judge of the Municipal Court, Division 10, at the coming primary election, May 3rd.

Judge Russill has been on the bench for the past four years, during which time he has handled some very important civil and criminal cases. Since the establishment of the Municipal Court he has handled all County Traffic cases, 19,170 in number, for the year 1926.

Judge Russill has fulfilled the duties of this office with signal success, bringing to the task an amount of energy, a degree of enthusiasm, and a grade of ability seldom found in one official. He has made an analytical study of traffic conditions, and of the laws relative to traffic, hence his utterances upon these subjects, whether from the bench or whether in speaking at clubs or public gatherings, are regarded as bearing the stamp of authority. His administration exhibits a record of high efficiency and impartial, even-handed justice. The rich and the poor, the high and the lowly, alike stand equal before this magistrate.

HOSICK FOR JUDGE OF MUNICIPAL COURT NO. 19

James Hosick for Municipal Judge, office No. 19, committee headquarters have been established at 1311 Financial Center Bldg., Telephone TRinity 2904.

Indorsements have been received from seven additional civic organizations having a total membership of over 30,000 members as well as several hundred business and professional men and women. The widespread support being accorded Mr. Hosick assures the committee of a very high vote at the primary May 3rd. Among the prominent organizations is the California Citizens Civic League.

Councilman Moore Submits His Case

Councilman E. E. Moore, in a final statement prior to the primary election to be held next Tuesday, has reaffirmed the principles upon which he is a candidate for re-election to the City Council in the Sixth District.

"My platform is a brief one, but I believe it covers the ground," said Mr. Moore. "I pledge, if re-elected, a continuation of my efforts as Chairman of the Public Utilities Committee and of the Special Committee on Rapid Transit, to bring about better transportation facilities for Venice with the lowest rates possible. Included in this program are the extensions of the Vernon avenue and 48th street car lines.

"I stand for honest and impartial enforcement of the law and encouragement of home life and home ownership by the preservation and protection of the rights of the home keepers and home owners.

"I believe every aid should be given to Venice to make that newly annexed portion of the city the greatest beach resort and recreation center in Western America. Every encouragement should also be given to home building and home ownership in order that prosperity shall come to all classes.

"I advocate park and playground development within the reasonable means and desires of the people.

"I am in favor of all needed improvements as the people are ready for them and able and willing to pay for them.

"I favor reduction of the tax and special assessment burdens of the people to the very lowest point possible of attainment."

INTRODUCING E. SNAPPER INGRAM

E. Snapper Ingram is a candidate for Councilman in the 10th District and asks the support of citizens in the district solely upon his past record as a citizen and his qualifications based upon seventeen years of municipal service.

Now an employee of the Engineering Department of the City, Snapper Ingram has for seventeen years served this city not as a politician but as an expert department worker. He is therefore qualified to know the needs of the people of the District and how to supply them. The City Hall will not by any means be strange to Snapper Ingram when he takes his seat in the council chamber.

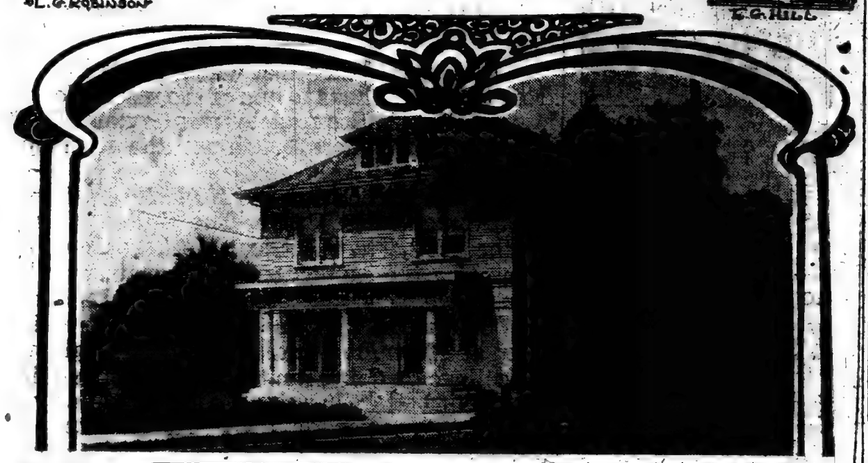
He revealed his independence when he voted to override the Mayor's veto in order to give the people of Los Angeles relief from water shortage and to maintain the cheapest water rates of any city in the United States.

He proved his fearlessness in his stand on the Wilshire Boulevard opening and widening, when, in the face of intimidation, he stood by his guns and fought to give the people a chance to have a voice in the proposed bridging of their own Westlake Park.

He demonstrated his broadmindedness by championing the cause of Venice, the people's playground.



He earned the gratitude of the City's property owners when he worked incessantly for the amendment to the State assessment laws to extend the time for settlement of public improvement levies to 30 years.

HANFORD NEWS

Mr. I. Robinson, Grand Master of the Grand United Order of Oddfellows, was in Hanford Friday evening visiting the local lodge.

He was given a reception by the members of the Oddfellows Lodge and the Household of Ruth.

The Brave Heart Hi Y Club was defeated in a basketball game at the high gym by the Hanford Hi Y Club by a score of 21 to 12.

Bishop J. W. Martin and his wife arrived in Hanford Saturday morning. They will remain here until Monday evening.

Mrs. Martin, who is an executive of the Missionary work is here to confer with members of the local society concerning future activities.

Bishop and Mrs. J. W. Martin were given a reception Sunday evening by the Martha Walker Progressive Club at the home of Mrs. Susie Moore. Other guests present were: Rev. H. H. Mitchell, pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Hanford; Rev. A. R. Simpson, A. M. E. Zion pastor; Rev. Mattax of Fresno; and the entire membership of the Merry Matrons Club.

Mrs. Martin was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers by the members of the Martha Walker Club.

Refreshments were served and an enjoyable time was had by all.

Many members of the local Oddfellows Lodge and their friends motored to Tulare to attend the dedication of a community building Sunday afternoon.

BIG DOINGS IN WATTS EASTER SUNDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Katherine Lindsay, needs no introduction to the public as she is well known.

She was the organist of the New Hope Baptist Church for five years. After moving to Watts with her husband, baby and mother, she decided to work in a church nearer home.

The Rev. L. M. Curtis, Pastor of the Macedonia Baptist Church of Watts, was in need of a directress, and asked Mrs. Lindsay for assistance. She readily accepted and began with the choir the second Sunday in November, 1926.

Her first effort was a big choir concert with the assistance of some of the talents of the city on December 16, 1926, which was a wonderful success. Her second effort was the Easter Cantata.

The choir stand was covered with beautiful Easter lilies, potted fern and flowers. The choir background was a beautiful electric lighted cross and crown which gave enough light for the choir to sing, which represented the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Then four little angels marched in and took their places, followed by the choir, all dressed in beautiful white dresses. The men in black. The choir then rendered the cantata, "My Redeemer Lives" by Lorens Publishing Co. The angels blew out the candles and kept the leading singers supplied with enough candle light by which to sing.

The cantata was a wonderful success, so much so that the choir gave he directress a wonderful surprise party at the home of Mrs. Perkins, one of the choir company. They also presented Mrs. Lindsay a beautiful pocket book. Her next effort will be a big choir recital. Watch for date!

Cantata in Monrovia, Thursday night. Everybody welcome.

Mother's Day will be celebrated at the A. M. E. Zion Church, Pico and Paloma street, Mrs. E. A. Johnson, Chairman, is arranging an excellent program and all club women and the public are invited to be present.

EDITORIAL

TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

The colored voters from time immemorial, in a great majority of instances, can be counted upon to cast their ballots for men and measures which will mean the progress and advancement of whatever community in which they may reside. We sincerely hope and trust that next Tuesday's primary election will be no exception from the rule.

Los Angeles is indeed a high class city, broad-gauged and progressive and is unworthy of the stigma which would in any way liken it on a level tothe tactics of the southland. No high class citizen of any race would care to put Los Angeles in the Jim Crow class. Southern influence injected into the present city administration, however, has decreed that Jim Crow shall be a part and parcel of its make-up and we have had foisted upon us discrimination in all departments of our city government.

Jim Crow has no respect of creed or color for on the East side, the administration has Jim Crowed even the white people themselves. Of course this program could not be possible, but for the fact that the administration was complete in itself. This feature involves the City Council, and we are called upon for the preliminary steps to elect a new council on next Tuesday.

It is well, therefore, to use great discretion in the premises as to who you will support for councilman in the various districts. It is certain and sure that the supporters of the program of the present city administration must be relegated to the scrap pile if we expect any better conditions to prevail in the future.

Therefore "hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may" in your onward march of progress. There need be no mistake in your choice with the open records before you. Especially should we see to it that the key men (the me-too-boss members) fail to receive our votes.

We have elected to string with the allied organizations in its campaign to wrest control of the council from the present regime. Upon another page this ticket can be found and a vote for the men thereon will be a vote against the situation which is in force at this time.

"SOWING THE WIND, REAPING THE WHIRLWIND"

The killing of young Sam Faulkner by the police on last Sunday evening is but the reflex of the policy of a ruthless campaign contrary to all the ear marks of common decency in curbing petty crime.

Unfortunate indeed, the program has destroyed the usefulness of two members of the force who have been lauded and pampered by their superior officers and at this writing, we are informed that it is possible that at least one of these officers will have to stand trial for murder.

The superiors who directed this campaign of rough shod and diabolical work should be named as accessories before and after the fact for upon their shoulders by right all blame should rest. For we verily believe these officers in their mad zeal for results were but following given and direct instructions.

An outraged public has already condemned; we have not as yet but shall be satisfied for all to have their day in court and therefore await the findings.

JUDICIARY ENDORSEMENTS

This paper endorses the candidacy of Judges Georgia Bullock, George S. Richardson, Joseph Marchetti, Guy F. Bush, Louis P. Russill, Caryl M. Sheldon, R. Morgan Galbreth, Chas. S. Hass, Leonard Wilson. Vote for them and feel better.

NOTICE

We are crowded to the wall for space this issue. We realize the many disappointments and will run in our next matter crowded out but not stale.

Notice To Members of Holland Lodge No. 20, F. & A. M.

Mrs. Hubert C. Owens was hostess to the Jolly Sixteen Club Wednesday afternoon.

Among the young people that appeared on Mrs. Stella McCoy's pupil recital Sunday were: Martha Waugh, Josephine Blodgett, Otis Bowdoin and Jane Carey.

Dr. Emily Brown Childress was hostess to a well appointed breakfast at the Psi Phi Sorority house Tuesday morning honoring Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Saunders of Oakland.

Mrs. Gerald Moore entertained the Just-For-Fun Club Wednesday evening with a 500 party. Mrs. Ethel Atkinson and Mrs. Edna Macbeth won prizes. Guest prize was won by Mrs. Lewis Saunders of Oakland. Invited guests were Mrs. Ada Lewis, Mrs. Maude Pritchette, Mrs. A. Miller and Mrs. B. H. Mayes.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bradford accompanied by Mrs. Bradford's mother, Dr. Annie Leggett, motored up to the Big Trees on their spring vacation.

Last Thursday evening, Mrs. Geneva Jones of East 52nd street entertained at a prettily appointed party to which about 50 guests were invited. The evening was enjoyably spent by all and Miss Ernestine Jones highly entertained the guests with piano and vocal selections.

Not until the guests were seated about the table at an elaborate repast that had been prepared by the hostess did they realize the full significance of the party.

To the great surprise of the guests, Mrs. Jones stood up and said: "Friends knowing the warmth of your hearts and the esteem in which you hold my little girl who has lived among you for some time, at this time, I know you will take pleasure in hearing of the engagement of my daughter, Ernestine to Mr. T. Hyde Wade."

Many congratulations were extended to the couple, and all wish them much happiness when they shall have ventured out on the sea of matrimony.

The date of the wedding is unknown.

Mrs. Naomi Booker, the charming wife of Dr. A. J. Booker was hostess to the Fleur-de-lise Club Friday at the Christian Tavern with a 500 luncheon and club prizes were won by Mrs. Cora Jordan and Mrs. Alice Harvey. The first guest prize was won by Dr. Emily Brown Childress; the second guest prize was won by Mrs. E. Williams. Covers were laid for twenty-four.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Skaaks entertained the Mysterious Few Club with a dinner party Friday evening, honoring the eighteenth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Blodgett. The supper table was decorated in wedding favors. Hand made wedding bells marked places for twenty. Guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. C. Saggers of Oakland.

Mrs. Milton Johnson, mother of Mrs. Emma Barnett, is reported quite ill at her home on S. Normandie.

HITS AT MAN—STRIKES WHITE WOMAN

The aim of Ernest Wrenn whose "vine and figtree" implanted somewhere on E. 3rd street is very bad when it comes to throwing punches. That is according to his wife who journeyed to Judge Richardson's Court for her first time at a trial to witness her husband's arraignment on a charge of assault and battery and disturbing peace. Wrenn, she claimed, became jammed in a crowd at 4th and Hill, Sunday afternoon and was jerked back by a white man he had accidentally jostled. In retaliation, he swung a mighty Harry Wills blow at the chin of his human target, but missed him a mile and hit a disinterested white woman who happened to be near.

The "Hawk" happened to be near also, hence the landing in the "Hawk's Nest."

THE BANQUET

Chicago elite was out en masse for this affair was indeed polite.

The setting for this annual festival was at the Appomattox Club and was in honor of President Benjamin Davis. The program consisted of the following:

Toastmaster - - Allen L. Halsey
Prayer.....Rev. J. H. Branham
"Our Guest".....Richard L. Jones
"The City Beautiful".....
.....Percival L. Prattis
"Men Who Dare".....Davis Kellum
"Pranks of the Press Gang".....
.....Charles A. Shaw
"Our Host".....Claude B. Barnett.

The appropriate menu was as follows: Fruit Cocktail, a la Halsey; Cream of Asparagus, au Ben Davis; Boh Nelson Celery; Joe Blackburn Bass Olives; R. Washington Rhodes, salted almonds; Rolled Red Snapper, ala Henry Allen Boyd; Jumbo Squab, a la Bill Driver; Potatoes, ah yon Willie Cole; Peas, a la Bill Worley; Jeanette Carter head lettuce; J. H. Mitchell sauce; Bob Abbott ice cream; Jon Bibb cake; Roquefort cheese, Percy Prattis; Hard crackers, a la Barnett; Coffee, a la P. B. Young; Mints, a la J. C. Nixon.

And this was the end of a perfect meeting of the Negro Press of the country, where many issues vital to race development were offered and discussed and remedies for existing evils were offered.

In our next installment we shall endeavor to give credit to whom it is due for our entertainment in Chicago.

ganizations of various sorts and is staunchly backed by a group of taxpayers and property owners who have the future welfare of the district in view and persuaded Mr. Malone to enter the race to represent the people.

The fact that Mr. Malone served 16 years by election on the Board of Education of San Rafael, Calif., fittingly qualified him for the office he seeks, his constituents claim.

Mr. Malone is in the race independently and has no connections or strings attached to any special interests whatsoever. This is best evidenced by the fact that he has not the campaign funds to take care of expensive billboard signs and similar costly advertising methods of those backed by BIG INTERESTS.

Of the campaign issues in particular, Mr. Malone in an interview today, said, "I am in this race on a platform of HONEST, EFFICIENT, HELPFUL SERVICE to the people of the Fifth District.

"This seems to be an OPEN SEASON during which many are trying to cast a smoke in front of the voters' eyes and ride into office on a platform of Municipal Ownership. Private ownership, or other camouflaged planks only to forget the people immediately after election and resume the wholesale squandering of the taxpayers' money. This is not my platform nor my idea of common honesty. Suffice it to say that if elected the people can trust me to watch with an ever vigilant eye the judicious distribution of the people's money gathered by taxation and will take care of those municipal interests we now possess.

"The policies of Private Power, Municipal Power and what not are only questions before the voters. The big questions are: 'ECONOMY, PLAIN HONESTY and EFFICIENCY.'"

I believe in GIVING THE PEOPLE WHAT THEY WANT not what SOME ONE SAYS THEY NEED.

"Inject a few principles of good, sound business into the affairs of the city which will result in relief to the taxpayers.

"More time to pay assessments before going to bond.

"Expeditious work on the streets instead of having them torn up for months at a time.

"District emergency hospitals, more schools and especially high schools for the fifth district.

"Street lighting to be paid from general taxation instead of by a few who benefit only slightly from the streets used by all.

"All streets that are to be widened or opened regardless of how far off should have zones and set-back lines established so that the expense of opening later will not be more than at present excepting of course increased value of the land only, it is not necessary to open all the streets at once, save some of the assessment payers their breath.

"IN SHORT LET US HAVE more EFFORT and EFFICIENCY instead of EXTRAS and EXCUSES.

I favor association of the councilman in his district with civic and progressive organizations in order to know the true needs of the district.

If elected, I want the people to know that they can see me and talk to me at all times and not just before election time.

There is not space to print the names of my many endorsers, but my firm belief that past records and my future effort justify the support of the voters of the fifty district. Present business conditions and realty activities are due largely to too much politics and lack of confidence for which we all have to suffer.

The people have had enough of high taxes and various forms of assessments.

The time is soon coming when city officials will have to give bond in addition to an oath, to faithfully perform the pledges made the people, and a plan will be devised that will eliminate the cumbersome, costly method of recall, in case the official violates his oath. The time for this change is now.

If it means anything to the voters of the fifth district to elect a man who stands for a program of STRICT ECONOMY with all POLITICAL STRINGS AND TRICKS CAST ASIDE, with a conscientious desire to hold the welfare of his district, as well as the whole city, at heart, then I ask the vote of everyone in sympathy with such a program on next Tuesday, May the 3rd.

Mr. Malone's headquarters are located at 1490 W. Jefferson where he has been engaged in business for several years.

POLITCAL POT PIE

Judge Georgia Bullock, beyond doubt, has the unqualified endorsement of all fair minded people. Judge Bullock's place on the Municipal Court bench of Division No. 6, where women are tried, should be vacated only when she is elevated to the position as judge of the Juvenile Court, where she may enlarge upon the good work now being accomplished in Division 6 over which she presides.

Return her with the degree of confidence that she deserves.

Judge Guy F. Bush of Division No. 9 will be retained notwithstanding the concentrated effort of those who are trying to oust him. Judge Bush is well known in our midst as possessing all of the qualifications fitting for a judge.

Judge Caryl M. Sheldon, candidate for the position of Municipal Judge in Division No. 14 is endorsed by many leading attorneys, business and professional men, religious and civic organizations throughout the city. His friends predict for him a very large majority.

All indications point that George S. Richardson will lead the ticket in the Judges' fight.

Frank H. Mouser is off with a long lead over his nearest opponents. His friends and supporters predic tan overwhelming majority for him as Councilman from the 11th District.

Judge R. Morgan Galbreth's retention on the bench i office No. 19 will be another step forwar din the march of progress. Elect him May 3rd.

Judge Charles E. Hass will win with ease over his opponent. Judge Hass has made a splendid record as is attested to by Attorney L. K. Beeks, and many other prominent lawyers, business men, ministers, the U. V. R. S. and other civic organizations. Elect him at the primry, May 3rd.

Judge Louis P. Russill of the Municipal Court No. 10, apart from his regular court duties, is rendering an invaluable service to the community. County violators of traffic are formed into classes, assembled in the court room and given instruction as to rules governing the operation of Motor vehicles upon the public highway. In this Judge Russill displays a great amount of pleasure and patience. Let us retain Judge Russill in Division No. 10.

Judge Leonard Wilson of Municipal Court Division No. 13, is highly endorsed by that learned and distinguished student of law, Willis O. Tyler, Atty. Towner B. Gesty and other prominent citizens. All say that he is well qualified and square shooter.

Hon. Howard W. Davis, assemblyman from 73rd assembly district, candidate for council seat from the 7th district needs very little introduction. He is widely and agreeably known by the voters of the 7th District for his untiring and efficient service as law maker. Mr. Davis will prov equally responsive to the will of the people as a member of L. A. City. Elect him and stick into your own.

Rudolph S. Hutchison, candidate from the 15th District, has been assured by his supporters that he will occupy a seat in the city hall by reason of his election as representative from that District. By all means give him an overwhelming vote of confidence.

R. C. Foster secretary of the Calif. Citizens Civic League says, "Frank H. Mouser will be our next councilman from the 11th District".

W. J. Sanders, incumbent of the 9th Council District, needs no introduction and will easily win at the primary, May 3rd.

DUDLEY S. VALENTINE DRAFTED FOR SERVICE

Committee of Citizens Demand That Attorney Enter Campaign

OFFICE No. 5, MUNICIPAL COURT

Dudley S. Valentine, who worked his way from the U. P. Shops to one of the most effective law practices in Los Angeles was actually drafted by the city leaders to run for the Municipal Court.

A committee from the Hollenbeck Heights Improvement Association, The United Church Brotherhood, The Electrical Workers Union are sponsoring the candidacy of this man, who has been called "The Educated American Laborer."

Because of Mr. Valentine's early training, when at fifteen he worked his way through business college by doing janitor service in the offices of the railroad, he has come to be particularly regarded as a self-made man. At seventeen he was firing the biggest engine out of the city of Denver. When fireman for the Salt Lake Railroad out of Los Angeles, he started to study law. In 1915 he was elected Chairman of the State Legislative Board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Finally, in 1919, his ambition was realized with his admission to the Bar and he mmediately opened offices in the Washington Building.

His devotion to public services was recognized by an appointment to the City Prosecutor's Office three years later, which was followed by an appointment to the position of Register of the United States Land Office, where he served for three and one-half years.

In this position Mr. Valentine tried many important cases and acquired extensive judicial experience. During these years he was honored with the presidency of the Hollenbeck Improvement Association, and was one of the original members of the City Planning Commission of the City of Los Angeles.

He was made a thirty-second degree Mason in December of 1924 and is a member of the Jinnistan Grotto.

COUNCILMAN - - - 12TH DISTRICT

A Business Man Who Has Made Good

Charles J. Dalden, present councilman of the 15th District, has a hard fight on hand, but will prove the victor in the finals.

Councilman Frank L. Shaw of 8th district will be returned by the many supporters and friends of his district. Of this he is assured.

Douglas E. Foster, candidate for Council from the 13th District has overlapped his opponent and will occupy a seat in the city hall as representative of his District.

Tupper Malone in the 5th District is making a highly creditable race and while others are scrambling for places the indications are that he will roost right at the finals.

Former Mayor Edwards of Watts looms up on the horizon as a stage contender. Watch his step.

HON. P. M. ABBOTT

The fifteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States gave to the negro male the right of franchise; the nineteenth gave it to the female.

Are you using it? If not, WHY not? Quit whining. Solidify and VOTE. If not for me, then some one else, but VOTE.

My Platform

Equal municipal civic rights and protection to ALL American citizens of the Tenth District, and no stigma or neglect by reason of race of color.

To The Voters Of The Eleventh District

Los Angeles, Calif., April 28, 1927.

Dear Friends and Neighbors:—

You, like myself, are "fed up" with the shameless waste, inefficiency, gross carelessness and absolute disregard of the voters and taxpayers' rights that characterize part of the acts o fthe present city administration.

H. E. BINKLEY

Public improvements can be made at a reasonable cost instead of with such iniquitous extra assessments as characterized the West Adams storm drain.

Streets must be torn up occasionally for underground improvements, but they need not be left a menace to public use for weeks and months. Two or three shift work on important traffic arteries must be insisted on and work kept moving so that streets may be returned to condition for normal use in the shortest possible time.

Adjacent property must be assessed for street openings, widenings, paving, lighting, etc., but the assessments must be spread over the property benefitten only, instead of overlopping multiple assessments, without corresponding benefits as now prevails.

The majority of property in a district must have the right to decide on improvements to be made and majority protects must prevail.

I now am and shall continue to be independent, unhamppered and not controlled by any political clique.

Many of you know me personally. I have lived here on Orange Street (now Wilshire) 17 years and am a property owner and taxpayer. I made a success of my lifelong business—wholesale merchandizing—until my recent retirement. I will make a success of your business at the City Hall if elected as your councilman for this district.

The primary election is May 3rd. Will you help me to give you and Los Angeles a business administration by electing me to the City Council at the primaries? If you don't vote we can't prevail. VOTE.

Sincerely yours,
H. E. BINKLEY.

JAMES P. COSTELLO

A MAN OF THE PEOPLE

CANDIDATE FOR MUNICIPAL JUDGESHIP IN DISTRICT No. 9

BY: "TUCK"

With a heart full of human sympathy, yet with an unswerving sense of duty as applied to his labor of public trust as assistant deputy district attorney—that is "Jimmie" Costello, candidate for position on the municipal bench.

James P. Costello can rightfully ask this honor of his fellow citizens of Los Angeles, for he is well qualified, not only with knowledge of the law, but that personal and deeper understanding of human nature, for a judgeship.

Atty. M. J. Gordon, Candidate for Municipal Judge of Div. No. 10

A trial lawyer, engaged in the active general practice for nearly fifteen years, and has the capacity for work, is keen, alert and thoroughly cognizant of the responsibilities of the Judiciary of our County and State, has absolutely no political ties and can enter upon the task of Judgeship without fear, favor or partiality.

Through his long experience as a trial lawyer, he fully appreciates the duty of the Judge to litigants and lawyers. Mr. Gordon fully appreciates that a Judge, in many instances, holds in his hands the power of decision, which, in its application to a litigant, may be the turning point in his life. In hs long experence before the bar, he has witnessed the result of court decisions, and through his observation has gathered abundance of information that would guide him in his deliberations as Judge. Mr. Gordon possess the qualifications requisite for a competent Judge—calm, deliberate, and is endowed with judicial temperament which, in a great many instances, is lacking in candidates seeking to be elevated to such exalted position of Judgeship. The electorate of Los Angeles can make no mistake in electing Mr. Gordon as one of our Municipal Judges in the coming primaries and election.

Mr. Gordon believes that the judiciary should constantly strive to elevate the standard of the bench, and feels it the bounden duty of every judge to increase his own efficiency while on the bench, as well as a whole, so that in the ultimate results, litigants, as well as lawyers, can obtain the finality of the differences litigated to the complete satisfaction of the principles applicable to a given case without stint of feeling that justice between parties has not prevailed. With this attitude he believes that certain conditions can be alleviated and redound to the benefit of all citizens and tax payers, and as a consequence, the bench will maintain that respect, which from time immemorial, is due such an important branch of our government.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I understand that my brother's opponent is stating that I am advocating his candidacy for Municipal Judge, against my brother, Charles E. Haas. I do not know whether this is correct, or otherwise, but I take this opportunity of saying that nothing has been farther from my mind.

I know my brother to be a good, able and conscientious lawyer, and endowed with every attribute that should qualify him to be a good Judge, and I take this opportunity of requesting all my friends, whomsoever they may be, within the City of Los Angeles, to support my brother for the position of Municipal Judge of the City of Los Angeles.

Respectfully yours,
WALTER F. HAAS.

Keep The Schools Out Of Politics

The education of our children is a matter of deepest concern to the entire people and we owe it to our children and to ourselves to see that their future educational advantages are carefully safeguarded and protected. California as a whole, and Los Angeles in particular, enjoys one of the best public school systems in existence. The Board of Education which controls the schools of Los Angeles is composed of men and women well seasoned and experienced and pledged to continue the present economic, effective and harmonious service which has brought the public schools of our city up to a high standard of efficiency. In order to continue that efficiency the Eastside Independent League has adopted the Board of Education ticket endorsed by the Citizens' School Committee and thousands of other representative citizens, and in presenting this ticket to the voters of this district do so fully convinced of the wisdom of the choice of candidates the Citizens' Committee has made. The Primary vote for Board of Education should be decisive, elect these FIVE at the Primary election Tuesday, May 3, 1927.

are to the effect that E. Marion Crawford looms a big favorite to be elected at the Primaries, Tuesday, May 3rd, to Municipal Judge, office 22, it was announced at Crawford's headquarters 327 Black Bldg., Los Angeles. This, however does not mean that Crawford's friends should slacken their efforts, but to the contrary should double their effort, to further assure a Crawford victory May 3rd.

Since Crawford announced his candidacy more than 30 voting organizations unanimously endorsed the popular candidate for the Municipal bench, a partial list of the sponsors are: The American Patriotic League, War Veterans League, Los Angeles Civic League, Westlake Republican Club, Veterans Republican League, Jugoslav-American League, The Manufacturers Employee Civic Association.

Investigate Carver Acres--- A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC:

In order to offset certain unwholesome rumors, to wit: That T. S. N. Maloof, owner of Carver Acres, is not the actual owner; we wish to make the following observation:

DEV. RICHARD H. WADE
Manager

I solicit a thorough investigation on the part of anybody who doubts the honesty, and integrity on my part in offering these lands to the public. If any statement made to the public can be proven false, or not absolutely as advertised, I agree to frofeit $1,000 gold coin U. S. money to any one proving same.

CARVER ACRES, is the property of T. S. N. Maloof, and I am in position to give title to individual purchaser, on payment for his acre, whether one acre is sold, or the whole of the acreage is sold.

The records of San Bernardino are open to the investigation by any citizen who may desire to do so.

You will find Tract 2177 of the Maloof Highland Avenue Tract 1, recorded in book 31, page 51, San Bernardino County. You will also find Maloof Highland Avenue Tract, 2178, Plot 2, recorded in book 31, page 52.

Search the records, they speak for themselves. My offer stands to any one, and every one. If it is not as we say, you don't have to buy.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make One Thousand Dollars, by anyone who doubts our word. Remember this offer is unconditional, to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

The Rev. R. H. Wade, a man of outstanding character, and 18 years of unquestioned integrity, in California, who has for the first time to deceive the public, is my General Manager. He is known as a man of the highest honor, and invites investigation to the fullest extent. And Mr. E. B. Maxey, building contractor of 20 years' residence in Los Angeles, known everywhere as an honorable man, of strong business qualities, certifies as to truth of the facts above stated.

The land is now going. Get in now. Water rights go with the land. He who hesitates will lose.

T. S. N. MALOOF, Owner.
E. B. MAXEY, Contractor.
RICHARD H. WADE, Manager.

This property, named after the great scientist of Tuskegee Industrial Institute, offers the greatest opportunity to be found anywhere in this wonderful State, for the economical development of the Race.

Located on paved boulevards, about one hour and thirty minutes drive from Los Angeles; within 30 minutes' drive from the following towns: Alto Loma, Etawonda, Cucomonger, Upland, Ontario, Chion, Corona, Arlington, Riverside, Colton and Redlands. Twelve miles from the city hall of San Bernardino. It also joins the finest Olive Grove in California.

Buy one or more acres at once. Prises advancing with improvements. Delay means loss.—get in on the ground floor.

This is your one opportunity to own some of the best land in California. Rich, level soil, midst highly improved orchards, vineyards and olive groves. Geological survey shows abundant water supply; water rights with every acre. Buy one or more acres at once—$600 per acre and up.

T. S. N. MALOOF
Owner of Carver Acres

Terms—10% down and balance to suit purchaser. This amount will place you in possession of an acre of the best boulevard lands.

Gain an independence. Buy now before prices advance.

T. S. N. Maloof, is sole owner of Maloof Tract No. 2177, and 2178, Highland avenue, San Bernardino County. We guarantee to every purchaser full protection.

This is the most wonderful opportunity ever offered west of the Rocky Mountains. There will never be another such offer in your lifetime.

If you wish to get in on the ground floor in this proposition, visit our headquarters at 2727 Cenrtal avenue and you will meet our representatives who are thoroughly competent to explain all the details of this proposition.

Located in the midst of health, wealth and prosperity, on a highly improved highway, from Los Angeles to San Bernardino.

Right in line with highly improved orchards; about 54 miles from Los Angeles' Court House. Also the finest place in the State for poultry, rabbits, in fact everything that you want to raise.

This acreage is surrounded by several large cities. Plenty of water, guaranteed for domestic use by the owner.

T. S. N. Maloof will endeavor to assist you in building your home with all the necessary improvements. I am not a promoter, but owner of this tract. I am in a position to give a grant deed, and a certificate of title to each individual acre bought and paid for.

Do not measure my proposition by others of a like nature. Mine is different from any other yet given to the people of California. In fact there is nothing to compare with this proposition.

I also finance and build homes anywhere in Southern California. Resources unlimited. If you have the purchase price on your acreage we will make every effort to build for you; putting in fences, chicken corral, rabbit hatchery, allowing you to pay out in small monthly instalments.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make a substantial beginning toward an independent future. We also carry Fire Insurance, Rentals, Sales,—City, Country and Suburban properties. In fact anything in the Real Estate line. Information cheerfully given.

E. B. MAXEY
Contracting Department

Building Department

We do a general contracting, building and financing, build-construction of every kind; painting, plastering, paper hanging, plumbing, cement contracting, architectural drawing.

Apartments, bungalows, courts, stores, duplexes, modern homes of every description, and furnish architectural drawings for same at a reasonable price.

We ask that you give us an opportunity to prove our ability to you. Give us a call at our headquarters.

Water in abundance already on the land.

☞Busses go up to the land Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sundays, 9:00 oclock A. M.

E. Snapper Ingram
For Council 10th District

FOLKS - - -

Councilman in the 10th District. Why? Just because Councilman in the 0th District. Why? Just because he is a fearless and courageous veteran of the World War, standing on a platform of democracy, fair play and justice to all regardless of race, color, creed or denomination—that, my friends, is the policy of the American Legion. Here I have said a lot in a few words, and SNAPPER will live up to all that I have said.

Youth with young ideas and vision, a desire to serve mankind unselfishly and in sympathy at all times—with the oppressed.

Not a highbrow, but an humble servant of the city for seventeen years, who has the guts and qualifications to back up his convictions, knows what it's all about and realizes all conditions as they now exist and affect the 10th District, some of which are dirty, filthy streets, poor light, yet tremendous assessments and taxes, all of which work a hardship on those who live therein. Since we must pay the heavy assessments and taxes we want these conditions changed because our money is being diverted to other communities beautiful. In this wise, people of the 10th Distict, I am getting you somewhat acquainted with your next Councilman—E. SNAPPER INGRAM.

You need not hesitate to vote for him on May 3rd next, he is not controlled by any corporation or political combine, he will go into office just plain SNAPPER, but remember, he will not be alone because a gang of comrades will stick by him through thick and thin, and when the battle gets too hot that gang will go to his rescue to help him carry out his program; then too there is another gang who will guide and watch over his career, namely, the spirits of our fallen comrades who will be A. W. O. L. when the roll is called, therefore, cannot vote, but they too will be there in thought to inspire him.

BLACK AMERICANS, we have told you of Ingram's platform. I repeat—FAIR PLAY, JUSTICE TO ALL REGARDLESS TO RACE, COLOR, CREED OR DENOMINATION—That, my friends, is the spirit of the American Legion. And this said INGRAM is a Legionaire. As an organization we do not play politics, bt there is a spirit of co-operation among us or a stick-to-it-iveness which binds us tightly, and since we have black representation in the legion there WE TOO must find that same justice meted out to others.

To my thinking Negroes, my leaders, in silence I appeal to your better judgment for reasons best known to you and me, think—think—THINK and THINK!—Bruce's Beach, Gordon Manor, Entwistle—Long and District Pools—N. A. A. C. P. Concentrate a moment, do they mean anything to you? If so, then use your intelligence and vote this on May 3rd next—E. SNAPPER INGRAM for Councilman 10th iDstrict.

CAMPUS DUST

By: CLYDE THOMPSON

Now that the City Track Meet is over, and Jefferson High finished in fifth place, we can talk about who is the best and who is not.

Sellers Smith, the Roman "Iron Man" was the prize flop of the day: he took a second in the low hurdles and a fifth in the broad jump; while he was conceded an easy 10 points, it was his fall in the relay that lost the meet for L. A. as they only needed a fourth place to win the meet. "Lucky" Stewart won the low hurdles and Lombardi won the 100 and 220 yard dashes, setting a new record. King of L. A. upset the dope when he won the quarter mile.

Hollywood the "Dark Horse" pulled a surprise and won the meet. They did this by winning the high jump high hurdles, and mile and placing two or three men in every event.

Polytechnic finished third by winning the half mile, relay, place one two in the pole vault and a few other upsets in the hurdles and sprints.

Jefferson High was fifth. The highly touted democrats failed miserably; doped to be the runners up, they got only fifth place. Every man without exception, failed to perform up to expectations. Creecy got a second in the broad jump, the only decent Jefferson showing of the day.

Franklin, as usual, finished last with 2½ points.

ON TO NEW YORK NOW! ACE HUDKINS LEAVES FRIDAY

Having clawed up the West without losing an inch of fur, the "Nebraska Wild-cat" is leaving Friday, April 29, to finish clawing up the East. Accompanying him is Art, his great brother-manager, the smartest finest little champ director that ever piloted a top-notcher to a sure crown.

Tex Rickard knows a thing or two, so he has signed up the world's most sensational boxer to a match on June 1st that will jam Madison Square Garden from cellar to chimney top. This will be a main event with Al Mello. Mello is the sturdy hard hitting battler who knocked out Joe Dundee. Dundee by the way, fights Pete Latzo for the title so he must be good for Pete to allow him a chance. By deduction, you can see just what they must think of Mello in the East.

Though pretty sure to be a win, whether win or lose or draw, Hudkins will fight at the Polo Grounds on June 15th against Sergeant Sammy Baker. Baker recently beat Eddie Roberts at the Garden.

On the same card will be an array of the greatest fighters of the day, which shows what a prominent event Ace is headlining. Sid Terris fights Ruby Goldstein in the semi-windup, our own Mushy Callahan fights Billy Wallace for the world's junior welterweight championship as a special event and Jackie Fields fights Billy Petrolle in the first preliminary.

On the way East, Ace and Art will stop over in Chicago to see the Taylor-Goldstein match. Ace is leaving a host of friends and admirers in this his new home, as he is a full-fledged Angeleno now. Asked as to how he likes N. Y. he answered, "Well, New York is all right, but I like Los Angeles best." So of all his matches East and the new laurels, he will gain, he decided to let Los Angeles see him win the championship from Pete Latzo in July at Wrigley Field when he returns here, after the Eastern trip.

Keep off date Thursday, May 5, 1927—A Sport Dress Dance at Christian Tavern, 1318 E. Vernon. Given by the Home Art Club. Benefit East Side Mother's Home equipment. A large crowd is expected, so come out and enoy yourself.

Champion Tampico (White Eagle) is to be added to the Hudkins stable. Tampico did a lot of good winning in the ring here before laying off for the movies and rodeos.

Herbi Turchi the great kid that Johnny Forbes is teaching, was matched with Frankie Abandaeno on Morrie Cohan's Pasadena card, Thursday.

Mack House surprised everybody by knocking out big Ralph Smith. We always have been strong for Mack, he used to drop in and see us at times. He is always welcome as are all—both 1st rate and 10th rate boxers. Mack is a good boy. Hardly think success will ever turn his head.

Vernon Jackson doesn't train on Sundays but neither does Tiger Flowers for that matter.

Mushy Callahan, Benny Chavez, Eddie Sears, Bud Taylor, Eddie Long, Jackie Fields and "Gig" Rooney all left for Chicago and New York last week.

Bill Brackett who called the foul on Young Harry Wills in the Harry Corbett fight showed he did not know a foul.

Gentleman Ham Jenkins had to reach up high to get Jack (Long John) Silver, but he brought him on down to more than a draw in the eyes of most of the fans.

If Johnny Forbes doesn't watch out, he will have a baby champion on his hands before he knows it in Herbi Turchi. Herbi kayoed Abendano "right now" last week at Pasadena.

Young Sam and Geo. Tittington are both hot because Sam got butted and had to miss a fight. They say they will take it out on the very next victim.

Officials and employees of a certain fight club and gym ought to patch up their little differences and live happily ever after. There is enough squabbling in the boxing game already.

Billy Evans' manager, Harry Johnson, is somewhat of a poet. Has a great rhyme about Billy. We shall steal it so we can tell the world about Klick at Dreamland in Fresno.

Chick Suggs veteran Negro feather lost an unpopular decision in Boston last Friday to Sammy Fuller, New England's featherweight contender. The bout went ten rounds.

Jimmy Laventhal, 155 pounds, has beaten Whitey Black twice, Blackie Rice, Bat Manning twice, Tod Adams, Joe Cardoza, Leo Kitchel, Kid Bob by Near and Charley Hendricks and Jimmey Carter and now he wants to fight Everat Stong, Tiger Thomas, John P. Dougherty or any man at 155 pounds.

It is in the air that the Girl Reserves are planning on having a Spot Dance on Friday, May the 5th. They have picked the luckiest date they could think of therefore it is expected that a large crowd will attend and a good time the outcome.

Rene Brothers Finish Two New Songs

The Rene brothers, Leon and Otis, Los Angeles' young song writers have just finished two million dollar songs which are to be sure hits. These songs which are going over big over the local radios are: 'My Baby" and "In My Dreams, I'm Jealous of You."

Our popular radio artist, Mr. Henry Starr, is featuring both of these numbers and says there are more requests for these two songs than any other of his repetoire. Mr. Starr has 45 minutes all his own on the Friday afterntoon matinee program.

Long Tom Hawkins Asks Mack House "How Come?"

If ever there was a baby yelling for a return match it is the howl that long Tom Hawkins is putting up through his able little manager Sam Mata.

A letter from him says:

San Diego, Calif.,
April 26, 1927

California Eagle,
Sports Editor Levette.

Dear Sir: As you know that Long Tom Hawkins lost to Mack House on a "socalled" "foul" At Pasadena on March 31. Mack House promised to meet Hawkins again. Hawkin's 10-day suspension is up the 29th of April and Morrie Cohn had set the day for May 5th for the return match. But it seems that Watson Burns doesn' care for any of Hawkins' fighting.

Tom Hawkins is the gamest colored fighter in the whole world. We will fight any one any time or place. I feel that Mack House isn't treating Hawkins fair. He promised he boy a return go and we want nothing else. Unless Mack House is plain afraid, which I think he is, I want you to say in your great little paper, that we want Mack House.

Hoping you will grant me the above favor, I am,

Sincerely yours tuly,
SAM MATA, Mgr. of Hawkins

Tennis

The past winter saw an innovation in Negro tennis circles by the introduction of indoor tennis at St. Louis and Kansas City where the national champion was a participant. With the sectional controversies all settled, this bids fair to be a great season.

ON THE SQUARE NOW! DID YOU EVER SEE A FIGHT LIKE ZORILLA-SARMIENTO TUESDAY?

The Gulf-Typhoon blew all over, under, around and through Pete Sarmiento, Tuesday night at the Olympic Auditorium to a win in 10 rounds. But not without strenuous resistance on the part of the hard hitting little Filipino.

The fight was one of the fastest in the history of Western rings and full of thrills. The way Zorilla could bob and duck while in close quarters with his jabbing, hooking opponent and making him miss blow after blow, was a revelation to the average fight fan. Spectators would exclaim, "Oh, Bud Taylor would raise him out of that," but Zorilla must have known his man, for he bobbed under Sarmiento's blows right up to the final bell, making him expend a world of energy trying to hit him. Twice he had Sarmiento groggy and once in the sixth sent him reeling back across the ring. He could have followed him up and finished him then, but the getiemanly little fellow probably thought he had slipped and did not do so.

Zorilla will probaly turn loose a different bag of tricks for his next bout which will be between he and Joe Sangor, and still another in his later one between the champion, Bud Taylor and himself, but against either of them, fast as his left hooks, jabbs and uppercuts like he did with Sarmiento, he will get his hand raised over them.

Zorilla's stable-mate, Pedro Amador, will appear in the semi-final on next Tuesday's card against Don Levy. This is the latest dope as we go to press and with almost the same style of battling as Zorilla, the little brown boy ought to beat the tough Don.

BOYS WEEK

Boys Week, May 1-7 is chocked full of thrilling events for the younger set of the 28th St. Branch. The fun begins this Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Dr. Bruce Baxter, Dean of the School of Religion, U. S. C., delivering the main address, starting the Boy Secretaries and Committeemen off on their one big week of Association Administration in Boyville.

Can you imagine Hernard Jefferson winner of the Alumni Declamation Contest, 1927, winner onf the Constitution Contest at Manual Arts, Senior President of the 28th St. Branch combined Hi-Y clubs acting as Executive Secretary? Kenneth Thompson will act as Religious Work Director; Cleyon Russell, Physical Director; Earl Hall, Boys' Secretary;, John Porter, House Secretary; Hordce Hampton, Night Secretary and Wilbur Dyson, Business Secretary and other offices are yet to be filled. The activities consist of religious, literary and athletic events with boy officials in charge.

PITCH HORSE SHOES

"KILLER" TOMMY O'BRIEN FIGHTS DICK HOPPE NEXT TUESDAY AT OLYMPIC

KILLER TOMMY O'BRIEN

Lots of fighters are fast, scientific, or hard punchers, but withal lack the coolness or the heart to close in and finish a man when he is leg-weary, punch drunk and wall-eyed from the last heavy sock or series of socks. Some of them get over anxious, miss their helpless victim a mile and thus give him a chance to recover. To know just what to do and to do it when the chance comes to beat an opponent on down is what is called the "killer instinct." And that is what Tommy O'Brien, who meets Dick Hoppe in the 10-round main event at Olympic Auditorium, Tuesday night, May 3rd, has.

Hoppe had better not ever get near the verge of a knockout or Tommy will surely finish him, as he is like a pack of wolves when they get their victim ham-strung—right in at the "kill." Hoppe is no easy "picking" though, and from his past record will give Tommy a great battle until the final clang of brass. The balance of the card is of the usual Olympic calibre.

YOUNG FORD, COLORED LIGHT HEAVY MEETS TONY FUENTE SAT. NIGHT

One of Lester Joints newest boys, Young Ford gets a real test Saturday night at the Main St. A. C. when he faces that crafty Mexican matador, Tony Fuente. For, who started at the old Madison Square Garden and Assembly Club here is coming along rapidly under the able guidance of Lester (Slim) Joint in the same stable with Ham Jenkins, Whitey Black and Tiger Robinson. Fuente made a real comeback when he stopped Long Tom Hawkins and is fighting in his form.

This is Saturday, April 30th's card: Main event, Tony Fuente vs. Young Ford, 8 rounds, 190 pounds; Semi, Chepney Miller vs. Charley Greenberg, 6 rounds, 136 pounds; Special, Johnny Gonzales vs. Tommy Celary, 6 rounds, 128 pounds; Kid Bayo vs. Avelino Arciniego, 4 rounds, 114 pounds; Tony Gomez vs. Hugh Cowert, 4 rounds, 130 pounds.

Golf

• • •

Doe Grahame, the golfer who left Mobile, Ala., last February to drive a golf ball across country to Los Angeles got as far as El Paso. Lack of funds temporarily caused him to abandon his marathon. He caught in automobile ride to El Paso, leaving his caddy, Happy Kirby, at Ozone with 35 cents. Grahame has used 140 golf balls on his trip and his score card reads 35,948 strokes.

A total of $700 in prizes offered by the Los Angeles County Fair and the California Horse Shoe Pitchers association will make the competition keen this year, according to George E. Krisbill, Long Beach secretary of the associations. He states that 200 participants will compete from all sections of the state.

$1,000 BET FOR A GANS-GONZALES BATTLE

Things were red hot at the Manhattan gym Wednesday afternoon, and when the smoke had cleared Art Hudkins backed by the whole Hudkins family agreed to plank down $1,000 for a bet between he and Cherokee Tom Scott. This is the way it came about. According to Art, an argument started between he and "Cherokee" concerning a Gans-Hudkins bout. The name of Gonzales came up and offered to bet $1,000 in cash that Gans would beat Gonzales. So the Hudkins boys have agreed to post their $1,000 cold berries with the California Eagle as soon as Cherokee is ready. The bout will take place in an arena, garage or vacant lot—anywhere to settle the bet. We have agreed to hold stakes and hand the money to the winning parties.

Sounds like th old bare-knuckle days but Art wants the world to know he is really in earnest.

The bout will be a humdinger, and already Dick Donald is figuring on making it half of a double windup for his next show. This boy Alfonso Gonzales is fighting Tommy O'Brien at Hollywood Stadium on his next show. He is in splendid shape now, and fully recovered from the sickness from a bad tooth and change of climate which handicapped him in the fight with Hererra. He beat Tommy White in El Paso last year flooring him four times, also beat Cervantes who had just knocked out Paluso. He also knocked out Tommy Murphy the lightweight champion of the Army, and a lot more of good boys and though only 20 years old believes as strong as his managers that he can win the $1,000 for them. So that is the way it stands until the money is placed on exhibition in the Eagle office window.

Willie Henry Tramples Earl Ritchie at Fresno

THE "EAGLE" WANTS TO BET ON HENRY!

Willie Henry the new light heavyweight sensation who begged for a chance to fight in Los Angeles and didn't get it, but went out to Oakland, Fresno and other centres beating the fighters who fight in Los Angeles, has pulled another K. O. to prove that though he is the "Texas Steer" he does not "shoot the bull." The telegram below tells the latest story.

Fresno, Calif.,
April 27, 1927.

HARRY LEVETTE,
946 E. 23rd St.
Los Angeles, Calif.

Willie Henry Earl Ritchie in seventh round. Johnnie Lewis got decision over Leo Clare. Go to Oakland tomorrow for fourth. Watch mail Thursday.

UPTON'S RAILROAD CLATTER

By Chas. L. Upton

TALES O' SHEFFIELD

By: Chas. L. Upton

Everybody was having a good time, the house was crowded with women and 'Central Ave. Sheiks,' two jugs had already been emptied and still the evening was young. The piano player called for more, and the gang was singing "Sweet Adeline." This, however, proved time, and one 'Sheik' who was about three sheets to the wind suggested that they all join in and sing "Don't Want You to Leave Me Here." As they entered the second verse—'Don't want you to leave me here, Don't want you to leave me here," the door opened and in walked SHEFFIELD and RANDOLPH.

"That's all right boys and girls, Im going to try my best not to leave a d—— one of you here. Call the WAGON, Randolph!"

Single Room Cars Latest For "Lark"

Single room cars, the latest development in sleeping car equipment, will be included in the crack train "Lark," operating between Los Angeles and San Francisco. It was learned from those in authority last week, each room wil contain a bed and will be outfitted with artistic and luxurious furnishings. This type of car has fourteen rooms and has already proven a big hit back East on such trains as the "Twentieth Century Limited," "Broadway" and others. They are only serviceable on one-night runs and the beds will be prepared in the yards before the train backs into the depot. This should prove a boon to the men who will operate them, and in the event that they are put in service on the "Lark" in place of the old style room cars that are on this train now, the following porters will operate them: E. Gary, Ed. Houge, J. T. Ambrose, C. Smith No. 1, S. A. Hopgood and J. W. Bush. Although porters mentioned are all expert berth makers it is thought they will have to undergo special instructions in making this type of bed which is different than making up a Pullman berth. After they have once mastered the art they will never get any peace from their wives until they have made up the beds at home. Heretofore they have had a very good excuse for not exercising their skill at home by saying that the Pullmans were different; but now, well! it's just too bad, they will have to make 'em up on the road and make 'em up when they get home. The Railroad Clatter goes on record as stating that the moment they are put in charge of this type of car, they cease to be classed as Pullman Porter, but from henceforth and ever more shall be known as 'The Chambermaid."

What They Do In Europe

Hotel porters are following the example of American hoboes who chalkmark gate posts to indicate whether or not the lady of the house is kind. The porters now mark guests' baggage to show what sort of tippers they are. It would be terrible indeed should the American Pullman Porter resort to this new system.

Seeking Information

Last week in the "Hawks Hands" column we noticed that the law raided a poker game in which they took two gentlemen by the names of Walker and Holt. As we have two very prominent porters in our district by that name we would like to know if it was them. Address Chas. L. Upton, 2190 W. 30th St., and let us get it straight. The gang is talking.

Preparing For Big Rush in May

The following new porters are now under instruction of L. A. Coffin and will be used to good advantage during the summer rush: A. J. Kimbrough, J. Brantley, F. D. Brock, M. Williams, F. R. Roy, C. H. Andrews, R. L. Hurd, J. S. Jones, H. Wilkinson, A. Graves, F. Smith, H. F. Galloway, J. King, L. Gibson, H. Brown, K. M. Johnson, G. W. D. Bivens, H. L. C. Simson, H. W. Strawa, C. Ross, H. O'Neil, T. S. Taft and W. C. Anderson. The Railroad Clatter extends to you a hearty welcome and the privilege of using this column for your news, social or otherwise. Send in the month of your birth at once. Address Chas. L. Upton, 2190 W. 30th St.

Police Kill "Mile Away" Thomas In Pullman Instructors Front Door

Little did L. A. Coffin, Pullman instructor know that forbidden spirits were plentiful and flowed freely in his very front door until he heard the rat tat tat of a machine gun last week. Then the secret came out. The police had killed one of the most notorious bootleggers and hi-jackers in Los Angeles in the act of stealing a truck load of whiskey. Now the porters want to know, "How Come?" and are pestering Coffin to let them in on some of the good stuff. Dave Rosemond is figuring on renting a room in Coffin's neighborhood and the gang says that L. A. Coffin will never make a good prohibition agent. Summing it all up, it looks as if there will soon be a hasty exodus from the East Side to the West Side—the land of the free and plenty. When we speak of East Side we do not refer to East Side Beer.

Brooks Makes Reply

That quite distinguished little gentleman, Mr. Brooks of the Santa Fe is somewhat het up over the rumor and article published in last week's Clatter in regards to who wears the pants at his house, and has requested me to state that it ain't nobody's bizness who wears 'em.

Bad Taste

Although this is somewhat out of my line, it behooves me to speak of it through this column, and it is my fondest hope that the article will come before the notice of the party referred to. Last Saturday about 1:45 P. M. it fell my lot to accompany the Mrs. on a shopping tour. Naturally no women on such a tour would dare to pass up 'Bullocks" and so we wandered, hot and weary, to a department in which ladies' middies were on display, or something like that. Anyway, ladies undergarments were sold there. I will admit it was no place for a he-man to be, but then you know women and I happened to be one of those very much married men, and everywhere that "Mary" went the "Lamb" had better go. So, my attention was attfacted to a rather slender colored lady who was trying on one middle after another in a semi-nude condition. The clerks and everyone else including myself were looking daggers at her. But it didn't do any good, she was there to get one that fit, and she tried at least ten before she made a purchase. The most likely impression that the majority of spectators gained from this act is that as yet we are not educated up to the standards raised by other races in shopping etiquette. If the lady in question only knew how badly she looked, she would never darken "Bullocks" doorway again. Bad taste I calls it.

PILLOW SLIPS

Four new mails are now undergoing instructions for the big rush in May.

The good-looking porter now operating on the "Chief" by the name of Edge is the sheik of the line, and like his name he always seems to have an "edge" on everybody else.

Hot weather and hot passengers will soon be here. Do your best.

What's the difference between "Mile Away" Thomas and "Weepah" Nevada? Ans. Weepah draws the crowds on account of the gold strike, and "Mile Away" on account of his whiskey strike on the West Side.

We are wondering whether C. H. Levy strutted his stuff in a new front this Easter. They claim he is a regular fashion plate.

J. M. Montgomery got a new pocket book for Easter, he wore his old one out.

T. Davis can shed that derby hat now and don his $903 straw with safety.

Mr. V. V. Ross says have your fun now, because on May 22nd it will be, "Ev'ry Tub!"

It is about time for Johnny Moore to get his customary summer boils back and hike off to Elsinore.

Wonder where Wm. Asbury is going this summer—EUREKA?

Ed. Garey broadcasting from San Francisco—That guy in room "C" didn't even say thank you.

H. E. Washington can have the writer's share of the shriners this year. Never again!

W. M. Mitchell was revived with a pulmotor two hours after his storm drain tax arrived.

Since they got "Mile Away," now we see why the West Side had to have a storm drain.

Dr. Booker.

Dear Sir: Will you kindly get me one of them things what makes the heart beat like a manes. I'm in love and want to try it on my girl to see if she is true to me.

Yours truly,
GUESS WHO?

Last week I was talking to a friend of mine who had his head all bandaged up and I asked him what automobile struck him. He replied, "I got this trying to get that one night a week you said married men were entitled to."

We wish to thank you very much for responding to our adv. in regards to the casket Mr. J. L. Hill had made to order. It is sold now and the lucky owner is C. Smith No. 2.

Since C. H. Dris has been getting along all these years without a woman, why not make one of those chambermaids out of him?

We are becoming anxious to know from C. H. Levy when it is going to be. Give us a chance to drag our soup and fish regalia out of the moth balls kid.

They do say that Jim Montgomery has been beat man to about all the weddings that have been pulled off around these diggins, and we wonder. Yes, we wonder.

Dr. Wheeler the famous gland surgeon has been casting longing eyes on S. A. Hopgood lately, and we wonder. Oh! yes! we wonder.

Reports from San Francisco have it that W. J. Logan was seen taking his annual bottle of three S's. That's a sure sign of spring. Drag out your H. V. D's.

Mr. Noel the interest on that band money should be compounded by now. What about slicing the melon?

E. McNaray says buy your rabbits from him and grow fat.

E. W. Brackett says he had to quit raising ducks and chickens as it was a losing game with him. He ate up all the profit.

We have not been able to get Bill White on the scales since he got married so we have no report to make.

C. E. Lair is still taking chances on his life driving around in that condemned rattle trap.

G. W. Bethea is still playing a lone game and up to the present time has not fallen into any trap set by the want to get married set. When they say marry to him he's just gone.

U. P. DOPE

Chas. Foster, who very recently transferred to the Omaha District, has been assigned to Diner No. 353 operating on the new run Omaha-Cheyenne.

The tea, punch and demitasse service installed on the De Luxe" has caused a comment by the waiters. Nevertheless, we hope this service will add approximately as much to this class of employees as the Department expects to drive from the same.

Who is "LULU"? This question is being asked by some waiters who are being terrorized by some sheba over the phone trying to arrange a party. Any information as to the identity of the belle will be received and appreciated by waiter No. 1, Diner No. 304.

The temptations of spring are here and are as many as the gas buggies on Central avenue and only a strong woman may escape their seductiveness. The writer sincerely hopes that our waiters will be tempted to outdoor activities instead of the indoor game that has no future.

A certain buffet porter and maid are scheduled to close a deal in the near future. (No not a real estate deal).

"Baker Heater Bulletin"

Diners and Buffet cars will operate on Trains Nos. 7 and 8 May 1 to Chicago. We wonder what the bulletin will produce next. When it come to production, volume is really its goal.

Haywood Perry who has a slogan to use on his friends, "Say it with I. O. U's." is back to the U. P. again after having spent the winter on the "Golden State Ltd."

H. Scales is still doing "Rail Duty."

Milburn Norwood was called on the carpet for an infraction of te rules and was sentenced to Central Avenue, but refused same by severing his connections from the pay roll.

BE CAREFUL WHEN YOU APPLY BRAKES

The improper application of brakes is extremely harmful to the mechanism of the automobile and dangerous to both the occupants of the car and others. A too sudden putting on of brakes, according to L. G. Evans of the Service Department of the National Automobile Club, creates a severe strain on all the mechanical parts affected.

When it is considered that over two tons of weight passing through space at the rate of 35 miles an hour is brought to a stop within a few feet, it is easy to see that a terrific amount of force is necessary to bring this about. This amount of force is under-rated on account of the leverage which is applied which makes for convenience and ease of operation for the person driving.

Nevertheless many serious automobile maladies can be directly traced to sudden brake application; besides, this practice creates in the operator of the car a very bad habit inasmuch as the driver expects his car to come to a stop in such a short space that if anything out of the ordinary happens, such as a broken brake rod, a wet pavement, a torn brake lining, or a steeper hill than is anticipated, dire results to all concerned are most liable to happen.

More than 22,000,000 motor vehicles were registered in the United States in 1926—about one to every six persons. This is an increase of 10.3 per cent over the registration in 1925. Florida leads with an increase of 40.3 per cent, not including non-resident registration. Oklahoma was next with a 17.8 per cent increase. Receipts from registration and license fees were $288,282,352.

AUTOS TO ADOPT FRONT WHEEL DRIVE

BY: RAY PRIEST

Detroit, April 3.—The next development of any consequence in passenger car construction will be the adoption of the front-wheel drive.

Barney Oldfield, veteran racing driver, in Detroit this week, said it was surely coming.

"The horse pulls the wagon, the engine pulls the train, the power plant pulls the airplane and just as surely the motor must pull the automobile," Oldfield stated.

Earl Cooper, another veteran, but who is still actively in the racing game was with Oldfield at the time he pointed out many mechanical superiorities of the front-wheel drive, adding:

"The racing game is the research field of the automobile business. We have found the front-wheel drive to be the best principle of construction. The new cars I am building are front-wheel drives."

FRONT-DRIVE GROWS

Last year at the Indianapolis 500-mile race there were two front-wheel drive cars, one owned and driven by Dave Lewis and the other owned and driven by Cooper. This year, Cooper said that he knew of ten front-wheel drive cars that were sure to be entered and two additional possibilities, out of about 30 cars that might be ready for the Decoration Day event.

It is known in Detroit that Tommy Milton and Cliff Durant are building a front-wheel drive car of their own. Two large passenger car manufacturers outside of Detroit will have entries sent in before the closing date of May 1. Rumor reports that these are front-wheel drives.

Duesenberg, who will make the fourth builder to contend with Harry Miller for racing honors at Indianapolis, is also working on his entries. Reports from that city are that these will be front-wheel drives.

EXPENSE BALANCED

"Engineers at the passenger car factories have found that they can build front-wheel drives just as cheaply as rear-wheel drives," Cooper said. "The race car builders showed them that the saving made in extra parts eliminated in transmitting the power from there awaiting, chaps eye you ask- more than made up for the extra expense of installing a front-wheel drive transmission and differential.

"The front-wheel drive car is also more economical to operate. It saves wear and tear on the tires. It increases the life of the car by cutting down on the friction and by delivering more power to the front axle than is possible to get to the rear. In other words eliminating slippage.

CHASIS UNIMPROVED

Oldfield said that there had been no improvement in the automobile chasis during the last 20 years

"In fact we built them better back in 1902 than they are built now," Oldfield said. "I just finished a picture on the Pacific Coast which will be released shortly. We used 15 old cars that were built more than 20 years ago. They were all painted the same color and as of the date of their manufacture and every one ran under its own power."

Mr. Willie Logan of Woodland and his cousin, Mrs. Evans Triggs of Fresno, arrived in the city in company with a Dodge coupe. Mrs. Triggs visited her relatives at the home of E. L. Dorsey and Mr. Logan, being a single gentleman, set out to find a bride, we believe.

* * *

Last Saturday and Sunday, the state highway between L. A. and Bakersfield was burnt up transporting officials and agents of the Golden State Insurance Company to the northern city where a new branch was opened last Sunday afternoon. Many were accompanied by their families. George Beavers was the trail blazer and A. Hartley Jones, rear guard.

* * *

Harry Beal breezed into the Central Avenue district this week driving a smart looking Chrysler and championing the political cause of an overseas vet., E. Snapper Ingram. Looks like he picked a winner.

* * *

* * *

Harry Levette has the auto fever again. His temperature, according to one auto physician is 103.

* * *

Charlie Blodgett, Sr., was relieved of one of his autos by thieves recently lurking in the neighborhood of Second Baptist Church, we hear. We're sure it wasn't a Baptist that committed the dastardly deed. He recovered it.

* * *

Dr. Boswell is having a five tube radio set built from the profits of the gasoline war.

* * *

* * *

B. H. Graham, the insurance man, is all smiles these days. Says it doesn't cost so much to insure one since gasoline got cheap.

* * *

Courtesy First!

BY: OSCAR H. FERNBACH

When you're bowling along to a crossing,
There awaiting, chap eyes you askance.
Don't careen in the tone
That both roads are your own—
Let the other chap, too, have a chance!
For he may have arrived there before you.
So go easy—don't give him the worst;
You've got plenty of time,
So, my friend, let the chime
Of your motto be, Courtesy First!

Oh, it's easy to jibe with the traffic,
To conform to the rules of the road.
And the driver who'll say
That the law he'll obey,
Ever lightens all motorists' load.
Keep your speed to legitimate limit
And your signaling never forget.
Be as good to your car
As to yourself you are,
And a pippin we'll make of you yet!

Worth While Information About Fires

One hundred and seventy-five homes were involved in fire since the last issue of this paper went to press. Maybe your home escaped this visitation, but who can tell just when his home is to be destroyed by fire? Every one of the one hundred and seventy-five home owners mentioned above would have laughed if Chief Scott had told them they would require the services of the fire department sometime during the last week.

Chief Scott has assigned Capt. Edward W. Welty to the task of acquainting the public with the part they are to play in relation to the fire department, and information on this subject will be carried in these columns from time to time.

The first thought to be stressed is that every adult and minor should immediately acquaint himself with the proper manner of reporting a fire in his particular district. Firemen are going from house to house in this educational campaign and others are available to speak before various organizations. Immediate information, however, can be had by taking your family to the nearest fire station. This is advised for the reason that your home may be involved in fire before you receive the benefits of this educational campaign.

Of the many homes that are in the process of burning every day—one every fifty minutes here in Los Angeles—seventy-five per cent of the cases are those where the parties concerned do not know how to call the fire department. It is this lack of understanding on the part of the public that has prompted this campaign, and if only two or three homes can be saved each day, Chief Scott will feel amply rewarded for the efforts put forth to bring about this better understanding.

Pullman Porter Is Hero

EXHIBITS GREAT BRAVERY IN CAPTURE OF DESPERATE BANDIT ON BOARD "OWL" TRAIN

E. A. Thompson, a Pullman Porter, operating between Los Angeles and Oakland on the "Owl Limited" is now being heralded as a hero for what is considered by the Los Angeles Police Department an outstanding act of bravery.

Leaving Los Angeles as Porter on an observation Compartment car in which a deputy sheriff was en route to San Quinten Penitentiary with a life time prisoner, Thompson was summoned to the compartment by a frantic ringing of the bell. Upon opening the door he was fired at four times by the prisoner who had blinded the sheriff by throwing a sack of "Bull Durham" in his eyes securing his automatic revolver.

Thompson overpowered the bandit and beat him into submission with the butt of the gun, after which he handcuffed him. The sheriff was badly beaten up by the prisoner and was removed from the train at Bakersfield, Calif., and taken to a hospital. Thompson was highly praised by the Sheriff's office and also the Los Angeles Police Department.

Why You Should Join The N. A. A. C. P.

Why the N. A. A. C. P.

More than 4,000 lynchings in 40 years. Scores burned alive. 84 Women lynched. "Jim Crow" on the railways. Segregation. Disfranchisement. Peonage. And the Ku Klux Klan.

The object: JUSTICE.

This Association exists in order to combat the spirit of persecution which confronts the colored people of this land, safeguard their full political, civil and legal rights, and secure for them equality of opportunity with all other citizens.

From a small committee the N. A. A. C. P. has grown to a powerful nation-wide organization with branches in 44 states and the District of Columbia and gross expenditures during 1926 of $63,067.91.

The local Branch launched its annual membership drive Sunday afternoon, May 1st, at the Independent Church at 3 o'clock. Dr. Robert Whittaker of the Good Fellowship Society was the principal speaker.

Local Talent To Appear In Colorful Operetta

On Wednesday evening, May 11, at the Independent Church, 75 talented boys and girls will display their ability in the Spanish operetta, "The Belle of Barcelona."

A full house is expected and all will enjoy two hours of mirth and melody. You'll visit historic old Spain, the land of romance in all its splendor, see beautiful senoritas, thrilling romances, chivalrous sepors and dashing toreadors. Imagine! An Irishman, an English governess, an American lieutenant, and the Belle of Barcelona in lively scenes.

The play is full of dramatic scenes and humorous situations. Not a dull moment during the entire performance. Everything is carried out in shipshape manner.

The cast has worked hard to bring before the public a play worth while and one that will be long remembered by all. The cast has been well chosen and, it is certain, that each individual will carry out his and her part to the best of his and her ability.

Mrs. G. A. Beavers, Jr. is directress of the operetta. She is well known in Los Angeles as a church worker and a play directress. She has put on a number of plays that have all proven successful and it is expected that "The Belle of Barcelona" will surpass all the others.

Come out and spend an enjoyable evening. Tell your friends about it and bring them with you. Remember the date and place! This is the "last call" so follow the crowd to the Independent Church, Wednesday, May 11, and while the time way in a pleasurable evening seeing that splendid, lively and colorful operetta, "The Belle of Barcelona."

St. Louis Decries Continued Delay in Malone Case; Criticize Receivership

(By: A. N. P.)

St. Louis, Mo., May 3.—Is Negro business which grows to large proportions in the South safe? Persons who have watched the slow and uncertain but dramatic progress of the Poro case brough the courts here are asking themselves that question. A business leader of St. Louis, commenting, after the latest delay in settling the case had been announced, on the net of work, of conspiracy, and entanglement which has been woven around one of the race's strongest businesses, said "One of the axioms accredited to W. Gomez, late financial wizard of Durham, was 'After a Negro business institution located below the Mason and Dixon line passes the million dollar mark, it is no longer safe. White men then begin to envy its power and influence and plan to cripple it.' Harry Pace, president of the Northeastern Life Insurance Company, talking in Chicago last week said he would never take his organization into southern territory for much the same reason, that its possibilities for growth would be hampered."

Colored St. Louisians, who are viewing with growing bitterness the white receivership at Poro College, discuss in low and angry tones whever you find them the situation from which this successful racial business is trying to extricate itself and say openly that only in a town of southern sentiment and influence like St. Louis could such a condition exist. No one here seems to think there is any reason for a receiver for "Poro" save to make fat fees which he and those responsible for his appointment probably will share. It is common knowledge that "Poro" is not only entirely solvent and prosperous, but that it is so finely organized and so wisely conducted by Mrs. Malone, that it is a huge money-maker.

Therefore, the colored populace is impatient that Pasbon, the white receiver, should be kept in charge, waving theoretically at least a big stick of vengeance over a Negro institution, Mrs. Malone, they contend, can furnish as large a bond as necessary. Why not free her hands, and if a receiver is necessary, make her the receiver under bond."

"Here in St. Louis," others point out, "Negroes have few rights which white people are bound to respect. Negroes cannot eat in a single white restaurant, nor go into any of the white movie houses of the city, but when an institution is developed for Negroes by Negroes and appears prosperous, the whites seem to be awaiting an opportunity to step in and take control. They then proceed to handle it as they see fit." Some of this indignation arises from the habit of the receiver and his assistants walking into the perfectly appointed Poro dining room and ordering sumptuous meals which are charged to the institution, a thing which these onlookers say has never been tolerated in even the colored department heads who pay for whatever they get. "For one may hear them complaining that Pasbon had a habit of ordering Mrs. Malone's Cadillac and chauffeur out to haul him to and from downtown. It is admitted, however, that some of the high-handed tactics which the white received started in to exercise at "Poro," he has been forced to retreat from, because of the determined protests of the public and Mrs. Malone's lawyers. He returned a $500 check which he had drawn to his own account, ceased his efforts to get her formula and has not discharged any more of her employees during the past several weeks. One of the reasons for this change of attitude it is said is his uncertainty where his top will come from. If it is decided as Mrs. Malone's lawyers contend will be true that no partnership exists then there will have been no reason for the appointment of a receiver and hence no reason for paying him, unless it is taken from the one thousand dollar bond which Mr. Malone posted.

Some of the most important political figures here are said to feel that some things significant politically may grow out of the Malone imbroglio. These men who claim to be able to look behind the scenes, charge that the combination of lawyers, judges and colored men who conspired to wrest Mrs. Malone's property from her are all Republicans and insist that the reason progress in the case is so slow is because of the ties binding the legal luminaries in the case. These folk claim that one of Mrs. Malone's lawyers is frequently in political conference with "Eddie" Foristel as the colored folk call Mr. Malone's active, versatile, and reputedly unscrupulous lawyer, City Collector Koein, and former Mayor Kiel, all local political bosses. Some of Mrs. Malone's friends threaten that if the Republicans aid and abet a conspiracy of this kind, it will figure in the next campaign to the benefit of the Democrats. "It's a rotten situation, when men who belong to the Republican party will take advantage of the lack of protection accorded a colored institution in a border state," say these observers. "If they do that to Poro, here, what incentive is it to us to develop Negro business?" As soon as it rises to any size the same thing will be done to it that they did to "Poro."

"Last week," point out these folk, who, like the rest of St. Louis, are watching developments closely, "when a receiver was asked for in an action similar to that of the Malone case, Judge Hartman, the same judge who appointed the Poro receiver, without notice or hearing, gave two weeks notice before a receiver would be appointed."

No date has been set for the hearing of either the Malone divorce case nor the action making the receivership permanent. Mrs. Malone is being closely guarded on the farm she owns in Illinois where he is being held, but reports are that his condition is miserable, that at times he raves and that because his lawyers are trying to avoid committing him to an asylum, he has not had the sort of attention which a mentally ailing patient should have. Mrs. Malone, who would place the best psychopathic talent at his disposal were she permitted, is patiently waiting for the dilatory grinding of the mills of the law.

Election Result Crashes The Present City Administration

The final results of Tuesday's primaries unfold a smashing victory for the people against the narrow policy of the present city administration.

We find relegated to the scrap heap such stalwart close up supporters of the present city administration as Roiph Criswell in the 7th District, Otto Zahn in the 10th District; Sparks having got on for the finals in the 5th District, likewise Barnes in the 12th.

Talk about reversal of form, the results were a complete upset and the wise ones were carried off their feet when the truth dawned upon them.

Colored Vote Performed

In the 7th District, where quite 22 precincts are populated with a distinct majority of colored voters, owing to Criswell's well known support of the administration, they took it out on him for the Jim Crow policy, swimming pool, the rubber factory on 17th St. and the iron heel methods of the police department in terrorizing residents for petty offenses throughout the black belt.

Councilman Otto Zahn also as well as Cupid Sparks likewise was the victim of the ire of this people.

The colored vote concentrated their support on eight candidates and emerged victors with 7 out of the 8, which is indeed a record in olitical endeavor.

Life Sentence For Stealing Sandwich

Oakland, Calif., May 4.—Superior Judge Lena Gray sentenced Walter J. Hunter to life imprisonment when convicted for the theft of 15c and a roast pork sandwich. The severe sentence rewarded Gus Hunter, having served three previous prison terms. The judge in pronouncing sentence declared that the law gave him no other alternative."

NEGROES SUFFER AS MISSISSIPPI RIVER COLLECTS UNPRECEDENTED TOLL

(By: A. N. P.)

Memphis, Tenn., May 2.—Pestilence and death stalk in the lower Mississippi Valley as men fight tirelessly but with apparent no avail to beat back the "Father of Waters" as it rushes over the land collecting an unprecedented toll of life and property.

Swollen by heavy rains and its tributaries, the Mississippi River continues its rampage which had its beginning some two weeks ago and what was once America's most coveted agricultural area is now a vast sea. The scope of the flood might be determined by the knowledge that millions of acres of land which line the banks of the river from Arkansas to Louisiana are inundated and property and crops, the value of which will run into the millions, have been destroyed.

The loss of life, through casualities and disease, is impossible to estimate, but the number of "known dead" is rapidly mounting and is now far into the hundreds.

REFUGEES SHELTERED IN TENTS

Bereft of all earthly possessions, thousands of Negro refugees are corralled in neighboring towns, living in tents, churches, and stables and these numbers are increasing as levee after levee and dike after dike crumbles under the lashing and on-rushing waters.

At Vicksburg, Mississippi, six thousand Negroes are living in tents and four thousand whites are being cared for in the hotels. In Deason, Arkansas, two thousand Negroes, who formerly tilled the fertile soil around Scott, Arkansas, are sheltered in church buildings and barns, while others remain in the flooded district, living in the second stories of houses.

Helena, Arkansas, is crowded with more than eight thousand Negroes who were driven from their homes by the turbulent waters. Hundreds of them were forced to flee from the fields where they were working vainly hoping that by some way the dikes would break and they would be spared from the wrath of the riotous river that refused to be controlled by man-made devices.

EPIDEMICS ADD TO SUFFERING

Vying with the suffering caused by the lack of sufficient clothing and the scarcity of food is that resulting from the ravages of disease. Epidemics have broken out in fourteen refugee camps, dotting Arkansas, where Cholera, measles, mumps, whooping cough, pellagra and malaria are prevalent.

To combat the spreads of diseases, physicians and nurses have rushed to these areas and are working night and day. Refugees are being vaccinated and inoculated with the hope of curbing disease and conserving health in the inundated regions.

HEROISM MINGLES WITH TRAGEDY

No war has served more effectively the heroism of the Negro than has this seemingly losing battle against the plungering Mississippi River. Tom Lee, who distingoished himself some two years ago by rescuing a group of white people who were about to be drowned, was among the first to volunteer for rescue work. With his 40-foot river boat, Lee has added to his glory, rescuing hundreds in the face of danger.

In the St. Frances River District, situated below here, two thousands Negroes and four hundred whites stood on a crumbling levee, awaiting death. A rescuing steamer came up, took on all of the whites and twenty-five Negroes, and left the others to perish.

Facing almost certain death, these Negroes sang the song of hope and triumph which their forefathers had sung during the dark days of slavery, and continued to do so until a white man in a launch rescued them.

Hundreds of Negro men in the district surrounding Scott, Arkansas, refused to flee from the flood area, but chose rather to stay with those who were fighting doggedly to stay the pillaging Mississippi. Other instances of bravery could be cited.

Rescuers with all kinds of crafts from canoe to sea-planes are working assiduously to remove refugees to places of safety and relief workers are equally as diligent in prosecuting the duty of caring for the homeless thousands. The work is thoroughly organized and is moving forward rapidly and effectively.

In response to the appeal of President Coolidge, $3,000,000, clothing, and food have been sent to the flood region to be used in caring for the refugees and to relieve suffering. Through these contributions and gifts many are made comfortable.

While Memphis is not affected directly by the flood, but like every other city in America, it is teeming with interest in an excitement over America's greatest tragedy that is being enacted in the outlying districts, and is hoping that the acute condition will soon be abated.

Shoots Cast-Off Sweetheart In Pistol Duel

"Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned" is an old adage that came to life Sunday night and ended in a gun battle between Edmund Gordon, an alleged real estate salesman, and Cora Robinson, at 1449 E. 49th St. The shooting occurred during the progress of an impromptu party in which Miss Callie Mindy Leahn Pender, Maude Bennett, Ruth Ware, Raymond Thomas and Hazel Wong were present.

According to witnesses, Gordon and the Robinson woman had been living together for some time, but previously betrothed to the said Chinese [illegible] of Helen Wong (by the way—no relation to Anna May Wong) his love growing cold, he had quit Cora "cold."

During the evening, about 9 o'clock, she joined the others in the party and went from where they were at 3615 Paloma to 1449 Paloma. On arrival at the house and finding Gordon and Miss Wong there, she drew a pistol to shoot gordon. Gordon drew also and fired point blank at her, the bullet striking her in the forehead and crumpling her to the floor, where she lay until the arrival of the officers.

They found the gun, a 38 calibre Harrington and Richardson, under her body, while in the next room, they found a 32-20 S. & W. that Gordon admitted he shot her with. She was removed to the hospital where she lies in a serious condition. Gordon is held in the county jail for preliminary trial.

Brilliant Song Recital

Minnie M. Albritton, Lyric Soprano, just from the New England Conservatory of Music will appear in Recital, Tuesday vening, May 31st at the People's Independent Church of Christ at 18th and Paloma Sts., under the auspices of the N. A. A. C. P. This well known Western song bird always draws a large and appreciative audience, and the organization in charge, our local N. A. A. C. P. is certainly deserving of our hearty support. General admission 50c.

"Stick 'em Up, Officer!"

Officer Appleton's refusal to obey that command probably saved his life Sunday night at 1902 E. 12th St. Working with Lieut. Sheffield in Lieut. Randolph's place, he had gone with him to the above address to arrest W. Grange, an alleged bootlegger. Just as they stepped into the darkened house, Appledon in front, felt a gun barrel shoved into his stomach and heard the sharp command, "Stick 'em up, Officer!" Instead of complying, he quickly knocked the gun down and grappling with the desperate man, disarmed him. Later while being booked at Central Station he declared, "I'm damn sorry I didn't get that bad."

Number 49345 Unlucky

Some numbers may be lucky to play, but the above numbers are not often known as City Ordinance No. 1. Helen Wareham, waitress living at 939 E. 13th Street, found that violation of the statute are not booked for vagrancy and lined at the Newton Street Number Agency. Florintine Rayen of 1634 Essex has a pretty Annie, but her actions have not been so pretty since she arrived here from Texas, as she has also been breaking the above ordinance.

MELVIN CHISM

We discovered one, only Melvin J. Chism, intensely interested in the welfare and progress of the Association. He was here, there and everywhere to make everybody welcome and at ease and to make their stay worth while. He was truly the enigma man and through his good offices every day was a big day during the meeting of the Press gang.

Broadgauged, suave, the soul of honor, did he go on his way to make everybody happy. The big banquet was the handiwork of Chism, the boys' meeting, all were superintended by Mr. Chisum, and his thoughtfulness by which each member was presented with a valuable and beautiful souvenir. Truly Melvin J. Chism is a Field Secretary worth while.

Personally, we hesitate not to say that the princely friend of my husband was responsible in a major degree of making our stay in the Negro capital of the Nation, both a memorable and pleasant one.

At the Young Women's Christian Association, Indiana Avenue Branch, where we stopped in Chicago, we found a very responsive group of young women striving to make a goal, either in the business or professional world.

Mrs. Lulu E. Lawson, general secretary, is a highly cultured woman who is striving for the best contact and the highest possible elevation for her group of young women at the Indiana Branch.

Mothers' Day At Second Baptist Church

A special program for Mother's Day has been planned for Second Baptist Church. In anticipation that many people will on that day honor their mothers both living and dead, the big doors of the Auditorium will swing wide for their accommodation. Every young man and every young woman should go to church that day. They should consider what mother has been to them. The decorations, and the music and the entire services are planned in keeping with the day. The pastor's sermon subject in the morning will be "The Daughter of God as the Mothers of Men".

The Young People's Department of the Church will conduct the evening program in honor of Mother. The Junior choir will sing; there will be special musical numbers by young people. Miss Mary Banks will represent the young women in making the tribute to Mother, and Mr. Lloyd C. Griffith will represent the young men, using as a subject "The Strategic Question Facing Young Mothers of the Twentieth Century."

The Sunday School opens at 9:30 in eight Dpartments. The morning services begin at sharp eleven. We are urging everybody to be in their seats in time for opening. At 6:30 P. M. the B. Y. P. U. opens in two Departments. Evening services start at sharp 8.

EVERYBODY WELCOME.

Husband Helps Officers Raid Wife's Love Nest

The "Hawk" clamped his relentless talons on the leverlorn forms of Mrs. Marguerite Witcher Mosby and a colored movie actor named Edwards, a few nights past, and not only disturbed their peaceful slumbers, but destroyed their dreams of romantic bliss.

The arrest of the guilty couple was brought about by Mr. Mosby, husband of Marguerite. War Declared on Lower California Development Company

At last we, the three adventurous huntsmen have smoked the old "coon" from his hole! They came out last week in a measly litie article stating that all the insinuations that have been published against the integrity, character and ability of Hugh E. Macbeth in connection with the development and control of the Lower California Mexican Land and Development Co. are absolutely untrue and that our purpose is to engage Mr. Macbeth in a nasty public controversy.

If Hugh E. Macbeth had been Robinson Crusoe he could not have picked a better "good man Friday" than he picked—L. H. Bryant. The writer of this little article that appeared in last week's paper further states that the Board of Directors of the Lower California Mexican Land and Development Co. had knowledge of and gave their consent to its publication. Now just to show you that the signer of this article has no special regard for the truth or that his mind is feeble, it is the common knowledge of the entire Board of Directors that Mr. J. H. Stevens, who is one of the writers of this article appearing here was duly elected by the stockholders to that board in the last stockholders meeting with the largest majority of any candidate for the office of director. It is further known by Mr. Bryant who served as secretary at this meeting that he has not taken the matter of the publication of this article up with Mr. Stevens. In other words, Mr. Bryant knows that Mr. Stevens had no knowledge of this publication nor had Mr. Stevens given his consent. Now how could a real intelligent man have made such a statement to the public. Something must be wrong or Hugh E. Macbeth would have had more knowledge how to better cover up himself than this poor fellow. We would advise this brother to go to his attorney for instructions before he makes another statement like that.

We must apologize to our readers for having taken up their time with matters pertaining to such small "fish." We are after a whale and he is already harpooned, and we are only waiting to safely land him.

We are not going into details this week of the doings of our unfortunate and ill advised company. We are very busy with some matters that may furnish glowing headlines in our city daily papers. Should it happen all you need to do is to get this paper next week and you will find all of the details of it there.

In conclusion, we would ask that you again grant the three adventurous huntsmen the privilege of congratulating themselves on the fact that they have smoked the old "cooh" out of his hole. The huntsmen are well fortified with smudge pots and they are going to pour out smoke upon smoke until they clean out the old hole. Before we have finished this smoking process we expect to see rats, snakes, skunks and every kind of creeping thing come tumbling down like Joshua's wall of yore.

TO Whom It May Concern

This is to certify that all of the insinuations which have been published against the character, integrity and ability of Attorney Hugh E. Macbeth in connection with the development and control of the Lower California Mexican Land & Development Company are absolutely untrue, in fact, and are being published for the sole purpose of getting Mr. Macbeth to engage in a nasty public controversy with four disgruntled men which Mr. Macbeth will wisely refuse to do.

This publication is given with the knowledge and consent of the Board of Directors of the Lower California Mexican Land & Development Company.

L. H. BRYANT,
Secretary of Lower California Mexican Land & Development Co.

"AMERICAN WOODMEN CELEBRATION LARGELY ATTENDED"

A large and enthusiastic crowd of Woodmen and their friends filled the independent Church on last Sunday afternoon to participate in the twenty-sixth anniversary celebration of the Supreme Camp and the fifth anniversary of the Los Angeles Camps. The programme which consisted of addresses by the representatives of several departments and auxiliaries depicting the progress of the Order both nationally and locally, were both entertaining and instructive, especially so were the addresses by H. K. Watkins who told of 'The Local Camp and its Influence in the Community," and Supervisor B. H. Graham whose subject "The Mission of Fraternal Insurance" closed the programme. Several musical numbers were interspersed in the programme among which were included a solo by Mrs. Hattie E. Norwood, a violin solo by Miss Juanita Craddock and several encores by the Biltrow Ladies Quartet. The Green Cross Nurse Corps composed of about a score of young ladies immaculately clad in the garb of nurses elicited much favorable comment. Pictures were made of the gathering.

Keep off date Thursday, May 5, 1927—A Sport Dress Dance, at Christian Tavern, 1218 E. Vernon. Given by the Home Art Club. Benefit East Side Mother's Home equipment. A large crowd is expected, so come out and Reciprocity Meeting of the Federated Clubs was held at the beautiful Monday Club House at Venice last Thursday. The usual interesting Board Meeting was held in the morning and club reports and program in the afternon. Many interesting club reports were read, showing that the club women are doing worthwhile work and putting over their program big.

Mrs. Homer Dean, Reciprocity chairman, presented a reading by Mrs. Thomas and Rev. J. A. Moore speaker of the day. Rev. Moore gave some pointed remarks that should have reached the ears of every woman in this section. Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, section president, presided.

* * *

The Friday Morning Iroquois Club held an inspiring civic luncheon at Christian Tavern last Friday morning. Mrs. M. G. Patton, president, introduced Mrs. Edna Steward, who then introduced Attorney Lewis - Beeks, master of ceremonies, and who was instrumental in bringing to the Club the worthwhile and fair-minded Judges Chas. E. Haas, R. Morgan Galbreth and McCoy, each of whom made interesting remarks.

The luncheon was a tremendous success.

This club also gave a most successful State Tea last Sunday from 4 to 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Edwards on E. 17th St. Mrs. Lewis Beeks won the prize for bringing the largest number of guests, a beautiful hand-embroidered lunch set and Mrs. Page, second prize, a beautiful waxed water lily. The handsome pillow was won by Mr. Coxsey, he having had the lucky number.

* * *

Last Sunday seemed to have been Club Tea Day. The Narcissus Art Club held a successful Tea with a musical program and the Olivia Davidson Washington Club held one of the newest Federated Clubs held its initiative Tea at the home of its president, Mrs. Eva Thomas on Hooper avenue. Mrs. Booker T. Washington, Jr. whose mother is honored by this club, was present and made interesting remarks. This club has endeared itself to Mr. Washington and he said he said he intended to support it in every way possible.

THE NE PLUS ULTRA ART AND LITERARY CLUB

The Ne Plus Ultra held its regular meeting, Friday, April 10 at the home of Mildred Anderson on East Jefferson.

Owing to the absence of our president, Dorothy Johnston, who is spending her vacation in Alabama, the meeting was called to order by our vice-president, Helen Smith. Old and new business was discussed and the plans for the social to be held in the future were talked over.

The dance at Christian's Tavern, April 1st was reported a huge success. The meeting was adourned and refreshments were served.

Broadcasting G. P. G. R. C.

As we have been planning for the near future, we haven't had time to broadcast. We are planning to give a social of some kind soon and we hope that all the readers of this paper and club members will patronize us.

The Club members are giving a series of health talks which prove very useful as well as interesting. There were two talks given, one by Miss Thelma Gatlin, "Health in Relation to Feet," and one by Miss Marion Hendrick, "Health due to Public Cleanliness."

Club met over to Miss Dorothy McDaniels and she proved a very interesting and entertaining hostess.

NELLIE HAWKINS, Pres.
JUANITA BAREFIELD, Reporter

PLEASURE SEEKERS CLUB

Mrs. Bernice Wyndon entertained the Pleasure Seekers Club, Wednesday at her home A very dainty luncheon was served and the table was prettily decorated with sweet peas and Easter favors. The afternoon was spent playing whist. Prises were won by Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Washington, and Mrs. Raulse. The guests for the afternoon were: Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Rhenn, and Mrs. Saide Raulse of Chicago.

ROYAL CRESCENT CLUB

The Royal Crescent Club met at the residence of Joseph Williams, 3721 Hallidale with their president, Wendell Hill. Louis Hall as the chairman of the dance committee is doing great things towards the dance on May 20. After business was over the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

THE E. P. U'S. MARDI GRAS

The Mardi Gras Festival given by the E. Pluribus Unum Club, Saturday, April 23rd, in the Republican Hall, was quite a success.

The hall was cleverly streamed and lighted in the club colors, peach and white, while the cool, refreshing punch was of a peach color with sliced, floating bananas.

Everyone, from a Spanish Senorita, including Colonial Maids, Japanese Girls, Egyptian Dancers and Caballeros, to an American Civilian, swayed and glided to the red hot, syncopating music rendered by an orchestra of three, Leon Rene, Roy and Marvin Johnson.

Among those present were: Misses Rivierda Wood, Ernestine Holman of Long Beach, Kingdon Tompson, Geraldine May, Messrs. Jules and Wm. Narcisse, James and Ellis Salisbury, Thomas Myles, Clifford Allen, Eugene Pickett and Clifford Barrett.

By the way, all the E. P. U's. were there. Do you know them? Good time to get acquainted. Here they are: Misses Lula Perdue, president; Evelyn Eldridge, vice-president; Marguerite Vincen, secretary; Esther Beck, treasurer; Evelyn Richardson of Long Beach, Business Manager; Dorothy Hoskins, Lois Thompson, Lula Richardson and Ruth May.

Flaming Youth Club Entertains

The Musical Tea given by the Girls of Flaming Youth Club at the unique Le Republican Tea Room, Sunday afternoon, was a magnificient affair and a grand success. April's most colorful and fragrant flowers were in abundance in the lovely spacious Tea Room, which helped to cheer the host of friends who were present. Tea, nuts, candies and sandwiches was served the guests by the skillful and artistic club girls. An elaborate musical program was rendered throughout the evening by some of Los Angeles' most prominent and talented young people.

The following persons participated on the program:

Misses Thelma Dials, Thelma Swanson, Thelma Brown, Henriette Jones, Dorothy Gray, Baby Collier, Girls Reserve Glee Club, Gladys Mathoncan, Hazel Earls, Velma White; Mrs. Bartleson (Supervisor) and Messrs. Ronald and Bernard Jefferson Jackson, Palmer Johnson, Louis V. Cole, Robert Berkley, Johnson, Roy Clark; Miss Lillian E. Jennings, Mistress of Ceremonies and Mme. Mable Gray, Supervisor.

With a woman of such intellectual ability, a charming personality, a woman who stands for the education of young people, in the person of Mme. Mable Gray, supervisor of the Girls of Flaming Youth Club, there is no reason why the girls should not be commended for the excellent intelligent manner in which they entertained.

The host of friends departed late in the evening having spent a very enjoyable afternoon.

PASADENA NOTES

BY: MATT SOLOMON

Ranking with some of the best athletes in the state representing such schools as Stanford, Hollywood A. C., U. S. C., Olympic Club, U. of C., "Slick Stocks" representing Pasadena Junior College got away with eight honors which classes him as the high point man of the meet, besides getting a loving cup. There never has been a meet in any part of the state where Stocks has competed that he has not been high point man and argues well for his exclusive efficiency. Real soon he will have finished in Pasadena Junior College but he hasn't decided in what college he will further his training, it is to be admitted he will be a valuable asset to the athletic activities of any school.

* * *

The Dramatic Club of Pasadena, composed of the younger set had a hike to Oak Wild on last Sunday. This Club is composed of the best young people of the city and they are very anxious to get their work before the public and with such officers as Miss Lula Prince and Mr. Leslie Banks, President and Secretary, respectfully they are destined to make an enviable reputation.

* * *

Misses Geneva Stocks and Frances Birch attended the Garland Anderson production, "Appearances," one day last week which they enjoyed immensely after which they took luncheon at the Elite Cafe. These young girls are most popular among the younger set.

* * *

The Airplane drive for membership under the auspices of Senior Department of the Friendship Baptist Church with Mrs. Johnnie Harrison as Superintendent of that department, is resulting in a great addition to that department. Miss Frances Harris is away in the lead and it is said of Miss Harris she never loses. The drive ends on the Fourth Sunday in May.

* * *

It is to be regretted that the reconstruction program outlined by the City Fathers calls for the razing of the First A. M. E. Church and other well-established home in that vicinity. Only recently has that parish gone through an extensive building program to beautify their building as well as the corner and it is regretfable indeed to say the least that their work has been for naught. They have option on certain properties in South Pasadena Avenue and the Church was called together last Monday night to devise some plans and means to overcome the inevitable situation. With the corner thus improved there is no reason why a fabulous sum should not be obtained for the present site. Rev. J. M. Brown has worked most arduously since entering upon his pastorial duties in Pasadena, has accomplished great things and his influence has been mightily felt.

* * *

Mr. J. C. Oakman, one of the older citizens of Pasadena is suffering with a complication of diseases. Mr. Oakman is well known around Pasadena coming out here when the town was young and acquiring valuable property which he now owns in the vicinity of Orange Grove and Mundell Drive.

* * *

Mrs. Rosa Lithicomb is confined to her home by illness.

* * *

The United Church—Brotherhood held their luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. on last Tuesday evening, which was addressed by Major Frank Reynolds, Dry Enforcement Officer for California and Arizona. Dr. J. H. Riley, physician, who has recently come to Pasadena, accompanied by his wife furnished music for the occasion.

* * *

What has become of the Civic League that was destined to cut such a wide swath in the city's affairs as concerning our group? We predicted with the borning of this august body that it would blow up almost over night. We learn however that divers contentions is the cause of its present inactivities but it seems some tangible effort should be made to keep the organization intact without every man being the sole dictator. For some reason or other there seems to be a bit of radicalism creep into every organization of the kind ever launched in Pasadena and if not that it develops a rendezvous for inveterate bootleggers or hi-jackers where every man gets what he can and lets the other fellow go to the bow wows. There is no political status in Pasadena as far as the Negro is concerned, it is only a matter of taking what you are offered or leave it alone. The only remuneration anyone has ever received was a few paltry dolars to put in his "JEANS," as far as the race is concerned there is no politics. The right of franchise has warranted him nothing because he has failed to stick together. What are you going to do about it?

* * *

To better develop the young people or rather find out what they are really thinking about the pastor of the First A. M. E. Church has inaugurated a two-minute speaking schedule for each Sunday morning when subjects are assigned individuals which have proven quite an interesting feature along with the regular service. Succeeding Sundays have proven more interesting because of the effort of each speaker to impress some thought or make his argument more convincing. Mr. Leslie Banks is the speaker for next Sunday morning.

* * *

The Los Angeles 12th Street Reserves wil contest the High School Reserves in a basketball game on next Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A. The Pasadena girls claim they have the stronger team which remains to be seen. Entrance to the court via Union street.

* * *

The annual sermon of the Household of Ruth and the Odd Fellows will be held on next Sunday afternon at the First A. M. E. Church.

* * *

Already plans are being made for a great United Brotherhood picnic as badly swollen ankle. We are glad to see that she is up once more.

* * *

The "Declamation Contest" at 2nd Baptist Church, Friday, 2nd, was a hotly contested affair. Mr. Bernard Jefferson received first place, Miss Margie Johnson of Hollywood Hi, 2nd place and Miss Viola Baucom, 3rd place.

* * *

We wish to correct a mistake made in our column a couple of editions ago. We have our readers laboring under the impression that the Editor of "Glimpses and Glances" in the Pacific Defender plays a cornet. It is a trombone, dear public, and a sliding one at that. My mistake dear fellow editor.

The Business Girls' Club met at their regular hour last Thursday at the "Y" and adopted the constitution. A new member was admitted into the club, namely Miss Flossie Washington.

POLITICAL POT PIE

No regrets for the past and strong hopes for the future.

The battle has been fought and won, and now for the next one.

That fellow Snapper Ingram showed the way in the 10th District. Look out for him all along the line.

The people have said: Down with the Cossacks and Jim Crow tactics.

The Examiner says that the administration still retains control of the city council. We opine that after June 7 it will have another thought a-coming.

Suggestions for the next mayor are now in order, so we are informed.

The glory of the results are big enough for all hands to share.

DAYTON HALL OPENS

The beautiful Dayton Street Hall and Building will be open for public inspection to the citizens of Pasadena and surrounding cities, Sunday, May 8th at 2 P. M. to 5 P. M. This two-story brick building was bought by eight men for the purpose of having a place to have the fraternal and other organizations.

The building is situated in the heart of Pasadena, just one half block from Fair Oaks and contains four store rooms, hall, four office room on second floor with a large kitchen all furnished for the convenience of Lodges and entertainments given there.

The large hall is said to be the largest hall in Southern California owned and controlled by our people. The building stands on a lot 75x150. The cost and remodeling amounted to $35,000.00. The property is valued at $30,000.

All of the store rooms are kept rented. The Lodge hall is rented by the following fraternal orders: K. of P., U. B. F., S. M. T., G. U. O. of O. F., Court of Calanthe Household of Ruth Eastern Star, Elks, Foresters, Masons and a number of social clubs and on Sundays for the Scott's Chapel, M. E. Church and the Second A. M. E. Church.

AT THE BIG GOSPEL TENT

Sunday night, May 8th, Evangelist P. G. Rodgers will present the subject of the "Millenium" at the regular service hour, 7:45 P. M. The attendance at the deep, spiritual, yet highly instructive sermons by Pastor Rodgers has become the sources of great interest to the regular visitors at the Big Tent located at 20th and Central Ave. Wednesday night, May 12th is Deacons' night, and every friend of our strong deacon board is invited to be on hand. June 4th will be the day to occupy the new church at 37th and Wadsworth streets. Don't forget it and plan to be on hand. Everybody is made to feel at home in every service. Come and bring a friend.

The Paramount Club met at the home of Mrs. Pauline Moore, 1371 W. 35th St. on last Wednesday. The home was beautifully decorated with pink and green. This being social meeting the evening was spent in a sociable manner. A Radio Concert was also heard. A wonderful two-course luncheon was enjoyed by all, carrying out the color scheme of pink and green.

Of course, we'll see you at Independent Church, Wednesday, May 11. Yes! "The Belle of Barcelona."

You'll get rid of that "tired feeling" Wednesday, May 11, after you have seen "The Belle of Barcelona" at Independent Church.

Hon. Fred Roberts, esteemed Assemblyman, returned Wednesday from the Legislature at Sacramento, which has just adjourned. He is welcomed back by his host of friends among whom he enjoys the highest esteem and greatest respect that can be accorded to anyone. Mr. Roberts will be glad to rest after a strenuous session at the State Capitol.

"That made me plenty mad, but it wasn't all." Officer Sheffield then goes over to my piano and starts to play. He plays the 'Jailhouse Blues,' and then sings 'Last night you belonged to somebody else, but tonight you belong to me.'"

"That was rather rubbing it in," said the judge, "and we will take notice of it in the sentence, which will be $150 or 20 day. It could have been a lot more."

Mrs. Labado felt hurriedly through her clothes and then started for the prisoner's room.

MRS. REYFORD ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

On Wednesday evening of last week Mrs. Estella Reyford who with her little daughter, Elinore, resides at 1374 E. 46th Stret, also the residence of her sister, Mrs. Rosa Westbrook, entertained at a five course dinner complimentary to her childhood friend, Mrs. Cyntha Mosley and daughter, Mrs. Lucile Mack and Mrs. C. Other guests present were Mr. M. R. Caviness, Rev. and Mrs. Venerable, and Miss Gladys Harris of the County Charities.

Mrs. Thomas Cole accompanied by her grand-daughter, Florence Estelia Cole, returned from a week's stay at Elsinore Springs this week.

WOMEN'S LIBERTY CLUB

The Women's Liberty Club from the Pullman Porters of Los Angeles had a delightful time. "The Penny Dance" was well attended by a large crowd of beautifully gowned ladies and gentlemen, and the music havia gbeen so wondertully rendered by the pianist that the entire house was thrilled. Those who did not come certainly missed a rare treat. Everything was lovely and the entire evening was a pleasure. Refreshments were served, which allenjóyed and are very anxious for such an occasion to present itself again soon.

Come and join us and march with us as we too are marching on to victory. Our next meeting will be announced later, so watch the Eagle for all Liberty Club news.

Mrs. E. J. JASPER, President.
Mrs. C. C. FLETCHER, Secretary-Treasurer.

George is so dumb he thinks the Military Ball is a war cry.

• • •

Mr. Kenneth White used a certain phone on the Westside a couple of weeks ago to break up with his Eastside "mama" and it took exactly 2½ hours by the clock. We were told that all he could say was "yes" and "no" because the fair lady did all the talking.

THE FORUM

There will be a program of unusual interest presented at the Forum Sunday, May 8th, Mr. W. A. Caldwell will be the principal speaker; his subject, "A Solution of the World Problem of Unemployment". Mr. Caldwell has given this condition a very extensive study and is fully qualified to discuss this subject.

W. H. DUNCAN, President.
Mrs. J. C. SLAUGHTER, Chr. Program Committee.

NATIVE OF CALIFORNIA CLUB

The Natives of California met at the residence of Mrs. Lewis, Tuesday evening. The meeting was a very interesting one. The Natives are planning to do some great things in the future so watch this column and keep up with us. After a splendid program had been rendered, a delicious repast was served by the hostess.

CHICAGO UNION CHARITY CLUB

HISTORY MAKING LUNCHEON

At noon Friday, April 22, 1927, the Iroquois Friday Morning Civic and Social Club sponsored one of the most dignified and far reaching luncheons in the memory of those who are acquainted with such events and occasions. The affair was held at the Christian Tavern, a business owned and conducted by one of the enterprising members of the race and club.

For time and precision and enthusiasm the occasion has seldom if at all been equalled or surpassed.

There were present representatives from all walks of life, business, professional and social. The guests of the occasion were Judges Charles E. Hass, Charles Mac Coy, and E. Morgan Galbreth. Mrs. M. G. Patton, President of the club, presiding in a most commendable manner, introduced Mrs. Edna Steward, who in her usual pleasant and fascinating way, introduced Atty. Lewis K. Beeks, who in turn presented each of the three Judges to the very unusually large and appreciative gathering.

Snappy, pointed and timely remarks were made by each of the judges and from the spirit manifested by the listeners, everyone was profoundly impressed and benefited.

Much credit is due the untiring efforts of the members of the Friday Morning Club for their untiring efforts in the way of civic activity.

They have recently incorporated, obtained certificates and are now the purchasers of a beautiful club home, being the first Colored Women's Club in the city to issue membership certificates under permit.

A most unique affair was the exquisitely appointed buffet supper presided over by Mrs. Claribel Audrey Parker, Thursday evening, April 28th in the home of Miss Louise Beavers at 748 E. 42nd St. and complimentary to Mr. Marshall Coates of Denver, Colorado. Thirty-six of Los Angeles' swell elite selected to attend this most sumptuous affair and received the Mr. Coates who is very prominent in Denver social circles. French bouquets of garden flowers were used to decorate and Amid soft lights the perfectly attired couples danced to the lovely strains of Prof. Allen. At 12:30 the gracious little hostess announced supper. The guests entered the dining room which was a bower of flowers and repast. Too much cannot be said of this affair and Mrs. Parker who came to us a year ago, who holds her honors here as in the East for individuality.

WEDDING ANNCUNCEMENT

The Merry Widow's Club met at the spacious home of Mrs. Maude Stallings, 1325 W. 130th St., Tuesday evening, May 3rd. A most delightful evening was spent at cards. Mrs. Claribel Parker, the honoree, guest of the evening won first prize. Mrs. Maude Stallings assisted by Mrs. Juanita Scott served a most delicious dinner and cleverly arranged upon the place cards was the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Fay Bynum to Mr. Harry Beal. To take place in San Francisco on May 11, 1927. The Widows deeply regret losing one so dear to them. But wish Mrs. Bynum and Mr. Beal the greatest of happiness in their undertaking.

EXCLUSIVE 13 CLUB

The Exclusive 13 held its regular business meeting, Friday, April 29th at the home of the president, Miss Jones. Owing to the fact that the treasurer, Ruth Coney, and the baby girl's advisor, has been ill for a fortnight or more the "13" had postponed its parliamentary meeting until the above date.

The "13" is now planning to give its third anniversary benefit dance, Memorial day, May the 30th at Legion Club, which we trust will be a gala affair.

Three new members have been accepted into the "13" fold which include Misses Ethelyn Taylor, Grace Fields, and Bertha Lee Moore.

The Exclusive 13 Educational Girls Club's purpose is to lend a helping hand to the needy especially the girl that is trying to work her way through school.

Mrs. Mary L. Kitt entertained with a five course dinner Sunday, May 1st, at Mrs. F. Burdett's, 1450 Central, in honor of Rev. F. McNeal of Kansas City, Kansas.

Covers were laid for 14. Those present were: Rev. Jones and wife of Zion Hill Baptist Church, Rev. Holt and wife, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Lillian Wilson, Mr. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Mrs. Willie Mayham of Kansas City Mrs. Jane Lyons, Mrs. Beaulah Smith.

The color scheme was pink and lavender. The center of the table held a huge basket of sweet peas and rose buds.

Rev. George McNeal is chairman of the Usher board of the National Baptist Convention, and as the transportation committee. He was the house guest of Rev. and Mrs. Holt and left for home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Mary Kitt was a member of his church for 17 years and is now taking an active part at Zion Hill Baptist Church. Mrs. Kitt will leave for Kansas City next May, 1928.

MOTHERS WEEK, MAY 8-8

Special efforts are being put forth by the Young People's Christian Endeavor of the First A. M. E. Church at 8th and Towne Ave to observe Mothers' Week and Day with fitting observances.

Monday, May 2nd, a program featuring discussion of the relationship between Mothers and Daughters and the problems confronting them was given in the Auditorium. Mrs. C. A. Bass, Mrs. Solomon and Mrs. White are the special speakers. Special musical numbers were rendered.

Friday, May 6th, the Annual Banquet in honor of Mothers—auspices Girls of LeGolondrena Club.

Sunday, May 8th—Interesting programs all day.

Don't fail to witness the program Sunday evening and what is really "The Greatest Gift."

LAFAYETTE EVENING HIGH SCHOOL

Lafayette Evening High School offers a splendid oppertunity to those who are intergsted in shorthand, typing or bookkeeping. The classes are small and it is possible to give a great deal of individual help. Pupils may enroll at any time.

Golden State To Celebrate Women's Month

SPECIAL SERVICES TO BE HELD AT THE INDEPENDENT CHURCH

The Unit-holders and representatives of the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company held a very enthusiastic meeting in the club room of the Y. M. C. A. on last Friday evening.

The month of May has been designated Women's month, in honor of the splendid work of the women and the important part that they have played in the phenomenal progress of this company. The fairer sex will strive to make this a banner month in point of volume of business produced. Every woman who appreciates the unusual service rendered by the Golden State in providing first class insurance protection for the people of California, employment for our boys, girls, men and women and mortgage loans for the protection of our homes, should join in this great drive.

Special services celebrating women's month will be hld at the People's Independent Church of Christ, Sunday, May 15th at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.

At the morning hour the eloquent pulpit orator Rev. N. P. Gregg, D. D. will deliver a special sermon in accordance with the occasion.

Special features of the evening service will be that famous and gripping story in moving pictures "Priceless Treasures". Excellent music will be rendered and a short address will be given by the popular and eloquent managing editor of the California Eagle, Mrs. C. A. Bass. The program will be conducted by women. You are cordially invited to attend these inspiring services.

LOS ANGELES SOCIETY BRIEFS

By MARIE D. ROUT

Dame Rumor has it out that the President of a local chapter of a pioneer National College Fraternity and a charming little lady with the romantic name of Dorothy, will soon announce their engagement. To be sure it is only a rumor, but at the same time the Fraternity pin which the young Attorney prizes so highly has disappeared from his manly breast and the petite Dorothy has suddenly acquired one. So one may read between the lines.

The pledges of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity entertained the Chapter at a dancing party Saturday, April 3rd at the home of Walter Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Saunders of Oakland who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Robinson left for their home Thursday morning.

Mrs. Albert Baumann directed a well appointed 500 luncheon at the Parish Hall, Saturday. Prizes were won by Mrs. Dora Williams and Mrs. Venable.

The musical tea given by Mrs. Murdock at St. Victor's Hall last Sunday was quite largely attended.

Mrs. James Burt will entertain the Fleur De Lis Club Friday afternoon at her residence on Star Place.

Mrs. J. C. Hoke will entertain the Sojourner Truth club with a tea some time this month.

Over 400 guests were present at the 20th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ogden, held at Patriotic Hall last week.

A beautiful white clock was given to the Dunbar Hospital for the operating room by Mrs. Lynn, graduate nurse.

Urban League Reports on Industry for March

Bulletin No. 12 of the Industrial Relations Department of the National Urban League summarizes employment conditions as follows:

General Conditions

Employment improved somewhat during March, the advance coming late in the month. The iron and steel plants, in which a large proportion of Negroes are employed, showed improvement in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Prolonged unemployment periods in the West were eased and the months closed with brighter prospects for April.

Conditions Among Negroes

Reports from our associates in scattered parts of the United States tell of unemployment and curtailment in working hours almost without exception. This caused a general restlessness with the result that workers moved back and forth among cities within easy reach of each other. Baltimore and Columbus, usually fruitful cities for Negro workers and among the last to feel the depression, reported large number out of work.

Specific reasons were given for the shortage of work among Negroes in certain cities. For instance, in Springfield, Illinois, mine lockouts or strikes have forced some 5,000 men out of work, of whom 225 were Negroes; and in Florida work ordinarily done by Negroes is being taken from them and given to whites, and wages have been cut. In Milwaukee the retirement of colored waiters has been forced by patrons of a large hotel.

Organized Labor

Here and there were incidents showing relationship with organized labor. In Baltimore, the Young Workers Labor Party has been especially active—two colored speakers appearing at its open forum.

One half of the brick-masons of Lexington, Kentucky who received a raise from $1.25 to $1.50 per hour were Negroes.

In Philadelphia, through the Armstrong Association there, the co-operation of colored employees was sought and secured in a recent labor dispute between the Manufacturers' Association and the labor forces of that city.

SEBORRHOEA OR DANDRUFF

This is a subject of much interest both to the operator and patient. It may occur upon any part of the body, but is rare except on the face and scalp. Upon the face, it appears as a greasy or oily coating, usually upon the nose or forehead. On the head, it or less greasy, dry, yellowish or grayish scales which lie in close contact is the scaly form or occurring as more with the scalp until scratched loose or becoming quite dry are cast off in branlike flakes.

The most successful local treatment is the hot oil treatment. Remove this entirely with Poro skin or scalp soap and warm water, followed by a Poro rinse. When dry, if the skin is red and seems irritated, a box of Poro special is recommended. One box often being sufficient as a corrective.

PROTESTS OFFICERS' BRUTALITY

Los Angeles, Calif.,
843 Central Ave.
May 2, 1927.

Mr. James Davis,
Chief of Police,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Sir:

At a citizens mass meeting held at the Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma Streets, Sunday afternoon, May 1st, 1927, the undersigned committee was appointed to draft a letter protesting against and condemning the action of policemen Sheffield and Randolph in the cold blooded killing of Sam F. Faulkner last Sunday night, April 24th. We feel that the officers were unwarranted in shooting a man whom the investigation proved was unarmed and the brutal stomping of the mother's hand when she offered to raise the head of her dying son was a heinous act and moreso coming from those who are supposed to uphold the law. We have constantly received complaints from good citizens of the conduct of these men and the high-handed methods they employ culminating in this shooting.

We, as citizens, have no desire to restrain officers in the performance of their just duties and the enforcement of the law, but we do condemn ruthless killing of innocent citizens, the wanton destruction of property and acts of cruelty done by these two men.

We are desirous that a thorough investigation be made both by the Police Department and the District Attorney's Office and the findings brought before the Police Commission and the Grand Jury.

The resolutions also requested that a copy of this letter be sent to the Police Commission, the Mayor, City Council, the District Attorney's office and the press.

Yours truly,

(Sgd.) Dr. H. C. Hudson, Chrmn.

On Street Carrying Gun At 2:00 A. M.

French Curtis was arrested at 2:25 o'clock Thursday morning carrying a man-sized pistol. Officers Kelly and Davis are the officers who apprehended him and placed him in the Newton Bastile.

(Note). Under the new law passed his session of the Legislature, a sentence of 5 years in San Quentin follows gun toting.

In All Ohio No Wine Like This!

California, famous for oranges, sunshine, Sunkist maids and movie stars, is also famous for the fine wine it used to make. The "used to" also seems to be "is making," according to the condition officers Schunn and Thompson of the Newton St. Station found Frank Hamilton in at 8th and Burch Sts. Gloriously drunk, he was gazing lovingly at the last few drops of some California wine and saying to himself, "In all Ohio, no wine like this!" Hamilton is from the "Buckeye" state, but he was given residence at the Newton Street Station.

AGAIN 'RED KIMONAS'

Marie Brown was arrested at 1637 Essex street by Officers Brown and Bewley and Luvenie Coleman at 1115 E. 12th Street by Officers Church and others for the eternal trade of the modern Magdalene.

Johnson-Wants Jury Trial

George Johnson, 1165 Essex Street, on trial for Wright Act and possession before Judge Turney, asked for a jury trial and his case was set to July 10th.

New Version Of Faulk-Case

According to Lieut. Sheffield, several of the principal witnesses of the shooting were not present among those testifying at the inquest. It is said that the two women, when questioned later by the investigators told them that they saw part of it as related by the officers, but that they escaped during the excitement.

The father of the slain boy also admitted to them that he owned a gun, although he had previously denied owning one. The case is still under investigation with the outcome still in doubt.

THE ANGELUS FUNERAL HOME OBSERVES BOYS' WEEK

This being Boys' Week, the funeral of William H. Smith, of 219 Huntington Drive, Monrovia, which was held at the parlors by the Angelus Funeral Home, 1030 East Jefferson Street, was conducted by the youthful undertaker, Alphonso A. Robinson, who performed his duties as a Funeral Director with credit.

All present would say he is the coming undertaker of our city.

The family of the late William H. Smith of 219 Huntington Drive, Monrovia, California, wish to thank their many friends for their beautiful floral offering, and sympathy shown them during their bereavement.

Signed:
Mrs. ELIZABETH H. SMITH.

Will Give Grand Ball In Civic Auditorium, Long Beach

The Sunset Club of Long Beach, California will give its Grand Ball next Thursday evening at the Civic Auditorium in that city. Great preparations are being made to entertain the visitors who will come down for this occasion. Special music has been arranged for and everything to make it a memorable affair.

Mr. J. B. Brown, the president, says: "A record crowd will be in attendance and everybody will have the time of their lives."

While in Long Beach do not fail to visit the Tip Top Cafe, conducted by Mrs. Howard, 1157 California Street, where you will be served with the very best eats on the coast.

Officer Insults Woman Prisoner

(By: A. N. P.)

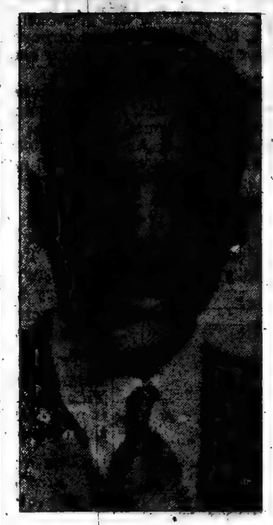
Los Angeles, Cal., May 5.—Because the police officers who arrested her were very "insulting" Mrs. Ellen Labedo gained some leniency when she appeared before Municipal Judge Raymond I. Turney on a liquor charge.

"I was both injured and insulted," declared the woman hotly.

"How so?" inquired Judge Turney.

"Why, these men," she said, pointing to Officers Sheffield and Randolph, two colored detectives, "just breaks into my house. Didn't knock or anything. I was asleep in a chair and I woke up to find them taking a bottle of whiskey out of each of my dress pockets. I didn't know how that whiskey come there, judge.

Launch Pretentious Cosmetics Concern



Wishing to broaden her field of effort, Mme. Sewilla LaMar founder and producer of the "Sewilla" Cosmetics products, has sold a majority interest to Ralph B. Williams for the sole purpose of enlarging the scope of business, and place the Sewilla product throughout the country.

Mme. Sewilla LaMar

Mr. Ralph Williams is a splendid type of the young business man, while in this section for only a few years, he has demonstrated his capacity as a hustling young business man.

It is the purpose of the new concern to enlarge upon the production of its products and establish here in Los Angeles, a plant worth while, to supply the people throughout the country.

Ralphe B. Williams

Mme. Sewilla will at a later date make an extensive tour across the country introducing "Sewilla" products and procuring agents for the same.

According to the plans of the general manager, Mr. Williams, "Sewilla" products will not only become a dominant business factor of this section, but will furnish employment for hundreds of persons of our group.

It will be purely a home town concern and an asset indeed for this section.

Announcement

I wish to announce to the public that the Sewilla Cosmetic Co., makers of Sewilla High Grade Face Powders, Vanishing Cream, Skin Food, etc., will introduce their products to the peoples of Los Angeles by having demonstrators call at your home, also on sale at your Drug Store.

There are many reasons why you should buy Sewilla cosmetics—

1—They are high grade cosmetics made from celebrated French formulas.

2—It is a local company composed of members of our group.

3—You are helping to solve the employment and economic problem of Los Angeles by creating opportunities for our young people. We ask your co-operation and support.

FLOOD BROTHERHOOD

By: HARRY LEVETTE

We strut and preen like brainless peacocks vain
Pryed in the ardor of our own conceit
Comfort and ease sequestered. Greed for gain
Flim blinds us;—while anon we loud repeat
With what great Race-pride are our souls replete.

While flower-rimmed pavements down our motors roar
A mighty water roars through bursted dykes
Trapped like doomed rats the anguished shrieks implore
The Heavens we boast of!—Man, beast, reptile strikes
For melting stores forgetting hates and likes.

Gone in a moment, toil of sweat-drenched years
Homes babies,—all swept off in murky wave!
Black, white, high, low, co-mingle hopeless tears
While pestilence stalks above a slimy grave
"Am I my brother's keeper?" Reach and save!

Investigate Carver Acres--- A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC:

In order to offset certain unwholesome rumors, to wit: That T. S. N. Maloof, owner of Carver Acres, is not the actual owner; we wish to make the following observation:

REV. RICHARD H. WADE
Manager

I solicit a thorough investigation on the part of anybody who doubts the honesty, and integrity on my part in offering these lands to the public. If any statement made to the public can be proven false, or not absolutely as advertised, I agree to frofeit $1,000 gold coin U. S. money to any one proving same.

CARVER ACRES, is the property of T. S. N. Maloof, and I am in position to give title to individual purchaser, on payment for his acre, whether one acre is sold, or the whole of the acreage is sold.

The records of San Bernardino are open to the investigation by any citizen who may desire to do so.

You will find Tract 2177 of the Maloof Highland Avenue Tract 1, recorded in book 31, page 51, San Bernardino County. You will also find Maloof Highland Avenue Tract, 2178, Plot 2, recorded in book 31, page 52.

Search the records, they speak for themselves. My offer stands to any one, and every one. If it is not as we say, you don't have to buy.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make One Thousand Dollars, by anyone who doubts our word. Remember this offer is unconditional, to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

The Rev. R. H. Wade, a man of outstanding character, and 18 years of unquestioned integrity, in California, who has for the first time to deceive the public, is my General Manager. He is known as a man of the highest honor, and invites investigation to the fullest extent. And Mr. E. B. Maxey, building contractor of 20 years' residence in Los Angeles, known everywhere as an honorable man, of strong business qualities, certifies as to truth of the facts above stated.

The land is now going. Get in now. Water rights go with the land. He who hesitates will lose.

T. S. N. MALOOF, Owner.
E. B. MAXEY, Contractor.
RICHARD H. WADE, Manager.

This property, named after the great scientist of Tuskegee Industrial Institute, offers the greatest opportunity to be found anywhere in this wonderful State, for the economical development of the Race.

Located on paved boulevards, about one hour and thirty minutes drive from Los Angeles; within 30 minutes drive from the following towns: Alto Loua, Etswonda, Cucomonger, Upland, Ontario, Chion, Corona, Arlington, Riverside, Colton and Redlands. Twelve miles from the city hall of San Bernardino. It also joins the finest Olive Grove in California.

Buy one or more acres at once. Prises advancing with improvements. Delay means loss—get in on the ground floor.

This is your one opportunity to own some of the best land in California. Rich, level soil, midst highly improved orchards, vineyards and olive groves. Geological survey shows abundant water supply; water rights with every acre. Buy one or more acres at once—$600 per acre and up.

T. S. N. MALOOF
Owner of Carver Acres

Terms—10% down and balance to suit purchaser. This amount will place you in possession of an acre of the best boulevard lands.

Gain an independence. Buy now before prices advance.

T. S. N. Maloof, is sole owner of Maloof Tract No. 2177, and 2178, Highland avenue, San Bernardino County. We guarantee to every purchaser full protection.

This is the most wonderful opportunity ever offered west of the Rocky Mountains. There will never be another such offer in your lifetime.

If you wish to get in on the ground floor in this proposition, visit our headquarters at 2727 Central avenue and you will meet our representatives who are thoroughly competent to explain all the details of this proposition.

Located in the midst of health, wealth and prosperity, on a highly improved highway, from Los Angeles to San Bernardino.

Right in line with highly improved orchards; about 54 miles from Los Angeles' Court House. Also the finest place in the State for poultry, rabbits, in fact everything that you want to raise.

This acreage is surrounded by several large cities. Plenty of water, guaranteed for domestic use by the owner.

T. S. N. Maloof will endeavor to assist you in building your home with all the necessary improvements. I am not a promoter, but owner of this tract. I am in a position to give a grant deed, and a certificate of title to each individual acre bought and paid for.

Do not measure my proposition by others of a like nature. Mine is different from any other yet given to the people of California. In fact there is nothing to compare with this proposition.

I also finance and build homes anywhere in Southern California. Resources unlimited. If you have the purchase price on your acreage we will make every effort to build for you; putting in fences, chicken corral, rabbit hatchery, allowing you to pay out in small monthly instalments.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make a substantial beginning toward an independent future. We also carry Fire Insurance, Rentals, Sales,—City, Country and Suburban properties. In fact anything in the Real Estate line. Information cheerfully given.

MUSIC AND ART

By: HAROLD BRUCE FORSYTHE

Whenever, during the course of a more or less social evening, the conversation swerves to music, and some maiden, mesdame or monsieur rolls his or her orbes toward heaven and refers to this or that composer as being "divinely inspired," to this or that composition as being "heavenly," it is with great difficulty that I smother the stentorian snort that essays exit through my nostrils.

I know of not other public delusion that is more ridiculous and widespread than this "Divinely inspired" business. Every composer worth his salt turns out his pieces seated comfortably at a desk. And they write carefully and painstakingly and often, as in the case of Beethoven, laboriously. Whatever inspiration that they possess is either cerebral, personal, or derived from experience: i. e.: an enamorata, John Barleycorn or some other man's compositions. Or from that abstract and wholly undivine thing called Genius.

After all, it is an ill swindle that fills nobody's pockets. For if the censors and the public were intelligent in their judgment and valuation of music, dire things would happen. I sweat to think of it. "Jurgen" and "Sister Carrie" were suppressed because even a censor can read, but much music that is anarchic, pathological, sensual and highly spirodisincal is allowed to run rampant, because of the inability of yokels to comprehend it. Many of Beethoven's symphonies are gigantic blasphemies, and with his Egmont overture would probably be suppressed if we did not suffer from the "Divinely inspired" hallucination. Wagner's Tristan, his "Ring" and certainly his Parsifal are far worst than Jurgen! Huneker called Parsifal "an outrage against music, morals and religion!" Yet millions of ignoramuses maintain Richard was Divinely Inspired. Sensuality fairly rants in the pieces of Chopin, Tschaikowsky and Alpheraky. Some of the works of Richard Strauss are not only libidinous, but downright obscene. Glance at Salome, glance at Elektra! Mencken swears that no woman who has heard Der Rosenkavalier is ever the same again.

Of course many composers have tried to write divine music. But in doing it, they exhibited a wide expanse of pantaloons for the placement of divers critical kicks. Humperdinck tried, in "Hansel and Gretal" and failed. As Van Vechten asserts, he demands more upon scenery than music for the Heavenly effect. Mascagni tried, in "Iris." Gluck in "Orfeo," and even Strauss made an attempt. But it seems that they did not highly succeed.

But hear I voices of dissention? Am I unaware of Francks' "The Beatitudes?" Handel's "Messiah," Bizet's "Largo from Xerxes, and Haydn's "Creation?" Here is exalted music! you may argue. But I am not dazed. Like Schubert's marvelous Ave Maria, they are unconditionally magnificent and beautiful, but their very subjectivity, their very drama, their very freedom, their very HUMANITY eradicates any suspicion of divinity in them. They are no more divine than the men who wrote them.

I am convinced that the only music that could even remotely be called Heavenly is that of the old Meideival masters. To hear of their choruses or masses is to walk out of the clear sunlight into the mysterious, vague, incense laden, cloistered walls of a Cathedral. It is inhuman music, it is objective music, it is ungratifyng music. But that doesn't weaken my argument, since the maidens, mesdames and gentlemen I am lambasting have probably never heard of Lassus, and couldn't tell a chorus by Palestrina from Arnold Schoenberg's Clatre de Lune.

Ah! sad is the tale, and I shed many crocodile tears in telling it. I know too, that in relating it I shall probably be condemned as a depraved and impious heretic. But, nevertheless, it is a fact that composers have had greater success in depicting satanic scenes than divine ones, even as we have seen that they have a penchant for the aphrodisiac. Therefore I hereby advance the hypothesis that they are inspired not by God, but by the Devil. The lives of most of them certainly highly support my theory, let it be understood right here! They were certainly immoral fellows, as we measure morality! According to our existent beliefs, every great genius who ever lived, with very few exceptions, is now feeling the licking tongues of flame, and Mencken, Cabell, Toomer, Strauss et. al! it is only a matter of time before Old Nick has them on his pitchfork. Hence I think I am logical.

Witness, doubters, Schubert's "Erlking" and his "Gruppe am Tartarus." The Ave Marie is banal beside them. Witness the devilish "Faust" of Gounod and the "Mephistophele" of Bolto! What a contrast to the banal Ave Marie melody Charlie grafted on poor Bach. Witness Saint-Saen's Dance Macabre, wherein Death and the Devil fairly romp! Witness Scriabine's poem "Satanique"! Witness the Chopin Scherba that "sounds as if we were entering the very gates of hell"! Witness any of the devilish music of the Neo-Russians! Witness any of the devilish music of Dvorak's New World Symphony! Witness the sardonic, colossal scherzo from Beethoven's Eroica! That is "like two giants boxing clumsily, to a crazy piping by an orchestra of dwarfs, while the devil looks on." Witness Paganini! Witness Richard Strauss' Zarathustra! Witness the terrible, shrieking grief, the terrific and unholy despair in the Corte Funebre of Ernst Block! Witness Prkofieff's "Sept. Il sont Sept"!

And friend, if you are not overwhelmed witness the "Devil's Trill" sonata of Tartini. As we all know, Tartini flatly swore that the Old Boy, played the piece to him one night. So wonderful was the devil's fiddling, declared Tartini, that no human could approach it. The devil, according to Tartini, is the universe's champion fiddler. He could hardly, for all his alleged genius, be divinely inspired!! At any rate, believe this yarn, or condemn Tartini as a liar, (as I assuredly do) but this sonata is decidedly devilish—and it draws an excellent simile.

Well, well, perhaps I rhapsodise. But it seems that when we bring the guns of Reason to bear on the Fort of Tradition, things begin to happen. The inmates of the fort whoop and exhort, but it falls, nevertheless.

Isn't the harp the official divine instrument? Try to find great music written for it. It is almost ar rare as great music for the Contra Bassoon or tympani. But bold on—I mean soli, not ensemble pieces and not transcriptions.

But the fiddle! The official instrument of old Nick. Some of the world's greatest music has been written for it, and it rules with an iron hand, the greatest of all instruments—the symphony orchestra; while two harpists are usually employed, who sit with their arms folded most of the time, save when they aid the devil in his work, as in Saints Saens' "Danse Macabre."

WILL AMERICA NOW BOW TO HER SUPERIOR SINGING GENIUS AS ITALY DID AND HER ALL-WHITE SUPPORTING CAST?

It is with a most jubilant pen, that we write these words—for we know what Florence Cole Talbert is, was and would do, and we are also glad to furnish the Eagle with her Italian program—a deathless document in the years to come, a program conveying Florence Cole Talbert's masterly Grand Opera Stellar role "Aida" artistry, surrounded by a friendly white artists' cast in a first-class playhouse in sunny Italy, making her forget all the fearful indignities and the heart-rending rebuffs she had to endure in cloudy America!

How will Florence Cole-Talbert be received in America before and after she arrives in Philadelphia, having scored the highest marks of distinction ever attained in art by a Negro woman, even surpassing, far surpassing the astounding feats of Roland Hayes!? What will America now do for her? Will Coolidge, our President, now wake up and receive her, as Italy has received her, or will he still pass by the renowned Negro Artist? Stupendous, marvelous, singular in the history of mankind, never before carried through by any Ethiopian artist in the world, must be adjudged the splendid, daring and deathless feat of Florence Cole-Talbert. This writer, in the flush of his pleasure and the caution of his thought, now suggests that a triumphal procession of her thousands of friends be organized, a public banquet to follow in Los Angeles, and a gala night of singing arranged for her at the Philharmonic Auditorium, that will be crowded from pit to dome.

Los Angeles will now wake up as will America at large, and atone richly, superbly and lavishly for the awful neglect and the mischievous ostracism that had been heaped upon this greatest, best and most leading artist of any time and age, the Negro race has so far produced on the singing and Grand Opera stage.

THE LEGION CLUB

Main St. A. C. Serving A Knock-Out Dish Saturday Night

The Main St. A. C. famous for its fast, rugged bouts that remind you of the 4-round days, and the number of K. O's. that take place in an evening has lined up a bunch of sleep producers for Saturday, May 7th that intend to do the usual thing of sending the patrons home early. Here is a bunch of boys that along with their gloves and other equipment always bring a stretcher equipment with them to haul away the other fellow:

ACE HUDKINS LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

BIG CROWD AT STATION.

CLYDE AND AB. HANDLING STABLE

With press cameras clicking and a general handshaking in progress a large crowd saw Ace Hudkins off from the S. P. Station, Saturday evening as he left at 6 o'clock for New York. Among them was the mortar mixer of this page, by special invitation, who gave Art, who accompanied Ace, letters to the Press Director, Claude Barnette, Jack Johnson, Bennie Butler of the N. Y. Tattler Noah D. Thompson and others. The Hudkins family and the throng of well-wishers were all sorry to see the fine, clean-cut, popular boy leave, even though he goes to bring back the championship of the welterweight division.

BASEBALL

The Williams-Jasper Baseball organization with Mr. A. Jasper, president has lined up a first class team of semi-professionals under the name of Los Angeles All-Stars. They have reported several players from the Southern League, Texas and Tennessee, several players from the Army in Arizona, including a fly-chaser. They have also obtainable and are ready to begin playenlisted some of the best home talent ing on the second Sunday in May. The home grounds will be at White Sox Park.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

If you can, you may start training for C. C. (Pick 'em) Pyle's 2,000 miles foot-race from Los Angeles to the N. Y. Yankee Stadium to take place next fall.

The Cowboy to Rope the Strongboy

HOLLYWOOD STADIUM IN FISTIC RODEO

Rodeos being the fashion right now Tom Gallery has lined up a little ring rodeo for the sake of the faithful patrons of Hollywood Stadium. The fans of Cinemaville crave more action than the usual club fans perhaps because they like the change from the imitation of the lots to the real of the arena.

With Cowboy Jack Willis heading the bill against Everett Strong they are assured of getting plenty real fighting. The bill follows:

Cowboy Jack Willis vs. Everett Strong, main event, ten rounds; Jackie Spencer vs. Dallas Bateman, semi-windup, six rounds; Herman Auerbach vs. Billy Clark, six rounds; Bud Cougle vs. Joe Abramson, four rounds Dick Lepan vs. George Bray, four rounds.

CURTAIN CALLS AND CRITICISMS

Anything goin' on?

AT HIPPODROME—Friday, 6th, picture "Hills of Peril" and Vaudeville. Sat., 7th, the Franklin Brothers in "Frolics Mid-air, Half-backs of Harmony, Three Wise Hicks," etc.

ROSEBUD—Friday, May 6th, Gift Night, "A Kiss in a Taxi." Sat. 7th, "Exit Smiling" and 4 acts Vaudeville, also return of Riddle Rider.

LOEWS STATE—Corinne Griffith, "3 Hours." Fanchon Marco idea "Modern Women."

PLAY HOUSE—Indefinite run of Garland Anderson's stirring play, "Appearances."

PASADENA AND CULVER CITY BOTH FEATURING NEGRO HEAVY-WEIGHTS

Just as we go to press these fighters are climbing through the ropes at Morrie Cohan's Pasadena Armory:

Mack House vs. Walter "Kid" Palmer, main event, ten rounds; Joe Bailey vs. Jack O'Brien, semi-windup, six rounds; Tommy Moore vs. Hank Gatlon, six rounds; Al Wilson vs. Battling Carasco, four rounds.

And down at Culver City the great George Godfrey, the Black Shadow of Riverville is giving Jack Roper one more chance to vanquish him. Fine! Here is the bill:

George Godfrey vs. Jack Roper, main event, ten rounds; Jimmy Leathall vs. Tiger Thomas, semi-windup six rounds; Arizona Joe Rivers vs. Joe Layman, six rounds; Sandy Garrison vs. Johnny Richards, four rounds; Dick DeHoog vs. Tommy Cleary, four rounds.

GETTING ALL SET NOW FOR DICK DONALD'S WRIGLEY FIELD SHOW ON MAY 16TH

Boiling all down closely the prospects for the Wrigley Field shows being culled over by the California Rickard are narrowing to a La Barba-Taylor bout for the championship on May 23rd. Then La Barba and Vacca in June, Callahan against the best opponent possible the same month and a championship battle between Pete Latzo, welterweight chompion and Ace Hudkins, uncrowned king of that division.

Charley Moore to Race Lou Moore at Bakersfield

A match race between Charley Moore, colored, and Lou Moore, white, will be the feature of the big 100-mile race meet, May 9th at Bakersfield. This will be one of the few races held in the West between a colored speed demon and a white one. Lou Moore has been taking down a lot of laurels at the Ascot Park races on Sundays, while Charley Moore will be remembered as the fastest, most daring driver of the races held here by the Western Race Drivers Association. It is not known at this writing what car Charley will drive being offered several, one by the Coca Cola people, but he says he is determined to win and bring the bacon home.

Duncan Sisters Said to be "Temperamental"

It is reported that Rosita Duncan of the famed team of Duncan Sisters, now making "Topsy and Eva" for United Artists, is very temperamental and insists on telling the director, Del Lord, how to make the picture, and Joseph Schenck is said to have his hands full. The picture originally was to be made by First National but due to a disagreement was not.

GIRL-ETICS

By: GLADYS MATHONICAN

Almost every afternoon Ross Snyder Playground is the scene of energetic practice by the girls of the Eastside Baseball team. These girls really have their game at heart and are planning on playing a group of white girls, a spectacular game, at an early date.

• • •

The members of the Girl Reserve Basketball team are having some very strenuous workouts since their first defeat by the Pasadena G. E's. Their coach, Vernon Fulcher, says that the next group of girls who play his team will not find the members such "easy pickings."

These girls have their second game with the Pasadena girls Saturday evening, May 7th at 8 o'clock. This game is to be held on the basketball court of the Y. W. C. A. in Pasadena. The local G. E's. met with a 39-3 defeat at their first game with the Pasadena girls. But it seems as if the score will be reversed at the game Saturday night. Be sure and come out to support these girls. A few cheers from their friends will urge them on to victory.

• • •

What you've been hearing about the G. E's. of 12th St. Center having a track team is true. The girls out for track are being coached by Fred Fisher, who is said to have made a statement to the effect that there is very promising material for this sport among these girls.

• • •

The Girl Reserve Baseball team is being coached by Vernon Jordon, well known track star. Under such competent hands great things may be expected of these girls.

Baseball and Other Pen-Blots

Baseball every day at Wrigley Field.

The Los Angeles fans will see the great Walter Mailes this week. Mailes is the biggest drawing card on the Coast. He will pack the field all week. Mailes beat Oakland last week 3 to 1.

Earl King is one of Frisco's best pitchers. He will show Hollywood some stuff this week. Earl is a good hitter, one of the best hitting pitchers in the League.

The Los Angeles fans will see Left O'Doul the league's leading hitter, the boy that hit in 19 straight ball games; and how that boy O'Doul can run bases—he goes to first like a deer.

Bob Davies is going to have a newsboys contest for Kid Romer, Abe Attle and Handsom McEveny. Red Butler says if they got into the contest Handsom McEveny wouldn't have a chance. All the boys say Butler is a cinch. Funny loking fellows like Romers are taking milk baths to make them goodlooking. Red Butler says all he has to do is to drive down Broadway and he wins. Red was a good-looking felow till he hit the Yellow Cab.

Watch for the newsboys' big ball game. Handsome Jim Austin will pitch the first ball and that will be all.

Frank Cardellar, big man from Livermore, would like to take George Godfrey to Livermore to chase some deers he would get in shape. Tex Rickard sent him a wire to bring his white hope East. Cardellar has a big white hope, 222 pounds. Johnnis Ratto, 222 big strong fellow thinks he can beat Sharkey.

L. A. Giants, Formerly "Watts Monarchs" Played to Packed Park at San Diego

Though receiving the news too late for details, word has come through the San Deego dailies that Jib Hunt's great made-over team, formerly called "Watts Monarchs," played in San Diego last Sunday and gave the Jacob's Club there the toughest "May Day," they ever experienced. This team prides itself on the fact of never having lost to a Negro team, but with Foote's pitching, and the Giant's making three hits and two runs in the first chapter Hunt's boys got away to a good start, that they only lost in the last innings. Lewis featured with a 3-base hit, Adams a double and 2 singles. San Diego had 3 scores at the end, to the Giants' 7 but admit they were lucky. The 2nd game of the 3 game series will be played Sunday, May 8th. The home games, the first of which will be announced later, will be played with new suits and other equipment at the home grounds at 116th St. on the red car line.

Doc Snell to Mix Up Something For Grimes At Olympic, Tuesday

According to matchmaker Wad Wadhams, Doc Snell of Washington is going to mix up some stuff called sleeping powders. He intends to administer it in a sudden dose to a certain unwilling patient named Billy Grimes; said treatment to take place at Olympic Auditorium on the evening of Tuesday, May 10th. Now, this same Billy may turn the tables and administer this same dose to Doc himself and he has been known to do such things.

Grimes came away from Australia bringing the feather, light and welterweight titles to his greedy suit. He seems to be good at all and is making 126 for Snell. Two good boys, both tough, so with the usual good line up of appetizers the 10-round "operation" is sure to furnish plenty of excitement at the pugilistic "clinic."

Skiff Skimmers Derby

The channel boat race by rowers will take place on June 11th from Catalin2a Island to the mainland. As before stated the Eagle will enter Upton's Pender, the swim hero, also a "dark horse" rower who will equal a motor boat.

NEW COMETS BREAKING INTO THE PUGILISTIC SKY—KINNEY FLINT AND TOMES

The very near future is going to see three new boys cause quite a splutter among the stars that are now occupying the space in the realm of fisticuffs. These are Charley Flint, 120; Grover Cleveland Tomes, 18; and Leroy Kinney, 195. These boys are being groomed and carefully trained by one of the best known and most experienced trainers in the game, "Old Folks" Williamere. He has been bringing them along carefully as only he knows how until he is just about ready to let them put some of the stuff into effect that they have shown in training. The star of the three at present is Kinney, the heavyweight. This boy is fast and strong as a giant, shows plenty cleverness already and a lot of speed. Tight places in some of the realistic workout at the Main St. gym. have shown that he is game, cool under fire and possessing a good head. Several matches have been lined up for him. Tomes has fought twice professionally, bet one and got draw and for him and Flint some good matches are also being worked up.

"Oughta Seen That Fish That Got Away!"

With the opening of the trout season all the real disciples of Izaak are out to catch their limit. Dr. Albert Baumann went off last week-end to add more laurels to his fame as an angler. We haven't learned what he brought back. Dr. Hartis is another famous fisherman but he likes the deep-sea denizens best. Fishing is fine off Redondo now.

SID SOCKLYN BACK FROM SPRINGS

Sid Socklyn the gunner boxer who socked Ace Hudkins at Hollywood harder than he had been socked since out on the Coast was now at Muriatta Springs with his manager Lon Dillon and stablemates Joey Abrahamson and Charley Hill. Sid put up a good, game fight and against the greatest welterweight in the game did well.

Art Hudkins' New Protege A Second Ace

Art Hudkins seems to have discovered a second Ace in Martin Dublon the aggressive boy who really earned the decision over Benny Miller at the Olympic, Tuesday night. He is a southpaw and looks to Boston his opponent of the time. He would be pay up.

WHY ?

• • •

Do little guys,

• • •

Get so al fired important?

• • •

We meet some hero of preliminary bouts.

• • •

Or some accidental "sensation" who has made a couple of "lucky" wins.

• • •

We grin, bow low and say "howdy." He gives us the icy stare, looks through us and barely speaks.

• • •

When along comes some real fighter, like Ace Hudkins, champion Bud Taylor, champion Mandell, champion Mushy Callahan, Godfrey or Tiger Flowers and he slaps us on the back, pokes out his mitt and says "glad to see you old top," etc.

• • •

The above comparison goes for a lot of would-be managers too, but we always notice, the more a guy has or the, more he knows the less he tries to show it. Enough discussing bonehead though. Gee, what a hole in the Western boxing game with a bunch of the best fighters gone East.

• • •

Clinch-ess fights will soon get in demand with a few more Zorilla-Sarmiento bouts or Tendler-Hudkins toe-to-toe battling. Really I would love to snitch to the fans on how some of our boys mistreat themselves out of the ring; and expect to win fights too. Wouldn't Pyle make a great promoter? Would you like to say something through our column,—class us? All right you're welcome, shoot it right in any time, to Yours Truly.

Along Fisticuffs Row

YOUNG HARRY WILLS went to San Diego, scene of his many victories for a short visit.

BILLY EVANS and YOUNG JACK THOMPSON spent a week in Elsinore. Jack claims to be a great swimmer. We shall challenge him.

• • •

LONG TOM HAWKINS sings "Where shall I go, when I go, if I go, will I find Mack House waiting, waiting to fight?"

• • •

YOUNG FORD was not quite seasoned enough for the ring vet, Tony Fuente, hence the quick loss.

• • •

WINT ROSS has been flooded with offers for Eastern fights since his Gulf Typhoon beat Sarmiento. They want Amador also.

• • •

SAILOR LARRY says he was worried about the Faulkner murder and was not right for the fight with Ernie Owen.

• • •

LESTER JOINTS, "Gentleman Jenkins," Whitey Black, Tiger Robinson and the rest of the family are doing well, thank you.

• • •

YOUNG STRIBBLING who fought Longhran is training his young brother whom Walk Miler and Pa Stribbling have named "Baby Stribbling." He is a promising kid.

• • •

• • •

RALPH VOLKE leaves for the East shortly. He has trained Mushy Callahan, Bud Taylor, Jimmy Finley and other good fighters. Expects to be in Hudkins corner at the Sergt. Baker fight.

• • •

ALFONSO GONZALES vs. Baby Gans for that $1000 bet. Clyde is holding the Hamilton check, ready to plank it down, as soon as the piker side is ready.

YOUNG SAM LANGFORD GETS O'BRIEN'S PART-NER KILLED

Fighters of years ago seek other ways and means to earn a living. Sam Langford, O'Brien, training for Dempsey has taken four sparring partners among them Young Sam Langford. But after watching one round with Sam he told George Tuthington Brady's manager, "I won't let Sam lay until the fourth eight rounds with me every day I will pay him four men's wages. I would rather lose him than all the rest." So every day he and Sam had it just same as at the Manhattan gym.

UPTON'S RAILROAD CLATTER

By Chas. L. Upton

TALES O' SHEFFIELD

By: Chas. L. Upton

A certain landlady had told her worldly guests, that they need have no fear in regards to the law in her house, because she was for protection. She had no sooner got the words out of her mouth when "Sheffield" walked in the back door unannounced. After looking things over, he told the "gang" the wagon was outside burning gas on the city and was rarin' to go.

"But! Mr. Sheffield, how's this? There must be some mistake. I'm paying for protection," said the indignant hostess.

ROBERT FISHER BURIED

Robert Fisher better known as Bob Fisher among the railroad men was buried last week from Connor and Johnson's funeral parlors after an up hill pull of over two years in a valiant effort to regain his health. Bob had been given up to die several times, but his exceptional will power seemed to always pull him together for a fresh start and so he lingered on in this manner hovering between life and death until the Master called him last week. Bob was very popular with the men of this district having operated the Sacramento line for some time from which line he came to the "Lark" where he was first taken sick. He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife and a host of friends. Rev. Cleghorn preached the funeral which was attended by approximately a hundred Pullman Porters.

• • •

CRAZY MAN RUNS AMUCK ON TRAIN

A crazy passenger en route from New Orleans climbed down from an upper berth during the night and went rampaging up in the day coach of the train where he struck a sleeping passenger in the head with his fist. He then stuck his fist through a window before he was overpowered and handcuffed. Porter C. B. Andrews, a new arrival in this district, was in charge of the Pullman and related the story to the writer.

$30,000 JEWELS LOOT IN SOCIETY TEA ROBBERY RECOVERED ABOARD TRAIN

The "Iron Duke" a nefarious jewell crook was arrested on board a speeding Southern Pacific train in the Mojave desert last week, after he is said to have cached $30,000 worth of diamonds in a washroom of a Pullman car of which Porter C. H. Jackson was in charge. He was attempting to make his escape to San Francisco.

A loaded automatic pistol was found in the man's bag when the officers clamped the steel handcuffs on his wrist. Pullman conductor Jack Beauman who had charge of the train was shadowed every second during his layover in Seattle by detectives who thought that he might have some knowledge of the whereabouts of the balance of the loot.

PORTERS CLAIM BEDROOM CAR A WORKHOUSE

The operating of one of the latest type bedroom cars on the "Lark" has brought forth much wailing from the Porters (or chambermaids) who will operate them, in an interview with Porter L. Jenkins, the first man to take one to San Francisco. They are far from satisfactory as far as the porter goes. Jenkins claims that he started to prepare the car for the reception of passengers at 3:30 P. M. and worked every minute up until receiving hour which is 7:35 P. M. After you reach the yards the Porter must fold up all blankets and put them in the locker, put away all the floor mats, thermos bottles and numerous other equipment which consumes much time. About nine rooms were occupied on the initial trip, and they average about the same as passengers occupying the regular compartment cars. The only advantage that a porter has on the new car is to have his work all finished when he backs into the depot. It is thought that they will have to send the car if they expect any one man to stay on it. Fourteen room is no cinch and the men of this district aren't looking for work by any means. The name of the first car to leave on the "Lark" is "Night Watch" and is to be operated in addition to the regular compartment cars now already on the "Lark."

• • •

"LARK" UP FOR SID

Porters are in confusion over the posting up of the "Lark" entire train, for bid. On account of the new car recently put on this train it is every man for himself and a wild scramble has been started for a permanent car, everyone is knocking the new car on account of the work attached, and we look for some new faces on this train in the near future.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC DINING CAR EMPLOYEES TO GIVE DANCE

The Southern Pacific Dining Car employees are making great preparations for their first annual Spring Frolic which will take place Thursday evening, May 19th at 15th and Main. Snappy music will be rendered by the Sunnyland Scintillating Octagon Rhythm Kings. Invitations are now in the mail and according to Clarence Johnson a record crowd is expected to attend. It will be remembered that the dance given by these boys last year was acclaimed one of the outstanding events of 1926. This year said Mr. Johnson promises by far to surpass last year's dance, so if predictions prove true this will be a red hot affair. The committee consisting of Richard Burgh, that Southern Pacific sheik, Douglas De Vaughn, and J. B. Tanner speaks for itself. Get your soup and fish ready now because everybody that is anybody will be there May 19th.

PILLOW SLIPS

Southern Pacific red caps are in the midst of a no-error week, and are striving hard to make it a hundred per cent. Each porter has a button which they wear on their uniforms with the inscription "No-Error Week."

Rocks in the Bed

J. D. Fowler and Luther Wilson are seen daily taking cat naps on desk chairs and tables in the Red Caps' quarters at the Santa Fe. We wonder if they have rocks in their beds at home nights. We wonder! Yes, we wonder!

Frank Thompson, Santa Fe Red Cap is the champion buttermilk drinker of the depot. The boys are taking up a collection to purchase Frank a cow.

The Porters operating on the "Sunset Limited" have requested that the line be pooled. This will require 18 men to operate it.

New Orleans Porters have been given lines 3463, 2640½, and 3489½ from New Orleans to Los Angeles. Well! Los Angeles porters should not make any holler over this especially this summer. A good way to duck the hot desert.

E. Rogers has been operating on the "Lark" in Bob Fisher's place. It is thought the run will be posted up for bid at once.

That wonderful combination of the three "Dicks"—Dick Norwood, Dick Stafford and Dick, better known as little Dick—is now broken up.

When Mr. Ross signs you out to the "Night Watch" just make up your mind to go to the yards at 3 P. M.

J. W. Stumbs has been off for a few trips.

Since Fullylove and Springfield were on that train in which they found the $30,000 worth of diamonds we would like to know where they were when it all came off.

The Maids are singing the blues about not making any money. Just join in the chorus because no one is doing that now a-days.

L. High is very fond of reading the Railroad Clatter, but he never buys one—How Come, High?

J. Carter, No. 2, was passing out oranges election day. Wonder who he was pulling for?

The Gold Coast is now operating all Maids through to Omaha. Quarters have been established there so it looks like a permanent thing this summer.

Los Angeles Porters have been given the Gold Coast permanently. For a while it was rumored that Chicago would get it back this summer.

Porter G. D. Smock cut his lip severely by a falling head board which was put away wrong by some thoughtless porter.

They tell me a Maid sat in the depot at Omaha recently all night long. Wonder how come?

Get ready for May 22nd, it is coming. It is reported the Santa Fe has already hooked five Chiefs, eight twenty-tows and about seven California Limiteds. You know what that means, and that is not counting what will go out over the Union and Southern Pacific.

They tell me that Joe Holmes is now operating a "tourist car. How come, Joe?

Care of the Teeth

BY: J. WINNIFORD ROUT, D. D. S.

The Deciduous Teeth

The deciduous or milk teeth as the name implies, are temporary in their nature, and after subserving the purposes of early childhood, are thrown off to give place to permanent teeth.

The deciduous teeth are twenty in number, ten in each jaw, and begin to make their appearance around the sixth to eighth month after birth, this is merely the average date however, as the teeth may erupt much earlier or later.

The lower anterior or incisor teeth are usually the first to erupt. The full set are in place at about the second to third year.

We cannot impress upon our readers too strongly the value of these baby teeth to the health and economy of the child: if you value your child's health and the proper development of his jaws and consequent appearance, do not neglect his temporary teeth.

The deciduous teeth serve not only to properly masticate the food of the growing child, but also aid in the development of the jaws, and act as guides for the correct alignment of the permanent set which follow. If the deciduous teeth are neglected and allowed to decay, the succeeding permanent teeth are almost certain to be affected. Every effort should be made to preserve and retain these teeth until such time as nature displaces them to make room for the permanent set. The toilet of the teeth should begin as soon as the teeth are fully erupted; the baby teeth should be cleaned regularly each day with a piece of absorbent cotton, saturated with a solution of borax or weak salt solution. As soon as the child is old enough, about four or five years—he should be taught the use of the tooth brush (use a small soft bristle brush which will not injure the delicate tissues of the mouth but will at the same time, cleanse the spaces between the teeth). Encourage tooth and mouth cleanliness in childhood, and the practice becomes a habit not easily broken. If mothers would be as diligent concerning the cleanliness of their children's teeth as they are of their children's neck's and ears, there would be far less need of the dentist in later years.

Examinations by the dentist should be made of the child's teeth at frequent intervals—at least every six months, in order to detect and fill any cavity which may appear, since decay once started in children's teeth progresses very rapidly—far more rapidly than decay in the teeth of adults, owing to fact that children as a rule consume a great deal of sweets and soft foods.

The diet has a direct bearing not only on the health of the teeth and gums but also on the development of the jaws. Coarse foods, such as whole wheat bread, green vegetables, fresh fruit, the coarser cuts of meat, etc., in other words, foods that require the use of the teeth, all make for well developed jaws, pearly teeth, and healthy gums. White bread, soft foods, and an overabundance of sweets and pastries are sworn enemies to oral health, and should be avoided as much as possible, especially in children's diet.

Keep the Highway Clean, is Warning

The early spring touring season has already begun and the highways leading out into the great open spaces are, week by week more and more crowded with motorists answering the call of the open road.

One of the suggestions sent out by the National Automobile Club to the motorist in this season of the year is to "Keep the highways clean." Every picnicking party that leaves the city on a week-end jaunt carries a supply of tin cans, newspapers and straw waste material which, usually on a Monday morning, appears in a conspicuous place on the face of Nature.

Drive along our country highways after the summer touring season has been in full swing for a month or two and you will find abundant evidence of the need for some restriction upon the traveling public in the way of disposing of refuse after a momentary halt at some picturesque point in the journey.

The forest camps demand that the picnic refuse be burned or buried and if every motorist would feel the necessity of this mode of procedure, his favorite picnicking spots would always be clean and inviting and there would be less opposition on the part of the country farmer to the picnicking motorist on his Sunday expedition on the open road.

GIANT SEQUOIAS NOW IN BLOOM, SAYS REPORT

The General's Highway in Sequoia National Park is in good shape as far as Hospital Rock, seven and a half miles from the end of the State highway, it is reported to the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It is expected that this route in the Southland playground woul dbe open and in excellent condition as far as the Giant Forest Trail, two and one-half miles from Giant Forest, if new storms did not arrive. Excellent shape is reported for the road to General Grant National Park to a point called the Big Stump, one and a half miles from the park. Latest information is available at auto club offices.

The Sequoia Giganteas in Giant Forest are beginning to blossom, so that brilliant yellow crowns are seen contrasted against the somber green of the forest background. More than eighteen varieties of flowers are reported in bloom in the adjacent foothills and canyons.

Safety Glass Company Opens Office in City

Formation of the California Triplex Safety Glass Company with offices at 1145 South San Pedro street, Los Angeles, is announced. The company, directed by Mr. W. E. Gephart, is a branch of the Triplex Safety Glass Company of North America, with headquarters at 75 West street, New York. Mr. Gephart will have the California territory and vicinity.

The product of this company is a plate glass that does not shatter, for use in auto windshields, jewelers' show cases, and similar places. It has been in wide use in England since 1914, where it is compulsory equipment on many public carriers, such as air-mail planes, busses and railways. It was this glass which Mussolini ordered from England immediately after his recent bomb attack on his car.

The glass is made of three layers, the middle one being of celluloid, and the outside ones of plate glass.

TIRE MILEAGE GREATER, SAYS AYRES REPORT

Recently Col. L. P. Ayres, nationally known economist, gave out some interesting figures in regard to the automotive as well as the automobile tire and gasoline business.

Col. Ayre's report shows that as yet the closest approach to saturation point in automobile sales and production is a very 'slight symptom,' and so far as tire business is concerned, none whatever. More than 17,000,000 passenger automobiles were in use at the end of 1926—and it is estimated that close to 1,000,00 cars are junked each year. Col. Ayres's report brings out that tire production and sales 'go steadily forward year by year whether general business is good or bad, and without much relationship to the actual production of new automobiles.'

This is due to the fact that most automobiles are in use about the same amount of time and for approximately the same mileage regardless of how times are. Of course, the longer the cars are driven the more tires they use up. With the normal seasonal increase in the use of automobiles for touring and excursions this spring, it is very evident that prices will follow the increasing demand, as tires today are being sold at the lowest prices in many years and it is reported that manufacturers are doing little better than breaking even at these low prices.

Ignition Troubles Prove Most Common

Statistics secured through the emergency roadside services of automobile clubs all over the world are proving valuable to manufacturers of automobiles as well as service men in pointing out the weaknesses of motor cars on the road.

The latest report of the Royal Automobile Club of England is of particular interest including as it does a comprehensive survey of all the causes of accident as well as delay to motor traffic on the road. As with the National Automobile Club emergency service, the English motorist suffers his principal trouble from the ignition system. The English Club shows that 22.5% of the engine trouble comes from this cause. Accidents account for 14.1% while rear axle trouble is charged with 12.6%.

The annual report of the Service Department of the National Automobile Club shows that 40.5% of the calls for aid necessitate a tow; 26.5% come under the classification of roadside repair; 9.9% for gas and oil and 23.1% for tire change.

Ignition and battery trouble are the chief causes of calls for aid, mechanical trouble is second and tire change third. Cars stuck in mud or sand are fourth on the list, wrecked automobiles fifth and calls for gas and oil act for sixth place.

'Twas an exciting moment in the neighborhood of Bunker and Hammond St., Pasadena, last Sunday afternoon, when young Mr. Winston, Jr., the gallant son of Mr. Thad Winston, Los Angeles successful contractor, eyes espied the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clarke sitting on the porch of her parents' drinking in the sunshine. Brakes were immediately applied to bring the speeding lizzy to a stop. Results, 2 tires blew out, head-on collision at street intersection, both cars wrecked. The young man is in the hospital; the young lady ill from the shock; the Clarkes sorry it happened and Pa Winston on the warpath with mother, the youngster's best friend, trying to cool him off. We sincerely hope that father will have a heart this one time and forgive his son. Remember, you were 17 not so many years back and we daresay lost your head too when some winsome damsel crossed your path as you drove Debbin down Ebony avenue in the dear old city of New Orleans. Have mercy, father, have mercy!

REGISTRATION OF NEGROES IN N. C. CAUSES POLITICAL CONCERN

(By A. N. P.)

Raleigh, N. C., May 2.—From present indications the Negro vote will be the deciding factor in the forthcoming city election. Acting upon the advice of the political leaders of the State of North Carolina, hundreds of Negroes have registered and are eligible to vote.

This large and unprecedented registration of Negro citizens has caused much concern in political circles here and has become a distinct issue in the campaign between the present office holders and the candidates. Mayor Culbreth in discussing the matter declared that "we have as law abiding colored citizenship as any city in the state and if colored people desire to take part in the city election that is their privilege given under our form of government, which is non-partisan."

This same attitude is taken by Ed. G. Birdsall, Commissioner of Public Safety, and C. C. Page, Commissioner of Public Works, who represent the opinion that "any citizen who can read and write the Constitution has a right to register and vote in the city election.

The opponents of the present office holders, however, are of a different opinion and declare that the registration and participation of Negroes in the white man's election foreboades evil and trouble. One policeman has resigned because of the "repudiation of white supremacy" and the candidates for office have sent telegrams throughout the state and to United States Senators from the South, decrying the attitude of Mayor Culbreth and others on the ticket.

Chas. Moore, one of the oldest Negro comedians in pictures, will write the "kindergarten of fame" for the benefit of those who read this column and don't know where some of the greatest stars of the screen learned their business. The famous Sennett Keystone Corp. once tumbled, slid, cracked their ribs, and skinned their beans for the magnificent salary of $3.00 per day. Some of the boys that were members, spend that much now per day for cigars.

Erie Kenton, Del. Lord, Ford Sterling, Eddie Sutherland, Slim Sommerville, and others consist of that bunch. The Sennett school has graduated more stars than the Ziegfield Follies and all the convents in the country. Others are Gloria Swanson, Louise Fazenda, Betty Compson, Phyllis Haver, Mabie Normand, Chaplin, Lloyd, Chas. Murray and others.

Poro Returned To Owner

© A.N.P.
MRS. ANNA M. MALONE

St. Louis, Mo.,
May 11, 1927, 11:00 P. M.

California Eagle,
Los Angeles, Calif.,
Associated Negro Press

The Malone case was settled Monday. Poro receivership has been permanently dismissed and "Poro College" returned to its owner, Mrs. Annie Turnbo Malone by order of the court. Mr. Malone, however, received small cash and real estate settlement, the amount of which has not been divulged. The divorce suit is still pending and will be tried later. The future proceedings of divorce trial will have no effect upon Poro College.

This brings to a close one of the most tragic and unfortunate happenings which attracted the attention of the people of our group thruout the nation. The action of Mr. Malone in throwing the great Poro College into the hands of a receiver threatened dire consequences.

While people hesitate at all times to interfere or even appear curious in domestic affairs, the action of Mr. Malone in his contentions seemed so unfair and unjust, that the colored people of all America 99 per cent strong, condemned his actions and minced no words in so informing him. A mass meeting of national import was held during February at which strong forces from the length and breath of the land were present and took part in the demonstration of protest.

Finally Malone broke under the strain and after a while, we surmise from events of recent occurence, that the very pleasing victory for Mrs. Malone was gained. We are sure that all lovers of fair play and the square deal rejoice at this ending of one of the most unfortunate instances which has ever happened.

SONG RECITAL

Minnie M. Albritton - - - Lyric Soprano

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored people have arranged to present the wonderful Lyric Soprano, Miss Minnie Albritton in Recital which will be her last appearance on the Coast.

She will be assisted by Bernice Stout, who is an artist of real worth and a pupil of Miss Lilas G. Hart.

This combination will indeed be a rare treat for the music lovers of Los Angeles and it is predicted that a record crowd will attend. The Independent Church is the place and Tuesday, May 31st the time.

Two Colored Women Beat And Rob Arabian Peddler

Police are searching for two Negro women, names unknown, who are reported to have overpowered Kasna Mohammed, an Arabian peddler, beaten and robbed him. Bleeding profusely from a cut over one eye, Mohammed, who lives at 1523 Mateo Street, reported to Newton police that he had entered a house at 816 Naomi to try to sell the people living there some goods. While talking with them the women entered and attacked him, knocking him down and beating him severely. Then while one held him, the other went through him and took $35 from his pockets. Mohammed's injuries were looked over and given first aid treatment at the Newton Street station.

'Let's Have It All Please' Says Gentleman Bandit

Th above words were spoken quietly and politely to Mr. H. Baker, who was stopped at 1790 W. Adams about 9:45 Wednesday night by a fashionably "gentleman bandit" and relieved of $110 in $s, 10s and 20s. The stickup man was dressed in a light gray suit with corresponding tie and new straw hat and shoes. With his small 32 revolver pressed into Baker's back as Baker seemed a little slow finishing the job from his various pockets, he said, "Let's have it all, please". And securing it, vanished into the darkness.

WILD PARTY ENDS IN MURDER

(By A. N. P.)

Salem, N. J., May 10.—Arthur Green, well-known in this section and a driver for a chain store company, was shot and instantly killed by Susie Garland, following a midnight drinking party.

Authorities are working upon the theory that jealously prompted the Garland woman to slip a revolver from her handbag and fire at Green as he was going out the door. The first bullet went through his heart.

Sheriff Robinson arrested the alleged slayer and Virginia Laws, of Jericho, Gloucester County, a half-mile from the scene of the shooting. They were walking toward Camden. The Garland woman at first denied the shooting. She is held on a charge of murder and the Laws woman as a material witness. Coroner Denn will conduct an inquest. The Grand Jury which has finished up the short list of cases for the term will probably be recalled to hear this case.

Suit had been entered to recover two years salary at $6,000 a year, under Garvey, by Marks, who was in the deputy chief potentate for the 9th of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, but he resigned last August and sued for [illegible]

Ask President Coolidge For Square Deal For Black Flood Sufferers

(By A. N. P.)

Washington, D. C., May 10.—Rumors that the great relief fund being raised principally in the North for the benefit of the flood sufferers, might, if it was handled like such funds are said by survivors to have been handled in the past, serve to benefit the planters, and not the black refugees, who constitute ninety per cent of the people affected, have gained some currency here. It is said that in the past because these funds were administered by the whites exclusively that in many instances Negro farmers and their families never even knew there was relief extended, their rations being doled out to them and charged up to them, in much the same manner that the iniquitous plantation system is ordinarily worked, so that they were going into debt for relief.

Mr. Pickens urged President Coolidge to appoint a colored officer to work with whites administering relief. His letter said in part:

"Perhaps the majority of the real sufferers from the flood in the lower Mississippi Valley will be colored people—farmers, tenants, and farm "hands."

"It would be well, therefore, if the government of the United States would appoint as the right-hand help to the person or persons put in charge of relief in the different areas some Negro officer charged with the special duty of loking sympathetically into the needs and condition of the colored sufferers, and working under the general directions of the dictator or other officer in charge.

"It would prevent a great deal of suffering and avoid much American scandal if the co-operation of intelligent and honest colored citizens could be had on all such occasions where the interests of the Negro masses are so dearly concerned.

"Conditions in the southern part of the United States make this necessary. There may come a day when color will not have to be thought of on such occasions and in the midst of such disasters. But that day has not yet come.

"When labor is 'conscripted' there, it will be mostly Negro labor. There will be a great injustice and much scandal unless there is sympathetic official contact of the government authorities with the local colored leaders and people. The white leaders appointed will doubtless us th local colored men, but as such men of color selected personally and locally will have no authority and little influence beyond the wishes of the officers who appoint them, their use will be mainly an abuse of the rights and just interests of the colored sufferers."

Secretary Sanders acknowledged the letter and said that by direction of the president the matter was being referred to the Red Cross.

LITTLE ROCK QUIET AFTER DASTARDLY LYNCHING

Low Brow Whites Frolic; Colored Leaders Flee

By: THEODORE HOLMES
(Staff Correspondent of The Associated Negro Press)

(By A. N. P.)

Little Rock, Ark., May 7.—With National Guardsmen stationed at Ninth Street and Broadway, the heart of Negro business district, the City of Little Rock was in a state of quiet all day Thursday and Friday morning, following the lynching and burning at stake of John Carter, aged 30, demented Negro escaped convict, charged with having brutally attacked two white women a mile west of the city, Wednesday morning about nine.

Immediately following the reported attack, more than 500 automobiles armed with pistols and scores of shotguns began to scour the vicinity where the lynching was said to have taken place, and after compiling the bullet riddled section for hours, Carter was found about five o'clock.

Apparently sensing that he was almost captured, Carter took refuge in a tree. When one of the searchers spied the buried man, he was ordered out of the tree. Carter pleaded in vain with his captor to spare his life, but was turned over to the mob that had assembled.

Shouts were diminished to the hospital where the women were under treatment. They were asked to hurry to the scene that positive identification of the man might be made; Carter was at once identified by the women.

The vicious crowd immediately stripped him up to a telephone pole, his body being filled with more than 200 bullets. The bullet-riddled body was tied on the front bumper of an automobile and the men, now 300 strong, loading into waiting machines, drove at high speed towards the city through Fourteenth street. Before reaching West Ninth street, the mob took the corpse from the front end of the car, tying it to the rear end and dragged it through the Negro business district. Keeping this up for an hour, the body was dragged through the principal thoroughfares, driving by the City Hall, thence back to Ninth street and Broadway, where the already mutilated body was placed in the center of the intersection of these streets. Old furniture, boxes and everything else obtainable was put upon his body which was saturated with many gallons of gasoline and burned at the stake as thousand of onlookers, men and women with babies in their arms, watched the flames dwindle away.

Meanwhile, guns were discharged fast but aimlessly. Aaron Christian, a colored man who appeared on the scene unaware of what was going on, was beaten almost senseless as cries of "Burn him" were heard. Only the sympathetic plea of one member of the mob caused the men not to place Christian though alive on the funeral pyre of Carter; Christian was taken to the hospital, where his condition is regarded as serious. The lynching and burning of Carter here is the first man to be so punished in thirty-six consecutive years.

Leading white citizens led by the local chamber of commerce deplored the disgraceful act and have drawn up resolutions condemning it in no uncertain terms. While this reign of terror which lasted for more than three hours was in progress, hundreds of colored families terror-stricken were huddled in their homes pleading, although in vain, for police protection.

Mayor Moyer and Chief of Police Rotenberry laid down on their task and duty. Neither at their homes nor at the City Hall were they. It is said that they had left town. An appeal from Major James A. Pitcock, chief of detectives, to assistant chief of police Crow, promising that "if you will let me pick fifty men I can go up there and stop this business," was received by a laconic "No," from the acting chief, it was reported. With the civil police and county sheriffs making no active steps to quell the rioting, it grew in volume.

Gov. J. E. Martineau, who also was out of the city, but on business, dispatched an order for a unit of the Arkansas National Guard to take charge of the situation with Captain Harry Smith in command. The militia men rushed to the scene about ten-thirty Wednesday night and after a brief speech by the commanding officer the crowd quickly dispersed.

"Use your heads but use your guns, too," were the strict orders of the governor to the guards, upon his arrival here Thursday morning. Orders of "keep moving," were given by the soldiers and by daybreak except for the presence of the guard and hundreds of motorists, making sight-seeing tours through West Ninth street, everything appeared normal.

But when hundreds of the colored office and shop employees failed to report for duty Thursday morning there was presented a different picture. Had these employees remained away three or four days, Little Rock would have felt it.

The entire vicinity of Ninth street and broadway, pride of Little Rock Negroes, lost striking semblance of an almost deserted village. However, Friday morning, virtually all employes returned for work and there was an air of "business as usual." At the intersection of streets where Carter's body was burned is situated the imposing home of one of the race's greatest fraternals, the National Mosaic Templars of America. Right across the corner from this building is the costly and beautiful Bethel A. M. E. Church, a survey through the colored business and residential section Wednesday and Thursday night, revealed that practically every light was extinguished and no stirring about was heard whatever. At this writing torrential rain is falling and the soldiers, with helmets and raincoats, donned, are at their posts.

Remembering the wild demonstration made by a mob Sunday night last when Lonnie Dixon, a mixed-blood half-breed, confessed to the slayer of a Little white girl, secret of colored residence, including many leading citizens, fled the city, taking refuge in Hot Springs, Pine Bluff, and other nearby towns. Mayors of the various [illegible] consensus of the Negro opinion could be obtained was, this situation. Those who remained in the city would not permit themselves to be quoted. The Pulaski County Grand Jury has promised complete investigation saying that all officers who neglected their duty would be taken from office.

IN CHICAGO

BY: C. A. B.

It was in the midst of a primary election, in which William Hale Thompson, as far as the Black Belt was concerned, was the bone of contention, and it is stated by best authority that in the nomination and election of Thompson, greatest help came from Negroes who gave him 70,000 votes.

It is, however, argued by some that Negroes should not form, in large Metropolitan cities like New York and Chicago, compact sections almost entirely by themselves. And, in support of this argument, they use for example, the Tulsa, Oklahoma affair, for declare they, it would have been impossible for them to have met with such disaster in loss of lives and property had not the populaton condition prevailed.

But then, on the other hand, as for example, the Chicago election, this solid political strength, by the Black Belt, is the only record that we know anything about where Negroes get together in spite of opposition in their own group and put into office a man from whom they may expect some political recognition and to those who walk while they read, let us impress this fact upon you, that the appointment of Bishop A. J. Carey, member of the Civil Service Commission, is a wonderful step forward in the way of civil recognition. For when Negroes of education and culture backed by unselfish desire occupy places, not only of honor, but of trust wherein they are called upon to do service for all people, then and not until then, will we begin to see the true light of political freedom.

The old settler in Chicago will tell you, in course of conversation, that the possibilities for the National development of the Black man are greater in the Windy City than they are in New York or any other city in the States.

NEGRO HERITAGE

In view of the fact that De Saible (Baptiste) a black man was Chicago's first settler—that it was he who struck the dense thickness of a lonely forest and started the trend of civilization this way should awaken a peculiar pride in the heart and mind of the Chicago Black man, for by right of heritage, he is real owner of a city which says of itself, that it is destined to become an even greater Metropolis than New York or London.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Day, matron of the Indiana Branch of the Y. W. C. A., we were able to see many other historic sections of Chicago not viewed on the National Negro Press Association sight seeing trip—among which was the Urban League, Kathryne M. Johnson's Branch book shop at 4509 Prairie Ave., the University of Chicago and the North Western University at Evanston, Ill. We also viewed the spot where Loeb and Leopold murdered the little Frank boy, saw the perfect replica of the first Chinese ship that came to America which is anchored on Lake Michigan.

We visited Dr. L. K. Williams' big Baptist Church on the morning of Sunday, February 20th, and found that leader and his congregation, absorbed in political doings of the day; to the extent that we were unable to get a fair estimate of the astute program of that historic, religious institution. We also visited others of the larger Chicago churches. Found that like New York, Chicago Black folk go to church, and are duly proud o f the history attached to such of their historic institutions, as Quinn Chapel A. M. E. Church.

Aside from those already mentioned we are greatly indebted to Mr. Claude Barnett and Mr. Chandler Owen, who generously contributed to the pleasantness of our Chicago visit.

Just when we were becoming acqualnted with a most pleasant group of young women at the Chicago "L" the stop signal went off and we read the sign "Go"—

On Sunday morning, February 27th, we boarded a train on the Illinois Central for Springfield, Ill.

OIL STATION ROBBED

An oil station attendant named Nichols was held up and robbed of $20 by a lone bandit who fled on foot after repairs made on his car. Then instead of pulling out slowly in his car he ran across the street and took off like a scared rabbit. The station is located in Lincoln Park at 8310 Mission Road.

War Declared on Lower California Land and Development Co.

In last week's article, we told you that we were working on some matters that might furnish glowing headlines for our city daily papers. We might state that these matters that we referred to did not fully mature, although we have successfully got them started and hope to bring them to a final and successful conclusion in the near future.

We told you some weeks ago of having preferred charges of moral turpitude against the smart and wide-awake attorney, Hugh E. Macbeth of the Lower California Mexican Land and Development Co. On last Monday evening, April 25th, 927, Mr. Macbeth was cited to appear before the Los Angeles Bar Association to answer these charges. The hearing was not concluded last Monday evening but was continued until May 16, 1927. Several persons, including men and women were on hand to testify to the Grievance Committee of the Bar Association concerning how Mr. Macbeth had duped them into buying and selling tickets for this fake automobile raffle.

One lady, in her testimony, told of an experience she had in the raffle that seems almost too horrid to relate. She said that she had a sick husband, suffering with tuberculosis, at the time that this raffle stuff was being pulled off, and that she followed Mr. Macbeth from Church to Church and from place to place listening to him tell the wonderful things that would be accomplished through putting over this automobile raffle and thereby realizing sufficient funds to build a Sanitarium for such patients at Santa Clara Ranch. She said that she gave her services in the selling of these tickets continuously and unreservedly thinking that possibly she would realize a place where that she could send her sick husband to gain back his health.

She stated that all she has realized out of her work and sacrifices to this cause is that today she has lost her husband, a sum of money that she gave toward making the raffle a success, and the good will of a person or two whom she had persuaded to buy these tickets. We think that she testified that she sold something like $40 or $50 worth of these tickets. She also stated that on one occasion, Mr. Macbeth had made arrangements with her to park this Packard car that was to be given to the winner in her front yard for part of a day for it to be inspected by her friends and prospective ticket buyers. She said that on this occasion she had several invited friends and guests at her home to see the car but that it never appeared on the scene.

Another lady told of having sold $250.00 worth of these tickets and turned the money over to Mr. Macbeth or some of his henchmen. She also stated that she had a cancelled check for $50.00 which she had paid out of her personal funds to a friend back East to whom she had sold this $50.00 worth of tickets. Several others testified wherein that they had bought and sold tickets ranging in amounts from 50c to thirty or forty dollars.

With all of these facts staring them in the face, some of Mr. Macbeth's admirers and a few "would-be" and "no-good" race leaders are trying to force us to shut up. We might as well state here, that the Negro who justifies such leadership as the above mentioned and who takes issue with us for trying to expose such leadership, is a bird of the same feather and the only thing that keeps them from trying the same thing is the lack of intelligence or nerve to come out and try it and get exposed to the public as those who do try it are getting done to them. You can depend on us to fight and keep fighting. If the ascendency to prominence, power and recognition must lead us up the steps of unkindness, unfairness and injustice to the man and woman-hood of our Race, then may the Angel of Perdition guide our feet down through the valley and the shadow of death to graves un-honored, un-wept, and un-sung.

In the charges that we have filed, there are three counts, namely: Automobile raffle, unfair tractor deal and misuses of the company's finance. Up to the present date on the charge on the raffle has been heard. We are going to stick to our guns until the other two counts are heard. We have no information to give out nor prophecies to make at this time as to what the outcome will be. This of course will be left entirely with the Bar Association. We are going to place the evidence there to the best of our ability, and may the Lord see that justice is done not only to the people but to Mr. Macbeth also. We have continuously told you from time to time that our interest was not motivated by prejudice or hatred or unkindness, but by justice and fair play. We could have settled this thing long ago outside of any kind of court if it had been possible. Mr. Macbeth denounces and says he knows nothing about this agency at all.

In pursuance of our policy to give the people of Los Angeles nothing but facts concerning the management or rather, mismanagement of the affairs of the Lower California Mexican Land and Development Company, we have been solely adapted to divulge certain startling facts with regard to recent activities of the redoubtable attorney, H. E. Macbeth. However, we will not confuse the issue and shall again revert to the auditors' report which divulged the gross mismanagement under Macbeth's steam-roller regime, and threw light of day upon so many shady and crooked transactions.

The auditor, in the course of his work, came across a great many of Mr. Macbeth's personal checks drawn to pay obligations of the company and records which tended to show that the funds of the company had been deposited in Mr. Macbeth's personal account for a long period of years. I shall quote a paragraph from the audit report with reference to the above in belief that the intimation is so clear, and the reference so explicit, that only such weaklings and dudderheads as those spineless parties who continue to support Macbeth, can fail to see the application. That paragraph reads:

"The act of banking corporate funds in the personal account of the corporate secretary (Macbeth) and paying obligations therefrom, especially while an account in the name of the company is in existence at the same time, is a strict violation of good business procedure and the by-laws of this company. In this instance no authority for this procedure may be found in the minutes of the company and this manner of doing business is severely criticised. The governing by-laws of the company provide that all monies should be deposited in the name of the corporation, in bank, by the cashier of the company, subject to the check signed by the president, secretary and treasurer." The auditor's statement ends with the pungent statement: "Such negligence on the part of a fiduciary officer is inexcusable, not only in the officer himself, but also on the part of the Board of Directors who fail to require such reports." The parentheses above are our own.

For a man of supposed intelligence and discretion, Mr. Macbeth has certainly made a dismal failure. Not only has he shown utter lack of business ability, but also lack of that thing which is most vital to successful business relationship, integrity and honesty of purpose. We make this statement fully advised and without fear of the consequences, for who would have the temerity to say that our learned and astute attorney, so long a leader in our civic affairs, an aspirant to big business honors, was ignorant of the cardinal principles of business, or incapable of following even in spirit the by-laws with which he cloaked his crookedness and allayed our suspicions for such a long time?

We thank God, and the people of Los Angeles may well thank God, that at last there have been some men of sufficient determination to expose this pernicious practice and put an end to the reign of one so utterly unfit for public confidence and esteem. This much, at least, we have done. Nor is this by any means all of the things we know have been done to hoodwink the people and prey upon their confidence. Week after week, we have placed before you clear facts to show this perfidy, now you may be the judge as to whether or not we are justified in our contentions for a change of leadership in our enterprise and the complete absence from our midst of utterly unfit for human association.

World War Gave Birth To Great Urban League

With all its horrors and the subsequent evils of reconstruction, the World War was primarily the cause of one branch of good endeavor in the city of Los Angeles that is steadily increasing in its scope and efficiency. This is the Los Angeles Urban League. Its Industrial Secretary, Mrs. Katherine J. Barr, a graduate of Tuskegee Institute, observing the spectacle of the large number of returned soldiers out of work, saw the need of definite steps being taken to somewhate relieve these conditions of unemployment. So, in 1921, she called a few interested persons together and organized the Tuskegee Welfare League. It soon became evident that not only was their program similar, but almost a duplicate of the rban League work.

So, on being induced to take up the work, they were included in the organization the following year. With three years of hard struggle, kept in existence by subscriptions from charitable people, by the Community Chest talking over the organization, the work became somewhat easier. After Noah D. Thompson was added to the staff, his excellent work greatly strengthened the cause and gave Mrs. Barr a larger scope in the visiting field.

From the building at 1335 Central avenue, she directs the many activities of the Los Angeles Urban League. Among them are social service, including visits to families, provisions of food and clothing, letter writing, lodging to needy men and educational programs delivered.

Another service was the Day Nursery wrice which maintained a Day Nursery for the care of small children whose mothers are employed. One of these had to be discontinued during the past year for lack of funds. Donations of mothes and toys are solicited and distributed and each year from 115 to 135 needy mothers and children are housed in a summer camp where they enjoy the benefits of fresh air, rest and recreation.

During the past year 1619 children of 8 different nationalities were cared for in the Day Nursery; 598 quarts of milk were given away; 800 children were given permanent homes in private families, 74 visits were made to business establishments and 214 conferences held with miscellaneous employers in regard to opening avenues of employment to citizens of the United States, rather than employment of non-citizens in their stead. At the large building set back in the spacious yard, rooms are maintained to provide lodgings for strangers, and needy men.

The salvage department keeps a plentiful supply of good, clean clothing, and the emergency relief is at all times engaged in using the telephone and telegraph to locate the relatives of, or possible transportation home for some boy or girl. A garden maintained on the premises not only supplies the table with vegetables, but provides work to jobless men until they may be placed at outside work.

Mrs. Barr, who is still Secretary of the Los Angeles Branch is giving her whole heart to the work in hand, and with enthusiasm over the work accomplished last year, has great hopes and plans for the present year now in its infancy.

Parents of Raid Victim Give Version of Shooting

APPRECIATE GOLDEN STATE SERVICE

According to the statements of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Faulkner, parents of Sam B. Faulkner who was killed by Police Officers Sunday evening, April 24th, their son was the victim of a cold-blooded murder. They are unable to understand why an innocent, unarmed man should be shot down without any warning. The following statement was made by the father and corroborated by the mother of the victim:

"On Sunday evening, April 24th, my wife and I were sitting in the front room of our little home on East 51st street. Our son, Sam B. Faulkner, was in his room. He had retired for the evening.

"A terrible noise was heard in the front house in which my daughter lives. Our son jumped up and ran in the direction of the noise, followed by me. We peeped in the window but couldn't see inside, so we called and asked what was the trouble, but received no response. It sounded as though some big fight was taking place.

"We ran around to the front and tried to get in, we found the window open so we crawled in, my son in front and I was just behind him. As soon as son stuck his head in the doorway of the next room a shot was fired and my son fell to the floor.

"I ran outside and called to my wife and told her that they had killed our boy, then went to the front door but before I could step inside a shot was fired at me. I turned and ran as fast as I could to the store on the corner and telephoned for the police. I still didn't know that the men in the house were officers. Neither my boy nor myself had a gun. My wife knelt by the side of the lifeless body of the boy, but one of the officers kicked her hand away and threatened to shoot her if she did not move.

"We are law-abiding citizens and believe in justice and right. There's no necessity for the officers of the law to commit such a crime. We are the victims of the most unfair and unjust treatment that could be given to any citizens.

"Our son carried an endowment policy in the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company and we are certainly thankful for the prompt and sympathetic service rendered in our sad hour of bereavement by this splendid organization. As soon as the necessary proofs were filed we received full settlement of claim, Five Hundred Dollars, ($500.00).

"The representatives of the company were very king and showed a personal interest in our trouble by giving us all of the assistance that could be desired."

(Signed) MR. J. FAULKNER.

ED MORRIS MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE

(By A. N. P.)

Chicago, Ill., May 9.—Edward H Morris, head of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, and prominent lawyer of this city, may be named upon an independent judicial ticket for the circuit court bench which is to be filed Saturday. The Democrats and Republicans in order to avoid having a contest in the judicial elections have got ten together and agreed upon a coalition ticket, part Democratic and part Republican, which would mean the re election of most of the present judges. Two groups one headed by the lawyers' association, and the other by three of the sitting judges who were not included in the slate are opposing this plan and will, it is said, put separate tickets into the field. The latter proposed the name of Mr. Morris. It is known that Mr. Morris has as his greatest ambition in life the desire to act as a judge. Wealthy and practically retired, he returned to active public life four years ago when he was nominated as one of the coalition candidates for the circuit court. He ran last, however, and was defeated. It is not known whether he will stand on party regularity or make another effort to gain the coveted honor.

SINCLAIR WHITE MURDOCK'S SEMI-ANNUAL PRESENTATION OF VIOLIN STUDENTS A GLORIOUS TRIUMPH

By Louis Michel

Amidst flowers, Russian tea fumes, dainty cakes and surrounded by 750 enthusiastic admirers, St. Victor Hall, 16th and Essex Streets, on May 1st, revealed Sinclair White Murdock as the greatest violin impressario the race has produced. One of three greatest female race artists in this city. Her pupils tell her wondrous art.

Sinclair White Murdock is one of the three greatest musical geniuses of the female sex of the Ethiopian tribal breed, now dwelling in this city, the other one in her class is now in Italy and the third one, for an obvious reason, is not named here at this time.

It is only the unvarnished truth and clean justice to classify her as one of the leading violinist virtuosos in the world, but, as a capable and marvelous pedagogue on the violin, she has few, if any, equal rivals in this city, and that applies liberally to all the violin teachers of any race. She is, as she has demonstrated on many notable occasions, a real wizard and an entrancing charmer on the violin, one of the few rare women players that can touch the human heart by the noblest tones of her beloved violin, and Fritz Kreisler-like, she, too, is also a most capable piano player.

At St. Victor's hall, at 16th and Essex Streets, on Sunday, May 1st, from 2:15 P. M. to 5:00 P. M., she had her Spring recital of a picked number of her pupils, ranging in size, age, grade and nationality from all types and personalities, 10 males and 8 females that wielded the bow under her guiding and piano direction. Unique and entirely novel was this great recital, attended by 750 people of all classes, for a Russian tea with cakes, wafers and candies, was served in full, comfortable European style and rigid formalities and conventional idiosyncracies were strictly tabood, as this affair was a genuine duplicate of the old type salon pattern so richly enjoyed in the cultural circles of the best musical countries in the world. That her classes have grown larger from year to year and attracted at each recital, an increasing number of visitors, investigators and critics, is only a natural growth with her wonderful popularity, based entirely up on her deft virtuosity, her vital and honest intensity and her bewitching charm as a teacher and performer.

Madame Sinclair White Murdock's Rich Program

1. Master Jesse Harvey: Minuet by Beethoven.
2. Mr. Walter Lewis: Pizzecato, Bond
3. Miss Coletta Moore: Indian Love Call, Friml.
4. Master Jesse Harvey: Humereske, Davorak.
5. Miss Lue Prieleau: Fantasie Pastorale, Singlee.
6. Master "Farina" Hoskins: Kentucky Home.
7. Mrs. Alice Ebernow: Spanish Dance, Moskowski.
8. Master Julian Chin: Rubenstein's Melody in F.
9. Miss El Rea Maxwell: Majurka, Mynarlski.
10. Master Hubert Fuertardo: Air Varie, Dancla
11. Miss Harriet Rose Jackson: Mighty Like a Rose.
12. Master Charlie Williams: Spanish Dance, Refeld.
13. Miss Rubylene Glover: Souvenir, Dradla
14. Mr. Perty Williams: Faust Fantasie, Aland.
15. Miss Victoria Rice: L'Travatore Fantasie, Singlee.
16. Mr. Roland Wharton: Romance Boiero, Dancla
17. Miss Mildred Jennings: Cavatina, Bohm.
18. Mr. Lawrence Lassiter: Scherza Tarantelle, Wieniawski.

Piano—Mr. Harold Forsythe: Prelude, Rachmaninoff

Piano—Mr. Samuel Brown: Etude de Concert.

Songs—Mr. Wm. Starks: Since you went away, Johnson; Bonds Love Song and a Sacred Song.

Mistress of Ceremonies—Miss Temwheeta Moore.

It is a most difficult matter in a limited space to go into extensive criticisms. The banner pupil, Mr. Lawrence Lassiter, played as if driven on by a resistless divine power, and only a woman of Mme. Murdock's powerful gifts could have brought the towering Lassiter genius to such full fruition. The heart of purity of Sinclair White Murdock was revealed in a most touching manner, when she, entirely wrapped up in the fine ability of young Lassiter, forgetting her own self, recommended him as a violin teacher to the audience, altogether competent to begin a regular teacher's work for violin pupils from this fall, 1927, when Mme. Murdock will issue her teachers certificate to this marvelous blank boy. Mighty sweet, old yecond to Lassiter, sounded the romantic and artistic violin of Ronald Wharton. His tone is as straight and symmetric as he is himself. The little girl, Mildred Jennings, only 8 years old, was really thrilling and inspiring. What will she be in 5 more years, if she works hard and stays with Mme. Murdock? Perry Williams, too, was good, but is yet too keen to score the higher violin strokes. If Miss Victoria Rice is full nervous, her tone will be very sweet as she has ample ability. Every pupil is worthy creditable consideration [illegible]

The Critic Talks To Music Lovers

BY: SAMUEL L. LACIAR

Mr. Rodman Wanamaker has adopted a new and original plan to encourage composition among the Negro musicians of the United States by offering, through the Robert Curtis Ogden Association of the John Wanamaker store, prizes aggregating $1000 for certain new musical works, the composers to be limited to those of the Negro race. The Robert Curtis Ogden Association is an organization composed of the Negro employes of the John Wanamaker store in Philadelphia, and was formed for the educational, social and artistic development of its members. It was named at the suggestion of Mr. John Wanamaker for the late Robert Curtis Ogden, a partner in the store, whose philanthopic work for the Negro race stands scarcely second to that of any man.

The National Association of Negro Musicians, Inc., the interesting convention of which organization was held in Philadelphia last summer, and whose president, Carl Diton, is a resident of this city, is co-operating in the work, and it is hoped that some compositions of permanent value will be secured, as well as giving a great impetus to the creative side of music among Negro musicians.

Mr. Wanamaker has divided his offer into five groups of five prizes each; that is, he offers five prizes—first, second, third, fourth and fifth—for five different types of compositions, making twenty-five prizes in all, which in value range from $100, the first prize in each group, to $10, the fifth prize of each.

* * *

The five types of compositions specified by Mr. Wanamaker are: A "Hymn of Freedom" (for chorus), a "Love Song" (for voice or instrument, with accompaniment either orchestral or piano); a "Lullaby," either a new melody o an old one, with new harmonization, and either vocal or instrumental; a "Prestidigitation"; that is, a jig, scherzo or dance in any form for piano band or orchestra; and "Melodies and Motifs of Synchronistic Effects."

As will be easily seen, over the musical possibilities of these various groups, an immense amount of latitude is offered to composers. Those who find one style or form of composition uncongenial to them will surely find in the list something which will allow them to exhibit their best powers of musical imagination and workmanship. In this way the contest is unique among competitions, as, usually only a certain type of composition is required.

Another interesting feature of the contest is that the winners in each of the classes will be announced at the ninth annual convention of the National Association of Negro Musicians, to be held in St. Louis from August 21 to 27 next. While no announcement to that effect has been made, it is probable that the first performances of the prize-winning works, or, at least, some of them, will be given at the convention. The competition closes at midnight on June 1.

* * *

Mr. Wanamaker, in his offer, has specified a decided preference for the use of the Negro idiom in the music, melodically, but he has not made it obligatory upon the composers; quality of musical thought and workmanship are the first considerations. Thus, it might seem as though Mr. Wanamaker's fundamental idea is to further this particular form of music, from which, it must be admitted, some of the leading Negro composers have somewhat strayed.

This Negro "idiom" is a peculiar one in the fact that it bears traces of several influences, chiefly American and largely religious. The origin of many of the tunes of the slaves is said to have been African, first and principally on the ground that most of the melodies, by the process of reduction can be brought back to the pentatonic scale, which is the scale still in use in Abyssinia, Nubia and other African countries; and second, that they have the same "catch" as songs still in common use in partly civilized African countries. However, these two elements are found in the traditional music of other countries as well. On the other hand, there are many melodies of the American Negro which have neither element.

The religious element, which appears in the American Negro music probably came from Methodist clergymen of the earlier days. Their methods of conducting revivals, it is well known, had an immense appeal to the Negro, one of the most impressionable people of the human race, and, especially the hymns, indicate a Methodist origin. There is some trace also of Catholic teachings, but the authorities agree that these are relatively infrequent.

* * *

The Negro is perhaps the most rhythmic race known to the civilized world, and it is here that their music is most distinctive and original. In mode, the minor (without the raised seventh) is usually employed, although there are many in major modes and sometimes a mixed one is used, beginning in the major and closing either in the relative or the parallel minor.

Thus, it will be seen, that the contestants in this competition have a rich field in melodic, harmonic and especially in rhythmic effects. The Negro race in the past has produced some original composers, although the refinement of the Negro melodic spirit by Stephen Foster (whose melodies were original, but so much in keeping with the spirit of the world and of the real Negro tunes that they seem to be the thing) has set a level difficult of approach by any composer, black or white.

The present generation of Negro composers, however, is of an infinitely higher type than the older ones. R. Nathaniel Dett, whose "Listen to the Lambs" has been sung even by a chorus so foreign by blood and training to the Negro idiom as that great organization of Alexander Koshetz, the Ukrainian Choir and by almost every other choral organization in the civilized world, represents perhaps the most original of these writers—and, incidentally, one of the most highly educated musically.

* * *

Then, there is also Henry T. Burleigh, famed as a great baritone singer as well as composer, or perhaps, in view of the many arrangements he has made of the Negro spirituals, it might be said, as a transcriber: for it was Mr. Burleigh who first realized the musical possibilities of Negro spirituals and it was his transcriptions which brought them into popularity with singers of all races. And in this same category, although his work along production, must be considered Carl Diton, of our own city, now president of the National Association of Negro Musicians, succeeding Mr. Dett in this position.

But, one thought, and an entirely personal one, as to the Negro spirituals. It cannot be denied that, as compared with a few years ago, these works are today not so popular as they were on the programs of white singers, even those of an artistic caliber of the first rank. It may be contended, of course, that a white singer cannot give the real atmosphere of a Negro spiritual—and to a very great extent that is true—that is, of the original spiritual. But most of these compositions have been so changed in spirit by the use of a harmonisation totally foreign to the musical content of the original that the ultimate result is neither fish, flesh nor fowl. The spiritual, originally, was the vocal expression of suffering, resignation and a firm belief in ultimate justice or salvation—and these do not lend themselves to a modern harmonisation. Had the creators of the modern "spiritual" been on the right track, these emotional songs would have gained in favor with interpreters and audiences. The harmonisations of them should unquestionably be of the same simple nature as the melody and the words.

Here may be a fallow field for the Negro composers of the United States who are interested in the generous offer of Mr. Wanamaker, as every one of them, interested in the music of his race, should be. The results of this most interesting prize offer will be watched and it is hoped listened to, with interest by the music-loving public of the entire country.

The "Meet" at the Coliseum, Saturday the 30th was jam-up to say the least. We were ably represented by such athletes as Richie from San Diego, Jordan and Creecy from Jeff, Parrish from Lincoln and others. Richie got second place in the 120-yard high hurdles and fourth in the 220-yard low hurdles. Jordan of Jeff placed fourth in the 440yard dash, while Creecy took third place at the broad jump.

• • •

We don't wish to "drop oil", but it does seem unfair to us that some boys will choose to have arguments which are usually drastic at dances given by the nicest girls in the city. The Sweet Sixteen Club girls have always prided themselves on the kind of crowd invited to their little select parties, so that the slap on the wrist goes equally to Elliott Qualles, Chester Steele and Virgil Benton. Mr. Benton's nose came in contact with someone's knuckles and the same (not the knuckles but the nose) will require the doctor's care. Careless people will now be saying, "How's the nose today, Virgil?" Hereafter if one wishes to express one's self please choose some place other than where a bunch of young people are having a good time. It's not fair.

The New Hope Art and Social Club entertained with an elaborate tea honoring Dr. Henry Allen Boyd and Mrs. Boyd of Nashville, Tennessee at the beautiful home of Miss Marcella Robinson, 941 E. 11th street. Sharing honors with Dr. and Mrs. Boyd in the receiving line were Rev. and Mrs. Lively, Dr. and Mrs. Ramsey, Dr. and Mrs. Watkins, Dr. Knox and Mrs. Triplett, president of the club.

At the door to receive the guests was Mrs. Burls who presented them with a corsage of lavender sweet peas, after which the well-known and distinguished visitors were introduced and very well received by Mrs. Madge Andrews who headed the receiving line.

During the afternoon, a very interesting musical program was rendered as follows: Vocal Solo, Mrs. Crawford, Miss S. Holman and Mr. Jackson; Reading, Miss Thelma Brown; Short Talk, Mrs. Mable Gray; Instrumental numbers, Mrs. Katherine Lindsay.

The living room and dining rooms were beautifully decorated in a variety of spring flowers, the club colors of yellow and lavender predominating. The flower garden effect of these rooms is due to the artistic work of Mr. Ralphe Porter.

In the dining room was seen a beautiful centerpiece of lavender sweet peas and candle holders containing yellow candles. At the head sat Mrs. Carrie Foulke-Trent who poured tea for the afternoon. Those who assisted here were: Mrs. Swanson, Miss Mary Williams, Mrs. Pierson, Mrs. Matlock, Mrs. Stanton.

A beautiful bouquet of lavender narcissus was presented to Mrs. Boyd by Mrs. W. H. Robinson as a token from the club. These flowers which displayed real art were the work of Mrs. Battle.

There were numbers of beautifully gowned ladies and well groomed men that called between the hours of 4 and 7.

Anniversary and Art Exhibit Celebration

Fully 100 invited guests took part in the 2nd Anniversary and Art Exhibition sponsored by the Central Avenue Garden Industrial Club, Saturday evening, April 30th at the home of Mrs. A. J. Nash of 9725 Parmelee.

This club of neighborhood women was organized two years ago chiefly as a social club by Mrs. C. James of 1404 E. 95th street to break the monotony of the week-day household routine of the housewives.

It has grown by leaps and bounds. Needlework, one of the compulsory duties of each member is its main industry. Saturday evening many beautiful pieces were put on display by several and bespoke the fact that they have been busy during the year. The present president and secretary are Mrs. I. Mackey and I. AMONG OUR CHURCHES

WHERE AND WHEN TO ATTEND SERVICES AT THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

Women's Day at the 2nd Baptist Church

The Second Baptist Church will observe next Sunday, May 15th as Women's Day. It will be the first time that the Second Baptist Church has ever made such an observance.

The singing, the ushering, the announcements and introductions will all be done by women. In fact women will have the program of the entire day and do everything except to preach the morning sermon. The pastor will deliver the morning sermon from the subject: "Woman's Day—A New Age."

In the evening there will be a Women's program with a symposium on the general subject: Women and the Christian Religion. It will be discussed by Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Willingham, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. Beatrice Johnson and Mrs. Ervin.

We invite the public to these services. The crowds which thronged the church last Sunday morning and evening were thrilled by the services and we anticipate similar throngs next Lords Day. Everybody welcome.

The Sunday School opens at 9:30 in eight departments. Why not enroll in our school? Why not also enroll in our B. Y. P. U. which opens at 6:30 P. M.—in two departments.

REV. N. P. GREGGS SEEKS TO CORRECT ERROR

I wish to correct a very misleading and damaging report, which is being circulated to the prejudice of the Independent Church. I was informed that the Independent Church had asked that Officers Sheffield and Randolph be dismissed from the force, for conduct unbecoming officers of the peace. In the New Age Dispatch, issue of May 9th, appears an article to the effect that complaints against Officers Sheffield and Randolph, filed by the Independent Church in the matter of the killing of Sam Faulkner in an asserted gun battle, April 24, dismissed by the Police Commission on recommendation of Chief Davis.

The fact is that The Independent Church filed no such charges and had nothing, whatever, to do with the meeting out of which the resolutions in question came. The Church granted the use of its auditorium to the N. A. A. C. P. for a meeting in connection with its membership drive. Near the end of the meeting, the president introduced Mr. Faulkner, father of the dead boy and related the circumstances surrounding the killing as they had come to him. He said that the affair was not one belonging to the Association, but at the close of the meeting, those present might, if they wished, resolve themselves into a Citizens' Mass Meeting, for the purpose of formulating an expression. This was done and while a motion to name a Committee to prepare a statement was being discussed, the Chairman called me to the chair. A committee of ten, I think, was appointed, two of which were members of the Independent Church.

The N. A. A. C. P. is, as all know, a non-sectarian Association and there were present members of all the churches, all of whom participated in the Mass Meeting. The Independent Church had nothing to do with it and I can see no good reason why any party or parties should attempt to saddle the affair upon the Church simply because the meeting happened to be held in the Church and when they well knew that it was for an entirely different purpose.

(Signed) N. P. GREGGS, Pastor, Peoples Independent Church of Christ.

P. S.: I have waited with patience, in the hope that some member of the Committee, knowing the facts in this case, would come forth with an explanation correcting the error, but in as much as no one seems inclined so to do, I publish this statement as a matter of justice to the Church. I have also mailed letters to the Chief of Police and Police Commission setting forth the facts in the case. We hold no ill-will against the New Age, or any of our members that may have published the statement, in as much as they only quoted from the daily press.

REJOICING FOR PORO COLLEGE

We all rejoice in the fact that the court of St. Louis has restored to its rightful owner full possession of the great "Poro College." We are satisfied that under the guidance of Mrs. Annie Malone this institution will go on and on in the March of progress for the good of human kind.

STRAW HATS

The straw-hat season is here in all its glory of new styles—that it, the men's straw-hat season is with us again, for the women have been wearing their new straw hats since January, and it will not be long now until they will have begun to wear their fall and winter hats.

Straw hats were first made and worn by the Romans. However, history records that it was not until many centuries later that straw hats really became popular. It was in the sixteenth century that Mary, Queen of Scots, became interested in the wearing of straw hats, and it was this same Mary who popularized the straw hats. She employed a number of straw-pliaters and returned with them to Scotland, where her people were trained in the art of straw hat making.

Tuscany furnishes the finest straws and plaids. In Tuscany the delicate Leghorn is woven into its finest texture. It is in Tuscanyy that some of the braids are so fine that the hat-makers find it impossible to work upon them more than two or three hours at a time on account of their eyes.

From Cuba and Porto Rico we get most of our Panama hats.

So much for the historical feature of the hat-making industry.

Every year the styles are different. Yet the old-fashioned straw sailors of a bygone year are still popular, and, even if they are not nobby, they are bound to be popular with the old-fashioned man who has not a thousand lives to live and die.

THE UNPARDONABLE SIN

In his preachments Elbert Hubbard reflects "I am not sure just what the unpardonable sin is, but I believe it is the disposition to postpone and evade the payment of small bills". How vast is the army of workers-for-their-fellowmen who can say amen to that little sermon.

Perhaps there are sins more unpardonable than "the postponement and evasion of bill-paying", but at least it can not be said that there is a sin more frequent in commission. Tradespeople, professional men and other public servants will attest to that latter as a declaration of fact.

To be sure, no one would place the brand of "dead-beat" upon all who are slow in pay. There are extenuating circumstances in all phases of life and financial reverses, poverty and ill- fortune are visited upon most members of the human family sometime during their worldly existence. Toward such the creditor-world gladly shows patience. But Hubbard remarks that "curiously enough, the people who are most given to this sort of sin are not the poor nor the illiterate."

Hubbard might have mused over the matter further and found that the "postponers and evaders of payments of small bills" may be divided into two groups, those, who must gratify a mania for buying, knowing they have not the wherewithal to pay for their extravagances, and those who, without any perverted intent to defraud or cheat, have allowed themselves to acquire the habit of "slow-paying". The former in time lose their credit but the latter lost the respect of their fellowmen, which is greater than credit. Make a bargain and keep it. Every man is entitled to the dollar he has earned and if you accept service you admit his title to his "dough" for that service.

CHIEF DAVIS

Our doughty Chief Davis of Los Angeles Police force waxes eloquent so it is reported when he attacks the judges of our Courts, probation officers and the lowly Negro.

We are satisfied the judges can take care of themselves in the situation and other officials as well and we will get him told on his false conception of the Negro.

In the past, present and future the Negro has, is and will stand like a stone wall for law and order, his record for all time will bear out this assertion to the utmost. The great trouble with the Chief is that he shies at contact with the real and controlling forces of this large and loyal group of his constituency.

He harps about Negro bosses when there are none, the Negro people are not responsible if some self appointed ignoramous fronts up and makes proud boasts of his boss-ship. As a matter of fact he has absolutely failed to contact with the real and representative citizens in any effort to establish a sane and effective enforcement of the law along the line of curbing vice.

The ruthless warfare with hurtling cossacks parading up and down the environs of the black belt has done more to discredit and hold in contempt the law, than any other circumstance.

To our mind the chief is resorting tothe old worn and threadbare last ditch battle cry of "race prejudice" and seeking a smoke screen of race hatred tohide the ghastly mistakes which he has made in handling the vice situation. His laudation and unnatural exaltation of his cossack crusaders have made them bold indeed and no wonder the lives of men and women on mere suspicion of trivial misdemeanor are not safe.

It is a sad commentary that in our enlightened community, such as the far-famed city of Los Angeles, that the chief of police is so exalted that he can publicly criticize the judiciary, condemn a loyal group of its citizens, and get away with it.

Excerpt from the Chief's Tirade

Black Belt Problem

"The black belt of Los Angeles openly boasts of framing police officers and secures the co-operation of other agencies in bringing them before the grand jury. "That through the use of political influences bosses and political influences, NEGRO bosses and politicians have started to nullify police power and gradually making Los Angeles another Chicago."

The above is indeed a sweeping indictment when as a matter of face the section referred to would know just as much about framing anybody as they would know about building an airship.

True to a dot it is decreed by all people that the iron heel and mailed fist has no abiding place here, and if this situation will make it like Chicago. "SO MOTE IT BE".

Policewoman Georgia Robinson and Mrs. J. E. Stafford will speak at the Forum, Sunday, May 15th. The subject will be "The Moral Status of our boys and girls of today". Every father and mother is invited to be present.

WATTS

Mr. Clark on Peck Street is seriously ill at the Dunbar Hospital.

Quarterly meeting was held at Grant Chapel, Presiding Elder J. W. Wilson preached morning and afternoon.

Rev. Curtis of Macedonia Baptist Church tied the love knot for Mrs. Lockhears of E. 110th Street, and a nephew of Mrs. Battle on E. 113th St. Only wish them joy as their years pass by.

Rev. Carter had a lovely program for Mother's day.

Mrs. Scott has moved back to Watts having lived in Los Angeles for months.

Mrs. Baskett, minister of Jerusalem Temple, had every one surprized in the way she had every thing arranged for Mother's day.

Mr. Morris on East 114th St., was knocked unconscious by an automobile. He was badly bruised about the head and body.

Mr. Miller and wife were down visiting their parents on East 109th St.

Mrs. Loving was down canvassing for Health Bottle water. As white are usually used for this purpose, we were glad to see a representative from our group o nthe job.

Mrs. Agnes Stoop spent several days at Elsinore and came home looking much better.

Everyone was glad to welcome Mrs. A. H. Gordon of West 35th Place home again after a three month's visit in San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Harvey of 1349 W. 37th St., entertained Thursday evening with an elaborately appointed dinner honoring Mr. L. M. Blodgett, president of the Liberty Bldg. and Loan Ass'n. Board of Directors and wives included: Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Blodgett, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shackelford, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Houston, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Blodgett, Dr. A. Baumann and host and and hostess.

Mrs. G. V. Surrey of 1668 E. 113th Street entertained Wednesday, April 22nd honoring the birthday of her husband, G. V. Surrey. The center of the table held a basket of sweet peas.

The guests and presents were: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Binkley, flowers and fruit; Mr. and Mrs. Knox, $3.00; Mr. and Mrs. E. Clay, $2.00; Mr. and Mrs. D. Wright, silk handkerchief; the railroad boys a check for $50.00 and the little wife, a radio. A most delightful time was had by all.

THE PASSING OF MRS. MABLE L. TURNER

On Thursday, April 7, 1927, Mrs. Mable Lee Turner passed into the great beyond after an illness of only 4 days. Her death came as a severe shock to her many friends and acquaintances since most of them were unaware of her illness.

Mrs. Mable Lee Turner

During the 16 years she and her husband lived in Los Angeles, Mrs. Turner's Christian disposition and kindly smile attracted and held many friends. Her philanthropic outlook on life was evinced in various ways, as she was never known to ignore a plea for help regardless of its source.

Being skilled and able in the field of her profession, hairdressing, she was elected President of the Poro Club, which office she held two years. She was a member of the Executive Board of the Economic Council, and won a prize offered by this organization. Sadly enough her demise occurred before Mr. Randolph arrived to award prizes.

Very impressive funeral services were held at the Birch Street Christian Church. Effective songs were rendered under the capable direction of Mme. Mozelle Te Outley and Rev. A. W. Jacobs officiated. Beautiful and numerous floral offerings bespoke the esteem in which the deceased was held, and many were out to pay their last respects to their beloved friend.

During his bereavement, two sisters of Mr. Turner were at his side; Mrs. Salena Harvey and Mrs. Mozella Palmer, both of Chicago.

UP-TO-DATE SERMONS

Pastor Christ Temple, 54th & Hooper

SALVATION RESISTED

"And ye would not." Luke 13:34.

It is amazing how the heart of man answers to the heart of man—Psa. 26: 19.

The hearts of men are alike, though they differ in physiognomy and even in training and civilization:

What have our imaginations to do with prehistoric times. We waste mental energy and defeat moral purposes and consequent happiness, talking, and writing about prehistoric man. Was there a prehistoric man? We don't know at all. Human skeletons and skulls prove nothing. There are human beings alive today whose skull's and skeletons may be found in a hundred years; and they are of most any shape you may imagine. That fellow buried in a cave in Kentucky may be found 200 years from now and imagined buried there 5000 years ago.

The Biblo disposes of prehistoric times with a few sentences. "In the beginning, God created the Heaven and the earth and the earth was without form and void and darkness was upon the face of the deep." History begins with Adam. The earth is now populated by Adam's race. They are diverse in facial appearance, but remarkably alike in physical form, infinitude, and in the laws that govern their physical being. There are three distinct races of them: white, black and yellow and then what were called in the days of Chaldean ascendency "mingled people." The Bible tells us that we get this division into three great races from the three sons of Noah.

But morally and spiritually men are all remarkably alike. The first chapter of Romans and the fifth of Galiatians describes them all. And in a remnant of every race, there is a hunger after God that will not be satisfied except to know Him.

Now when Jesus came, He found the same opposition to God's way of helping as we find in men now. Dr. Le Prade once said in the temple in Jerusalem "They talk about developing the children's will-power, my observation is that it is mostly 'won't power' and 'ye would not.'" Have you ever observed how children love to say, "I won't" or to express in some way their determination to or least their inclination not to do as you tell them?

In the days of Jesus, it was as it is now. They say unto God, "Depart from us for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways." "Ye would not." O the obstinate heart of the "won't power" or man when it comes to real truth, righteousness, divine salvation. "Ye would not." Jerusalem is not guilty "as" to religion. They had plenty of that long-faced, selfish, hypocritical, solemn stuff of religion. The whole city was devoted to religion. They fasted and tended unto their gods, they stopped on the street corners to make long prayers, they went up to the temple daily and made many sacrifices. They had plenty of religion such as it was—Satan, indeed they had too much of it, that's why it dead not the first place.

It was not in matters political or economic or ecclesiastical that Christ was so disastrously stubborn. It was something different. They rejected the message, ministry and person of Jesus. Sent a son from Heaven, a prophet from glory, the fulfillment of prophecy and the glory of the nations. He sought to save them from their sins, their blindness, their ignorance, their evil mindedness, their selfishness "but they would not." An high priest after the order of Melchecedic was he. Had they believed in Him He could have saved them from calamities that they by sin and selfishness had richly deserved. He could set them on high as a nation and wonderfully bless them as a people.

He would have made them the priests of the Most High and brought the nations to their feet. He could have given them the vision of Moses, the courage and faith of Joshua, the prowess of a Gideon, the physical power of Samson, the integrity and judgment of Samuel, the genius of David, the wisdom and glory of Solomon. What a nation they could have been! Instead, they were within a few years of experiencing the greatest calamity that a city or nation ever knew. Not Sodom or Gomorrah or Pompeii or Babylon or Nineveh know the calamity that came to Jerusalem.

Women ate their children in the straitness of the siege and a man's eye became evil towards the wife of his bosom because he desired her for food more than for companionship. Virgins were ravished, priests and elders dishonored and slain. The temple was destroyed, Jerusalem was made a desolation, a wilderness. Her children were sold naked into vile and dishonorable slavery. Sodom's sorrows were soon ended in oblivion, that of Jerusalem continues unto this day. Her children have never ceased to mourn her, 'And ye would not."

God save me, God save you, my friend, from that accusation, "Ye would not." Where are thy mercies, oh Jehovah? Show us Thy Salvation. Work in us to will and do of thy good pleasure. Let not Jerusalem's fate be ours, save us from our self will, our self righteousness, our unbelief, our sins. Judgement draweth nigh, we must all stand before the judgment seat of Christ, sooner than we think Did Jerusalem think her judgment was near or severe and terrible? Had she thought it would she not have escaped? But her house was left desolate, not because she had sinned but because she had rejected the Savior who came to save her from sins.

"Ye would not." Ye did not wish it. Ye did not desire it. Ye rejected it. Is that our condition. A God have we too sinned away the day of grace. Let it not be so for he whom God leaves desolate is desolate indeed. Save us from our sins, from our own thoughts, our own days.

How often, oh Jerusalem,
Would I have save thee from the shame
That on thee soon shall fall;
But thou in pride didst still rejoice
And wouldst not hear a Savior's voice
Or heed my words at all.

Thou stolen, O Jerusalem,
Would I have hidden thee from them
Who seek thy overthrown
Angels about thee would stood
On guard as only angels could
If thou hadst only known

But, oh, thou wouldst not have me
Spread my protecting wings o'er thee,
Thou didst my aid
Now thy house is left desolate,
Pitiful, pitiful thy state
The death choice thou hast made.

Oh, oh, Jerusalem, return
To God and ill repentance learn
Lessons of righteousness
Repent ere judgment on thee fall
Repent while Heaven still doth call
And thou shall still find peace.

BELLE SALTER-TYLER CONTRALTO

GREATEST SURPRISE RACE FIND !

By LOUIS MICHEL

At Rev. Holt's St. Paul Baptist Church, noblest woman singer, since Florence Cole-Talbert days, was found. Irresistible in all kinds of songs, classic costume character, merry and sedate songs—a female troubadour with genius, merit and a brilliant future. Wins and dominates an audience by the purity of her song, the majesty of her noble personality and the grandeur of her soul. Negro and German is her make-up, but her heart is and always will be Negro. She goes to Europe as a struggling student, and when she returns, she will be noted as a Metropolitan beauty-singer of the whole world. From Holt's modest church to the world Grand Opera stage will be the fate of this lyrical Madonna from St. Paul, Minnesota.

Moses was found in the bullrushes; Jesus was found in the stable, but the greatest outside singer of the race, equal, as a meritorious singer to Roland Hayes,—a woman of grace, beauty and surprise, and best of all, a really rare, with one exception, the rarest race voice we have eve heard, was found in Reverend Holt's plain, Democratic, everybody-is-welcome St. Paul Baptist Church, on Tuesday, May 10, 1927,—Belle Salter-Tyler, the greatest find of a singer that has ever come here, was found there—this lyrical Madonna from St. Paul, Minnesota.

Yes, she was just found there, no one of her meagre 125 hearers had expected to find such a real exceptional, priceless gem of an artist in this modest church—no one could have believed that Belle Salter-Tyler was as luscious, as golden-throated, as culture-voiced, as beauty-charming, and art-permeated as she really is.

Not only a human chirping canary, not only a heart-winning thrush, not only a mind-capturing lark is Belle Salter-Tyler, but her voice is like the tones of the organ and like the sounds of the church chimes, so clear, so deep, so sweet, so round, so good! Compelling is that artistic voice, deeply stirring, grandly soothing, highly pleasing, the only really great voice of any race voice, since Florence Cole-Talbert has left us for Italy!

And outside of that revelation voice, that charming vocal organ that will always haunt the restless memories of those that accepted the accidental fortune and heard her and assuredly unless the 50,000 Negroes that did not hear her, sad and, some of our artists, disappointed, after they learn how great Belle Salter-Tyler really is, outside of that cheerful, triumphant, glorious voice, Belle Salter-Tyler has everything a conquering and world-storming artist should have—she has wonderful pulchritude, she has both inborn and technically-acquired charm, she has towering education, she has a great, big heart, she has a fine, thoughtful, noble mind, she has sweet Democratic, refined stage manners, she has health, strength, youth and cosmopolitan lustre, and she really has the visible and sterling capacity to win any and every audience, here, there and everywhere, this side or the other side of the ocean, for to Europe she is going, where she will be more appreciated than here, and that will [illegible] as it has lifted Roland Hayes and Florence Cole-Talbert.

MELVIN EDWARDS EXONERATED

NOTE:—Melvin C. Edwards, who was arrested at Newton and Hooper Sts. on the night of April 9, 1927, and held for suspicion of robbery has been exonerated of said charge. Mr. Edwards had a revolver in his car at the time of arrest for his personal protection and the arresting officers assumed that he was a robber for having said revolver in his possession. Mr. Edwards was charged with carrying a concealed weapon—to which he pleaded "guilty". Signed, MELVIN C. EDWARDS. 677 So. Central Ave., Los Angeles, Cal.

STELLA ASKED FOR JURY TRIAL —GOT IT

Mrs. Estelle Hoskins had decided that it would be pefectly all right to engage in a little liquor business from her residence at 1245 E. 20th St. So laying in a supply she started operations and was doing fine until the Hawk, impersonated by Officer Randolph, swooped down on her domicile and gathered her in and also considerable contraband. Not satisfied with regular court proceedings she asked for a jury trial. She got it. But when the the jury filed back into Judge Turney's Court Room the foreman said "guilty".

Came a raucous jangling on the telephone. A woman's loud, excited voice called Hello, hello, send a white Law out to my house on E. 32nd Street. They's a fightin' here. Why a white law, she was asked. 'Cause my house is already tore up an I don't want it tore up no wussa!", and bang went the receiver down.

Officers Seeking Faulkner Case Witnesses Catch Fugitive

Investigators from the District Attorney's office were scouring the city for witnesses in the fatal shooting of Sam Faulkner by officers Randolph and Sheffield, during a raid on the home of Clara Harris. Learning that all the persons present at the Harris house that night were not present to testify at the coroner's inquest they went with officer Sheffield to locate Maude and Ruth Coates who reside at 1552 E. 52nd St. Finding the house dark, the door shut, but the key outside the officers thinking it strange entered cautiously into the living room. Flashlights revealed a dark form crouching behind a table there. Perceiving it was a man the officers "covered" him and said to him quietly, "Now get up from behind that table, but keep your hands over your head."

As soon as he rose into good view officer Sheffield recognized him and asked, "isn't your name William Coates and didn't we send you back to Sugarland, Texas, where you were wanted by the Sheriff?

"Yes sir, but I got away," answered the man, who turned out to be Wm. Coates, husband of Maude.

"How did you do it?" was asked.

"Well, I swum the river and when I heard the dogs I kept ahead of them till I lost them," answered William.

So William is now on the way back to Sugarland and perhaps stronger security.

POLITICAL POT PIE

"Very seldom does the Chief of Police take the play away from the Mayor, but Chief Davis has "done" that thing unless it is a frame up with the Chief singing the swan song.

Martin, Ingram, Foster, look like hundred to 1 shots at the June election. But you never can tell, if you are for them it is best to keep working.

At a special meeting of various representations of organizations on last Wednesday evening at the U. U. R. headquarters, 1948 Central Avenue, Snapper Ingram was unanimously endorsed for the Council from the 10th District. The U. U. R. Unit No. 11 had already endorsed him.

KU KLUX KLAN LIE IS NAILED

"Los Angeles, Calif., May 10, 1927.

"Mr. J. B. Bass, Editor

"The California Eagle, Los Angeles,

"Dear Mr. Bass:—

"There have been rumors going around tothe effect that my friend and comrade, E. Snapper Ingram, the leading candidate for Councilman in the Tenth District, is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

"I have not been able to find out just where this rumor started, but I want to call attention to the falsity of the charge. Mr. Ingram, from the beginning, has always stood for upholding law and order through the regular channels of government.

"Some years ago when the Klan issue came to a head in certain organizations, I personally know Mr. Ingram took the leadership and worked untiringly against the un-American propaganda of the Klan.

"Mr Ingram has always stood four-square on all issues where our people were concerned. In every case he worked to see that justice and fair play were triumphant. Therefore, I believe, these rumors are put out in an attempt to injure his standing in the coming election.

"The voters of our group should pay no attention tothese rumors and give E. Snapper Ingram their support on June 7th.

"Yours very truly,

"LOUIS S. TENNETTE."

Local Hair Dressers' Annual Trade Display

It will be a notable occasion along the line of the art of hairdressing when the women who, forging to the front in the line of endeavor will hold their Annual Trade Display, May 23, 24 and 25 at Eagle Hall, 822 Central Ave.

This will indeed be an event worth while and should attract thousands and we cannot help but appreciate these business women who are striving to attain the highest efficiency in the hairdressers' art.

"So She Hit You With a Skillet— 90 Days"

Wm. Murphy was up for sentence Wednesday morning, May 11th. He had been found guilty in Judge Richardson's Court of assault and battery on the person of Mrs. Mooly Peppers. Have you anything to say before sentence is passed upon you asked His Honor.

"Well, Judge, she started it all, then jumped on me and hit me with a skillet across the head."

"But," interrupted the judge, "from the knots on her head you must have hit her with something harder than your fist. Now, I know women will fight, but that does not excuse you. You have already been found guilty and I think you should be punished.—90 day!"

—Statement Of—
OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC.

Required by the Act of Congress of August, 1912, of
CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Published Weekly at Los Angeles, California, For April 1, 1927

State of California
County of Los Angeles) ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Joseph B. Bass, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor of the CALIFORNIA EAGLE and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, manageemnt (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the data shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher—Charlotta A. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

Editor—Joseph B. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

Managing Editor—C. A. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

Business Manager—J. E. Prowd, Los Angeles, Calif.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its naem and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If not owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)

Charlotta A. Bass, Los Angeles, Calif.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)

None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not onl ythe list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the boks of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the hooks of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

JOSEPH B. BASS, Editor.

Investigate Carver Acres--- A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC:

In order to offset certain unwholesome rumors, to wit: That T. S. N. Maloof, owner of Carver Acres, is not the actual owner; we wish to make the following observation:

REV. RICHARD H. WADE
Manager

I solicit a thorough investigation on the part of anybody who doubts the honesty, and integrity on my part in offering these lands to the public. If any statement made to the public can be proven false, or not absolutely as advertised, I agree to frofeit $1,000 gold coin U. S. money to any one proving same.

CARVER ACRES, is the property of T. S. N. Maloof, and I am in position to give title to individual purchaser, on payment for his acre, whether one acre is sold, or the whole of the acreage is sold.

The records of San Bernardino are open to the investigation by any citizen who may desire to do so.

You will find Tract 2177 of the Maloof Highland Avenue Tract 1, recorded in book 31, page 51, San Bernardino County. You will also find Maloof Highland Avenue Tract, 2178, Plot 2, recorded in book 31, page 52.

Search the records, they speak for themselves. My offer stands to any one, and every one. If it is not as we say, you don't have to buy.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make One Thousand Dollars, by anyone who doubts our word. Remember this offer is unconditional, to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

The Rev. R. H. Wade, a man of outstanding character, and 18 years of unquestioned integrity, in California, who has for the first time to deceive the public, is my General Manager. He is known as a man of the highest honor, and invites investigation to the fullest extent. And Mr. E. B. Maxey, building contractor of 20 years' residence in Los Angeles, known everywhere as an honorable man, of strong business qualities, certifies as to truth of the facts above stated.

The land is now going. Get in now. Water rights go with the land. He who hesitates will lose.

T. S. N. MALOOF, Owner.
E. B. MAXEY, Contractor.
RICHARD H. WADE, Manager.

This property, named after the great scientist of Tuskegee Industrial Institute, offers the greatest opportunity to be found anywhere in this wonderful State, for the economical development of the Race.

Located on paved boulevards, about one hour and thirty minutes drive from Los Angeles; within 30 minutes' drive from the following towns: Alto Loma, Etawonda, Cucomonger, Upland, Ontario, Chion, Corona, Arlington, Riverside, Colton and Redlands. Twelve miles from the city hall of San Bernardino. It also joins the finest Olive Grove in California.

Buy one or more acres at once. Prises advancing with improvements. Delay means loss—get in on the ground floor.

This is your one opportunity to own some of the best land in California. Rich, level soil, midst highly improved orchards, vineyards and olive groves. Geological survey shows abundant water supply; water rights with every acre. Buy one or more acres at once—$600 per acre and up.

T. S. N. MALOOF
Owner of Carver Acres

Terms—10% down and balance to suit purchaser. This amount will place you in possession of an acre of the best boulevard lands.

Gain an independence. Buy now before prices advance.

T. S. N. Maloof, is sole owner of Maloof Tract No. 2177, and 2178, Highland avenue, San Bernardino County. We guarantee to every purchaser full protection.

This is the most wonderful opportunity ever offered west of the Rocky Mountains. There will never be another such offer in your lifetime.

If you wish to get in on the ground floor in this proposition, visit our headquarters at 2727 Cenrtal avenue and you will meet our representatives who are thoroughly competent to explain all the details of this proposition.

Located in the midst of health, wealth and prosperity, on a highly improved highway, from Los Angeles to San Bernardino.

Right in line with highly improved orchards; about 54 miles from Los Angeles' Court House. Also the finest place in the State for poultry, rabbits, in fact everything that you want to raise.

This acreage is surrounded by several large cities. Plenty of water, guaranteed for domestic use by the owner.

T. S. N. Maloof will endeavor to assist you in building your home with all the necessary improvements. I am not a promoter, but owner of this tract. I am in a position to give a grant deed, and a certificate of title to each individual acre bought and paid for.

Do not measure my proposition by others of a like nature. Mine is different from any other yet given to the people of California. In fact there is nothing to compare with this proposition.

I also finance and build homes anywhere in Southern California. Resources unlimited. If you have the purchase price on your acreage we will make every effort to build for you; putting in fences, chicken corral, rabbit hatchery, allowing you to pay out in small monthly instalments.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make a substantial beginning toward an independent future. We also carry Fire Insurance, Rentals, Sales,—City, Country and Suburban properties. In fact anything in the Real Estate line. Information cheerfully given.

E. B. MAXEY
Contracting Department

Building Department

We do a general contracting, building and financing, build-construction of every kind; painting, plastering, paper hanging, plumbing, cement contracting, architectural drawing.

Apartments, bungalows, courts, stores, duplexes, modern homes of every description, and furnish architectural drawings for same at a reasonable price.

We ask that you give us an opportunity to prove our ability to you. Give us a call at our headquarters.

Water in abundance already on the land.

Miss Olga Harris, the beautiful and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harris of 434 Oak Knoll avenue is one among the many graduates in the class of 1927 of the Los Angeles General Hospital School of Training which holds their graduating exercises on Thursday evening, May 12th, 8 P. M. at the Lincoln High School Auditorium. Miss Harris has been taking this course for some time and has thoroughly mastered the art of nursing and comes out with high honors. She will, no doubt, remain at the hospital where she will be permanently placed. Incidently she is a June bride elect, which nuptials are to take place in the early part of that month. Miss Harris is very popular among the young folk and many social affairs are given in her honor leading up to the occasion.

Amid the roar of aerial motors which when they exploded shot forth a tiny airplane that floated away in the darkness of night and the burning of a fiery cross, the hills back of Altadena were alive with Clansmen the other night. It seems the meeting was carefully planned despite the fact there were a few posters here and there. No one seems to have been very much perturbed so they went on their way rejoicing through the pyrotechnic display was beautiful.

The City Fathers have "messed around" until they have apparently messed themselves up so easy are they to remain in office they are spending the other fellows money to do it which is a bad policy when the people are down on you anyway.

The formal opening of the new Bryson Street Hall was the occasion for a grand opening ball sponsored by the wives of the Directors on last Thursday evening when a large crowd was out to join in the festivities. This hall was purchased a short time ago by a group of Pasadena business men for the accommodation of the lodges and for dancing purposes since the halls that have been in use all these years have at some time or other been difficult to obtain. Since this hall has been purchased it has undergone a thorough renovation which has put it into first class shape and it is now ready for any and all entertainments besides being a credit to the community.

The new Ice Company which made its advent a few weeks ago seems to have gotten in on the right foot judging from the reports that are prevalent about its success. We very much appreciate the efforts of these two young men who have opened up just another adventure in Negro enterprise and should be used as an incentive for much greater activities along this line.

Hanford News

The Federated Women's Club of Central California observed Music Week at Hanford from May 2nd to 6th. The daily program was as follows: Monday—Fashion Show; Tuesday—Musical and Children's Program; Wednesday—Musical numbers by the "Christian Church Choir," several numbers by the "Brave Heart Hi-Y Club Quartett"; Thursday—Women's and Men's Fashion Show, Readings by Mrs. M. McEachen, instrumental solos by Mrs. Pearl Moulden; Friday—Dinner by Mrs. Maud Hinds at Visalia.

The series of entertainments were very successful and were well attended.

Mrs. Pearl Moulten, district director of Music of the Federated Club of Central California was responsible for the programs, assisted by Mrs. Marie Lewis, president of the Martha Walker Club. Refreshments were served by the Missionary Societies of the Baptist and Methodist Churches.

Members of the Second Baptist Church observed Mothers' Day, Sunday morning with a beautiful and appropriate program.

Mrs. Maud Hinds of Farmersville, visited in Hanford Sunday morning. She participated in the Mothers' Day program at the Baptist Church.

Mothers' Day was observed at the A. M. E. Zion Church, Sunday evening. Many interesting readings and songs were a feature of the program.

The Grand United Order of Odd Fellows and Household of Ruth had their Annual Thanksgiving services at the A. M. E. Zion Church, Sunday afternoon. Rev. I. I. Pierson, Chaplain of the Lodge, was the speaker.

Other interesting number on the program were: Paper, Mrs. Marie Lewis; Address, Odd Fellowship by Mr. Lloyd Welcher; Solo, Mrs. L. Myers. Music was furnished by the A. M. E. Zion Choir.

Fullerton News

On April 27, Mrs. H. D. Barton entertained the Handicraft Club in Riverside at the residence of Mrs. B. N. Norris of 505 E. 10th St. There were three cars of members from Santa Ana and Fullerton motoring to Riverside.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. G. E. Roscoe. After business and sewing at 4 o'clock, the dining room was open for lunch. The table looked beautiful with green and pink basket and candle sticks of the same color, these being the club colors.

Guests present from Riverside were: Mrs. H. R. McDowell; Mrs. B. N. Norris; Miss Bertha Wiley; Mrs. W. G. Williams and Mrs. M. Martin of Chicago. Mrs. Wiley, president of the Missionary Club gave a lovely talk, also the other visitor, Miss Wiley sang and played several selections.

At 5 o'clock, all departed and are still talking over the wonderful time they all enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Reese of 1619 E. 22nd St. spent Sunday afternon in Fullerton as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe, of 244 E. Truslow Ave.

Mr. T. Walker and Mr. Spriggens of Santa Ana, were visitors in the city Sunday.

Mrs. Moore of Los Angeles is in our city stopping at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. Berkely.

Miss M. Jones and her little friend, Miss Adams gave a lovely party at the residence of Mrs. B. Mitchell on last Thursday night. After dancing and cards, the guests were served with refreshments. At 12 o'clock, all departed wishing the girls would soon have another lovely party real soon.

The Men's Club met at their club house on last Thursday. After business, they played cards until the wee hours.

On Tuesday, May 3, Mrs G. E. Roscoe entertained 16 friends at 500. There were four ladies from Los Angeles present, seven from Santa Ana and one from Anaheim. After cards, Mrs Roscoe served a lovely 3-course luncheon.

On Thursday night, May 5th, the ladies of the Handicraft Club gave a party at the Men's Club house. Some 60 guests were present. This party was one of the largest parties the Club has given. They spared no pains or money to make it a success.

The hall was decorated in the Club colors, pink and green and cut flowers of all kind were seen. The evening was spent in dancing and card playing. At 12 the members of the club served refreshments, and at 1 all departed wishing the club would give some more parties of this kind soon. The ladies are due lots of credit for the way everything was carried on.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Berkley, Jr. of 329 E. Truslow, visited in Los Angeles Sunday. They reported a lovely time while in the city.

Doing in Long Beach

BY: ELINOR RAMSY WASHINGTON

Among the many things to bloom during the first weeks of spring included not only flowers, but many social affairs. Mrs. Juanita Martin was an ideal hostess at a surprise party given in honor of her aunt, Miss S. F. Andrews on April 20th. Dancing was the feature amusement of the evening. Delicious refreshments were served and many useful presents were received by the honoree.

We are so very glad to see Mr. C. B. Gardener up again. He has been confined to his bed for a couple of weeks with the second attack of pneumonia.

The way our single men are progressing in the line of cars is "too fine." Mr. Manning is the owner of a blue Ford coupe and Mr. E. W. Withorth, a '27 Chrysler roadster. Keep on men, you'll win her yet!

Both the Methodist and Baptist held a very successfully rally at their church. Mrs. Moody and J. B. Williams were captains of the Methodist and Mrs. Holman, Barnes and Brooks led the Baptist. They wish to thank the public for their co-operation.

There will be a large dance given at the city auditorium May 12th. The famous "Blues Blowers" will furnish the music. Be sure and don't miss this.

Mr. J. B. Williams was host to a very elaborated dinner party held at the Tip Top Inn honoring Mr. and Mrs. E. Holman, Miss S. F. Andrews and Mrs. J. Martin, last Sunday.

The Federated Clubs held its Reciprocity meeting at the colored club house in Venice last Thursday. Miss Frances Andrews and Mrs. Washington were elected delegates for Long Beach.

A very unique chicken dinner party was given by Mrs. Effie Sanders at her residence on Washington Place. Many were out. Whist and dancing were the main features of the evening. Music was furnished by Mrs. Dolly Thomeh of Los Angeles.

Salt air makes one hungry, so when in Long Beach, don't fail to try some real home-cooking, which may be obtained either at Gilmore's Cafe, 1146 California avenue or Tip Top Inn, 1157 California avenue.

The Golden West Club held their election of officers last Friday at the home of Mrs. John Gray. Mrs. Gray was re-elected president, Mrs. Washington, secretary and Mrs. Walker, Treasurer.

Speaking of the hot weather, California avenue seems to be the warmest spot in Long Beach. It has been really hot in many different ways but is gradually cooling down.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Barton from Fullerton were visitors to Santa Ana, Sunday.

Mrs. M. Hunt of Whittier was taking in the Imperial fair, Wednesday where she had an interesting time. She is doing fair at this writing.

Why You Should Join the N. A. A. C. P.

MAJOR ACHIEVEMENT

1. Residential segregation ordinance passed in Louisville, Ky. was declared unconstitutional by unanimous decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, Nov. 5, 1917; the case having been conducted for the N. A. A. C. P. by its president, Moorfield Storey. Attempted residential segregation in the District of Columbia by clauses in property titles forbidding sale by the purchaser to a Negro, fought before U. S. Supreme Court by the N. A. A. C. P. in 1925. Louisiana segregation appealed from State to U. S. Supreme Court.

2. When the Grandfather Clauses in state constitutions disfranchising Negroes came before the U. S. Supreme Court and were declared unconstitutional in 1915, the only brief filed by any private individual or organization was submitted for the N. A. A. C. P. by Moorfield Storey.

3. Against Peonage, the N. A. A. C. P. fought more than 4 years and, spending $15,000 saved the lives of 12 men sentenced to death in connection with the Arkansas riots of 1919. The U. S. Supreme Court reversed conviction of 6 of the men after argument for them by Mr. Storey. The other six were liberated by decision of the Arkansas Supreme Court. All of the 67 men sentenced to long prison terms have been freed.

Extradition of colored men accused of crime to Southern States where it was highly probable they would be lynched, has been successfuly prevented by the N. A. A. C. P. in a number of cases, thus directing nation-wide and even international attention to the failure of common justice for the Negro in lynching states.

The ministers of the city on last Sunday morning urged their congregations to join the N. A. A. C. P. as a forerunner to the launching of the membership drive in the afternoon at the Independent Church.

Next week we will tell you more of the achievements of the N. A. A. C. P. to show you that you cannot afford to stay out of an organization which means so much to the Race. The headquarters of the drive are at the office of Jimmie Smith, 1201½ Central avenue. Join or contribute. Our slogan "5000 members for 1927."

GIRL-ETICS

By: GLADYS MATHONICAN

One of the most interesting and exciting basketball games of the year was played by the 12th St. Center Girl Reserves vs. Pasadena Girl Reserves at the Y. W. C. A. in Pasadena last Saturday evening.

The first quarter of the game was a complete runaway by the Pasadena girls who scored fine baskets making 10 points. This luck, however, was not to last long as the local G. R's. became wide-awake to the fact that they were being beaten. With hardly any Los Angeles boosters they went in the remaining three quarters to keep the other team from scoring if they could not.

June Valley, a little girl, but how she could play. She was here and there like a flash, and everyone was astounded at her playing. June was without a doubt the outstanding player in last Saturday's game. The two points made by the local team were both free throws. The first made in the second quarter and the second in the third by June Valley and Jessie Rayford respectively.

The girls showed much better team work than they did in their game before although they were defeated.

The former Captain Hazel Thomas, under urgent necessities left the basketball team. We were all sorry to lose Hazel but hope she will be able to take part in some of our other athletic events.

All the girls should be congratulated on their playing.

Geneva Stocks of Pasadena team should also be particularly mentioned.

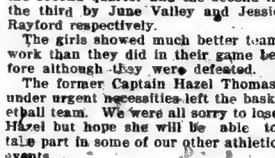
South Carolina Girls Knock Off Good Records in Track Meet.



Orangeburg, S. C. (By A. N. P.)—At the great track meet last week at Claflin in which the Voorhees boys won permanent possession of the point trophy and relay cup, the girls let themselves be known by making fine records in the 50, 75 and 220 yard dash the high and broad jumps and the relays.

The girls division had only two entries, Paine and Claflin. Claflin girls showed up better at dashes while Paine Girls were the Great Jumpers and Relay runners. Summaries Girls: 50-yard, Middleton, Claflin; Copeland, Paine; Ward, Claflin. 75-yards, Ward, Claflin; Blanchard, Paine; Middleton, Claflin. 220-yards, Blanchard, Paine; Copeland, Paine. High Jump: 4 ft. 2 in. Broad Jump: Blanchard, Paine; Alford, Claflin; Harris, Paine, 15 ft. 10 in. 1-5 mile Medley Relay, Paine. Total points: Paine girls 30, Claflin girls, 16.

JACK ROPER "THE REBEL"

A RARIN', TEARIN', FIGHTIN' HEAVYWEIGHT CONTENDER

Jack Roper Who fought George Godfrey last Thursday night at Culver is to be given a great lot of credit, there is none other of the mentiond contenders that will enter the ring with the big giant colored man, Jack has met Godfrey twice, the first bout resulted in a contended knockout decision in favor of Godfrey, the bout of last week was a sensation while it lasted, Jack was the recipient of a bad cut in his lower lip in the first round that handicapped him, and made matters look worse than what they really were. When Jack James on the Herald said in his story of the fight that Jack Roper was game as a FIGHTING COCK, he surely expressed the opinion of the EAGLE.

This Young Jack Roper is going far in the Boxing Game—Watch Him

Jack could have gone into that battle like many of the so-called heavyweight contenders and hugged, held on and stalled through round by round to last the bout through and escaping punishment. But with the "do or die" feeling that characterizes the Roper blood he tore into Godfrey at the first bell and landed the first blow. From then on he was in on him all the time and not until the third round did he change his tactics to dancing around the dangerous George attempting to out-box him. But by leading often in the first two rounds he had laid himself open to heavy punishment that took the dash and speed away which would have enabled him to dash in and out against his heavier opponent.

MAKE BIG HIT

We don't like to use the scissors but in this case we would rather reprint the clipping below from the leading San Diego Daily telling what our great team of colored boys did against that strong white Jacobs team than to write it ourselves. So here it is:

"With both teams fielding brilliantly at one moment and loosely at the next, the Los Angeles Colored Giants exacted their pound of flesh yesterday afternon at Navy field when they administered a 6 to 4 lacing to Harry Jacobs club in the second game of the series.

"The fielding of the Colored Giants overshadowed the work of the San Diego club at all times, although the locals played neat, bustling ball with the exception of the fifth, sixth and seventh innings when the team obviously was not at its best.

GREEN, WILSON STAR

"Green, shortstop, and F. Wilson, centerfield, shared fielding honors for the colored team, both making several circus catches. Green backed everything in sight. While Wilson came in from deep center at top speed on several occasions to make catches at his shoe strings.

"The San Diegans seemed to be headed for certain victory in the fourth inning when they scored two runs on two hits, a walk and an error, but lost their advantage in the sixth and never regained it.

"The Colored Giants showed plenty of punch with the willow yesterday, and touched Mike Morrow for eight safe blows during the contest. Bohler, catcher, was the outstanding batter of the day, and connected for two doubles in three trips to the plate. Jackson and F. Wilson each hit safely twice in five times up, one of Wilson's blows being good for three bases."

Willie Henry and Mack House Will Not Battle As Yet

PEACE IS DECLARED

Unknown to the fans the camp of Willie Henry the "Texas Steer" has been making war on Mack House, the California Bear. Henry has always contended that a steeer can rip a bear's hide wide open, stamp him, kick him and toss him into the trash pile. Henry beat Benny Hill, Chevalier and Richie while out here but they were out of town fights. He wanted to prove to California fans that he was the best light-heavyweight on the Coast by beating Mack House, and was trying his best to get a match with him. But since Henry went back to Galveston to fight Bear-Cat Wright, two matches have been unearthed for him against two of the best white boys on the Coast so he will have a chance to show his horns at two local arenas without picking a scrap with Mack.

THE WILD-CAT LEAPS INTO TOWN

WATCH ACE HUDKINS TRAIN IN NEW YORK

Something happened in New York May 9th. Something happened that means something not only to New York but also to the outside world that waits for orders from N. Y. as to ho-twhosin ETAOIN SHRDLU CMFW

Yhow it should "live, move and have its being." What happened was that a wild-cat came to town. Ace Hudkins is his name, accompanied by his brother, Ace. One hour after he arrived they had closed up for a bout with Al Weber at madison Square Garden and arrangements made for the one with Georgie Benny Bair. Ace started training at once and many fans, managers and promoters who have been watching the bellerins from his California campsite crowded into the gymnasium to watch him slam away on the sparring partners drawn in his unmerciful way.

Ace made a big hit right away and all New York has a renewed interest in the popular boy who is Independent weterweight champion of the world and will be the crowned champion when he fights Pete Latzo at Wrigley field next month. Ace is a

Tiger Flowers Ripping Up the Eastern "Hopes"

BY: FAIRDEAL

TIGER FLOWERS
Recognized Middleweight Champion

The storm that has been rumbling and threatening from the South finally broke, and if we can take Walk Miller's word for it the fury will surpass the Miami disaster. His royal highness, Tiger Flowers started his warming up campaign for the Mickey Walker match against Chuck Wiggans over in Buffalo. The reports state he gave the tough party from the Hoosier state a murderous mauling for ten rounds. Chuck flipped the Fairbanks at 321 pounds and only recently whaled the tough spots off Johnny Risko after stopping him on a previous occasion and also pasted Bully Stansbury in a most artistic fashion.

The second bout of the series of warmups up exercises will take place at New Haven, Conn. with Leo Gates as his mystery mate. The Tiger is up to his old antics again, Jack Dillon, Harry Grab and Flowers have probably landed out of their class against the big boys and only recently whaled the tar out of Bob Olin, Ray Bronson, Eddie Huffman, Chet Johnson, Tut Jackson, Battling Gehrig, Pat McCarty, Benny Ross and Tom Zeltzer are only a few who have fallen under his flying fists.

Flowers according to his manager's words, will start in training for meeting all comers all colors and weights, even if he is forced to box his own shadow or dance to a phiz. He will change to the heavyweight class and meet Young Stribling, Jack Delaney, Tommy Loughran, Jack Sharkey, Paulino Uzcudun and Jack Dempsey if necessary. If Wrigley field wants the privilege of staging the Flowers-Walker fight they will have to step up and get busy.

Alfonso Gonzales Meets Killer O'Brien at Hollywood

The Hudkins boys don't do things by halves so unless we miss our guess they have picked a great boy to be stablemate for the great star Ace. In order to hold up the standard the Wild Cat has set, Gonzales has asked Tom Gallery for the toughest boy he could get signed up right now and likewise one of the most feared, which is Tommy O'Brien. Alfonso and his backers have been going about with preparations for the future just as if O'Brien was already whipped, they feel so sure of killing the "Killer." Gonzales is in the pink of condition and hopes to win soon and sudden. In case he does the rest of the card will have entertained the Hollywood fans. Here it is:

Morrie Cohan Staging Last Show in Armory

Roy Cohan may be called the boy promoter but he could give a lot of the gray beards lessons in picking good boxers for his classy bouts. Bloomers are few and far between on Morrie's menus and he don't trust to hearsay. You will always find him snooping around the gyms doing scout duty on the fighters as they train. How's this for just as we go to press?

THURSDAY

Pasadena—Ernie Hood vs. Billy Robbins, main event, ten rounds; Frankie Forbes vs. Richie Aguayo, semi-windup, six rounds; Marshall Lopez vs. Shifty Molina, six rounds; Tommy Cleary vs. Joe Comparz, four rounds.

FRIDAY

Hollywood—Tommy O'Brien vs. Young Gonzales, main event, ten rounds; Billy Hart vs. Benny Furrell, semi-windup, six rounds; Herman Auerbach vs. Billy Clark, six rounds; Ted Lewin vs. Phil Harris, four rounds; Al Romo vs. Twain Mark.

GEORGE YOUNG CHANNEL SWIMMER, RECOGNIZED

Unlike some of their American cousins, particularly as regards the moguls of lawn tenis across the border, the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association at their 19th annual meeting, held in Montreal a few days ago, did the decent and proper thing in giving George Young, Toronto, his just dues. Marks set by the youthful superman previous to his $25,000 paddle from Catalina Island to the mainland, have been credited to his name.

This action on the part of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association proves they are more broad-minded than the gentlemen who lopped the names of Mary K. Browne and Vincent Richards off their ranking tennis list. They lost their rank in just that manner—rank!

Jimmy Murray Makes Great Start At Culver City

The great genial Hibernian newspaper man, Jimmy Murray, really put Culver City on the map last Thursday with the Godfrey-Roper fight and the great hosts headed up to it. The house was packed from floor to roof, standing room only and a square or more of thousands standing on each others feet.

Jimmy knows how, that's all and Jimmy has been showing it all along by his great work in the last several fist at Venice. Perhaps the greatest throng of celebrities ever assembled at a ringside showed their interest by being present and were introduced for fully thirty minutes despite the attempts of some of them to hide from attending fans. Culver City will be dark this Thursday only from the fact that Jimmy will put his nabobs and his hob-nob self and will put in Saturday night to try and put one over that will gain everlasting great and on the mat.

What the 5 and 10 cents stores are to the cock-eyed world, giving big store goods at a small price, is just what the Main St. A. C. is to the boxing game. On Saturday nights some of the same boxers who fight at the high-priced clubs, do battle in the Main St. ring, but the fans see them at popular admissions. Then too, the pugilists always seem in a hurry to have it off and over so the spectators can get home early for the "Saturday night bath." This is what Carlos has in his surprise-bag for this week:

A FEW MINUTES OF BATCRACKS AND WISECRACKS

The great Walter Mailes sure did draw the fans in last week. The fans came out to see Mailes on the side lines they sure did not come out to see Hollywood play. They came miles to see the great Mailes. Fox Studio Co. offers the great Mailes a job as movie actor after Friday's game. Walter Mailes is a cinch to be a star in Hollywood this winter. Then San Francisco fans will have to pay 75c to see Walter on the screen. No free passes to Joe Devin.

Hollywood was leading San Francisco in the 7th 4-1 S. F. had 3 men on and 2 outs. The great Mailes put in Kuhns to bat for the pitcher. Mailes patted Kuhns on the back and said, "You can do it." Earl said, "Do what?" "Knock the ball out of the lot." And sure he did. The ball went over the left field fence for a home run to win the game. Mailes sure did give it to the fans then.

I was out to Glendale to see two high schools play ball and I saw Joe Devine there. He is one of the best 3rd basemen in the country and has beat such scouts as Bill Easick, Jack Dongle.

Joe Devins is going in the fight racket this winter. He has a new white hope, 220 pounds, named Joe Dooly. The winter saw Dooly at Neptune beach and he looks pretty fast. I offered Joe $500 for half interest and he said, nothin' doin', so he must be pretty good.

Handsome Al. J. Kusick, is a well known fight manager. Kusick is to handle Jack Dillon back east and Kid Williams, champion of the world. Kusick is running a jewelry store and would like to have his friends come and see him. He does not want to sell them anything.

Chick Barton would like to have the boys give him a ring. He will drive them anyplace. Leave it to Chick.

Joe Hernandez and Carlos Revena sure do root for Bert Colima. Dutch Myers is taking Colima to London to box Mickey Walker then Dutch can have some nice tea over there.

Jerry Clock wants to see the Moore girl next week. A boy friend of Jerry's will take him out. Jerry is getting pretty old, but still gets around to see Geo. Brown. Ask Geo. Brown, the time Jerry gave him a message. Brown did not like it at all.

Pat Rooney was a good ball player in his day, but he likes wine, women, and song too much. He is like some other fellows.

Filippino Attendants Get Golden State Club Cars, Los Angeles Porters Lose Train to Chicago

Many changes have come about during the past week. A big surprise was the inauguration of club car and maid service on Trains 11 and 12. In order to supply the Argunut Limited with club cars, the Southern Pacific took their own club cars off the crack Golden State Limited and turned it over to the Pullman Co., who are now operating the club cars on the Golden State with Filippino Attendants. The maids on 11 and 12 operate out of Chicago. A heavy travel is being looked forward to by the Southern Pacific this summer.

Black Americans Should Read More

Wake up Black Americans this is a progressive age. How many of you are reading thoroughly every day some big daily paper? Keep up with current events, for the present NOW will be the history of the future. Be impartial, read the colored papers. Read the white papers. Read that which you like and dislike. But read, read, read. Too many of us have stone bodies and cork brains. Make your brain heavy with intelligence, your bodies are weighty enough. There is no danger that you will become top-heavy from too much knowledge. READ, READ, READ and then READ some more.

Santa Fe Red Caps in Movie Drama

Hail! the Stars! Mose Wylie and J. Fowler, Santa Fe Red Caps, who took an active part in a movie drama last week staged by Lew Cody and a cast of forty-five people. A dollar bill came very near breaking up the show. It seems that Lew Cody was supposed to give Wylie a dolar bill before the camer and Mose was of course supposed to give it back after the camera man did his stuff. But Mose is so used to putting the dollars in his pockets for keeps that Lew Cody had to keep shouting through the megaphone to Mose to give the dollar back. After several retakes Lew Cody presented Mose with the hard-earned dollar. J. Fowler, the other Red Cap star came to work the not wearing with a pair of knickerbocker pants, golf stockings, a hollywood muffler, and a pair of black glasses. When asked why the glasses he said the lights were so strong that he had developed a pair of klieg eyes. Hot, Dog! Some stars.

Some Class

The writer was standing in front of the Arcade Station last week when a great big Rols Royce pulled up with a yellow taxi dogging its tracks. The parties in the Rols Royce had hired the yellow taxi to carry their baggage, and it trailed behind that $20,000 beauty like a little yellow dog. I call that some class. And to think that we think we are red hot when we call a yellow.

J. Ponder, Skiff Skimmer Entry, Training in Secret

The Skiff Skimmers derby is not far off and according to reports the great Ponder has been training under cover. Several of the other entrants have been trailing him but as yet have not been successful in finding out where the elusive Ponder is taking his daily rows. They have tracked him as far as a big man-hole on the West Side and that is as far as they have gotten. His trail is completely lost at this point. However, the writer in order to give his readers first hand news of the Skiff Skimmers derby has put two more sleuths on Ponder's trail who have promised to divulge the row boat kings secret methods of training, and training grounds. The municipal pool has been constantly under watch ad every inch of the beach at Santa Monica has been scanned up to a late hour last night when the detectives had to give it up on account of the heavy fog. The trail is gradually growing hot and next week we hope to let Ponder's cat out of the bag. Don't fail to buy next week's issue for the dope.

I dropped in the Strand the other night and it looked like old times to see so many of the old regulars sitting steamed in the lobby.

The writer learned through conversation with several of the Pullman Porters that the hotel management had REALLY made a clean up, so as a result can really get a good night's sleep. Using the words of the Asst. Mgr., Curtis Carpenter, "Peace and Quiet Really Prevail."

They say those who moved on account of noise or other disturbing features are returning gradually. So it won't be surprising to see all the old timers back at the Strand before long.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC NEWS

Well! Well! Well! Look who's here. Our long lost brother, Southern Pacific News. Welcome to our city, because you were a long time gone.

The Daylight Limited started to serve tab last Sunday out of Frisco and Los Angeles.

Two diners were required to feed the Native Sons Special out of San Francisco last Sunday.

The Southern Pacific D. C. Dept. will start hiring help between the 10th and 15th.

Ed. Hayes transferred from San Francisco to Los Angeles and will ride the Golden State Limited. He made one trip to Chicago and it will be just too bad from now on.

Percy Buck and big Tom Harrison have been holding 'em down on the students' car for five weeks and are about ready to take plenty of air.

Lay off that date of May 15th if you want to have a good time with the sheiks of the Southern Pacific D. C. Dept. at their red hot dance, 15th and Main.

L. C. Green, one of the Southern Pacific famous waiters now operating on 11 and 12 strutted to Chicago with a red hot panama hat and a pair of white shoes and socks. BUT was greeted with about six inches of snow.

Sam Philups, Southern Pacific's waiter politician was backing Topham's campaign, but he was fourth in the race, notwithstanding the fact that the brains of the S .P. was behind him.

The Famous Oakland Shiek, Dave Van Meter is riding 1-12 to Chicago and has an his second cook, Rev. Mack.

The S. P. believes in teaching their students with the best as they have put the new silver service on the students' car.

The famous crew who will feed the tab service on the Day Light out of Frisco are as follows: Chef, Dumasu, famous for his pies; 2nd, Rich Joel; 3rd, Chester Hayes; 4th, the speedy Atkins—Waiters: Randolph Wicker, red hot pans; Willie Mack; W. M. Harris; Robt. Love and Lee Lewis.

Bonnie DeCair is now on the Padre where he can be home every night. It's the same old story. You got to see Mama every night or you can't see Mama at all. So Bonnie changed runs. He says, "I took the Padre to pick a sweeter berry with a bush, and now I am monarch of all I survey."

UNION PACIFIC DOPE

By J. B.

School adjourned Saturday and everybody is singing praises as to this session being the most interesting and beneficial of any having been held in the history of the U. P.

Lawrence Washington tendered his resignation to the "Cotton Pot Brigade" and from all reports the "Windy City" will be his future address.

Tom Robinson who has bucked the extra board for the Harlington the past winter has returned to U. P. circles.

The listing of "Cottage Cheese" on the menu was suggested by pantryman Robinson of diner No. 803 in the school class on Wednesday and was accepted by Supt. F. W. Gentsch.

Randolph (Pee Wee) Stevens was conversing with a producer on the "De Luxe" as to making a picture with a title, "The Morning After the Night Before" with Stevens as leading man.

Geo. Hadfield and Walter Epptein, waiters on the Chanta Ltd., were weekend guests of Joe Oakesmey.

Roger Mosley wrote more letters in Chicago. The gang wonders why. Maybe he has found a good substitute if so pass the hot.

Sedeline and Andy Coleman are putting in no regular attendance at church, very good. Keep it up. Why be the last to come and the first to leave.

Arthur Davis has transferred to the "Overland Limited."

William Allen service has transferred from the "Overland Limited" to the Loop.

Friday evening, a slide used on Catalina, Los Angeles and Pasadena, Oakland are called by patients as the "Five Towns Limited." So when the pay envelope is handed the chicken man in the smoke-room and he says

Modifiers Begin Examination of Pullman Porters Case

New York City, May 5.—It was announced at the Headquarters of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters that the Mediators assigned by the United States Mediation Board had arrived at the National offices of the Union to begin an impartial examination of the claims of the porters as directed by resolutions C-127 recently adopted by the Board at a meeting in Washington. Hon. Edwin P. Morrow, former Governor of Kentucky and now a member of the Mediation Board, with Mr. W. F. Mitchell, statistician for the Board, are the two Government officials working on the case.

The present investigation is a continuation of the hearings begun by the Board in December, and was later postponed because of sudden and compelling developments on certain railroads in the Southwest. The porters demands include a living wage, reduction of hours, and modification of working conditions; also recognition of their right legally to organize in their own union as against the Company Union.

The investigation is expected to last many days after which the Mediators will proceed to Chicago to get the Pullman Company's side of the matter.

Care of the Teeth

BY: J. WINNIFORD ROUT, D. D. S.

THE PRICE OF HEALTH

The daily papers a few days ago, carried the picture of a Des Moines couple who took a vacation trip in their 1910 model Ford car and passed through Detroit. It attracted the attention of Mr. Ford, who purchased it and also gave them a new car to boot. The car was in perfect running condition; the owner had given it excellent care. Compare this with cars we frequently see on the street, rattling, knocking, wobbling wrecks with a radiator caved in, fenders dangling, top flopping and covered with fitting epigrams.

Between these extremes are cars showing various degrees of abuse. Some fine cars are junked in a few weeks while others more cheaply constructed run indefinitely; it depends entirely upon the driver.

A striking comparison can be made of the human body. We have all seen old gentlemen and ladies with keen minds, supple bodies and clear skins who have weathered the years of strife unmarred. We also have seen people of all ages headed for the rocks due entirely to their carelessness and indifference.

The human body is a marvelous machine, easily cared for if only given a chance. People should be trained to skilfully operate their own bodies; and machines which cannot be replaced.

This old world is a great place in which to live. Life is a fascinating thing. We possess it but once. We cling to it as long as we can. We should do everything to make life worth living.

Full measure of success and pleasure is pivoted upon health. Without health man sees the beautiful things through distorted lenses, and his ambitions are thwarted.

A healthy body cannot be maintained without care and periodical examination, any more than a motor car can be kept in perfect working order without periodical overhauling.

The mouth and teeth are very important organs in the maintenance of the general health, as at least 90 per cent of the diseases attacking the human system gain entrance to the human body through the oral cavity; and it is a known fact that many cases of heart disease, kidney disease and rheumatism have been traced directly to abscessed teeth.

Th moral of this discussion is: tryat your body at least as well as you do your motor car.

Dr. Pillow, tooth specialist, is reported to have caused considerable excitement recently by making 70 miles per hour in his coupe of popular make. When overhauled by the law investigation brought to light the fact that he was making professional calls to extract a tooth and the medicine used to kill the pain upset before he knew it and flowed into his gas tank. What we want to know is if a few drops will make a car guaged for 45 m. p. h. do 70, what would happen had a pint got in the tank. The law let him go. That's luck.

ASSEMBLY PASSES A NEW SPEED BILL

AUTOS TO DO 40 MILES PER HOUR

Senator Arthur H. Breed's Motor Vehicle Act increasing the automobile speed limit in California, but requiring that all new drivers shall submit to state examinations, was given final legislative passage today.

The bill was passed by the Assembly without a dissenting vote and is ready for consideration by the Governor.

It increases the speed limit on the open highway from 35 to 40 miles an hour.

Examination of every new applicant for a motor vehicle license is made mandatory under the act.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

Senator Breed's bill also contains a new provision which its proponents declare is expected to result in more convictions of intoxicated drivers. The section authorizes the jury trying a case involving driving while intoxicated, a felony, to recommend punishment and gives the court no power to impose a greater sentence than that recommended.

Data on number, location and cause of highway accidents involving death or injuries will be compiled by the state under the new act.

Assemblyman Roy J. Nielsen, presenting the bill in the lower house, said state peace officers will be required under its terms to report to the state the theft of all motor vehicles not recovered within a week. The division of motor vehicles will maintain a stolen car record and check this record before permitting transfer of automobiles.

REPORTS FROM GARAGES

Garage owners, the bill declares, must report to the police when any automobile is stored with them more than thirty days and the owner's identity and address are unknown.

Among other provisions, the division of motor vehicles is granted a great operating of additional state traffic officers.

In the latter connection, the Assembly, 56 to 15, approved Senator Roy Fellom's constitutional amendment submitting to the people a $10,000,000 bond issue to eliminate dangerous grade crossings.

State highway commission statistics showed that 290 persons were killed and 600 injured in California railroad grade crossing accidents last year.

Carry Along Tools To Repair Your Car

"But suppose something happens to the car!" This "kill-joy" suggestion has caused many a proposed jaunt into the more inaccessible and, often, the most beautiful spots, to lose the form of action, according to L. G. Beans of the National Automobile Club.

The hazards of unbeaten paths can be greatly reduced and the pleasure of exploring the back country greatly augmented by adherence to the following suggestions relative to the proper equipment of the car for such trips.

Do not take unnecessary or experimental equipment. Trick devices, the merits of which are unproven, should be carefully shunned. The weight which they carry and the space they take are certain, while their value is questionable.

After the mechanical and electrical condition of the car has been inspected and passed upon, see that the following articles are carried:

A running board emergency kit, carrying at least two gallons of gasoline, two gallons of water and one gallon of oil.

A spare inner tube which has been tested for leaks just previous to the trip.

Skid chains which, if new, should be tried on the tires to assure their size.

A tow rope of at least three-fourths of an inch diameter and 15 feet in length.

A good jack. If not the jack which was part of the original equipment of the car, be sure that at its lowest limit, it will go under either axle when tire is completely deflated.

A spade with short, straight handle.

A hand axe.

A set of tire valve stems.

Two new burlap bags to use as "track" in getting out of the sand.

Two headlights and one tail light bulb. Examine these for proper voltage and base connection and pack in a small box to avoid breakage.

Roll of friction tape.

A few feet of stove pipe wire.

One or more new spark plugs.

The entire weight of this equipment is comparatively small, occupying but little space when properly packed, and is adequate to meet the needs of the usual emergency. A sure way to have this first aid help when needed is to cut out this list and paste in the log book of your car so that the articles can be checked against the list before leaving.

Yellow Cabs

Happy and Successful People Ride in Yellow Cabs

They don't waste time and energy in slow moving crowds, or in driving and parking a car.

They take a Cab.

They prefer the truly metropolitan Yellow Cab Service, which is city-wide, standardized, supervised, dependable.

They know the rates are low: 20c for the first ½ mile, 10c for each ½ mile thereafter. And with no charge for extra passengers. Five can ride, for the price of one.

It costs so little, the convenience is so great, use Yellow Cabs.

EUREKA VILLA

Indeed gratifying to have seen so many people chance the weather at the last minute to hear a most beautiful sermon by Rev. J. D. Gordon on Easter morning. Folks, Eureka Villa is a Paradise for the sake of health, happiness and clean recreation. Go there at every opportunity, see it, take advantage of it—for the sake of your children, and bring back those most beautiful wild flowers.

It is also gratifying to see so many people being made happy getting their deeds and titles at this time, having waited so long for same.

Boy Crowded Out Of School; Resorts To Crime

Because Preston reformatory School of Industry was too crowded for Douglas Valentine and 69 others, he is back before Superior Court Judge Stephens. He had served 3 months for deadly weapon assault, then sentenced to two years for purse snatching. He was discharrged shortly afterwards because the school was too crowded, returned to San Antonia then came back and got into more trouble.

PORO RETURNED TO MRS. ANNIE M. MALONE

DECLARED SOLE OWNER OF FAMOUS RACIAL INSTITUTION; SETTLES MODEST DOWERY ON HUSBAND

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 14. (Staff Correspondence by The Association Negro Press).—The Malone Case is ended! Poro is saved to the Race! Conrad Paeben, the white receiver, has been discharged by order of the court, and Mrs. Annie M. Malone, founder and owner of Poro, reigns supreme in charge of this gigantic business institution. Aaron E. Malone, who four months ago brought the charges which engulfed what is probably America's most profitable Negro business, in the throes of the greatest lawsuit and divorce cases in the annals of events colored, is in seclusion. Malone demanded half of Poro College and a half share in his wife's fortune. He is in hiding, it is said, from his former friends and cronies, waiting for the storm and havoc which he raised to blow over. The state of his health and mind is a mooted question. Malone received an allowance of cash and real estate from his wife, which in view of the stakes he was playing for is considered small here.

NEGROES IN FLOOD BUILD 'NOAH'S ARK'

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12.—Exhorted by their parson, a community of Negroes in the lowlands near Parkin, Ark., emulated the example of Noah when they heard the flood was approaching and hastily built an "ark." Into the crude vessel, they crowded themselves and all their worldly belongings, dogs, cats and mules. While they waited for the flood, they prayed and rejoiced.

The flood came, but the ark refused to float. Water poured in from a hundred leaks in the uncaulked hull and with the flood a foot and a half deep on the floor of the flat bottomed craft, its occupants fled to a railway embankment.

News of the "ark" was received at Red Cross headquarters from relief workers.

COUPLE ELOPE

DICK HAWKINS BECOMES A BENEDICT

After successfully dodging cupid's lariat for the past couple of years, Mr. Dick Hawkins, one of Los Angeles leading young society men, recently met his waterloo when a picnic party was converted into a wedding via the elopement route.

The bride, Mrs. Hawkins, was formerly Miss Thelma Jamison, the popular and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jameson, respected citizens of this community and she is a trained nurse, graduated this week.

Both are popular and well liked by all and each has a large following of friends. Mr. Hawkins, a student in medicine, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Hawkins on E. 49th St., one of Los Angeles' best families.

The couple surprised everyone, even their relatives, and all wish them a success in their matrimonial venture.

REV. J. H. Wilson, Grand Master, Leads Masonic Family Into Their New Hall

Rev. J. H. Wilson, Grand Master of Masons in California for the past seven years, led the Masonic family of Los Angeles, about 1500 strong, into the new Masonic Temple at 50th St. near Central avenue, on Friday, May 6th.

Rev. Wilson has been urging and planning a new temple movement for the past seven years, and the culmination of his efforts was found in the hearty support and co-operation, the entire Masonic family furnished in the purchase of the beautiful new temple, which was formally taken over on last Friday.

The property is 100 feet in width on 50th street, and 150 feet in depth, and has thereon a building, 130 feet by 50 feet, consisting of two stories, and very well built throughtout, and providing three commodious halls, ladies' parlors, smoking rooms, kitchen, stage, etc.

On last Friday, a short program was rendered, which was arranged by J. G. Edmonds, and officiated over by D. B. Floyd, who acted as Master of Ceremonies. The principal number on the program was the address of Grand Master Wilson, who briefly reviewed the struggle of the order for a new temple, its growth, needs and wonderful possibilities. Other numbers on the program were a solo by Mrs. Norwood; a solo by Madame Lily Ward Nelson, and an instrumental solo by Miss Nina Shivers, all of which numbers were heartily received. The stage was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Nellie McClanahan, and Mrs. Necie Johnson.

At the Banquet Hall, Mrs. Tracy Greer had charge of the banquet, and served over 1200 dinners, with dispatch and credit to herself and those who assisted her.

Among those who served on the Committee of Entertainment were the following:

Mrs. Tracy Greer; Mrs. J. B. Bowman; Mrs. C. W. King; Mrs. Maud Nelson; Mrs. Alexander; Mrs. Perkins; Mrs. Wolter Hill; Mrs. T. E. Alexander; Mrs. C. W. Brown; Mrs. Nettie Johnson; Mrs. Nellie McClanahan; Mrs. Robinson; Mr. J. B. Bowman; Mr. R. L. Britt; Mr. Clay and many others.

Trade Display Week

Fail you must not to attend the grand week display at Eagle Hall for three days commencing Monday the 23rd inst., continuing Tuesday and Wednesday. This promises to be one of the greatest demonstrations of the handiwork of our women along business lines and the art of manufacturing.

To encourage their efforts come and do your bit for the progress of the race. We advise all to turn out in large numbers during the time mentioned.

Eagle Hall; 823 Central Avenue is the place. Afternoon and evenings.

COLORED GIRL SECURES ROLE OPPOSITE LYA DE PUTTI

Miss Daisy Bufford, pretty local girl, has just completed playing the part of a French maid opposite Lya de Putti, the noted European actress, in the Universal-Jewel production "Midnight Rose." Miss Bufford also had parts in "The Girls" a comedy and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and numerous other pictures. She is considered a perfect maid on the screen.

Chief of Police Jas. E. Davis Writes Open Letter to Dr. H. C. Hudson

In fairness to all parties concerned, we are publishing the following Open Letter from Chief of Police Davis to Dr. H. C. Hudson, who wrote to the District Attorney a scathing letter on the cruelty of the officers mentioned:

"May 14th, 1927

"DR. H. C. HUDSON, President
"Los Angeles Branch,
"National Association for the Advancement of Colored People,
"1201½ South Central Avenue,
"Los Angeles, California.

"Dear Sir:—

Your letter of May 4th addressed to Mr. E. J. Dennison, Deputy District Attorney has been called to my attention. I do not know where you have heard the statement that I have said "that only the Negroes of the underworld are opposed to the conduct of Officers Sheffield and Randolph" in the Faulkner case. I do not recall making any such statement though I have certainly said that the Negroes of the underworld are bitter enemies of officers Sheffield and Randolph.

"From the complete report that has been made in this case by officers assigned to investigate it from every angle it is difficult for me to understand how it is possible for any persons who have not been completely and deliberately misinformed to believe "that this was an unnecessary, brutal and ruthless murder." The investigation shows that Officers Sheffield and Randolph, going to the address in question upon a report that violations of the law were occurring there observed ample evidence of such violations and entered the house. While they were searching the premises for liquor to be held as evidence Mr. Faulkner entered and began to shoot, hitting Officer Randolph in the right arm. Officer Sheffield came to his brother officer's aid and in his defense Faulkner was shot. I feel confident that your national association would be the last group in the world to assert that officers engaged in the performance of their duties need not defend themselves when attacked with a deadly weapon.

"I am glad to state to your organization or to any other organization or individual citizen, my fixed policy with regard to law enforcement in the city of Los Angeles,—a law enforcement policy that takes no account of race or creed. The sole point at issue in any case is one of fact, whether or not a law has been or is being violated.

"The record of arrests made by the men against whom you make complaint, Officers Sheffield and Randolph, is one of which this department and every law-abiding citizen may be proud. Since January 1st, 1925, these two officers have been responsible for 3,038 arrests for offenses ranging from lesser misdemeanors through the felonies of a serious nature. They have secured convictions in 89.4% of these cases. Unless you charge your courts with constant miscarriage of justice you cannot accuse these officers of making unwarranted arrests.

"As a result of their activities during this period, convicted criminals have paid the city $83,970 in fines and have served 18,030 days in jail. Several men who are a menace to the lives and property of good citizens while they are at large in any community have been sent to San Quentin.

"At any time that any citizen wishes to make specific charges against any officers in this department they may do so. Such charges will be thoroughly investigated and if supported by proper evidence and found to be true, disciplinary action of a suitable character will be taken.

"I feel confident that you would be among the first to urge that the greatest care be taken to safeguard the lives and the reputations of members of my department. Were you in my position you would know how constantly officers who are enforcing the law and thereby making vice unprofitable and crime hazardous to the criminal are attacked and how desperately those who profit in any way whatsoever from vice and crime seek to discredit or remove them.

"I should be glad to know that I may count up the whole-hearted support of your organization in my earnest attempt to perform my duty without fear or favor, and to develop an increasingly effective and constructive police program for the city of Los Angeles.

"Sincerely yours,
"JAMES E. DAVIS,
"Chief of Police."

SHEFFIELD AND RANDOLPH INDICTED

The Los Angeles County Grand Jury returned a true bill on last Monday evening indicting Officers Maceo Sheffield and Randolph, charging them with the wilful murder of young Faulkner who was killed a fortnight or more ago during a raid on the residence of Mrs. Clara Harris on East 51st street.

The indictment was returned after an investigation of about a week's duration. They were arraigned before Judge Elliot Craig and admitted to bail in the sum of $5000 each and ordered to appear for setting of trial on May 20th.

Federated Clubs Form Temporary Organization

Getting right down to brass tacks along the line of concrete organization, the Federated Clubs were duly organized on last Wednesday evening. Constitution and By-Laws were adopted and a temporary organization formed with J. B. Bass as President, and R. G. Lamar, secretary. The permanent election of officers has been deferred with an understanding that the temporary ones will carry forward the work of the body.

The next meeting will be held at Eagle Hall, Friday evening, the 27th at which meeting all bona fide organizations and employers are asked to send representatives to take part in this, the most forward movement of the day.

In a later issue a full text of the purposes and the accomplishments of this organization thus far will be published.

Opportunity Magazine Awards Prizes

On Saturday night at a dinner at the Fifth Avenue Restaurant in New York, the annual literary and art awards offered by OPPORTUNITY, JOURNAL OF NEGRO LIFE, Charles S. Johnson, Editor, were made known. The dinner, presided over by Professor John Dewey of Columbia University, was a brilliant and distinguished white and colored gathering. Speeches were made by Paul Green, winner of this year's Pulitzer prize for his play, IN ABRAHAM'S BOSOM; Harry Hansen of THE NEW YORK WORLD, Mrs. Edith Isaacs, Editor of THEATRE ARTS MONTHLY; John Macy, and Alain Locke, Editor of THE NEW NEGRO. Musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. Nail Hunter, soprano of Durham, North Carolina and Mr. T. Henry Johnson, tenor, a graduate of New England Conservatory. Among a host of distinguished attendants were John Macy, who presided at last year's dinner, James Weldon Johnson, Walter White, Maxwell Bodenheim, poet and novelist; Professor Robert Kerlin, Henry Goddard Leach, Editor of THE FORUM; William Pickens; W. C. Handy, the composer; Alice Dunbar-Nelson; Carl Van Vechten and Jessie Fauset, novelist.

OPPORTUNITY is published monthly by the National Urban League of which Eugene Kinckle Jones is Executive Secretary. This is the third year in which prizes to foster Negro art and literature have been donated under its auspices, the first year thru the generous contribution of Mrs. Henry Goddard Leach, the last two years through that of Mr. Casper Holstein, a Negro merchant, from the Virgin Islands, who to each contest donated one thousand dollars. The special Buckner awards given for the first time this year are the gifts of George W. Buckner, a Negro Banker, of the People's Finance Corporation of St. Louis, Mo.

The awardees in the several fields were: Plays—First prize, Georgia Douglas Johnson, Washington; second prize, Eulalie Spence, Brooklyn; third prize, divided between William Jackson, Montclair, and Eulalie Spence. Honorable mention, Edmond Randolph.

Personal Experience Sketches—First prize, divided between Shad Vance of Columbus, Ohio, and Idabell Yelser, Philadelphia; second prize, divided between Frank Horne, Brooklyn, and Nellie Bright, Philaphia; honorable mention, Sidney Peterson, Brooklyn; Ruth E. Bowles Cincinnati, John Mathews, Institute, West Va.

Short Stories—First and second prizes divided between Eugene Gordon, Boston and Cecil Blue, Charlotte, North Carolina; two third prizes awarded Eugene Gordon and John P. Davis.' Buckner Awards for Conspicuous Promise—Dorothy West, New York City, and Emily May Harper of Nashville.

Essays—First prize, "Ted"; second prize, James H. Young, Philadelphia; third prize divided between Frank Horne and Sterling A. Brown, Jefferson City, Mo.; honorable mention, Willis N. Higgins, New York and Brenda Morcyck, Washington.

Poetry—To Arna Bontemps, of New York, the special Alexander Pushkin Poetry Award; Holstein Prizes in poetry were awarded first to Sterling A. Brown; second prize, Helene Johnson; third prize, Jonathan H. Brooks, of Lexington, Miss., and fourth prize to Helene Johnson of Boston, Mass.

Music—Hall Johnson, New York, first prize for composition for two to six instruments; Florence Price, Little Rock, composition for two to six instruments; Hall Johnson, vocal compositions for solo, and chorus; Andrea Lindsay, Brooklyn, and Tourgee DuBose, Talladega, Ala., for piano composition in smaller form; J. Bruce, arrangement of Negro Spirituals.

The judges in the different sections for this year were:

Poetry—Joseph Auslander, William Stanley Braithwaite, Carl Sandburg, Robert T. Kerlin, Maxwell Bodenheim, Bridgley Torrence and Countee Cullen.

Essays—Henry Goddard Leach, Benjamin Brawley and Christopher Morley.

Music—William Grant Still, Olga Samaroff and Daniel Gregory Mason.

Personal Experience Sketches—Mary White Ovington, Eugene Kinckle Jones, and L. Hollingsworth Wood.

Short Stories—Theodore Dreiser, Wilbur Daniel Steele, Fete Walrond, Zona Gale, Irita Van Doren and Harry Hansen.

Jefferson Students in Bandit Ring

Officers Coppage and Howard uncovered what is reported to be the biggest disclosure of bandit rings in the history of the present crime wave. The startling surprse of all is disclosed in the fact that all involved are Jefferson High School students who have been attending school by day and operating in the channels of crime by night. John Frew, 1518 E. 38 St.; Frank Lugo, 1716 E. 38th St.; David Bassar, 1566 E. 38th St.; Roger Ingram, 1565 Dean St.; and Clarence Ryers, 51st and Central, are five of the boys in custody and later developments may disclose more.

Golden State Services Inspire Large Crowds

The special services in celebration of Women's Month held by the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company at the People's Independent Church on last Sunday were an inspiration to the large crowds that were present.

The special feature of the morning service was an illustrated blackboard sermon by the eloquent pastor, Rev. N. P. Greggs, D.D. He delivered one of the most practical sermons that one could wish to hear. His subject was "Deliverance." With illustrations on the blackboard the pastor very impressively showed how that religion and insurance in the Golden State supported the steps necessary to deliver our race in California from the valley of discouragement. To say that this sermon was inspiring and educational is but a mild expression of the truth.

Mrs. Lucille P. Gordon, one of the lady agents, in a very spicy address told why the Golden State is celebrating Women's Month.

Miss Louise Beavers, popular contralto, favored the morning congregation with a beautiful vocal solo and the great choir of the People's Independent Church furnished excellent music.

The Bilbrew Ladies' Quartette captivated the audience with its famous harmony at the evening service. Mrs. Ada Stewart demonstrated remarkable dramatic ability in a reading entitled "An Astral Flight."

The president of the company, Mr. Wm. Nickerson, Jr., who first conceived the idea of a life, health and accident insurance company owned, operated and controlled by our group in California, gave a splendid educational talk on insurance.

A thrilling motion picture play entitled "Priceless Treasures" was the climax of a perfect day for celebration of Women's Month by the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company.

NOTED EDITOR COMING

Hon. Nick Chiles, editor of the Topeka Plaindealer, will arrive in the city next Wednesday, accompanied by his wife, Mrs. H. Chiles, well-known and highly respected in this city, her former home.

Mr. Chiles enjoys a natural reputation in the field of journalism and has rendered signal service as a militant leader of his people. He was a candidate for U. S. Senator last year in the state of Kansas.

While here the people will be given an opportunity of meeting and hearing Mr. Chiles. Announcement later.

In Springfield, Illinois

BY: C. A. B.

It was about three o'clock in the afternoon of Sunday, February 27th when we landed at Springfield which, as you know, is the capitol of the great state of Illinois, and the boyhood home of Abraham Lincoln.

On our way accross last September, we told you about our visit to Lincoln's tomb, hence we shall not further mention it at this time.

Our stop over at Springfield going in was due to the fact that it is the home of William Jones and James Keeling, uncles of Editor Bass, and pioneer citizens of Springfield. Mr. Jones, being one of the largest colored property owners of Springfield, and a rather old bachelor, but not too old to wed if only he would come to California where ladies bloom all the way through life.

While in Springfield from Sunday afternoon until Tuesday afternoon, we were the house guest of Mrs. Mamie Slaughter of 326 N. 12th Street, where she and her husband, one of the city's leading business men, did everything within their power to make our stay pleasant.

Springfield folk are hospitable, and gracious to the stranger within their midst, hence at this time we acknowledge, among the many courtesies extended, a reception, at which the following ladies were present, and we were the guest of honor: Mrs. Clara Ware, wife of Springfield's leading physician, and a member of the Health Commission; Mrs. R. P. Taylor; Mrs. Katherine Williams; Mrs. R. A. Byrd; Mrs. O. S. Singleton; Mrs. Elizabeth Williams; Mrs. Mary Field; Mrs. Geo. W. Ford; Mrs. Katie Williams; Mrs. W. L. Hagan; Mrs. Geo. W. Green; Mrs. Mamie Slaughter; and Mrs. E. L. Clem, the hostess and her four charming daughters, Marjorie, Marion, Helen, and Margaret Clem.

The Clems have a beautiful home at 300 So. College St., and are also among Springfield's leading and best citizens.

Springfield has, so far as we could ascertain, no leading church, and among the four or five there, they are poorly attended; and possibly one large edifice could easily accommodate the colored population.

VISIT STATE CAPITAL

On Tuesday morning, February 29th, before we arose from our slumbers, somewhat lengthened into the morning, due to the lateness of our retiring the night before; we were confronted with an invitation, extended by the Hon. L. B. Turner, to visit the State Capital, and may we say that this was certainly an inspiring experience.

Atty. Turner was in Los Angeles in 1926, where he came to try a case in the courts of this Commonwealth, at which time it was our esteemed privilege to meet him.

Atty. Turner is a unique character, possessing all the qualities of a highly polished gentleman, consequently we deemed it a signal honor when we realised that he was relinquishing his desk in the State Assembly which position he has held for the past fourteen years, also leaving idle his private secretary to show us about the Capital.

GOVERNOR LEM SMALL

We were ushered into Gov. Lem Small's office and were cordially received by him, said he was glad to acknowledge a visitor from California, and we in turn said that we were certainly glad to shake hands with one of the greatest governors in the United States.

One needs only to visit the State Capital at Springfield to realize Gov. Small's attitude toward members of the Negro race, for since assuming office he has rendered signal service as a militant leader of his people. He was a candidate for U. S. Senator last year in the state of Kansas.

While here the people will be given an opportunity of meeting and hearing Mr. Chiles. Announcement later.

Al Trice and James Haynes were trying to make the dry little village of Pasadena as wet as the Mississippi river down Arkansas way. They were held under heavy bonds for the act named above. Mr. Wright.

Short Stories—Theodore Dreiser, Wilbur Daniel Steele, Fete Walrond, Zona Gale, Irita Van Doren and Harry Hansen.

Personal Experience Sketches—

Other members of our group who have held and are holding appointments under Gov. Small are as follows:

Trade and Commerce (Chicago) Ruth L. McCoo, Private Secretary to Mr. Wright.

War Declared On Lower California Development Company

And now the time has come to tell the folk of Los Angeles of the latest developments in our struggle in our affairs and our efforts to divorce the Lower California Mexican Land and Development Co. from the management which has carried it from an enthusiastic body of determined men to a total and disgraceful ruin.

At last the grand manipulator of all of our deal and promotions was forced to explain his actions relative to those things which we have never, heretofore been considered of sufficient consequence to be given an explanation. We cannot say what the result of our action will be; we do feel that justice will be done on the strength of the proof and explanations submitted.

While we are not men versed in all of the usages of business, yet we do feel, in fact we know, that when funds have been placed in trust by a body with one of the officers of that body, it is an essential practice in business, that an exact accounting be made by that trustee, for the protection of the trustee as well as for the benefit of the people who created the trust. Our contentions have been sustained.

What a pity it seems to us that it becomes necessary to take such drastic steps to secure what we are entitled to through common business courtesy. Who ever heard of a corporation before this one, passing from month to month and year to year for almost nine years, collecting and expending money in vast amounts without ever a "by your leave" or "here is a report of the money that has been entrusted to me."

Do not think that we are satisfied. Do not think that we shall ever stop fighting for what is right. We have only just begun. Before long we will be able to report to you the results of the recent action we have taken. Before another week we will have news of another proposition upon which we are working. Bear with us—The Lower California Mexican Land and Development Company will at last be cleaned up.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that all of the insinuations which have been published against the character, integrity and ability of Attorney Hugh E. Macbeth in connection with the development and control of the Lower California Mexican Land & Development Company are absolutely untrue, in fact, and are being published for the sole purpose of getting Mr. Macbeth to engage in a nasty public controversy with four disgruntled men which Mr. Macbeth will wisely refuse to do.

This publication is given with the knowledge and consent of the Board of Directors of the Lower California Mexican Land & Development Company.

Sacramento News

BY DOROTHY VAN BLACK

A group of young people enjoyed themselves at a Wiener Roast Saturday evening at Del Paso Park. Later in the evening there was dancing at the home of Mrs. Charles Duncan. Those present were: Misses Beatha Holland, Cleo Sparks, Vivian Slaughter, Madeline McGee, Ethel Grant, Maud Gray, Florence Pate, Mrs. Duncan; Messrs. Thornley, Estis, Bob O'Rielly, Tedd Smith, Jack Kimbrough, John Ware, Winston Bolden, John Evans, Wilton Johnson, Taylor White, Guest Rickets, Charles Duncan and son. After the party an early game of tennis was played at McKinley Park.

We would like to know what J. M. was doing with lipstick prints on his chin, at the party Saturday night. Who was the guilty young lady?

Last Sunday morning seemed to be the tennis day for all. The majority of the young folks were seen on the courts either at South Side or McKinley; the Modern Priscillas occupied the courts at South Side. They are planning a trip to Placerville Hills, Sunday, May 22nd. Fourteen girls are expected to picnic in the hills together with three chaperons, who are to drive the girls up in cars.

At the last meeting Miss Modella Thomas was made a Modern Priscilla by testing her lungs by blowing into a bowl of flour, sniffing mixed peppers, and eating garlic and sugar together. Then Miss Thomas stated, "I don't care what you kids do, 'cause I know I'm a Modern Priscilla now." She was named Priscilla Divine by the Dean. The remainder of the evening was spent in eating very delicious food furnished by Miss Holland and prepared by Miss Holland.

The Priscillas regret that Miss Marie Orr was not able to become a Modern Priscilla with Miss Thomas. She will probably become one in the near future.

The Tausants are struggling hard to meet the expenses that are to face them next month during the Convention which is to be held here. They are planning a big week of entertainment for the visitors and are asking that all kindly help them to raise the funds necessary to do so by attending their socials, parties, and etc.

Besides this they are trying to do their part in helping the flood sufferers and are therefore asking all who have any clothes that are useful and yet are not needed to put them aside and notify one of the members and she will see that the things are gotten.

The N. U. G. Art Club held their Supper Hunt and Penny Dance, Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Brinson at 1514 "U" St. Mr. L. Brinson and Miss R. Hall were the lucky persons who found the slippers. The evening started out rath dull, in the estimation of the younger set. Seeing the necessity of some life, the girls started the evening by dancing with each other and staying to themselves, thus solving a problem to start the bashful boys.

King Solomon Lodge, No. 8, F. & A. M. observed a social evening last Tuesday night with the Right Worshipful, Rev. Fred A. Hughes, Grand Chaplain as the honor guest and speaker. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Miss Viola Young of Los Angeles is visiting her sister and her brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Wysinger, at their ranch near Fowler.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Sheffield were delightful hosts on last Wednesday evening when they entertained a large number of the younger married contingent in compliment to Miss Young. A midnight luncheon was served at 12 o'clock and everyone seemed to have had a wonderful time.

Mrs. John McClendon of Los Angeles is spending some time with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Brashear. Last Thursday evening Mrs. Brashear and Mrs. Jerry Watts were charming hostesses at one of the largest parties of the season in compliment to Mrs. McClendon and sharing honors with her in this lovely affair were Mrs. James Ray of Arizona and Miss Viola Young of Los Angeles.

The luxurious Brashear domicile was given over to cards and dancing and tempting refreshments were served during the evening.

Gas Appliance Adjustment for All

GAS consumers of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation are now receiving natural gas of about 30% higher heating quality than the mixed gas formerly supplied. In order to get the full advantage of this greater heating value, appliances must be in correct adjustment to burn the richer gas efficiently.

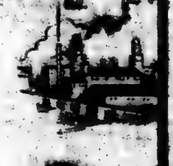
To help consumers get the best possible service from natural gas, we are repeating some of the information about appliance adjustment and gas service which appeared at the time of the change to natural gas.

In addition, we have placed in the field a large special force of men whose sole duty is to adjust all ordinary gas appliances, such as ranges and room heaters.

This service is free.

Already our men have called on many thousands of our patrons, but with more than 345,000 gas meters on our lines it will, of course, take considerable time to get over the entire system.

Every consumer will be visited in due time and as soon as possible. If any are having serious trouble, however, they should call our Gas Appliance Adjustment Department, FAber 5300, and we will send a service man ahead of the regular adjustment schedule.



There are some appliances, such as certain automatic water heaters and other devices, which, because of their complicated design, must be adjusted by someone thoroughly familiar with their construction. In such cases it is advisable to call the dealer who installed the appliance.

Other statements in relation to natural gas service will be published in the near future. Watch for them.

ANTICIPATE FIRE IN YOUR HOME

As a part of the educational campaign being conducted by Chief Ralph J. Scott of the Los Angeles Fire Department, adults are being asked to ANTICIPATE a fire in their homes. The reason for this is obvious to the thinking person. Too many people are prone to think their home safe from fire, and when the smoke or flame is detected hysteria prevails and the home is destroyed or damaged to a great extent. If thought is given to the question of how to report a fire, an emergency will not find you doing the foolish acts that are so prevalent today. It costs the taxpayers a great deal of money to maintain a fire department, and when the fire apparatus isn allowed to remain in quarters while some one's home is burning, that person is not receiving the service for which he is paying. The scales must balance, and it is just as essential for the people to know how to avail themselves of the fire department services as it is to maintain a department. Many alarms transmitted to the department are received incorrectly or too late to enable it to save the property involved in fire.

There are two ways of transmitting an alarm of fire, and the one recommended by the department is by means of the fire alarm box. There are some sections where there are no alarm boxes, and in this case the telephone must be used. We earnestly advocate that every person old enough to transmit an alarm be acquainted with the location of the nearest alarm box. In the residential section it is usually placed on a telephone pole which is painted red and white, for easy identification. To transmit an alarm by using a stick, knife, rock, vanity case, bunch of keys, or whatever may be at hand. As there are several types of fire alarm boxes, no specific instruction can be given except that the person turning in the alarm is requested to remain at the box to direct the fire department to the location of the fire. Printed instructions are on the face of every alarm box, and you should remember that the small hook or projection must be pulled all the way down ONCE, and then released. Within thirty seconds after this is done, all the fire companies responding to this particular location will be on their way to your assistance.

Parents are asked to admonish mischievous boys not to send in false alarms, for the reason that men in the fire department service may be injured in responding to such alarms. Not only that, but there is always the possibility of pedestrians or vehicles being run down by heavy fire apparatus traveling over the streets. When there is an actual need for services the department must use the congested thoroughfares, but we must urge the co-operation of the public to prevent the unnecessary travel over the streets by the fire department. If we desired to appeal to you in a sentimental way, we could recite the history of two truck company accidents, one at Ninth and Stanford and the other at Sixth and Bonnie Brae streets. The men that were not killed outright in these two accidents were injured for life, and they were the victims of some person's desire to "see the fire department run to a fire."

Mrs. John McClendon has returned home after enjoying a several weeks' visit in Fresno with relatives and friends. Mrs. S. C. Hannibal, her sister, accompanied her south and will remain for several week.

The members of the Los Angeles Ministerial Alliance were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gray, proprietors of La Republica Tea Room, Monday, May 16th. La Republica, "The Place Beautiful" is expected to become the scene of many exclusive gatherings in the near future.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Gordon of 1021 East Washington street have for several weeks had the pleasure of entertaining their cousin, Miss Marian Newman, of Greenfield, Ohio, who is visiting in California for the first time. Although she is leaving shortly for her home, Miss Newman expresses an intention of returning to California at the next opportunity.

The Bachelor Girls were hostesses to their many friends at their Annual Spring Dance, Thursday night, May 19th at Eagle Hall. Radiant girls and excellent music lent much to the usual merriment evident at all B. G. C. affairs. The only regret expressed was by a young man who said, "I wish 'Annual' meant four times a year."

Little Miss Arlane Hall, daughter of Mrs. Jennie Hall, while skipping rope last week, turned her ankle thereby breaking a bone. The injured foot is in a cast and the patient doing as well as can be expected.

The Women's Liberty Club, from the Pullman Porters of Los Angeles, had a wonderful time. "The Penny Dance" was well attended, with a large crowd of beautifully gowned ladies and gentlemen, and the music having been so wonderfully rendered by the pianist.

The New Hope Art and Social Club met at the home of Mrs. Triplett, 3682 Griffith Ave. Business of importance was discussed, after which the meeting was turned over to Mrs. T. S. Battle, who so beautifully took charge of eighteen well known ladies to teach them flower making. We also teach you other art work. These lessons are free. Dr. J. Edmond wood of Danville, Ky., Pres. of the National Baptist Convention, Inc., U. S. A., writes regrets of his inability to be here at the date set. He was supposed to arrive in Los Angeles, May 11th, in the interest of the finance campaign of the St. John Baptist Church, Dr. D. C. Knox, pastor. Date of his arrival will be announced later in this paper.

On Sunday, May 8th, which was Mothers' Day, the pulpit of Zion Hill Baptist Church was filled by its very capable pastor, Rev. N. H. Jones.

The spirit of this day was noticeably reverent by the enthusiastic meeting that was held. So soul stirring and emotional was the pastor's spiritual message, that the eyes of two inactive Christians were more widely opened to the extent that they cast their pious lot with Zion Hill Church.

The spirit of this occasion did not fail to penetrate the choir; the reflection of this penetration was seen in a wonderful vocal and musical rendition by said choir.

The collection for the day was very liberal and greatly appreciated by the pastor and trustees.

THE BACHELOR GIRLS CLUB
By: M. H.

The Bachelor Girls were recently entertained by Mrs. Thelma Porter-Dials, at her home on East 54th Street. Mrs. Dials is a former Bachelor Girl and her many friends concede her to be a lovely hostess.

Miss Camile Allen, vice-president of the Bachelor Girls Club, participated in the Ukelele Contest Finals held on May 5th at the Olympic Auditorium. Miss Allen, who was the only colored contestant, placed eleventh, out of an entry of 60 with 38 awarded prizes. The Bachelor Girls enthusiastically supported Miss Allen, occupying twenty reserved ringside seats, and presented her with a large basket of flowers. Last meeting of the club was held at the home of Miss Marcella Robinson, and if you want to see sparks fly ask any Bachelor Girl where she went after Club meeting.

MERRY MAKERS CLUB

On Monday, May 9, Miss Bessie Denton entertained the Merry Makers Club at her residence, 1318 E. 43rd St. Covers were laid for 17. The evening was enjoyed by all.

"There ain't no maybe in my Baby's Eyes" when he takes me to the Legion Nite Club, 12th St. near Central, Friday night, May 27th, to the First Annual Dance, given by the Primrose Club, Admission 75c.

LANGSTON UNIVERSITY CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the Langston University Club was held last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner of W. 38th Pl. Four new names were accepted for membership and an interesting program rendered at the close of the business session. After adjournment, a delicious repast was served by the host and hostess.

Last week the club entertained with a dancing party at Christian's Tavern, complimenting Mrs. Alice Kelly of Seattle, Wash. The club colors were carried out in the decorations and refreshments. About seventy-five persons enjoyed the occasion.

NARCISSUS ART CLUB

The Narcissus Art Club met at the residence of Mrs. H. M. Watkins, 1452 E. 39th St. Mrs. Willie Brackins was the hostess. The Club was engaged in art work for one hour. After which, the meeting was called to order by the president. Different subjects were discussed, one of the main things being the tea that was given at the residence of Mrs. Leola Lotgress, 681 E. 43rd St. Quite an enjoyable time was had —Musical number were numerous with some of the best talent on program.

"DODEC" PLAY GOES OVER BIG!

Perhaps no recent event of its kind has pleased Los Angeles more than the presentation of "How the Story Grew" did. It was given at Wesley Chapel M. E. Church by the Dodecagenian Art Club. If there ever was a story that grew, this one really did. There was a very large and appreciative audience which consisted mostly of girls and boys. A very interesting and different program was given as an added attraction.

By popular demand this play will be repeated at Hamilton M. E. Church, 18th and Naomi on Friday night, May 20th. This is your last chance to see this entertaining play.

BACHELOR GIRLS' CLUB
By: M. H.

A Bachelor girl has done it again. This time it is Miss Camille Allen, vice-pres. of the club. Miss Allen was the only Negro that was entered in the great final Ukelele Contest which was held at the Olympic Auditorium last Thursday, May 5.

Miss Allen is to be highly honored by the Negro race as she had the honor to face such a large event and for prizes, she placed eleventh. There were sixty in the contest and thirty-eight in the prize list.

Club members reserved twenty ringside seats to support their vice-pres. in her great trial and she was also presented with a beautiful basket of choice flowers from the club girls.

Thelma Porter-Dials, a former member of the Bachelor Girls Club recently entertained the Bachelor Girls at her home. She proved herself a lovely hostess.

The last meeting was held at Miss Marcella Robinson's 941 E. 11th street.

AMONG OUR CHURCHES

Big Gospel Tent News

Sunday night, May 22nd will be another big night at the Big Gospel Tent, 30th and Central Ave., when an astronomy sermon of the most interesting sort will be presented. This astronomy sermon is presented to show the power and greatness of the God Head and to miss hearing it can only be done so at a great loss.

Only a few more weeks remain for services at the BIG TENT—because the new church at 37th and Wadsworth is fast nearing completion and when it is finished all the services at the BIG TENT will be transferred to the church.

As we promised, by the help of our many friends—the new church will be dedicated free of any mortgage and we cannot help but express our great thanks for the liberality of everyone who has made this possible.

Come to the BIG TENT—Sunday night, May 22, at 7 P. M. Enjoy the Young People's service before the regular preaching hour at 8 P. M.

8th and Towne Avenue Delegate Leads Delegation

On Tuesday, May 11th, at St. Paul's A. M. E. Church, at San Bernardino, California, the Electoral College of the Southern California Conference, African Methodist Episcopal Church, met with 14 churches represented, and selected delegates to the next General Conference of the Church, which meets in Chicago, the first Monday in May, 1928.

Willis O. Tyler, member of the General Conference since 1920, of 8th and Towne Avenue, was elected to head the Lay delegation of whom four were selected. The other three being Benjamin W. Ingraham of San Bernardino, Mrs. Mattie E. Redd of Duarte and Mrs. Jeanett Pongleton of Pomona.

A large and enthusiastic crowd was on hand to greet the delegates and witness the election, and nearly every pastor in the Southern California Conference, was in attendance at the religious services which were held Tuesday night, and which, Dr. W. D. Miller of 8th and Towne Avenue, delivered the sermon.

Rev. Robert House of Riverside, and Rev. J. W. Price of San Diego conducted the religious services for the Electoral College. John W. Hale of Grant Chapel, was Chairman of the College, and Mrs. Louise Cook of Redlands was Secretary.

Listen, Folks!

Sunday, May 22nd is Women's Day at the Metropolitan Baptist Church, cor. East 37th and Paloma streets. You are cordially invited to attend services all day. The principal speakers for the morning, Rev. Mrs. Montgomery. In the afternoon, Judge Georgia Bullock. In the evening, Rev. Mrs. Lindsay and Mrs. Dr. Evans. Special music will be rendered by a female choir and solos by Mrs. W. R. Scott, Mrs. Cotten, Miss Woodruff, Mrs. Winston and Mrs. Gipson.

EDITORIAL

THE AMERICAN NEGRO PROBLEM

"The American Negro Problem", so says, the South Los Angeles News, "is a racial problem and will continue as long as the white man remains white andtheblack man remains black, if the races dwell together." And in the same paragraph ye editor states that "America is the land of the free and as such the colored race are entitled to every advantage in the way of education and political freedom." But, says he, "The great problem remains, the separation of the races. Each race going its own way and solving its own problems.

When we started to read this editorial we wondered what it was all about, but as we read on we were in no further doubt as to what the South Los Angeles editor was wanting to say. For, said he, finally, "There is certainly no more advantage for the colored people to live in a white district than for a white man to live in a colored district."

Well now, Mr. South Los Angeles editor, I believe I express the opinion of at least the majority of my group when I say that the colored home seeker is not at all anxious to back his house up against yours or even to get close enough for personal contact with you; its just the matter of your eating the apple and offering him the core. You know as well as I that it is the practice of the so called superior race to hog up everything worth while. Why are you aware of the fact that Los Angeles, like the other large American cities,with however, the exception of New York and Chicago for these, it seems, have had a change of heart, within the past few years, are wont to relegate the Negro to those sections of the city which really are the red light districts.

In your editorial you yourself have said that the Negro has made good according to his educational advantages. Now, I am afraid that you, like many other would-be-fair-minded white men, have the wrong perspective concerning the Negro—If, as you say, you desire to let him make his own way because he is capable of holding positions in all branches of professions and business, then move the petty obstacles from his path, such as discrimination as to race or color in public places.

Why, you even object to the Negro's taking a bath in God's ocean. I say, God's because you did not and cannot make an ocean, yet you would call it yours, and put up barriers to keep out the black man from even carrying out the edict that godliness is cleanliness.

You seem to have but one thought, and that is that the Black man or Negro is striving to live in your neighborhood. Well, where and what is your neighborhood? I take it that mine is wherever, and whatever property I am able to buy and pay for.

You even read history with your prejudices on the rim of your mind. Don't you know that Brittany was invaded by many tribes who came from the North, South, East and West, and that as they came others disappeared until the coming of the Angles who proved stronger in both mind and body, were left unhampered until the proud Saxon came and were equal in strength, hence the combination Anglo-Saxon?

The Negro is not clamoring to live with you, but by right of heritage he is determined to live in the United States, the country in which he had his civil birth. The country to which his fore parents were brought as laborers and they willingly laid with their own hands the foundation upon which this American civilization was builded.

If you will even study the history of economic conditions in this country you will find that it is the poor white man that is constantly crying about Negro invasion. The truly wealthy white man objects to the presence of the poor white man in his midst as strenuously as does he the Negro.

Read Walter White' "Fire In The Flint" and you will find that in the remotest sections of the South, the Negro is making greater strides in home cultivation than the poor white man.

Be charitable, brother editor. I realize that your face is white, but what about your soul?

The first chapter of Genesis and the twenty-seventh verse reads:—"So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them".

This does not even suggest that God made a white man to rule the earth. Neither does it offer an apology for the different colors of men, and I presume it was because man, being made in the image of God, was destined to be an intelligent, unselfish being or entity, and would study science to the extent that he would know that different climates produced differen colors—hence the white man from the frigid zone, and the black man from the torrid zone. And if you will read a little further on you will find that you, Mr. White Editor, were once in a state of ignorance, roaming the sea and making a meal on your weaker brother.

We believe that God's plan is that all of his creation should in time enjoy the same sunshine of religious freedom. So let's have tolerance fro myou—Just stay in your own back yard and let me live in mine, I shan't come across.

THUS FAR: NO FURTHER

As a result of the ruthless warfare as laid down by our present Chief of Police Davis, against the citizens, particularly those of the Eastside, two officers of our group have had the onus heaped upon them as costs for this sort of police work by being indicted by the grand jury for murder.

The indictment is by no means a prounoncement of guilt. This will be the question for a jury of their peers to decide upon after hearing the facts from the witnesses under oath. However, this indictment does mean the end of the trail for the ruthless warfare, of the multiplicity of arrests simply for the purpose of making up a budget worth while at the expense of a loyal and faithful group of its citizens.

This indictment has said to the Chief of Police Thus Far and No Further. Reason returning to first principles at the altar of truth will bow and a new dispensation based upon right will prevail to the end that reason, law and order will reign supreme.

"MURDER! MURDER"! SHE YELLED. ACCUSED MAN ATTACKS OFFICERS

When an excited telephone call came in to Newton Street Station screaming "Send officers out to 1618 E. 27th St. quick!" Officers Coppage and Howard always on the job, rushed to the scene. As they ran to the door, Mrs. Georgia Brown ran our screaming "There he is, there he is! Back in the kitchen"!

Expecting to find a desperate murderer standing over the prostrate body of his victim, they drew their guns and cautiously approached the kitchen. The sight that met their eyes looked to the officers like a small edition of the Mississippi flood.

Home brew, home brew, everywhere and Eugene Brown, husband of Georgia, standing before a sink already overflowed with the lud smelling concoction, as he madly smashed more bottles into the mess that lay in waves on the floor.

As the officers came in, he swung at them viciously with a broom barely missing them and cursing them loudly. He was finally subdued and both were booked at the police station for Wright act and possession.

Interrogated as to her reasons for the murder alarm, she replied that she was mad and excited because fo an argument with her husband over his destroying the intoxicating beverage. The officers cautioned her about making such misleading calls as it may sometimes cause serious trouble.

LOVE DUELISTS TO TRIAL

E. W. Gordon, who shot and seriously wounded his discarded sweetheart, Cora Robinson recently, was booked for a preliminary hearing Wednesday, on the charge of assault with intent to kill but she was not considered sufficiently recovered to appear as witness against him at his trial.

The "Hawk" put in a rather strenuous week much of his effort being put forth in trying to catch culprits that so far have escaped his relentless talons.

One of the biggest catches was C. C. Julian, the oil magnate, who was called before the grand jury. Those who do not see where that concerns them must learn that the gas they have to buy for the "Lizzie" goes up or down according to the sweet willl of the scheming, wrangling, concealing heads of Oil Companies.

But now the casualty list:

WHOSE JUG IS IT?

Laura Clemens, Margaret Wilson and Carrie Gorman were arrested at 844 Hemlock by officers from Newton Division who found the three women and a Jew who gave his name as "John Doe" surrounding a wrapped up gallon of moonshine which sat lonesome on the floor. "Now whose jug is it"? yelled the officers. "Not mine, not mine!" chorused the occupants of the room.

They were all locked up and tried next morning in Judge Turney's court. The women being found guilty of Wright Act and possession. The Jew with a fine of $50 for vagrancy and lewd.

A fact that did not come out in the trial because the women would not "squeal" was that the whiskey belonged to the Jew and he had just arrived to make a sale.

ANDY "BLACK BOTTOM" SMITH ASCENDS FORM THE BOTTOM

Old man Andy Smith who has lived for years down in the Santa Fe lowlands by the river was found guilty of Wright Act and possession in Judge Turney's court.

Andy is the father of Caggie, the famus dancer of the Black Bottom and the world crasing dance is said to have been originated by her right here in Los Angeles and was named "The Black Bottom" by spectators on account of the old man's home being located in what was then called the Black Bottom.

OFFICERS HUNTING BANDITS WHO BIND AND ROB COUPLE

Officers are searching for two Negro bandits who are alleged to have bound with ropes and robbed Mr. W. H. Henry and wife of 3504 S. Vermont Ave. Two diamond rings and $140 in cash were taken from the couple.

Prisoners Put Out S.O.S. Call Fo Murray and Stewart—Would Bail Out a Sinking Battleship

No matter if an arrested prisoner has only been in town five minutes he seems to know of Murray and Stewart and puts out a hurry up call for them to come to his rescue. This works the generally obliging gentlemen very hard and takes oodles of money, but the money is always forthcoming. Some people say the boys struck gld in Weepah.

First came Randolph and Sheffield. Their bonds won $500 each. Trice and Haynes of Pasadena, $1000 each. Smiling and Healing $1000 each, the Clemens Wilson & Gorman women $500 each and many more.

"COTTON" GORDON LOVE DUEL TRIAL POSTPONED

The preliminary trial of E. W. "Cotton" Gordon for the serious shooting of his former sweetheart, Clara Gordon, which was set for Wednesday had to be postponed because the victim of his bullet was unable to leave the hospital to appear against him.

SORORITY GIVES FIRST OF SERIES OF TOURNAMENTS

Last Saturday afternoon, the Rho Psi Phi house at 1259 W. 36th St., was the scene of the first series of the six weeks' whist and 500 tournaments sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority. Many ladies dressed in dainty afternoon frocks were present and enjoyed themselves immensely. Delicious refreshments were served after which prizes were awarded as follows: Whist 1st, Mrs. Geneva Childrs; 2nd, Mrs. A. C. Smitherman. 500, 1st, Mrs. Liddell.

Bethel A. M. E. Church at 1307 W. 36th St. will hold its cornerstone laying for the new church on Sunday, May 29th at 3 o'clock. Everybody is invited.

BURGLARY ALSO

The system of car theft the boys operated was to drive the stolen cars to lonely places in the Mojave desert, there strip them of all movable parts, wheels, tops, etc, and sell the parts where ever they could.

After arrest, they confessed to near-l ya dozeen mysterious burglaries of homes and business places that have baffled the police for months. The arrest is considered a good blow to juvenile crime.

SLIPPERY FINGERS!

James Smiley and Napoleon Hauling were hauling in the dough by working as a team of clever "Dips". They were arrested and held under $1000 bond. In Hawk language a "Dip" is a pick-pocket.

WALTER GOT ROUGH

Walter Griffin was arrested at 10th and Main by officers Green and Young of Newton Divisin. He is charged with assault with a dangerus weapon. He is a shoe shine artist from Texas.

MARION JORDAN TO MURDER TRIAL IN JUNE

Marion Jordan, who shot and killed his wife and attempted suicide will be tried in Superior Court in June.

MOJAVE DESERT DUMPING GROUND

Many Frames of cars stripped even of engines being found in the Mojave desert furnished the first clews to the many missing cars from Los Angeles for some time back. Tracing this on down a score or more of cars were found in use in the city fitted with the various missing parts. These were confiscated perforce after leaving the car partly stripped, and the parts will be identified and returned to the owners if possible.

RARE ABILITY DISPLAYED IN OPERETTA

The "Belle of Barcelona", a colorful operettagiven at Independent Church, May 11th, under the direction of Mrs. Geo. A. Beavers, Jr., was a success in every sense of the word.

A packed house had assembled to spend an enjoyable evening hearing and seeing this operetta.

About 50 those boys and girls were in the cast and choruses and each carried out his and her part well. The cast was well chosen.

The "Belle of Barcelona", Margarita played by Marguerite Robinson, was well portrayed and in this part, she displayed her ability as an actress and a vocalist. Her speaking and singing voice were clear and sweet.

Salinthus Whittaker, who played the hero, Lieut Harold Wright, was excellent.

A very model English governess was Verna Stratton, who, in criticising Spanish customs, always ended with "now in England——"

Special mention should also be given Theodore Oliver, Senior De La Vega, who was a perfect villain in every way.

The play was full of dramatic scenes and humorous stuations but everyone left with the satisfaction of knowing that they "lived happy ever after."

Space will not permit us to go into detail about the play, but suffice it to say that it was well acted, well staged, and well directed and it was the kind of a play that all enjoy.

Mrs. Beavers should be given credit for successfully putting on this operetta, for, as we expected, it went over big.

BE NOT DECEIVED

Do not be deceived by the selfish interests opposing Propositions 3 and 4.

In seeking to becloud the issue, these interests are asserting that the purchase of the Gas Company's electric system by the City will "destroy competition" and will "burden the taxpayers with a huge bonded debt."

So much for their dire prophecies. But how do they account for these ACTUAL CONDITIONS.

You are now being served gas by two "competing" gas companies. Has this "competition" lowered your monthly gas bill noticeably, or improved the quality of the dirty, smoky gas you have been getting?

Official records prove that it is the Municipal Power Bureau, and not the Railroad Commission, that has established and maintained Los Angeles' low electric rates. In 1922 the L.A. Gas and Electric Corp. was forced to ask permission of the Railroad Commission to lower its rates to meet the electric rates previously established by the Power Bureau.

The Municipal Water Bureau has a monopoly of the water business in Los Angeles. But the Water Bureau's maximum domestic rate is 13 cents per 100 cubic feet, compared with the average domestic rate of 18 cents charged in the 183 largest cities in the United States.

And how do these interests that are howling about competition account for the fact that the two 'competing" gas companies in Los Angeles are charging rates that are almost double the gas rates charged by the Long Beach municipal gas system. The Long Beach system gets its gas from the same source whence comes the Los Angeles Gas Companies' natural gas supply.

The Pasadena municipal light and power system has a steam plant capable of generating all the power that city needs. How do these interests explain the fact that Pasadena is able to buy power from the Edison Company at almost half the price the Edison Company extracts from the Los Angeles Power Bureau, which is forced to buy power from the company.

Propositions 3 and 4 at the June 7th election will permit your Municipal Power Bureau to give you better service and approval of these issues will insure lower rates. Adoption of Propositions 3 and 4 will not cost the taxpayers one cent.

STRONG SUPPORT FOR JUDGE SHELDON

Former Judge Caryl M. Sheldon was selected as the Bar Association's candidate in the plebiscite held to determine the attorney best qualified for Office No. 14, according to the announcement of the Vice-President, of the Los Angeles Bar Association, Mr. Hubert T. Morrow.

Complete returns of the vote of the attorneys gave former Judge Sheldon a tremendous majority over his opponent, A. J. Bledsoe, (not Judge Benj. Bledsoe).

Caryl M. Sheldon was for three years Police Judge at the University Station. He graduated from University of Southern California Law School in 1920 and after four years' practice of law enlisted in the Ninety-first Division. His army service kept him from completing the five years necessary to transfer from the Police to the Municipal Courts, when the Municipal Courts were established. More recently he has been Chief Counsel to the Probation Administrator.

Mr. Hubert T. Morrow in making the announcement of Sheldon's victory, stated, "We feel that former Judge Sheldon will be a worthy associate of the twenty-three Bar Association candidates who received signal victories in the last election. The public's endorsement of the Bar's endeavor to take the bench out of politics and keep the right sort of men in the judiciary has been most gratifying and we are glad to ask the public's vote for a lawyer of the caliber of Caryl M. Sheldon."

Allied Federation Strong Behind Candidacy Of Messrs. Martin, Ingram & Foster

The Federated Clubs are strong behind the candidacy of Virgil Martin, Snapper Ingram and Mr. Foster in the 8th, 10th and 12th Councilmanic Districts respectively.

In doing so the organizations aver they are but following up the notable victory gained at the recent primaries. They say futher that the agressive Ingram on his worth promises a distinct asset for the people of Los Angeles. That Sparks, by his loyalty to the Cryer machine is in the discard and that Martin represents the real independent spirit and a square deal.

That Foster in the 12th District should have their continued support from the primary and will be returned a sure winner.

JUDGE ISADORA BLAIR DINES PARTY

The Chesterfieldian Courtly and pioneer barrister, Judge Isadora Blair, entertained a few of his friends at dinner on last Monday evening, at the Burnette Cafe. It was one of those rare treats of a life time to enjoy the good things Judge Blair had provided. Those present were: Dr. J. S. Outlaw, Attorney and Mrs. L. K. Beeks and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bass. A most enjoyable dinner hour was spent and all departed declaring Judge Blair the Prince of hosts.

PROPOSITIONS 3 AND 4 JUNE 7th ELECTION

APPROVAL OF PROPOSITION 4

WILL permit the Board of Harbor Commissioners to lease to the Bureau of Power and Light a parcel of vacant the land in the Harbor District as a site for the Power Bureau's new stand-by steam generating plant.

0——00——0

WILL ENABLE your Bureau of Power and Light, by the establishment of its new stand-by steam plant, to provide Los Angeles with the most reliable and dependable type of electric service.

WILL PREVENT interruptions in the Bureau's power supply—and thus insure power and light consumers against the losses and inconveniences of such interruptions.

0——00——0

WILL BENEFIT DIRECTLY the taxpayers by providing a substantial revenue to the City in rental payments from the Power Bureau for the use of a piece of City-owned tide land.

0——00——0

WILL PUT TO BENEFICIAL USE a parcel of tide land that is 600 feet back of the nearest water front and has therefore been declared by the Harbor Department to be unavailable for shipping or navigation purposes.

APPROVAL OF PROPOSITION 3

WILL ENABLE the City to secure a fair and complete valuation of the Los Angeles Gas & Electric Corporation's electric system.

0——00——0

WILL OPEN THE WAY to better service and lower rates to all electric consumers.

PROPOSITIONS 3 AND 4 ARE NOT BOND ISSUES AND WILL NOT INVOLVE ONE DOLLAR OF EXPENSE TO THE TAXPAYERS

Roena Muckelroy Wins California Eisteddfod Contest

Miss Roena Eloise Muckelroy, a graduate student of the College of Music, University of Southern California, and a pupil of Mrs. Annie Mottram-Craig, under whose careful instruction she has studied for a period of five years, was awarded first place in the grand finals of the California Eisteddfod Contest, Tuesday evening, May 7th at the Gamut Club.

The Eisteddfod contests have long been recognized as a classic among musicians because, being national in the scope of their activities, they have placed the best musical talent of each state upon a competitive basis not only to seek the winner but also to inspire a more technical, a more intense study of the art in music.

Singularly, Miss Muckelroy has won the highest competitive honor in music that this State has to offer. A few weeks ago she was chosen to represent the Los Angeles District, which selection was made after the judges awarded her the decision above the other contestants. Eight districts of California were represented in these grand finals, all of which, according to the judges, made a very creditable showing.

Miss Muckelroy is the second and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wainwright Muckelroy of San Bernardino, California. She graduated from San Bernardino High School in 1922, and came to the University of Southern California the same year. Since that time she has been a pupil of Mr. Craig who is ranked as one of the most efficient professors of vocal instruction in the Pacific-Southwest because of the leading artists she has contributed to the musical profession.

Those who heard Miss Muckelroy sing in the Grand finals of the California Eisteddfod Contest were convinced beyond a possible doubt that her voice excelled with richness of artistic and natural beauty. Her articulation clearly enunciated each word. Her technique showed the finesse of efficient training and careful study. Her modulation revealed several distinct variations of tonal color. Her stage presentation was in itself, commanding. All of which portrayed the essential qualifications of an artistic singer. She, like her contestants, sang "The Rose's Cup," and "Flowers of Forgetfulness."

Miss Angie Bell Harrison, her accompanist, presided at the piano in effective ease, consciously in sympathetic connection with the singer. Thus she rendered a very good accompaniment.

Local Hair Dressers' Annual Trade Display

It will be a notable occasion along the line of the art of hairdressing when the women who, forging to the front in the line of endeavor will hold their Annual Trade Display, May 23, 24 and 25 at Eagle Hall, 822 Central Ave.

This will indeed be an event worth while and should attract thousands and we cannot help but appreciate these business women who are striving to attain the highest efficiency in the hairdressers' art.

Hanford News

Rev. H. H. Mitchell returned home Saturday morning from Santa Rosa, where he attended the Northern California Baptist Convention.

A special meeting was called at the A. M. E. Zion Church, Tuesday evening for the purpose of suggesting plans for the proposed May Carnival.

Mr. Kenneth Crawford, one of Hanford's leading young society buds, is now in Los Angeles, visiting with relatives.

Mrs. M. McEachen, our popular reader, recited several interesting poems for one of Hanford's leading social clubs at the Woman's Club House, Tuesday evening.

Investigate Carver Acres--- A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC:

In order to offset certain unwholesome rumors, to wit: That T. S. N. Maloof, owner of Carver Acres, is not the actual owner; we wish to make the following observation:

REV. RICHARD H. WADE
Manager

I solicit a thorough investigation on the part of anybody who doubts the honesty, and integrity on my part in offering these lands to the public. If any statement made to the public can be proven false, or not absolutely as advertised, I agree to frofeit $1,000 gold coin U. S. money to any one proving same.

CARVER ACRES, is the property of T. S. N. Maloof, and I am in position to give title to individual purchaser, on payment for his acre, whether one acre is sold, or the whole of the acreage is sold.

The records of San Bernardino are open to the investigation by any citizen who may desire to do so.

You will find Tract 2177 of the Maloof Highland Avenue Tract 1, recorded in book 31, page 51, San Bernardino County. You will also find Maloof Highland Avenue Tract, 2178, Plot 2, recorded in book 31, page 52.

Search the records, they speak for themselves. My offer stands to any one, and every one. If it is not as we say, you don't have to buy.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make One Thousand Dollars, by anyone who doubts our word. Remember this offer is unconditional, to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

The Rev. R. H. Wade, a man of outstanding character, and 18 years of unquestioned integrity, in California, who has for the first time to deceive the public, is my General Manager. He is known as a man of the highest honor, and invites investigation to the fullest extent. And Mr. E. B. Maxey, building contractor of 20 years' residence in Los Angeles, known everywhere as an honorable man, of strong business qualities, certifies as to truth of the facts above stated.

The land is now going. Get in now. Water rights go with the land. He who hesitates will lose.

T. S. N. MALOOF, Owner.
E. B. MAXEY, Contractor.
RICHARD H. WADE, Manager.

This property, named after the great scientist of Tuskegee Industrial Institute, offers the greatest opportunity to be found anywhere in this wonderful State, for the economical development of the Race.

Located on paved boulevards, about one hour and thirty minutes drive from Los Angeles; within 30 minutes' drive from the following towns: Alto Loma, Etawonda, Cucomonger, Upland, Ontario, Chion, Corona, Arlington, Riverside, Colton and Redlands. Twelve miles from the city hall of San Bernardino. It also joins the finest Olive Grove in California.

Buy one or more acres at once. Prises advancing with improvements. Delay means loss—get in on the ground floor.

This is your one opportunity to own some of the best land in California. Rich, level soil, midst highly improved orchards, vineyards and olive groves. Geological survey shows abundant water supply; water rights with every acre. Buy one or more acres at once—$600 per acre and up.

T. S. N. MALOOF
Owner of Carver Acres

Terms—10% down and balance to suit purchaser. This amount will place you in possession of an acre of the best boulevard lands.

Gain an independence. Buy now before prices advance.

T. S. N. Maloof, is sole owner of Maloof Tract No. 2177, and 2178, Highland avenue, San Bernardino County. We guarantee to every purchaser full protection.

This is the most wonderful opportunity ever offered west of the Rocky Mountains. There will never be another such offer in your lifetime.

If you wish to get in on the ground floor in this proposition, visit our headquarters at 2727 Cenrtal avenue and you will meet our representatives who are thoroughly competent to explain all the details of this proposition.

Located in the midst of health, wealth and prosperity, on a highly improved highway, from Los Angeles to San Bernardino.

Right in line with highly improved orchards; about 54 miles from Los Angeles' Court House. Also the finest place in the State for poultry, rabbits, in fact everything that you want to raise.

This acreage is surrounded by several large cities. Plenty of water, guaranteed for domestic use by the owner.

T. S. N. Maloof will endeavor to assist you in building your home with all the necessary improvements. I am not a promoter, but owner of this tract. I am in a position to give a grant deed, and a certificate of title to each individual acre bought and paid for.

Do not measure my proposition by others of a like nature. Mine is different from any other yet given to the people of California. In fact there is nothing to compare with this proposition.

I also finance and build homes anywhere in Southern California. Resources unlimited. If you have the purchase price on your acreage we will make every effort to build for you; putting in fences, chicken corral, rabbit hatenery, allowing you to pay out in small monthly instalments.

E. B. MAXEY
Contracting Department

Here is a splandid opportunity to make a substantial beginning toward an independent future. We also carry Fire Insurance, Rentals, Sales,—City, Country and Suburban properties. In fact anything in the Real Estate line. Information cheerfully given.

Building Department

We do a general contracting, building and financing, build-construction of every kind; painting, plastering, paper hanging, plumbing, cement contracting, architectural drawing.

Apartments, bungalows, courts, stores, duplexes, modern homes of every description, and furnish architectural drawings for same at a reasonable price.

We ask that you give us an opportunity to prove our ability to you. Give us a call at our headquarters.

Water in abundance already on the land.

Busses go up to the land Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sundays, 9:00 oclock A. M.

The members of the Brotherhood and Euzelian Classes of the Friendship Baptist Church, under supervision of Capt. Wm. Reynolds, the well-known choir director, are being organized into a choral club. Quartetts and sextetts have been formed and arrangements made for stated rehearsals preparatory to the grand concert which is to come off in the early part of June. The Captain needs no introduction to the musical world having been a choir director for many years in the East, where he has an enviable reputation.

The Annual Sermon of the U. B. F and S. M. T. will be held at the First A. M. E. Church next Sunday evening.

Little Miss Gladys North and Master Timothy Harrison of the Primary Department represented Friendship Baptist Church in Children's Contest last Friday night in Los Angeles at the Methodist Church and of course it goes without saying they brought back the laurels. Miss North took the first prize and young Harrison also but following the age-worn slogan, "Women and children first," Master Harrison had to play the part of a hero and allow Miss North to take away the laurels. These young people were accompanied by Mrs. Cassie Sweet, Director of young folks activities of the church; Miss Claudice Jones, Junior Console artist of the church and Mr. Ralph Troy, ex-superintendent of Friendship Sunday School.

With more than a million votes to the good, and still in the running, Mrs. Rhoda Harris, one of the most popular members of Friendship Baptist Church was successful in winning the Whippett automobile for having procured the largest number of subscriptions to the contest just closed by the Pacific Defender. Mrs. Harris is thoroughly known for her persistency, bearing the inimitable record of never losing in anything she undertakes to put over. Her many friends are congratulating her in the new acquisition.

The Senior Mission Society of Friendship Baptist Church will give a feast of "seven tales" arranged in banquet style in honor of their President, Mrs. Short, who leaves for the Southland the morning following this affair which occurs on the evening of the 24th.

The winding up of the airplane drive by the Golden Rule Department of Friendship Baptist Church will be celebrated on evening of 27th in the Social Room of the Church, when a contest will end the festivities by crowning the King and Queen at the 15th anniversary, representing Rumania's freedom from Turkish domination. King Ferdinand has decreed that both houses will honor this occasion and a large crowd is expected to witness the coronation. Come and see who will be crowned the King and Queen.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ANNUAL INSTITUTE

The President's Council Annual Institute will be held at the Y. W. C. A. 12th street, Thursday, May 26th beginning at 10:30 A. M. The State Parliamentarian, Mrs. J. C. Banks will have a Parliamentary Law School in the morning and an excellent program in the afternoon. At 2 A. M., the Executive Board will meet at the Y. W. C. A., so they may be out in time for the institute.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Coming as a pleasant surprise, was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Clotilde Bennett to Mr. Albert Brodie, Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride-elect's aunt, Mrs. Paul Brown, 2713 Glassell street. About 25 girls were present when Miss Mary Betresse passed a bowl of cecil brunner roses under which were hidden miniature hat boxes for each guest, marked "The Latest News" and the announcement. Miss eBnnett looked very sweet in flesh colored georgette and lace. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers; love-bird and cupid molded ice cream brought delight as well as other good things. Mrs. Brown was assisted by Miss Ines BeBnnett, Mrs. Robert and Luana Martinez at the piano. The wedding will take place the latter part of June.

The Southern California Alumni Association will hold its regular meeting Sunday, May 23nd, at Wesley Chapel Church, 8th and San Julian Sts. All members are asked to be present.

El Capotin (Rain Song.....Lumis
El Arriero (The Muleteer).....di Nogero

Unforgettable, gripping the very hearstrings of, her amazed hearers, arresting the soothed minds of the grateful observers of her art, travels the pure, sweet, rich song of Belle Salter-Tyler like a romantic entrancing heavenly harp of richest melodies over the magnetized audience,—no artist in the whole world can magnetize an audience more completely and make them laugh and make them cry at her own sweet will, than Belle Salter-Tyler! She is more than a peerless and tender-voiced, powerfully acting and reacting contralto singer, she is one of the very few song-charmers that entirely and irresistibly dominate and always hold an audience, so that no one can ever escape her rapturous and magnificent spell. She weaves around every one that hears her.

She, like Florence Cole-Talbert, is so great, that she does not depend mainly or nearly on Negro Spirituals to earn her the coveted fame as a brilliant and matchless singer, for she sang only two spirituals and she sang them superbly, martyr-like. She is a sure-footed, high-soaring, fine—aye, finest—enunciating language singer in all the leading European languages, and more than that, she is a clever and seasoned natural actress, a mimic, a characterising specialist in types-singing and character-acting that she steels the breath away from her baffled and hypnotised admirers.

"Caller Herrin" in costume, a Scotch fish-vending song, completely thrilled the helplessly conquered audience—an audience that had totally surrendered to the commanding and demanding art of Belle Salter-Tyler. Her Spanish costume songs, in originality, romanticism, limpid purity and overflowing grace, caught the audience more secure than the preachments of religion may catch the average sinner. Her German lyric "Ich grolle nicht!" was sung richer than many German-born contralto singers could sing it. Her beautiful mother-song, not listed on the program, had the audience tear-wetted and contrite of heart. In four languages, Italian, English, German and Spanish, a true and matchless familiarity, a clear enunciation and the rarest kind of contralto-song mastery was easily demonstrated to her enchanted and eyes-and-mouths-and-ears-and-hearts-opening auditors.

We've heard Matzenauer, Schumann-Heinck, Anna Case, Johanna Gadski and many others,—none of all can be better, none is better, and most of the star singers that appear in the gorgeous Metropolitan Opera houses have not the wonderfully mobile, flexible, (ones) ɹǝu ɹo ɐuuɐɥoɯ)

Poro Returned To Mrs. Malone

The cloud of uncertainty which has enveloped Poro cleared away last Monday, when Judge Moses Hartman sitting in the Circuit Court, handed down an order which declared Poro College the sole property of Annie M. Malone and ousted Receiver Conrad Paeben, the bumptious white official, whose rough-shod domineering over the famous institution, had aroused Negroes the country over to deep resentment. Paeben was ordered to turn over forthwith to Mrs. Malone, all of her property, including $82,000 worth of gilt edged bonds and other personal effects, as well as all records of Poro which might be in his possession. The receiver did not show his face personally at the college, but let his assistant handle the transfer. There were hallelujahs and rejoicing when he left.

In an exclusive statement to the Associated Negro Press, counsel for Mrs. Malone explained the case as follows:

Dempsey Looks Like the Old "Man Killer"

Down at the Pacific Gables Sunday, Jack Dempsey, the Manassa Man-Killer, looked like the same Dempsey who knocked out Firpo, the Wild Bull of the Pampas. The way he kept set-ting Tony Fuetne and Benny Hill down and the way he upsets Vic Alexander in his mountain training camp is good proof he is staging a real comeback.

There is one thing sure, he seems to be in real earnest, does not need the money and has not over estimated himself as he does not feel ready to meet Paulino in July. This being the age of upsets wouldn't extras sell for a buck a copy if he upset his lost crown from Gene Tunney's head?

JOSEPHINE BROWN WHITE GRL IN SEN-SATIONAL TOURNEY

History was made Saturday, May 14th., for the first time in the history of Los Angeles. A colored girl played a match Tennis game against a white girl in a city-wide tournament held at the Griffith Park courts.

Josephine Brown is the girl's name and her performance against her opponent did more to help break down the bars of color in sports than anything previous. Open competition in women's sports at the campuses and clubs has not been prevalent and colored girls have either been tentatively excluded or have lacked the boldness to apply for an opportunity to compete.

The match, which is an annual event, held especial interest this year manifest by the large number of contestants. There were six rounds in the two-days' play of Saturday and Sunday though practically the best new players of the city were pitted against many of the veterans of former conquests.

Some of the most important matches were Men's Singles: Patchen Teasdale 6-4, 2-6, 6-0; Johns-Waise, 6-3, 6-3. Men's Doubles: Penderson and Isenbut defeated Henry and Smart 6-2, 6-2. In women's singles, Peggy James, N. Biller, 6-1, 6-0; Helene Long, Mrs. Ward 6-1, 6-4; Miss Hort, Miss McKay 6-1, 6-1. The matches this year held added attraction from the inducement of many beautiful trophies and a $50 prize and cup for women's singles. Over 75 tennis players were entered for the men's doubles, mixed doubles, women's doubles, men's singles and women's singles, but Miss Brown was the only Negro entrant. Her sister Dr. Emily Brown Childress and the Eagle Sports Editor were the only Negro spectators of the great crowd surrounding the eight splendid cement courts. Application having been made and accepted by mail it was not known to officials or players what Miss Brown's nationality was, but when she reported at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning for the 9:30 Match no comment nor evasion was attempted.

Miss Marlowe a lovely dark-haired girl of the Helen Wills build, arrived at 9:31 and on being shown who she was to play, showed real sportsmanship. She did not hesitate but reaching into her car for her racquet walked out on the links to face the colored girl across the net. Then began a match such as is seldom seen for determination on the part of both players to win. Miss Brown who weighs only 110 pounds showed excellent foot work and had Miss Marlowe far surpassed in net play and service but Miss Marlowe was great in return and back-hand strokes. Her back-court plays were excellent but in service she often netted two balls out three in an endeavor to drive just over the net to leave Miss Brown in a difficult position. Miss Brown played brilliantly at the volleys seldom missing a stroke and showing excellent control. Though stands were being played on all the other courts at the same time the greatest crowd was around the one in which Miss Brown and Miss Marlowe were fighting it out. Miss Marlowe won the first with a 6-4 and the second with a 6-0 but complimented the colored girl highly as she shook hands with her across the net following the match. A probable reason for Miss Brown's loss was the fact that a previous rainy spell stopped during a terrific drive, put on unintentional spin to the ball at times afterwards and spoiled her control. Also a thumb wrenching badly blistered helped to spoil her tourney and timing and made a larger percentage of misses on easily returnable balls.

Miss Brown is an excellent and enthusiastic Tennis Player, a great admirer of Helene Longden and is in the process of taking classes at St. Vincent's Social Center with interesting prospects of her soon being in competition with the best of the Eastern featherweight crop having tonight "Red" Chapman, "Honey Boy" Finnegan, Babe Herman of California and others. Suggs has already started West.

Taylor and his manager, Eddie Long, are headed this way and will arrive here Friday, May 20th.

This will be a battle worth going miles to see and may be anybody's fight at the end of the 10 chapters.

CAMPUS DUST

BY: CLYDE THOMPSON

[EDITOR'S NOTE]—Through some unsolvable but unavoidable mystery that happens at times in a publishing plant the valued column below became lost at our last two issues. Meanwhile the news contained therein became stale, hence relishing only fresh news, as do our esteemed readers, we were able to save only this very timely sketch of the brilliant young man mentioned below. His achievements both on athletic field and in class room, not only deserve the highest commendation, but also proves that all things being equal, "the better athlete, the better student. We also highly appreciate the efforts of Mr. Clyde Thompson in writing Campus Dust.

The Agenda Club is a club composed of all the Negro students of the University of California at Los Angeles. The president, Ralphe Bunche, is a senior and has been at the university four years, during which he has not only maintained the seemingly impossible grade of "A" but has found time to squeeze in three years of basketball competition. He has played on the three championship teams and in his last year was named on the all-conference team, a signal athletic honor. In recognition of his sterling work he has been awarded a scholarship to study law at Harvard University.

CHICK SUGGS FIGHTS AT THE OLYMPIC

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good," says Chick Suggs, great little New England scrap who has held the top in the pendant and feather ranks for some time back. But when Zeplin's infected tooth necessitated him drawing out very quickly matchmaker "Whitey" Washburn turned over in his book to the page marked Suggs, got busy and signed up the great colored boy that Western fans have been anxious to see "in person." Suggs being the heavier has agreed to make 126 pounds to Taylor's weight of around 122.

Suggs has campaigned against the best of the Eastern featherweight crop having fought "Red" Chapman, "Honey Boy" Finnegan, Babe Herman of California and others. Suggs has already started West.

Taylor and his manager, Eddie Long, are headed this way and will arrive here Friday, May 20th.

This will be a battle worth going miles to see and may be anybody's fight at the end of the 10 chapters.

DR. BAUMANN MAKES RECORD CATCH OF BASS. CATFISH SPOILS IT.

Fishing at the best now with trout and bass biting hungrily. Dr. Baumann and party had the bad luck to lose 19 out of 20 fine bass caught at the San Diego lake because a great catfish caught by one of the party and strung with the bass cut the string, releasing the whole catch. They were regained with difficulty with the exception of 16.

In the Bishop country the lower portions of the streams are roily because of the melting snow. Fishing is reported good in the upper branches.

A number of catches are reported from Juno lake in the Mammoth country.

It snowed in Big Bear valley last Sunday and some of the anglers were forced to leave Big Bear lake because of the cold. Weather conditions are reported better.

There are a few trout in Mill creek, but the boys from Redlands and San Bernardino have thinned them out.

L. A. GIANTS PLAYED THIRD GAME OF SERIES AT SAN DIEGO SUNDAY, 15th.

Play Long Beach Merchants at Merchants Park Sunday, 22.

The fighting Los Angeles Giants met unexpected but noble defeat at the hands of the San Diego Jacobs Team, Sunday, May 15, at the Jacobs home grounds in San Diego.

Two errors in the first inning though unavoidable were made by shortstop Green and because of this air-tight playing of Jacobs' men the lead could not be overcome.

Two pitchers, Farley and Lewis were used, Lewis during 4 1-3 and Farley 4 2-3. The boys are not making and alibi, but spectators who were there say the "Huntsmen" did not even have a chance to warm up on the diamond before time to play. The reason of this was that two white teams were playing also, making a double header. They were the Hubbard Cubs of Los Angeles and the Naval Air Base of San Diego, the Cubs losing, 7-4. On Independence Day, July 4, and also the preceding day, their third, the Giants will have a chance to wave Old Glory over the Jacobs team and wipe out the defeat.

Although Jim Hunt was not down with the boys Sunday, his Captain George Adams handled the team in a masterly manner. Adams is not only a good field general but is also a first class player, and his work added to C—the tight fighting of the men under his command is what enabled them to make the Davs scores they did against that third Jacobs outfit.

Paul Wilson is a real star. A ball last no business coming to centerfield while Paul is there. Ritcher, the team's great catcher is playing at his best, he got two of the three hits Sunday. Jackson gets speedier and more outstanding sap here that leaves the plate. Sears who is greener than the usual utility man started at first but was switched to second and held the second sack well all through the game. Numerous attempts have been made by Shrimpy organize Giant's best players, but the organization is sticking together loyally. They will probably start at their home grounds not later than June 5th, with a grand opening drive, talent permitting, and settle down to give baseball fans Winter League baseball shudder. Rumors will be run in the grounds from the city. That is the report.

Dick Donald Gives Up!

WRIGLEY FIELD CARD POSTPONED TO JUNE 6

FRANK KERWIN

One of the best Sports Writers and Managers of Sports in the West. Publicity man for Donald's Wrigley Field classics.

Dick Donald had to give up! Not the fight game, oh no! When the "California Rickard" quits the fight game it will be when all the boxing gloves will be pounded into mattresses and the ring ropes into broncho bridles. But he had to give up trying to stage his May 23rd card. It was either of a mediocre card or nothing, so Dick chose nothing and postponed his fight to June 6th, the anniversary of his last summer's show.

Hard, earnest effort and many dollars spent with telegraph companies in an endeavor to get suitable opponents for the available boxers resulted in refusal after refusal. Godfrey was the hardest man to get matched. Many wires were sent to Eastern boxing centers to try to coax some good ole man into the same ring with the Black Shadow, but all to no avail.

Paulino, Sharkey, Firpo, Harry Wills, King Solomon, Chief Metoquah and others were among those tried. Even coming back West John Lester Johnson and even Jess Willard were considered, but declined on account of [illegible] as the card was went by the board—Lomski left town, while Henry and Mack House could not be rotten together. Now there is one boy Willie Henry who would have stolen the show if he could be matched against any one able to give him a fight. He is back in Galveston now but will probably appear in Dick's next card. Weighing only 175 he beat Chevalier weighing 216 and won by K. O's. over every opponent he met on the Coast. For the postponement Dick will treat the fans to a great surprise and will pull one of the biggest fights ever pulled on the Coast. He will announce what he has up his sleeve a little later.

COLIMA MAY SHADE "SHARKEY" AT OLYMPIC TUESDAY, MAY 24TH?

BEAT HIM BEFORE HAD FOUGHT

They accuse Colima of being timid and being able to go only when out in front but the way the classy Mexican general stood up to the claws of the ripping Ace Hudkins showed that he must have nerve and now he is squaring off with a gladiator almost as dangerous. They fight at Jack Doyle's palace of Fisticuffs, the Olympic Auditorium, on the night of May 24, and one need not be surprised at any morning a day or two before the fight to see the gallery-gods lined up waiting for the doors to open. For in spite of reverses mingled with successes the Mexican idol is one of the most popular fighters on the Coast, gained not only by his willingness but by the classy, colorful battle he always puts up. There is one thing that should give Bert a lot of cockiness; that is, that he has whipped the whole Shade family. He holds decisions over the two brothers, Bill and George, and got a four-round decision over Dave. This great supporting card will send the cash investors home satisfied in case either Bert or Shade cut the 10 rounds short by "doing their shopping early." It reads like this:

Benny Hill vs. Ernie Owens, heavyweights, six rounds; Jackie Carr vs. Benny Miller, 133 pounds, six rounds, Evans Fortune vs. Al Wilton, 165 pounds, four rounds; Sandy Garrison vs. Mike Flores, 135 pounds, four rounds.

A recess of business kept Leo P. Flynn in New York, and that the veteran game would not be in Los Angeles for the contest.

JOE DE [illegible] TO HAS A GREAT STABLE OF BOXERS

Joe [illegible] who is [illegible] to be a big [illegible] in the history of the old by-knuckle days of Sullivan, Peter Jackson and other great gladiators, has lined up what is probably the largest stable of promising young fighters in the West. Here is his line-up: Felix Reinos, weight 120; Joe Fenton, weight 122; Gill Ramos, weight 145; Carlos Navis, weight 110; Tony Garibay, weight 132; Tony Ruiz, weight 135; Emilio Ortiz, weight 140; Charles Wall, weight 118; Henery Cotaya, weight 135.

Along Fisticuffs Row

Boxers, high or low, in the "Sock, Block and Tube 'Em" game should get in this row by all means. You don't know how many thousands of promoters look down this line for new material. Leave cuts and record with Red Hogan, the Main St. A. C. impressario.

JOE SOTO—has boxed with practically everyone of the great boxers of the world. Joe is now 71 years of age looking and acting like 40, but he has boxed with John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett, Joe Wolcott, George Dixon, Bob Fitzsimmons and all the others whose gloves are hung in the fistic hall of fame.

* * *

TIGER BOB [illegible]—is leaving for a tour of the North and Middle-West. His versatile opponent, Slim Jones, has Bob signed up for top spots in Frisco, Denver, Oakland, Fresno and a lot of other league centers.

* * *

YOUNG HARRY WILLS—covered by his first start after a layoff [illegible] at his old [illegible]. He is [illegible] to beat Lefty Tessier if he has to go East to get him.

Eaves-Droppin' Around Pop Barret's Champ Factory

BY: I. M. RINGWORM

When George (K. O.) Chaney, of Baltimore, Md. (the birthplace of that greatest of all lightweight champions, Joe Gans) piled up 297 knockouts in something over 300 battles, during a career of over 14 years in the game the fistic world believed, and still believes, that Chaney, (known as the "Assassin") had got a record for all time, as far as producing the sleep lotion to his opponents in the squared hemp. But there's one that has seen them come and go for the past 47 years in the fight game that believes that Chaney's record will not only be equaled, but, actually beaten, before George Simons, a local youngster hangs up his gloves, and that is none other but that seasoned veteran, Joe "Pop" Barrett, and a staunch friend of "Tiger" Flowers, the ex-[illegible] weight champion of the [illegible].

Just one year ago, [illegible] on the beach in Venice, [illegible] youngster, this same George Simons, built on the existence of the [illegible] Chaney, whom "Pop" [illegible] from all [illegible] self, for taking from [illegible] on the streets of [illegible] fighter of [illegible] practically a stranger [illegible] gloves, [illegible] was a staunch [illegible] Nick [illegible] who is regarded [illegible] cat socker slying his [illegible] and one night, at Culver [illegible] Nick was [illegible] Joe Layman, [illegible] hands down! [illegible] considered one of [illegible] youngsters a the [illegible] ling about the [illegible] Corbet, who hadn't lost a battle until that night, George not only surprised the wise ones, but he actually knocked Corbet dead in the second round.

Jim Dangherty Takes His Pen in Hand

Once in a while general Jim Daugherty, pal-manager of the greatest heavyweight in the world, takes his pen in hand and when he does he lets the world know what he thinks of the present crop of heavyweights practically all of whom are dogging Godfrey, his Black Shadow of Leiperville. Below is a letter from the versatile Mr. Daugherty who is back East now on business:

Continental Hotel, Apr. 19, 1927.

Sports Editor, Calif. Eagle.

Dear friend: Well, Godfrey knocked out another heavyweight by the name of Long Tom Hawkins. This makes about 12 that he has knocked out now. Any man that can be brought out here that they think can give Godfrey a fight, can draw a 200,000 house, Capt. Strollinger has made up his mind that there is no heavyweight in the world able to give Godfrey a contest. If Tunney wasn't the champion, he couldn't get a license to box Godfrey in California, as the Commission considers him in the same class with Martin Burke and Chuck Wiggins, as they have fought Tunney two or three draws, which, proves he is in their class, and they made such miserable showings that they passed Godfrey out here.

Now, Hawkins stole a decision by [illegible] by not wanting a round before a [illegible] audience. Billy Evans, sports editor of the New York American, was present and will verify this statement. Shorty is keeping on the Coast now. I will give him a $10,000 purse to come out here and box Godfrey but records did him in too big a coward to accept because he knew Godfrey can lick him.

Godfrey can lick anything Rickard has in their White Hope Tournament, one night, then after another, and no one knows that better than Rickard himself. There is no question that Godfrey is the best-rounded champion of the world today, and I doubt if he has ever gotten the best of a [illegible] like Godfrey does. I consider it very [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible] will [illegible] to [illegible] whenever he [illegible].

I will say no more, a couple of words.

UPTON'S
RAILROAD CLATTER
Chas. E. Upton

LEARN FACTS ABOUT THE ROAD YOU RUN ON

Porters operating on the different roads should take more pains in learning the true facts about the road they run on in order to answer questions intelligently, and correctly. Nothing in the world appears so dumb to a passenger than a Porter whose only answer to a question is, "I Don't Know!" If it is your first time on the line, you have a good excuse, but there is absolutely no excuse for the dumb-bell who goes over the same road eleven months out of the year and never learns anything more about it than to make up the passenger's bed, and shine his shoes. An intelligent, curteous porter is an asset to the Company he works for, as well as a credit to his race. The writer knows that there are many questions asked in the course of a long journey which may seem foolish, but you must take into consideration that the party asking them might be traveling over your line for the first time in their life. We all know that the traveling public are very trying at times especially when we have a big load, but that is the time when we have our best opportunity to show our intelligence, as we have a great many porters in this district who run on the Southern Pacific and also waiters. Some of the most important facts of the S. P. will be published n this column from week to week; jot them down, memorize them, and they will at some time prove valuable to you. At a later date we will discuss the other roads in a like manner.

• • •

FACTS ABOUT SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY

Operations of The Southern Pacific Co. extend from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Portland, Ore., To Orendain, Mexico, about 300 miles northwest of Mexico City. It forms one of the world's largest transportation systems, for it operates and controls 16,363 miles of rail lines in the United States and Mexico, and about 5,825 miles of water line.

The Southern Pacific Company has more than 57,300 stockholders and about 103,500 employes. It owns 79,179 freight cars, 2,927 passenger cars, 2,440 locomotives, 23 ocean steamships, 23 ferry and car transfer ferry boats, 4 river steamers, besides other miscellaneous rail and floating equipment. The Company also has half ownership in 38,346 refrigerator cars. MORE WILL BE TOLD next week.

SHOW PARTIALITY IN BIDDING

Recently the bedroom car operating on The Lark was posted for bid, but the funny part of Mr. Shores' little joke was it was only allowed to be bid on by the aristocratic Lark crews. In looking over the agreement the writer has yet to find where a car or line can be posted up for bid to a selected few. If a car or line is posted for bid each and every porter operating in the district in which the line is operated should be allowed the privilege of bidding on it. If the car is to take the place of another car on a train consisting of two or more cars or lines, it does not displace the whole crew. It displaces but one porter who by right of such displacement is entitled to a bump. The new car should be posted up for bid to the entire district and not to any one group of porters.

• • •

OLD AND NEW

Los Angeles has many new men about to enter a Pullman Porter career. It is up to the older men in this district to see that they start it right now, the right way. One of the main things to be avoided is familiarity with women passengers, both old and young. Every time a young lady smiles when you pass to and fro in the car doing your duties, she most certainly is not doing it for a flirtation. Some young people are naturally pleasant to every one they meet; they are brought up that way at home and when they travel they naturally bring their training and personality in the Pullmans. BEWARE! WATCH YOUR STEP and treat it as such. Don't lean on the back of a passenger's seat and hold a lengthy conversation, it looks bad and always attracts the attention of other passengers in the cars. Answer questions intelligently, courteously and be polite at all times—BUT NEVER BECOME TOO FAMILIAR, and you will last a long time. The older men of this district should take it upon themselves to continually preach this doctrine to their new co-workers. A stitch in time saves Nine.

FAREWELL PARTY GIVEN MISS MARGUERITE CLAY

That intrepid little gentleman Ovid Scott (the Mayor of Black Hollywood) is still very much alive from all reports last week we find that he was an invited guest to an elaborate farewell party given by Miss Freda Earley in honor of her cousin Miss Marguerite Clay of Cleveland, O. Many beautiful ladies, were present, dressed in the height of fashion resembling lilies of the valley. The house was gorgeously decorated and the young revelers danced to the strains of the ampico until they were weary indeed. Miss Clay who is beautiful to look at was filled with remorse at having to leave her cousin Miss Earley and her host of friends which she has made during her three months' visit in California. However, she intends to return in the near future and make her home in dear old sunny California.

DOCTORS HAVE BIRTHDAYS

The writer happened to be fortunate enough to be invited to a surprise Birthday party given in honor of Dr. Eugene Johnson, popular Westside druggist by his wife. Mr. Johnson the writer has always had a horror toward doctors. Maybe it is because they always want to give you some medicine or shove all of Lourdes in you head saying it is because he has never had an opportunity to learn both the pleasant side of their lives. At first I was rather reluctant about attending, thinking that the doctors might be up against it for some new victims and diagnoses, but believe that first glass of Ice Water with canned Cherry floating in the winds and settled down for a good time. An elaborate dinner was served to the strains of some soothing music which lasted into the wee hours of the morning. The party was a real affair and was rather unique inasmuch as the returns of all prize fights were received over radio and telegraph. I found myself going home at 2:30 A. M. with a much better feeling toward doctors in my heart. Yes! doctors are not such bad fellows after all.

PONDER, SKIFF SKIMMER ENTRANT, TRACED TO LEAKE'S LAKE

Last week the writer promised to have a line on the training activities of Ponder, the Skiff Skimmer entrant. Well, as yet he has been covering up his trail so effectively that our sleuths have been eluded on every hand. They were close behind him last week and tracked him to a man-hole on the Westside, where he disappeared from view, while one of our secret service men was taking a chew of tobacco. Hours later, however, they received a phone call to the effect that he was seen in the vicinity of Leake's Lake. Working on this clue they went directly there and found footprints in the sand leading to the water. They report that they fear that he has been drowned in this big body of water although no traces can be found of the skiff. At this writing they were making preparations to drag the lake for his body in the event that he was drowned. Next week we will tell you just what results have been obtained. We are hoping, however, for the best.

PILLOW SLIPS

Frank Jasper is now eating mush three times a day on account of having his molars extracted.

Mrs. Jasper has returned to the road again and is operating on the De Luxe.

A three day meeting of the P. P. B. A. was held last week at the S. P. Store Room.

Billy King has had his daughter with him for some time and he says the lining is just about worn out of his pocketbook.

W. E. Coleman Returns to Work After Sickness

W. E. Coleman has returned to work after being confined to his home for some time on account of sickness. Coleman is now running to Portland and the boys are glad to see him back on the job once more.

Bradley bumped Asbury, and Asbury returned the compliment to Wm. Thedford although he drew a 16 section car in doing it. So it won't be long now boys, before we are buying flowers for Mr. Asbury.

S. A. Hopgood was seen trying to do the black-bottom in the Bancroft Cafe. We knew Doctor Wheeler would get him, we can see the improvement already.

J. A. More is known as the Frisco sheik and the boys say he is a hard man to follow. Watch your step, Johnny.

Billy McCormick is getting like a chinaman. He never sees anything and never knows anything.

They tell me that Forsyth never thinks about going to bed early in Frisco and we wonder why. Some say he is trying to trail Johnny Moore. Better watch your step, old man. Johnny's too fast for you.

Keep up the good work for May so the Western Zone can keep the trophy for safety.

Our new Chairman of the Safety Committee is none other than E. L. Arnold a n—— good man.

Our friend Mr. Wm. Asbury is preparing to make a trip to Cincinnati this summer with the Bike. What's the matter with St. Louis, Asbury?

The gang would like to know just why Jim Montgomery has to make so many trips to Slauson and Central Avenues early in the morning.

A. F. Adams is now connected with the sales department of The Eastern Outfitting Company. You newlyweds should get in touch with Mr. Adams when you want something in the furniture line. He is one of the boys.

John Robinson of P. T. District spent last week in this district and will try and transfer here in the near future.

Maid Tennie Upton is taking a few days off at home, preparing for the big rush on the twenty-second.

The writer continues to shoot shots as usual.

Wanted

Good men to join our local benevolent association. See E. L. Arnold or J. T. Ambrose for particulars.

The present condition of the entrance work will make you wear out a few seats on the U. cars.

Warning

Porters should take particular care in watching their hand bags on the Central Avenue cars. There is a gang of trip laiener who prey on Pullman [illegible] in these cars. Be careful.

SOUTHERN SARCASTIC

Frank Green is raising his salary by short jerks at the famous Lark.

Derby Hat Walker was seen with a brand new straw lid. When Walker paid a dime lid on it's time for every tub.

Levy Myer says he washes on an average of 1500 dishes a day. The writer would be glad to give Mr. Levy a room at his home free of charge.

Fred Thornton is still the big cheese on the coast lines, any thing you want to know ask Fred, he is now with steward Patterson.

UNION PACIFIC DOPE
By J. R.

The stage is all set for the 22nd as this will be 'Red Letter Day' in U. P. land on this day, the tourist rates go into effect at this writing. The line-up:

4 sections of No. 28.
3 sections of No. 25.
2 sections of No. 2.
1 section of No. 3.

This season promises to be the heaviest in travel in the history of the road.

Tom Stubblefield of 'High Brown Fame" spent two days of his lay over in Omaha on business.

Haywood Perry spent Wednesday picnicing at Eureka Villa.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lovan of 1328½ E. Adams had Mr. and Mrs. Ike Connor as their guest honoring Mrs. Lucille Whitney of Omaha.

Henderson Jenkins really 'sang 'em' Saturday because he was so far from Louisville on 'Derby Day.' Why not try some Bungleton Green tactics when you want for these luxuries.

Baker Heater Committee Adjourns

The Baker Heater Committee of U. P. fame, has adjourned for the summer having accomplished nothing as usual.

Crew on Diner No. 304 were detailed Saturday to exhibit 'The Columbine,' Chicago to Denver newest train.

Jas. S. Dungy, buffet porter, has been asked to tender his resignation.

If you really want the 'Low Down' on the "Overland" route, read this column in the California Eagle each week.

H. Lomack, formerly of the Palmer House, Chicago, is a new addition to the rank and file.

California Jack says that L. A. is going to be the "Fadeout" in other words, the Angel City is going to be given the air.

Care of the Teeth
BY: J. WINNIFORD ROUT, D. D. S.
THE PRIDE OF HEALTH
GREEN STAIN

Green stains are among the simpler deposits found on the teeth of young children as well as adults. The majority of cases being found in children between the ages of two years and twelve years. These stains are wholly superficial and vary in color from a dark green or bronze to yellow and are found particularly along the gum margin of the teeth. They are not indicative of any special diseased condition, only in so far as they denote an undesirable condition in the secretions of the mouth. Their early removal is advocated, because they are thought to be formed from a disease producing fungus, which if neglected and allowed to remain, will penetrate the enamel of the teeth and so erode the surface as to form a series of granular pits which ultimately combine to form a distinct cavity.

The stain is not always an indication of an unclean or ill-kept mouth. We usually find that the child who has the stain has not had a balanced diet. The stain is there because of the lack of vitamin C in proper quantity. Oranges are rich in this particular vitamin and the juice of one or two oranges per day will usually clear up this condition. The teeth should be cleaned and polished by the dentist, all of the stain being removed. The diet should be corrected to include a maximum amount of green vegetables and fresh fruits. If the small child is being given, say, the juice of half an orange a day, twice the amount will probably prevent the return of the stain. If the older child takes the juice of one orange, that or two oranges will prevent it.

Persons who have a tendency to have green stain on the teeth should have frequent examinations of the teeth in order that any irregularities of the mouth or teeth may be corrected at once.

HEALTH GAIN GREATER THAN DAMAGE LOSS

Health promotion and longer life result from the use of automobiles in far greater proportion than the damage they do to humans, according to some figures reported to the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Although exact statistics cannot be obtained, fairly accurate conclusions may be reached from those at hand, it is stated. These show that the automobile, instead of being a destructive contraption running wild through the country, in reality is adding millions of years to human life instead of snuffing it out by wholesale, as is frequently charged.

DOCTORS COMMEND

Mortality figures show that while there is only one fatality for every 190 cars in use, as each car travels approximately 10,000 miles a year, it is shown that there are 10,000,000 miles of travel for every life sacrificed.

Injuries approximate one for every 200 autos in use, and these travel approximately 2,000,000 miles for each injury. Estimating that thirty years of life are sacrificed when each accidental death occurs, it is found that automobiles throughout the United States are charged as responsible for 600,000 lost years for the entire population.

The more cheering side of the story is that physicians and economists give the automobile credit for adding several years of life to the families owning cars. In addition, their general health is improved so that there is less time and money lost through sickness. By allowing only one year of additional life to each person using an automobile, it is estimated that 50,000,000 years are added to the total life of the residents of the United States. This shows that the years of life lost through the operation of motor vehicles throughout the country represent only 1.2 per cent of the years gained.

BOON TO SHUT-INS

No account is taken in these cold figures of the boon the automobile is to shut-ins, invalids, aged persons, cripples, recreation seekers and humanity generally. Neither is account taken of the broadening and cheering influences of traveling that owners of cars may do. The economic value of the motor vehicle long has been demonstrated.

In a final summing up, the Automobile Club of Southern California decides that most of the accidents are preventable through careful driving and that the motor vehicles can be brought to 100 per cent on the right side of life's ledger if motorists will continuously co-operate in keeping the highways safe.

Gas Pumps Locked On Sunday in S. C.

One of the southern states has taken a stand against motoring on Sunday, according to the National Automobile Club. All gasoline stations in South Carolina must be closed on that day.

This legislation is of the same type as that which afflicted the early days of the motor car industry when the small town supervisors tried to hold down the speed of a motor vehicle to a half crawl.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Houston, after enjoying a couple of weeks vacation in San Francisco, returned home via the automobile route this week.

J. H. Shackelford is reported to have made a flying trip to San Francisco recently.

* * *

Dr. Towles is a weaker but wiser man. Dr. was only doing 65 m. p. h. when overtaken by a speed cop. Judge Lockam explained to him it would be twenty days or dollars. He chose the dollar route.

* * *

Chas. Wilson contemplates making the usual annual trip to the Pacific Northwest this summer where he expects to spend his vacation. The madam is to accompany him. Ask him why, Canada?

* * *

Harry Williams, chauffeur, and walking fashion plate, paraded the Central Avenue district long enough on last Friday the 13th to show folks the latest styles and fashions in wearing apparel which included a hot looking straw hat. Harry, come again.

* * *

Dr. Smith, the druggist, has in addition to owning a National, just purchased a real, honest-to-goodness automobile. It's a Pierce Arrow, we hear, and ultimately hope to see.

* * *

Mr. Waldo Cook asked his dad to buy him a Chrysler and received a Ford. Rather wise young man.

* * *

Mrs. Geo. Nem is insisting that her hub purchase her a new car, but Geo. says time enough when the old wears out.

* * *

Dr. Stovall and his Willys Knight are still fast friends. If you don't think so, try to sell him something else.

* * *

Jimmie Smith of the B. A. Employment Bureau rolled up to his swell offices at 12th and Central in a Dusenburg. Scared the lookers-on dreadfully as they thought he had really purchased it. However, be assured them in a hurry such was not the case, he merely ran out of gas and a friend loaned him his car.

* * *

Well, young men, for years you wanted a "Y" building. Now you have it. Why not appreciate it? Give the automobile a rest.

Oregon Passes Law For Car Ownership

Oregon has just passed a Certificate of Title Law, new provisions governing headlights and other important legislation.

The lighting measure amends the light-point law permitting greater road illumination through increased candle power from 21 to 32 and permits greater beam distance for spot lights as well as freer use.

The Certificate of Title Law was amended so as to make it more workable. The Title Certificate now goes to the legal owner while the Certificate of Registration is carried in the car as is the case in California.

Motor car dealers are licensed and bonded, and severe penalties have been imposed for automobile theft.

Many Cars Unfit For Use on Road

Some legislation to prevent the operation of the million motor vehicles which are unfit for service on the highways may be devised if plans of the National Automobile Club Chamber of Commerce are carried out.

Many of the vehicles that are operated on the public highways are mechanically unfit for service and many are a menace to traffic. Many automobiles are driven about the highways and through the city streets which are not properly equipped with safety devices to prevent accident and are a menace to motorists and pedestrians alike.

One of the methods which has been proposed for the solution of this difficulty is a Federal Bureau and periodical examination of motor vehicles. The age of the car has very little to do with the case as one car may have run only 5000 miles in three years while another may have piled up 25,000 miles in the same period of time.

One motor vehicle may have been neglected while the other may have had excellent care and will be perfectly safe to drive to the end of 50,000 miles.

A Rare Treat

The Famous 10th Cavalry Band, U. S. Army, will appear in a benefit concert for St. Philip's Episcopal Church Building Fund, Monday evening, June 6th, 8 P. M., at tme Olympic Auditorium, 18th and Grand Ave. The 10th Cavalry Band is the Flower of the U. S. Army and their services are much in demand. The Famous 10th Cavalry was with Colonel Roosevelt in Cuba during the Spanish American War and joined in the glory of placing the U. S. Flag on San Juan Hill. The Band is composed of 30 pieces, including two dance orchestras, under the leadership of Band Master, Wade Hammond. They are now stationed at Fort Huachuca, Arizona. The Olympic Auditorium has a seating capacity of Fifteen Thousand. The General Admission is 50 cents and reserved seats $1.00. This is their first appearance in Los Angeles and everyone should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear them at these reasonable prices. Local talent will also appear on the program.

DOINGS AMONG THE UNITED SPANISH WAR VETS

Last week at Santa Cruz they held one of the greatest Encampments in the history of the state. There were 465 accredited delegates and the Auxiliary had over 300. There was much constructive work done for the benefit of the Veterans in general and it was decided by vote that the Encampment next year will be held at San Diego. There were three to represent our group from the Auxiliaries: Mrs. M. Ewing and Miss Franjis Lopez from Oakland and Mrs. Nannie Matthews from Los Angeles. From the Camps there were Comrades A. H. Wall, David Holden, Alfred Simms, Joseph Perkins, Henry Coleman and Williams from San Francisco and Oakland; Comrades E. Denny and D. McG. Matthews from Baker Camp. The Department band has two of our group as musicians therein: Comrades Perkins and Coleman.

The Military Order of the Serpent made Companion D. McG. Matthews, Chief Boloman. The initiation was held in the Sun Room at the Beach, and there were 69 made good SNAIX.

All are now busily preparing for Memorial Day and Baker Camp, No. 71 will hold services at Independent Church, 18th and Paloma, Sunday morning the 29th at 11 o'clock. All veterans are cordially invited to be present.

Call a Yellow Cab—
Dunkirk 50-50

The cost is little
The convenience is great

Think of the driving and parking worries, the crowds, confusion and loss of time avoided when you take a Cab.

You ride privately, comfortably.

You don't waste time parking a car.

You don't walk blocks thru crowds.

And the cost is little: 20c for the first ½ mile, 10c for each ½ mile thereafter. And five can ride for the price of one.

Yellow Cab Service is truly metropolitan in character. It is city-wide, standardized, supervised, dependable.

Always call a Yellow Cab.

EUREKA VILLA

Indeed gratifying to have seen so many people chance the weather at the last minute to hear a most beautiful sermon by Rev. J. D. Gordon on Easter morning. Folks, Eureka Villa is a Paradise for the sake of health, happiness and clean recreation. Go there at every opportunity, see it, take advantage of it—for the sake of your children, and bring back those most beautiful wild flowers.

It is also gratifying to see so many people being made happy getting their deeds and titles at this time, having waited so long for same.

E. E. ANDAROONIO NEARLY DEFEATED

AUTOMOBILES LINE THOROUGHFARE

BY: WM. MANNINGAULT

E. E. Andaroonio, Pacific Coast Professional Pedestrian champion and Shirley Freeman, who lays claim to the amateur champion title holder in the same line challenged an unknown to participate in a ten-mile walking contest on last Sunday afternoon and both had the scare of their lives.

'Tis great to be a champion in any given line and champions don't relish defeat and it is safe to say from now on, there will be no open challenges that will allow unknown to get them in such an embarrassing position as both found themselves last Sunday.

The victory they earned was perhaps honorable and yet the unknown was a hero in defeat robbing the victors of all the glory and winning the applause. Considerable mouth to mouth advertisement was given the affair and by the time the fireworks were to begin, several hundred had lined the route.

The race started, Andaroonia immediately took the lead and set a mild pace for a half mile with Freman 2nd and the unknown a close Third. At this point, they all bunched and for the next 3 miles it was as pretty a lay 'em down dead heat as one would wish to witness. Then the unknown stepped to the front a half mile from the turning point and held the lead till within a mile of the starting point when Freeman encountered a brick building and disappeared behind it emerging several minutes later from the other side close on the leader.

The spectators were astonished at this caper and wanted the referee to disqualify him for taking the wrong course which permitted him to do many things including running instead of walking. However, the unknown waved the demand aside and they continued.

Freeman was setting a hot pace and as he neared the unknown, he engaged in a short scuffle, pulling the unknown back; but still the unknown would not avail himself of the opportunity to have Freeman who was now in the lead, disqualified.

In the meantime, Andaroonio began to set a new pace and closed the gap by introducing a strange step that he claimed was interpreted as walking but which the crowd argued was pured running. Be that as it was, he too soon caught up and passed the unknown when within two block of the finish, Freeman leading him by about 150 feet. Freeman crossed the tape at 2:45 P. M., seventy-five feet ahead of Andaroonio while the unknown finished fifteen feet in rear of him.

The 10 miles was done in the remarkable time of 46 minutes and 10 seconds. So unsatisfactory was the race and so unsatisfied the public, that the participants have agreed to have another race shortly, as soon as Andaroonio, who was confined to the house 3 days following the encounter is able to walk and Freeman is able to overcome his desire to run at times and confine himself to walking.

If there is ever to be another race, look out for the unknown. It is obvious if an unknown, untrained, and unheard of can crowd these two champions like he did, Andaroonio and Freman will both most likely lose their crowns which for some reason or other, they refuse to risk this time.

Mr. Andaroonio and Freeman are well-known and liked in the community and the unknown has by his conduct in the race, collected no few amount of friends.

Automobiles lined the road and at times interferred with the race despite the fact that large force of police were on hand.

WALKER DEFAULTED ON REMATCH

BY: FAIR DEAL

The usual complaint of inactivity from executives will not be among those registered against Walk Miller, recently elected president of The Renaissance Club. No sooner was the boniface installed in office than he set a charge of TNT into the Mid-Winter attraction that will doubtless rock the pugilistic trio. Kearns, Dempsey and Tunney the boss of many promoters in the business.

Right the time the above mentioned elusive ringsters were leaving the coast to England to mingle in festivals with Tommy Milligan, Mr. Miller produced articles signed last November 4th while the bonafide Bengal was still middleweight champion. Those called for a return match, in case things shaped themselves as Miller seems to have had a premonition they might, within 90 days. The Challenger to get 40% more than the Champion.

Well, according to the calendar as brought forth rounds of applause as he in a very unique way told of the advantages of University of California. Every number was warmly received.

Refreshments were served in the banquet room under the capable management of Mrs. Nolan Blakely.

Elks Preparing For Big Annual Session In New York City

Preparations continue to go forward for the coming of the 28th Annual Grand Lodge I. B. P. O. E. of W. to be held in New York City, August 21st to 27th. The most popular event of the whole session, will be the annual parade which will be on the renowned Fifth Avenue of the world.

M. J. Lahey, chief inspector of New York Police Department, has issued a permit to the Grand Lodge Entertainment Committee to hold their parade August 23rd to twelve noon. He further promises ample police protection during the parade. The parade will be headed by Mounted Police followed by a platoon of policemen, and the rear will have Mounted Police to protect any crowding of the marchers.

The line of march begins on Fifth Avenue and parading up to 110th St. across to Lenox Avenue and up Lenox to 125th. Street, the main business thorofare of Harlem, to 145th St., to the New York Oval. Here the marchers will disband. Refreshments and ice water and food will be in readiness and served to the tired trekkers.

The reports that have been issued by the Central Secretary, C. M. Hanson, indicate that over fifty thousand marchers will be in line with over two hundred bands. Marching Clubs, and drill teams from every state will take part in this Gala Event. Other popular events of the session will be are Grand Ball, Beauty Contest, Sight Seeing trips, seeing New York by day and by night to the famous Coney Island, and boat rides up the historical Hudson River.

Joints Stiff? Get out and Play Says L. A. Playground and Recreation Department

The division of Industrial Recreation of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department has reached the stage of growth where its services are sought by groups or associations representing every phase of comity activity, from large corporations to Parent-Teachers associations, from schools to churches.

Under guidance of this department large and small groups of employed men and women are "taught" how to play during the leisure hours. Facilities are either provided at the city playgrounds for these groups or secured elsewhere. The total number of participants averages many hundreds every day

In the department of municipal sports, another division of work, athletic groups are directed in an executive or advisory way. In the week just passed this sports division was responsible for the organization of the games and contests of two hundred and forty-eight teams or groups. Facilities were provided or secured for these teams and advice given in the arrangement of schedules. The scope of sports represented everything from golf to tennis, baseball to field meets, gymnastics to bowling.

* * *

The New Slauson playground at 62d and Hooper Sts. was added to the play centers of Los Angeles by its dedication late last week. A new playground in Exposition Park has taken the golf to tennis, baseball to field meets, grounds are nearly ready to open.

CLUBS

The E Pluribus Unum Club met Friday, May 13th, at the home of the secretary, Miss Marguerite Vincent 828 E. 33d St. The E. P. U.'s enjoyed themselves immensely before meeting by taking pictures of each other in costumes. Ask one of the members to tell you about the club wedding that was Friday.

The president, Miss Lula Perdue, called the meeting to order at 4:30 p. m. Plans were made for a big time the end of this month. Watch, look and listen. The hostess served very dainty and appetying refreshments. The next meeting is to be a scream. You'll hear about it later on. E P. U. signing off.

Medical Professional Women's Club

The Medical Professional Women's Club met in their regular meeting the third Monday night in May at the office of Dr. S. S. Turner, 3506 Central avenue. Very important matters were discussed and successfully carried out.

We were very pleased to have Mrs. Victoria Jackson, acting secretary, who has been quite successful in establishing a Nursery.

The Club is very glad to state that the roll is being rapidly increased. All medical women are eligible to become members.

V. L. JACKSON, Acting Secy.

Pleasure Seekers Club

Mrs. Thelma Floyd entertained the Pleasure Seekers at her home on 40th street. A short time was spent for business after which the hostess served a very dainty luncheon.

The ladies then played their favorite game, whist. Prizes won by Mrs. Strider, Mrs. Wyndon, Mrs. Williamson, who was also the guest for the afternoon.

Flowers plot points out, that time has expired two months ago, hence the conference with Tex Richard.

Now in days gone by, Tex and Jack were closer than wave to the shore, but the Dempsey-Kearns controversy caused a frigid atmosphere to develop between them. So, when the articles were placed in the hands of the premier promoter of pugilistic enterprises, he immediately took issue to a hand out of the deck that promises to make the fashion plate of the leather-pushing fraternity spend considerable with Wanzer and Perry.

Tex visited the boxing commission and insisted Walker defend his title against Flowers as his contract calls for. The voting of the commission in person were much interest, however to the dismay of Richard and Miller, the contract in this clause was found to be void as same have been nullified. This one is signed by both parties, not just one, therefore it is hard to see how Kearns can dodge the issue much longer.

La Fragge Club.

The La France Club met at the residence of Mrs. Odessa Hudson, 2447 McKinley, Wednesday, May 11. Hostess for the afternoon, Mrs. Ethel Gooch. Substitutes for hostess and absent members were: Mrs. S. Peterson, A. Beize and Mrs. L. Farrar. Prizes—first, Mrs. Myrtle Jones; second, Mrs. Odessa Hudson and baby, Mrs. Fitzgries.

G. L. C. Girls

The G. L. C. Girls met Tuesday evening at Mrs. C. W. Allen, 1430 E. 42 St. Beautiful covers were set for eight and the hostess served an appetizing luncheon with delicious dessert.

Whist was played. Our guest was Mrs. Albert Webb. First prize, M. D. Wohr and second prize, Mrs. Sarah Carter.

Frivolity Girls Club

The last meeting of the Frivolity Girls Club was held Monday at 1464 E. 22nd St. with Miss Estelle Giddens as hostess. She served a delightful luncheon.

We are planning a surprise for the near future.

We are open for two or three new members who must, of course, come in through the members only.

Dr. Hudson In Scorching Reply To Chief Davis

Mr. James E. Davis,
Chief of Police of Los Angeles City.

Central Police Station,
Los Angeles, California.
My dear Chief:—

I received your letter of the 14th of May, 1927, in regard to the conduct of Officers Sheffield and Randolph. I am replying thereto in order that there be no misunderstanding, either as to my attitude personally, or as to that of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

I want to assure you at the outset, that we highly appreciate the very grave and vexatious responsibilities that rest upon you as Chief of Police in so large a city. We are in hearty sympathy with every movement that deals without fear, or favor, or partiality, of any sort with the building up of a more effective police program, and we have confidence in you personally, and believe that once you understand the facts about which we have such grievous reason to complain, that your program for law enforcement will be strengthened and not at all obstructed or hindered.

First, a word about the Colored people generally:

For the past 30 years or longer in Los Angeles, there have been Colored men in the Police Department. These men have made many arrests, and have been working in all departments of the force, and have been almost entirely assigned to duty among their own people. The number is probably now more than 60, we are told, and yet in all this long time, the records of your department will not reveal any hostility on the part of Colored people toward Police officers, either white or black, or any concerted or united complaint and demand for their removal, that at all approaches or is to be considered anything like the tremendous wave of indignation the Colored people now have, and feel toward Sheffield and Randolph.

There must be a reason for this, and we believe there is a reason for it in fact we know there is. We state this reason to be that they have brutally beaten members of our group needlessly in making arrests, and that they became so intoxicated with the habit of breaking into people's houses and bull-dozing and terrifying them, that they finally culminated their ruthless conduct in the needless murder of San Faulkner.

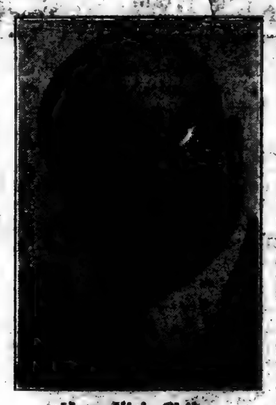
The attention of the Police Department has been called in complaints made by citizens, both in writing and by appearing at the Chief's office, and at the trial board—to the alleged beating of a woman last Spring; to the breaking in and searching of a sick woman's house, and the putting of the woman on the floor while they searched under the bed at a time she was in such a low physical condition, that she died a few days after; to the fact, no arrest was made whatever, she being guilty of no offense; to similar treatment afforded another woman on East Adams Street, who died a few days thereafter, and to countless, (so-called raids), in which houses were literally wrecked, and doors and windows broken, when they could have obtained admission by knocking, and that in many of these cases, no arrests were made at all, and that in none of them, did they carry search warrants, or proceed in anything like an orderly manner.

We want to discuss with you, the 3,038 arrests that you point out in your letter, these man made in the first four months of this year.

It is unfortunate you did not state what the complaints were, and while we do not have access to your records, we were reliably informed that probably a third of these arrests were of people who were charged with having visited "lottery joints". About two dozen of these lottery place are maintained by Chinamen in the Colored district and it is the habit of the police to "raid" these places about once a month. From 10 to 50 frequenters or players are caught in these "raids" and taken to jail, and to Court, where a fine not exceeding $25.00 is assessed. These fines are paid always by the Chinamen who own the places, and who themselves pay a fine of $50.00 to $100.00, and immediately go back to their lotteries and open up the same day and proceed to "do business at the same old stand" for another 30 days, and until the next "raid".

Of course just so far as the figures are concerned, this sort of thing is a black mark against the Colored people arrested, which they hardly deserve. The source of this evil is the permitting of these Chinese lotteries to run in the Colored district, or anywhere else, for that matter, and the most peculiar thing about it is, that in no instance that we have heard of have Sheffield and Randolph ever broken a door in raiding one of these Chinese lottery joints. The doors are always broken at private residences without warning and without having met with resistance.

NICK CHILES HITS TOWN



Mrs. Nick Chiles

The Hon. Nicodemus Chiles, Parkinson race fighter and dynamic force in journalism, reached town on last Saturday, a few days ahead of his schedule. He is accompanied by his charming and very capable helpmate in the person of Mrs. Henrietta Chiles and together they are the house guests of Mrs. Chiles' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Patterson, 806½ East 28th street.

Nick Chiles, whose name is a household word throughout the country, has many friends and admirers on the Pacific Coast and particularly is this so in Los Angeles. Consequently he has been wined and dined ever since his arrival.

Aside from this he has been kept busy meeting and shaking hands with his many hundreds of friends.

On last Sabbath, he attended the services at the Second Baptist Church where he was presented and spoke to the congregation at both morning and evening service.

Hon. Nick Chiles

BIG RECEPTION

On Thursday evening, a big reception was given in the honor of both Mr. and Mrs. Chiles, by Mrs. Stella Turner, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bass at Eagle Hall at which hundreds paid their respects. A unique program was rendered and a most enjoyable evening was had.

Throughout the week other festivities were given which kept the fighting editor very much engaged during the period of his visit here. Mr. Chiles will speak at the morning services of Independent Church on next Sunday. He will leave during the following week for Kansas. Before returning, however, he will make a visit to San Diego, where friends have arranged quite a reception in his honor.

YOU CAN NEVER TELL

Mr. W. Brown, watchman at the Rosebud Theatre, who was tried by a jury of his peers on last Wednesday, was acquitted of the charge of murder by the jury. Particulars in our next issue.

HENRY HUNTINGTON DIES

Mr. Huntington leaves three daughters, Mrs. Elisabeth H. Metcalf of Oakland, Miss Marian Huntington of San Francisco, and Mrs. Clara H. Perkins, at present in Rome. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Caroline H. Holladay of Pasadena.

City Mourns Leader

Immediately after receiving news of the death of Mr. Huntington, Mayor Cryer ordered that the flag over the city hall be lowered to half mast as a sign of the city's grief and respect for the dead capitalist.

Among the works of the old masters which Mr. Huntington purchased and which are at his San Marino mansion, are 9 Reynolds, 10 Gainsboroughs and 11 Rompneys. His library included a priceless Gutenberg Bible, a first quarto of Shakespeare's "Hamlet," and other volumes of untold value. It was generally conceded to be the most valuable private collection in the world.

Mr. Huntington, who was a nephew of the late Collis P. Huntington, pioneer in transcontinental railroad building, was in a critical condition, following his operation two weeks ago. He rallied, however, and it was reported that he was on the way to recovery. Dispatches early today stated that he had suffered a relapse and death came a few hours later.

Treasures for Public

The Huntington library and art collection was founded in 1919, when Mr. Huntington donated them to "the people of the world, for educational purposes, and for historical research."

The value of the library is inestimable in dollars and cents. Many million dollars were spent in its collection.

Mr. Huntington specialized in the collection of first editions, and rare copies of books by English and American authors. In the library is one of the most complete collections in existence of autographed books by famous authors, signed manuscripts of noted books, and documents relating to historical episodes that are expected to throw new light on the historical events in the development of the English and American civilizations.

SONG RECITAL

Minnie M. Albritton --- Lyric Soprano

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have arranged to present the wonderful Lyric Soprano, Miss Minnie Albritton in recital which will be her last appearance on the Coast.

She will be assisted by Bernice Stout, who is an artist of real worth and pupil of Miss Lilas G. Hart.

This combination will indeed be a rare treat for the music lovers of Los Angeles and it is predicted that record crowd will attend. The Independent church is the place and Tuesday, May 31st the time.

LOOK WHO'S IN TOWN

Chick Suggs, 26 years old, has been boxing 12 years. In that time, he has met all the leading bantams and featherers in the world. Although never a title holder, he was named by Tex Rickard to be the best boy in the world from 118 to 126 pounds.

He has defeated Babe Herman, Red Chapman, Abe Attell Goldstein, Joey Sanger, Benny Bass, Sammy Fuller, Johnny Curten, Pete Sarmiento, Dixie Hood and many others. He is one of the cleverest boxers in the world and well able to carry on for such great colored fighters as George Dixon, Joe Gans, Peter Jackson, Sam Langford and Joe Wolcott.

He makes his first visit to California on this trip and expects to stay for a good long visit. He was met at the train by a large delegation of colored friends and escorted by motorcycle officers to Central Avenue District. He was accompanied on this trip by Billy Henderson, manager of Eddie Sherlin of Boston and Manny Arutta, his trainer.

He will meet Bud Taylor of Chicago at the Olympic Club next Tuesday night and box the ten-round feature bout.

Suggs is a very clean-living boxer who has saved and invested his money and is a great credit to his race.

Death Penalty to Youth Who Escaped Arkansas Lynchers

SOLDIERS GUARD COURT HOUSE AS TRIAL IS HELD

Little Rock, Ark., May 21.—Lonnie Dixon, who barely escaped being lynched here a few weeks ago, was sentenced Thursday night to die in the electric chair on June 24, for the murder of Ficella McDonald, a 12-year-old white girl, April 12. Ten minutes was the time required for the jury to reach a verdict.

Attorneys to defend the 17-year-old youth, who Wednesday entered a plea of "not guilty" were selected a day before the trial "by lot." This method of selection was necessary due to the fact that every lawyer appointed by the court found pressing business elsewhere. Names of all local attorneys, except Scipio A. Jones, J. A. and William Booker, and other Negro attorneys, were placed in a hat and shuffled. Two slips were drawn and it fell the lot of E. B. Johnson and J. F. Willis to defend Dixon.

Defense Not Determined Wednesday Night

Although the trial was to be held Thursday, the attorneys for the defense signified Wednesday night that they had not yet mapped out a defense for their client. "We are unprepared to make a statement," declared Johnson, Wednesday night, "because we have not even had time to see a copy of the indictment. We were chosen fairly for the task and, of course, it is our duty to do the best we can for the Negro."

Dixon was tried before Judge Abner McGhee and when the jury returned the verdict of guilty and the sentence passed upon him, he expressed no surprise, even waiving the two days' grace customary before sentencing under the Arkansas law.

The Men's Len Small Republican Club—The Women's Len Small Republican Club, Springfield, Illinois.

In spite of the fact that more Negroes, as you readily see by these statistics, hold state positions than in other states, Springfield in the way of "Jim Crow" treatment is like unto any Texas city.

We very diligently inquired into the whys and wherefore such should be the case and were told by old settlers that prior to the 1915 riot Negroes were granted equal accommodation in public places.

Just because one Negro committed a crime in Springfield that white men commit every day, everywhere, the narrow-minded whites, who are always looking for some excuse to practice their unwritten laws of prejudice and discrimination are directing every effort to make living conditions for the Negro in the city where Abraham Lincoln's spirit of freedom still lingers as mean as possible. The Negroes live mostly in a section of the city where there are no sewers; they are not admitted in a cafe, or hotel, and not even allowed to visit the cheapest movie house unless they are willing to be relegated to a Jim Crow corner.

In the section of the city where Negroes live also during the rainy season mud and slush invest the streets and yards to such an extent that passage is almost impossible, and yet Springfield in the home of Attorney Turner, the Duncans, the Wares, the Slaughters and some others of our best citizens.

After a most pleasant two-days' stay in Springfield on Tuesday afternoon, March 1st, we set sail for our next stop which was St. Louis, Mo.

War Declared On Lower California Development Company

On last Monday evening, May 16th, 1927, an event took place which we are sure will leave deep and lasting impressions upon the minds of many persons who were present as well as upon ourselves. This occasion was the closing event of the hearing of the charge that we had preferred against Attorney Hugh E. Macbeth before the Los Angeles Bar Association.

Macbeth was on hand full of smiles, with quite a delegation of his friends on hand and represented by a white attorney at law. He came in quite "cocky" and at the opening of the trial got peeved and later grew a bit "sassy" to the grievance committee of the Bar Association. We thought it quite bad diplomacy, yet he has told us several times that he stood ace high with the district attorney and that we would never be able to get that office to do anything to him. It may be possible that he thinks he stands the same with the Bar Association. Probably he does, but we will wait to be shown.

Macbeth maintained this spirit of cockiness for a short while but when these gentlemen began shooting question after question into him, concerning his actions in the promotion of the raffle, handling its funds and not making any report to the people of the same, he soon lost his spirit of arrogance and fell into that same old attitude of submissive meekness.

Not only did he return to submissive meekness, but to that same old attitude which has characterized him for years in misleading of his people and the debauching of his own soul. He continued his testimony by making statements to the Bar Association and he knows that there is not an iota of truth in them. He told the Bar Association that no one had accosted him or spoken to him concerning a settlement to the people of the money which the people had contributed in the fake automobile raffle, prior to the time that we had attempted to take him to court.

He also stated that the Board of Directors of the Land Company had passed a resolution or motion in one of its meetings for him to use that Five Hundred Dollars to pay off his personal obligations. We thank God for one thing and that is that some more of our "big" directors were present and heard this statement. There is not a single one among your directors that would testify that such powers or privileges were granted Mr. Macbeth with the exception of possibly one, and that one would be Mr Robinson Crusoe's "good man" Friday (a man that we doubt would be able to pour water out of a jug with the inscription on the bottom, "Turn this side up."

We sympathize with some of our Directors for the simple fact that they have put their money into this proposition and they know that if Macbeth is ever fully disposed for the way in which he has handled this land company's affairs, that the whole proposition is going to blow up, but we had just as well tell you gentlemen that this ship is sinking slowly but surely. We are told that as simple a thing as a rat has sense enough to try to get off a sinking ship. We hope our fellow directors will catch the significance of this statement.

This may be an unjust criticism, but we take unto ourselves the authority to make it, that one of the greatest weaknesses now hinders the progress of the Negro race is that it is too well filled and saturated with that element of people whose religious dignity and social standing are too high for them to help clean from among us the parasites, blood suckers, and other such characters, especially if this undesirable character is or has been associated with our group.

We have no prophecies to make on what will be done by the Bar Association. They are to give their decision sometime later, but whatever they do, we will be satisfied. If their decision is in your favor, we will be satisfied. If their decision is in our favor, it will not be the last of this affair, and if it be against us, we expect to continue just the same.

We are going to get this thing straightened out some way at all costs. If there is anyone who thinks that he or she is protecting his or her money by not trying to help straighten it out, you may get disappointed. It is everybody's job, it makes no difference who you are. Let it be bishop, preacher, elder or deacon, when you attempt to protect your money by shielding or acquiescing in the protection of wrong doers, you express to the world that your goodness is no greater than any other non-believer, and that your greed is greater for gold than for God.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that all of the innuendoes which have been published against the character, integrity and ability of Attorney Hugh E. Macbeth in connection with the development and control of the Lower California Mexican Land & Development Company are absolutely untrue, in fact, said are being published for the sole purpose of getting Mr. Macbeth to engage in a costly public controversy with four disgruntled men, which Mr Macbeth will wisely refuse to do.

This publication is given with the knowledge and consent of the Board of Directors of the Lower California Mexican Land & Development Company.

Watts News

All neighbors of Mr. Sherman Anderson extend their sympathy to him in the passing of his son, Sherman, age 13, last Saturday at 2 P. M., after an illness of a few days. The funeral was held Tuesday.

Rev. Scott and members gave over to Rev. Miller and choir who were down recently and gave such excellent service.

An up-to-date laundry has opened up on South Wilmington and now we are anxious to see more modern businesses follow. Support them—members of our group.

Mr. Houston's Drug Store on South Compton is a credit to the city and his patronage is picking up every day.

The choir of Rev. Scott's Church is putting on a rally. Everything looks encouraging so far. Let us help them!

Fullerton News

Mrs. R. G. Hubbard motored from Santa Barbara to spend the week with her two daughters and sister, Mrs. G. E. Roscoe and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

Mrs. B. Benkley entertained the Handicraft Club on last Wednesday. The members were all present. After business Mrs. Burkley served a lovely two-course luncheon.

Mr. G. Rosman of 1319 W. 3rd St., Santa Ana, has been kept in his room for over a week with an infected hand. We are glad to report that he is better at this writing.

The Men's Club met on Thursday night at their Club House. There was a large attendance at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Walker and Mrs. Sinclair motored to Los Angeles, Sunday.

UNIQUE STUDIO RECITAL

On the afternoon of May 22, Elmer C. Bartlett presented 10 of his advanced pupils in Recital. So many pupils have been playing the popular "Doll Dance" that it was decided to give prizes to the pupils rendering it the best. Each pupil was to play a classical number and give their interpretation of the Doll Dance. Zerlia Nelson was first chosen, playing Rubinstein's Romance in D Flat by Sib; Barbara Houchins won second place, playing Mendelssohn's Rondo Cap; Ethel Slater won their place playing Chopin's Nocturne Op.

Each pupil played the Doll Dance after their classical number. Miss Maggie Spellman, read from Dunbar, to the delight of all present. Pupils and their friends enjoyed the afternoon.

Those appearing on program were: Mattie Nelson, Sarah Nelson, Amanda Bloodworth, Ethel Slater, Mary Jane Clark, John Wesley Shackelford, Ruby Shaw, Barbara Houchins, Carita Harbert and Myrtle Foster.

CONVOCATION HELD IN OAKLAND

The Second Missionary Convocation of the Eleventh Convocational District Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the A. M. E. Zion Churches was held in Cooper A. M. E. Zion Church at Oakland, Calif., May 13-15.

Mrs. J. W. Martin, wife of Bishop J. W. Martin, was the presiding officer. The convocation was the best held in many respects and proved that the Missionary workers are anxious about the chef essentials of a modern missionary society.

Dr. E. W. Moore of San Francisco delivered an address Sunday afternoon at the Mass Meeting to the delegates and friends that will be long remembered.

While in San Francisco, Mrs. J. W. Martin was the guest of Mrs. E. J. Magruder and Mrs. Maud Dangle, who gave a musical tea in her honor Sunday afternoon, May 22nd.

Other who made Mrs. Martin's visit a pleasant one were: Rev. and Mrs. W. J. J. Byers; Prof. and Mrs. E. Thompson; Mrs. Sadie Anderson; Mrs. T. Taylor; Mrs. L. Young; Mrs. M. E. Smith and Mrs. Sadie Austin.

the home of Mrs. Isola Fillmore, 1357 East 47th Street, Friday afternoon, May 20th, at 1 P. M. and after a brief business session, the president, Mrs. Ora Venerable, turned the meeting over tothe hostess, Mrs. Fillmore. The afternoon was spent in playing cards telling funny jokes and listening to radio musical program from K. F. I. This kind of an entertainment lasted for one hour and thirty minutes. Prizes were given to the highest score.

Mrs. Maggie Peery won first prize, which was a pair of beautiful garters, with ostrich feathers; Mrs. Charles Walker won the booby which was a bell; Mrs. Elizabeth Kyle and Thelma Long was honored guests, Mrs. Kyle won the guest prize which was a beautiful china bowl. After this the guests were served to the dainty refreshments. Covers were laid for fourteen. The table was beautifully decorated with pink lavender and white sweet peas around candle sticks and candles with pink baskets filled with candies and mints. A delicious luncheon was served. The hostess was showered with compliments from fellow members. Mrs. Venerable the president, also highly commended her and said said that she proved to be a charming little hostess. Mrs. Fillmore asked the club to come again.

FORD COLLEGE

"The prime objective in this lawsuit was to save Poro College. That was the chief consideration throughout the case and Poro College goes to Mrs. Malone free and untouched. Malone's claim to a partnership in Poro never even formed a basis for settlement. It had no foundation; in fact and was abandoned completely by his forces when they discovered that we had his sworn testimony made in the same court in another case and repeated over and over again that he was not a partner in Poro and had never been a partner, and that "the business belonged to my wife."

"Mr. Malone was her husband and she naturally contemplated making him an allowance in case of separation or divorce as his inchoate right or dower interest would require, according to the law in Missouri, but he received about one-third of what he easily could have had, if this foolish law suit had not been started.

"It was an unpleasant case. When the record of the complainant's life was finally completed, we preferred not to expose it. Again the court had appointed a receiver without warning, or notice and as we knew without reason and such an action was hardly encouraging to Mrs. Malone to go to trial before such a tribunal."

"Mr. Malone receives less than $40,000 cash to be held in escrow until the terms of the agreement are complied with."

The total costs allowed in the case for court costs and receivers' fees and help was set at $9,000. Mrs. Malone keeps all of the real estate in her name. He keeps all in his name except two valuable pieces which she is holding because they are the homes she has provided for two old couples. These he reconveys. Some of the joint properties in this and other cities mostly unimproved are divided.

Mr. Malone agrees to give a full receipt and absolute release of any and all interests in any of her property or effects. Counsel had been empowered with authority to arrive at the final arrangement and the terms of the divorce which will probably be heard soon were agreed upon. Mrs. Malone has resumed personal charge of her business which because of her continued residence in the building and the loyalty of the Poro force had not suffered as much as from the rampage of the receiver as had been feared.

One of her first acts was to reinstate Edgar E. McDaniel, office manager, and Charles E. Stone, personnel manager, faithful and efficient employees whom Pacheu had fired, because of their fealty to Mrs. Malone.

Floral offerings, fruit, notions, and hundreds of letters and telegrams of congratulation and love have poured in on Mrs. Malone has been forced to add an extra personal secretary to keep up this nation-wide appreciation of her victory.

A different air pervades Poro. There is a joyous happy expression on the faces of the force. They have adopted the slogan, "This is Poro. Business as usual."

MADAM TYLER

And now she leaves us and goes to Europe, from whose shores Florence Cole-Talbert returns! One great one comes home, the other great one goes away! Compare the two, Florence Cole-Talbert, the great soprano, with Belle Salter-Tyler, the great Contralto,—no, no, no, we will do it—There is no comparison between and of the two, because they are both so great, so good, so noble, so charming in their art, only a criminal, an art-criminal would want to compare two such stars as these two genuine artists are.

And now Belle Salter-Tyler goes away to Europe, to study more, to win more and to stand for more in fame and glory than she can stand for here, for Belle Salter-Tyler is a true, tried and triumphant Negro Race-woman, beautiful, three times beautiful—beautiful in song, in looks and especially in soul—she is so true, never a traitor, despite her physical majesty, that she remains Black and stays with her beloved dark people.

And what fitting farewell can we say to such a genius and such a character as Belle-Salter-Tyler! What can we say, what should we say?

Sail on, sail on to Europe, gifted, noble and beautiful contralto singer; sail on, sail on! Sail on, grand, irresistible, hypnotic singer, surprise and culture artist, sail on, sail on, and prove to Europe, how great, how magnificent a Negro artist-singer of the highest degree can be even if her face is as White and Whiter than the face of the average German, French or Italian or any White woman, sail on, on troubadour, on Minnesinger, sail on, sail on! Sail on, sail on, good, refined woman, sail on, learn, see and be more in Europe, go into Grand Opera like Florence Cole-Talbert did, for you are just as worthy as she is; sail on, sail on in peace, in art, in hope, in victory and be another messenger of Negro and justice for the down-trodden Negro race, sail on and win the laurels of art victory to help to free your fellow people!

Sail on, sail on, and let this song sail on and bear it, and when you come back to your homeland, you wonderful German-Negro combination artist, you rare surprise, you stunning beauty, you amiable soul, the whole world will salute and be talking about you!

SIX YEARS OF SERVICE

The new Board of Education, which will take office after the June election, will do all the most exacting critic could ask of it if it equals the record of the board that has served the city for the last four years. And that record is largely due to the unflagging energy, public spirit and broad-gauge efficiency of its retiring president, Robert A. Odell.

Six years ago, Mr. Odell was first elected to the board and for four years he has presided over its deliberations and activities for the betterment of our Los Angeles schools. He leaves the board with the splendid score to its credit of having made our educational system in this city one acknowledged to have no superior in the whole United States.

Not without struggle, hard work and a conscientious devotion to duty was result achieved. In the six years the needs of the children have grown even more rapidly than the needs of the city at large and to meet the increasing demand for school accommodation, sufficient and suitable supplies and equipment and to provide a staff of competent teachers and officials has been a job for a strong caliber, four-square man of affairs.

Our city was fortunate in procuring the services of such a practical idealist as Mr. Odell during the onerous period through which the development of our school system has just been passing. The Board of Education has ing program to meet our educational demands and it is to their credit that the taxpayers received 100 cents in value for every dollar of money expended on new school structures.

In 1921 and 1923 the radicals and Socialists made a determined attack on our school system and even attempted, in a rough way, to "sovietize" the teachers. It was then that Mr. Odell sent forth the now famous slogan, "Keep politics out of the schools;" it was the close co-operation of the board and its president that rendered the slogan effective. The soundness of this American program was fittingly proven by the results of the late May primary and the popular indorsement of the candidates approved by the Citizens' School Committee.

It was with extreme regret that our people heard of Mr. Odell's resolution, through the pressure of his business affairs, to retire fro mthe board at the conclusion of his term of office. We have too few men as capable and as devoted as he, willing to serve the public as he has served it. His friends and associates al hope that at some future time he will again be able to give the city the benefit of his sturdy qualities and tested experience.—Los Angeles Times, May 7, 1927.

Social Intelligence

Heard or Seen in Passing

Mrs. G. S. Hobson of San Mateo was a delegate to the California League of Women Voters convention which was held last week at the Figueroa Hotel. She was accompanied by her niece, Mrs. E. Wilkinson of San Jose and Mrs. S. Smith of San Mateo. Many social affairs are being planned for these charming visitors.

Leon Clark, Ph. G., a charming young pharmacist has bought the drug store at Sixteenth and Griffith Ave. Working with him is Miss Ursula Pruitt.

Mesdames Ada Lewis, Edna Carter, Edythe Kemp and Misses A. Lattimore and Adele Kemp were joint hostess to the sorors and associate members of the Rho Psi Phi Medical Sorority at their literary meeting Tuesday held at the Rho Psi Phi house. Mrs. Beaumont, Ass't. Dean of women of the University of California (Southern Branch) spoke on the opportunities of the girls in college. Mrs. Laura Smitherman gave a very interesting paper on the Negro on the Stage. The open discussion was led by Mrs. Lula Asbury. Mrs. E. Davidson rendered two musical selections. Two minute talks on Topics of the Day were given by Mrs. Beatrice Thompson, Mrs. J. T Whittaker, Mrs. Alice Patton and Mrs. J. C. Banks.

Dr. Emily Brown Childress entertained with a breakfast Sunday morning in honor of her house guest, Mrs. G. S. Hobson of San Mateo, Mrs. E. Wilkinson of San Jose and Mrs. S. Smith of San Mateo.

Mrs. B. Harang wishes to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Ellen Kussman to Mr. Haven Johnson.

ADDRESSES WHITE SALESMAN

Chas. L. Upton, better known as The Clatter King addressed an audience of 350 white salesmen for The Hoover Suction Sweeper Co. on Business among colored people last Monday night at their weekly sales meeting in the Hoover offices, 2210 W. 11th St. Mr. Upton is the only colored man connected with the Hoover Company and is rated as a maximah on their payrolls.

A birthday social was given last Central Avenue Garden by Mrs. L. H. Fisher as a courtesy to her daughter, Josephine Fisher, Saturday evening, May 21st.

Many delightful and useful presents were given. Favor baskets were given out, made by her brother, Lewis H. Fisher, Jr.

If anyone wishes to have favor biskets for parties, call DE. 3315.

Mrs. Wm. N. Mitchell of W. 35th street, has returned home after having spent a very pleasant fortnight visiting friends in San Francisco and Oakland.

POPULAR GIRL GRADUATES FROM HOSPITAL

The seniors held their graduation exercises Thursday evening May 12, at the Lincoln High School Auditorium.

Miss Brown, no doubt, will remain at the hospital where she will be permanently placed.

NOTED HOUSEHOLD WORKER LAID TO REST

Mrs. Mary Alice Parker, Grand Worthy Superior of the Household of Ruth of America, died Saturday, May 14th in Washington, D. C. It will be remembered that she visited California the summer of 1925.

Mrs. Parker was a life-long friend of Mrs. Eliza Warner.

Those who missed going at least one night to the Trade Show of the Mme. C. J. Walker Club have something to regret. Aside from being delightfully unusual and instructive, it marked a genuine achievement in the field of Beauty Culture. The inspiring remarks given by our favorite public leaders were enthusiastically received on each occasion.

The hall was very artistically decorated and the masterful touch of Mr. Jas. Brown, the excellent electrician, rendered the setting perfect.

Mrs. C. J. Fowlkes has purchased a beautiful home in South Los Angeles, at 1419 East 111th Street.

DENVER SOCIETY MATRON VISITING HERE

Mrs. Georgie Robinson is visiting her niece, Mrs. Rastella Cole. Her stay is certainly to be a pleasant one for many social affairs are being planned in her honor.

ENTERTAIN KANSAS VISITOR

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shackelford entertained as honor guest last Wednesday evening at an elaborate dinner, Hon. Nick Chiles and Mrs. Chiles of Topeka, Kansas. Other honor guests were Mrs. Robinson of Denver, Colo.; Miss Cook, akland.

The scene was set at the large and spacious dining hall of Christian Tavern which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion. Place cards and tokens indicated to each guest their station at the huge dining table which accommodated 21 persons.

The dinner was one long to be remembered—beautiful sentiment, inspiring settings of speech, felicitations to the honor guest and hostess, but reflected the high esteem which they occupy in the public mind. Mr. and Mrs. Shackelford's offering for the pleasure and honor of the distinguished Kansan will ever remain a high light in the annals of the Pacific Coast.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Nick Chiles, Topeka Kansas; Mrs. Estelle Robinson, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Cecil Cook, Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. Belle Salter Tyler, St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. B. Corine Carter; Rev. and Mrs. N. P. Greggs; Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Hudson; James L. Turner; Mrs. Turner and mother; Mrs. Sadie L. Holt; Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Patterson; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bass.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. W. Sellers of Sawtelle are the proud parents of a Miss Sellers who arrived last Monday morning. Mother and daughter are reported as doing fine and smilingly receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

We call attention to the advertisement in this issue of the International Building and Loan Association, located at 321 N. Broadway. We have known the head of this institution for some years and can testify to his general makeup and broad-gauged manner of doing business. We therefore surmise that the International which is a standard and going concern comes under the same condition and is therefore worthy of your earnest consideration.

GLADYCE GREENAWAY

Everybody happy? All right then.

On May 14th the Gondoliers Club gave a little social at the residence of the Reece brothers in Venice. Did they have a good time? Of course.

Next Sunday and Monday, the 29th and the 30th promises to be a booming day at Elsinore. Representatives of all the clubs will be there including the Gondoliers Club, Ne Plus Ultra and others. All one needs is a bathing suit, and a lunch, with special emphasis on the latter. If anyone forgets his bathing suit and rents one up at Elsinore we pity him because they sure were made in the time of Noah's Ark.

The Cynosure Club will give a dance at the Christian Tavern, May 30th. The piano lizard, Miss Robert Edwards, will furnish the music. We really mean the invitations put out by that club are jam-up. Everybody is sure to have a really good time.

Well, Poly won the game last week from Jeff. 'At's the reason they are crowing this week. Hurrah!

One thin man to another during argument on who's the most lean": "Why man, I'm so thin that a headache and a stomache would hit me in the same place."

We see in the paper that boy swallowed a tack he had in his mouth while spelling "incomprehensibility." We know of several who choke on "yes."

First Central Ave. gold-digger: "I never go out with the same fellow twice."

Second C. A. G. D.: "So I understand. They are so broke they can't go out a second time."

Exposition Plunge opened up yesterday (the 22nd). We suppose that all the young Westside people, if they happen to be colored, will have to go away across town to take a dip. Might as well use the hose and stay in one's own back yard.

Why have cops flat feet? And an important swagger?

We hear that Messrs. Louis Cole, Thomas Walker and Edgar Guest, all members of the Silver Fox Club, have gone into bachelor quarters. We wonder if they will match pennies to see who will clean up and wash the dishes. Heh, heh!

Well, as the guy on the stage says, this all there is, there is no more.

Attorney Curtis C. Taylor addressed the congregation of Second Baptist Church Sunday night on the subject. "What Men Have Done for the Christian Church." The address was heartily received by the large crowd present.

The extremely warm weather following a late Spring, drove Angelenos in large numbers to the beaches and resorts for recreation and relaxation. Although there have not been many affairs on the social calender for the past two weeks, June the month of brides will usher in a large number of charming social events.

Y. M. C. A. arrivals: Rev. J. W. Lee, Pennsylvania; James Avery, New Jersey; Mr. J. Robinson, New York; R. Mitchell, Kalamazoo, Mich.; J. Colier, New Orleans and R. Beasley of Gadsen, Alabama.

Bronx Hotel arrivals: Mrs. G. Hopson; Mrs. E. Wilkinsin; Mrs. T. Smith; Mr. G. Jones, all of San Francisco; Mr. G. Jones, Jr., New York. The Jubilee Quartett accompanying Al Jolson's act is also stopping at the Bronx.

The Alpha Delta Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity had a charming little party for the members and heir wives and sweethearts, at the country home of Mr. Grant Venerable, Saturday evening.

Prof. W. M. Nix, National evangelist Singer, formerly of Chicago, Ill., is in in the city and spoke and sang at the Y. M. C. A. at 3 P. M., Sunday. Prof. Nix hails from Texas, the little city of Longview.

Mme. Mozelle Te Cutley, well-known musician and chorister has been confined to her bed this week with an illness of a severe nature. Her many friends wish her an early and complete recovery.

Approval Of

PROPOSITIONS 3 AND 4 AT THE JUNE 7th ELECTION

Assures Better Service and Lower Rates

APPROVAL OF PROPOSITION 3:
Purchase Order No. 33260

WILL ENABLE the State Railroad Commission to complete its valuation of the electric system of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. This value is to be used as a price basis when the people vote, at a later date, on the actual purchase of the Gas Company's electric lines by the City.

WILL CARRY FORWARD the established policy of the City to acquire the Gas Company's electric system—a policy that was recommended and urged as far back as 1919 by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, scores of other civic organizations, and by a majority vote of the people in 1924.

WILL MAKE POSSIBLE the elimination of a gross waste of the rate payers' money now resulting from duplicate overhead costs of two electric systems serving the same districts in Los Angeles.

WILL ASSURE BETTER SERVICE and a saving of millions of dollars in low electric rates to the people of Los Angeles: (1) By cutting out the duplicate costs of two systems; (2) By combining under one unified system the two sources of electric energy.

WILL NOT COST the taxpayers one dollar. Any expense incidental to the valuation work will be paid from revenues of the Power Bureau and not from taxes. Should the Gas Company's electric system later be purchased by the City, its cost will be financed by the Power Bureau and paid entirely from Bureau earnings.

APPROVAL OF PROPOSITION 4:
WILL ENABLE the City to secure a substantial revenue in annual rentals from a parcel of tide land that has never been put to any beneficial use.
WILL PERMIT your Municipal Power Bureau to lease and pay for this tide land as a site for a vitally necessary stand-by steam plant.

Propositions 3 and 4 are Not Bond Issues and Will Not Cost the Taxpayers One Dollar

AMONG OUR CHURCHES

WHERE AND WHEN TO ATTEND SERVICES AT THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

STOP! LOOK! READ!

A great Revival Meeting begins at the New Hope Baptist Church between 16th and 17th on Paloma street, May 29th to the 12th of June.

Don't fail to hear Paul L. Perkins, the 14-year old boy National Evangelist Preacher and Prof. W. M. Nix, National Gospel Singer. Services and songs that will stir the souls of all who come. All are welcome.

REV. A. LIVELY, Pastor.

The Big Gospel Tent

Sunday night, May 29th will be the last service at the Big Tent—20th and Central Ave. Since August 9th, 1925 services have been held beneath the Big Tent with splendid results—both in the number of souls won to the Master's cause and in the added interest created in the things of the Gospel. Now the services will be transferred to the new Wadsworth Seventh Day Adventist Church at 37th and Wadsworth streets, Elder P. Gazaerus Rodgers, Pastor.

Sunday night, May 29th at the Tent the Pastor will preach his famous sermon "Belshazzar's Feast" and that will conclude the Tent meetings.

At 7 P. M. the Young People will present a program lasting until the preaching hour—Everybody is made to feel at home under the Big Tent.

At 3 P. M. the pastor and members will be at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, 39th and Hooper Ave., when Elder Rodgers will preach by the request of his congregation on the work of Melchisedec and why he took tithe from Abraham.

GOLDEN STATE CHAMPIONS

Mr. Edward R. Long and Rev. Wm. Lake won the honors of champion writers of the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company for the month of April, according to the May issue of the company's bulletin.

Mr. Long, a very quiet unassuming individual who is a member of the Home Office Division No. 2, established a new monthly record of Ten Thousand Dollars Life production. As a result of this work he is wearing a big smile on his face and the championship button on his lapel.

Rev. Wm. Lake, who is a member of Home Office Division No. 1, seems to have a monopoly on the Health and Accident button. For the fifth time in the history of the company and the second consecutive month, he has won the honors in this department. Rev. Lake is a conscientious hard worker and one of the leading Golden State writers.

Both of these writers, Mr. Long and Rev. Lake, are rendering great service to the people of this community in supplying their needs for life, health and accident insurance in the Golden State Guarantee Fund Insurance Company.

SELF EXPRESSION FREEDOM

It is rather interesting to hear the varied and vastly different expressions as to the American Black Man's attitude towards the United States—HIS COUNTRY.

In some cases he is begging his white friends to let him be an American, because he loves the United States better than he does his Heaven.

"Let him who would be free first strike the blow."

Truly the Black Man is struggling, but unless he is struggling to free himself from his own mythical ideals based upon his delusion of race inferiority engendered in his many years of chattel slavery he is struggling in vain.

A man may be held prisoner for a goodly number of years, but he is never a slave unless he himself admits that he is mentally inferior to others.

In our study of race conditions here and elsewhere we are inclined to believe that the Black Man is more susceptable to environment than the white man, but this plastic, mental attitude is not argument in favor of mental inferiority, but rathmental superiority.

Hence, we cannot intelligently escape the idea that full and lasting freedom for the Black Man in this Country depends upon his own mental development, and not upon any cringing, cowering attitude upon his part, that suggests that he is patiently waiting at the white man's mercy seat for his change.

WE REMEMBER.

For a day the nation becomes remembrancer. Somewhere in this vast and diversely-born people there is the binding loyalty of a great common service. If for the many the day has become merely a release from labor, an occasion for self-amusement, it remains for millions of homes a tender retrospect, sanctified by service and crowned by the immortal fulfilment of complete sacrifice.

Turning to gaze down the years of this nation's story, the people see how vast that army is that gave itself. It discovers the dim figures of those who fought the fight in the Civil war, and the even dimmer forms of those who died to give birth to a new liberty. It recognizes with instant vision the wounds left by the World War and numbers on its farms, in its homes and in its shops the great roster of those who have gone to join the bivouac of the dead.

And yet another army—undistinguished, unremarked, perhaps forgotten except in that intimate family circle where memory never dies—the army of those who wore no uniform, carried no weapon, but in civil employment as surely and as bravely surrendered their lives to the public service and added their unnoticed greatness to the sum of national character.

The flags and the flowers will show the story. But the real significance dwells in the life of this people, whose days are richer and happier for the sturdy, unselfish devotion which keeps not merely the flag flying but sustains vital and quick that for which the flag is the symbol.

For these are the ones who builded the nation for our inheritance; the soldiers and sailors, the marines and volunteers, the clerks and the workers of post office and government department, all those of loyal heart and devoted service, of all ranks and origins, of all races and ages, of all degrees of fame and obscurity—a misty, gallant, self-forgetful army, who have left in our hearts the honor they guarded and increased.

The road lies open this day; the fairways are green, the rivers sparkling; even so, remembrance must be our companion and, perhaps, our impulse to renewed patriotism of the kind that adds to the nobility of our heritage.

COMMENCERS

Along with June roses and June weddings comes the annual crop of good advice to graduates. "Success" is the topic. The world receives its yearly accession of school-trained youngsters with somewhat the same sense of hopes and fears and responsibilities that it feels for the babies. The boys and girls out of school are born again to new and enlarged phases of life experience, and the world is anxious about them.

What should seem simpler then than that the world should delegate its successful ones to give the formula of success to the new-comers Pass the word along to the novices; you have succeeded; tell them how you did it. The result is disappointing or would be if it were taken seriously.

The oldheads can't tell the beginners the how. They themselves know very well how little of their achievement came about by their own efforts; how much was due to an admixture of chance, of favorable circumstances and boosting of others. There is no specific direction making straight the road to success. The elders never can persuade the boys and girls at commencement that they are to tread paths marked with footprints. The optimistic, eager, adventurous spirits, who for a whole year have been accustomed to the dignity of being called "seniors," are bent on nothing less than the conquests of new worlds. Commencement means to commence, not to finish.

It is well. The wisest who have lived have not made the world what it ought to be. The job has not been very well done. Take a chance on the "commencers." There is much that needs commencing. We need better cities and better farms, better government and better citizens; better business and better recreation, better industries and better arts—in the whole category of what has been accomplished there is nothing that could not be better. Turn the graduates loose without too much hampering advice. After all, each must create his world for himself.

MUSIC AND ART

By:
HAROLD BRUCE FORSYTHE

RECAPITULATION

Some time ago, I published, in the decaying pages of the now defunct "Outlet", a melancholy article wherein I lamented the painful fact that the Negro, as a Race is no more basically a music lover than an Esquimo. Of course the editor received many letters denouncing me as an ass and the wise older ones predicted that as I aged an mellowed my opinion would inevitably alter.

Several years have elapsed since that time, and instead of undergoing the predicted change, I find my opinion only the more firmly rooted. The reasons for this are as patent as they are simple and plain. No Race of people can be grabbed by the coat-tails and tossed into the pot and be catalogued as music lovers, any more than they can be pigeonholed as bootleggers. We have our fair share of both, but we have a tremendous majority interested in neither.

The basic causes of the widespread delusion that the Negro has "music in his blood," seems to find source in two institutions: Jazz, and the Spirituals. Of the former, let me say that it is not music at all, and comes into no consideration in this department, and of the latter, that the rhythmic impulse far overshadows the implied harmony and the melody. Of course Burleigh, Guion, Fisher ,Dett, Johnson, Diton and others have dressed them up—sometimes in ultra-sophisticated clothing, but even in formal dress I see nothing marvelous about these Spirituals. These Spirituals are overestimated. They in no way deserve the lavish dithyrambs that have been written of them. True, they are often beautiful and emotional, but they do not by any means comprise the world's best folk music. They lack the depth, the restlessness, the wild abandon of the Russian folk songs, and the piquancy of the Viennese. Nor are the Negro Spirituals the only characteristic music of America. Remember the Indian! Nor are they purely Negro. More than one student has claimed Caucasian influence in them.

All peoples have their folk music, and the simple fact does not make them music lovers. For crude folk songs, I, for one, refuse to recognize as real music. We await, however, a Glinka to pull the cork out of the keg and let us view the gold within, if any. So fare we have had only experimental tappings.

It is impossible for a musical illiterate to be a music lover. For a person who doesn't know an aria from a churchcomponirtes lied to pretend love for Wagner is obviously ridiculous. It would be just as difficult to find a lay Negro who could tell Debussy's Le'Apres Midi D' Un Faun from Bach's C Minor Chaconne, as it would be to find a white man who could distinguish between an acciacature and a chord of the second.

There is no such thing as a music loving race: There are only music loving individuals.

* * *

The esteemed critic, Henry T. Kinck in a very instructive if sometimes nonsensical book, "Songs and Song Writers" does some very interesting things. He gives Schubert his just deserts, as Franz, Schumann and Jensen also get theirs, Brahms is roundly excoocerated -Kinck is an anti-Brahmsian—while Grieg has a large amount of space.

Chaminade and Holmes both draw attention, albeit not very flattering, but the crowning embecility of the entire book is the fact that Kinck has entirely forgotten Debussy! I was amazed. But it is a sad truth.

Debussy, despite Fink's frank ignoring of him, is a marvelous song writer. Look at his setting of Verlaine's L'Ombre Des Arbres! Here is a song obviously not for philistines. How elusive, how ethereal, how gorgeously shifting is the tonality. How the emotion is perfectly balanced between the voice and pianoforte! Read that wondrous chord that opens measure 21! And see how skilfully Debussy returns to C sharp major. True, it has its cliche. Measure two deprives from Chopin's second prelude, but coming, in G major, as it does, after a measure in C sharp major, it is both daring and piquant. It is a marvelous song.

And the great critic, Mr. Finck, entirely ignores him. I now begin to agree with Mr. H. L. M. in his opinion of Mr. Finck.

Ministers' Alliance Endorses Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters

At the regular meeting of the Interdenominational Alliance, Monday, May 24, the following resolution offered by the Welfare Committee was adopted:

The Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance, hereby whole-heartedly endorses the movement of Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and wish them God's speed in their efforts for "a living wage and better working conditions."

Many of the members of the Alliance had previously endorsed the Porters' movement and a number have planned pulpit and other expressions of support, reports Geo. S. Grant, Secretary-Treasurer, who adds that the movement all over the country has been greatly assisted by the progressive ministry who realise the importance of the economic as well as the spiritual welfare.

RAISE UP! RAISE UP!!

Officers Davis and Kelly were passing by 1665 Essex St., thinking of how quiet and law-abiding everybody seemed in the neighborhood when they heard the cry: "Raise up! Raise!."

Now, in the underworld parlance, 'raise up' means stop gambling right now, there's cops in sight. So the officers took him on in for being a look-out man and left the gamblers in the mercies of the vice squad.

NONE OF YOR D——D BUSINESS PRISONER TELLS OFFICERS

Tom West was arrested at Thirty-first and Central Ave. at 11:00 o'clock on Sunday night by officers who noticed him reeling drunkenly along the sidewalk. Later on arrval at the Newton St. Station he was asked his name. "None of you d——d business," he roared, "you cops is too d——d smart. I am a law-abidin' citizen an' I don't have to tell my nae." Upon investigation it was learned that he was not a citizen but arrived here from Canada. He was locked up under charges of drunkenness and resisting an officer.

BROKE ALL TRAFFIC LAWS

A brand new set of traffic laws will have to be drawn up for John Ward. Careening down Central avenue he broke just about every law on the book of traffic legislation including the newest one, allowing 40 miles an hour on an open highway.

NEWTON ST. OFFICERS IN A WILD RIDE PREVENT MURDER IN STABBING AFFRAY

Quick response by officers Broady, Maxwell and Martin who raced from Newton Station to 5553 Long Beach at 12:30 the other night prevented what was a serious stabbing affray from being a murder by arriving before the attacker, a Mexican, Frank Romero, could finish his murderous job. Arriving just as Romero ran out they found that he had driven a dirk into the abdomen of A. P. Valencia, a boy of 22 years of age.

He had gone to the house of his estranged wife, Maria Romero and effecting an entrance vowed he was going to kill her, his step-daughter, Dora Lopez and all in the family. The boy, Valencia, a friend of Mrs. Romero's crippled son, attempted to interfere and the man who had kept his dagger concealed meantime, made a sudden lunge, stabbing him deeply before he could avoid him. One of the girls ran to the phone during the altercation and called the station, but though the officers gave chase and combed the neighborhood, Romero escaped for the time being. The boy was rushed to the receiving hospital.

CLAIMED DIME; DISOWNED BRASS KNUCKS

"It's a hot night," said officer Kelly to Officer Davis his partner as they patroled the vicinity of 18th and Essex.

"That fellow doesn't seem to think so," answered Davis, pointing out a lurking figure muffled up in a heavy overcoat.

On 'shaking him down' a pair of brass knucks and a dime were discovered reposing side by side in the cavernous pocket of his overcoat.

"What are you carrying these knucks for?" asked the officers.

"They ain't my knucks," he answered, but the dime is. I borrowed this overcoat and if there's knucks in it the owner must have left them in here."

But the tale failed to convince Judge Richardson next morning. He gave the name of Billy Harris and arresting Officers Kelly and Davis testified they had observed him acting suspiciously.

OFFICERS CORALL "BEEF TRUST"

A meeting of "the beef trust" was what it looked like to officers Church and others who swooped down on the party at 953 Birch. Among the women gathered there most of them weighed over 200 pounds. Clara Stephenson and "Sweet Caroline" Foster were booked for vagrancy and lewd.

SAID HE ONLY SAMPLED CALIFORNIA "HOOTCH"

Julian Moore just arivred here from Illinois long enough to get drunk and get arrested at 10th and San Pedro by Sergt. Fisher and Officer Thomas.

Moore testified that this California 'hootch" has a new elusive and seductive flavor, so in sampling the various brands of moonshine in the California sunshine the combination had proven too much for him and made him dizzy.

Trouble Feared

Fearing mob violence, National Guardsmen were stationed in and arounds the courthouse during the trial and troops patrolled the streets to prevent any outbreak. This precaution was taken by the local authorities because Tuesday several prominent Negro business and professional men received letters advising them to leave town at once, if they did not want to be killed, and on account of the intense feeling aroused when the crime was discovered.

The Spring Frolic given last week by the Bachelor Girls Club was a very jolly affair, and delightfully different.

Mrs. Joyce and Mrs. Gertrude Chrisman are on the sick list.

DR. HUDSON IN SCORCHING REPLY

Another large element in these arrests, has been "crap-shooters", who are for the most part, the same people, and who after arrests are made, are made to furnish a high bail, which they cannot always do, and who on pleas of guilty, are fined $5.00 to $10.00, and accept the situation as the easiest means out.

Another element of these 3,038, are the women accused of violation of the morals law, who, when fined or released from jail, so it is repeatedly said, have ben followed home and rearrested by Sheffield and Randolph, in order to swell their record of arrests.

It is common knowledge, so I am informed, that Sheffield and Randolph have urged and persuaded persons whom they have arrested to accept a plea of guilty, and for this they would urge; "a very small fine or a suspended sentence."

The eleven per cent of those arrested, who were not convicted in Court, would amount to over 300 of the total arrests, and we have reason to believe that if about 50 per cent more had been possessed of sufficient funds, or knowledge of the situation, to have resisted the charges, they, too, would not have been convicted.

We say this, because men have been picked up by them for no other offense than being on the street near 12th and Central, or loafing in a pool hall, or for being seen on the streets late at night. In all of these cases, the officers are the first to shout 'suspended sentence" in the Court, and what is more deplorable, in two instances that are reliably reported to your writer, the Judge upon investigation have found that the testimony offered against the accused by these men was wholly untrue, and in one instance they have been severely rebuked by the Court for offering false testimony.

Certain it is, that if the 135 men on the vice-squad, (if that is the number), had at all equalled the record of these two men, which you point out, then about 614,195 persons per period would be arrested by the vice-squad, and we venture to say that your records do not reveal the arrest of any such number of people per annum at all, and it therefore remains that the activities of these men have not only been noticeable because of the large number of arrests they have made, but every corroboration is given the universal and city wide charges and complaints, that they themselves violate the law in making these arrests; have gloried in them; have bull-dozed and terrorized people in making them; have been guilty of brutality, and have arrested people needlessly, whether or not they saw them committing misdemeanors, in order to produce this record which you point to with pride. It is said that these men have been none too abstemious themselves in going about their police duty, and we note with interest that you say they have arrested persons accused of felonies, but no numbers were given by you in that regard, and we are told by those able to do, that they have yet to detect any person in the commission of a felony, or to arrest a person for a felony, except upon a warrant issued upon the vigilance and the efficient police duties of other officers, and never as a result of their own initiative in detecting or ferreting out those who have committed a major crime.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is engaged in seeking to promote the orderly process of punishment for crimes and has always been, and will always be, a bitter enemy to law violation. Our fight in the past has been largely are against "mob violence", and we are frank to say that we consider Sheffield and Randolph, a "mob" unto themselves, and their tactics for the most part have been that of "the mob."

We shall always gladly cooperate with you in the enforcement of the law, and have the highest respect for the police department and its officers, and for you as its head. We are proud to say that there has always been, with the exception of these two officers, the heartiest cooperation between the Colored people and the Police Dept., in the enforcement of the law. We are proud of all police who do their duty in an orderly and humane manner, and we are just as indignant at the conduct of these two men, as we are proud of all the other officers, some 2500 in number, who are conducting police business in this city. It is an easy matter to create sentiment against what is called the "under world", and it has been, from our way of looking at it, an extremely easy thing for two officers to arrest people who because of poverty or lack of influence and standing, have stood practically helpless before their brutal assaults and ruthless attacks, and often unwarranted arrests, and thus the background has been created for an enormously high record of arrests, upon which to base a charge that all of these arrested people whether guilty or innocent are "their bitter enemies." The bad thing about it is, these men make people who are thus wrongfully treated, enemies of law enforcement agencies needlessly so.

We hold no brief for violators of the law, whether it be members of the 'under world" or Sheffield and Randolph. We make no comment about the killing of Sam Faulkner, because that matter is now before our Courts for determination, and in justice to them, and to ourselves, we leave the settlement of that killing to a jury of their peers.

In conclusion, we wish to say that what we have said herein, and what we have done in regard to these two officers has been done in a desire to make it possible, that the attitude of all persons toward law enforcement be what it should be. Still, it would seem that there remains some rights of the individual both in his person and his home, and once Sheffield and Randolph have learned this, we are sure there will be no trouble between Colored people and the Police Department.

We remain,
Respectfully yours,
H. CLAUDE HUDSON,
President, N. A. A. C. P.

HENRY E. HUNTINGTON DIES

Portraits by Masters

In the art gallery are principally portraits painted by English masters of the last century, among them Gainsborough, Romney and Reynolds. There are also a number of famous landscapes. The art gallery, which is in Mr. Huntington's home, also goes to the public, along with the library.

Among the rare items in the library, besides the priceless Gutenberg Bible, are the original journal of Christopher Columbus, giving accounts of his voyage of discovery to America in 1492; first edition of comedies and tragedies of Shakespeare.

The library also has several original manuscripts in the handwriting of Charles Dickens; the largest collection in the world of the personal letters of Abraham Lincoln, in the Civil War president's own handwriting; many letters from Mary, Queen of Scots to her son, who became King James I of Great Britain; besides numbers of other letters and documents and manuscripts bought by Mr. Huntington in intensive search through the world.

Rare Manuscript

Many notable additions were made to the library when Mr. Huntington purchased through George D. Smith of New York the famous Bridgewater library of England. In this library was "The Canterbury Tales" or the "Ellesmere Chaucer," illuminated on vellum. The manuscript, undated, is said to have been written about 1405, and had been in possession of the Bridgewater and Ellesmere families for more than 200 years.

Henry Edwards Huntington, a nephew of the famous Collis P. Huntington, the railroad magnate, was born in Oneonta, N. Y., Feb 27, 1850. His father was Solon Huntington, and his mother's maiden name was Harriet Saunders.

Began as a Merchant

Young Huntington was educated in the public schools of New York, and began his business career as a hardware merchant in Oneonta. In 1873 he married Mary E. Prentice, and worked as a lumberman in St. Albans, W. Va., in the years 1874-1880. He became superintendent of construction of the Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern railroad in 1880, and rose gradually until in 1890, he became president of the Kentucky Central railroad.

As first assistant to the president of the Southern Pacific, he first came to the Pacific Coast in 1892. Shortly after 1900, he became interested in municipal transportation and was connected with the Cable Car Co. of San Francisco. He also was instrumental in forming the Pacific Electric system and in developing the present extended ramifications of that line throughout Southern California.

Public Utility Work

His financial interests were not confined to transportation properties, however. He was also chairman of the board of the Newport News, Va., Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., the Hammond Lumber Co. of Los Angeles, the Huntington Land and Improvement Co. of Los Angeles, and numerous other organizations of important commercial character, all of them dealing with public utilites and closely related supply sources.

Mr. Huntington's aspect as a financier and community builder and developer was completely obscured during the last 10 years of his life by his generous donations to the world of science and art, and by the intense interest he took in those branches of human activity.

Priceless Collection

Although his activities as a financier and builder of railroads and fortunes placed Mr. Huntington in position to buy the rare pictures and manuscripts which are for sale everywhere in the world, he went at the business of collecting books and rare objects of art with the patience and taste of a professional virtuoso. Consequently his collection of Americana and of books is rated with the best in the world.

Among the books he possessed is Gutenberg Bible, a first quarto of "Hamlet" and countless other priceless volumes. His collection of manuscripts includes a freshly discovered series of documents from the archives of the Spanish conquerors of Peru and Mexico and a holograph by Benjamin Franklin of his autobiography. Among his pictures is the famous Gainsborough "Blue Boy," which he purchased at a price of $250,000.

His private library, which contained his collection of Americana and books was recently presented as a gift to the "people of the world," and a board of trustees formed to care for it and add continually to its treasures from a trust fund created by Mr. Huntington for that purpose. The monetary value of the library is difficult and perhaps impossible to fix, it is declared by bibliophiles and collectors.

Host to Notables

Mr. Huntington's large estate at San Marino, fronting on Huntington boulevard, has been often the scene of entertainments to many foreign and celebrities, the last of whom, Crown Prince Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden, stayed there several days last summer.

The Huntington residence, a large building in the style of the Italian Renaissance and surrounded by one of the choicest collections of trees and shrubbery in the world, contains the library and the enormous collection of old English masters. A portrait of the Horsley children by Romney, which is said was purchased for $40,000, is one of the chief treasures, together with the "Blue Boy." Sir Thomas Lawrence's "Pinkie" was recently purchased, with the Gainsborough portraits of Lady Petre and the Ligoniers, including works by Corot, Harpigny, A large collecton of European moderns DleMezo, Zuloaga, Israel, Mattier and Jules Breton, also a few pieces by Velasquez, was owned by Mr. Huntington.

THE NATIVE CALIFORNIA CLUB

The Natives of California held a very interesting meeting on Tuesday evening, May 17th, at the residence of Mrs. Shepard, 4110 Hooper Ave. for charitable work. The club has gladly decided to take care of two orphan children.

After listening to a splendid program the hostess served a delicious repast.

Veteran Police Officer To Retire

Allan A. Watson, veteran race police officer has formally announced that on June 1st, 1927, he will retire to private life after spending more than twenty years with the Los Angeles police department.

Watson who is stil comparitively a young man and capable of rendering valuable service to the city is retiring largely on account of poor health. A serious accident in the traffic some months ago left him unfit for the strenuous duties that befall an officer.

We are proud to say that he is leaving the police department with flying colors and many laurels flying from his mast. Officer Watson has the honor of being the first Negro in the state of California to retire from the uniform rank of a police department. Prophets in both races have declared that this was a physical impossibility but Watson's life in the department has demonstrated that our group can successfully pursue this profession.

This efficient officer has not only made a success in his connection with the police department as a "beat officer" but has made a record for himself and group in other various assignments. For a long time he was at the head of the Vice Squad, known at the time as the Metropolitan Squad and we can say without fear of contradiction that denizens of the underworld both feared and respected him.

At the present time Watson is connected with the Newton Street Division from which he will retire. Superior officers of this as well as other divisions will commend him as a conscientious officer who is both courteous and brave.

In an interview Watson stated that his program for the future calls for rest that one needs after a most strenuous life of twenty years. After a rest he further stated that he will seek light employment as it would be impossible for him to be idle.

With best wishes for happiness, health and prosperity from his brother officers Allan A. Watson will soon retire to private life from whence he came more than two decades ago.

Boston School Bars Colored Students

Wilmington, Del., May 23.—A Negro student may take "special work" at Miss Farmer's School of "Cookery," located in Boston, Massachusetts, and "sometimes the class is perfectly willing to have a colored student as a member of the class provided the dinner is eaten in different rooms," but it has been found impossible for the institution "to accept as students in the regular classes people of the Negro race," so Miss Mabel C. Bradley of the school faculty informed Miss Thelma Ellen Williams, in reply to the latter's application for admission to the institution's summer course.

Miss Williams is a college graduate and is head of the Domestic Science Department of the Howard High School of this city. Feeling that she wanted to do some special work in cooking she applied for admission to the New England School for the special courses for instructors, during the month of July.

Commendation for Bernard Jefferson

A copy of a letter sent Bernard Jefferson from the Southern California Alumni Association, concerning the recent students' Oratorical Contest follows:

1147 So. Hobart Blvd.,
Los Angeles, Calif.,
May 23, 1927.

MR. BERNARD JEFFERSON.
Dear Sir:

Greetings from the Southern California Alumni Association! We are taking this opportunity to tell you that our organization has watched your activites with interest, and has been especially proud of your many achievements.

The Association wants to publicly commend you for the very distinguished honor you had in representing not only Manual Arts, but all of Los Angeles in the recent oratorical contest. We are assured that it was only merit of the highest sort that brought this about.

The Southern California Alumni Association does not hesitate to say as an organization that it believes you merited a higher rating, although you did not receive such from the judges. Be assured that there were many other judges, whose decision would have placed you much higher.

Keep up the good work! You are not only a credit to yourself and family, but to the community at large.

Sincerely,
MRS. WALTER L. GORDON, Pres.
CONSUELO V. BRIGHT, Secy.

Will View the Greatness of the L. A. Viaduct

A party of representative citizens headed by the "Eagle Editor" left today for a first-eye inspection of the L. A. viaduct as guests of the Bureau of Power and Light.

So much has been said and written about the magnitude of this great project that there was nothing left to do but make a good survey of the same and for that purpose the party composed of some 15 or more business men and heavy taxpayers are going to the viaduct to see what they can see and hear what they can, and unto Eagle readers will relate their impressions in our next issue.

Three newspaper men will grace the party, among whom will be that famous writer and militant leader, Nick Chiles, now here from Kansas, to view the greatness of the greatest city of California.

One of the delightful affairs of last week was a surprise party given for Miss Winnefred Ammons, by her mother, Mrs. J. Ammons for her debute. A large number of the younger set were present. The house was decorated in fern and pink carnations. The evening was spent in dancing. Everyone declared Miss Ammons a delightful little hostess.

Local Elks To Stage Mammoth Benefit for Flood Sufferers

True to its name as the peer of all organizations with the practice of charity for humanity, the local Lodge of Elks, Golden West Lodge, No. 84, will on June 2nd give a monster benefit for the Relief Fund to care for the sufferers of the Mississippi Valley flood.

They have procured the Armory at Exposition Park in which to stage the greatest entertainment in the history of the city.

ENTERTAINERS

The Armory has been donated and the entertainers and musicians are likewise serving absolutely free of charge.

GALAXY OF STARS

Every entertainer of note has volunteered their services for this worthy occasion, as well as every high class orchestra, besides they feature a high-class boxing encounter between two top-notchers. The hustling committee from Golden West Lodge proposes to put on the highest class entertainment ever held on the Coast.

Nobody should miss attending and contributing their mite to the mighty success of the same.

The admission price is $1.00 plus war tax. Every penny of which will go to the Mississippi Valley Flood sufferers. Save a small expense for lights, labor and promoting.

HI JASPER WILL PUT REAL TEAM ON THE FIELD SUNDAY

Determined to have real baseball, Hi Jasper, it is said, has really gotten together a star aggregation of ball players and is prepared to give the customers a run for their money next Sunday at the White Sox Park, 38th and Compton avenue.

After losing four straight games in two Sundays, Jasper has finally got Sparky Adams to line him up a real ball team for Sunday's doubleheader. Aside from Adams himself, Butchers, Wilson, Savage and J. Lewis, whom Eastern teams have been trying to sign all spring. Adams claims four or five more that you will hear all about before the summer season is over.

Sunday line-up follows: Wilson, Adams, Savage, Butcher, Jackson, Salisbury, Neal, Lewis, J. Lewis.

Ball fans will recognize in this galaxy of players that they will surely see a ball game. Doubleheader. First game called at 1 P. M.

Malone Case Network of Intrigue and Conspiracy

CALL MALONE A BUNGLER PRIZE

(By: A. N. P.)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 14.—It was the biggest news story of the year which "broke" on the thirteenth of last January, when after thirteen years of married life, Aaron E. Malone filed a sensational action for divorce against his wife, Anna M. Malone, proprietor of famous Poro College, alleging incompatibility and demanding a half interest in her business and whatever other property she posessed and claiming that he had been responsible for her remarkable success. Its finale came this week with his defeat.

The Malones had married in 1914, when he, a school teacher and itinerant book agent, had wooed the then Mrs. Pope Turnbo, who already had established Poro and was reputedly wealthy. Her success continued after the marriage, until four years later she built the present beautiful and imposing Poro Block, where she employs more than a hundred and fifty young people, who with her branch subagents of her organization are numbered by the thousands.

Evidences of what Mrs. Malone's friends term a plot against her began to disclose themselves several years ago. She became aware of them and it finally led to a breach between the husband and wife, which, while they remained under the same roof, because of her respect for convention, left them dwelling apart. Tiring of living up to his abilities by being merely a husband, wearying of fine clothes, travel, cars, and other luxuries at his disposal, Malone surrounded by a group of colored cronies became ambitious, it is said, to get possession of Poro.

He began to play politics, allying himself with a faction of the Republican Party, in which one of the bosses was "Eddie" Foristel, the clever and reputedly unscrupulous lawyer whom later he chose to guide him in this present lawsuit. The Judge before whom the case was brought belonged to the same political faction and those who claim to be able to see through the arrangement declare that the cards were stacked early in the game.

For nearly a year, beginning in May, 1926, Foristel worked on the case before it was sprung. Although white, he is known intimately enough by a wide group of colored people, particularly the doctors and lawyers who contact him in the damage suit work which is his chief practice, for them to call him "Eddie." Foristel had the counsel and assistance according to rumor of a coterie of prominent colored men, cronies of Malone, active among whom were a leading school principal, a local newspaper man, the head of one of the city's largest welfare organizations and three lawyers. These men it is said kept Foristel supplied with inside information needed from a racial point of view, helped Malone prepare his plans, and kept him encouraged in his program. It is commonly reported about St. Louis that this clique expected to "get well" through jobs, manipulation of contracts and padding pay rolls, aided by the receiver whom it was expected the friendly judg would appoint. The plot went on according to schedule for a time. The suit was brought. The court appointed a receiver without notifying Mrs. Malone and her attorneys. He marched out to Poro and began to terrorize the employees. Each of the three colored lawyers pleaded to be appoined attorney for the receiver, but a white man, C. S. Snow, got that plum, although one of the lawyers was given some sort of attachment without a title. Things looked bad for Mrs. Malone. The receiver took charge of all her personal property. There were rumors that bode ill for the great Poro.

But the plotters had overlooked one important angle. They had not taken into consideration the reaction of Negro America. The citizens of St. Louis rose in a great mass meeting of protest. Leaders of thought and moulders of opinion expressed particularly by the newspapers of the nation were joined by the pulpit, women's clubs, fraternal societies and thousands of "just people" in a mighty and audible wave of disapproval. It had its effect.

Malone several weeks ago perhaps realizing the impending loss of his foolhardy attempt to pluck his wife of her life's earnings, broke down and jumped through a window of the home of friends in St. Louis. Since that time, he has been described as in various mental conditions.

It is reported from reasonably authentic sources that Malone's haul from his wife's estate is less than $50,000, those in the know setting the cash settlement at $35,000 out of which Foristel who spent big money fighting the case must be paid. His wife is said to have dictated the terms of the settlement entirely and to have selected whatever properties which were in their joint names that she desired. Malone's claim to partnership had collapsed and he could only contend for the dower right which the law in Missouri allows either a husband or wife in the other's estate. $8,000 was allowed for court and receiver's costs, which will be divided between Phebe, the former hack driver, who became a receiver, his auditor, Edward Ruddy, the attorney for the receiver, C. S. Snow, white, and the probably small honorarium which may be given Atty. Silas R. Garner, formerly of Mississippi, the colored attache who was appointed to appease St. Louis violent opposition to a white receiver, but who never got into the picture.

Impatient at times because of the slow grinding of the mills of justice, St. Louis and the country at large are now singing the praises of Charles Nagel, Mrs. Malone's personal attorney for years, and his firm members, Messrs. Griffin and Kirby. Particularly though they are shouting acclaim for Homer G. Phillips, the fighting lawyer of the "Show Me" state, who entered the fray as associate counsel with the greatest white lawyers of this entire section and by his sterling ability and intelligent co-operation won their respect and admiration. Mr. Phillips' services were particularly valuable. He and Mr. Nagel were the honored guests of the Poro employees organization in a meeting of appreciation.

But the most striking feature of the case has been the implicit faith which has characterized Mrs. Malone. Intensely religious, she has constantly said, "I put my faith and this institution in the hands of God. The supplications of the thousands of women who were praying throughout the country for our deliverance were answered. God helped me build this institution, and I know he would not suffer it to be destroyed or taken from me." Her faith has been justified.

The divorce case which will write this to the episode is expected to be heard in a few weeks. Its terms have already been arranged and Anna M. Malone and Poro will indeed be free.

THE LOUISIANA STATE CLUB'S FIRST SOCIAL

On the evening of Thursday, May 19, the Sojourner Truth Home was the scene of a happy gathering of over 100 Louisianians and their friends, attending the first social given by the Louisiana State Club, as a climax to their membership drive.

The charm of our western life, augmented by the old southern hospitality, was beautifully portrayed in flowers, music, smiling faces and delicious refreshments; crowning the evening's entertainment with a glowing enthusiasm.

Mr. Arthur Reese supervised the very attractive decorations, and Mr. Walter Gordon arranged the delightful program, which was enjoyably supplemented by an orchestra, a surprise feature made possible by Messrs. Eugene Robinson and Jones.

Mr. Allen Reese, the president, other officers and committees felt amply compensated for their hearty efforts, when they saw the great appreciation and enjoyment of all present. The contestant, who led in the membership drive will be awarded a prize at the next regular meeting to be held at Wesley Church on Friday, June 10, at 8 P. M.

Hurrah for the Louisiana State Club!

Boost and encourage her in her onward march!

Chairman of Publicity.

UP-TO-DATE SERMONS

BY: C. P. JONES

Pastor of Christ's Temple Church 54th and Hooper Ave.

"Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."—Ps. 23.

There are lecturers now telling the people that millions now living will never die. The message must be a comforting one to those who can believe it. And they may be right at that. But there is no man who knows it. It is true that we shall not all sleep, but we all shall be changed in a moment in the twinkling of an eye.

"But of that day and of that hour knoweth no man," said the Savior, "not even the Son, but the Father." And if any one should say that we may not know the day and the hour but we may knw the times and seas hes, the exact dates being immaterial, the answer from the Savior again comes. "It is not for you to konw the times or the seasones which the Father hath put in his own power." Acts 1:4.

Matthew tells us that He said the angels of heaven do not know. Matthew 24:32. Mark tells us that He said not the angels in the heavens nor the Son, but the Father. Mk. 13:32.

We are simply exhorted to be ready, for we know not when our Lord cometh. Mat. 24:42. Luke 21:25-36.

The date setters and year givers have all always been mistaken and always will be. For as a snare that day shall come upon the earth.

Yet God's people will be ready, not because they know day and date, year and time, but because they will be watching and will see the signs when they appear and will know by the Spirit of Day within them.

But in the ordinary course of human events, "it is once appointed for man to die, and after this the judgment." Heb. 9:27, 28. It makes no difference what life may have given you, in death you lose it. Your beauty consumes away. Your handsome form becomes a mass of carrion, and though preserved with the art of the embalmer, yet it is but a useless unattractive cadaver. The animation, the soul, the life, the real attractive part of your being is gone. Your fame, what good is it to you? Death destroys all illusions of greatness, destroys every conceit of the mind, takes away all the pleasure of fleshy indulgence, destroys the power of mental pleasure and intellectual stimulation, turns your wealth over to others, takes your hand from the plow, your shoulders from the burdens, your presence from the haunts of men. You are removed from the midst of human affairs. Furthermore, the pains, the groans, the dying strife, the humiliating, miserable ordeal of quitting the body is by no means a pleasant contemplation or happy experience for the soul. Even Jesus cried out in agony. Though some deaths being prolonged, have less agony at the end.

But somewhere all have to pass through the valley of the shadow of death.

Here is where religion helps, here is where faith proves its value. "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death I will fear no evil." There is something to it. I have seen them die, numbers die. I saw a minister's wife dying. She said, "O brother Jones, dying is not like talking about it."

I saw another die. She had not made the word a source of comfort. She had refused the joy of the Lord. She preferred, while a church worker, to be a perpetual faultfinder. She refused to solve the problems of faith in the spirit of truth. And oh with what unspeakable distress she passed through the valley! What terrors! Saved I think she was, for she was in many respects a good woman, but she missed the divine presence as she went through the valley of the shadow of death. She feared. And oh I have seen them distressed, distressed, distressed with fears. I have known strong men who despised religion and never entered a church to jump out of the bed and run under it begging to be saved from death. Suicides have gone far enough to taste death. Then they wanted no more of it. King of terrors he is, and he dwells in the valley of shadows. His throne is a pile of bones. Skeleton stands guard. The bats of the pit whir through the gloom with the lonesome sound of unspeckable desolation. He is the greatest enemy of man and the last that shall be destroyed.

Stay in his realm and you never know joy again. The wages of sin is death. Sinners are his subjects. They abide in death. They remain in his regions gloomy and inglorious. They are citizens of his fire blasted domains. They abide with him forever.

THE REGION BEYOND

But the Christians home is in a region beyond. Their way lies through the valley of the shadow of death. The highway to eternal life, to eternal glory, toeverlasting felicity, to endless delight; the road to the Elysian fields, to the city of pearls and gold, to the deathless land, the painless realm the region of unmarred and unmarrable happiness—the road to all this lies right through the valley of the shadow of death. And sometimes the way is long as you pass through. There are deeper and densor and darker places and there are lighter and higher places. And some pass swiftly through and some walk through with lingering and feeble steps. But all who are citizens of heaven go through.

Some go down the valley and pass on through. Some go down a distance and are called back to finish life's work. These when they come back are the more able to fit others for the journey. Later, they too must go.

But of the delight of knowing that in this dark region the believer who has allowed God to restore his soul and lead him in paths of righteousness, has the presence of God with him. The region is not his home eternal and he knows it. He is passing to the glorious region beyond. He is going on to a better resurrection and a kingdom of glory. And as he goes, though dark it be, he hears a voice of comfort saying, "Fear not I am with thee. Be not dismayed, I am thy God." He does not belong here. He is looking beyond." He is a pilgrim and a stranger. His name is written in heaven. He has the witness in his breast. He hath a presence, a shepherd with him, whose rod and staff, whose word and spirit he can feel and lean on. Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. I have been in the valley of the shadow many times. So had Paul (I. Cor. 11) before he passed over. In II. Corinthians first chapter he tells us why—that he might be able to comfort those who are in any affliction. We do not taste death, for our Savior delivers

The Savior said we should not taste it. And we do not. John 11:35, 36; 8:51,53. We pass through the valley. We feel the gloom of the shadow. But we are comforted as we go. Amen. Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thousands have died with this comfort. I have seen them die with hallelujahs on their lips. Physical distress meant nothing. They were saved. They passed to the region beyond.

Judge Caryl Sheldon

We urge a unanimous support for Judge Caryl Sheldon for Judge of the Municipal Court at the election on June 7th.

Judge Sheldon has been tried and there is no question of his fitness for the position which he seeks. The people of all classes have always found him fair and square and all persons coming before him are tried upon the merits of the issues at hand and justice is given to all even-handed. We predict for Judge Sheldon a magnificent victory at the polls on June 7th.

Urges the Election of JOHN G. TODD

Los Angeles voters in the Tenth District on Tuesday, June 7, will have an opportunity to send to the City Council a resident of Los Angeles for the last forty-ode years, a taxpayer in the city for more than a decade, a man who by sheer ability has risen, like the hero of an Horatio Alger story, from a newsboy and bootblack to one of the recognized civic leaders of Los Angeles. He is John G. Todd, who in the early days of the pueblo of Los Angeles, when the sleepy little village was unable to employ a paid fire department, enlisted in the ranks of the volunteers as soon as he was old enough to run with a hose cart, and who since that time has evinced the same unflagging interest in the progress of the city.

Innate ability and an inherent trait for helping those about him brought Mr. Todd up from the ranks of volunteer fireman by successive steps until he became the chief of the department, a position in which he served for many years until his voluntary retirement, his resignation being accepted with regret by the city when he left the department with the good wishes of all those who had served under him.

Mr. Todd for many years was engaged in the merchandising business, but he never lost touch with city affairs, of which he has been a deep student for many years, so that he is today well qualified by experience for a place on the City Council.

The future prosperity of Los Angeles will depend largely on the City Council named by the voters at the coming election. Men of business experience and broad vision, men who are able to view a problem from many angles and to decide the answer wisely are needed, and Mr. Todd is an outstanding example of this type of man.

In a field of seven candidates at the recent primary Mr. Todd stood second, and was within a few votes of the high man. Since the primary most of the defeated candidates, realizing his ability, have rallied to his support and asked their friends to vote for him at the election Tuesday, June 7, so that his success at the polls is believed to be virtually assured. The sole danger is that his many friends will take his election for granted and fail to vote, and for this reason every friend of good government in the Tenth District is being urged to turn out at the election and to cast a ballot for Mr. Todd, who is being supported by laboring men in general.

Elks Arrangements Perfected for Grand Lodge Session in August

Headquarters General Committee on Entertainment, New York City.—All arrangements for the entertainment of the Grand Lodge, I. B. P. O. E. of W., have been perfected. The local Entertainment Committee awaits the approval of J. Finley Wilson, Grand Exalted Ruler, before putting the hangers in press. The local committee is composed of some of the most representative men of the Race in Harlem. The dispatch and exactness with which plans and contracts have been consummated to make this coming convention in August excel all others of the past, could be achieved only by such sterling men. Past Grand Exalted Ruler, Harry Pace stated before the Grand Lodge that he was going to attend the Grand Lodge Session in New York City next August, since that was the selection of the Grand Lodge at its 27th annual session last year. He also stated that there was no doubt in his mind about the convention coming here.

The committee has made contracts with the following: Mother Zion Church; Mt. Olivet Church; St. Marks Church; Fifteenth Regiment Armory; New Manhattan Casino; McAllister Steamship Co., for the steamer "Claremont" for sight-seeing up the Hudson; for permission to hold various phases of their meetings and entertainments in the above. Substantial payments have been made upon all these contracts. The ten thousand homes which have been secured await the arrival of the delegates and visitors to the 28th annual session. Besides the business sessions, an abundance of amusements have been arranged including a band contest, bathing beauty contest, a trip up the historical Hudson, Coney Island, Cabaret Night, and Midnight Show.

FATHER CLEGHORN IN STRONG ENDORSEMENT OF SNAPPER INGRAM

To Mr. Harry L. Beal:—

I am extremely glad to say over my signature to the voters of my district hat I am personally acquainted with Mr. E. Snapper Ingram.

We have spoken together concerning the outlook for the city and the citizens at large, and I firmly believe him to be the man who should have the support of our district at the polls.

W. T. CLEGHORN.

Desperate Man Runs Amuck with Pistol!

SHOOTS UP NEIGHBORHOOD

All the neighborhood between 1622 E. 33rd St. and 1635 E. 33rd St. was thrown into a state of terror a few nights ago by the staccato reports of a pistol wildly waving in the hands of Ether Jones, 1635 E. 33rd St.

Ether, who, though bearing a soothing surname is said to have the evil reputation of a very mean and quarrelsome disposition, especially when drinking. In times of peace he is employed at Goldstein's furniture store and has a wife and two children. Firing a shot in the residence of W. Brown, 1622 E. 33rd St., he ran into the street striding up and down shooting promiscuously while frightened residents of the vicinity ran for cover. After he ceased firing he ran away, returning later and was captured by officers Davis and Kelly who had come on the hurry-up call. Taking him back over his wild journey they traced up the pstol which was not on him when arrested, and found where he had hidden it under a house at 1601 E. 33rd St.

At the trial next morning in Judge Richardson's Court, where he was given 90 days suspended sentence for two years, hardly any witnesses could be found who would testify against him, even his wife being in deadly fear of the reckless gunman.

STRONG SUPPORT FOR SNAPPER INGRAM

As the city election campaign enters its final stages, awakened interest in the candidacy of E. Snapper Ingram, candidate for the City Council in the Tenth District, is being reported throughout the territory he is seeking to serve in an official capacity.

Scores of endorsements of Mr. Ingram's candidacy have been received at his campaign headquarters from prominent citizens, influential civic groups and candidates who opposed him in the primary election.

Mr. Ingram is asking election to the City Council on a platform that is pledged to the application of common sense in all matters pertaining to city government, particularly in the matter of assessments. Mr. Ingram believes that overlapping assessments which tend to confiscate the property of the taxpayer must be stopped. He advocates the opening and widening of such thoroughfares as are required, but he believes that the people of the district in which such opening and widening is proposed should first approve such plans, inasmuch as they are the people who pay the bills.

The candidate is in favor of the acquisition of additional parks and grounds in the Tenth District and contends that that can be accomplished without extra burden to the taxpayer, through the utilization of the city school grounds.

Mr. Ingram has dedicated his support to a program of unification of street planting to aid in making Los Angeles "The City Beautiful".

He is pledged to the further development and improvement of Los Angeles Harbor and is a strong advocate of the Boulder Canyon Dam project, to supply water and hydr-electric power, so essential to the city and county of Los Angeles.

The candidate is particularly interested in adequate fire and police protection in the Tenth District and recommends the construction of additional facilities if necessary to assure this protection for the citizens and their property.

Mr. Ingram has lived in Los Angeles 22 years and in the Tenth District seven years. He is a property owner and his years of experience in the city engineering department has trained him to the needs and problems of the taxpayers.

He served in France during the war and has been commander of Sunshine Post, American Legion, member of the City Inter-post Council of the American Legion and vice president of the Disabled Veterans of the World War.

In addition to the large number of individuals who have endorsed his candidacy he has been given the support of Union Labor and has the endorsement of the following organizations:

United Veterans of the Republic, "First Five Hundred", Hoover Street Business Men's Association, Manufacturer's Employee Civic Association, Associated Bakers of Southern California, Loyal 79 Club, Disabled Veterans of the World War, Civic Rights Association, and Figueroa Street Business Men's Association, and California Political League.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

Not since the passage of the 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution has there been so far reaching and important legislative or judicial enactment in the interest of the Negro as the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Texas white primary March 7th of this year. This decision makes possible the enfranchisement of some eight million Colored people who have hitherto been denied the ballot.

The decision of the United States Supreme Court in the New Orleans segregation case in March of this year is also of intense importance in that it manifests most clearly the Gibraltar like nature of the Louisville decision won by the National Association in 1917, which stands as an impregnable defense against attempts to segregate the Negro through ordinances.

Girls' Reserve Baseball team is getting busy and is contemplating having quite a number of games scheduled for the near future. They are also hoping that they will be better supported in their baseball game than in their basketball games. Watch this column for date of first game.

* * *

Eastside Girls' Baseball team is still on the job and will probably play the Girl Reserves at an early date.

* * *

Now that the warm summer days are coming, attention is being turned to such summer sports as tennis and swimming. The girls are expected to do exceptionally well in the former and although they are, in a way, handicapped in the latter, they are not going to make a bad showing in it at all.

* * *

The co-operation of girls of club who wish to compete with others, would be appreciated by editor of this column.

National League Moguls Hold Meeting

(By: A. N. P.)

Chcago, Ill., May 23.—With every club represented and Judge W. L. Hueston presiding, the National Negro Business League moguls held the first meeting since the season opened, here Thursday and Friday, at which time a program was adopted that the officers of the organization believe will mean better baseball and rapid development of the league.

That the managers, team owners, and officers of the League are determined to co-operate with the newly elected president, Judge Hueston, was indicated by the harmony which characterized the sessions and manner in which each representative stood by the Judge and accepted his decisions. In fact, it is claimed that the meeting was the most harmonious in the history of the league.

According to a decision reached Friday, each club will play a game, on its home grounds, for the benefit of the flood sufferers. Plans will be launched in each of the eight cities to put the project over in the most effective maner. Each club will announce the date of its game.

Realizing the value of publicity, this phase of the League activities came in for much discussion and each manager was urged to give the public the news of the games through the press.

"SHAKE, RATTLE AND ROLL" TAKES ROAD

Los Angeles, Cal., May 19.—After weeks and weeks of careful rehearsing the much heralded new show with its birth on the coast opened at the luxurious Capitol Theatre, one of the best of the down town theatres, Saturday night.

The cast is headed by the excellent stars of the ill-fated "Struttin' Sam" Company, whose members entered suit for wages against it after a run at the Majestic Theatre here and a road tour of several months. The members of the company withdrew and were formed into a new company by Charles Alpin, who wrote the sensational Shake, Rattle and Roll. Ed. Tolliver, Tom Harris Chick Jossnon, Mal Parton, Lee Goldie, Bebe Harding, and Josephine McDonald, compose the cast, while what is said to be the prettiest, most perfectly formed bevy of young girls forms a chorus of twenty. Some of the chorus girls rank almost as stars including Marcelle de Lacro, Clotilde Woodson, Rosalie Mack, Rosetta Brooks and others.

Charles Alpin, the able director and author of the production, won a suit a few years ago over Charlie Chaplin, the world famous comedian. Chaplin accused Alpin of using the name he carries as a copy of his name and of imitating his stage mannerisms in order to mislead his followers. It was thrashed out in a sensational suit with Mr. Alpin winning.

THE REFEREE Popularity Contest is one of the best ideas ever originated to help boost interest in the great fight game. It is a child of the versatile brain of Walter Newman no doubt, and the giving away of the beautiful diamond studded belt to the fortunate winning fighter will follow keen competition.

TWO MEN GOLFERS JOIN FORCES IN ONE CLUB

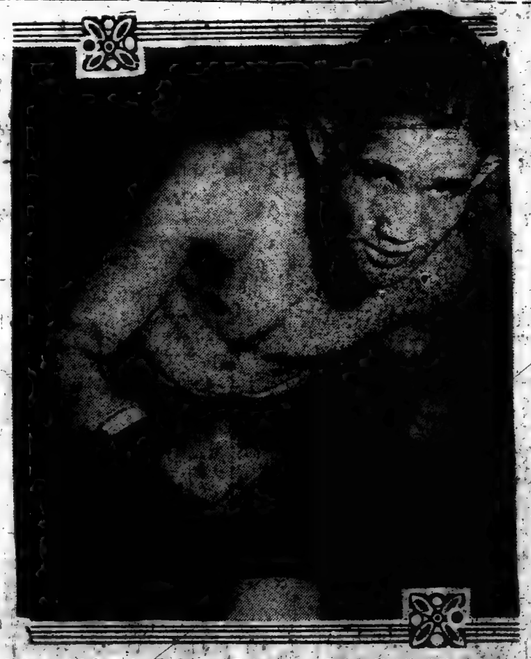
L. A. Fans Follow Hunt's L. A. Giants to 10-5 Win at Long Beach Sunday



PLAY AT SAN BERDOO SUNDAY MAY 29TH.

Although handicapped by a bad, newly-made diamond, which kept them from making home runs, Jim Hunt's L. A. Giants slammed a 10 to 5 killing on the Long Beach Merchants, Sunday. The game was featured by good pitching on the part of Farley with 6 and Lewis with 3 innings. Also by a 3 sacker by Wilson a deuce by Adams and some great work by Neal on 3rd stopping many runs by superb catches. Campbell on 2nd base and Butcher also, did great stuff. Wins the Long Beach pitcher, got his hand spit by a hard batted ball and was retred for Hatfield.

Strike-outs by Long Beach 6, by L. A. Gants 6.

Next Sunday, May 29th, the Huntsmen play the hard San Bernardno Centrals at ther Park and play Long Beach again in about 4 weeks. The boys are getting better and better all the time and will give the fans what they crave for in good baseball when they get back to town. The score follows:

L. A. Giants	004	004	011—10
Hits	003	004	122—12
Long Beach	310	004	000— 5
Hits	003	004	122—12

Who will box in Delaney Benefit at Saint Paul, Minnesota.

EDDIE LONG was down at the Manhattan gym every day this week with his Blonde Terror champion Bud Taylor. Long is a fine, pleasant fellow, dapper of appearance and full of business. He says Jack Johnson is doing well in Chicago.

* * *

TOM JONES, former manager of two different champions was among the boys this week. He so whas Neil Cliaby in tow and is taking good care of the big San Benton boy.

* * *

VIC ALEXANDER and Benny Hill are back from Jack Dempsey's camp as is also Vic's manager, Fred Windsor. The boys look pretty good but say Dempsey really pits them through the mill. Oh well, it's about $150 per week they say.

* * *

MIKE O'LEARY is keeping in good trim; has a lot of good matches ahead.

* * *

* * *

TED SMITH, the big L. A. high school boy, training under under the management of George Thornton, is a former track and field star and has a great future before him. He is fast and packs a punch that should soon make himself felt among the fistic heavies here.

SANTIAGO ZORILLA had a one-round bout with his dentist a few days ago and came out of it with a sore jaw and more teeth missing than he ever got inside the ropes. He says he will be better than ever now and ready for Taylor soon.

* * *

JIMMY DELANEY'S wife and two children at Saint Paul perhaps never have seen such a gathering of great ring men as will box for the Widows Benefit next month at the St. Paul Ball Park. Among those donating their services are Bud Taylor, Mushy Callahan, Wolcott Langford and many others. A tidy sum will probably be raised for the family.

You Can Catch Your Trout Limit at Big Bear Lake

Arrowhead Lake—Arrowhead and Big Bear Lake fishing has been good every day and quite the party whatever is desired fishwise stays there A limit can be caught any time.

Bass fishing has been good since the opening of the season on May 15th. Limit catches have been brought back to camp. That fish are in a good mood to bite.

Chick Suggs and Bud Taylor Ready For The Word

Each with a chip on his shoulder, Bud Taylor, the blonde terror one of the most popular champs that ever wore a glove and Chick Suggs, the great little black boy, who put New Bedford on the map, are waiting for clang of the brass which sends them on their way. Each has a lot at stake. Suggs will be getting his first introduction to the critical California fans; the kind of fans that are like they say Missourians are, "out to be shown." If he makes a hit with them by beating Bud he may write his own ticket. If not, they will be badly disappointed with a poor showing for all the fans, especially the colored ones, have been watching the sensational flash who has been so near champion for some time. Red Chapman, "Honey Boy" Fenneger are some of the many good boys he has faced in the arena so he says he does not fear the whirlwind from Terra Haute.

On the other hand Bud has all to lose and a lot to gain by beating as good a boy as Suggs. It will be one more good scalp that he can hang on the walls of his gym at Terra Haute. But if he loses, it will be a great setback to him not only in his Western record but also in the East. So the crowds are eagerly waiting to see just what's what.

Li'l Farina and Baby Sister Cannot Outgrow Contracts

(By: A. N. P.)

Hollywood, Cal., May 24.—"Li'l Farina" and baby sister, Our Gang Comedy stars, but in private life the children of Mrs. F. Hoskins, 923 East 33rd street, will not be able to call for a new contract according to the new bill recently passed in the Legislature.

Producers have long chafed under a situation in which after much expense in bringing the many infant prodigies into popularity, the child will grow to the age where it will call for a new contract annulling the one signed by the parents. In this way many injustices have crept in and led to this measure of protection being prepared for the party of the first part. Li'l Farina is the most popular child star.

BOXING LID ON IN HONOLULU

(By: A. N. P.)

Los Angeles, Cal., May 24.—A wire to A. N. P. from correspondent states that the boxing commission of Honolulu has put the lid on all fistic activities, because the last few shows have been very poor. Matches will be resumed when good shows are promised.

ATHLETES ALL SET FOR "Y" MEET

"Old Timers," Baby Stars and Dark Horses are putting on the final touches for the Big Y. M. C. A. Track Meet, Monday, May 30th at the Jefferson High School Field. It looks as though the Hi-Y Varsity and the E. A. C. will battle it out for first place in the Open Class. Manual Hi-Y and Hi-Y Lights are the top-notches in Class B.

WILLIE HENRY

"The Texas Steer" who may box in one of the 6 round bouts being planned by Dick Donald for his open air show at Wrigley Field, June 8th. Henry has a great string of K. O's. including Earl Ritchie and Marino Ramieri. Others on the card will be Baby Dunn, Dick Hoppe and a string of other Coast stars.

Never before in the history of the Y. M. C. A. Meets has there been such a splendid array of hurdlers. Townes, Monroe, Creey, Ray, Martin, Johnson and Parrish are a few of those who will walk the low and high sticks on Memorial Day.

Keen competition is expected to take place in the 880-yd. run when Hicks, Cook and Brown get together.

"Church" Matthews of Berkeley is supposed to cop the Pole Vault but Fulcher, Storall, Woodyard and Thompson ought to make it tough for him.

First heats will begin promptly at 1:00 P. M. and Frank Rivers' starting gun is itching to bark.

There will be no admission, and the bleachers are expected to be filled. So come early.

California Track Men Gone to Show the East How

Philadelphia is being invaded by California athletes for the big I. C. 4-A meet.

Charley Borah was billed to meet Frank Wykoff, Glendale sensation in a special 100-yard race.

Borah, House, Bauers and Lewis were to run in the relay.

Coach Dink Templeton of the Cards is recovering from an attack of kidney trouble in San Francisco, but is expected to join his boys before the meet.

Walter Christie and six members of the California squad departed from Berkeley.

Langford Participates in Flood Relief Benefit

(By: A. N. P.)

Providence, R. I., May 26.—Sam Langford of Boston was master of ceremonies at a Mississippi Flood Relief benefit here tonight. Twenty boxers participated. The main bout, between Emil Mandell of Providence and Nick Quarrell of New York was declared a draw.

In the semi-final bout, Billy Tweiss of Providence defeated Joe Dundee of New York in a hot-stirring melee. The win of Dundee was unpopular. All of the proceeds were given to the Red Cross Relief, sponsored by the well-known people of Rhode Island.

GEORGE GODFREY K. O'S. HAWKINS

(By: A. N. P.)

Los Angeles, Cal., May 26.—George Godfrey knocked out "Long Tom" Hawkins at San Dego, Cal., in the sixth of a 10-round battle May 14, after dropping Hawkins 12 times in the last two rounds. Leaving the ring Godfrey danced the new dance called the "African."

Bob Roper Challenges

(By: A. N. P.)

Los Angeles, California, May 23.—Capt. Bob Roper, veteran of many battles, who at present conducts an office for the management of his brother, Jack, also a heavyweight, has gone into training determined to wipe out the defeat of his brother by Godfrey recently. Jack received a terrible beating at the hands of the Black Shadow.

Eaves-Droppin' Around Pop Barret's Champ Factory

BY: I. M. RINGWORM

In Joe's stable, were several fighters who gave promise, especially Antonio, but after going right down the line cleaning up for them all, including Larry Murphy, Eddie (Young) McGovern, Joe Layman, Battling Ward, Pat Corbett, Eddie Mack and others, this set the old boy dancing to Simone's beat, and one after another he bowled over twelve straight opponents in about four months action, when George signed a life contract with a wife whose persuasive powers finally caused George to quit the game, and "Pop" Barret, a mild case of heartache. As "Pop" puts it, he saw the chances of making another world's champion at Simmering. It last "Pop" had already christened in pettogs, "The Gloomy Chimney of the Pacific Coast," as a result of twelve straight knockouts from Battle Ground for the honors of being the busy thing there then. The youngster had already started to publicity himself in the East Coast papers, claiming the stability of the new Chimney, and was looking forward to fighting a flying visit Stack among the many friends with his champion.

But down to one of the local gyms "Pop" was walking one week ago, and on to leading some of his charges in a conference, and "Pop" goes on to say, being down there a few days, he noticed a big fellow, who was training there, but that he could not realize the tremendous development that he has displayed and announce that he has signed him to a contract with an extraordinary look which has amazingly to the game. Those who know "Pop" say that he has a real find in this boy and that he will be heard from in the near future.

YOUR DAUGHTER safe?

* * *

THE same old question.—

* * *

WHY not, "Is your son safe?"

* * *

FIRST get the boys right, then the girls of that generation will be right.

* * *

LET your boy throw all his pent-up energy, his youthful imagination, his desire for conquest into all lines of athletic sports, and he will not grow up imbued with the desire of conquest in the Arena of broken hearts.

* * *

LET him build a beautiful body with rippling muscles. Let your girl build the sound, firm muscles that round out a well trained figure, brings the graceful step and clear complexion that cosmetics cannot produce.

* * *

IN this age of athletics there is really less immorality than at some past age when there was little outdoor sport. Modern boys and girls in excited competition on the athletic field will pay less attention to the partly-exposed male or female body in track suit than will the evil minded hypocrites you rant and rave that "the young people are going to the dogs." Let them box, wrestle, golf, baseball, La Crosse, etc. and see won't you have to worry less about—is your daughter safe!

HELEN WILLS CARRIED PLENTY OF RACQUETS

London.—Helen Wills, California tennis star, has had her first workout on local courts. She arrived for her European tour with 20 rackets in her baggage. Miss Wills declared that she will enter one or two local tournaments before playing in the Wimbledon championships.

San Diego Tennis club's racket wielders trimmed the Los Angeles Tennis club team, 10 matches to 7, over the week-end. Muehlheisen and Muench, two junior stars, were outstanding for San Diego, although Chet Herd defeated Muehlheisen, 6-4, 6-4, in singles play.

And a Woman Won the Santa Cruz Swim

Santa Cruz.—Gloria Scigliano of the Fleishhacker club of San Francisco won the girls' mile race in the opener of this part yesterday from a field of 10. Her time was 23 minutes and 45 seconds. Doris Robinson, her teammate was second, with Sigrid Kaeppe Athens Club, Oakland, third.

How the Ponies Did Run

The Winter season in horse racing just ended has been one of the greatest in history, especially in the ranks of favorites and famous horses. Many local rate fans last Sunday saw Sir Harry in the Frankenstein after winning on him at San Diego.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN ACE FOREMAN AND CHARLES LINDBERGH

Capital talks in every undertaking of any consequence. The papers have been full during the past week of the feat performed by (Lucky) Charles Lindbergh crossing the Atlantic in his airplane at an average speed of 107 miles perhour, having successfully reached his goal through sheer determination, and courage, he is acclaimed by kings and queens and the entire populace of Europe and America. The President of France has already placed the cross of the Legion of Honor upon his breast, other medals will follow and by the time he reaches America he will resemble a crossword puzzle. Maybe our President might manage to find room on Mr. Lindbergh's hat for the Flying Cross. Mr. Lindbergh is a real hero and we take our hats off to him, BUT—WHAT ABOUT ACE FOREMAN? Do you think that we have played fair with him? Our only colored aviator has every kind of qualification as a man who knows not the word fear. A few months back he undertook to fly from Los Angeles to New York in rather severe weather. He had but a shell of a plane which the average white aviator would not think of risking his life in, and practically no financial backing at all. Had it not been for the efforts put forth by the California Eagle he would not have been able to even make a start. His shell of a plane broke down near Salt Lake and he was held up for two weeks before he could make another start. He flew his plane at a terrific rate of speed as far as Kansas City, where his funds gave out and he was forced to give exhibition flights in order to obtain money enough to continue. This brave young man was handicapped by lack of capital. Only a few of our own race had faith in him, some even laughed at his efforts, and started to circulate false stories about his flight. It is a pity and a shame to think that we have fallen so low as to try to kill the ambitions of a brave young man like Ace Foreman. If Ace Foreman had been financed by a few of our wealthy colored people who could well afford it, a different story would be told today. If he was brave enough to risk his life in a shell of a plane crossing the mountains between here and New York, do you not think he would be brave enough to risk his life in an attempt to cross the Atlantic in one of the finest type of planes money could buy. Wake Up! We too have a Charles Lindbergh in Ace Foreman. It took about twenty thousand dollars to back Charles Lindbergh. Behold the results to his race. Suppose it had been Ace Foreman, France who is exceptionally friendly to the Negro, would have been only too glad to bestow upon him the same honors and his feat could not be denied by America. Colored men and women of wealth would hardly miss twenty thousand dollars in a venture of this kind, and the good it would do for the race could not be estimated in millions of dollars. We hope to some day see our brave aviator Ace Foreman, properly financed.

MAY TWENTY-SECOND OPENED THE RUSH

That much talked of day the twenty-second has come and gone and it will be remembered for a long time by the porters of this district as a day of rush, rush, rush, every train leaving out of here was loaded to the roof, and the porters who have been idle for the past two weeks were put to work in a way that they will not forget very soon. Many headed for Chicago and some going as far as New York City. From now on this district will have plenty of work for its porters along with the summer tourist rush will come the different specials and from all indications Los Angeles porters and waiters will have a prosperous season before the winter sets in. Let's make hay while the sun shines.

PRAYERS HEEDED; PULLMAN PORTER JUST CHARMED "SHOW BOSS"

Prayers to the gods, made through decades by tourists who have mumbled and fumbled Pullman coach names, have at last been heard. Travelers may now doubt trains without fearing that they have to be immigrants from Poland or Greece in order to pronounce the name of their coach. William Wycmanski, that mystic person who names Pullman coaches lifted a bottle of pop on high and as he brought it down with a crash on the side of the bright shining car. He said, I christen thee, car Onemacoee for Pletherines, nor yet Whiskeyolovitch G— but just plain John Smith, Pullman John Smith is now hitched to the Overland Limited, 63-hour Southern Pacific train. This is the second Pullman car to be named in this manner. The first being car Oscar F. Daniels named after a Pullman porter who lost his life in the line of duty saving passengers during a wreck.

FILM SPECIALS ARRIVE IN LOS ANGELES

There were five special trains brought 375 executives of Film Studios here last week. The surprise of the trip from New York was sprung at a canyon near San Bernardino, Calif., early in the morning about 6 a. m. the train was brought to a sudden stop in the canyon and boarded by about a hundred Indians and desperadoes who shot off their guns and held up the sleepy passengers, scaring the porters who had charge of the cars. The unusual reception was sponsored for by Harry Carey, cow boy film actor of Hollywood who has a ranch and all the trimmings near Saugus.

MORE ABOUT THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC

The Southern Pacific had its origin in the Central Pacific Railroad Company which in 1863 started construction of a line from Sacramento to the East. It met the Union Pacific, building West, at Promontory Point, Utah in 1869, forming the first transcontinental railroad line. This construction work over the Sierra Nevada Mountains from Sacramento was accomplished in the face of the greatest obstacles, financial as well as physical. Many engineers said that the project was hopeless. In those pioneer days the facilities for railroad building at hand today had not been invented. Even dynamite was unknown. Yet the line was completed over the mountains More will be told next week.

SPECIAL LEAVES SAN DIEGO FOR CHICAGO

The writer looked on with tears in his eyes last Sunday as a special train took on their cargo of humanity for the windy city. Why the tears asked a bystander? Have you someone on the train you do not wish to see leave? And I answered, Yes! I am weeping because my wife is the maid on the train and her possibilities for giving a marcel and a manicure look very slim, and I am weeping because I happened to be acquainted with the following crack dining car crew: Chefs, Geo. White, 2nd Milton Reed, 3rd Sylvester Franklin, and 4th Robert Baler. Waiters: Jessie Simpson, B. Johnson, H. Young, Jockey Brooks, and J. Taylor. Yes, I am weeping because the train was loaded with lunch boxes and snakes. Diner 1424.

PILLOW SLIPS
Ponder Still Missing

Up to the present time no traces have been found of Ponder the Skiff Skimer entrant since he was last seen in the vicinity of Leak's Lake. Dragging of the lake is still going on however in the hope that if he is drowned his body will be recovered.

B. H. Bronseaux of N. Y. C. district and Jerry Taylor were in town last week with a special party.

J. Carter No. 2 got bumped recently and is now out gunning for some fresh meat.

Leslie Scott, Shack Mail Carrier has trimmed the top off of his Ford racer and now makes 60 miles an hour standing still.

Arthur Scott, Former Pullman Porter, sweet shop proprietor, real estate dealer, tea shop manager, and silk stocking salesman is now working for the Santa Fe as a waiter.

What's that! Sam Forrest, South ern Pacific waiter in a Hudson. Well! Well! Who'd o'thought it? Branching out, ain't you son?

J. Carter No. 2 has purchased a red hot Ford coupe, and now Central Ave. belongs to him.

Southern Pacific Dames Sip Lemons

Said the maiden who had been working hard all day for Miss Ann to her feet as she did the Black-bottom to the strains of Lemon and not Sunnyside Scintillating Octagons at The Southern Pacific dance last week, "I know you belong to somebody else, BUT TO-NIGHT YOU BELONG TO ME," and from then on it was just too bad the sheiks and their Shebas shook a wicked foot and the dance shall go down in history as an overwhelming success.

UNION PACIFIC OPPOSES S. P.

All around operating on West bound trains Sunday were in the pink of condition and rarin' to go, as for stepping on the gas would be putting it mildly as from now on October first will be "Coast season" and a few of the boys are beginning already to make out their shopping lists to spend the revenue derived from the influx of tourists.

Arthur Davis, pantryman of diner No. 980, made his final trip on the fashionable "Overland Limited" to accept a position at the Oakland Country Club.

Mrs. A. J. King of Pueblo, Colo., was a passenger aboard "The Gold Coast Limited" on the 17th to L. A. to visit relatives.

Aaron Todd has transferred from 27th and 28th to Silverman on car 017 "Wild Can."

Don'ts to Waiters

Do not board Central Ave. car at S. P. and U. P. station collarless and cuffless, try to look as neat as possible on leaving the depot and advertise the department you are identified with.

Agt. Turner has 200 applications for positions as 5th man and there are only six sets, nobody wants to be 7th man.

Mrs. Hazel Lewis, our popular "De Luxe" maid has returned to the "Aristo-Craft of the Rails," after an extended vacation.

Louis Crenshaw of Kansas City, operating on the "K. P." was a week-end guest of "Billy Wheatley's Club De Luxe" in Ogden.

Observation Buffet car No. 1554, the last word in car construction, made its initial trip Sunday, May the 22nd with Johnnie Farrell "Porter de Luxe" in charge. There are four cars of this type to operate on 7 and 8. These cars are equipped with Soda Fountains, Electric Shakers, Electric Orange Juice Extractors, serving drinks to quench the thirst en route.

Mrs. Fred Lloyd and son Duke will leave the last of the month on an extended visit including points in Missouri and Illinois. Their trip will conclude with a trip to Idlewild, Michigan, the race's playground of America.

Fleetwood Scales and Haywood Perry have been transferred to car 4015.

Nicholas C. Joiner has been assigned to car No. 396.

Buffet observation cars operating on trains Nos. 7 and 8 will cut out at Ogden, Utah. Cars operating on 27 and 28 will continue through to Omaha, this change, no doubt will be welcomed by the maids operating to Omaha.

All Wet

Crews transferred from Omaha to the L. A. District in January were awakened from their 'Rip Van Winkle' the other day when informed their seniority accumulated in Omaha was of no value in picking runs. The boys still believe there is an exception to all rules.

PORTERS AND WAITERS INJURED IN WRECK

Several railroad men were injured in a wreck on the Santa Fe last Monday, when the second section of the crack California Limited crashed into the rear end of the first section as it was rounding a curve. The train was heavily loaded with the first rush of summer tourists and scenes of wild confusion followed the crash.

Following is the list of railroad men who were injured: Frank Teasley, porter, Chicago, broken collar bone; Lee Evans, dining car waiter, Chicago, internal injuries; F. D. Seaton, porter, Chicago, arm bruises; J. H. Davis, conductor, bruises; Carter, porter, Chicago, bruises; W. F. England, porter, Chicago, internal injuries; E. Fowler, dining car waiter, Chicago, injured back; Raymond E. Humphries, dining car waiter, bruised; Hugo Mess, dining car waiter, Chicago, serious spinal injury.

CO-OPERATION

BY: MARGUERITE UPTON ESTELL

J. J. Newberry, the now 10, 15 and 25-cent store located between 4th and 5th on Broadway does not cater to colored trade at their lunch counter. You are perfectly welcome to spend your money in their store buying merchandise of every description, but when you are weary and thirsty, they will not serve you a glass of soda water.

Negro citizens of Los Angeles must Boycott this, and all stores practicing the same. If we are not good enough to be served at their counters, then our money is not good enough to be spent in their store to help pay their wages. Race citizens with Race Pride, I'm sure will observe their signs and quarters to another section.

Co-operation is doing great things for our race, right here in fair Los Angeles. We have the Eagle Hall, the new Prince Hall Masonic Temple, the Y. M. C. A. and the Dunbar Hospital where no Caucasian can slap us in the face. Congratulations to you my fellow citizens, you deserve great credit. And by and by, we'll have a store, where you can shop, and when you are finished you may sit down and refresh yourself.

Some may say, Well that will bring about segregation. Well if it takes segregation to make a Citizenship rat-

TRAFFIC ADVICE

The successful handling, says Officer as. Rosebrough, of traffic, forms one of the most important problems today confronting an cosmopolitan city and in particular Los Angeles with its million or more population.

It is indeed a wonder that so few accidents happen, that such a small percentage of persons are injured or killed, likewise that traffic moves so rapidly toward its point of destination.

Attribute the cause for such a showing to what one may you cannot lose sight of the fact that the traffic division of the L. A. Police Dept. is a big factor in this successful showing Los Angeles is making. This traffic division comprises some well-trained officers whose duty it is to do nothing but direct traffic.

As commendable as conditions seem there is considerable room for improvement and the public can do much to assist in the improvements.

There are many minor infractions of the law that the average auto driver is never prepared to meet when apprehended by the officer. You should at all times have your operator's license. The registration card should be in its proper place in the car where it is visible. Properly adjusted brakes and properly focused headlights are two more esential things in making the thoroughfare safe. Remember, left hand turns are only permissable when you are nearest to the center of the street. Don't forget and run by or try to ease by a street car about to stop, it's easy to maim or kill someone. Don't park within 10 feet of a fire plug. Don't get out and leave your motor running. See that your license plates are not only in their proper place but clear and visible. At all times look out for school children. The city has constructed underground passageways at most school crossings but they are in many instances still unprotected.

PEDESTRIANS

Pedestrians must too obey such laws as are made for their own protection. Don't cross in the middle of the street, remember, if you do so, it's at your own risk and if you are injured or killed you have no redress. In crossing where there are traffic signals or officers stationed do so at the proper time.

Tagging traffic violators is the last thing that a traffic officer wishes to do and if the general public would just use their heads and think in many instances the issuing of a tag could be avoided.

These view and suggestions are given in all sincereness and with the hope that they may create a better relationship between the officer whose duty it is to stand on the box and direct traffic in the interest of public safety and the public that is brought into contact with traffic in the daily performance of their vocations.

Try and do your part in assisting each other to assist the officer and Los Angeles thoroughfares will be safer, accidents will be greatly reduced, you'll reach your destination sooner in safety and traffic conditions in general will be greatly improved.

How to Keep Grime Off Your Hands

When necessity forces the motorist to make emergency repairs on the road, a preventative measure to keep grime and dirt from the hands is as follows:

A small amount of cup grease such as is used in the fabrication of the car, if rubbed well into the hands, will, according to L. G. Evans of the Service Department of the National Automobile Club, prevent the entrance into the pores of this dirt. The grease is easily removed with soap and water.

Here's Method for Saving on Gasoline

The following are a few suggestions of the National Automobile Club for those who wonder why they have an excessive gasoline consumption on their cars:

Remember to use the choker sparingly. Remember that when your car is standing and you are talking to a friend if the motor is running the gasoline is still being used. Have your carburetor adjusted periodically as with the wear of your motor, conditions of carburiation change.

Take Your Camera Along on Your Trip

Take your camera along with you on your trip. This season of the year is ideal for the motorist who has a hobby for snapshots, according to the National Automobile Club. Light conditions are excellent for the amateur photographer and he has a greater opportunity for successful attempts with film or plate during the early spring than in any other season of the year.

At this time the light is not as brilliant, cloud effects are more easily secured and the clarity of the atmosphere helps him to secure much of the beauty which lies in the panorama unfolded before him. A good piece of advice to the amateur photographer is given by an old photographer who said, "It isn't in the camera but in the way you use it." A good picture may be secured with a cigar box provided it is handled in the proper fashion. Do not blame your camera for lack of success in picture taking. Study the possibilities of light and shade and the important elements of which the picture is composed. These are more important even than matters of exposure and too often the amateur photographer passes them by as of little importance.

Keep Your Motor Car Under Control

One of the motor vehicle regulations too often ignored by the average motorist is that an automobile must be under control at all times.

The motor car must always be operated with due regard to the rights of others. A pedestrian has a right to the use of public streets and highways just as well as a motorist and the latter must use reasonable care to avoid injuring the pedestrian. The pedestrian, however, must exercise reasonable care to prevent being injured, which care must be in proportion to the danger in each particular case.

The operator of a motor vehicle must keep a careful watch for pedestrians and other vehicles and at the first appearance of danger must take steps to prevent accident.

The speed of a motor vehicle must always be within such bounds as will and crossings, the vehicle must be slowed down and in such control that it may be stopped immediately when necessary.

Hitting Below the Belt

Margais of Queensbury rules for hooling, butting, tripping, holding, etc., but there is no instruction of the rules considered so flagrant as hitting below the belt line either intentionally or accidentally.

In the pugilistic world, when done with all intents and purposes, it is considered a foul and the guilty party disqualified by the referee.

According to an article appearing in the Illustrated Daily News under date of May 11, a great ring battle is on with the L. A. Chief of Police on the one side, and the judges, Federal state, county, and citizens of the Black Belt on the other.

Now, the people constitute the referee. The writer wants to hear from this referee. Did Chief Davis hit below the belt in the first and second rounds?

To insure a just decision, the writer reprints from the Daily News the first and second round in the form of verbal blows delivered from the shoulder by Chief Davis.

Now Mr. and Mrs. Referee, we again ask the question, Did Davis hit low? Write your answer and the California Eagle will give space to the same. It MUST NOT EXCEED 100 words.

What is Natural Gas?

NATURAL GAS, as its name implies, is that formed by the action of Nature under the ground. It is usually found in oil sands, and in Southern California is produced in connection with oil well operations.

Natural gas has these three chief advantages over manufactured gas:

First, it has greater heating value, usually containing in excess of 1000 heat units per cubic foot, as compared with an average of 400 to 550 heat units in manufactured gas.

Second, it is more nearly 100% combustible than manufactured gas, because of smaller content of non-combustible products.

Third, in the unburned state it is non-poisonous.

The natural gas we are serving comes chiefly from Kern and Ventura Counties, with a smaller amount from fields nearer home.

Long and expensive pipe lines are required to bring this gas to Los Angeles.

This natural gas has an average of about 1100 heat units per cubic foot—or about 30% greater heating value than the mixed oil and natural gas we served formerly.

Appliance adjustments are necessary to get the best service from this higher quality gas.

We have a force of special adjusters working in a house-to-house visit to every consumer on our gas system, to see that, as far as possible, their appliances are correctly adjusted.

WARNING!

If your gas range was built with a "grid" or open top, it is unwise and unsafe to equip it with so-called "solid tops", "gas savers" or "gas conservers." Adjust your burners if they need adjustment, but beware of devices sold by persons of doubtful reliability. A range manufactured with a solid top, however, is a different matter; it was designed for such operation.

DEPARTMENT OF COMPULSORY EDUCATION AND CHILD WELFARE

A group of representative people devoting their full time to welfare work and principally to child welfare work, met in the offices of the Department of Compulsory Education and Child Welfare, May 19, 1927, at 2 o'clock, to consider ways and means of establishing a twenty-four home-school under the complete supervision of the school, the public welfare agencies to be used with supervising functions. This meeting was composed of three representatives from the Public Welfare Commission—Mrs. Sterry, Mrs. [illegible] and Mr. Hamilton, who expressed themselves as very much interested in the plan and in favor of the establishment of such a home-school to supplement the work of the Child Welfare Division of the schools in the cases of truancy without court processes. Mr. Peterson, president of the Principals' Club of Los Angeles and Principal of the Twentieth Street School, stressed the urgent need for such a school in his community, organized for all emergency welfare problems, saving the family embarrassment and expense of court processes and records.

Mr. McBride of the Los Angeles Times, spoke as a friend of a project which encourages such child welfare processes as would develop children along such similar lines as he had seen accomplished through the George Junior Republic.

There were also four members of the California Association of Supervisors of Attendance who expressed their hearty support of the proposed twenty-four hour home-school project as presented to the conference—each citing concrete cases where such a school would aid materially in solving problems that had come under their observation.

The committee from the County Public Welfare Commission assured the group that such a home-school plan would meet with every encouragement by their commission and their willingness to actively interest themselves in such a plan.

A vote of thanks was extended to the workers of the Child Welfare Department for the [illegible] accomplished and much [illegible] of children and for this [illegible] conference and commend the work. There was also the expression of the hope that the home-school project [illegible] in the [illegible] of the child welfare [illegible] as thoroughly incorporated into the program of this Department.

MAN THROWN OUT OF CAFE--GOES TO JAIL

Nothing Hurts A Duck But His Bill

George Jones of 894 E. 46th Street was arrested at a cafe run by whites at 1291 E. Vernon on a complaint that he was disturbing the peace. He was turned in to the night shift at Newton Street Station.

No sooner arrived at booking desk than George turned on his human victrola and the office sounded like a broadcasting station. To the officers asking the necessary questions he snapped out. "Yes, that's my name. George Jones, George Jones, that's my name." "Been drinking?" "I should say not, say can't you see I ain't drunk? Those people are crazy, I went in there with a colored lady friend t oeat. Of course, I never saw the lady before in my life, met her on the street you know. Asked her to a feed you know. They said, sorry but we can't serve you."

"Wait a minute", said the sergeant, "Why didn't you quietly leave them and make proper complaint instead of loud talking and abuse?"

"Wasn't loud talking", yelled George at the officer, "I blah-blah-you know-blah-blah-blah-blah-" and so on until the officers thoroughly disgusted, said, "Oh shut up, you have just talked too much." So George went with disturbing peace, disorderly conduct, drunkenness, etc, hanging over his head.

L. A. Forum Endorses Dr. Hudson's Letter To Chief Davis

WHEREAS, In an open letter addressed to Chief Davis by Dr. H. C. Hudson replying to a letter addressed to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People through its president, in which letter he (Chief Davis) attempts to justify the brutal and needless killing of Sam Faulkner by Officers Sheffield and Randolph; and

WHEREAS, Dr. H. Claude Hudson, in his reply, demonstrating the love and respect for his group, displays tact, skill and a spirit that should permeate the heart of every true and free-thinking Negro of our city; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Hudson, in his masterly and honorable challenge to Chief Davis' letter, not only defended and voiced the sentiment of his organization, the N. A. A. C. P., but that of the Los Angeles Forum and those constituting all other organizations composed of Black people of this, our fair city;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That this organization, the Los Angeles Forum, go on record in the form of this resolution commending Dr. Hudson and the N. A. A. C. P. organization and associates for his timely and manly reply to Chief Davis' letter; also that a copy of this resolution be spread upon the face of the records of the Los Angeles Forum, and a copy be conveyed to Dr. Hudson and the Secretary of the N. A. A. C. P. as an expression of gratitude in his efforts to defend the good name of the citizens of Los Angeles city and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we, the Los Angeles Forum stand ready at all times and under all conditions to defend the fair names of the citizens of Los Angeles when they are attacked in such manner as above mentioned. Unanimously adopted as read.

First A. M. E. Church Presents In Recital Lorenzo Jordan-Cole

Lorenza Jordan-Cole, who is appearing in recital on June 7th, at the First A. M. E. Church, Eighth and Towne

Lorenza Jordan-Cole

Avenue, under the auspices of the Choir has been acclaimed by the daily press in every city she has appeared as the greatest pianist of her race.

From Musical Courier, June 7, 1927: "A remarkably interesting debut was made May 31st, at Memorial Hall, Cincinnati, by Lorenza Cole, colored pianist, who quite won her audience as well as critics by her artistic playing. Miss Cole has a beautiful tone, great facility of execution and showed dignity, poise and poetry in her reading of the entire program.

Screenland Magazine says, Miss Cole, talented young pianist, gave a noteworthy exhibition of pianistic skill June 19, 1926. Few pianists heard here this season have given a better reading of Chopin than did Miss Cole who played as though inspired to a discriminating audience, who enjoyed a real treat while thousands of music lovers certainly missed one by not being present.

The writer said, "I myself went to the recital with no great expectations. I went away feeling that I had heard one of the best performances heard here in a long time".

The Los Angeles Express says, "Inspired by the same worthy motive which enabled Booker T. Washington to be of such benefit to his race, Lorenza Cole is arduously preparing to give only the best in musical literature in her programs. Her interpretation of Brahms was large in breadth and comprehension.

Lorenza Jordan-Cole won the Julliard Musical Foundation scholarship in 1926. These scholarships are given students, in Music, composition, and singing, of American citizenship, who intend to folow music as a vocation. Lorenza was the only colored representative in more than 500 aspirants for the honor.

Miss Cole, will be assisted by Mrs. Emma Smith, soprano, Southern California's greatest song bird. If you have heard them you will not miss hearing them again. If you have not heard them, avail yourself of the opportunity.

Prize Letter Appears In Divorce Suit

When, on Tuesday, the 31st day of May, Attorney Willis O. Tyler, filed a divorce action on behalf of Arthur Dennis, alleging desertion and seeking the custody of the two minor children, there was filed a letter, which Court attaches say, is a prize winner for 'hi-falutin' style and embellishment.

The letter appears to have been written by one "Fred" and Arthur Dennis, the plaintiff, claims he found it upon his wife's dresser. The letter follows:

"En Route, Chicago.

"Dearest:

"I am so lonesome for you tonight, it is impossible for me to resist, or refrain from scribbling you just a short missive to alleviate my loneliness, as I would be so happy if I was near you Sweet Woman.'

"For after you there is no one that could give me joy, in this whole universe. You DARLING I will always adore, even until the hour and moment I am consigned to my lonely earthly pillow, the same true love that I now participate in for you Sweetheart will descend with me into my earthly residing place and ascend to our celestial home, to be renewed with affections of a greater supremacy.

"I have been somewhat oppressed, Dearheart, ever since we parted, and you gave me a sweet kiss, which meant good-bye, I have been unhappy both day and night and I look at your pictures, more than a hundred times a day, and have meditations of the past, though it is gone beyond recall and when I realize the many, many happy moments, I have spent with you, Dearie, they is considered as my happiest days of yore. 'Now Oh' Dear, I am pondering as to what the future will bring as I long for the time to come that we can be together in permanency for I really have grown tired of this old way Dear. You seem to think sometimes that my confidence in you are very shallow, but My Dearling you never was so wrong for there is no greater confidence, could any have than that I have of you, as I believe you to be eminently chaste at all times. I will not proceed to worry with this scribbling as this old train plunging through the mountains and it is very rough indeed. Trusting that you pardon me for this bad writing and spelling.

"Forever to remain,
"Affectionately yours,
"FRED.

"N. B. Many kisses."

The letter will be sent to the Opportunity Magazine and to the Crisis and entered in the 1927 Contest for the Spingarn Medal.

NOTEBOOK SAVES COP'S LIFE

Washington, D. C., May 31.—A notebook, which he habitually carried in the left upper pocket of his coat, saved the life of Officer Charles D. Pople, here Tuesday, when Eugene Turner plunged a long-bladed knife into the officer's coat in the direction of his heart. The thick notbook was pierced from cover to cover, but the policeman was just scratched. Turner was placed under arrest charged with resisting an officer and assault with a deadly weapon.

"A Hot Time In The Old Town Tonight"

BY: WILLIS O. TYLER

In 1898, when the Spanish-American War began, "ragtime" was in its beginning. One of the tunes and songs by which the old fashioned 'cake-walk' was done, was called "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." At the battles which preceded the surrender of Santiago, this tune was sung by the 10th Cavalry, and other Colored troops while they were engaged in storming El Caney, San Juan and La Gnanima.

The coming of the 10th Cavalry Band to Los Angeles to give a concert at the Olympic Auditorium on June 10th, for the benefit of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, of which Father W. T. Cleghorn is Rector, recalls the stirring incidents of the summer of 1898 when this country was engaged in its memorable war with Spain, and the brilliant and dashing part our Colored soldiers played in the wars that were had on Cuban soil. One of the picturesque and outstanding regiments that was engaged in battle in Cuba was the 'Rough Riders.' This regiment was composed of cow-boys, hunters and 160 full blooded Indians, together with a few graduates from Yale and Harvard, and was recruited in Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma. They became known as 'Roosevelt's Rough Riders,' though in fact Theodore Roosevelt was Lieutenant Colonel of the Regiment and Dr. Leonard Wood was the Colonel.

The fighting which preceded the fall of Santiago began June 30th, and it was necessary to take San Juan Hill, a strategic point on the direct road to Santiago before the march could proceed. San Juan Hill and El Caney were both captured on the same day, the surrender of Santiago taking place about July 17th.

The 25th Infantry was a part of General Miles Brigade which was composed of the 1st, 4th and 25th Infantry Regiments, and held the center of the battle line.

In the battle at El Caney, Col. Wykoff's Brigade was composed of the 9th, 13th and 24th Infantries; Col. Wykoff was killed and the command fell to Lt. Col. Worth of the 13th Infantry, who was severely wounded, and the command passed to Lt. Col. Liscum of the 24th Infantry, who fell five minutes later. The brigade was then commanded by Lt. Col. Ewers of the 9th Infantry.

General Kent in his report of this battle gives great credit to the 9th, 12th, 16th and 24th Regiments of Infantry.

Since 1866, there have been four regiments in the regular army, the 24th and 25th infantries, and the 9th and 10th Cavalries. These fought during the last years of the Civil War and were incorporated into the regular army as a result of the gallant part the Colored soldiers played in that memorable struggle.

The 24th Infantry has the honor of being the first regiment ordered to the front in 1898 in the Spanish-American War, and many of the writers say that Col. Roosevelt's 'Rough Riders' were saved from annihilation by the gallant work of the 10th Cavalry who went to the charge singing 'There Will be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight.' It was the 24th Infantry that volunteered its services in clearing away the rubbish, and cleaning up the camps in Cuba, which abated the yellow fever peril, and saved the American Army from destruction by disease.

It is of particular interest to those who have watched the soldierly and gallant conduct of these regiments to know that the 10th Cavalry Band, so rich in its traditions, and whose music has inspired the gallant fighting men of that regiment upon so many memorable occasions, is to be heard in Los Angeles for the benefit of Father Cleghorn's Building Fund for his new Church, and no doubt as an appreciation for the honor this regiment has conferred upon all of the Colored people by its gallant conduct and soldierly bearing, every available seat in the Olympic Auditorium will be occupied on the evening of June 10th.

Rose Mae Mizelle Albritton in her farewell appearance in the city at Wesley M. E. Church this Sunday night. Seventh offering.

Prosecuted For Sleeping in P. E. Station

On Thursday, May 27th, a very interesting trial was held before the Hon. Geo. S. Richardson, Judge, Municipal Court, Division No. 5. Elijah J. Peek, an ex-soldier and aviation captain during the World War, was on trial for having fallen asleep in the Pacific Electric Station at Hill, near 4th street, while awaiting an Owl car to Beverly Hills, where he is employed. He was charged with vagrancy. Attorney Tyler argued that if all persons who happen to fall asleep in passenger stations, churches, theatres, etc., were arrested for it, there would soon be more people in jail than out.

Judge Richardson discharged the defendant. It developed that Mr. Peek is a highly respected officer in Bethel A. M. E. Church, and has a spotless reputation. Because he told a "cop" that he lived in Beverly Hills, where he worked, the cop arrested him for having fallen asleep. Mr. Peek has engaged Attorney Tyler to sue the Pacific Electric Company for malicious arrest; the manager of the Terminal Building, having appeared at the trial and assisted the prosecution of Mr. Peek.

Escaped Convict Captured After 36 Years

(By: A. N. P.)

Salem, N. J., June 1.—After a thirty-six years' search, Frank McGee, who has been in the Salem County Jail awaiting sentence by Judge Ware on conviction of atrocious assault and battery in this county, has been identified as an escaped convict from the Richmond, Va., penitentiary.

The identification was established by a photograph which Sheriff Robinson filed at the state prison at Trenton some weeks ago. Captain Smith of the Richmond penitentiary came here Saturday night with extradition papers, and, upon advice of Judge Ware and Prosecutor Grier, the sheriff released the prisoner. Captain Smith stated that McGee was sentenced in 1891 to 15 years for breaking, entering and larceny, and in November, 1894, he and another prisoner escaped by digging a tunnel under the prison wall.

The country had been completely covered with photographs of McGee, offering a substantial reward for his apprehension, but it was not until two weeks ago that his picture was found in the rogues' gallery at Trenton.

Famous 10th Cavalry To Parade on Broadway

The Famous 10th Cavalry Band will arrive Saturday, June 4th and will be quartered at the Y. M. C. A. A grand reception will be tendered them at the Patriotic Hall, 8th and Figueroa Sts., Sunday at 1 P. M. The Spanish American War Veterans and the American Legion with colors flying will be their escort. A Grand Parade will then follow from 18th to 10th on Figueroa to 7th and Broadway; up Broadway to 3rd; down 3rd to Central; down Central to 18th. Two troops of Boy Scouts and R. O. T. C. will be in line. All friends with cars and flags are requested to turn out to join in the Parade and give a rousing welcome to the Boys of the Gallant 10th.

Shoots At Officer; Hits 14 Years

(By: A. N. P.)

New Orleans, La., June 1.—Battiste Charles was found guilty Tuesday in the criminal district court of shooting at with intent to kill a policeman last night. Said Carnival Day. The verdict carries a sentence of from three to fourteen years.

Grand Master Wilson Lays 2 Cornerstones

Reverend J. H. Wilson, Grand Master of Masons, was busy over the week-end with the laying of two Church cornerstones. He was assisted by the local Craft, by Fidelity Lodge at Santa Monica and by Grand Lodge Officers.

On Sunday, May 29, the cornerstone of the new Church structure, Bethel A. M. E. Church of the West Side is constructing, was laid with impressive services. Reverend J. B. Keaton is pastor and the progress of the church has been so rapid under his leadership that a commodious new building is being rushed to completion. Major Prioleau founded this mission about 5 years ago. C. E. McKinney, acting Grand Orator, delivered the oration.

On Decoration Day, at Santa Monica, Grand Master Wilson led Fidelity Lodge of that city to the cornerstone laying of the First African Methodist Episcopal Church of Santa Monica. Reverend G. W. Bussey, pastor, is in process of constructing a beautiful new edifice on 19th street, on a handsome sight overlooking the Pacific. A large crowd was in attendance. Attorney Willis O. Tyler, acting Grand Orator, delivered the oration, and Dr. W. D. Miller, the sermon.

REPULSED, SHOOTS THROUGH DOOR

Boston, Mass., June 1.—Arthur Postell, high secret order man, member of the deacon board of Peoples Baptist Church and a post office employe, is being held in Philadelphia, awaiting the arrival of Boston police with a warrant charging him with assault, according to police of station No. 10 Roxbury.

Several weeks ago it is alleged that Postell, a married man with three children, went to the home of Mrs. Roberts of 803 Tremont, with whom he was infatuated. She refused to admit him into the house. Enraged, he fired several shots through the door.

Mrs. Roberts, also married, and the mother of children, as the story goes, called the police who issued the warrant for Postell's arrest. The angry lover fled town immediately. Other than shattered furniture and a bullet-filled door, no damage was done.

TAKES IT OUT DEBTOR'S HIDE

Pensauken, N. J., June 1.—When William Wheeler of Merrieville, N. J. considered the $3.25 costs he paid to Recorder Diehl of this village a low price for the legal information he obtained, he thought it was perfectly legal to "beat up" an enemy providing the enemy was on the public highway.

That was what Wheeler did to Robert L. Murray of the same village. It was on account of the latter not paying the entire price of a pig purchased from Wheeler.

Saturday the creditor decided to "take it out of the debtor's hide."

"The joke's on me", laughted Wheeler. "I thought it was allright to beat up a man if you had good reason, providing you did not hit him in his own house."

Nick Chiles Will Address N. A. A. C. P. And The Forum, Sunday

IN ST. LOUIS

BY: C. A. B.

It was Tuesday, March 1st when we left Springfield for St. Louis. The trip from the Illinois capital to the Smoky Missouri City was uneventful, save for the gushes of rain and show all along the way.

We had passed thru St. Louis before but this was our first stop, and the only persons with whom we were acquainted were Editor Mitchell and the Malones.

The Union Station at St. Louis to say the least, is pretentious, and to our mind is surpassed only by the Grand Central in New York City.

Having notified no one as to the exact time of our arrival our first thot was to secure the service of a taxi. We hastened out from and every where we could hear "Taxi, Taxi, Taxi." Finally one fellow (white) tuck his face underneath our hat, and yelled "Taxi—where to lady?"

After hesitating for a few moments we wondered if there were no colored taxi drivers about. The fellow owered his chin, and said "Yes" right around the corner." And in spite of the fact that we carried a rather heavy hand bag and likewise a hat box, we grappled with them and tugged away in the direction the white driver had pointed, and found around the corner is described two bedited and deserted taxi cabs. After standing and looking in all directions for a few minutes, we finally spied a colored brother "Can you tell me where the drivers of these cabs may be found we asked.

"Yes", said the stranger "in the pool hall there." And again we persisted, "Will you please call one of them," flipping a coin into his hand which had the tendency to quicken his speed. We then with baggage, crawled into the waiting cab, where we waited until we became frightened, and from that time until the very present we have seen neither Colored Taxi drivers nor errand boy. With a heavy heart, over our baggage we slumped back in front of the Station, secured a white Taxi driver and went out to Penn College which was no short distance and cheered us no wee bit of fear and speculation as to where we should land at that evening.

Kills Wife And Wounds "In-Laws"

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Magnolia, Ark., June 2.—When his wife refused to return to him, Chester Hildreth was arrested Tuesday after her to a field in which her father and brother were working and killed her. When the man tried to restrain him he drew a knife and cut both of them. Hildreth wa sarrested Tuesday afternoon and is being held here on charge of first degree murder and assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

"Never Again" Says Mrs. Smith

(By: A. N. P.)

Washington, D. C., June 1.—A few weeks ago Mrs. Virginia Smith was called into court to explain how she happened to have a quart of corn liquor in her house, and when she could not explain it satisfactorily she was ordered to serve a ten-day sentence. Determined "not to let the same happen to her twice," Monday morning when she found a basket with ten bottles of the forbidden juice in her home, she set it out on the sidewalk, where an officer found it. She also told the officer the names of those whom she thought were trying to "jam her."

The N. A. A. C. P. Membership Drive will close Sunday afternoon, June 5th with a Mammoth Meeting at Pilgrim Chapel C. M. E. Church at 42nd and Wadsworth. Hon. Nick Chiles, editor of the Topeka Plaindealer, will be the speaker of the afternoon.

Hanford News

The Annual May Carnival at the A. M. E. Zion Church was very successful, but owing to inclement weather, not quite as much a success as it should have been.

Kenneth Crawford, Fred Fields, and George Terry motored to Fresno last Friday evening to attend a lawn party, given by Miss Minnie Cowings.

Rev. H. H. Mitchell visited Fresno last Tuesday and returned Thursday morning.

The Second Baptist Church conducted a Missionary Rally, Sunday afternoon. Rev. J. D. Wilson of Fresno, preached a sermon which literally carried away his audience.

The rally was well attended, and from a spiritual as well as financial standpoint, very successful.

Rev. H. H. Mitchell is suffering with a bad cold, contracted while visiting at Fresno last week. He was unable to conduct services Sunday morning.

Mrs. G. W. Ayres motored down from Fresno, Sunday afternoon to visit her mother, Mrs. L. Wyatt. Mrs. Ed. Jones, Mr. J. Bost and Mr. Cannon were in the party also.

Kenneth Crawford returned home Tuesday morning from Los Angeles, after two weeks' vacation.

Miss Willie Belle Hill and George Terry were the guests of Roy B. Simpson at the Senior Ball at the High School Gym.

Fred Fields who has been living in Los Angeles for the past four months, returned to Hanford Sunday morning.

Plans are being completed for the Annual May Carnival at the A. M. E. Zion Church.

The Brave Heart Hi Y Club is more than holding its own amongst the Hi Y Clubs of California. It has held an honorable place in the "Hi Y News" every month since the older boys' Conference.

Invitations are out announcing the wedding of Mr. Lewis Grover and Miss Olga Hazel Harris on Saturday evening, the 8th of July at the First A. M. E. Church. Both of these young folk are popular in the society swirl of Pasadena and this occasion is looked forward to as one of the most brilliant nuptials that has ever taken place in Pasadena. These young people come from the best families in the city and are well liked by everyone. The reception will be held immediately after the ceramony at the home of the bride's parents on Oak Knoll avenue, after which they are to take a brief honeymoon. It is to be remembered that Miss Harris is a very recent graduate from the Nurses' Class in the General Hospital.

Sacramento News

Do not forget the annual May Festival given by the M. U. G. Art Club. Every organization including some of the churches will be represented Saturday night, May 28th, at Forester's Hall.

A lively time was enjoyed at a party last Saturday night at the home of Mr. Tedd Smith. The party was given to have something "going on" as there was nothing else on. Those present were: Misses C. Sparks, R. Holland, V. Slaughter, M. McGee, Louis Mrs. Janette Hayes, Messrs. Tedd Smith, B. O'Reilly, C. Harper, Wilton Johnson, Wesley Johnson and E. Armstrong.

Mr. Bolden of Berkeley was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Sunday afternoon.

W. Staunton, E. Betts, W. Bolden, J. Moore, T. Thompson and B. Turner made some very striking records in the City Track Meet which was held Saturday afternoon at McKinley Park. The Trojans as a whole made second place with W. Bolden breaking one of the city records.

Sunday, May 21st the A. K. A. pledgees will give their coming out party at the South side Park Club house. The pledgees are Modella Thomas, Madeline McGee, Louise Lewis and Norma Hughes.

Monday night the Modern Priscillas started the evening by listening to the dance music program on the radio rendered by Pat Patterson's Knights of the Wavelength Harmony Orchestra of Sacramento. While they were trying to listen to the music they were also transacting business. Next Monday night, miss Marjorie Collins and Miss Pauline Ray will be entertained by the Priscillas. The girls are anxious to entertain these two talented young women as they are about to leave Sacramento for the East where they will study music.

Eleven Modern Priscillas accompanied by Mrs. O. Hall, Dorothy Brinsom and Priscilla Dean departed from Sacramento, Sunday morning at 5:30 for the mountains. They made a wonderful trip to a beautiful spot located twenty-three miles East of Placerville. The day was spent in sightseeing, climbing, hiking, wading, picking wild flowers, taking pictures, and eating, everyone had a very enjoyable time.

The Tausant Club will give their first Annual Dance on the twenty-fourth of June. It is up to their friends to see that they have a big crowd. The admission will be seventy-five cents, and the place has not yet been decided upon. The club is growing, and all of the girls seem to take a great interest in it as it is the only one of its kind around Sacramento. Seven girls are expected to join it within the next two weeks.

Is It Good Business?

IS IT good business to spend over $200,000 to condemn, and over $40,000,000 to buy, the electric properties of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, which last year paid in to the public treasuries $652,800 in taxes, in order that the city officials may have the fun of operating the properties and that you may have the fun of making up the $625,000 each year in some other form of taxes?

What Would You Get?

IF Propositions 3 and 4 should carry and $45,000,000 or more of bond and tax money be spent, what would you get that you do not have now?

You are receiving a fine quality of electric service, from both the Bureau of Power and Light and Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, at rates which are much lower than the average in other cities of the same size. This improvement, is under the system of competition.

Could conditions be any better under an unregulated political monopoly in electric service?

Do you think they would be in good?

Then why spend the money?

Would This Suit You?

WOULD you like it if there were only one grocer from whom everybody had to buy their groceries? No?

Then do you think it would be a good thing to have an unregulated political power monopoly in Los Angeles, to handle electric service like water service, street service, harbor service, etc., are handled?

And arbitrarily to establish rates on short notice, like water rates and improvement assessments are fixed?

Without competition or external regulation in electric service, just where would the consumer "get off" in rates and service accommodations?

Would he receive free meter, free service to his meter location, and free commercial main extensions, as is now done in electric service under competition and in gas service under regulation; or would he pay for these things as in water service under unregulated political monopoly?

The "Duplication" Bugaboo

MUCH has been heard recently about "wasteful duplication" of electric distribution systems, and the "cluttering up" of the streets with needless pole lines.

What are the facts?

For twenty years there has been in existence a "Joint Pole Committee," composed of representatives of the electric power, electric railway, telephone, telegraph, fire alarm, and other systems using overhead wires. This "Joint Pole Committee" has seen to it that no unnecessary poles are set, but that as far as possible the wires of all the utilities are strung on the same set of poles, each utility bearing its share of the expense.

Also for three years there has been a working agreement between the Bureau of Power and Light and Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, that neither should duplicate the existing lines of the other in the solicitation of new customers. Any duplication that exists was made prior to this agreement. Existing duplication in the downtown business and industrial section is necessary and desirable for "emergency" protection.

If the City should acquire the power system of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation it would mean practically nothing so far as eliminating "duplication" of systems is concerned.

Hairdressers' Trade Exhibition a Notable Success

For the first time in Los Angeles' history, the colored hairdressers assembled at the Eagle Hall on May 23, 24, and 25 and witnessed a very successful exhibition and trade display under the auspices of the Madam C. J. Walker Club.

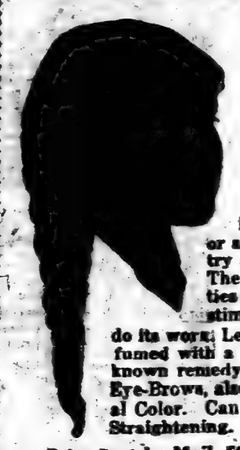
This affair was widely advertised through our papers and with the flags from Pico to 8th streets. The exhibition manager, our own Catherine G. Allen, proved a very efficient and untiring directress and deserves great credit for the results attained.

Other members who were instrumental in bringing about its success were: Mrs. Grace Winslow, Mayme Wilson, Anjetta Breedlove, L. V. Williams.

The very cordial and friendly feeling which prevailed throughout the exhibition regardless of system, deserved more than comment. This affair was visited by leaders of the National Beauty League and editors of different beauty magazines and complimented the effort as being one of the greatest of its kind.

On Wednesday evening, it was indeed worth your while when our own Assemblyman Fred Roberts, gave a lecture on the legislation bill affecting hairdressing and beauty parlors profession. After which the magazine book of beauties was open before the spotlights. They posed to show to the best advantage, the beautiful costumes to a large and enthusiastic audience.

Those who were fortunate enough to witness the revue, proclaimed it the best of its kind ever presented to this city.



The club was complimented upon the spirit in which the affair was carried out for all hairdressers and manufacturers, were extended an invitation. The show was financially as well as socially a success.

AMERICA!
BY: CLAUDE MacKAY

Although she feeds me bread of bitterness,
And stinks into my throat her tiger's tooth,
Stealing my breath of life, I will confess
I love this cultured hell that tests my youth.
Her vigor flows like tides into my blood,
Giving me strength against her hate,
Her bigness sweeps my being like a flood.
Yet, as a rebel fronts a king in state,
I stand within her walls with not a thrill
Of terror, malice, not a word of jeer.
Darkly I gaze into the days ahead,
And see her might and granite wonders there,
Beneath the touch of Time's unresting hand,
Like priceless treasures sinking in the sand.

POPULAR HALL

Beautiful Eagle Hall is growing in popularity daily. Among the smart affairs of recent date was the Matinee Dance given by the NIL NISI BONUM CLUB, Monday, Decoration Day. The dance was attended by a bevy of beautifully gowned girls and conventionally dressed men.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends and various societies and orders for their many favors and floral offerings during the illness and bereavement of my sister, Mrs. Rilda Phoenix.

MRS. JULIA HUDSON, Sister.

A CARD OF THANKS

The immediate family and friends of the late Mr. Mary Reddick wish to extend their sincere thanks to all those who so tenderly expressed the sympathy in our sad bereavement. Especially were we comforted by the words of hope expressed by the Rev. David Miller, the beautiful song service rendered by Miss Emma Smith and the Conner-Johnson choir and the sweet, ritualistic ceremonies performed by the Daughters of Africa, the Daughter Elks and the Household of Ruth, all of which, together with the fragrance of the wealth of flowers offered by sorrowing friends, will long remain in our hearts a blessed memory.

In loving gratitude,
ROBERT REDDICK

Appeals Six Months' Sentence; Gets Ten Years Instead

(By: A. N. P.)

Wilson, N. C., June 1.—Joe Boddie was sentenced to serve six months three weeks ago for beating his wife, and not agreeing with the judge that justice had been meted out to him, appealed the case. Friday Joe was called before the bar to hear the result of his appeal and to his surprise the Superior Court sustained the verdict of guilty and imposed a sentence of ten years for the crime.

One of the most beautiful receptions of the season was given by the Presidents' Council, honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, sectional president of the State Federated Clubs; Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, managing editor of the California Eagle and Mr. Garland Anderson, playwright at the Republica Tea Room, last Tuesday evening.

In the receiving line were the guests of honor, their state presidents, state officers, and Mrs. Orcel, club woman of Denver, headed by the Presidents' Council president, Mrs. E. Monroe Beavers. In behalf of the Council, Mrs. Corine B. Hicks, past state president presented Mrs. Edwards with a huge basket of flowers, and beautiful bouquets to Mrs. Bass and Mr. Anderson. Mr. Anderson presented his flowers to Mrs. Middleton, saying she had been a mother to him.

About 400 guests called during the evening.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED

On Thursday, May 26th, a number of ladies met at the beautiful home of Mrs. Joe Taylor, 10524 Grape street, South Los Angeles, and organized a club that will be known as the Los Angeles Social Club.

Officers elected were: Mrs. W. E. Jones, pres.; Mrs. J. Taylor, vice-pres.; Mrs. V. S. Metton, secy.; Mrs. John Homes, treas.; Mrs. Norman Lewis, critic.

After the business, a wonderful repast was served. We met Thursday, June 2nd at the home of Mrs. Ashford Harde, 1553 E. 33rd street.

HOME ART CLUB

A very interesting meeting was held, being literary night a 20 minute program was rendered.

We had as guests: Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Hecter and Mrs. Fairchild.

The Tacky party given at the home of Mrs. James L. Davis, 4215 Hooper was a success. Mrs. Espree received the prize for the tackiest one present.

The hostess served a delightful repast.

SUNBEAM SOCIAL CLUB

Mrs. Bessie Harris, entertained the Sunbeam Social Club last Friday afternoon May 27th at her home, 1144 E. 21st St.

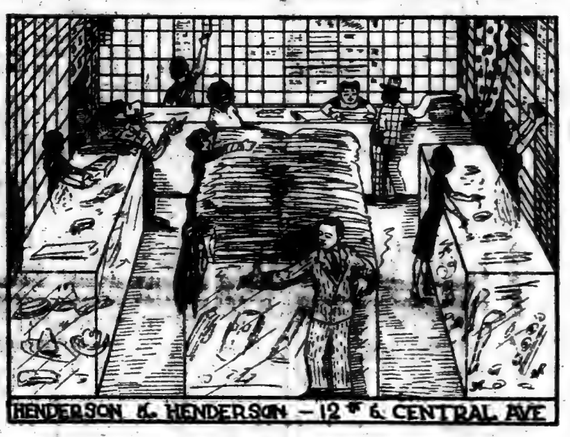
After a brief business session, the meeting was turned to the hostess. The general routine of amusement was enjoyed. Mrs. Johnnie Prace won first prize, 2 beautiful bath mats and Mrs. Isola Fillmore, the booby which was a very pretty nut set.

A delicious buffet lunch was served. The president, Mrs. Ora Venerable, and club members, complimented Mrs. Harris as being a charming hostess.

The Women's Liberty Club from the Pullman Porters of Los Angeles, met at the residence of Mrs. O. Bell on Thursday evening. Quite a number were present and the evening was an enjoyable one. There was election of officers, and all were happy. Installation of officers will take place at the next meeting, date to be given later. The club is doing fine so don't wait longer, but come and join us, there is always room for more. Be sure to always watch the Eagle for Liberty Club news and if you have not subscribed for the Eagle, you should do so at once. God bless our club and help us to march on to victory.

MRS. E. B. JASPER, Pres.
MRS. C. C. FLETCHER, Sec-Treas.

PLEASURE SEEKERS CLUB



Mrs. Hazel Holmes entertained the Pleasure Seeker Girls, Wednesday at her home on Benton street. A very dainty lunch was served; the table was beautifully decorated with sweet peas, cosmia and pink being the color scheme which was very fascinating carried out by the hostess who was also dressed in orchid.

The afternoon was spent in the usual way playing cards. Prizes were won by Mrs. Washington, Miss Hunter and Mrs. Black. Mrs. Black and Miss Hunter were the guests for the afternoon.

ELECT BOARD OF EDUCATION
INDORSED BY CITIZENS SCHOOL COMMITTEE AND TOUSANDS OF OTHER REPRESENTATIVE
The names of ROBERT L. BURNS, LETITIA J. LYTLE and J. L. VAN NORMAN, together with three others will appear on the ballot at the June Election.
"The result of the Primary Election showed in no uncertain way that a very large majority of the citizens of this community are in entire accord with the principle underlying the activities of the Citizens School Committee, namely, that the welfare of the school children demands that no influence, political or otherwise, should be permitted to interfere with their good."
It is a lie the false impression that all the candidates have been elected but the greatest danger lies.
Two of those who sought a place on the School Board at this time, Dr. Max Ferreira and Dorsie E. Crites, have withdrawn in favor of the candidates indorsed by the Citizens School Committee, and are asking their friends to vote for Robert L. Burns, Letitia J. Lytle and J. L. Van Norman on Tuesday, June 7th.

Gives Nick Chiles Great Ovation

Last Sabbath day at the Independent Church of Christ will remain ever a memorable day, when in connection with the Edwin Baker Post, Spanish American War veterans. A great service was held and the Hon. Nick Chiles, editor of the Topeka Plaindealer was the speaker of the day. The large and spacious auditorium was packed to the utmost and religious and patriotism for country and race reached the highest possible pinnacle.

Dr. W. P. Gregg and his members are indeed to be congratulated for their broad-gauged and unselfish demeanor in making it possible to have this far-famed advocate of racial progress to speak to them on this occasion. He brought to them a message of hope and cheer and there were more present who went away feeling the better for being there and inspired to the utmost.

The speaker was introduced by J. S. Bass, editor of this paper, who has been a close and personal friend and co-worker of Mr. Chiles' for quite 30 years or more.

The speaker was listened to with the greatest and undivided attention as he related the story of his stewardship for racial progress in bleeding Kansas and for the nation. At the conclusion of which a spontaneous burst of applause greeted him which lasted for several minutes.

Special music had been arranged and was rendered by the choir. A pleasing solo was rendered by the song bird, Mrs. Murray Williams.

In this situation last Sunday's service at the Independent Church will go down in history as the greatest ever.

THE VICTORY OF THE SPIRIT

So shall they fear the name of the Lord from the West and his glory from the rising of the sun.

When the evening shall come in like a flood the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him. Isa. 59:19.

It is remarkable how this scripture has been fulfilled. And its fulfillment in the past is a guarantee of it fulfillment in the future.

Remember that God, in attempting the salvation of man undertook the most stupendous task of all time. He is attempting the salvation of a race of gods—nothing less. John 10:34-36. Made in God's likeness and image—and how much that means who can know—man has fallen in his nature without losing his peculiar attributes. Jas. 3:9. God did not attempt to save angels at all, but man, created a little lower than the angels, he crowns with glory and honor, giving him a wonderful salvation.

God saves man with His word. This word is called the word of his salvation." Psa. 119. Romans 10. It includes information, historical, moral, religious. It also includes prophecy and divine promise. Hearing, receiving and believing this word we become changed in mind and affection so that as far as life and its issues are concerned we are "new creatures." A new creation therefore takes place every time a soul is saved.

But to make this word efficatious in its given task, the Spirit of holiness whom the theologians call "the third person in the trinity" of the Divine Being takes hold of matters and useth the word Himself. There is therefore no failure in the word. It cannot be broken.

Isaiah spoke about 700 B. C. This statement made in our text had been fulfilled many times. Many times it shall be again fulfilled.

When Satan first overwhelmed Adam and Eve with unbelief and disobedience, it was then the first promise of the victory was given, which Christ the Standard was lifted as the seed of the woman who should should bruise the serpent's head.

Then in the days of Noah when the evil of man's heart had openly drowned all good till the imagination of his heart became "evil continually" that Noah built the Ark, a type of Christ and saved himself and family. And so was the human race saved upon the earth.

Then Abraham, when in the tenth generation after the flood and nearly two thousand years before the birth of the glorious son of Mary, unbelief, paganism, idolatry and superstition had flooded the hearts of men in spite of the destruction of the tower of Babel, God raised up a standard bearer.

Abraham, to who again the promise was given that in his seed (the Christ) all the nations of the earth should be blest.

This same Jesus whom Saul was about to be swallowed up in Egypt. Daniel was in the days of Philistine power; David in the days of Saul's failure; Elijah in Jehovah's day when the name Baal sought to displace that of Jehovah; Isaiah in Judah who turned away; Jeremiah at the time of the captivity; The Maccabees when Greek power invaded the world; John the Baptist in the days of Herod, Christ Jesus the Savior, a light to lighten the Gentiles and the glory of this people Israel. He is the real true standard.

Him the Spirit lifts up when any serious condition arises of unbelief, of inhumanity of man to man; of crime waves, of any evil condition. Why, bless you, police and detectives can't stop crimes or crime waves, they can and do abate crime, they are God's ministers (Romans 13) appointed to this one end. But with no Christ in their hearts, men are criminal themselves. They, the police have been known to be the criminals best friends. Go to court, as I have been and you will find the sympathy of the Judge entirely with the criminal, if that of the police is not, at least that was my experience. You who have been robbed are heckled, scoffed at while the criminal is given every kindly consideration. That was my experience in the matter. Yet these men do the best they can, Paul calls them unjust, 1 Cor. 6, they just can't but follow their prejudice whether these prejudices be personal and temporary or deep-seated and general. They cannot help but follow them, till their hearts are God-taught, Spirit-taught, Spirit-cleansed. How can men be just who hate God? God is goodness, love, fear, truth, justice, equity, righteousness, holiness. Men who hate God hate these things. Pride was never just but always oppressive and murderous, biased, scornful, careless of justice for justice's sake, careless of truth and equity. Only the Spirit of the Lord can remedy this condition. He alone can lift the standard, the Christ-man the Christ-personality against the prejudice, the injustice, the mass worship, the mammon, the weak, immoral and immoral floods belched rom the pit and flooding human life. Miss Lilas G. Hart

But it is only the Spirit-filled church that truly represents Christ. It is only the church filled and ruled by the Holy Ghost that is the light of the world and the salt of the earth. Remember that that is not a church which merely goes by the name of one. The Church is the body of Christ, it is a Christ-indwelt, Christ-ruled organization.

The Holy Spirit rules the true church and by His grace and His illuminating and enabling power she becomes a "blessing to all the families of the earth," truly the "mountain of holiness and the habitation of righteousness." Her children become the peacemakers of the earth, the followers of what is good, the true helpers of man, who bless men for Christ's sake without regard to race or fortune.

And when in your own life, your trials become an overwhelming flood and conditions too hard to bear, it is then the spirit of the Lord who lifts the standard and gives you a sense of "pardon, peace, and power." It is He who goes with you to give you courage and before you to make the crooked straight. It is He alone who produces conviction of sin and a need of God in the life, and it is He alone who meets that need with a sense of sins forgiven and of divine presence.

The Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against the enemy. The precious soul of yours is in the hands of the Holy Ghost. Resist Him not, strive not against Him. His business is to bring you deliverance, yield your life into His hand.

The time shall yet come when the Kingdoms of this world shall become the Kingdoms of the Lord and of His Christ. You will not regret then that you yielded to Him today. Amen.

Says All Presbyterians Have Same Attitude Toward Negroes

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Memphis, Tenn., June 2.—While there are some difficulties in the way of a union of the Presbyterian churches of the North and South, the race problem is not the most serious, was the opinion expressed by Dr. H. C. McCown, of the United Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Penn., before the Southern Presbyterian Assembly which was in session here last week.

After outlining a few of the obstacles to the proposed union the Pittsburgh minister declared:

"The race question also enters into the list of difficulties but the attitude in the final analysis is practically the same. I have lived both north and south of the Mason-Dixon line and have found that people under the same conditions act about the same."

STRONG AND FEARLESS

The open letter of Dr. H. C. Hudson in reply to the letter of Chief Davis was indeed a fearless and courageous reply and the doctor has the thanks of the people for the same. The more we see of the intense interest which the doughty president of the N. A. A. C. P. displays for and on behalf of the people the more we appreciate him for his real worth as a factor in this community.

THE 10TH CAVALRY BAND

The appearance of the famous 10th Cavalry Band in this city and in concert at the Olympic Auditorium is indeed an event in the annals of time for this section and should quicken the pulse beat of every American. This historic organization has endeared itself to all people for its daring and conquest on and off the battlefield and all America when the opportunity presents itself should feel complimented indeed to honor the band of this famous regiment by turning out in full force to see and hear their band play the music which has helped to make the 10th Cavalry a household word. Let us hope to see every man, woman and child grace this great occasion on next Monday evening with their presence if it is possible to do so.

PROPOSITIONS 3 AND 4

The two propositions on the ballot for next Tuesday's election should receive the hearty support of all people who are for a greater and better Los Angeles. To keep pace with progress there is no middle ground when it comes to a proposition to strengthen the forces which have demonstrated beyond a question of doubt, that redounds for the benefit of this every-day, average citizen. The administration of the Bureau of Power and Light has lightened the burden of consumers of power and light to do the highest degree and if the citizenry will but uphold its hands we are satisfied they will continue the onward march and make the same burden even lighter than it is today.

In this situation there are no bonds to be voted nor one penny to be expended, therefore the least we can do in the premises is to vote YES on Propositions No. 3 and 4.

FOLLOW UP YOUR ADVANTAGE

In the prize ring when you have knocked down your adversary without him taking the count of ten, if you are wise it is your advantage to keep right on him until you have him finished or out.

This situation faces the voters of this city at the city election on next Tuesday. The present regime of our city government has been our adversary, so much so that it has been declared a fight to the finish. The administration with a few exceptions was knocked out at the primaries. Sparks in the 6th however did not take the count; the people should be right after him and put on the finishing touches next Tuesday. In the 6th E. E. Moore should be declared a winner and the people are fighting for this end.

In the 10th the live wire Snapper Ingram we predict the fight will result in his election by an overwhelming victory and we look for him to become a commanding figure in our city government.

In the 12th the fight waged by the people will put the old war horse, Dr. Foster over the top in grand style.

Follow up your advantage and put on the finishing touches on next Tuesday and make the rout for the present regime unanimous.

MYTHICAL "SUMMER SLUMP"

In early and experimental stages of advertising certain month of the year were poor in business. Mid-Summer was one of these periods and "the summer slump" became a byword among merchants. It was accepted as a necessary and incurrible evil. Instead of increasinf their advertising to improve business, merchants virtually suspended advertising on the theory that business was not to be had.

Suddenly some one discovered that "the summer slump" was an hallucination of an unbusinesslike mind. It must have been a distinct shock to the old-timers when they discovered that the reason they were not doing business in the summertime was because they were doing no advertising. It did not speak well for the vision of thesae pioneer business men that they were so long in learning this secret of advertising; that advertising should be used mose extensively at those periods in the year when business needs an artificial stimulant. The business of advertising is to make business.

With the aid of newspaper advertising many businesses have transformed the "summer slump" into a "summer boom". They have produced goods the public needs and wants during the warm months and have carried the news tothe consumers through advertising.

Those who have something to sell—locally or nationally—will neither see nor feel this mythical slump if they do more and better advertising. There is more employment and therefore more money in circulation during June, July and August than during any other three months of the year. Why then should there be less business?

BIRTHDAYS

On the household calendar there is no more important event than birthday anniversaries of the children. Times and customs change and it is said the home is not what it used to be, but a child's birthday anniversary still remains a red-letter day.

Of coulse there are birthday presents and great confusion during the administering of one spank or one tug of the ear for every year the little heir or heiress has been in the household. And sometimes the occasion is celebrated with a birthday party.

Every fond parent knows it is out of tune to punish little Bobby on his birthday, so the day is inaugurated with solemn vows that no matter what he does there are to be no scoldings or whippings that day.

Unfortunately the juvenile hero of the day has more reasons for being naughty on his birthday than at other times. He is excited and full of energy. He cannot understand why he cannot have his own way since it is his birthday party. And he is quick to discover that the bars of parental discipline have been lowered for the day.

Youthful minds do not distinguish between liberty and license. Nor do they realize that there are other rewards for being good than security from punishment. If the parental vows on the morning are broken one usually knows where to place the responsibility.

Parallel Heroism—Separate Treatment

CHAPTER I

By Louis Michel

Charles Lindbergh, Caucasian, first lone discoverer of Trans-Atlantic Airplane route to Paris, crowned as foremost National-International hero. Florence Cole-Talbert, brown-skinned first lone American woman to star as Grand Opera leader in "Aida" with supporting White Italian company on Italian soil, so far persistently ignored by our White American diplomats and Opera companies, as well as newspaper correspondents. A five year contract with Italian admiration and enthusiasm behind it is that greatest living American song-artist's answer to native prejudice. This writer defies any prejudiced agencies of America or any country to prove that the heroic ability and the thrilling originality of Florence is less conspicuous than flying Charles' daring air-navigating deed. Perhaps when Lindbergh hears of the parallel heroism of Cole-Talbert he may tell America that heroism is heroism wherever found in any occupation. Is our diplomatic representation in Rome sound asleep and is President Coolidge all awake?

LINDBERGH, THE AIR PATHFINDER!

Through the skies he sailed with his famous, one-man, history-making aircraft, crossing the grim and treacherous Atlantic ocean, and alighting at the Bourget aviator-field, a safe, a sound and an intrepid man. Charles Lindbergh to-day is an immortal, deathless, matchless and peerless, perhaps the most courageous man of the tender age of 25 years. America has produced. The world applauds him. Presidents, kings, queens, diplomats, scientists, capitalists, beautiful women of wealth and fascination endeavor to dazzle him and the most notable and foremost leading men of all types, nations, races and beliefs vie all with each and each with all to pay him homage, to win his friendship, to bask in his sunshine, to pet his form, for a new Hercules of the air has arisen, greater than any Hercules of physical prowess, of martial force, of historic endurance. Of all National and International heroes, he stands the highest as he is and always will be the first human being who flew alone and self-reliant in a small plane across the Atlantic ocean, spanning the 3500 miles distance between New York and Paris without any human counsel or guidance, thinking only of mother, home, ideal and fearless inventive genius, really a fine and great young man, worth more than 1,000 Fords, 10,000 Woodrow Wilsons and one finger of his hand more valuable than all the sinister and useless Ku Klux Klan hoodlums and Anti-Negro fanatic murderers rolled into one composite paradox of American fraud-humanity.

Charles Lindbergh is deathlessly great and appealingly grand, but he is a mixed product of the White race, Swedish, English and French, as we are told, and if America had closed her shores tothe best and most needed immigration of sturdy nationalities of all kinds and classes, No Charles Lindbergh could have evolved.

A proud American mother with mixed blood of different nationalities in her veins, blessed this great son, this mixed limb of the White race. Charles Lindbergh was an unknown quantity, but he had a fine physique, a wealth of brains, a noble ideal and non-persecuting, but very useful and most desirable parents—a Congressman father, a pedagogue mother. But he is a White man and therefore his historical success was swift, instantaneous, world stirring and humanity-shaking. Even President Calvin Coolidge cannot be idle when the whole world kneels and surrenders to the superior figure of courage of Hercules-Charles Lindbergh. Our President offers a warship in his honor to bring him to his beloved native America as a public hero, as an invincible pathfinder, as a daring navigator, perhaps only slightly, if at all, second to the old and physically dead, but always living Christopher Columbus, himself.

That Charles Lindbergh heroism is deathless, always will live, as long as the world stands, is now history's decree; but in America particularly it can never die, for not only is Charles Lindbergh really great, but he is the greatest ace the three-national Lindbergh White race has produced in America.

COLE-TALBERT, GRAND OPERA STAR PATHFINDER

But another glorious, yet tragical picture arises, the greatest lyrical soul of America soars out, high above American prejudice, like an earthly deathless that came out of Lindbergh's Western skies, stands the great figure, the unparalleled singer and Grand Opera actress, Florence Cole-Talbert of Los Angeles, the noblest state and art-heroine known in human history, for on the 17th of March, 1927, at the Teatro Communale at Costanza, Italy, she won the highest victory ever won by martial woman—as she played the titular role "Aida" in the fine Grand Opera play, leading as a brown-skinned artist her White supporting company and winning an White audience with wonderful ease, grace, thus building up and reinforcing matchless art, with most charmingly getting the greatest singer of this age, an American singer that America, her own country, had rejected.

Florence Cole-Talbert's immortality is as secure as Charles Lindbergh's, because for 25 years this struggling brown girl has fought for tolerance, for song and concert recognition in America, but the war lasted down before the thirty and arriving White Opera birds of America could not tolerate a Brown nightingale that was far superior in art, in soul and in history than they—these white experts—were.

For 20 years Madame Cole-Talbert was crucified in America, but in Italy, with a dictator like Mussolini at the helm, she found her artistic freedom, her lyrical liberty that was cruelly and selfishly stolen from and denied her in America.

And why, therefore, do we call her as great a heroine as Charles Lindbergh is in aviation and commercial history? Here is our answer to the people of the United States in general and to Calvin Coolidge, our President, in particular.

Florence Cole-Talbert, the rejected artist of and in America, journeyed to Italy with a broken heart, but with a heroic mind and there she determined that her caged art must be set free, for when her lyrics are clearly unfettered and publicly universalized, the whole Negro race must be set free by Italy's full recognition of her art.

She studied day and night for two years and at last, the art freedom that was denied her in America, was given her in July, for as the grandest Grand Opera singer America ever produced, she won easily as the greatest song bird in "Aida" on Foreign soil.

A five-year contract in Italy is now her remarkable and historical reward, so President Calvin Coolidge is diplomatically relieved to send a warship after Florence Cole-Talbert and guard and guide her home in triumph—for what?

First, for being the first American woman, White or Black, in the world to appear upon foreign soil, appearing in Grand Opera in the Italian language and winning first honors and greatest plaudits even over the native-born white supporting artists.

Second, for being the only brown Negro person, male or female, in the world, having the grand courage and the beautiful ability to appear in an all-evening performance as "Aida" and making a historical success of this magnificent play.

Third, for challenging all Negro haters, especially Negro art haters, be they diplomats or street sweepers in America, to crush real ability and real thirst for real liberty—not "an urging thirst for American beotics—misgovernment—and to strike out, as Florence Cole-Talbert did so heroically, all on her own accord and win the most gorgeous victory, the most signal triumph any mortal could win, that was denied an equal opportunity in America, where Whiteism destroys, if possible, Blackism or Brownism, even if that Brownism, as in Cole-Talbert's case, has German and Scotch-English blood in it, for be it remembered that this artist has Teutonic, Celtic and Anglo-Saxon blood in her veins as well as Negro.

Florence Cole-Talbert does not come home in yet—she does not need to! America insulted her, shelved her, ridiculed her, crucified her, but Italy took her to her bosom and if she goes to Germany, Hindenburg will open the public arms for her! This artist portrayed Verdi and the historical fate of Florence Cole-Talbert but the liar of history and not them, they are free and correct, for America must first apologize to her greatest artist, who went into voluntary exile, because her great art was not appreciated under her brown skin as it is by white members of the country—AMERICA.

Florence Cole-Talbert secured a five-year contract in Italy, marrying her immortal, deathless and as an emissary of art and liberty she will travel all over Europe and the noblest fame and the truest glory and the sweetest liberty will be hers—America can just look on and, we wonder, will she applaud her talented brown daughter?

And will Charles Lindbergh, our National and International hero, when he hears of our matchless and greatest singer of America, our National and International heroine, do otherwise than most of the White men before his day and pay the well-earned heroic homage to Florence Cole-Talbert, who is as much of a deathless personality as is deathless Charles Lindbergh?

If Charles Lindbergh, the heroic conqueror of the air is also big enough to conquer the still prevailing prejudice in America against anything great and heroic and artistic and historical that emanates from any other than strictly Caucasian source; if he realized that Florence Cole-Talbert is the only American born artist that first conquered as star leader in the role of "Aida", not only White artistry, but native White prejudice as well, then, indeed, he is as great a man as Florence Cole-Talbert is a woman, and more than that, he is as great as John Brown, and assuredly not less a man than Abraham Lincoln himself.

Chapter II will follow.

JAUNT ALONG LOS ANGELES AQUEDUCT BRINGS ENDORSEMENT PROPOSITIONS THREE AND FOUR

We, the undersigned, acting upon the suggestion of the Editor of The California Eagle, to acquaint ourselves with the true status of our Bureau of Power and Light, volunteered on last Friday, May 27th, to visit the Aqueduct and Power Plants, for the purpost of getting first-hand information that we might intelligently deal with the situation in imparting our impressions to our friends and the public at large.

We felt that such a visit was not only necessary for our own information, but a duty devolving upon each of us. Hence our visit. We are therefore, convinced after a thorough observation and investigation, that our officials of the Bureau of Power and Light are justified in their request that the Railway Commission pass upon the values of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation's plants located in Los Angeles City. This request will appear upon the ballot of June 7th, designated as NUMBER 3, which if carried, permits us to acquire plants now owned and operated by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation in Los Angeles, thereby augmenting our facilities and giving us that much needed reserve.

PROPOSITION NO. 4

—will permit the Harbor Department to lease to the Municipal Power Bureau a parcel of vacant, idle tide land in the Harbor District as a site for a vitally necessary stand-by steam generating plant.

—will protect electric consumers, by providing emergency service, against the losses that otherwise result from interruption in the City's present power supply. The City's Power Bureau now buys a portion of its electricity from the Edison Company. In 55 months there were 298 serious interruptions in the Edison supply.

—will enable your Power Bureau to provide Los Angeles with the most reliable and dependable type of electric service, by building this stand-by plant, as a part of its system, from Power Bureau funds already available.

We therefore, heartily endorse and commend PROPOSITIONS 3 and 4 which will appear on the June 7th ballot. We are

Yours respectfully,

A SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. A. J. Anderson of 1438 W. 36th Place, gave a beautiful and unique surprise birthday party for her charming young daughter, Miss Mable Waters, at the Christian Tavern on last Friday evening. Miss Waters who has such a sweet disposition and reflects that wonderful personality to her legions of friends, was utterly surprised and bewildered when she arrived in the spacious reception hall of the beautiful Christian Tavern, where she was supposed to attend a friend's birthday party and all the friends greeted her with "Happy Birthday Mable", she ran to her mother who is her real pal and hugged and kissed her, and presented a sweet picture of real love and devotion. More than 30 elegantly attired guests were present to help Miss Waters celebrate her party. There was plenty of good music which afforded entertainment for all. Plenty dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Anderson who was ably assisted by Miss Robinson and Ridley, who also presented the huge birthday cake. Miss Waters received many beautiful and gorgeous presents.

Miss Bertha Cobb, popular young laiteur of New Haven, Conn., has been the house-guest of Miss Alberta Hunt for the past two weeks. Miss Cobb has spoken at a number of churches and has been well received everywhere. Several social affairs have been given in her honor, one by Mrs. Frederick Clark of Santa Monica, and David Deaton of Hollywood, also Miss Eva Riggs of Santa Monica. A birthday dinner for Mrs. Lucy Thrash of Santa Monica, and an After-theatre supper by Mrs. White Gilmore of Pasadena, Miss Cobb, who has been so ably assisted by Miss Alberta Hunt, entertained young people in Santa Monica, and Mr. Frederick Clark, noted tenor also of Los Angeles, England, will leave Monday for his New York home, after a delightful country by Mr. Clark. Her young friends regret exceedingly the early departure of this most talented young woman.

War Declared On Lower California Development Company

Since we wrote our last article, we have had the pleasure of talking with a young man who has been misinformed anobt our purpose in writing these articles as has possibly been the case with many other persons. The young man had been led by Attorney Macbeth or some of his friends to believe that our motives or purposes in continuing to write these articles about Macbeth's loose dealings were prompted thru the fact that we were not able to dictate the policies of the land company.

Let us state just here, that if such propaganda is being circulated by Macbeth or anyone else, there is not a word of truth in it and the person or persons who so attempt to fool the public with such statements is a fit subject and rightfully should be president of the Amanitas Club. Talking about us opposing Macbeth's leadership, why that is absurd. Acquiescing and following his leadership is the thing that has this company and its affairs into a muddle from which it never will be able to extricate itself. This entire property only cost the sum of $35,000.00. The people have paid in $74,000.00 and yet Macbeth with his loose leadership and loose bookkeeping, and his loose handedness leaves them still in debt to the extent of $22,000.00 as an unpaid balance. When we had finished our conversation with this young man, we think that he was fully convinced that our motives and reasons were fair and just. We mean to keep on until we not only convince the public, but also until we convince some of our poor, weak-kneed fellow directors who would allow Macbeth to slip them away by night to San Diego, etc., to pull off some stuff to the detriment of Messrs. Littlejohn and Bass.

Our attorney tells us that since the trip down there that it was on business foreign to the company, how strange it is that the matters were foreign to the company and yet it took five of the members of the Board of Directors to carry it out. We know all about the entire proposition, so don't try to hoodwink anybody.

It appears to us to be a self-evident fact that when a man has made a colossal failure of a business such as Macbeth has made of the Lower California Marinas Land and Development Company, while he has the wholehearted support, the co-operation and almost worship of every member of the company, then that man should at once, if at possible, get out and make room, at the head for someone who has been successful in some of his enterprises. Throughout the history of these articles from time to time we have been free to call "a spade a spade" and have not hidden our interest, if anything. There are points which we have omitted which we recommend that any man, if he were guilty of many perpetrations would have challenged our authority long ago. We remain unchanged.

Shoots Boy In Pool Hall

Johnson's Pool Hall, 1615 Central Avenue, was the scene of what came near being the instant killing of a boy, by a shot fired from the gun of Robert Randall.

Randall who is known as "Curley", was an attendant at the place and the boy, a bootblack, out at a stand in front. During an argument said to have started through their customary "kidding" match, Curley suddenly drew a gun and fired striking his victim in the side. The bullet passing through his body.

REV. L. B. BROWN ARRESTED

The warrant issued for Rev. L. B. Brown on embezzlement charges was served on him and he was placed in jail until through the ministrations of friends he was released by bond broker Dumas Johnson, Wednesday night. On trial in Judge Leonard Wilson's court Thursday, his case was set over to June 8th, at 2:00 o'clock P. M.

RE-CAPTURE CRIMINAL WHO FOUGHT WAY OUT OF FINGER PRINT ROOM

A whole squad of policemen and a bullet from Officer Slaughter's gun were necessary to round up Leon Griffin at 800 East 22nd Street. Slaughter was wanted on a warrant for suspicion of burglary. Several times before Griffin had been arrested, but when brought to trial, had succeeded in getting a suspended sentence or dismissed. The crimes he had been picked up on were of various natures. One most serious one being when he had been surprised by officers while annoying a Mexican woman who had screamed and attracted their attention. Three months ago after being arrested for tire stealing he was being examined and finger-printed when he suddenly smashed Officer Bledsoe in the jaw, and leaped from the room. He has been at large until a few days ago when he was surrounded by Officers McDuff, Green, Slaughter, Wolfer and Henry. He again broke through the cordon of officers and was making his get-away when Officer Slaughter fired at his flying feet and struck him in the ankle. He was carried to the Receiving Hospital where his wound was treated. He was then transferred to the General Hospital where he will remain till sufficiently recovered for trial.

BEATS WIFIE—30 DAYS IN JAIL

Paul Davis an employe of Burns and Akers' Pool Hall was tried in Judge Wilson's Court for beating his wife. He had been in the habit of maltreating her if was testified by his spouse and her mother at the trial, but this last beating, it seemed, was severer than usual. The judge have him 30 days to improve his temper.

HIS HOUSE WAS DISORDERLY

Officer Church couldn't see the logic in so much noise and such actions as were taking place in the house run by Oscar Davis at 1115 East 18th St. Looking around he found the cause of it in plenty or booze. His trial was set for June 7th.

DIGGS CASE SEEMED NET-WORK OF FALSE CHARGES

The long drawn out case of Mrs. Diggs in Judge Bullock's court which was drawing to a close as we go to press was replete with stammering and stuttering on the part of the prosecution lawyer Kirby and a seeming intention to defame Mrs. Diggs' character by the only two colored witnesses for the prosecution, Mrs. Gerundy singer in Beth Eden Church and Mr. Chas Shields. The case grew out of two pair of curtains which Mrs. Diggs, former employer, Mrs. Powers accused her of stealing, though evidence showed no positive prof of her guilt. She was ably defended by Attorney Griffith Jones and a number of witnesses testified in her behalf.

BOND BROKER JOHNSON ON THE JOB

Mr. Dumas Johnson whose ad is resting comfortably in the Sports section, hurried to the rescue and brought freedom to quite a number of persons who fell into the hands of the law this week. He has only been located in his office on Central Avenue three months, but lots many calls for his services.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that all of the insinuations which have been published against the character, integrity and ability of attorney Hugh R. Macbeth in connection with the development and control of the Lower California Marinas Land & Development Company are absolutely untrue, in fact, and are being published for the sole purpose of getting Mr. Macbeth to engage in a nasty public controversy with four disgruntled men which Mr. Macbeth willingly refuses to do.

This publication is done with the knowledge and consent of the Board of Directors of the Lower California Marinas Land & Development Company.

L. B. BRYANT,
Secretary of Lower California Marinas

Statement of Mr. William Mulholland

Chief Engineer William Mulholland of the City's water system yesterday issued a statement endorsing Propositions 3 and 4 on the June 7th election ballots, and pointing out particularly that approval of these measures will greatly assist the City in securing much needed water and power supplies from the Colorado River.

Mr. Mulholland, builder of the City's Owens River Aqueduct and father of the new aqueduct project that will bring domestic water to Los Angeles and neighboring cities from the Colorado River, stated that approval of Propositions 3 and 4 will greatly benefit every citizen of Los Angeles and will cost the Los Angeles taxpayers nothing. He declared that he particularly wished to refute the contention emanating from certain quarter that approval of these measures may in some way endanger the City's Colorado River Aqueduct project.

"Proposition 4 will enable the Harbor Department to realize a large annual rental from another City Department, the Municipal Power Bureau, by leasing a parcel of vacant tide land as a site for a stand-by steam plant," said Mr. Mulholland. "The Power Bureau will use its own funds to construct this plant, and it therefore will not involve any sort of new bond issue.

"Approval of Proposition 3 will in no way interfere with or endanger the City's program of water and power development from the Colorado River. On the contrary, it will greatly assist the City in securing water and power from the Colorado.

"Proposition 3 authorizes a step that will put the people in possession of valuation facts to be considered when the question of buying the Company's electric system is submitted for their decision. However, should bonds be voted at a later date to finance the purchase of this system, it cannot affect, otherwise than beneficially, the financing of the City's Colorado River water and power projects.

"Bonds voted to purchase the Gas Company's electric system, of course, would be classed as City Power Bonds. These bonds are revenue producing securities, and the City Charter provides that such revenue producing bonds do not affect the City's bonding limit.

"Los Angeles Power bonds have served to raise the City's credit in the money markets of the Nation because they are backed by a sound and profitable municipally-owned utility.

"It truthfully may be said that the City's power business has a vital relation to the success of the Colorado River project. Under the Swing-Johnson bill, the Government will require the entire cost of the project to be fully financed by cities and communities interested, before a dollar of Government money is expended. Obviously, this means that Los Angeles must be prepared to sign up for the greater part of the power output of the project.

"In order to get the water we need from the Colorado River, this city must co-operate with the Government in the marketing of Boulder Canyon power. The City of Los Angeles will be able to take on this burden according to the amount of power business—present and future—of the City's Power Bureau. Manifestly, if the Power Bureau had all the power business within Los Angeles, the ability of the city to assume the financial burden of the Boulder Canyon project would be that much greater.

"In short, acquisition by the city of the electric properties of the Gas Company is good business for the city and its citizens."

ADVICE ON REPORTING FIRES

A great many sections of the city are without fire alarm boxes, which is one of the conditions Fire Chief Scott is continually trying to remedy. It is impossible for the Fire Department to secure in its budget allowance any more than is absolutely necessary to run the department for a current year, and this fact leaves him helpless to expand with the growth of the city, except by bond issues. The taxpayers over the entire city are paying for a high class fire alarm system, but only in those sections where alarm boxes are located are they receiving all the service for which they pay. To correct this condition, as well as to provide adequate protection for the ENTIRE city, Chief Scott has been laboring diligently in an attempt to have a bond issue submitted to the voters.

In the absence of a fire alarm box, or when there is none in close proximity, the telephone then becomes a valuable adjunct to the Fire Department. We are going to ask those who have 'phones, to familiarize themselves with the directions in the front part of the telephone directory. In connection with the use of the 'phone, in report a fire, Chief Scott wants every adult and child to know the following:

Emergency numbers are placed at the top of the front cover of the telephone directory. The Department number (for reporting fires only) is Fitzroy 3131. Every person old enough to report a fire should practice dialing this number without taking the receiver off the hook.

In reporting fire hazards, inquiring about fire prevention laws, or the transaction of other business with the department, the correct number to be called can be found in the telephone directory under "Fire Department."

If you have a manual 'phone (non-dial), time will be saved if you ask for Fitzroy 3131 in reporting a fire. If you are in the dark and don't know the number, or should you experience any difficulty in obtaining connection to the Fire Department, give the details of your call to the operator, and she will assist you in completing your call. Should you have the dial type 'phone, you should at all times dial Fitzroy 3131, but in case of emergency, dial the opening immediately beneath the 'finger stop' marker "Operator." When the operator answers, tell her you want to report a fire and she will complete the call for you. In either case, never leave the 'phone until you have communicated your message to the fire department.

At all times in calling the Fire Department, be sure to state just what your difficulties are. If you are not explicit you might find a great many pieces of fire apparatus responding to extinguish a fire, when, in reality, what you desired was the services of a Rescue Company.

Voters Beware of the Propositions Appearing On the June 7th Ballot

For the benefit of our voters and taxpayers, the Propositions which will be submitted at the polls, June 7th, are herewith simplified and defined so that no mistake will be made in voting.

PROPOSITION NO. 1—VOTE NO!
Zones Beverly Boulevard, restricting the small property owner and is contrary to the plan of the City Planning Commission which takes care of all the people concerned in that District instead of favoring the wealthy classes which be favored by the proposed proposition.

PROPOSITION NO. 2—VOTE YES!
Approves the plans of the City Planning Commission as applied to zoning Beverly Boulevard.

PROPOSITION NO. 3—VOTE NO!
Proposes "That the Railroad Commission shall make a survey of the Los Angeles Gas & Electric Light Plant for the purpose of fixing a value thereon for the contemplated purchase of the same by the City of Los Angeles."

(a) If the Proposition carries the City of Los Angeles will have to pay a large sum of money for the proposed SURVEY.

(b) The estimated value of said Plant is between forty and fifty millions of dollars. If purchased by the City it will require another big bond issue which means INCREASED TAXATION on an already overtaxed property owner.

(c) The taking over of the Los Angeles Gas & Electric Light Plant by the City destroys competition and allows INCREASED RATES as monopoly always does.

(d) There is a limit to our BONDING CREDIT which must be protected in order that there be funds for other needed improvements such as Water, Schools, Fire and Police Protection and Harbor development.

PROPOSITION NO. 4—VOTE NO!
Asks that certain land at the Harbor be turned over to the Bureau of Power and Light for the purpose of erecting an Electric Generator Plant, costing MILLIONS of DOLLARS, which means tying up Harbor Land and INCREASED TAXATION.

THEREFORE, the folcwing organizations and individual voters have gone on record as opposing PROPOSITIONS 1, 3 and 4, and supporting PROPOSITION 2 on the June 7th Ballot.

KEEP THE SCHOOLS OUT OF POLITICS

The education of our children is a matter of deepest concern to the entire people and we owe it to our children and to ourselves to see that their future educational advantages are carefully safeguarded and protected. California as a whole, and Los Angeles in particular, enjoys one of the best public school systems in existence. The Board of Education which controls the schools of Los Angeles is composed of men and women well seasoned and experienced and pledged to continue the present economic effective and harmonious service which has brought the public schools of our city up to a standard of efficiency.

In order to continue that efficiency the Eastside Independent League has adopted the Board of Education ticket endorsed by the Citizens' School Committee and thousands of other representative citizens, and in presenting this ticket to the voters of this district do so fully convinced of the wisdom of the choice of candidates the Citizens' Committee has made. Elect these three at the general election Tuesday, June 7th.

WOOD WILSON, President.

U. N. I. A.

We are inviting one and all to come to the U. N. I. A. Sunday, May 5, 1927. A great mass meeting will be held. All old members will be welcomed back to this great movement belonging to our race. We are looking to God to solve this problem. It will take you and me to put it over. We will say to you again it is not the West Indian Movement, it is for the Universal improvement of the Negro all over the world. We are glad to have the ministers awaken to the fact that they are responsible for the success of the organization. Rev. Mitchell of the Christian Church, at 33rd and Hooper Avenue, will take the stand and tell us who will rule Africa. If you hear him once, you cannot forget his burning message. You will say he is phophecying the things yet to come. He will be introduced by our beloved Vice-President of the U. N. I. A., Mr. Berry. Come early and get a good seat.

Mr. H. HOXIE, Pres.
Mr. BRIGGS WILLIAMS, Secty.
Mr. & Mrs. W. J. SLAUGHTER,

PROMINENT TAXPAYER ENDORSES TODD

A keen student of civic affairs for the last thirty years, a man of varied experience in city employ, a retired chief of the City Fire Department in which he rose from the ranks of volunteer in the early days, John G. Todd, candidate for the City Council from the Tenth District is a man particularly well fitted by character and experience for the place.

Coming to Los Angeles from St. Louis forty-one years ago, when he was a lad of 11, Mr. Todd has been a resident here continuously since that time. Forced to sell papers and shine shoes here to eke out the family income, Mr. Todd worked his way through the public schools and his humble beginning has made him a strong friend of the laboring man, thousands of whom are numbering among his closest friends.

Knowing what it means to earn a dollar by hard and honest toil, Mr. Todd, as a councilman, may be depended upon to see that every dolar raised from taxes is expended honestly and carefully, so that it performs a full dollar's worth of work. Mr. Todd has been a taxpayer in Los Angeles for twenty-three years, and realizes what burdens are placed on the small home owner by excessive taxes.

While it is a far cry from the time Mr. Todd was a struggling young newsboy and bootblack to the present, when he is recognized as one of the big civic leaders in Los Angeles, Mr. Todd has not forgotten his early struggles, and his friendly personality has won and kept for him thousands of friends in all walks of life.

In the recent primary election Mr. Todd was next to the high man in a field of seven candidates, and several of the men whom he defeated in the primary race are now working earnestly and whole-heartedly for his election at the polls June 7th.

INGRAM A WINNER

With the municipal election campaign nearing a close reports throughout the Tenth Councilmanic District indicate an increasing interest in the candidacy of E. Snapper Ingram, who is running for the City Council in this district.

According to announcement from Mr. Ingram's campaign headquarters scores of endorsements have been received from prominent citizens, influential civic groups, and candidates who opposed him in the primary election.

The platform on which Mr. Ingram is asking election to the City Council is pledged to the application of common sense in all matters pertaining to city government, particularly in the matter of assessments. Mr. Ingram believes that overlapping assessments which tend to confiscate the property of the taxpayer must be stopped. He advocates the opening and widening of such thoroughfares as are required, but he believes that the people of the district in which such opening and widening is proposed should first approve such plans, inasmuch as they the the people who pay the bills.

Mr. Ingram is in favor of the acquisition of additional parks and playgrounds in the Tenth District and contends that that can be accomplished without extra burden to the taxpayer, through the utilization of city school grounds.

The candidate has dedicated his support to a program of unification of street planting to aid in making Los Angeles, "The City Beautiful".

Mr. Ingram is pledged to the further development and improvement of Los Angeles Harbor as one of the city's most valued assets. He is a strong advocate of the Boulder Canyon Dam project to supply water and hydro-electric power for the needs of the growing city.

The candidate is particularly interested in adequate fire and police protection in the Tenth District and recommends the construction of additional quarters, if necessary to assure this protection for the citizens and their property.

Mr. Ingram has lived in Los Angeles 22 years and in the Tenth District seven years. He is a property owner and his seventeen years of experience in the city engineering department has trained him to the needs and problems of the taxpayer.

During the war he served in France and since his discharge from the army he has been active in the work of veterans' organizations. He has been commander of Sunshine Post of the American Legion, a member of the City Inter-post Council of the American Legion and vice president of the Disabled Veterans of the World War.

In addition to the large number of individuals who have endorsed his candidacy he has been given the support of Union Labor and has the endorsement of the following organizations:

United Veterans of the Republic, "First Five Hundred", Hoover Street Business Men's Association, Manufacturers, Employees, & Civic Association, Associated Bakers of Southern California, Loyal 79 Clubs, Disabled Veterans of the World War, Civic Rights Association, and Figueroa Street Business Men's Association.

Mr. Dones' Pretentious Stag For Honorable Nick Chiles

Sidney P. Dones, premier Realty dealer, gave a very pretentious stag party in honor of Hon. Nick Chiles of the Topeka Plaindealer, at La Republich rooms on last Friday evening.

Covers were laid for twenty-two and a five course dinner was served. After which with editor J. B. Shaw as toastmaster, short addresses were made by Assemblyman F. M. Roberts, Leon Whittaker, Wm. Qualls, the guest of honor, Nick Chiles, and the host S. P. Dones. The addresses were all along the line of business and organization for the race and all were benefitted o the utmost. Especially pleasing was he address of Mr. Chiles which was heartily and enthusiastically received. At a late hour all departed amid showers of congratulations to Mr. Dones for the great event.

STEPPING OUT

A very unusual and enthusiastic meeting was held at Christian's Tavern, on Sunday, May 22nd. This was the first meeting of the young people's division of the Black American League.

Mr. Charles Martin, who is in charge of the Department of Athletics, presided.

This meeting was a part of the preorganization program to line up a few of the major, and minor officials preparatory to the big membership drive which will start July 1st.

The personnel of the Department of Athletics, Recreation and Aesthetics is being recruited from the ranks of the young folks and a great deal of interest and enthusiasm is being shown.

The principal speakers for the afternoon were: Mrs. C. A. Bass, Mr. Garland Anderson, Mr. Payne Middleton, Mr. Wm. Faulkner, Mr. Leon Whittaker, Mr. Ishmael Flory, and Mr. Geo. S. Grant.

A refreshing luncheon was served during the progress of the meeting.

There was a large gathering of young people in attendance, and quite a bit of interest was evidenced among them; all agreeing to do their bit in putting the Black American program over.

The reorganization of the League started on the 3rst of last March, and the program of recruiting material for the various departments has been carried on ever since.

The membership drive will start July 1, 1927, and will go over big. Any one interested, get in touch with Geo. S. Grant, or Chas. Martin, 1315 East 12th Street.

Let's go over the top, with the Black American League.

Virgil Martin for Council From 5th District

PROMINENT CITIZENS OF THE 5th COUNCILMANIC DISTRICT FORM WORKING AND CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE FOR VIRGIL MARTIN, CANDIDATE FOR COUNCIL 5TH DISTRICT

In forming this committee, Mr. E. J. Chew, who is chairman of same, says in part, as follows:

"My long years of experience in meeting the public and dealing with men in public life somewhat qualifies me to pass upon some of the qualifications and fitness of a person or persons to hold office.

"I have recently been in close contact with Mr. Martin and I have discovered in him those salient qualifications that bespeak a 100 per cent man. This opinion based upon observation and contact is substantiated by the many endorsers of friends both of Mr. Martin and myself.

"Testimony is to the effect that Mr. Martin is a high class Christian gentleman with a will, when executed, will be in the interest of the people and not that of a few plutocrats.

"It is therefore without any degree of reluctance that I proceed to form a committee that will bring about his election to the Council from the 5th District.

"Committee as follows: Mr. E. J. Chew, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. T. [illegible] and Mrs. Wm. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bryant, Miss V. Brown, Mr. Harry Moses, Mrs. S. H. Pool, Mrs. J. C. Nolan, Mr. J. W. Morse, Mr. P. Craft, Mr. Jesse Reeves, Mrs. A. Hill, Mrs. M. S. Robinson, Dr. J. A. Somerville, Dr. Vada Somerville, Mr. Wm. Hill, Mrs. S. Moran, Mrs. Katie Hill, Mr. L. J. Hill, Mr. Charles Watkins, Mr. I. S. Shackleford, Mrs. J. H. Shackleford, Mr. F. A. Harvey."

Delivers Liquor in Hot Water Bottles

(By: A. N. P.)

Kansas City, Kans., May 28.—Chester Lee, 402 Minnesota Avenue, hit upon the idea of carrying liquor around in hot water bottles slung under his arms—just in case he should meet the police. Saturday he dropped into a party at the home of Mrs. Amelia Williams, 1222 North Third street. He found she had some uninvited guests in the persons of Officers Carfell, Mohart and Novak of the raiding squad and promptly executed what military men would call a "right wheel." However, Mohart caught him in the yard as he was attempting to empty a hot water bottle under his arm. Police found more liquor in his car. He explained his new use of hot water bottles to the judge.

Pays Assailant's Fine

(By: A. N. P.)

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 1.—William Cheeks paid the fine of the man he had arrested for beating him. Magistrate Goodman imposed a fine of Five Dollars upon Christopher Henley for his attack on Cheeks. Henley couldn't pay. "I have never yet sent a man to jail," Cheeks said, "I will pay his fine."

Citizens in Large Numbers Turn Out to Chiles' Reception

Beautiful Eagle Hall on 24th Friday evening was decorated with beautiful pot flowers for the occasion of the reception for Mr. and Mrs. Nick Chiles of Topeka, Kansas. This reception was tendered by Mrs. Stella Turner, sister of Mrs. Chiles. Mr. said Mrs. S. D. Patterson, Mrs. Patterson is the daughter of Mrs. Chiles and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bass, Mr. Bass a lifelong friend of Mr. Chiles.

Hundreds thronged Eagle Hall from 8:30 to 12:00 P. M. In the parlors stood Mr. and Mrs. Chiles, in the receiving line were Mrs. Clara Hulbert, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bass, from their station after introduction to the guests of honor the guests passed into the beautifully decorated hall where entrancing music was rendered and punch was served and ice cream and cake. Many took advantage of the situation here and tripped the fantastic toe to the very tempting music.

The ladies were gowned in the latest creations of the modiste's art and the men appeared largely in conventional frock.

It was remarked by all as one of the prettiest and certainly largest receptions ever given in this section.

THE CITY'S POWER AND LIGHT BUSINESS IS YOUR BUSINESS
Approval Of
PROPOSITIONS 3 AND 4
AT THE JUNE 7th ELECTION
WILL ENABLE YOUR POWER AND LIGHT SYSTEM TO GIVE YOU BETTER ELECTRIC SERVICE AND LOWER RATES.

APPROVAL OF PROPOSITION 3:
Will enable the State Railroad Commission to complete its work of making a valuation of the electric system of the os Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation. This is a valuation only—and not a purchase proceeding.
All expenses incidental to the making of this valuation will be paid directly from revenues of the Power Bureau—and not from Taxes.

APPROVAL OF PROPOSITION 4:
Will enable the State Railroad Commission to complete Municipal Power Bureau a parcel of vacant tide land as a site for a vitally necessary stand-by steam plant. This steam plant must be built in order to protect power and light consumers against interruptions in service.
The steam plant is to be built from Power Bureau funds. No new bond issues will be necessary.

THE "COMPETITION" BOGEY
REMEMBER THESE FACTS:
1. You are now being served gas by two "competing" gas companies in Los Angeles. These "competing" companies recently increased their rates from 68 cents to 92 cents per 1000 cubic feet.
2. Your Municipal Water Bureau has a monopoly of the water business in Los Angeles—and your Water Bureau is selling water for 13 cents per 100 cubic feet, as compared with the rate of 23 cents per 100 cubic feet charged by the private water company in San Francisco.
Do not be hoodwinked by the prophecy that purchase of the Gas Company's electric system will burden the taxpayers with a "huge bond issue." The City purchased the Edison Company's electric distributing system in Los Angeles in 1922; and not one dollar in taxes has been collected on account of the Edison purchase bonds since your Power Bureau took over the former Edison system. All charges on Power Bonds are paid from earnings of the Power Bureau—and not from taxes.

APPROVAL OF PROPOSITIONS 3 AND 4
Will Not Cost the Taxpayers One Dollar

AT LAST! BABY GANS AND ALFONSO GONZALES! A GRUDGE FIGHT FOR A SIDE BET

It started a few days before Art and Ace Hudkins left for New York. The argument as to who was the best man—Baby Joe Gans or the sensational Mexican flash Alfonso Gonzales. It wound up by Gan's backers offering to bet $1,000 and the backers of Gonzales taking it up. The stakes have been placed in the hands of the "California Eagle" and the winner takes all. Argument pro and con has gone on, until there is a lot of ill-feeling on both sides, both on the part of the principal and the backers of the two bitter rivals.

It looks like it will be a terrific grudge fight with each determined to put the other out of commission. Gonzales has been coming along rapidly with a string of victories to his credit, the latest being a win over Tommy O'Brien at Hollywood Stadium two weeks ago. At this fight Gonzales was winning handily when the repeated fouls came which ended in the referee's decision and the suspension of O'Brien. A good supporting card will back up the main event in case either of the boys decides to get his $1000 before the 10th round. Interest is at fever heat and a large percentage of sales have already been made.

Along Fisticuffs Row

TIGER JACKIE BURNS is getting better and better under the leadership of his able managers Abe and Clyde Hudkins. He really throws a wicked lot of gloves and makes up for his height by speed and punching power.

* * *

DEAN SNYDER really was right on the job with the Olympic publicity for the Sugga-Taylor fight. Dean overlooked no angle towards letting the cock-eyed world know what it's all about. His Taylor story in the Eagle fight extra was a work of art.

* * *

SI MASTERS, full of fight and fresh with ideas is back on the job now after winning a finish fight with the flu. Even old man "Flu" can't make the versatile Mr. Masters take the count when he has big business on hand.

* * *

THE MOTORCYCLE POLICE really strutted their rubber last Wednesday morning as they led the Chick Suggs welcome parade from the station all over town. They rather liked that too.

* * *

EAGLE THOMAS the classy little bantam has as fine a set of back shoulder and biceps muscles as you usually see on a welterweight. Eagle worked three fast rounds with Chick Suggs on the last day of his training and showed well against the speedy Easterner.

* * *

RALP YOLKE the boy trainer liked nothing better than to be able to boss the great blonde Terror Bud Taylor around in his training quarters at the Manhattan gym.

* * *

BILLY EVANS worked some classy work-outs with Chick Sugga during his training at the Vernon Gymnasium. He showed plenty of speed and that he is in readiness at any time to step into the arena.

* * *

YOUNG SAM LANGFORD, so they say, turned one lose at Vernon gym last week while sparring with Baby Gans, that shook the "Young Master" from stem to stern. It made him feel like when Leonard told Tendler, "Gee Lew, I didn't know you could hit that hard!" Sam is in wonderful shape now.

* * *

GEORGE TITTINGTON has really gotten rough with his little fighter Langford. Runs him to bed with the chickens, and threatens to beat him up the first time he catches him smelling a bootle bottle, chasing "skirts" or blinking at the dizzy white lights. Says he'll make a champion of him or kill him. George knows how he used to be some fighter himself.

GIVE HIM THE FUR-LINED LOVING CUP MEN, HE'S SOME FISHERMAN

Newport, Ore.—Bert Wilkins is claiming the honor of having hooked the biggest fish "that got away" this season.

Wilkins had a close call in winning that distinction. He was trolling in the bay and hooked some sort of fish. The fish took out for sea, dragging the boat along with it. Wilkins managed to cast loose by cutting his line just in time to avoid being carried out to sea.

Olympic Planning Ahead For Their Bouts

Waubams will use Billy Grimes on one-half of his June 6th show. The Australian's opponent will be picked from Eddie Shea, Joey Sangor, Suggs or possibly Taylor.

The Olympic schedule for the next few weeks is:

June 6—Grimes vs. Shea or Sangor or Suggs or Taylor.

June 14—Brown vs. Vacca.

June 21—Callahan vs. O'Brien.

Alabama Trounces Tuskegee Twice

Montgomery, Ala., May 28.—(By A. N. P.) The Alabama State Normal Hornets displaced the Tuskegee Institute nine as contenders for conference honors by completely swamping them here in games of baseball on Monday and Tuesday by the overwhelming scores of 14-5 and 19-3 respectively.

Stars Make it 2 Straight From St. Louis

Detroit, Mich., May 27.—(By A. N. P.) With Morris pitching ace of the Detroiters, hurling in top form the Stars handed the St. Louis club their second defeat here Sunday of the series beating them by the score of 5 to 3. It was the third straight victory for the Californin lad. Trent was selected to do mound duty for the visitors and truly pitched a very creditable game.

The game was called in the seventh inning on account of rain.

Frenchmen Got Away in International Tennis Matches

From St. Clond, France, comes the news that France gained a 2 to 1 advantage in the international team tennis matches against the United States here this afternoon when Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon defeated William T. Tilden and Francis Hunter in a doubles match at 4-6, 6-2 and 6-3.

Tilden defeated Rene La Coste and Hunter was beaten by Borotra.

BILLY EVANS WILL TOP THE BILL AT CULVER CITY

Following his intention of using the best local colored boxers as often as possible on his excellent card, Jimmy Murray, the great little promoter of Culver City Stadium, plans to use Billy Evans to top his bill a week from Thursday. Billy is a great boy, one of the best featherweights in the country, winning all his starts since here and will make a great following when he battles at the Coast Arena.

THOSE TALLADEGA BOYS CAN SWIM

Talladega, Ala.—The swimming Pool at Callanan Gymnasium was the scene of a great spectacle Friday afternoon when two teams representing the College and High School Departments met in the most thrilling and most successful water combat ever witnessed at Talladega.

Talladega College won over High School Department in annual swimming meet by a score of 21 to 20.

HAMPTON INSTITUTE BROKE THE RECORDS AT TRACK MEET

Hampton Institute, Va.—Hampton's 1xth annual track meet was held on Armstrong field and was a great success. Three records were broken despite the heavy downpour of rain which lasted about 2:30.

Hampton led the meet with 79 points while Union, her nearest competitor, totalled up 20.

L. A. GIANTS HOLD SAN BERNARDINO CENTRALS TO HARD-FOUGHT GAME

Jim Hunt's L. A. Giants fought a hard losing battle against odds Sunday at San Bernardino against the San Bernardino Centrals at their park. The odds were that they were greatly handicapped by the loss of Green, Wilson, Frier, Foote, and Capt. Adams, who the Jasper All-Stars finally succeeded in getting. The Huntsmen had to sign up new men and men who had been dropped by Adams. They are Vaughn, Carter, Windon, Owens and Newell.

The San Bernardino Centrals are a hard bunch and had excellent batteries so Gins, the new captain, had to use up three pitchers with Williams 1 1-3 Farley 2 2-3 and Butcher the last four innings. Goins caught the game through. Sensational features were developed in the Giants' hard fight to hold the Centrals down to their four runs. Butcher made the 1st hit in the 2nd ninng, Windon the 2nd in the 6th and Hewitt with a 2 sacker in the 3rd. Goins did good base stealing. Announcement is made in another column of the next game. Jimmy Jones, the crack Riverside pitcher has been added to the pitching staff and will show his wares in the next game. The score follows:

L. A. Giants	000	001	000—1
S. B. Centrals	030	000	010—4

Ramblings Around Ring And Diamond

BY: JOHNNY COND

Next week, June 7—Portland at Los Angeles.

* * *

Oakland and Hollywood played one of the best series that has been played in the Coast League this year. It was just like World Series games.

* * *

The feature of the series was the home run hitting by Fenton and the great infield of the Oakland team. Larry, Reese and Fenton made some plays that would make a dead man turn over in his grave. Fenton is sure fast for a big man. He does 3 rounds every day with Oakland Jug Duffy. Fenton likes to jab the boys and get away. Billie Burke told Fenton that was the way to be a good fighter. If he got hit, out he goes.

* * *

Billie Burke is taking Fenton to Kansas City to show Boole how to hit and get away. Fenton will show Boole and Delaney how to play pool and show them how to make the white laddie.

Jake Kilrain to Box on Dick Donald's Next Big Wrigley Field Show

Things are rounding into shape now for Dick Donald's next big show, for the 13th. Dick has had a hard time trying to get the class of fighters lined up that it takes to draw enough investors in ducats to fill the great outdoor arena. A wire a day or two ago from Jas. Daugherty gave him prospects of Romero Rojas to be used against Godfrey, but at any event there is one great boy signed up already for one of the 3 tens planned who will be likely to steal the show if a good map is placed against him. This is Jake Kilrain recently taken into the Kichenstein stable. Larney waited quietly until Kilrain's Oakland contract was clear then grabbed off one of the best light-heavies on the Coast. Kilrain did most of his boxing in the North and around Denver, winning regularly and bowling over a large number of good boys. He is fast, clever, scientific and hits like the kick of a mule, and for gameness has to be knocked out to give up. So far he has never learned the taste of rasin and is getting better all the time. Jake is reining daily at the Main St. gym and is in the shape to take all the heavies as they come.

GIRL-ETICS

by:
GLADYS MATHONICAN

Most of the girls here in the city are devoting much of their time for sports in playing baseball and tennis.

* * *

The first game of the series of baseball games to be played by the Girl Reserve Baseball team has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon, June 4. The exact hour of the starting the game has not been set but will be in this column next week. This game is to be played with the Poppy Girls and promises to be a treat for all those atending. Don't be one of the left-out unfortunate ones, but do come to this game and encourage these girls to develop themselves along athletic lines, as well as enjoying this unusual event. The place and time will be found in this column in the next issue of this paper.

* * *

There seems to be more competition among the girls in baseball than in any other sport. This being true there will be quite a few interesting games this season. It all remains to the girls and everybody wants to see what they can do. So if your club has a team, this is your chance. Get busy. Practice and then write editor of this column in care of the Eagle to get information in regards to competing with other girls.

Jasper's All-Stars Come To the Front in Sunday's Game

Jasper's All-Stars threw off the bad luck that seemed on their trail by piling up 13 lucky scores to the S. P. Shop's 3 last Sunday at White Sox Park. The new Captain Adams signed up 4 more players and is still bent on strengthening the team. He has added Bruce Jackson, left fielder and Brooks, pitcher.

Harris pitched 9 great innings Sunday. A home run by Simpson, 2 bagger by Wilson and good fielding by Savage featured the session. More good men are expected in with the Giants arriving from Japan. A letter from Pullam to his cousin Mr. Reed, co-partner with Mr. Jasper, tells of a victorious tour in the Flowery Kingdom.

Phil. Giants Heroes in Japan

It says that great crowds applause and honors met them all over the island. They played 20 games and lost only one.

They left Japan on May 26th, will play 5 games in Honolulu and arrive in Los Angeles on June 19th. The boys are all well and have had a wonderful time. Sunday's box score follows:

Boole has the boys on the farm playing pool on a cellar with coal oil lamps. When the lights go out, they can't see the white laddie and the boys have to go home. Boole and Delaney can't shoot a game slick and says "Watch the White Laddie." Delaney was trying to find the white laddie, but Boole had him in his pocket so there was no white laddie around.

Young Sam Langford and Baby Joe Gans on Elks Flood Benefit

Young Sam Langford, George Tittington's glove throwing star and Baby Joe Gans the super-clever pupil of Cherokee Tom Scott are at the 160th nfantry Armory as we go to press howing the big audience what credit they can reflect on their managers and rainers. These two boys step it in lightning 4-round exhibition that is worth going miles to see.

Bobby Pierce who is another top-notcher with a world of science and jimmy Harris a very good match are oxing another four-round exhibition or the sake of the sick and homeless n the flood district.

A three-Headed Jinx Was on Chick Suggs Tuesday Night

FOUGHT GAMEST UP-HILL BATTLE SEEN IN YEARS

Chick Suggs the wonderful boy who holds the featherweight crown of New England does not want any alibi made for his loss to Bud Taylor, the best, fastes, hardest-hitting little blonde demon he has met for a long time. No alibis but we will tell the reason why the great New England boy lost as he did.

First of all no fighter can come out of the East with its evenness of temperature and the atmospheric conditions there, then suddenly transplant into this climate here and not feel it. Every fighter yet has had the same experience. It would have taken at least two weak for Sugga even with his wonderful body to be at his usual strength so as to take anything Taylor threw and still be good enough to hold up and shoot them back.

Second, a bad cut inside his mouth, sustained in a fight at Wilkesbarre, Pa., just a few days before arrival here had not healed up and the first hard blow on his cheek opened it up wide in an artery and consequtive big gush of blood from his mouth in the 2d round.

And third, a leg boil developed on his stomach the day before the battle, and all Taylor's body blows found their way to this painful spot.

So the three-headed jinx was really on him. Sugga in his quiet, gentlemanly way had nothing but good words for the boy he came West to conquer. His able manager, Billy Henderson, was always on the job, once during the battle warning the referee what it seemed to him he was pulling the black boy too much in breaking him and the white boy.

They are leaving now for New Stafford, where Suggs will take a short rest then fill some of the many engagements he has on hand.

I Should talk.

* * *

AND tell half the things.

* * *

THAT go on around the streets, houses and cabarets?

* * *

Many a ring battle has been fought; many a baseball, or football game played; many a race run on the night or a couple of nights before the event.

* * *

IF I should tell, the fans and admirers who "go to the bat" for their favorites would lose confidence in them, and many a match would remain unsigned. I won't tell; not yet—but listen——

* * *

THIS is for any athlete but principally for boxers, as they need every ounce of strength and stamina; it is especially for colored boxers, for the doors are not as wide open to you as to some other races.

* * *

A BOXER'S career is very short, just a few years at best. It would be a whole lot better for you and your friends if you live clean; fight hard, and fair and make the best of it while at or near the top; then after you quit the game, go in for the good times and the pleasures that take the fight out of you. You can't fight in the ring and out of it.

Old Time Ring Battles to be Told by 'Pop' Barret and Joe Soto

Joe Soto, one of the old bare-knuckle fighters who came along in the days when men were men and money was small who won a lot of fame since as a teacher not only of boxing but of fencing and cornet playing, will run a series of articles about the old time colored fighters he knew, such as Peter Jackson, Joe Gans and others.

Pop Barret who won many honors back in the days when you had to slip around to get to fight in the woods and stables will run a very interesting series of articles beginning with one about a battle of his in which they ran from one Sheriff all night only to run into another Sheriff and the big surprise that followed. Watch for these stories.

Shrine Special Leaves on 7th

On the 7th of June the Shriners of this city will leave for the Convention which will be held in Atlantic City. They will have a special train composed of about 7 or 8 cars; however, about 3 of the cars will be occupied by famous moving picture stars. The special this year will be gone 17 days and is chartered for the round trip. After the convention they will come back through Canada. As far as could be learned there were only three Porters lined up to go as we go to press. They are Daddy Prescott, S. H. Burnett. The names of the full crew will be published next week. The writer will take his three squares a day at home this year as he knows the Shriners Blues by heart.

Lee Evans, Dining Car Waiter, Dies From Result of Wreck

One more victim of the grim reaper, Death, was added to the list last week when Lee Evans, Santa Fe Dining Car Waiter, died while he was enroute to the Santa Fe Hospital on a special train, which was bringing the injured persons from the wreck of the California Limited. The wreck occurred last week when the big tourist rush was started for the East. The second section of the California Limited crashed into the rear end of the first section injuring many railroad employees and passengers.

Secretary Dining Car Employees Local No. 582 Has Conference With Mediation Board Representative

Southern Pacific Dining Car employees were elated over the prospects of a conference with the Secretary of Local 582 and representative W. G. Hanger of the Mediation Board held at the New Rosslyn Hotel last week Some of the boys are beginning to get that dejected look off of their faces which has been there so long while waiting for an adjustment in wages to come their way. Some are saying: "It won't be long, now!"

Arcade Red Caps Make 100 Per Cent Showing During the Rush

Right on the job and right on the minute, strictly up to date. That was the way the Arcade Red Caps under the able supervision of Fountain Brown, Alvin Spivey and Capt. Grady Howard handled the big tourist rush on the twenty-second. The foremost leaders in the grip-hustling game had their men all diked up with white ties, and every uniform looked like it just came out of the tailor shop. We commend them for the neatest showing of any like group in the state of California.

Facts About Southern Pacific

Construction of Southern Pacific lines has been a succession of engineering achievements. Some of these which have attracted world attention are the building of the Lucin cut-off from Ogden to Lucin, Utah, 103 miles long and crossing Great Salt Lake; the line over the Siskiyous; the Tehachapi loop, where track doubles over itself, between Bakersfield and Mojave on the San Joaquin Valley line; the double track over the Sierra Nevada; the mountain ascent north of San Louis Obispo on the Coast line and the natron cut-off but recently completed, which provides an alternate main line between San Francisco and Portland and will open up a virgin territory in Oregon. More about Southern Pacific next week.

Ponder is Found Alive, Skiff Skimmer Entrant Discovered

While the whole world has been awaiting with bated breath and on needles and pins to hear about the outcome of Ponder, Skiff Skimmer entrant, who was last seen in the vicinity of Leake's Lake, one of our operatives was going over the grounds on the West Side where Ponder was sighted once before and was about to give up in despair, when, all of a sudden the lid of a man-hole in the middle of the street was raised up and, first, a skiff came out. Our operative hid behind a tree and watched with his sharp eyes what would follow next and behold, up comes PONDER in a green and yellow bathing suit. When he was approached by our operative and asked where he had been so long, and also informed of the fact that the eyes of the world were eagerly looking the newspapers over for his whereabouts and training grounds. He assured him in his most dignified manner that he had been training for the past two weeks in the West Jefferson storm drain where he would be unnoticed, and with a shake of his slowly head he went rapidly down the street with his trusty skiff on his back, an eager crowd behind his heels shouting praise to their hero till he was out of sight.

Southern Pacific Thanks Patrons of Dance

We wish to take this means of thanking the many patrons who were in attendance at our dance and Frolic held at 15th and Main, the 19th of May. We appreciate your patronage and wish to assure you that our next event will far eclipse this one over fifteen hundred people shook a foot to the harmony that wonderful evening and we acclaim it a huge success.

Every porter on the extra list is singing the Sing Me Out Blues. What looked like a rush turned out to be a fizzle.

65 men were hired for the supposed to be rush, and after all the cars were signed out over thirty of them were left. The boys say that won't get 'em.

Mr. W. F. Howard who met with an accident some time ago is now able to be up and around with the aid of a cane. Glad to note the progress, old kid.

L. Robinson is playing the field. Doing the act called running wild.

W. M. Asbury is now in the junk game. He was seen with a bundle of newspapers on his way home last week.

Los Angeles porters will operate the Famous Rat this summer and from the looks of things they will be glad to get their old friend back again.

S. B. Forsythe sang the blues so loud and clear that Mr. Ross told him to take any car he wanted to on the Lark. But he didnt take the bedroom care, he grabbed 78.

Johnny Moore, that red-hot baby is still taking on all comers.

If reports are true every old landmark on the Lark will be seeking lines elsewhere in the near future. It has been rumored that they will introduce the new type bed spring mattresses on that train. The boys running out of Frisco on the Cascade have already had them and they say the last bed you put away the mattress weighs about a ton. If that is so, those old land marks on the Lark will be glad to run on the rat before they are through.

Next week we will give you full particulars about a new Pullman Porters' Band. Don't fail to get next week's paper.

Mr. Glover, Southern Pacific's most polite Red Cap has just returned from a trip to New York and Eastern cities. While in New York he had a chat with Mr. Noah Thompson who is connected with the Urban League there. Mr. Thompson spoke very favorably of the increase in jobs and positions for colored people in that city. The Negro is holding jobs that he never had a chance to get now, said Mr. Thompson.

H. B. Wilson went out on the Gold Coast Limited last Tuesday. I thought you gave it up, old boy. Oh, well, that extra board will make a monkey eat red hot pepper so we don't blame you.

The writer wishes to thank the parties who complimented him on the article written concerning Ace Foreman last week.

J. M. White was bumped last week and is now on the war path looking for some fresh meat.

Elks Meet In St. Louis

(By The Associated Negro Press)

St. Louis, Mo., June 2.—Resplendent in vari-colored uniform, several hundred members of the Middle Western Association of the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World, from Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, and Missouri, met here with their Grand Exalted Ruler, J. Finley Wilson for a three-day session last week for their usual program incidental to the National Convention.

They were the guests of Washington Lodge No. 6, and Polar Wave Lodge No. 112. The sessions permitted ample time for entertainment features.

The convention was called to order last Sunday by President Count Wilkinson of Omaha, Nebraska; John A. Davis, member of the Missouri Legislature, introduced the Mayor of the City of St. Louis, who delivered the welcome address. Exalted Ruler Wilson, national head of the order, eloquently responded to the mayor's address.

Measures designed to benefit the Elk Order and the race were adopted and important features of the first day's session. Grand Exalted Ruler Wilson received outbursts of applause when he reported the activities of the Grand Lodge and the progress that is being made by his order throughout the country. Concluding his report, the convention unanimously indorsed Wilson to succeed himself as Grand Exalted Ruler when the next Grand Lodge meets.

The educational program of the Grand Lodge was stressed by Judge Wm. C. Thurston of Gary, Ind. He advised the members to be consistent in their efforts that are devoted to the education of youth. Beaston is chairman of the educational committee.

The next session of the Middle Western Association will be held at Des Moines, Iowa.

Drives Car Into House

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Camden, S. C., June 2.—What Mrs. H. A. Pickett thought was a tornado striking her house, proved to be a high-powered automobile over which the driver had lost control and which had ploughed through the wall of her frame house into the room where she was sleeping. Gould Peters, the driver of the car, declared that he lost control of the car as he attempted to make a sharp curve and the car crashed through the fence and into the house. He is being held for reckless driving, but Mrs. Pickett thinks the charge should be "wreckless driving".

Strike Reacts On Fisk; Test For Negroes

Boston, Mass., June 2.—Rev. Paul E. Baker, chaplain of Fisk University, Southern White Texan, and director of the Fisk $100,00 drive, startled 400 hearers at the Ebenezer Baptist Bhurch last night as he paraphrased in the first person, "Our hopes", "our dreams", "our cause", with the twang of a highly educated southern man, so manly and straightforward was his plea for the school's and the race's cause he left the impression he was just another Afro-American who could "pass" if he only would.

Mr. Baker's real identity was revealed only in private interview. Championing the Negroes' cause and being a modernist, he is a double flare in the face of southern white opinion.

The chaplain spoke in the absence of Dr. Thomas Elza Jones, who because of conflicting dates, could not appear in Boston at the time. The Fisk Jubilee Octette sang.

"There is a situation at Fisk which colored people themselves must solve. White northern philanthropists have decided the students are a bunch of high nose Bolshevists and have withdrawn support. The white people of the South have lost all interest in Negro education. They say if colored people fail to finance their own educational institutions, they are unworthy of educationtl benefits," Mr. Baker said.

"For every dollar the colored people give to Fisk the General Educational Board will give twelve. If Negroes will give $100,00 Fisk will be a university second to none in the country. A graduate school, law school, pre-medical studies and a school of Commercial training to meet the needs of rapidly growing Negro wealth of the south is planned.

"$32,000 have already been raised, Negroes contributing $30,00 of this sum", he concluded.

Six hundred dollars in cash and pledges were given by those present.

The Fisk singers, Messrs. Jones and Baker, will be in New England several weeks in the interest of Fisk. They have sung and broadcast their appeal over the radio on many occasions. Success is assured here, they say.

Kansas People Grateful To Pickens

PICKENS TOLD KANSAS UNIVERSITY WHAT WAS IN COLORED HEART

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Lawrence, Kansas, June 2.—Thep eople of the entire state of Kansas and particulary of this community in which the University of Kansas is located, are expressing themselves appreciatively of the recent visit which William Pickens made here, during which he addressed the students and teachers of the university. For several years since Kansas University has been filling up with southern students and southernized teachers, racial feeling has been growing and many efforts have been made, it is said especially under the present chancellor, to limit and circumscribe the privileges of the colored students.

Pickens talked plainly to them. He was billed to talk on "The New Negro". He talked about every kind of Negro and white man, too. He scouted the theory that race prejudice is fundamentally inherent. Among other things he said:

"Because we had 250 years of color-slavery in America, we developed a color-psychosis, such as they have nowhere else in the world, unless it be South Africa. In Europe they did not have color slavery; they had a thousand years of class-slavery. Therefore they developed a class-psychosis instead of a color-psychosis. In European countries they felt just as certain that it would ruin the world forever to educate the peasants as they now feel in Mississippi that it will ruin the world to educate Negroes. They have also had international jealousies and struggles so long in Europe that they have developed antipathies between different states. In short: we have one kind of foolishness in America, and they have another variety of the same foolishness in Europe."

There was a lot of other PLAIN TALK. The colored people and colored students in the audience say that it was the plainest talk ever given there, and that it did not offend. Many questions were asked in the question period following the address.

Mr. Pickens is having such unusual success in getting over to the white people of the country his straight from the shoulder argument, that there are many who wish that he might do more of just that kind of thing, rather than confining most of his time to colored audiences. There is little question but that Mr. Pickens "gets the Negro viewpoin across."

Threatens Sweetheart With Gun

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Boston, Mass., June 2.—Because she jilted him, Joseph Knight, 28, of 45 Rich Street, Everette, drew a revelver and threatened his lover, Mrs. Susan Avena of 72 Magee Street, Cambridge whom police say had repulsed attentions which Knight attempted to force upon her.

According to the police the woman was walking on Hingham Street, Monday night when Knight met her and demanded to know how she regarded his attentions. She replied that she was done with him, whereupon he drew the gun and made the threat. Knight denies any part in the affair.

HENRY FORD TO MARKET NEW CAR

BY: E. L. DORSEY

Henry Ford, the father of the automobile industry, the one person that has made it possible for the poor, the masses to own an automobile, the man that has given employment to thousands and made millions that the public don't begrudge is to market a brand new automobile to supplant his time-honored pioneer motor car that has blazed the trail for all makes and models.

The Ford has been and is today the best buy in the market for the money. From time to time improvements have been made. Many changes have taken place, but in the main the motor proper has never received any great radical changes so well designed was it at the outset. Many cars that today bear the name chosen for them 15 or 20 years ago have had so many radical changes in them that the only thing the public might recognize today is the name.

And now the auto industry and the auto public in fact the world stands at attention with its mouth wide open, its eyes in a stary gaze looking at the delivery dept of the Ford Motor Car Co. of Detroit that it might get a peep at this new motor mystery the captain of auto industry is about to roll out.

THE OBJECT

The chief object as has been generally understood is to meet the fast growing competition in the very large field of cheap cars that have begun to reduce Ford sales. The reduction in sales has been nothing serious thus far. But Ford succes lies in the fact that he never waits for conditions to become serious, he meets them in advance.

The new animal is to be clothed in a 3-speed transmission along with many new features that will make it attractive from a sale standpoint. Better material and the price as usual cheaper than the cheapest.

August is the time for the debut of this new automobive creature and it has begun to look as if there will be something doing.

THROWING STONES

Small boys in the habit of throwing stones and other objects at passing motorists are warned by California Chauffeurs Club of the dangers attending this act. In addition to the direct pain or injury caused by being struck with stones or hard objects the club points out that a motorist thus attacked may easily lose control of his car and inflict severe personal and property damage. The club asks teachers, parents and others concerned to impress upon the adolescant minds under their guidance the seriousness of this situation.

Enough Is Too Much

BY: OSCAR H. FERNBACH

Loaded down with blankets,
Frying-pans and stoves,
Auto campers head a-throng
For the hills and groves—
Half the cars are stuffed with Useless things galore:
Full of frills and furbelows,—

Someone bought the store!

When you take that outing,
Try to travel light:
Baggage that's superfluous
Spoils one's pleasure, quite—
But, I pray, remember
First-aid kit, and eke a spade
To trench and quench your fire!

Kansas Dealers Stop Used Car Sales

BY: J. P. WRIGHT

Kansas City, June 2.—Motor car dealers here recognizing the important problem that confronts them are working out a new wrinkle to get rid of used automobiles.

They have organized a new $50,000 corporation known as the United Auto Wrecking Company and propose, thru its operation, to increase the number of new motor car sales prospects by 20 per cent and at the same time, to rid themselves of one of the [illegible]

[illegible] 12,000 [illegible] fifth of those running on the streets of Kansas City at present—and in this way do away with the [illegible] of taking them in again and again on new cars.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Perkins accompanied by Mrs. David R. Jones journeyed to Elsinore Memorial Day.

* * *

Mr. Geo. Neimp's Ford had an argument with another auto and came out second best. It's in the hospital and Geo. is looking for a new car in case the old one dies.

* * *

Mr. Ed. and Gus Hawkins, Dr. Bailey, Claud Simpkins report having the time of their lives in their trip to Frisco. They returned home late Monday.

* * *

Ray Isom and family spent the week end at Elsinore. Didn't learn whether they arrived on the scene in a Ford or Pierce Arrow but they arrived, however.

* * *

Golden State Insurance Co. had quite a respectable representation at Elsinore over the week-end. Its President, Mr. Wm. Nickerson and family; Secretary-Treasurer, N. O. Houston and family; E. L. Dorsey and family and Mr. Hunningan and several others.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Johnson on Glassell St. enjoyed the week-end out of town camping.

* * *

Mrs. Bertram Tucker, Jr., was amongst the autoists seen at Lake Elsinore.

Mr. Westbrooks, his Kissel car and party did Riverside and the Lake, Memorial Day.

* * *

Dr. Hudson made a flying trip to Bakersfield.

* * *

Hensley Brothers closed shop and motored to the mountains for the week-end.

* * *

Mr. Thomas Louden and his Ford took a general trip Memorial Day.

* * *

Enoch Hicks threw up such a smoke screen in his emergency get-away from a certain residence on 52nd St. that the neighborhood has had a heavy fog ever since. A law suit is pending, we hear. Yea, Bo!

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer took their auto for a trip last week and returned in safety.

* * *

Some folks in Elsinore wish to know when Mr. Shuley Freeman is going to auto up again. The Lake is warm in the day time and the music fine at night, they say.

Are You A Member of A Gyp Motor Club?

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN, DON'T GET STUNG

Warning the California public against a threatened invasion of "gyp" motor club promoters of the type who have invaded the East and Middlewest fleecing unsuspecting motorists, white and colored, garage and hotelmen of their hard-earned dollars by selling membership in fictitious or unstable organizations the Eastside Auto Dealers Association advances the following information:

"During the past three years, particularly in the East and Middlewest, dishonest and unscrupulous promoters have been organizing under the guise of automobile clubs, corporations formed solely for profit, in contradistinction to the non-stock, non-profit public service organizations known as legitimate automobile clubs. Claiming to give various discounts on automotive necessities, tow service, insurance service, legal counsel, touring information and other privileges, they are able to sell "memberships" to motorists, garage and hotel men. "High pressure" salesmen are employed to sell the contracts at a large commission. Big salaries are paid the promoters. The club agrees to give the promised service but stipulates in fine type in the various contract forms used that the club or its officers shall not be held liable for the failure to render service. When the membership drive is over and the funds collected are safely tucked away in the pockets of the promoters, the 'club' fails and the members' are left holding the sack.

"Up to this year we have not had any "gyp" club schemes in California, but it is not unlikely that a number of promoters whose activities have been curtailed or completed in other places, may decide to cultivate this territory, which is as yet virgin ground for this type of scheme.

"The Eastside Auto Dealers Association warns motorists of this province to beware of motor clubs of vague origin, especially in the smaller communities, where they often seek to victimize uninformed persons."

SLEEPING WHILE THE SUN SHINES

Elsinore, Wake Up!

BY: DICK CROMWELL

Several years ago a group of colored citizens came into possession of a valuable piece of lake frontage property at Elsinore. The location is ideal in every respect. The motoring public have more than shown the owners their appreciation by liberally patronizing same but for some invisible reason aide from acquiring this site the owners have made no improvements to justify the patronage of a hungry motoring public with the exception of building one or two stuccos.

The hundreds who visit there when ever the occasion arises would gladly pay five times the present price of admission for at least the enjoyment of ordinary accommodations.

LOSING MONEY

Thousands of dollars are being lost annually by this splendid body of men who seemingly lack the foresight of knowing what to do or how to manage and improve the situation.

Ten or fifteen thousand dollars improvements would make such an investment more than worthwhile and the public is entitled to it. The money could be raised by club membership or a loan, or an admission budget.

Gentlemen, you have the sight, improve it! Make it worthwhile and you have a mint. Fifty or a hundred outing tents with wooden flooring; sanitary conveniences for both men and women; a modern restaurant; special parking accommodations; a small administration building or pavilion; later on a hotel, would at least improve present conditions. A little grass and a few flowers artistically arranged with laid-off driveways and walks would work wonders. The same folk that now are forced to spend eight hours there owing to limited accommodation facilities would spend in many instances one, two or three weeks, and no doubt a month or two, to say nothing of week-ends.

The public is willing to pay. Improve this wonderful sight, give them something to pay for. We want to see an Elsinore that will start the country talking. An Elsinore Lake that is worthy of the name of its present owners. Wake up, while the sun yet shines and make the auto public feel like it's welcome; that you want it there. Improve it and make your white neighbors realize that you are not a sleeping, shiftless, sambo, so often referred to in fiction but a group of real, live business men, competent and capable of putting over your proposition and a proposition that you are today strangling slowly but surely to death will take on new life, prove a financial benefit to yourselves and a credit to the community both black and white. Again we say:

Sambo wake up,
'Tis time to be about;
Folk are up and doing—
The things you dream about,
Can't you hear them calling?—
Don't you want to do?
Must they pass and go elsewhere
Or just wait for you?
Someone's going to do it 'fore you;
If you just must sleep,
And when you wake 'twill be too late
And then—you'll sing the blues.

Investigate Carver Acres--- A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

x——xx——x

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC:

In order to offset certain unwholesome rumors, to wit: That T. S. N. Maloof, owner of Carver Acres, is not the actual owner; we wish to make the following observation:

REV. RICHARD H. WADE
Manager

I solicit a thorough investigation on the part of anybody who doubts the honesty, and integrity on my part in offering these lands to the public. If any statement made to the public can be proven false, or not absolutely as advertised, I agree to frofeit $1,000 gold coin U. S. money to any one proving same.

CARVER ACRES, is the property of T. S. N. Maloof, and I am in position to give title to individual purchaser, on payment for his acre, whether one acre is sold, or the whole of the acreage is sold.

The records of San Bernardino are open to the investigation by any citizen who may desire to do so.

You will find Tract 2177 of the Maloof Highland Avenue Tract 1, recorded in book 31, page 51, San Bernardino County. You will also find Maloof Highland Avenue Tract, 2178, Plot 2, recorded in book 31, page 52.

Search the records, they speak for themselves. My offer stands to any one, and every one. If it is not as we say, you don't have to buy.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make One Thousand Dollars, by anyone who doubts our word. Remember this offer is unconditional, to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

The Rev. R. H. Wade, a man of outstanding character, and 18 years of unquestioned integrity, in California, who has for the first time to deceive the public, is my General Manager. He is known as a man of the highest honor, and invites investigation to the fullest extent. And Mr. E. B. Maxey, building contractor of 20 years' residence in Los Angeles, known everywhere as an honorable man, of strong business qualities, certifies as to truth of the facts above stated.

The land is now going. Get in now. Water rights go with the land. He who hesitates will lose.

T. S. N. MALOOF, Owner.
E. B. MAXEY, Contractor.
RICHARD H. WADE, Manager.

This property, named after the great scientist of Tuskegee Industrial Institute, offers the greatest opportunity to be found anywhere in this wonderful State, for the economical development of the Race.

Located on paved boulevards, about one hour and thirty minutes drive from Los Angeles; within 30 minutes' drive from the following towns: Alto Loua, Etawonda, Cucomonger, Upland, Ontario, Chion, Corona, Arlington, Riverside, Colton and Redlands. Twelve miles from the city hall of San Bernardino. It also joins the finest Olive Grove in California.

Buy one or more acres at once. Prises advancing with improvements. Delay means loss—get in on the ground floor.

This is your one opportunity to own some of the best land in California. Rich, level soil, midst highly improved orchards, vineyards and olive groves. Geological survey shows abundant water supply; water rights with every acre. Buy one or more acres at once—$600 per acre and up.

T. S. N. MALOOF
Owner of Carver Acres

Terms—10% down and balance to suit purchaser. This amount will place you in possession of an acre of the best boulevard lands.

Gain an independence. Buy now before prices advance.

T. S. N. Maloof, is sole owner of Maloof Tract No. 2177, and 2178, Highland avenue, San Bernardino County. We guarantee to every purchaser full protection.

This is the most wonderful opportunity ever offered west of the Rocky Mountains. There will never be another such offer in your lifetime.

If you wish to get in on the ground floor in this proposition, visit our headquarters at 2727 Cenrtal avenue and you will meet our representatives who are thoroughly competent to explain all the details of this proposition.

Located in the midst of health, wealth and prosperity, on a highly improved highway, from Los Angeles to San Bernardino.

Right in line with highly improved orchards; about 54 miles from Los Angeles' Court House. Also the finest place in the State for poultry, rabbits, in fact everything that you want to raise.

This acreage is surrounded by several large cities. Plenty of water, guaranteed for domestic use by the owner.

T. S. N. Maloof will endeavor to assist you in building your home with all the necessary improvements. I am not a promoter, but owner of this tract. I am in a position to give a grant deed, and a certificate of title to each individual acre bought and paid for.

Do not measure my proposition by others of a like nature. Mine is different from any other yet given to the people of California. In fact there is nothing to compare with this proposition.

I also finance and build homes anywhere in Southern California. Resources unlimited. If you have the purchase price on your acreage we will make every effort to build for you; putting in fences, chicken corral, rabbit hatchery, allowing you to pay out in small monthly instalments.

Contracting Department
E. B. MAXEY

Here is a splendid opportunity to make a substantial beginning toward an independent future. We also carry Fire Insurance, Rentals, Sales,—City, Country and Suburban properties. In fact anything in the Real Estate line. Information cheerfully given.

Building Department

We do a general contracting, building and financing, build-construction of every kind; painting, plastering, paper hanging, plumbing, cement contracting, architectural drawing.

Apartments, bungalows, courts, stores, duplexes, modern homes of every description, and furnish architectural drawings for same at a reasonable price.

We ask that you give us an opportunity to prove our ability to you. Give us a call at our headquarters.

Water in abundance already on the land.

Busses go up to the land Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sundays, 2:00 o'clock A. M.

Atlanta Unveils Booker Washington Memorial

(By: A. N. P.)

Atlanta, Ga., May 23.—Before an audience of 10,000 people, in which both races were represented, Atlanta today honored itself and Booker T. Washington by the unveiling of a bronze monument to the great educator on the grounds of the Booker T. Washington High School. High tribute was paid to Dr. Washington by both white and colored speakers, Dr. Plato Durham of Emory University, and Mr. J. W. E. Bowen of Gammon Theological Seminary delivering the principal addresses.

In presenting the monument to the city, Prof. Charles L. Harper, principal of Washington High School, spoke of the movement from the standpoint of art, as a project in interracial co-operation, as a tribute to the life and principles of Booker T. Washington, and as an inspiration to the boys and girls of today. The memorial was accepted on behalf of the city by Dr. P. M. Eubanks, President of the Board of Education.

The monument is a replica of the famous Keck Memorial at Tuskegee Institute, representing the great educator as removing the veil of ignorance from the eyes of a Negro kneeling at his feet. It is considered one of the finest works of art in America. The erection of the monument was conceived by Principal Harper and was achieved through his untiring efforts, in which he had the co-operation and financial support of white and colored citizens and the City Board of Education. It is said that this is the first instance in the history of the South in which a memorial to a Negro leader has been erected on public grounds.

Tuskegee Institute was represented at the unveiling by Dr. G. Lake Imes and A. J. Neely. Col. Joseph H. Ward, Commandant of Tuskegee Veterans Hospital, was present also.

Howard Program Very Impressive

(By: A. N. P.)

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Howard Commencement Week is fairly studded with events. Not in years has its year-end calendar been so crowded. Beginning with the Nurses Training School (Freedmen's) exercises, the R. O. T. C. Review, the Baccalaureate for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, and ending a week later with the inauguration of President Mordecal W. Johnson on Friday, June 10, an impressive program will be rendered. The events of the week include: Chapel Exercises, conducted by Graduating Students; Senior Law Class Exercises; Senior College Class Exercises; Senior College Class Exercises, all on Monday; Tuesday—Annual Meeting, Board of Trustees; Senior Musical Recital; Senior Prom; Wednesday—Ivy Planting by Senior Class; The Howard Commencement Players in a Musical Comedy; Thursday—Alumni Day; Annual Vets Varsity Baseball Game; President and Mrs. Johnson "At Home"; General Alumni Association; Friday—Class Reunions; Laying of Cornerstone, New Medical School Building; University Luncheon to Alumni and Inauguration Delegates; Planting of President's Tree, by Howard Women's Club; Inauguration of President-elect Mordecal W. THE LEGION CLUB HEARING SENSATIONAL

Legion Club Investigation Replete With Sensational Episodes

The hearing by the Police Commission anent the Legion Club on last Wednesday developed highly sensational situations, one following another, as various episodes were related by the witnesses placed upon the stand.

HUGE AUDIENCE PRESENT

The room of the Police Commission was crowded to the utmost with witnesses. The hearing last from 10 A. M. to quite 6 o'clock P. M., and even then all witnesses subpœnaed had not been heard. However enough had been brought out to mess up the party, particularly so as regards some of the police who were said to be behind the plot to mess up the Legion and its permit.

FOUGHT VALIANTLY

The Legion boys put up a valiant fight to maintain its license and at the end of the all-day hearing by a vote of two for and two against, the Commission was deadlocked and thus the case remains open until another meeting of the Commission.

CAUGHT IN THE DRIFT

It is said that a mass of evidence was submitted against the accusers, Officers Brown and Buelar, as a reprisal for their activities against the club. So much so, that the president of the Commission, Birnbaum, openly rebuked them and ordered their suspension for a hearng before the Commission on next Tuesday.

The testimony on this angle was highly sensational, having to do with "wine, women and song."

BURGLAR-RAPIST ATTACKS WOMAN AT HOME

Officers are scouring the city for an unknown man who attacked Mrs. Gertrude Howell, colored, after robbing her at her home in a bungalow court at 3507 Hooper, Saturday night, June 4th.

Mrs. Howell was sound asleep when awakened by a man with a handkerchief over his face standing over her bed and pressing a big gun against her body.

"Don't yell, or I'll shoot," he commanded. "Where's your money? She gave him her purse which only contained 50c which he contemptuously threw back on the bed. He then attacked her threatening again to kill her and crawled back through the window which he had pried open and entered.

Fifteen minutes later on attempting to rise and call help she found the man was still outside her window watching her. He threw his flashlight and pointed his gun in her face and dared her to move. About five minutes after he repeated the threat when she again attempted to call. Waiting a half hour longer until sure he had left she called her brother-in-law who notified the police. A squad of officers headed by Shuan and Maxwell scoured the neighborhood but the criminal had escaped. His apprehension is only a matter of hours as special efforts are being put forth by the Detective Department to run him down.

The same man is thought to have committed six or seven similar offenses in the southern part of the city lately.

Mme. Albritton Thrills In Song Recital

The Recital given at the Independent Church under the auspices of the N. A. A. C. P. on last Monday evening, May 31st., was pleasing to the utmost when Los Angeles' own prima donna, Minnie Albritton, ascended the heights in song. Her rendition was superb excelling it eclosed all previous efforts.

Her worth as an artist cannot be too highly praised for her gala is in her work and no one who heard her on this occasion could but help to sing her praises and feel the better for being present.

Spingarn Medal for 1927 Goes To Anthony Overton

A PIONEER IN LIFE INSURANCE ORGANIZATION FOR NEGROES

New York, June 3.–The National Association for the Advancement of Colnounced that the Spingard Medal Award Committee met in its offices yesterday and awarded the Spingarn Medal for 1927 to Anthony Overton, of Chicago, President of the Victory Life Insurance Company, President of the Douglas National Bank of Chicago and manufacturer.

The Medal is awarded to Mr. Overton "because of his success in a long business career and for the crowning achievement of securing the admission of the Victory Life Insurance coming as the first Negro organization permitted to do insurance business under the rigid requirements of the State of New York."

This is the thirteenth award of the Spingarn Medal which goes annually to the United States citizen of African descent deemed to have most signally distinguished himself or herself in some honorable field of human endeavor.

The members of the Committee on Award of the Spingarn Medal are: Bishop John Hurst, Chairman; Dr. John Hope, President of Morehouse College; Colonel Theodore Roosevelt; Oswald Barrison Villard, Editor of The Nation; Dr. J. H. Dillard, Director of the Jeanes and Slater Funds; and Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, Editor of the Crisis. Col. Roosevelt and Dr. Dillard were unable to attend the meeting but expressed their preferences in writing. The Medal will be presented by Zona Gale, the novelist, at the 18th Annual Conference in Indianapolis, June 22 to 28, of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mr. Overton was born in Monroe, Louisiana, in 1865, was educated at Washburn College and received the degree of LLB. from the University of Kansas in 1888, being admitted to the bar in the same year. Mr. Overton was Judge of the Municipal Court in Shawnee County, Kansas, from 1888 to 1889. In 1898 he established the Overton Hygienic Co., manufacturing baking powder, extracts and toilet preparations, of which he is still President. The plant was removed to Chicago in 1911. He is now President of the Douglass National Bank and the Victory Life Insurance Co., which he organized in 1923, and a member of numerous fraternal bodies.

Since its organization the Victory Life Insurance Company has loaned more than $223,00 to Negro property owners, only one loan exceeding $15,000, the bulk of the loans being for sums under $5,000. In April of this year the company had close to $5,000,000 of insurance in force in ten States outside of Illinois. The company is developing Negro actuaries and prepared its own valuations and all statements for the years 1925 and 1926 in its own office.

PASSING OF MRS E. W. CHILDS

The passing of Mrs. E. W. Childs, 1445 W. 36th Street, at the Dunbar Hospital, as a sequel of a major operation for appendicitis on Friday of last week, was a distinct shock to the family and many friends of the deceased.

Mrs. Childs was the eldest daughter of Mrs. Addie Hooker, and her daughter and husband, Mr. E. W. Childs, had just settled after disposing of their interests in Canada to make their home here, so they could be near their mother. Mr. Childs had just purchased and remodeled a large business concern on Central Avenue.

The daughter was idolized by both mother and husband and was appreciated to the highest by all who knew her.

Funeral services were conducted at Conner-Johnson Mortuary on last Tuesday, and the Interments at Evergreen Cemetery. The Eagle joins with the hosts of friends in extending our sympathy in this sad hour of bereavement for husband, mother, sister, brother and other relatives.

NICK CHILES DEPARTS FOR HOME

After a very strenuous two weeks on th coast, Nick Chiles, the fighting editor, departed for his home on Thursday, 8:15 A. M., over the Santa Fe.

Mr. Chiles has asked us to express his sincere thanks to the people for their genial and cordial hospitality; and declares the visit a high spot in his life's activities and that he will never forget and apreciates the same.

Mr. Chiles' last week in the city was his busiest one, outside of social engagements, the great feat and entertainment by the Press gang was an outstanding event. Also the N. A. A. C. P. meeting and the big day at the Los Angeles Forum.

Colored Extension of the P. T. A.

MATTIE MAE STAFFORD

At the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Thursday, June 2nd, 1927, Mrs. J. Wesley Lee, chairman-at-large made an interesting report on "Colored Extension." She said that on May 7, 1926, at the National Congress the colored people asked for separate work; and that the division was made during the 1926 Congress in Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. H. R. Buckner, being made president of the "Colored Division." Seemingly the Colored people lost sight of everything concerning the work but leadership.

Mrs. Lee stated that the Colored people in asking for separate work said that they could obtain better results under Colored leadership. They have their National Advisory Board, and Committees composed of white and colored program and literature. At present there are branches in ten states. Missouri commends the work and since the white workers have had thirty years' experience in P. T. A. work asked them to serve on their committees as workers and not as dictators.

Prof. and Mrs. Harris of Atlanta, Ga., report that a school located in a deplorable section of the city has been very much improved through the work of the P. T. A. and that one colored professor was so impressed with the work that he took a course in P. T. A. Educational work.

Let us be thankful that this report is centered in Ga. I feel that I know too little about that section of the country to criticise the colored people for the stand they have taken in this work. But, I say, if separate P. T. A. work is good for Georgia it is bad for California.

ALABAMA AS HOST

BIRMINGHAM ENTERTAINING SUNDAY SCHOOL AND B. Y. P. U. WORKERS

Birmingham, Alabama (Special, June 8, 1927)—An official welcome on behalf of the City of Birmingham, was given to the thousands of Sunday School & B. Y. P. U. workers here by President Jones, representing the City of Birmingham. Mr. Jones fills the capacity of Mayor because Birmingham has a Commission form of government. This welcome was given in the City Auditorium, a one-half million dollar structure which was donated to the Sunday School Congress forces by the City Council in its regular session. Other welcomes on behalf of the various organizations civic and religious, followed the official one, and the twenty-second annual session of the Summer School of Methods was officially declared open by Chairman J. P. Robinson, who is presiding, and who hails from Little Rock, Arkansas. The Secretary, Henry A. Boyd, who has served for twenty-two years, and is known as a Front Line Sunday School advocator, presented the Chairman.

This gathering is made up of fourteen various departments. It will be in session five days. Workers from every State in the Union where Baptist Church affiliate with the National Baptist Convention of America, have representation in this meeting. Secretary Boyd estimated today that there were thirty-two States representing. One of the big features, he stated, would be the Boy Cadet night, the Street Parade, Sunday, when five thousand march to the tune of "Hail the Baptist Congress," and "Christian Soldiers Marching." The key to the whole Congress movement is the Bible Conference, held from 8 A. M. to 9 A. M., every morning. A Congress Special train of Standard Sleepers bringing the officials from Nashville, Tennessee, arrived this morning over the Louisville & Nashville railroad. There were messengers from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee on this Special. Augmenting these was the official Sunday School Congress Band, dressed in their white uniforms with Congress colors and pennants on each arm.

Birmingham is giving a real welcome.

WELL-KNOWN AND PROMINENT CITIZEN BUYS ON THE EASTSIDE

Mr. Joshua D. Allen, who has been a resident of our city for the past 20 years sells his valuable property at 35th St. and Western Ave., to a large corporation and he re-invests on the

MR. JOSHUA D. ALLEN

Eastside, by buying the N. E. Corner of 28th St. and Central Ave.—the Haverty property on which is situated an oil station, a five-room and a 10-room two-story house. This property comprises two lots, 152 feet deep on 28th St. to an alley.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen also bought in Pasadena on Manzanita Avenue, where they will make their home. They bought the beautiful property of the Thees, an old German family, which is considered one of the show places of Pasadena.

Mr. Allen is well known on the avenue and in business circles as he conducted an expressing business for years. The wife, Mrs. Allen is prominent in lodge and church affairs. She was also a school teacher in New Jersey before coming to Los Angeles.

Mr. Walter L. Gordon, president of the Walter L. Gordon Co., one of our leading realty firms, is given much praise by the Allens for so creditably handling all three of the deals.

The Tenth Cavalry Band Receives Ovation

On its arrival last Sunday the famous 10th Cavalry band received at the hands of the populace, an ovation worth while. For the big parade last Sunday the streets were lined on all sides and gave to the warriors a great hand, as they passed on parade.

Monday evening quite 2500 persons turned out to hear one of the musical treats of a decade. The great Prof. Hammond, the director, certainly presented a worth while program which pleased to the highest degree.

On Tuesday the band gave a concert at San Diego returning to Los Angeles, where several engagements await them.

A Hunchback Lyrical Artist at the Jefferson High School Aud.

BY: LOUIS MICHEL

The song recital of Madam Pinola Cunningham Davis, of Salt Lake City, Utah, on Thursday, May 19th, 1927, 8:30 P. M., at Jefferson High School Auditorium, assisted by Professor Wm. T. Wilkins, as feature pianist, Miss Victoria Rice as violinist, and Mrs. Luvenia Harper Patterson as the accompanist of the singer, all chaperoned by the 33rd and Hooper Avenue Church of Christ and the Eastside Improvement Association, turned out to be a very pleasing and, as far as the singer is reviewed, a most astonishing event.

The tragic, pensive, yet courageous and almost defiant face of Madam Pinola C. Davis, as she wanders off in beautiful song, will always linger in the memories of her auditors. Hardly more than 80 pounds of humanity, deformed in body, with her chest shortened and her breathing power greatly handicapped by nature's fate of a hunchback carried on her slender, hardly stronger frame than a ten-year-old child's, this woman is a heroine-singer in gathering and vocalising an audience. By the beauty of her natural voice in such a pathetic little body, decreed by fickle nature, and arresting the vital sympathies of an almost tear-tempted audience, this crippled songbird holds her audience in constant expectation and conscious, as well as sub-conscious admiration. Her vocal training may have been of shorter duration on account of her pathetic personality, but her song is sweet, clear and thrilling, whilst her bearing is that of the tested martyr who has a lyrical-artistic message that challenges the big and healthy people, many of whom may never have the courage, the ability and the defiant plug to sing as well as she. This frail little woman, stepmothered by nature, is nevertheless, very wonderful, as her tender, well-rendered song more than stones for the smallness, the deformity and the pathos of her body. Earnest and sincere, as appeals her sad and dramatic face, also rings out her surprisingly emotional song and her audience wonders how so small a lady can emit so heroic and large a voice.

Professor Wilkins is surely a corker. Is he a real classical artist, or only a circus entertainer on the Piano, is he one or the other? We feel that he is a combination of both. He has great ability, but he can play the part of the greatest artistic clown we have ever seen perform on the Piano. And his unusual visage and actions more than amuse the audience. He is really a comic delineator of Paderewski in circus mood, but doubtless, Wilkins has good ability and makes any crowd happy with laughter and artistic hopes.

Miss Victoria Rice, one of the best pupils of the celebrated Sinclair White Murdock, played the immortal Travator, violin version, just magnificent, far better, 100 per cent surer, than only 6 weeks ago, at a regular violin recital of her teacher's pupils. She is a promising, pretty young girl with a big future, if she watches her step and her bow.

The accompanist, Mrs. Luvenia Harper Patterson, was one of the foremost features of the recital. She is immensely efficient, never off the track, a conscientious and noteworthy artist. Better and always better is she growing. Luvenia Harper Patterson is one of the few real reliable accompanists—she never loses her performing singer, and no matter, if the singer is losing herself, Mrs. Patterson is never lost, never a lower, always an artistic winner, who can weather out, steer in tow and land to safety, any singer, good or bad.

The audience in that big auditorium was too small, but warm-hearted.

THE LONE WOLF TESTIFIES

It is reported that the testimony of the Lone Wolf Club at the recent legal investigation of Legion Nite Club was of much avail in helping the Club maintain its permit to operate.

Mrs. Jessie Franklin, 1212½ Palmetto street, will leave on the 14 of July to visit her sister, Mrs. Irene McClay of Galveston, Texas.

ATTEMPT TO BULDOZE NEGRO BATHERS

BRUCE'S BEACH SCENE OF GATHERING

BY: DICK CROMWELL

The taking down of the names and addresses of some 25 bathers at Bruce Beach on Memorial Day by the Police Dept., appears to have been nothing more or less than a bull-dozing attempt in disguise to coerce and browbeat the Negro into keeping away from those quarters.

The attempt failed of its purpose for none left the water and it is to be hoped in the future that if further attempts are made the bathers will take the same stand.

The Bruces play no part in the incident, they themselves being still closed, but many with their own bathing suits and conveniences chose to go there as elsewhere. It was simply a holiday crowd. All were private parties.

The purported story that they were trespassing on leased ground had no foundation. Various factional interests organized to exploit the Negro who had his eyes open and refused to be exploited is largely responsible for the action of the police.

Complexion in the future is to be no barrier to ordinary citizenship privileges at least. The race is seeking or asking nothing unjust, but is demanding civil treatment.

Sooner or later the bathing question must be settled. Why not now? Stand on your rights with both feet. If they solicit your aimds refuse and give them a chance to make a showdown, and you'll find that some of the present obstacles will evaporate over night.

Local Boy Wins High Honor

ELECTED TO LAW PUBLICATION EDITORIAL STAFF

Leon Whitaker, local youth, received the following letter Tuesday afternoon:

California Law Review
Boalt Hall of Law
University of California
Berkeley, Cal.
May 26, 1927.

Mr. Leon Whitaker,
227 N. Westlake Ave.,
Los Angeles, California.

Dear Mr. Whitaker:

It is with pleasure that I inform you that, at a special meeting of the Board of Editors of the Law Review, you were unanimously elected to the Editorial Staff.

The meeting was held as early as possible to give the advantage of the summer in which to begin writing.

We will expect a lot of good work from you; so now is the time to get busy. If I can be of any assistance to you, drop me a line; and I will be glad to do anything I can to help you get started this summer.

Yours most sincerely,
JUSTIN M. JACOBS.

The California Law Review is published bi-monthly by the faculty and students of the School of Jurisprudence of the University of California. It contains articles, notes, comments on cases, recent decisions and book reviews, of special academic and practical interest to the profession.

The highest honor in the law school is election to the Editorial Staff of the Review. The election is based entirely scholarship and merit as a law student.

This new achievement is just one added to others. Leon was graduated from Los Angeles High School in June of 1923 with the seal of the California Scholarship Federation on his diploma. While active in extra-curricula activities at the Southern Branch, he was interclass boxing champion for 1924 and 1925 in the 145 and 158 lb. classes. He obtained scholarships with pecuniary stipends totalling $955. He was graduated from the University of California in May of 1926 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. An "A-(minus)" average for the school year just passed makes him a candidate for the degree of Juris Doctor, to be conferred in May, 1928.

IN ST. LOUIS

BY: C. A. B.

We ordered out taxi driver to take us to Poro College, and in the same breath asked if he knew where that institution was located. To this inquiry he smilingly answered in the affirmative stating that he had often taken visitors out there. "Out there" turned out to be out there all right, for after riding for forty or fifty minutes without even a hault except to hesitate at stop signals, we began to think we were being transported to the outskirts of the city to be a victim of robbers. But these fears were calmed when our very pleasing driver alighted in front of one of St. Louis's most pretentious red brick buildings.

"And, so this is Poro" with our eyes looking in all four directions at the same time. Our mind ruminating this was but one of our bewildering thought sentences, and when we turned to the desk and were about to inquire for Mrs. Malone that charming little personality, Miss Cecelia Dyson looked up and said "Why Mrs. ——— how glad I am to see you", and from that very moment until our departure Miss Dyson saw that our every comfort was carefully looked after.

We were without ceremony ushered into the beautifully appointed compartment of Mrs. Malone, who, in spite of the fact, at that time, was passing thru what might easily be classed as the "Travai of the soul", was calm as is her mien.

Without outward passion this little gentlewoman related some of the many obstacles that at that time were wanting to upset her mental attitude, and crush the monument that was the child of her own mind, and the handiwork of her nimble fingers.

Truly no tears stained her cheeks, and there was no hate tone in her voice, but surely we could but feel, and apreciate the heavy heart that throbbed in her bosom at that time, for we realized that here was a woman grand, noble, and true, who had trusted love, fame and fortune to one man, and had been deceived.

While in St. Louis our interest was absorbed mostly in matters pertaining to the Poro College situation and it was due to the fact that we felt that possibly one of the greatest institutions owned and controlled by our group was about to be destroyed.

Now, that the winds of time have blown away the chaff that blinded, for a time, the progress and further development of Poro, we would divert your thoughts from this side of the picture, and in the meantime invite your attention to a future Poro; for this business ship has taken on new fuel and the little Captain, Anna Pope-Malone is at the helm with many thousand Negro youths holding on. She will make the port of fortune and fame not for herself, but for those who believe in her sincerity as a race builder.

Among those who contributed to the pleasure of our St. Louis visit were: the Rev. Carl F. Flipper, pastor of St. James A. M. E. Church and the Hobson family.

Of course, when Editor Mitchell of the St. Louis Argus learned that we were in the city he and his estimable wife took us in charge. Their first move was to transfer us from St. Louis proper to their palatial residence just outside of St. Louis.

Editor Mitchell is without a doubt one of the few financially successful newspapermen. His plant is up to snuff in equipment, surpassed by none we had the pleasure of visiting from Los Angeles to Boston with the exception of "The Defender" and the "New York Age".

Other places of interest in the city of smoke were the many beautiful Churches—Quinn Chapel A. M. E., Central Baptist, St. James A. M. E., Union M. E., Galilee Baptist, Union Memorial M. E., St. Paul M. E. and many others.

We also visited the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Unity Finance and the Liberty Loan Buildings.

Mrs. R. G. Hardin of Brownwood, Texas, is here at the bedside of her cousin, J. G. Jordan of the Progressive Mutual Insurance Company, who has been confined to his bed for more than eight weeks.

As Whitaker is the second Southern Branch student of his class and the first of his race to achieve this honor, we feel that we share with him his good fortune. We know that it required hard work,—and will require more. However, we are confident that he will be a credit to us,—as well as to himself.

Whitaker is operating the summer working in the law offices of Atha McDowell, where he will do the writing, and the required studying.

The "Eagle" congratulates him, and wishes him continued success.

Pasadena Notes

BY: MATT SOLOMON

After stalling around since April, when they were beaten to a frazzle in the city election for a return to their old jobs, the present city officials will now bow to the dictations of the Supreme Court who says, "There won't be no job." This ultimatum comes as a climax to a controversy which began last November when the citizens ratified a charter amendment declaring the seven city directors be residents of different district but be elected by the city at large. With this decision before them they are compelled to canvass the April vote at a special session or at regular session on Tuesday. The Supreme Court action was instituted by the new directors, Messrs. Taylor, Daughtery, Moose, Mersfill, Wopschall, Jennings, Shupe. The new officials will take their position immediately after the canvass.

Club No. 9 of the Friendship Baptist Church is sponsoring a huge banquet on next Monday night in honor of the pastor who has just returned from a recuperative trip, and his wife, together with Mr. and Mrs. Van Williams, newlyweds, who have just returned from their honeymon, in the social hall of the church. The public is invited and cover charges will be $1.00.

• • •

Mrs. Belle Salter-Tyler, who has been the house guest of Mrs. W. D. Carter, for the past two months has returned to her home in Seattle, Washington, via Portland and Spokane, where she has Recital engagements. During her stay here she was the recipient of many social functions given in her honor.

• • •

Mrs. Johnnie Harrison will leave on the 14th of June for a business trip to Dallas, Texas. She will be in company of Mrs. Cora Morrow, who, with her three children are making a trip to Louisville, Ky., where she will spend three months with her parents.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Perry and Mr. Leonard Perry motored to 'Frisco last week whence they report a lovely time.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Chiles of Topeka, Kansas, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Brown on last Thursday. They are friends of many years past when Pastor Brown was pastoring in Topeka.

• • •

The Aeroplane Drive given by the Golden Rule Department of the Friendship Baptist Sunday School which ended with a big gala night in the social hall of the church was a wonderful success. Mrs. Johnnie Harrison worked hard to make it an outstanding feature of the entertainments given in the Social Hall. The girl that sold the largest amount of tickets represented the Queen and the boy selling the largest amount represented the King.

• • •

Miss Martha Stewart, a member of Pasadena's younger set was elected as delegate to the Annual Girl's Reserve Conference held at Asilomar.

• • •

The Allia Unique Club elected the following officers for the year: Pres., Geneva Stocks; Vice-Pres., Lydia Thompson; Secy., Martha Stewart; Treas., Beatrice Prince; Ass't. Secy., Cora Collier; Social Chairman, Edna Porch; Program Chairman, Hilda Hatley; Athletic Chairman, Essie Clark; Pianist, Evalyn Wooley. These girls are under the leadership of Mrs. Louise Williams.

• • •

Miss Viola Holland, who has been attending school in the Southland has returned to her home. Miss Holland is taking a course in commercialism.

• • •

Mrs. Eva Solomon, Director of Religious Education of the Western Baptist Association spoke to an appreciative audience at the 12th Street Branch of the Y. W. C. A. on last Monday afternoon.

• • •

Mr. A. B. Bryant of Hammond street has been ill disposed for the past few days s reported as being better.

• • •

The Brotherhood of the First A. M. E. Church and the Busy Bee Sewing Circle met in joint session at the home of G. D. Farrow at 801 Sunset. Quite a large crowd was present and an enjoyable tme was had.

• • •

Mrs. J. A. Stowers of 158 Hammond street, very royally entertained the Junior Deaconesses at her home on last Thursday evening.

• • •

The Senior Mission Society of the Friendship Baptist Church had a wonderfully enthusiastic meeting last Sunday afternon when Mrs. Eva Solomon as main speaker addressed them from a missionary subject. Other remarks were made by Mrs. Ebey in the form of a paper on "Women," and closing remarks by Mrs. Lucy Hill, a prominent character in Women's Auxiliary to the National Baptist Convention, being a member of the executive board. Mrs. Eva Burton, one of the bright lights in Friendship Church and president of the Society avows this next Social year to be the best in the history of the society. Mrs. Burton has had much experience before coming to this part of the country and there is no reason why she should not be successful in her undertakings.

• • •

Pasadena is fast turning out professional men along all lines. Mr. Elbert White has just completed his course in electricity and has taken out his permit to do wiring and other electrical work. Now is the time to lend him assistance by those who are in line for work of that nature for he must needs depend on those of his own group for a living along his particular line of avocation.

• • •

The entire membership of Friendship Baptist Church is turning its eyes homeward when they expect to greet their beloved pastor on next Sunday morning on the great home-coming. He has been away quite some time convalescing from a recent illness and now returns to his pulpit a much improved man. Pastor Carter is beloved by his many parishioners who have all prayed that his recovery would be speedy. While away he visited Seattle, Portland and other points North as well as a look in on the Northern Convention which recently closed in Chicago. Rev. Carter is very much interested in all the affairs of a thorough going and organized church and it is through his instigation that the Lincoln Industrial Fair which was such an astounding success last year is again to open its doors to the public at an early date. Dr. Carter knows no failure but persistenly and consistently pursues his undertakings to success. He is backed by a membership which believes in his ability to do and will lend every effort to make his projects go.

The losing team in the recent membership drive at Friendship Baptist Sunday School, of the Brotherhood and Eusebian Classes, is giving a breakfast to the winners next Sunday morning in the dining room of the Church. At the last Sunday morning breakfast quite a number were out, but this effort is to excel any previous one.

Hanford News

Mrs. Bertha Fields who recently underwent two operations at the County Hospital, is rapidly improving in health.

Douglas Kinnard, 1927 graduate of the Woodrow Wilson Grammar School, was the most popular member of his graduating class. He played every selection at the exercises and his technique was so wonderful that everyone began to predict a wonderful, future as a pianist for him.

Alice Kelly and Melvel Simpson were also graduates of the grammar school.

Amidst thunderous applause and many proud smiles, Roy B. Simpson, the only colored graduate of a class of 112 at the Hanford High School, received his much coveted diploma. A large percentage of the colored population were present at the Civic Auditorium to witness the event.

Rev. H. H. Mitchell, Baptist minister, is now well and able to be about.

Rev. G. W. Reed, our Presiding Elder, arrived in Hanford, Sunday afternoon. He preached at the A. M. E. Zion Church and administered the Holy Communion in the evening.

"Smoky" Gas Not Necessary!

MANY people think that all there is to burning gas is turning it on and lighting it with a match.

They do not realize that pure gas as it comes from the pipe is not in condition to burn in most appliances.

Gas, like any other fuel, has to have a certain amount of oxygen or air with it before it can be burned properly.

The oxygen in the air is free, but gas costs money. Therefore, it is economy to get the right mixture of air and gas in the burners.

A yellow, smoky flame means not enough air; a "blowy" flame that "pops back" in the mixer means too much air.

A steady, hot, blue flame means a correct mixture of air and gas.

To aid every one of our customers to have, so far as is possible, properly adjusted gas appliances, we have a large force of special appliance adjusters who are devoting all their time to a house-to-house inspection of gas appliances all over our system.

WARNING!

If your gas range was built with a "grid" or open top, it is unwise and unsafe to equip it with so-called "solid tops", "gas savers" or "gas conservers." Adjust your burners if they need adjustment, but beware of devices sold by persons of doubtful reliability. A range manufactured with a solid top, however, is a different matter; it was designed for such operation.

MRS. WALTER L. GORDON, Pres.
MISS CONSUELO BRIGHT, Secy.

Mr. A. E. Goins of Ogden, Utah, formerly a resident of San Diego, spent the week-end in Los Angeles. Although pleased with his present location he admits there is no place like sunny Southern California.

Mrs. Sarah Garrott entertained the Fleur de Lis Club at their regular meeting with luncheon and cards for twenty at the beautiful Oak Knoll home of her aunt, Mrs. John Bryant.

The club prizes were given to Mrs. Lee Black, first; Mrs. Della Williams, second and the guest prize to Mrs. Gladys Spikes.

The guests of the afternoon were Madams Louise Matthews, R. C. Owens, Gladys Spikes, E. B. Lidell, Laura Porter, Sallie Richardson, Emily Childress and Miss Manila Owens.

Wednesday evening, June 1, Miss Naomi Wiggins was hostess at a social given after the regular meeting of the Bunni Bunch Club. Whiz was played, after which was served a delicious luncheon. Dancing followed and everybody seemed to have enjoyed themslvs immensely.

The Blue Monday Morning Club held their first Semi-Annual Art Exhibit last Thursday, May 26th, at the home of Mrs. Ethel Hurd, 112 S. Rines St. The judges being very skilled in art such as were on display, after carefully searching each piece of work of different designs and patterns found it very difficult to render a decision as to who was entitled to the first prize, but finally awarded the first prize to Mrs. Laura Towns and second to Mrs. Jessie Parks. After which we were served with a delicious dinner by hostess. Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Louise Lawson, 1300 E. 48th St.

One of the most unique affairs of the spring season was a theatre party and lunch at the Vogue Cafe on Wednesday night, June 1st, with Mrs. Tabitha Walton, hostess and twelve members of Las Vieudas Allegres her guest, at which time it was chosen to give to Mr. Harry Beal three grand prizes. The first prize was Mrs. Fay Bynum Beal, one of their charter members; the second, their wedding gift, which consisted of a set of havelin serois plates and gold-rimmed glasses; last but not least, the club's best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Graham and their little daughter, Benzell, spent the week-end at Lake Elsinore at Strider's Love Nest inn. They were accompanied by Miss Myrtle Edwards, Secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

A thrilling playlet, entitled "The Pink Tea Party" with a splendid musical program. Phillip's Temple C. M. E. Church, 42nd and Wadsworth Sts., Tuesday evening, June 14th at 8:30 P. M. Admission 25 cents.

The Presidents' Council features a stylish Stout Fashion Revue, Wednesday evening, June 22nd at 8:30 P. M. at the Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma St. Come out and see the stout beauties.

The members of the Fleur de Lis Club were the honored guests of Mrs. R. S. Whittaker at luncheon and cards. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Naomi Booker, Mrs. Saras Garrott and Dr. Alice Garrott.

The cream of Los Angeles' society will attend the Hi Jink's Frolic

LOS ANGELES SOCIETY

BY: MARIE DOROTHY ROUT

Phone: TUcker 7038

One of the swellest little parties of the season was a delightful "Post Examination Stomp" given by the undergraduates of U. S. C. at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gordon in South Pasadena, last Saturday night. The party was largely attended by the cream of Los Angeles' younger set, among whom are some of the prettiest little sub-debs and debutantes in all California. Delightful refreshments were served by the charming Mrs. Gordon, and there was music and dancing until the "wee sma' hours."

• • •

Little Miss June, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Washington, celebrated her fourth birthday last Sunday with a party for 24 of her little friends. Ice cream was served, and balloons and other little favors were given away.

• • •

Mrs. J. M. Scott, prominent clubwoman is now convalescing from her recent illness.

• • •

GLADYCE GREENAWAY

Well, we'll say this has been a busy week. Everybody running hither and thither and of course to be in style we had to do the same.

• • •

Last week we mentioned that posters for the Girl Reserve Gingham Dance were to be "out" this week Posters can now be seen at Ross's Sweet Shop, the Bon Bon Confectionary on the West Side and several other shops along the avenue. We'll say they are keen. The date for this swell affair is June 17th. And did we say that Rene and his Superior Five are playing? Oh yes, pardon our bad memory.

• • •

By the way, Mr. Peter Douglass can be credited with having furnished Mr. Rene with a really good name for his orchestra. "Superior Five" sounds great. And Mr. Charles Jones is Director. Oh well then, Mr. Jones!

• • •

Miss Edna Moore is honoring Miss Arneta Benton with a "Kitchen Shower" at her home Friday evening, June 10th. We hope Miss Benton's friends will supply her with enough kitchen utensils and equipment to start a store with. Miss Benton will be a blushing bride very soon.

• • •

We have just received a very nice little letter from Miss Ethel Stephens (formerly Jefferson and Poly Hi Student) who is with Franchon and Marco's Hi Brown idea, and she says that she really get a kick out of traveling. That's one thing about traveling, you really learn a lot. Of course that does not include the time when one is seasick because at that time one only yearns for firm ground under one's foot. Terra firma, so to speak.

• • •

We were among those present at the Olympic Auditorium at the occasion of the program of the 10th Cavalry Band, and enjoyed ourself immensely. We had really expected to see a larger crowd, but those that were there were not a bit stingy with the applesauce, which made up for all those empty seats. One thing we noticed as we emerged from one auditorium at the close of the performance was the absence of all colored taxi cabs, drivers—Not 'er one. And so our escort's cash went to swell the coffers of a nationally known cab company. Oh well, what's the difference who gets the mon, so long as we got home. If we had waited for a gentleman of color to come along in his cab we would still be holding up a post.

• • •

We notice in this evening's Herald that while a couple were getting married some thives stole their automobile in which were the bride's trousseau and the groom's wardrobe. The groom probably lost his extra necktie and his tooth brush. We hate to think what the bride lost.

• • •

The Business Girls' Club is planning on giving a Musical Tea at the home of Mrs. Patton on Pico street, June 12th. Many well known artists of both sex are on the program.

• • •

Miss Lulah Bartae, prominent young Westsider, is leaving soon for a visit to Texas. She plans on having a whopping good time and her many friends wish her much luck. Miss Bartae will continue her schooling while there and expects to return to Los Angeles on or about the month of October. Judging by the number of boys and girls addresses which she has in her notebook it will take all her time writing them, for her to visit. We think Frank ought to see about that notebook and cut out some of those names.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Harrison on W. 35th St. entertained last Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Long, delegates to General Assembly of Presbyterian Church at San Francisco. Covers were laid for twelve.

• • •

Miss Angebelle Harrison expects to be a law student at South Western University soon. Miss Harrison is a very busy business girl at present.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Dones are ONE no longer—each having gone their lonely (?) way. Mr. Dones must be a despotic. Heh, heh, Mr. Dones!

Remember June 20 for the big Hi Jink's Frolic. Where? Eagle Hall!

June Teenth Dance, at the Masonic Temple, 1050 E. 50th St. Monday nite, June 20th.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

FEDERATED CLUB NEWS

BY: MARY A. REED

The Olivia Davidson Washington Club held another Tea last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Mary Johnson on Hooper Ave. This Tea was held to award the prize from the last Fashion Tea, held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Wright. Mrs. Anderson of Pasadena won the prize, being the most beautifully dressed woman. The prize was a beautiful linen table cover. Mrs. Eva Thomas president, is striving hard to make this one of the outstanding clubs of the Federation, and deserves much credit.

• • •

The Presidents' Council is staging a Stylish Stout Fashion Revue, at the Independent Church of Christ, Wednesday evening, June 22nd. Stylish Stout Beauties in last word creations will parade. The chairman, Mrs. Carrie Graves is hoping to make this a banner evening.

• • •

The Annual Exchange will be held at the Second Baptist Church, June 28, 29th and 30th. All clubs are expected to co-operate. If you do not have a booth your $2 per rata is payable and due. Mrs. C. D. Robnson, chairman is planning to make this one of the best Exchanges ever. The Educational Superintendent, Mrs. M. M. Stafford and the music chairman, Mrs. E. Monroe Beavers, have charge of the program.

• • •

The Kiddies Fashion Show under the auspices of the Executive Board will be held Friday evening, July 1st. Kiddies of all ages will be seen in dame fashion's latst. Miss Mary E. Reed promoter is working hard to make the show go over big.

The Thrifty Housewives Club held their regular Literary Meeting, Wednesday evening, May 1st at the home of Mrs. Samuel Clay's in Hollywood. A splendid program was rendered.

Among the many visitors present was Mrs. Jefferson and her son, Bernard. They expressed their appreciation to the members of the club for the token presented to Bernard for his splendid address in the high school contest. Also Dr. H. C. Hudson who spoke briefly on race problems.

Every moment of the evening was enjoyed by those present. At the last hour Mrs. Clay served refreshments made of home made ice cream and cake.

The next Meeting will be with Mrs. Estro on Naomi Ave.

LA VOLUNTE FAIRE CLUB

A very interesting meeting of the La Volunte Fair Club was held at the home of the president, Miss Majorie Johnson on June 4, 1927.

We wish to thank everyone who attended our dance last Friday night, at the La Republica Tea Room.

A LA ELITE

One of the smart affairs of last week was a brilliant breakfast, with Mrs. J. H. Shackelford as the charming hostess, delighting her out-of-town guests with the comforts of her beautiful and spacious home on the corner of West thirty-first street and St. Andrews Pl. Those enjoying this gracious hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Keeny, Portland, Ore.; Rev. and Mrs. McPherson, San Diego; Mrs. Woods, San Diego; Mrs. Estella Robinson, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Geo. Gross; Mrs. Estella Cole; Mrs. Emma Maloney and Mrs. Cecil Cook, neice of the hostess.

Each guest avows the preservation of their lovely bouquets of sweet peas as a memo of California's rarities and of the ideal hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shackleford.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Muckelroy of San Hernardino motored down to attend the graduation of their daughter Miss Roena from the University of Southern California.

Mrs. R. Matthews was hostess to a 500 luncheon Wednesday afternoon complimentary to her aunt, Mrs. S. Shaw who is returning to her home in Chicago next week. Mrs. Gregory Hobson of San Mateo and Mrs. E. Wilkinson of San Jose. Prizes were won by Dr. Annie Legrett, Mrs. Louis Blodgett and Mrs. Laura Smitherman. Guest prizes were awarded to Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Hobson and Mrs. Wilkinson. Mrs. Matthews was assisted by her daughter, Miss Miriam Matthews.

Mrs. Mozelle Te Outley, one of Los Angeles' leading choristers and musicians of fame, is greatly missed by the music-loving people due to the fact that for the past two weeks she has been stricken with appendicitis and is just now successfully rallying from a major operation at the Dunbar Hospital under the very efficient care of Dr. A. J. Booker.

Mrs. Hilda Brawley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Prowd of 10729 Compton avenue, this city, after a three-months' visit with her parents, returned to her home in Raleigh, N. C., Sunday, May 29th. Mrs. Brawley is the wife of that noted scholar author, teacher and preacher, Benjamin G. Brawley.

Mrs. Monde Pritchette entertained the Jolly Sixteen club Wednesday afternoon. Guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Etta Pearl, Mrs. Margaret Moore

Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson were seen flying down the "Avenue" in their new Nash sedan.

GRADUATES OF 1927—NOTICE!

The Southern California Alumni Association requests every graduate of 1927, College and High School, to be present in the Wesley Chapel Church, Sunday afternoon June the 19th at 4 o'clock for rehearsal for Alumni's Nineteenth Annual reception to be held in the Wesley Chapel Church, Friday evening, July the 1st.

Mrs. J. D. Gordon and Mrs. Hugh Gordon spent three weeks at "Not A Care" cabin at Eureka Villa.

Mr. Roscoe C. Brown, Sr., met with an accident Monday when one of the city's big trucks mashed his hand while at work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemell Rutherford spent two week in Oakland with relatives.

The Just For Fun Club entertained at the La Republica Tea Room with a bridge luncheon Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Katie Brothers, one of the members who has just returned home from an extended Eastern trip. Prizes were won by Mrs. Gladys Owens Spikes, Mrs. M. Robinson, Miss Manila Owens and guest prize to Mrs. Katie Brothers. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. A. Robinson of Denver, Mrs. Gregory Hobson of San Mateo, Mrs. E. Wilkinson of San Jose and Mrs. S. Smith of San Mateo.

Mr. Booker T. Washington, Jr., presented his wife with a Buick Coupe last week for her birthday.

Complimentary to Miss Clotilde Bennett, whose engagement to Albert Brodie has been announced, Mrs. Atoy Wilson entertained Friday evening with a whist party and linen shower at the home of Miss Monroe Shivers in Boulder Street. There were about twenty-five guests present. Many beautiful gifts were received.

The regular meeting of the Struttin' Eight Social Club was held at the home of Miss Frances Earles, 2742 Council Street. The meeting was of a strictly business nature.

Plans were made for a trip around the belt to be given June 30th. After the meeting adjourned the hostess served a delightful repast.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jasper, Sr., entertained 21 guests Sunday afternoon, June 5th, from 4 'til 8 P. M. at their residence in honor of their son, Frank J. Jasper, Jr., who was quietly married to Miss Ceola Duncan, May 23, 1927. The home was beautifully decorated with carnations, ferns and sweet peas.

Dainty refreshments were served. They received lovely gifts.

Hi Jink's Frolic, June 20, Eagle Hall. Pretty ladies and music that you can't resist will greet you Monday Night, June 20 at Eagle Hall.

MEMORIAL DAY HIKE

On Memorial Day a merry party left the city for a hike up to Mount Lowe Tavern. Those making up the party were Mesdames Margaret Boston, Charlie Cameron, Mammie Cox, Mable Biggers, Emery and Ella Van Vactor; Messrs. Lowe, Lambert and Boston.

The party motored to Altadona at which point the hike began terminating at Rubio Canyon. A most exciting thrill awaited them. All boarded the incline railway to Echo Mountain where they had a panorama view of the fertile valley below. Here the hike was resumed, terminating at Mt. Lowe Tavern. After resting and lunching the return hike was on, which included again the thrilling ride down the incline track. The mountain scenery was magnificent and sublime.

Officers of Pullman Porters' Union Address Labor Conference

BROOKWOOD LABOR COLLEGE HOLDS SYMPOSIUM ON NEGRO

New York, May 21.—What is regarded as the most significant as well as one of the most successful conferences to be held at Brookwood Labor College, located at Katonah, New York, took place on Thursday and Friday, May 19th nd 20th, when "The Negro in Industry" was the subject of discussion. Speakers on various phases of the question addressed the faculty and student body of that institution, and were afterward subjected to severe questioning by them. It is said that the wide latitude and pertinency of the questions asked indicated the intense interest being developed in the problem of the Negro workers' relationship to the organized labor movement in the country.

At the first day's session the speakers were Mr. Charles S. Johnson, Editor of Opportunity Magazine; Abraham L. Harris, Associate Editor of The Messenger; R. Renzi Lemus, president of the Brotherhood of Dining Car Waiters; Mr. Robert Bagnall, Branch Director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Roy Lancaster, Secretary-Treasurer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and Benjamin Stolberg, noted labor journalist.

On the second day the speakers included E. Franklin Frazier of Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. Norman Thomas, Director, League for Industrial Democracy; W. H. Des Verney; Frank R. Crosswaith and A. Philip Randolph, General Organizer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters. Mr. Randolph created a profound impression when in his scholarly style he pointed out that in attempting to find a solution for this so-called problem the Negro had first utilized the medium of intense racial propaganda, wherein he tried to prove that he was not the sort of person as painted by those who would deny his essential humanhood.

"The Negro has now reached a state where he is devoting his attention to the more cultural side of his development, which he is beginning to realize rests upon economic power. The Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters is the outstanding example of this new turn in the struggle of the Negro for equality with other races. It expresses his intent no longer to rely upon white philanthropy but rather to practice self-help."

In discussing the immediate problem facing the rapidly awakening Negro worker, Mr. Randolph suggested a federation of the separate trades organizations among Negroes in the transportation system of the nation. "The time is at hand," he said, "when those enlisted with leadership in these separate economic units should, in the interest of the great masses of Negro workers both on the farms and in industry, get together and through co-operative efforts, bring some pressure to bear upon those internationals of the A. F. of L. which now deny entrance to Negro workers and also for the larger purpose of centralizing all organizational, educational and agitational work among the working masses of the race.

CHINESE WIRE PICKENS TRUE STORY OF THE WAR

(By: A. N. P.)

New York, May 21.—In a cablegram received by William Pickens, Chairman of the Hands-Off China Association last week, Earl Browder, cabling from Hankow, China, says:

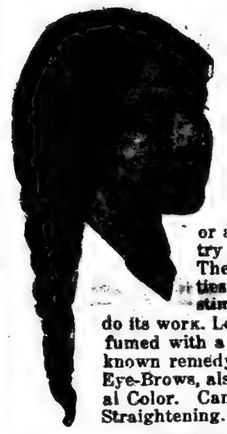
"The actions of American diplomatic and armed forces in China are making the American people jointly responsible in one of the great crimes of history in the armed struggle of imperialism against Chinese Revoluton. The Chinese people are demonstrating wonderful ability at organization and leadership. They are crushing the militarists and rebuilding Chinese Society, on progressive lines. This progress is threatened by imperialist aggression and intervention. Thirty-five warships demonstrated at Hankow last week against the Nationalist Government. They included ten American vessels with Cruiser Cincinnati. There is an imminent threat of armed force against Chinese people. American people must protest emphatically against this shameful assault and must demand removal of all armed forces from Chinese territory and waters. War against China threatens not only Chinese Revolution, but also the peace of the entire world. I urge most strenuous action. Acquaint the American people with true facts and mobilize forces of all friends of China and freedom to prevent such a disaster."

I. B. P. O. E. of W.

On the evening of May 5th, 1927, California's Past Daughter Rulers' Council was organized by Mrs. Bertha Trippiett, G. District Deputy. The Council is composed of Past Daughter Rulers of Hiawatha Temple No. 91, I. B. P. O. E. of W. and will be a great benefit to the Temple. The following officers were elected:

Mrs. Behtra Trippiett, Loyal Dtr. Ruler; Mrs. Eliza Warner, Loyal Vic-Dtr. Ruler; Mrs. Sophia Adkins, Loyal Ass't. Dtr. Ruler; Mrs. Edna V. Elgin, Loyal Secy.; Mrs. Julia Christian, Loyal Treas.; Mrs. Inez White, Loyal Escort; Mrs. Willie Jones, Loyal Doorkeeper.

Through the kindness of Dr. Gibson some of our group were invited to participate in the program given by the Troward Club at their hall in the Beaux Arts Building, on June first.



Eugene Edgar Page rendered a piano solo of his own composition which was received with much applause. He was highly complimented for his splendid ability and talent. Evelyn Turner Warren in her pleasing manner so beautifully sang "Thinking," words and music both by Mr. Page who also accompanied her on the piano. She was highly applauded for her masterly work.

Jewel Esken Anderson, a student of the U. S. C. gave two readings, one by Paul Lawrence Dunbar. Both were well rendered and met with roaring applause.

Mr. Page, Miss Warren and Miss Anderson were all cordially received by the entire audience in the social hour

The event of the year, the High Jink's Frolic, June 20, Eagle Hall.

ANTI-LYNCH CHURCH APPEAL

"SALEM DAY SUNDAY" OBSERVANCES JUNE 19TH TO CALL FOR ABOLITION OF MOB MURDER

Boston, Mass., June, 1927.—As a fitting public finale to the nationwide public celebrations on June 17th of "Salem Race Day" in honor of Peter Salem, Salem Poor and the other colored soldiers at the Battle of Bunker Hill way back in 1775, with resolutions to be adopted and sent to President Coolidge to rithe anti-lynching bill and against federal segregation the National Equal Rights League has just issued an appeal to all race pastors to make June 19th a "Salem Day Sunday" by special prayers for deliverance and church resolutions of appeal to nation and government for an end to lynching and segregation to be signed by church officers and sent to President Coolidge and given to the press.

The first part of this nation-wide stroke against these two major evils will begin and also end, according to the League's request with official resolutions to the President by fraternal lodges at their most convenient meeting in June before or after the 17th.

With the civic observances, the one in Boston to cover two days, with the church and lodge resolutions and those by other bodies, a strong bombardment can be made of the White House and a good blow struck. The League, which supplies historical leaflets postpaid from 9 Cornhill for six cents in stamps, also asks that copies of all resolutions with addresses of officials and promoters of celebrations be sent to it to be later carried to the White House in bulk as a united race protest and appeal.

CARE OF THE TEETH

BY: DR. J. WINIFORD ROUT

ODONTALGIA

This high sounding name is nothing more or less than our old pal toothache, all decked up in a scientific garb who has been in our midst for ages. Toothache has always been one particular ailment which man for obvious reasons has been very anxious to be rid of at the earliest possible moment.

The ancient medical men experimented with and prescribed some queer remedies in their efforts to alleviate the suffering caused by toothache and neuralgia of the face caused by infected teeth. Dr. Prinz in his book, Dental Materia Medica and Therapeutics writes of a number of prescriptions offered by medicine men of the fourteenth century; we quote one herewith: "The gall of a cow, wormwood, alum, pepper, nutgals, cloves pitch, mustard seed, the heart of a Magpie, the fat of Mice, Crow dung, plantain and vermin." The above ingredients were to be mixed thoroughly and taken in the form of a decotion. A very delicious decoction, no doubt. (I fear, however, that some of us moderns would prefer the pain of the toothache to a draught of the so-called cure. Another bit of sage advice as to toothache was a recommendation from the writings of Pliny in which he says: "If one wishes to be free from toothache, one should eat a whole mouse twice a month."

And so through all the ages from the time of the Tribal Medicine Man with his superstition and disgusting therapeutic measures to the present scientific treatment. The teeth have always been a factor in the comfort of man.

To properly understand the phenomena of a aching tooth one must understand the structure of the teeth. The pain accompanying an affected tooth in itself is only a symptom of danger—a warning from nature that the part involved is in danger of destruction.

The tooth is composed of two fundamental parts—A crown, that portion which projects above the gum and is visible in the mouth; the Root, that portion implanted in the bone and gums. Completely covering the crown is a hard vitreou like substance, the Enamel, which is the hardest material in the Human body. The root is covered by a bone-like substance called the Cementum. The interior or body of the tooth is composed of a hard bone-like substance resembling bone, called dentine. Within the centre of the tooth is a hollow chamber called the pulp chamber which contains the nerves and blood vessels suppling sensation and nourishment to the tooth. Here in this pulp chamber lies the seat of most toothaches. Through neglect, the enamel and dentine are gradually eaten away by decay until the nerve is exposed or nearly exposed. Nature usually gives warning that danger is approaching before the nerve is actually exposed, by sharp pains and discomfort when sweets are eaten or cold food or drinks, placed in the mouth next to the affected tooth. If no attention is paid to these minor signs and the decay is permitted to continue the nerve is finally exposed and infected by the numerous germs always found lurking in the mouth, inflammation is set up in the pulp chamber and excruciating pain is usually the result.

In our next article we will discuss the Decay of the Teeth.

EDITORIAL

FEDERATION

Now that the results of the election have demonstrated what a few Federated organizations can accomplish, we suggest that every Church, Fraternal, or other legitimate body, should get in on this program and be in a position to command something worth while. Now is the time to act and we urge every organization to get in on the Federated proposition and be in line for real service for your community and share in the victory to be attained.

PROGRESSIVE INDEED

Propositions Nos. 3 and 4, not unlike the situation of the Boulder Dam Bill in the last Congress could not pass. The opposition of the power barons was too much to overcome. However we are proud of the magnificent support for progress which was presented by the voters of our group. Have no fear for at any election which calls out a major portion of electors there will be no question of a favorable result for the people.

The support of 3 and 4 was simply an opportunity to attend to your own business in a big way. Next time the vote will put it over.

SMASHING VICTORY FOR THE PEOPLE

The result of last Tuesday's election was a smashing victory for the program which was agreed upon and fought out, successfully so for a 100 per cent victory.

For one time voters of our group universally concentrated their forces and we are constrained to say that this fact had much to do with the victory on last Tuesday.

A long suffering people at the portals of the voting booth, had an opportunity to express themselves and they failed not to do so to the utmost.

In other words the victory so magnificently achieved at the primaries was amplified and made greater at the general election last Tuesday.

And Now

With this situation all people we verily believe will receive a fairer and square deal. We are free to say for two years at least—no JIM CROW Council will stalk back and forth in our new city hall.

We feel that one of the very first efforts of E. Snapper Ingram in the 10th District will be the eradication of the foul blot on Los Angeles civilization of the Jim Crow Swimming pool in the 10th District. We also look for discrimination on color complex to fade away from city Government. We look for the reign of the cossacks to cease and that citizens will not be subjected to the odium of brutal officers in spectacular raids often ending in blood shed and even death.

We will see in the near future as a result of the election, our police department head with a policy of progress and the various districts shall not be the pawns of a chief's whim, to humiliate and vent his spleen upon some individual officer to suit his own whims. This condition will surely be corrected. Chinese lottery sharks will hunt the tall timber, and peace, law and order will reign supreme.

WORTH REMEMBERING

Judge Harry Lewis, sitting on the bench in Chicago last week, in a suit brought by Harry Knowlton (white), a consulting engineer, vs his wife and Prince Koyo Tovalou-Houenou of the French province of Dahonre, decided against Mr. Knowlton and in favor of the white woman and black prince.

Said Judge Lewis, "the mutual association between a white man, while it may shock your sensibilities, does not constitute a crime", and the wise judge further visualizes that the time will come when Black and White association will be in the light as well as in the dark.

NOT SAYERS; BUT DOERS

What the world needs to-day are men and women like Captain Charles Lindbergh.

Coming, as he did, unknown and unannounced, this air pilot accomplished what until now was deemed by the majority the impossible.

He was hailed at "the flying fool" but onward and outward went Lindbergh penetrating the mysteries of the air. He made no sensational announcements as to his leave taking or his anticipations, but simply said, that he was going to Paris, and to Paris he went.

Prior to his Paris flight no newspaper headlines had alluminated the scholastic, social, or political reputation of this young man. When asked about his habits, likes, and dislikes, Lindbergh's mother said her son had made a clean record in schoolu, had retired early, did not drink whiskey, attend public dances nor cared especially for girls.

We are looking for a new and healthier type in our own group, and we are offering Lindbergh as the type worth emulating.

BETTER BUSINESS ETHICS

It is a wholesome sign of the times that business and professional men are much concerned over the ethics of their own particular occupations. Many trade associations, service clubs and other commercial bodies have committees on business standards and printed codes of ethics to guide their members. Colleges and universities offer lecture courses on the subject, books are being written on it and there are organizations dedicated to the improvement of the standards of business conduct.

However, the public is not overly impressed by mere organization or printed codes, standards and platforms. It judges the ethics of a business by the ethics of the individual members of that business. It does not buy goods from trade associations, but from individual concerns. What really matters is not the publicly announced and purposely high-sounding and sonorous code of an impersonal association, but the actual everyday conduct of the individual business man, firm and corporation.

But there is not a consumer who has not convinced himself by actual experience that merchants, especially, are doing more than talking about service. Modern business has learned that "honesty is the best policy" and that "he profits most who serves best." And it matters little to the consumer whether business is rendering better service for purely selfish reasons or because it has become morally conscious.

Profits are a worthy, honorable goal, but if they are the only aim of business, then the commercial system is doomed. And it follows naturally that, since the commercial system shows no evidence of decay, profits are not the one and only goal of modern business.

THE THINK SHOP

Thinking is a human process that is much neglected. People do many things in life entirely leaving out the element of thought.

This world would be a much better world, a much better place to live in, if each person would simply put his thinking cap on and wear it at the performance of each deed, significant or seemingly inconsequential.

In the office, in the shop, in the home, in the social arena, in public places, everywhere, thought would play well its part.

The think shop is one of the most important properties of the human makeup. Lack of proper thought promotes misery, worry, discontent, sadness, suffering, ignorance and hundreds of things that should be destroyed rather than promoted.

The man who thinks is the man who does things efficiently and it is likewise with the woman who thinks. The boy and girl brought up in the habit of careful thinking is the boy and girl who will mean most to America.

Wounded feelings, shattered careers, demolished hopes, slouchy work, determinations to revenge and all sorts and kinds of failures may at once be prevented by the simple application of proper thought.

Time and money may be saved if one will but think when about his immediate task. Matrimonial missteps may be prevented by right and proper thinking. Many careers may be brightened and made more useful and larger by merely allowing thought to invade the territory of proper execution.

Since thinking is such an important and necessary element in the business of life, it should be fully resorted to by all the people, all the time. Therefore THINK. Let's go! Everybody THINK!

POWER OF ADVERTISING

Beyond all question the most potent creator of business demands in America is the newspaper advertisement. Millions upon millions of dollars are expended every day in the stores of the country because well written advertisements have directed public attention to convenient, becoming, attractive, useful, ornamental and suitable merchandise. The sale of all necessities, all luxuries, all indulgences, is more powerfully stimulated by the newspaper advertisement than by any other agency. Only hunger, cold and nakedness are comparable to the advertisement as a promoter of sales—and even purchases of food, fuel and clothing are directed more largely by the business columns of the press than by any other influence except immediate necessity.

The largest stores in our greatest cities have been built up by their advertising, their persistent and clever invitation to the public in the press to share in their bargains. Imagine what would happen to daily sales of merchandise, real estate, theatre tickets, insurance, books and other things, if newspaper advertisements were prohibited by law for six months. It is not exaggeration to say that they would drop 50 per cent.

It is not the current news of events alone that makes the press of such incalculable value to the nation, nor the free editorial expresion of opinion. The business news of the day, as told by business concerns in their announcements to the public, decisively influences both the volume and the direction of trade which flows to this or that store, office or bank. This is a fundamental fact no business house can afford to overlook.

A low moral aim oft will hit the dollar mark.

Many persons are able to beat opportunity knocking.

Money may get a man into trouble, but it is usually more helpful in getting him out.

"LYNCH HIM!" IN NEW YORK

On a subway platform the other day a Negro stabbed a man and immediately the crowd began to yell "Lynch him!" Then appeared on the scene Patrolman Gosselin of the East 35th Street Station, and in a decisive manner he collared the Negro, who had already been cuffed around considerably, and hauled him off to the station house. The incident is of interest to all who give any attention to the lynching problem. The temper of the crowd unquestionably was ugly; had it been dealt with half-heartedly, as many a County Sheriff deals with a crowd, there is no telling what might have happened. But one resolute New York cop settled the whole fracas in a few seconds. The difference is that the County Sheriff secretly has a suspicion that his prisoner is going to be lynched anyhow, and thus is licked before he appears on the steps of the jail. But the New York cop hasn't the faintest notion that his prisoner is going to be lynched, and hence when he faces a crowd he means business. One could wish for a few Policeman Gosselins stationed at strategic points throughout the country.

CLAUDIA HAD TO BE CARRIED

Either from utter helplessness or because she liked the feel of the officer's strong arms carrying her limp form, Claudia Jackson had to be carried like a baby like Sappho.

Claudia who lives at 1359 E. 12th St. was arrested by officers Shunn and Maxwell of Newton St. Station. Her landlady complained that the bibalous Miss Jackson had gotten beastly drunk and beyond her control. Arriving, the officers had to take turns carrying her heavyweight to the patrol wagon and arrived at the desk she flopped down on the floor like a smashed jelly-fish and had to be carried again to her cell

WHEN THIEVES FALL OUT

It seems that Robt. Christensen who runs a rooming house at 724 Ceres and Robert Guinn, same address, had made a practice of inducing drunks to spend the night at the rooming house, then "shaking them down" for money and valuables while asleep. By so doing they had been reaping a lucrative harvest until they fell out. Now each blames the other for the robberies. They were both arrested and booked for robbery by officers Henry and Barret.

MIXED BURGLARY WITH SHOE SHINES

Johnnie Taylor has been suspected of adding to his income by flipping the rag at a boot black stand in the day time, by a little burglary at night, as a side-line. He was arrested by officers Coppage and his record traced up away back in Texas from where he recently arrived.

JIMMY PITCHES A WICKED PEN

Jas. Wright found himself so proficient with the pen that he took his pen in hand to the extent that he wrote a whole flock of checks on banks in which he had no account. Officers Vanme and Lewis put a check on his penmanship.

CHINESE BOYS IN STABBING AFFRAY

The Negro section of the city in the vicinity of 1315 Stanford was startled by loud screaming and chattering by two Chinese families living there. On arrival of officers from the Newton St. Station it was found that William Wong, 13, had been stabbed just below the shoulder blade by a long knife wielded by Ernest Wong, 14. They had fought about a small brother of one of the boys. Ernest was locked up but later turned over to his parents to await developments.

LIEUTENANT KING THE PEACE-MAKER

Lieut. King of the Newton Street Station will perhaps some day be presented with a flock of service medals donated by happy families that have been reunited by the efforts of the peace-loving officer. Many cases of complaints by one or the other of a battling couple have been settled by Mr. King taking them into a private room at the station where he talked to both and induced them to settle their troubles without the necessity of one being jailed. As a rule they enter one in the custody of the officers and the other accompanying as witness but leave arm in arm after kissing and making up. So far he has only failed in one case that of a Mexican girl who insisted on her brother being arrested. Colored and white alike are generally settled "out of court" by him. He says he gets a kick out of it and it saves jail space.

GREEN-LEWIS NUPTIALS

Taking place in a floral setting of much beauty, a recent smart event was the wedding which on Sunday, May 29th, united Miss Marion Green, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Green to Rodric Earl Lewis, youngest brother of Mr. Thomas Lewis, of East 18th street.

With Rev. A. P. Shaw, pastor of Wesley Chapel M. E. Church officiating, the nuptials were solemnized at 5 P. M. at the residence of the bride's parents, 1436 W. 35th Place. The home was tastefully decorated with a profusion of pink gladiola and godetia, blue delphinium ferns and Kentia palms.

The lovely young bride was charming in a gown of georgette chicon and lace, made with a tight basque and bouffant skirt. The veil of tulle was held in place by orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas gardenias and lillies of the valley.

Miss Thelma Webb in rosebud crepe and carrying an arm bouquet of pink roses and carnations acted as bridesmaid, while little Angelita De Lavallade in crisp pink taffeta was the graceful flower girl. Master Charles Earle carried the ring on a white satin heart-shaped pillow. Seward L. Thompson attended the groom as best man.

Mrs. Hudson presided at the piano and prior to the ceremony Miss Fannie Hayes sang "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Ruby McDaniels sang "O! Promise Me."

An informal reception followed the ceremony, the bride and groom receiving the felicitations of more than 125 bidden guests.

MUSICAL DIRECTOR CONVALESCING

Mme. Mozelle Te Outley well known musical director who recently underwent a major operation at the Dunbar Hospital on May 31st, and for whom grave doubt of her surviving the same was held by her friends, is announced convalescing at the home of Mrs. Naomi Pharr on East 15th Street.

This is welcome news to her many friends and the people at large. Mme. Outley's service to this community is such that all are happy for her recovery.

PEONAGE IN THE NATION'S CAPITAL . .

The Mothers' Civic Protective Union of which Mrs. Thornton is president, has discovered a case of peonage here at the Natonal Capital.

A white man from Maryland found a Colored boy there several years ago, brought him to Washington, hired him out, appropriatd his wages to himself and forced him to do menial work at his home. After these years of wage earning and additional hard work at his master's home, the boy has absolutely nothing.

Mrs. Thornton invited Neval H. Thomas, president of the Washington Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and member of its national board of directors, to meet the league and receive the facts for further investigation. Mr. Thomas visited the engraving establishment where both the master and his peon were working, and secured the statement of the boy. He demanded the release of the boy under threat of putting the police power of the state on the case. The Mothers' Civic Protective Union then secured a good home for the boy and placed him there, where for the first time he is able to secure the benefit of his earnings. Mr. Thomas states that both the League and the N. A. A. C. P. are endeavoring to secure evidence in the case to recover the earnings of the boy, and to prosecute the man who has wronged him and violated the law. Mr. Thomas appeals to the other Branches of the N. A. A. C. P. throughout the country to be vigilant for this crime, and to co-operate with all other agencies in their communities, both north and south, for there are many poor colored people who are suffering similar handicaps. White people moving into the north are bringing unknowing Negro boys and girls with them and hold them as peons. Five years ago the Association discovered a similar case here.

Wife Leads Lynchers to Husband's Hiding Place

(By: A. N. P.)

Macon, Miss., May 27.—A mob of some 200 white men "overpowered" the officers who had arrested Dan Anderson for killing Tom Edwards, a white man, near here, and riddled the prisoner's body with bullets. More than two hundred shots were fired in to Anderson's body by the mob in order "to be sure that the Nigger who dared to kill a white man was dead."

Anderson is alleged to have killed Edwards when the white man, who is an overseer on his father's plantation sought to restrain him by force from leaving the farm. The report had been circulated that Anderson was planning to move his family North, and Edwards went to Anderson's home and threatened violence. Seeing that his life was in danger, Anderson shot Edwards, fatally wounding him.

The killing of a white man by a Negro aroused the Mississippians that a mob formed immediately to "help the Officers" bring the Negro to justice. The county was scoured but Anderson could not be found. The mob, then, is alleged to have gone to Anderson's home and maltreated his wife until she disclosed the hiding place of her husband.

The officers rushed to the hiding place and apprehended the alleged slayer and was en route to this town with the prisoner when they met the maniacal mob. After a bit of ceremony the prisoner was turned over to the lynchers who carried him a short distance and poured a volley of bullets into his body.

COMMENTS

BY: W. J. WHEATON

Recently received a letter making enquiry as to how the "Group" voters felt toward the Coolidge for President boom that is being pussy-footed by a few of the lunch counter recipients of his bounty.

Well, in the first place, we do believe in the perpetuity of any office that suggests, or has a tendency to savor of Imperialism. If there was a dearth of able, capable men in the ranks of the Republican Party; and the only hope of the nation was Calvin Coolidge, we would gladly hail him as our American Mussolini and endow him with every power, even to the administering of "Castor Oil." But argue it as you may, the traditional taboo of the "Presidental third term" too firmly fixed in the heads of the average voter to be dismissed with a "P'Tish," and like Mary's little Lamb it will be found at the Coolidge sid, wherever he may go. If the politicians of the party insist on his nomination that issue of the "third term" may hang about his neck like the slain Albatross and as annoying as the Sinbad the Sailor. The third term nag is a very obstreperous animal. He threw Grant and he was an idol; he upset Roosevelt and "Teddy" was a Rough Rider. Our friend Coolidge has had no other experience than the Mechanical Horse and that is hardly sufficient. Then again we would add that the California "Group" voter is not tied up particularly, as far as any favors that the California "Group" voter, with the Coolidge administration. As Republicans we all of us without regard to "Group" laud him for his sanity in the administration of the nation's affairs. His attitude in the handling of business interests, and his foreign policies—aside from Haiti which we cannot condone—in keeping us from foreign entanglements. But there are others and just as capable, loyal and patriotic.

"We remember with what fidelity for four years he guarded our defenseless women and children whose husbands and fathers were fighting against his freedom. To his credit be it said that whenever he struck a blow for his own liberty he fought in open battle, and when he raised his black and bumble hands that the shackles might be struck off, those hands were innocent of wrong against his helpless charges and worthy to be taken in loving grasp by every man who honors loyalty and devotion."

Thus spoke Henry Grady, one of the most far-seeing men the South has produced. What Mr. Grady said every man, woman and child knows to be the absolute truth. But the passiveness of the government in arresting the trend of lawlessness has lent encouragement to the perpetration of the most fiendish and brutal crimes against those same black men whose hand "is worthy to be taken in loving grasp."

Have you read a copy of the "History of the American People;" Beard and Bagley? It is to be used as a text book in the Schools of California. If there ever was an apology made to England for losing the War of the Revolution, Messrsr. Beard and Bagley have tried to make it. Great events in the history of the nation; as the Boston Massacre; the Battle of Bunker Hill and other events which are by heritage America's pride, are glossed over in the most precursory manner. No names are given of those men who fell in Boston Common. It might have hurt British pride to have elaborated on some of the events. Likewise with the War of the Rebellion; the authors might invite Southern resentment if they chronicle the events "without bias." But the poor Negro! one has only to read through those chapters to discern, not only the bias, but the propoganda that seeks to insinuate racial inferiority. We believe that this is the text book which was attacked by the Hearst Papers as Pro-English. However, it got by the Board of Education is a marvel.

Politics in and about the Capitol is quiet. The Governor is busy inspecting and signing the bills bequeathed by the last legislature. We hear a lot of rumors concerning the appointment of the Federal Judge Ships for the north of the State. And so far we believe that Mrs. Willdebraut has been eliminated.

* * *

There is the usual scramble among the "Group" politicians to be among the "Who's Who" but when the book is printed the social register will be abbreviated somewhat. There will be "heaps" of fun pretty soon—maybe.

War Declared on Lower California Land & Development Company

If among any of our readers there are still those who have a lingering doubt as to our steadfastness of purpose or determination to once and for all clean the soiled linen of the Mexican Land and Development Company, the following letter to the Corporation Commissioner of the State of California is our reply.

We rely on facts and facts alone to bring us victory and justice. To others who have a purpose to hide, we leave the oily tongue and smooth language which has done so much damage within our ranks. Read the following letter with its story of errors, injustice and deceit and know within your soul we are justified as we are constant to our purpose. Watch for the answer we hope to divulge to you next week.

1371 East Washington St.,
Los Angeles, Calif.,
May 30, 1927.

HON. J. M. FRIEDLANDER,
Corporation Commissioner, State of California,
Sacramento, California.

Dear Sir:

We are writing you concerning a matter some of the incidents of which you may recall. While you occupied the office of City Prosecutor of the City of Los Angeles, durng 1926, Messrs. J. N. Littlejohn, C. A. Troy and J. H. Stevens, visited your office once or twice and also sent you one or two communications relative to an unfair automobile raffle that Attorney Hugh E. Macbeth had promoted.

Previous to our visit to your office, we had visited the District Attorney's office and placed the matter before him. case involved over one thousand dollars in ticket sales and collections but the district attorney stated that it was only a misdemeanor case and referred us to you. We came to you and were cordially received. You also readily proved to us that according to the law, you were powerless to prosecute as the offense had been committed more than a year previous to our complaint.

After a few weeks filled with painstaking and tireless effort onr our part, we got the matter before the Los Angeles County Grand Jury. This Grand Jury was dismissed from further jury service in the midst of its investigation. Since that time we have attempted through the District Attorney's office, and other channels to submit this matter along with other matters that are of greater magnitude and graver importance to the present Grand Jury, but our efforts have been unsuccessful.

Please do not understand us to be trying to criticize the District Attorney's office, or the Grand Jury, or to be trying to force or request your office in conflict with any other County or State office, for that is not our purpose.

The matters of which we have previously spoken of as being of "greater magnitude and graver importance" are matters that we think come directly under the supervision of the California State Corporation Commission. We herewith submit it to you for your consideration.

The Lower California Mexican Land and Development Co., a corporation, operating and selling stock under the California State Corporation Laws, has perpetrated and still continues to perpetrate some acts that according to our opinions seriously need some investigation. All three of the undersigned parties are stockholders in this company, the total of our investments being around eight thousand dollars.

Nine years ago this company was incorporated and for the past five or six years has been selling stock to the public. Since January 1, 1927, we have finally forced its officers to have its books audited for the first time during these nine years of operation.

This company is supposed to own 8,000 acres of farming land in Lower California, Mexico, on which they are selling this stock. No records or papers or even testimony was given the auditor to even prove that the company holds any kind of a title or claim to these properties. The records show that eight men of whom seven are now members of the Board of Directors of the company, bought this land personally nine years ago when they were first incorporated but the records do not show that these men have made any transfer or sale of this land to the company which has been for several years and is still selling stock to the public since January 1, 1927. The records show that this piece of property was purchased at the price of $39,000.00; $78,000.00 of the people's money has been collected and spent and still the company owes a balance of $22,000.00 on the property.

False statement upon false statement has been made to the State Corporation Commission to obtain permits to sell this stock by Mr. Hugh E. Macbeth who was then acting in the capacity of the company's secretary, attorney, director and general supervisor. The office of secretary, attorney and director came through election to those positions. In one of his applications to the commission, Mr. Macbeth stated that $26,000.00 had been spent by the company in improvement upon its properties through the purchase of farming machinery and implements and the purchase of cattle, and erection of buildings. We can prove to you, or to anyone for that matter, that we have not bought a cow, or built a single house since the company began its stock campaign.

All three of us have served for several years on the Board of Directors of this company and it has taken three years of constant fight on our part to get the company's books audited. We fully realize that we will be involved to a certain extent upon the investigation of this company's affairs, but it makes no difference with us. We are ashamed of this affair and we feel that it is high time that some protecton should be given the stockholders, and especally the poor, old colored women, many of whom have put all they had into this proposition. The auditor recommended receivership for this company, but we prefer and request that you give it a simple investigation first if possible. We shall be glad to furnish you or your deputy with copy of auditor's report and any other information you may wish at once.

Thanking you in advance for any service you may render us, we are,

Very respectfully yours,
J. H. STEVENS

Arkansas Mob Seeks Another Victim

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Little Rock, Ark., June 2.—The lynching epidemic, which had its genesis when a mob sought to lynch Lonnie Dixon accused of murdering a white girl, broke out anew here Wednesday when a mob of some two hundred men seized the rifles, with which they had snuffed out the life of John Carter and terrorized Negroes throughout the city a few weeks ago, searched every probable hiding place for an unknown Negro who was supposed to have struck down and attempted to assault a white woman Tuesday afternoon.

The woman reported that a Negro had attacked her while she was picking flowers in a strip of woods near her home Tuesday afternoon. As the report was circulated, the thirst for blood grew more acute and the mob formed for the purpose of "aiding the officers in their search". Bloodhounds were brought from Hot Springs but the rains during the evening rendered them useless. The human bloodhounds, however, took up the scent but like their canine brothers had to give up the task.

The officers, according to reports, were inclined to doubt the woman's story saying she had given more than one version of the affair. But it was further reported that a man answering the description had been arrested but the officers were afraid to take the prisoner before the woman for positive identification, fearing mob violence.

Thus another chapter is being written in Little Rock's "reign of terror" which has resulted in the lynching of one Negro, the driving away of others and alleged plans of a wholesale exodus of Negroes from the city.

Woman Held For Murder Of Husband

(By The Associated Negro Press)

Memphis, Tenn. June 2.—Charged with murder of her husband whom she is said to have shot Monday night, Mrs. Lillian Nelson was arrested Wednesday afternoon and is being held without bond on a charge of murder in the first degree. Mrs. Nelson is alleged to have shot her husband when they got into an argument on North Second Street.

City And County Officers' Actions In Robbery-Assault Hunt Commended

Officers of the city and county who have been diligently combing the city and vicinity for the men accused of several cases of robbery and assault, are to be commended for not indiscriminately arresting innocent Negroes right and left without sufficient evidence, as is often done in other cases in other cities. The vigilant officers, both white and colored, who are working on the case will soon have them in custody.

One of the women leaped from a two story window in an attempt t oescape.

Idella Jenkins Paralyzed By Lover's Bullet In Gun, Chair, Scissors Battle

Mrs. Idella Jenkns, who was shot by her lover, James Anderson Sunday night, is in a serious condition in the hospitd paralyzed from her shoulders down. The ball fired by Anderson is thought to have lodged in her spine, and cannot be probed for. The near tragedy occured when his paramour wanted to go to Dreamland Cabaret. His objection brought on a fight during which she first struck him with a chair, so he states. Following this, when she rushed him with a pair of sharp scissors he fired the sole bullet in an old fashioned bull-dog revolver with the above results. He is being held i nthe county jail awaiting results.

Brilliant Affair Honoring Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. George Brown of 1518 108th Street of Los Angeles, Calif., gave a reception at their beautiful home for their son, George, and bride who was formerly Miss Catherine Citrus of Berkeley, who were married June 1st in Berkeley, California. The house was very beautifully decorated. The color scheme being pink and white. In the dining room on the table sat the wedding cake which was 18 inches high. It being carried out in pink and white. On top of the cake stood a miniature bride and groom. In the middle of the large, spacious living room hung a huge wedding bell. Refreshments were served on small pink and white flower baskets. The bride was beautifully gowned in white georgette trimmed with white tulle lace that was brought over from Spain by her sister for the occasion and white satin slippers. The women were clad in beautiful evening gowns and the men in their full dress suits. The guests were 150 in number. From two to four the guests were entertained by the talented singer, Miss Fields, who sang "I love you truly". Also by Mrs. Loreno Flippin who sang "Always". Mrs. F. White, the classical dancer, danced a Russian dance; and Mrs. Josephine Brown danced the Charleston. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing by the guests. The music was furnished by Fred Skinner's orchestra. The guests were introduced to the bride and groom by Miss Jessie Mingoes.

After the reception the bride and groom left on their honeymoon for a tour of the East. The bride wore a stunning blue suit and a small white felt hat with a quill feather on the side.

Excursion To San Bernardino July 4th

The Colored Citizen Alliance of San Bernardino, headed by the leading citizens of that city, have procured the buildings and grounds of the National Orange Show on which to hold the Monster Barbecue and Picnic on July 4th.

This promises to be by far the grandest affair ever given in this section and all surrounding towns and cities will participate. Los Angeles is making arrangements to send out a record breaking excursion on the Pacific Electric Railway, which runs directly to the grounds. The rate proposed is $2.00 the round trip.

Particulars and names of officials will be published in our next issue.

Suffice it to say everybody get ready for the grandest De Luxe Picnc and Barbecue ever given in California at San Bernardino on Monday, July 4th.

MACK HOUSE HAS BIG SET-BACK

HIS KNOCK-OUT BY CLISBY SAID BY EXPERTS TO BE FIRST REAL TEST

"The California Bear" with a string of wins was finally captured, corralled and slain at Pasadena last Thursday by a bear hunter by the name of Mr. Neil Clisby. Boxing experts discussing the big surprise say they were not surprised. Watson Burns, manager of House, is a wise manager, but no matter how carefully you pick the men your boy is to box, first and last he meets one whom a name does not frighten and really gets rough with the long ender. So in checking back they find that such men as Willie Palmer, a middleweight, or Ralph Smith, a big, green amateur were not nearly the tests for a good, heavyweight as Clisby who put up a better battle against Jimmy Byrne last July at Ascot Park until he broke his hand than did Mack later at Culver City. And now they are accusing Burns of attempting to bring his boy into Godfrey class too quickly; a man who would kill him or any other heavyweight on the Coast. Expectations of bouts back East will probably go glimmering now, but then it may be best in the long run for an occasional loss does a real fighter good; destroys over-confidence, and induces him to build up the preparedness that makes him able to "take 'em" on the chin or stomach.

JOE HUDSON HAS GREAT FUTURE

MADE FINE SHOWING IN SEMI-WINDUP AT PASADENA, THURSDAY

Mr. Jos. Kinzer, real estate broker, enjoying a profitable business here, never could get sound of mitt smacks out his blood and the big thrill of fight arenas as he is an old time fighter himself. So just for diversion he took in hand a big colored boy whom he discovered shining shoes on the West Side. He had all the earmarks of a fighter and was anxious to rise in the game so he told Mr. Kinzer and it ended up in the former boxer becoming the manager of Joe Hudson, the boy who put up such a great battle against Ernest Benry at the opening of Morie Cohan's new stadium in Pasadena last Thursday.

Hudson did a little boxing before his bout over there but scarcely more than gym bouts, so this fight though it showed he can fight is not hardly a sample of what he will put up in a little more tutelage under his able manager. Six rounds is hardly enough to get this great boy started so in a ten-round bout there are very few boys in his weight will be able to stay through the limit with him. Many promoters who saw him battle Thursday became interested he will probably be flooded with offers.

HAM AND EGGS
Chas. Moore

A colorful comedy is being filmed at Warner Bros. Vitagraph lot. It has to do with the doing of the famous 92nd Division, Overseas in the Big Fuss.

This picture should be a Riot "Toot Sooet."

• • •

The Old Vitagraph lot was a replica of "Anywhere in France" last Tuesday when 200 Colored ex-soldiers from the United Veterans of the Republic Unit, 112, in uniform and full field equipment, under command of Captain Bradley, ex-U. S. Army Officer, Spencer Williams, Manager of the U. V. R. Free Employment Division and Secretary Oscar Morgan, put through their paces in the primary filming of this picture. And believe me, the boys "did their stuff."

TENNIS CHATTER

OAKLAND TO GET PACIFIC COAST CHAMPIONSHIPS TOURNAMENT SEPTEMBER 4-5

ALPHA TO HOLD LOCAL TOURNEY JULY 3-4

By: William Mells Watson—155 Court Street

The Western Federation of Tennis Clubs ground out a car-load of real business at its regular meeting last Wednesday night and started the season off at a break neck pace.

The Bay Cities Tennis Club of Oakland was voted the opportunity of playing host this year to the Fifth Annual Pacific Coast Championships Tournament September 4 and 5, and if that club can make satisfactory guarantees (which they have practicaly already done) the southern aggregations might as well begin overhauling flivvers and cheviots and also getting the old cat gut paddles strung up for a Labor Day jaunt to the fog belt.

The Alpha Tennis Club also came to life with a request to hold a Men's and Women's singles argumnt on Jefferson High School courts July 3 and 4 in order to whet the tennis appetites of local net artists who plan to march to Oakland to bring back "all the eight championship cups."

This brand of sudden activity ought to send cold shivvers up and down the spines of many slipping champs and near-champs among local athletes.

The Federation wishes to inform all clubs please decorate cashtill with the annual dues, $4 each, as on July 1st they are all unfinancial and that automaticaly makes all players ineligible for tournament play, so shake a leg or it will just be too bad.

Honorable mention must be made of Mesdames Josephine Marlea Carmelita Brown and Nellie Magnolia Carlisle; the former for breaking down racial barriers and entering the recent city-wide tournament at Griffith Park and made a creditable showing in women's singles against all comes and received an invitation to enter the next net contest.

President Edde Carlisle's wifey is now among the high hat crowd, having recently presented her five-year old son a fine robust brother, and as a result Eddie is now smoking two stogies per week instead of two per day as of yore. Here's to the new tennis play, Eddie.

800 Witness 10th Annual "Y" Track Meet

Over 800 track enthusiasts saw the E. A. C. All-Star Team win the 10th Annual Y. M. C. A. Meet at the Jefferson High School Field last Monday.

In the Open Class, the E. A. C. garnered 58½ points, Hi-Y Varsity 43½, Y. M. D. 20, Flashes, 5, and the Fire Fighters 1. In Class B the Junior Hi-Y romped away with 36¾ points, Manual Hi-Y grabbed 15¾ and the Hi-Y Midgets managed to get 10 points.

James Stocks of the E. A. C. was high point man with a total of 12¼ points.

The outstanding feat of the Meet was Ed Shaw's 6 ft. 3¾ inch leap to win the high jump.

Charlie Dade and Walter Townes were the only double event winners of the day. The former led the rest to the tap in the 100-yd dash in the fast time of 10:1-5 sec. and won the 220 in 22:2-5 sec. Townes copped both the hurdls, the lows in 26 sec and the highs in 16 flat.

In Class B, Jack Bratton won the 100 yd. dash in 10:3-5 sec. and cleaned up in the low hurdles.

Everyjbody said it was a frame-up when Martin and Cook, both of the Y. M. D. tied for first place in the 880 and the mile.

Walter Mailes is one of the biggest drawing cards in the Coast League. The Great Mailes is the only player in the League that can send you home with a big laugh.

If you don't like the ball game Mailes will give you a concert on the cornett; what more can you ask for 75c

• • •

I saw a ball game in San Francisco one day, Mailes team was leading 3 to 2 in the 9th and 3 on and 2 outs and Fighting Ton Larid coming to bat. Mailes called the outfield in and said, "Watch me strike this big Irishman out." And Mailes struck Mr. Larid out and won the ball game 3 to 2. Larid never talked to the great Walter Mailes any.

• • •

sure will kiss that ball out of the lot.

Los Angeles club better look out for Earl Kings with 3 on base because he sur will kis that ball out of the lot.

Kings is sure a sweet hitter. He doesn't have to pitch ball, he can play the outfield any old day and make the pitchers moan. Kings likes to bat against an old friend Joe Devine. Kings hits the ball so hard against Devine that the outfields are chasing the ball yet.

• • •

Watch this young catch Vargars how he can throw the ball to second base. Vargars got his arm in San Bernardino throwing cherries at old man Matthews, the San Bernardino poolroom king.

I know a red-head girl, she is a good fellow but everytime I see her she has a black eye. She don't get them in the dance hall, that's a cinch.

I wish you better luck next time, Red.

I saw Joe Sylvester, big butter and egg man, from China, yesterday. He told me he was going to do a cmeback. I told him he never went away yet. Well, good luck to you Joe, but don't go to China, Joe.

L. A. GIANTS PLUCK L. A. EAGLE'S WINGS 9 TO 6

PLAY RICHFIELD OLLINDAS SUNDAY, JUNE 12TH

The F. O. E. No. 102 Baseball team, a strong organization of white players, all of whom are members of the lodge, met their match in the winning L. A. Giants at Bell, Cal., Sunday, June 6th. The Giants now on the up-grade, are giving the fans an idea of the kind of ball they will play on their return to the home grounds.

Carl Hewit, the star rightfielder, was the hero of the day, making 4 runs and 3 hits in 4 times at bat. Goins started catching Foote, couldn't hold him and retired for Horn who finished. Slim William, formerly White Sox star, played outfield. By the way, Foote has returned to the team to stay. Goins the new captain is lining up the men nicely. The score follows:

L. A. Giants	101	001	231	0—	9
Hits	001	021	032	2—	10
Eagles	012	030	000	1—	6
Hits	012	031	200	0—	9

Billy Evans under Protecting Wing of Eagle

With Mr. Syl Stewart of the Bond Broker firm of Murray and Stewart, the Soaring Eagle is going to make a special effort to let the local promoters know what a chance they are missing in letting a boy like Billy stay idle so long. This great little feather from the East has had only two fights on the Coast since his arrival, both of which he went through with honors. He is fast, game and clever, at the same time a fine, willing and gentlemanly fellow, a credit to the sport.

"Look Out Big Boy, Here Comes Sam Baker," Says Cherokee Tom

Cherokee Tom Cox known as the ex-fighter manager who Baby Gans credits as making him the great boxer he is comes out with a statement to the flock of heavyweights that have been eliminating each other throughout the country. He warns them that his other great protege Sam Baker is going to take them one by one and eliminate the whole gang. Fans back East who read this will remember back two years ago of the giant boy who was crashing through the heavies on the Coast and was considered as a contender for Dempsey's coveted crown. Sam was only 20 then and winning every fight among them, beating Floyd Johnson who fought Wills in the East. About that time movie directors of the Hollywood studios became attracted to Sam at first sight on account of his great height, being 6¼ feet tall of perfect measurements and great strength. So between fights he was in great demand in the films. Popular demand sent him against George Godfrey with the result that in spite of a great battle he lost, and broke half of Hollywood who bet their next year's grocery budgets that their favorite would beat anybody.

So Sam signed up for the "Sea Beast," "Tarzan and the Golden Lion," "The Missing Link" and many other features and has been very busy ever since. Now, the studios want to hold him but Sam is taking the fight game seriously and is going after the big boys right.

Mack House being dead now to the Pasadena fight fans, Morrie Cohan wants to pit Long Tom Hawkins and Baker in what will be one of the greatest heavyweight battles on the Coast. If Sam wins which he figures to do then Morrie will match him against all the heavies who have been busting in Tex Rickard's tournament. After finishing them up he wants to wipe out the Godfrey defeat and will be again an active contender for Mr. Tunney's college degree. So that is why his manager says, "Look out big boy!"

GIRL-ETICS

by:
GLADYS MATHONICAN

Just as soon as the co-eds cool off from the excitement of graduation all eyes will be turned to the water. So far among our girls no really great swimmers have been developed but it is expected that with frequent practice at Elsinore and other waters there will soon be some great local stars.

Incidentally, girls, water polo teams are now ancient history in Los Angeles and its environs. An attempt was made last year to establish the sport and as a result three teams were organized that were fit for competition. The three teams, from the L. A. A. C., the Hollywood Athletic Club and the Venice Swimming association, met and fought for the national title which was won by the L. A. A. C. and since then the game has been a dead issue.

Now and then some enthusiastic girl player turns up but they are few and far between. It is not a game girls take to readily. Furthermore most girl swimmers lose more than they gain by playing the game. They are apt to lost whatever good swimming form they have conscientiously and pioddingly learned.

None of the coaches in town seem to feel that it would be worth while to assemble and coach a team.

So with no co-operation from either side it would seem that the game is dead. Long live the game.

BABY JOE GANS WINS IN SENSATIONAL BATTLE

GONZALES IS GAME AND TOUGH OPPONENT

Baby Joe Gans (the Young Master) beat the most dangerous opponent Tuesday, June 7th at the Olympic Auditorium that he has met since the Callahan quarrel. This was Alfonzo Gonzales the sensational Mexican flash from El Paso, a stablemate of Ace Hudkins and who fights a little like the Wild-Cat.

Although prior to the fight the dopsters had figured Gans to win as a 2 to 1 favorite, great interest was attached to the match, because of Gonzales' win over Tommy O'Brien at Hollywood Stadium.

Gonzales started throwing gloves right from the first and Baby Gans had to bring all his speed, cleverness and punching power into play in order to offset the Mexican's attack. A large crowd of approximately 10,000 cheered Gans to the echo as he stepped into the ring and almost an equal cheer arose from the ranks of the Gonzales followers.

Any boy less strong and tough than Gonzales would have been out before the fight was half gone, but several times when staggered under Gans' hard punches the boy's head would clear and he would recover in remarkably short time.

Olympic Auditorium to be Scene of Vacca-Brown Argument

VACCA HOPES TO REPEAT WHAT HE DID TO LA BARBA

The boy that the Coast fight fans and followers of our own Fidel have been waiting to view in person is here and will turn his guns on Newsboy Brown at the Olympic, Tuesday, June 14th. This is none other than Johnny Vacca. Local fans have seen Brown in action, but the little Italian who sat the Los Angeles school boy flyweight champion down in two different bouts sprung into the limelight from that, so it will be a novelty to the big crowd who will pile out to see him go. The whole bill follows:

Jack Miller vs. Manuel Bunitero, 4 rounds, 148 pounds; Special Event, Billy Blake vs. Frankie Tondorf, 6 rounds, 135 pounds; Semi-Windup Lon Bogash vs. K. O. Brown, 10 rounds, 170 lbs., Main Event, Johnny Vacca vs. Newsboy Brown, 10 rounds, 117 pounds.

Along Fisticuffs Row

PEDRO AMADOR should have gotten at least a draw with Tony Lucia, Tuesday night. Pedro fights in similar style to his great little stablemate Zorilla.

• • •

MANHATTAN GYM is still popular with the boys regardless of the hot weather. Mushy Callahan just returned has started working there, also a lot of other headliners.

• • •

MAIN ST. A. C. is the center of attraction with Newsboy Brown, the Joint Gulles, Russel, Hugely, Soto Meira and other stables working out there.

• • •

VERNON GYMNASIUM has Baby Gans, the new fighter, Williams, and a bunch of other boxers, taking advantage of the hand-ball court and swimming pool.

• • •

EDNEST BENDY is doing fine for his second start. The draw with Hoffman could have been a decision for Bendy.

• • •

TIGER JACKIE BURNS won't have to complain any more about not getting enough bouts, he is in big demand now.

Skiff-Skimmers' Derby, Sunday Across the Channel

MANY WOMEN ENTRIES

The long-looked for channel rowboat race will take place Sunday, July 3 and as in the swim marathon, this publication will be represented on the "Press Boat."

Many women are among the carpulling contestants. Lottie Schoemmel and Martha Steger, feminine participants in the recent William Wrigley swim across the channel, will be among the entrants in the rowboat competition. Before the race gets under way it is expected that seventy or more contstants will be awaiting the starting signal.

Old Time Colored Fighters I have Met in the Old Bare Knuckle Days

BY: JOE SOTO

The first colored fighter I ever met and fought was in 1877, a 128 lb. man named "Happy Joe." We fought in the back yard of Callendar, a sailor's employment agent in Frisco. We fought 27 rounds by London prize ring rules on the bare ground with bare knuckles.

Peter Jackson was the greatest fighter, ring general and all-around gentleman, ever in the game. I met him at the California Club in Frisco and saw him in most of his fights and in his training at Alameda and at Joe Dean's road house.

I boxed many a time with the great George Dixon. If George had been a white man with his cleverness and gentlmanly qualities there is nothing on earth would have been too good for him.

I boxed Joe Wolcott a four-round draw but that fellow seemed almost inhuman with his great strength and ability to shake off punches and come for more.

I brought Gorilla Jones out West from the East; one of the best men ever in the ring. He used to say he'd fight them all from a "feather to a ton."

Speaking of Joneses, I had another little colored fellow called "Deacon Jones", he only measured 4 foot 7 inches, a southpaw weighing 110 lbs., but fought lightweights, welterweights and heavyweights—anybody. A great little fighter and the first southpaw in America, really a curiosity. Sometimes I think there are no fighters now like these great colored gladiators but more about the old timers next issue.

Lade-e-z and Gents, This is Blackie Miller!

Maybe you know him, maybe you have seen him fight about three years ago around Portland, Frisco and other wild and wooly places where he was listed among the West's best lightweights. But, anyhow, he now occupies the worthy position of trainer and rubber at the Main St. A. C.

Meet Mr. Blackie Miller. It stands to reason an ex-fighter ought to make the best trainer and rubber on the number of applications coming in from boys on school vacation for the 15-hour course he knows there is a big demand. He has trained and handled such great as Jack Malloy, Benny Leonard, Sammy Mandel and Joe Azevedo and is now directing the physical training of Norman Brown.

MAKING PROGRESS

Last week the Colored populace of Los Angeles were given their first extra colored paper ever published in Los Angeles, when a sporting extra was put on the streets on the eve of the Chick Suggs-Bud Taylor fight by the California Eagle, leading colored weekly of this city. Thousand of copies were sold to eager buyers which shows their appreciation of the progress this weekly is making in journalism. Much credit for this feat goes to Harry Levette, Sporting Editor of The California Eagle. Mr. Lavette is by far the leading sports writer in the State of California, and has gained this reputation by hard work and study. He is a wide-awake young man who never fails to grasp an opportunity when presented to exploit the colored athlete. He is very highly respected among the white sports writers of this city and is a credit to colored journalism. We take our hats off to Mr. Levette and wish for his continued success.

WRITER GOES EAST

By the time my readers are scanning the Railroad Clatter, the writer will be heading for Chicago with the Radio Dealers of California. Maybe I can arrange to broadcast the Railroad Clatter by radio. People say that I am gifted for broadcasting, so listen in every night, you never can tell what will happen. The radio men have arranged their Pullman and will keep up with all events as they travel East. This is a fast world unless you can keep up with the rest you will find yourself bringing up the rear. From the way that things look at the present writing it looks to me like my wife will be the Maid on the same train that I am to go East on. That being the case I expect to land in Chicago broke. Whata life! whata life!!

J. CARTER NO. 1 GOES ON SHRINERS' SPECIAL

J. Carter, No. 1, left Los Angeles on the much talked of Shriners' Special for Atlantic City. It will be a hard old grind and when the boys get back they should take a week off up in Elsinore and rest up. They will have 18 days of continuous service and that is not any easy job. The Railroad Clatter wishes them luck.

FACTS ABOUT SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Southern Pacific pioneered the West. It has been largely responsible for Western development. Its rails have been thrust into new and unproductive districts. Farms and industries have followed. Southern Pacific in 1924, 1925 and 1926 has had more new railroad construction in hand than any other railroad in the United States. The main projects in this construction program have been completion of the Natron cut-off in Oregon; construction of the new line in Arizona from Welton to Picacho, which places Phoenix on a main railroad line and with the former El Paso and Southwestern lines provides a second track almost the entire distance between Yuma and El Paso; and the 102 miles of line being built between Tepic and La Quemada, Mexico, to provide a connection with the Mexican National Railways and through route down the West Coast of Mexico to Mexico City. More about the Southern Pacific next week.

PILLOW SLIPS

W. Carter and J. Carter No. 2 brothers were both born in the month of June. We wonder if they are twins?

The extra board is still a tough proposition these days.

Mr. J. D. Benton wants the boys to stop bumping J. D. and let him make a living, and I don't blame her.

The only line that J. D. Benton can hold is the red car line between Los Angeles and Watts.

The rat is waiting for you J. D. with open arms. Why not try this till things pick up.

The boys seem to be kicking up on the "Owl." How come?

J. Carter bumped in on the Gold Coast and was receiving passengers when Mr. Ross pulled him off in the depot to go on the Shriners' Special.

Some of those high class Southern Pacific Red Caps tore the birthday list down that was posted in the locker room by the writer for information. Maybe they thought the writer wanted to publish their real age.

H. L. Armstrong has been under the weather for a couple trips and laid off.

I wonder did the Frisco Porters give Mr. C. A. Roth a loving cup when he went to Boston?

J. Wortham is still setting them on fire with his new Essex. You can't hit Daddy Jack with a red apple now.

Tell your friends about the Railroad Clatter. If you can't get a kick out of the news you better see a doctor, because you have lost all sence of humor.

REORGANIZE PULLMAN PORTERS BAND

At last Los Angeles is about to have a crack Pulman Porters Band. For many months this district has been waiting to hear this glad news, but on account of matters vitally affecting the band it was withheld. The new Los Angeles Pulman Porters Band will be composed entirely of Pullman Porters operating out of the Los Angeles district. The Pullman Company will have absolutely nothing whatever to do with it other than to arrange for members to be in town on the dates when performances will be given. It was thought best to maintain the name of Pullman Porters Band because of the fact that its members are all Pullman Porters. It will be largely financed by its own members, popular subscription, and entertainments. At the present writing the Band has $70.75 in the treasury. The following porters are requested to get in touch with A. Noel whose address is 1801 E. 115th St., phone DElaware 1201-J-5, or A. Jones No. 2, HUmbolt 7307-W, address 1338 E. 42nd St.:

Thomas; N. Young; E. Ollison; J. Bell, Jr.; J. W. Peery. Get in touch with A Noel or E. Jones No 2 at once.

A monster band meeting will be held at the Southern Pacific Storeroom on Wednesday, June 22nd and Thursday, 23rd at 1 P. M. sharp. If you are in town, come to one of these meetings as Mr. A. Noel has a great surprise for those who attend and are interested.

UNION PACIFIC DOPE

By: J. R.

The stealthy approach of June without the advance notice of torrid days, found all crews true to form and hitting on all six.

"Fanning the Flames of Popularity" is a pastime with Dining Car crew No. 304 the May Auxiliary of "Arrowhead," a magazine published by the Union Pacific carries a photo of the diner taken on an exhibition tour at Pasadena with Steward H. W. McCully; Pantryman Wm. Lavar; Lineman Fred Floyd; Joe Bakestraw, as Barman.

Miss M. C. Pickens, our dainty little "Gold Coast" maid was included in the personnel of the hand-picked crew to man the Rotary Special to Tennessee.

Randolph Stevens, the official "Chimes" operator of diner 304 has been added to the ccollecton as the "Eighth wonder of the world."

Yellowstone Special

The famous Yellow Stone tours that are an added feature each year to the tourists and a pain to porters, waiters and maids will begin operation on the 29th of June. Get ready for "Snake Bites."

Jess Thomas formerly of the U. P. is operating on an "All Day Lunch" car on the S. P. Oakland to Ogden.

Edward Vaughn is in the market for "Bachelor Quarters." Wa hat thought this sheik was ALTAR BOUND.

Wm. Lovan is a new subscriber for the "Eagle."

The L. A. Limited 1926

The Los Angeles Limited which has had many names namely: "Sad Sam," "The S. F. and E." "Dead Head Special," has at last come into its own, a number of porters, waiters and maids who have been financialy insolvent have a chance now to step out of it.

Don't forget to send in your subscriptions to this paper, the only weekly that carries news and doings of railroad men.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

On Monday night when Mr. Edward Parker entered his home at 1138 E. 56th Street, to retire for the night, his loving wife, Mrs. Mary V. Parker, had prepared for him a wonderful birthday cake lit up with candles on the dining room table and a number of their friends were hidden in the living room and had brought lovely presents to help his loving little wife to surprise him. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harris of E. 56th Street; Mr. and Mrs. Porter Johnson of 1154 E. 56th Street; Mr. and Mrs. Parish of 57th Street; Mr. and Mrs. McClinton of 12th Street; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson of 1532 E. 52nd Street; Mr. and Mrs. Davis of 52nd St. and Compton; Mr. H. G. Grayson of 5210½ Compton Avenue; Mr. Jasper Cross and daughter; Mrs. Nash of Jefferson Street; Mr. Walter Reynolds of Hooper Avenue; Miss Letha Steele of 12th Street; Mrs. Delilah Robinson, of Jefferson Street; Mrs. Murrel Robinson; Mrs. Rhodes; Mr. J. C. Smith and Mr. Robt. D. Coneld.

Mr. Edward Parker extends many thanks to our friends for their great surprise and will be very glad to be surprised at any time.

AUTOMOBILE VS. AIRPLANE

CAPT. LINDBERGH WRITES HISTORY

Mr. Someone informed us the other day if you see a thing in the newspaper three times, it is true. If such is the case, then truly Captain Charles Lindbergh's startling feat of spanning that great body of water in a non-stop flight from New York to Paris, must be an accomplished fact, nay, is so, for verily say I unto you, not only have newspapers given it three but 14 days' headlines and the end is not yet in sight.

Great is the spectacular achievement of this young American, who, single-handed and alone, risked his life to prove to the world that the airplane is the coming system of transportation as regards both passenger and freight traffic.

In the world's mad onward rush to save time, electricity and gasoline, have particularly supplanted steam. Mountain grades, tunnels, waterways and the sandy, waterless deserts are no longer formidable obstacles in one's travels. The air transportation is in its infancy. Many lives have been sacrificed in gaining for the airplane its present status. But the sacrifice of human life has always played its part wherever science has recorded its record of achievements.

Time was when the steam engine was to be looked upon as sort of freak of nature, when the automobile was considered nothing more or less than an expensive luxury, that only the wealthy could afford, time was when the airplane enjoyed the status of the engine and automobile, but time has wrought miracles and man with his ingenious mind has out of the various minerals, gathered from the bowels of the earth caused to be brought to pass, records of mechanical achievements that today startle the world.

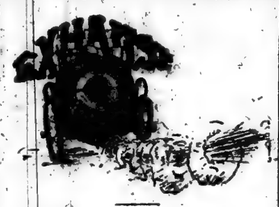
It is not unreasonable to predict with the great strides toward perfection that the airplane in today making, aerial navigation in the next 20 years will have developed to the point where it will play a prominent part in solving transportation problems. Air ships that are at present built to carry anywhere from 1 to a dozen will tomorrow be constructed to carry a hundred passengers and tons of freight.

Lindbergh, the Columbus of the air is to be commended for his wonderful feat which has proven to the world that automobile and steam traffic is passing and in their stead is slowly using the aeroplane.

AUTO THEFTS IN L. A. COUNTY DECREASE

SHERIFF'S OFFICE ANNOUNCES 30 PER CENT REDUCTION IN CARS REPORTED STOLEN IN MONTH OF APRIL

Motor car owners in the county were $100,000 better off in April than in March. A 30 per cent reduction in automobile thefts reported stolen to the sheriff's office was announced yesterday by Sheriff William I. Traeger.



The stealing of automobiles is the most prevalent crime in the county, the sheriff stated, and up to the first of the year there has been a continual increase in these thefts each month. Over 13,000 cars, having a conservative value of $3,500,000 were reported stolen in 1926. The recent reduction is attributed by the sheriff to be due largely to co-operation being obtained from the public applying precautionary measures.

Through the Bureau of Public Relations of the sheriff's department, audiences of approximately half a million people weekly are being advised on how to take precautions against crime. Nearly 100,000 circulars have been distributed, giving instructions to motor car owners.

More than 125,000 high school students, members of service clubs, women's clubs and civic organizations have been addressed in the last 90 days by deputy sheriffs and asked to co-operate in the fight made against auto thefts. Four radio stations broadcast the sheriff's precautionary measures each week, and many newspapers have actively assisted in printing information in their columns, Traeger stated.

Fines of Autoists Total $100,000,000

Motorists must pay between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 a year in fines for violating the traffic laws, according to the American Automobile Association. That organization plans to wage an educational campaign which, it is expected, will result in considerable revenue by fining transient autoists for the slightest infraction.

We always knew Los Angeles' Colored population had one or two automobiles, but after viewing the uptown parade last Sunday in honor of the fighting 10th Cavalry Band, then heading for the home grounds (Central Avenue) and viewing some 20 blocks of congested auto traffic might, we add to the above and then some. In fact, we saw so many autos that we couldn't see the people. Not even our intimate friends.

Never shall we forget that jam. It really looked like a belated armistice celebration 10 years late. There was not even breathing space to be had.

Some Machines!

And of the several thousand machines we saw only three were Fords. You know Fords nowadays are looked upon as mules and work horses and it being Sunday, a holiday, folks just hitched Henry to the stall and drove out in their best.

There were big cars and little cars. Enclosed cars and open cars. There were automobiles and machines, handsome cars and ugly looking cars, dressed in their best array. Cadillacs and Pierce Arrows, Lincolns, Chevrolets, a few Packards and Studebakers, yes, and a Rolls Royce too. A Dodge was sprinkled here and there, some Auburns were on hand, Nashes and Chandlers. Quite a few Reos too. There were some without names, without license tags, some with just enough gas to get back home. Some with leaks, lots with squeaks, some hitting two and three. The Buick and the Marmon, they strutted down the line. The famous Hudson & Essex came too, looking fine and while we were drinking in this sight, some one said: "Here they come!" And the band played, "Who'd a Thunk It!" as the boys came marching by shoulders erect, colors flying, autos standing by. 'Twas a sight that all enjoyed and as the last car rambled by, a rush was made that cleaned the streets and as that's all, bye-bye.

No Radical Changes In Motor Laws

The California motorist need have no worries about radical changes in the present Motor Vehicle Law.

The measures before the legislature which affect the operation of automobiles in California have had most of their teeth drawn by amendment after amendment and, in the final analysis, the changes which will be written into the bill will be few and will not affect the individual owner to any great extent.

A score or more bills were introduced into the Assembly and the Senate which sought to rewrite almost every section of the Motor Vehicle Act but these were tabled one after the other and radical changes were immediately discarded.

Under the direction of Colonel Frank Snook, Superintendent of the Motor Vehicle Department, legislation dealing with the Motor Vehicle Act has been directed. Co-operating with all the agencies interested in the enforcement of the motor vehicle rgulations, Colonel Snook has assumed the leadership and directed legislative matters which concern his own Department in a manner which has inspired confidence in those most interested.

Colonel Snook's police experience has served him in good stead in clarifying the provisions of the Motor Vehicle Act which deal with this phase of the law.

The raising of the speed limit for motor vehicles on the highway in one section which will be debated before the Legislative committee. Stricter interpretation of the reckless driving clause will probably follow any raise in the maximum speed on the open road.

How To Report Fires

In the city of Los Angeles there are a great many people whose enunciation is defective, and more particularly so, when under stress of excitement, they are called upon to pronounce the name of the street on which they live, in reporting a fire. These people who have spoken tongues foreign to the English language, sometimes seem to take it for granted that they are understood when they utter an exclamation peculiar to themselves in reporting a fire. But this is not the case, and as a result the fire department spends a great many valuable minutes looking for the fire which they know is burning. The first five minutes of any fire are the most important, and quite often means either the saving of the structure involved or its complete loss. This one thing, perhaps more than anything else, was the reason for Fire Chief Scott instituting an educational campaign. These people who speak a broken tongue pay their prorata for the maintenance of a fire department and are just as much entitled to this service as those who speak perfect English. To them in particular we are speaking, when they report a fire by telephone, that they remember to be calm; and if the name of the street is not understood, they should spell it. If all persons reporting a fire by 'phone will follow these suggestions, it will mean that they will get the service to which they are entitled.

The first thing to do when a fire is detected, is to call the fire department. Don't attempt to extinguish the fires first and then call the department. Many homes have been destroyed because of this plan of procedure. The fire department is maintained for such purpose, and if the fire is out upon their arrival, no apologies need be offered. By all means remain calm. Excitement at such times may mean the loss of your property or some one's life.

Remember this: The telephone company is not the fire department. All that the telephone operator can do is complete your call to the fire department. When you hear a voice say, "This is the fire department," then give the necessary information. If you carry out your part it will only take about eight seconds for the fire apparatus to be on its way to your assistance. If you merely say, "Send the fire department, quick!" and then hang up the receiver, it is just possible they will arrive in time to save your lot.

This is the information you should be able to give in reporting a fire: What is burning; the street number of your house, such as, two-four-three-seven West Thirty-seventh drive; designation whether it is north, south, east or west; whether it is avenue, place, street or drive (the same number may be at five or six different locations on the same name); the nearest cross street; name of the section, such as Eagle Rock, Hollywood, etc.; the nearest cross street; and DON'T LEAVE THE 'PHONE UNTIL YOUR MESSAGE IS UNDERSTOOD.

In reporting grass fires you are requested to use the telephone, if available. In so doing, just the necessary equipment will be dispatched, and the remainder kept available for fires in established buildings. This is made necessary by the fact that there are approximately 100 fires each day, and about 80 per cent of them are dry-grass fires. In one day last week there were over 240 fires, and under such conditions the co-operation of the public is necessary to prevent a serious conflagration.

NEW HOLLOW AXLE ACHIEVEMENT OF INVENTOR

One of the most useful and revolutionary inventions affecting the steel products industry is the recent perfection of a machine that rolls steel billets into hollow axles at much less cost than solid axles can be produced. For many years manufacturers have spent much time and money in an effort to produce a cheap hollow axle.

Automobile manufacturers have been particularly eager to get a cheap hollow axle as it will meet one of their biggest problems. The hollow axle will not crystalize as the solid axle does.

It remained for Chas. G. Steele, who has spent a lifetime in the practical end of the steel business, to invent a machine that works so simply and so perfectly that experts from the big steel companies who have watched its performance marvel.

The machine turns out the axle rolled into form—and of an even thickness so that there are no weak spots, and it does not have to be machined. Mr. Steele's machine will also make hollow steel shafting of irregular shapes and sizes, couplings for all sizes of pipe, and many other products.

Anyone conversant with metal products knows that tubular steel is stronger than a solid bar. But under the present process the solid billet must be drilled hollow and it is expensive. Tests prove rolled metal to be superior to hammered, as in boiler plate, so that it is obvious that the axle produced under the rolled method with Mr. Steele's machine is superior to one produced under the hammer.

This machine will turn out an axle every 12 to 30 seconds. There is no waste and no ends to cut off after it is made. With this machine axles can be produced at least 10 per cent cheaper than solid axles.

Hollow axles are 35 per cent greater rigidity than solid axles and have over five times the resistance to horizontal strain forward and aft. The hollow axle has 138 per cent greater resistance to twisting strain than the solid axle.

Men of the steel and metal industry products industry who have seen this machine at work declare that a fortune awaits the inventor.

Mr. Steele has a machine set up in Los Angeles and will make axles for the local trade.

A corporation is being formed to manufacture machines and lease them on a royalty basis.

Investigate Carver Acres--- A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY FOR ECONOMIC INDEPENDENCE

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC:

In order to offset certain unwholesome rumors, to wit: That T. S. N. Maloof, owner of Carver Acres, is not the actual owner; we wish to make the following observation:

REV. RICHARD H. WADE
Manager

I solicit a thorough investigation on the part of anybody who doubts the honesty, and integrity on my part in offering these lands to the public. If any statement made to the public can be proven false, or not absolutely as advertised, I agree to frofeit $1,000 gold coin U. S. money to any one proving same.

CARVER ACRES, is the property of T. S. N. Maloof, and I am in position to give title to individual purchaser, on payment for his acre, whether one acre is sold, or the whole of the acreage is sold.

The records of San Bernardino are open to the investigation by any citizen who may desire to do so.

You will find Tract 2177 of the Maloof Highland Avenue Tract 1, recorded in book 31, page 51, San Bernardino County. You will also find Maloof Highland Avenue Tract, 2178, Plot 2, recorded in book 31, page 52.

Search the records, they speak for themselves. My offer stands to any one, and every one. If it is not as we say, you don't have to buy.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make One Thousand Dollars, by anyone who doubts our word. Remember this offer is unconditional, to anybody, anywhere, at any time.

The Rev. R. H. Wade, a man of outstanding character, and 18 years of unquestioned integrity, in California, who has for the first time to deceive the public, is my General Manager. He is known as a man of the highest honor, and invites investigation to the fullest extent. And Mr. E. B. Maxey, building contractor of 20 years' residence in Los Angeles, known everywhere as an honorable man, of strong business qualities, certifies as to truth of the facts above stated.

The land is now going. Get in now. Water rights go with the land. He who hesitates will lose.

T. S. N. MALOOF, Owner.
E. B. MAXEY, Contractor.
RICHARD H. WADE, Manager.

This property, named after the great scientist of Tuskegee Industrial Institute, offers the greatest opportunity to be found anywhere in this wonderful State, for the economical development of the Race.

Located on paved boulevards, about one hour and thirty minutes drive from Los Angeles; within 30 minutes' drive from the following towns: Alto Loua, Etawonda, Cucomonger, Upland, Ontario, Chion, Corona, Arlington, Riverside, Colton and Redlands. Twelve miles from the city hall of San Bernardino. It also joins the finest Olive Grove in California.

Buy one or more acres at once. Prises advancing with improvements. Delay means loss—get in on the ground floor.

This is your one opportunity to own some of the best land in California. Rich, level soil, midst highly improved orchards, vineyards and olive groves. Geological survey shows abundant water supply; water rights with every acre. Buy one or more acres at once—$600 per acre and up.

T. S. N. MALOOF
Owner of Carver Acres

Terms—10% down and balance to suit purchaser. This amount will place you in possession of an acre of the best boulevard lands.

Gain an independence. Buy now before prices advance.

T. S. N. Maloof, is sole owner of Maloof Tract No. 2177, and 2178, Highland avenue, San Bernardino County. We guarantee to every purchaser full protection.

This is the most wonderful opportunity ever offered west of the Rocky Mountains. There will never be another such offer in your lifetime.

If you wish to get in on the ground floor in this proposition, visit our headquarters at 2727 Cenrtal avenue and you will meet our representatives who are thoroughly competent to explain all the details of this proposition.

Located in the midst of health, wealth and prosperity, on a highly improved highway, from Los Angeles to San Bernardino.

Right in line with highly improved orchards; about 54 miles from Los Angeles' Court House. Also the finest place in the State for poultry, rabbits, in fact everything that you want to raise.

This acreage is surrounded by several large cities. Plenty of water, guaranteed for domestic use by the owner.

T. S. N. Maloof will endeavor to assist you in building your home with all the necessary improvements. I am not a promoter, but owner of this tract. I am in a position to give a grant deed, and a certificate of title to each individual acre bought and paid for.

Do not measure my proposition by others of a like nature. Mine is different from any other yet given to the people of California. In fact there is nothing to compare with this proposition.

I also finance and build homes anywhere in Southern California. Resources unlimited. If you have the purchase price on your acreage we will make every effort to build for you; putting in fences, chicken corral, rabbit hatchery, allowing you to pay out in small monthly instalments.

Here is a splendid opportunity to make a substantial beginning toward an independent future. We also carry Fire Insurance, Rentals, Sales,—City, Country and Suburban properties. In fact anything in the Real Estate line. Information cheerfully given.

Contracting Department
E. B. MAXEY

Building Department

We do a general contracting, building and financing, build-construction of every kind; painting, plastering, paper hanging, plumbing, cement contracting, architectural drawing.

Apartments, bungalows, courts, stores, duplexes, modern homes of every description, and furnish architectural drawings for same at a reasonable price.

We ask that you give us an opportunity to prove our ability to you. Give us a call at our headquarters.

Water in abundance already on the land.

Busses go up to the land Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sundays, 9:00 oclock A. M.

Why Not Let Ace Hudkins and Dundee Fight Now?

ACE WILL BE CHAMPION ANYWAY

Might as well shove up the clock a little and have it over!

Dundee won't have his new welterweight championship crown long enough for it to stop squeaking even if he did win it so handily from Pete Latzo. For Ace Hudkins the "Nebraska Wildcat" and the most sensational fighter in the world will claw it off his brow no sooner than he gets in reach of it. New York fans get the biggest thrill in years when they saw OUR OWN ACE leap up from a knock-down that only made him hot and trim Al Mello to a fare-you-well, almost knocking him out. If Dundee is as game about meeting all comers as he was in defeating the conqueror of Mickey Walker then he will give Ace the match he craves at once. But bear in mind when he does there will be a new champion. The news caused quite a flurry in the East.

Saturday evening from his offices in the Spring Arcade building, Larney Lichenstein, the very able manager of Baby Joe Gans had his publicity man, Don Hutchinson, wire to the New York Boxing Commission that he claims the world's lightweight championship for the Young Master and deposited a check for $25,000 to back his claims against all comers.

HAMPTON U. IS HAPPY IN TENNIS TOURNEY WIN

Cotton Wins Singles, Vs. Seminary Cops Doubles

Hampton, Va.—Hampton won the singles and Virginia Seminary, the doubles, in the annual C. I. A. A. tennis tournament held here Saturday.

Cotton, a youngster from Kansas City, was forced to exert his last ounce of energy to defeat Norman Reid, of Germantown, Pa., representing Seminary, and also last year's title winner. Seminary's doubles team, composed of Eddie Davis, Washington, D. C. boy and Reid, defeated Ueters and BoPoker St. Paul, for the doubles title.

Anna Spicer Range in Recital at Beth Eden

BY: LOUIS MICHEL

Improved and refreshing, wins audience by fine singing. Mrs. Sadie Cole, mother of Florence, Italian Opera Star, praises Anna.

The song recital of Anna Spicer Range at the Beth Eden Baptist Church, 27th and Paloma street, on Tuesday May 24th was a splendidly artistic affair. Accompanied by W. W. Ellis, an able accompanist, this singer showed a greater progress made in the twelve months interim of her former recital. Even in the highest tonal chords, the singer was very smooth and certain of her work, whilst her deeper lower notes were very rich and pleasing. What Anna Spicer Range needs is some good agency to take her in tow and bring her perhaps, to Europe. Mrs. Range is one of the best local singers and if pursuant in her quest for the proper sphere, she may some day startle the natives and land on top.

The whole audience was very much pleased with her good work as a singer of all types of chaste, classical and spiritual songs, showing a fine marked improvement of her singing art, and Mrs. Sadie Cole paid this meriting artist very noble tribute. If she could get under the wings of Florence Cole Talbert, both of good could be done for Mrs. Anna Spicer Range—it would be a different Mrs. Range in Italy,—helped and advised along by such a grand and educated woman as Florence Cole Talbert is, than to be stationed here in Los Angeles, handicapped and fettered by artistic barriers and inconvenient prejudice, as this young woman unquestionably is. Nothing is to right here for her—but there is in Germany or Italy.

The Chicago Union Charity Club will meet Sunday, June 12th, at the home of Mrs. Perrin, 1005 Montpelier Avenue, Pasadena, from 4 to 8 P. M.

Urban League Reports On Industry for April

Bulletin No. 14 of the Industrial Department of the National Urban League summarizes employment conditions as follows:

General Conditions

Employment conditions showed considerable improvement over what they were the previous month. This is particularly true of the iron and steel industry, the building trades, shipping, out door activities, road building and even the textile industry. Predictions for the spring and summer, based upon signs of improvement which began to appear in April, are encouraging for the country as a whole.

The Flood Area

From the flood area in which 30½ of the sufferers are said to be Negroes there appeared no wide spread migration into the north as was predicted. While there are indications and correspondence pointing to an exodus to northern industrial enters because of the devastation which the flood has caused in agricultural regions in which large numbers of Negroes live, such a movement will probably not be observed, if at all, until the victims have had chance to recover from shock and deprivations they suffered. In St. Louis, Cleveland and Chicago there have already come to the notice of welfare agencies enough instances indicating the arrival of new citizens from the flood area to warrant special efforts for their employment and care.

A rumor that camps of Negro men and women, bent upon leaving the south to take up residence in the north, were detained by public and private authorities against their will, could not be substantiated. Bulletins from the area tell of considerable restlessness, but do not indicate any approaching unified conviction that the anticipated number will exchange their southern agricultural habitats for residence in industrial sections of the north.

Favorable Conditions

The favorable conditions reported are those which refer to the return of workers to the jobs they held before the depression forced them out of employment and from a larger number of reports than usual there was but one isolated case of the occupation of a new field or a new job. This was in Chicago where 14 colored workers, part of a 65% Negro force in a factory that manufactures roofing materials, were placed on machines that workers of this race had never before run. In Milwauke about three hundred men were placed back on jobs they were dismissed from in the winter when employmnt conditions generally were poor. In parts of the south and in many points in the north increased building activities took up the slack of unemployed workers. This was true particularly in Baltimore, Chicago, Winston-Salem, Jefferson City, Tulsa and Fort Wayne.

Order Negro Laborers to Leave Benton

Benton, Ark., May 28.—All Negro laborers employed by the Bail-Benton Gravel Company was ordered to leave this town before Sundown, last Saturday, by two masked and white-robed men Friday. The robed figures declared that the Negroes were taking the place of white men with the company and that this would not be tolerated. The officials of the company, when apprised of the order, placed a cordon of guards around the plant and the homes of the workers and declared that every protection would be given the colored laborers.

Whites for a long time did most of the work at the plant, and it is said they were replaced by Negroes when found unreliable and generally unsatisfactory. Since the Negroes have been employed the output of the company has been increased and the work carried on with greater facility.

Auto Hurtles Bridge--3 Killed

Residents Of Monrovia In Fatal Automobile Accident

The lives of three well known Monrovia citizens were snuffed out in an instant on last Saturday night as they were entering the city of San Bernardino, having driven a new Nash Automobile from Monrovia to attend a Masonic affair in that city.

The three persons were: Rev. E. Z. Martin, William Burney and Thomas W. Pressley, all of Monrovia. They drove from Monrovia on what is known as the foothill Boulevard arriving at the outskirts of San Bernardino near the Santa Fe depot. They turned onto a long and narrow bridge. This structure has a sharp turn to the left just before taking the descent which leads into the city. It is said that the driver, Mr. Burney, was of defective eyesight and lacked experience as a driver, and became confused at the sudden turn and in some manner manuevered the car, so that it left the bridge which is some 50 odd feet from the ground and carried away a section of the railing, toppled over, fell upon another car which was parked underneath the bridge, reducing both of them to a mass of junk and killing the occupants of the Nash instantly.

Rev. E. Z. Martin was the pastor of the Church at Duarte, while Mr. Wm. Burney and Thos. W. Pressley were residents of Monrovia.

The bodies of the two latter were brought to the funeral parlors of Conner and Johnson of this city while the body of Rev. Martin was cared for and all expense borne by the Baptist Church (white) of Monrovia. The funeral of all three will be held at the same time from the First Baptist Church of Monrovia.

TWO LYNCHINGS A WEEK

ONE ON SUNDAY IN BORDER STATE

TERRIBLE RATE OF MOB MURDERS CALL FOR NATION-WIDE PROTEST ON "SALEM DAY"

Boston, Mass., June 10, 1927. Last week's continued rate of "two lynching a week" has aroused fresh interest in the proposal urged by the National Equal Rights League that June 17th, anniversary of Bunker Hill be everywhere publicly celebrated as "Salem Day" in honor of Peter Salem and Salem Poor, Colored here soldiers on this first regular battle for American Independence, each meeting to send resolutions to President Coolidge with signature of the promoters, for a federal anti-lynching bill. It is realized that a fresh bombardment of the White House must be made and resolutions adopted on anniversary of a day when Colored soldiers helped found the Republic will carry a special weight as well as evidence of a concerted action.

To carry out this campaign the League suggests Equal Rights Citizens Committees or Leagues or such subcommittees of existing race bodies or churches. Heads of all national organizations or orders are asked to send a recommendation to every unit to pass a resolution at regular meetings nearest June 17th, and church on June 19th. It is also asked that copy of each resolution with the signatures be sent to the League, so that all these may be presented at the White House together for July 4th, each resolution also to ask abolition of federal segregation as a United Race appeal against two lynchings per week. The League supplies the Historical Leaflet postpaid for 6 cents in stamps.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

If you were waiting at the church and all society was there and the bishop refused to marry you?

Come and see what Reggie and Marcia will do in "Wedding Bells," a three-act farce presented by the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Benefit Scholarship Fund, June 24, 1927, 8:30 P. M., Patriotic Hall, 18th and Figueroa Sts. This year's best entertainment. General admission 50 cents. Reserved seats 75 cents.

MEMPHIS HAS NEAR LYNCHING

(By A. N. P.)

Memphis, Tenn., June 13.—The arrival of officers saved Tommie Lee Brown, a twenty-year-old youth, charged with attacking a white woman, from being lynched by a mob of more than 100 whites here Tuesday night. When the police arrived the youth was being beaten and cries of "lynch him" were being made.

The white woman declared that Brown had attacked her as she stepped off the street car and she screamed. Her outcry brought several men to her aid and the report circulated rapidly until the mob which gathered around the alleged assailant reached more than the century mark. Maddened by the charge made against the Negro youth, the whites seized him, beat him severely and were preparing to add another lynching to Tennessee credit when the officers stopped the ceremony.

ARKANSAS LYNCHES ANOTHER

(By A. N. P.)

Helena, Ark., June 11. Owen Fleming was shot to death by a posse of two hundred whites, near here early Wednesday morning. Fleming was charged with killing a white man named Ray Walters and farm overseer.

According to reports the white man had sent for Fleming to help move refugees back to their farms and Fleming sent word to him that he was sick. Angered by the message sent him, Walters went to Fleming's home and attempted to force him to come with him. Fleming fearing that he would be killed shot Walters, killing him instantly. Following the report of the killing, a posse formed and went in search of Fleming and when they surrounded him near his home they riddled his body with bullets.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Leon C. Clark, enterprising young druggist, who is making such a wonderful success of the drug store, corner of 16th street and Griffith Avenue, which he bought recently, wishes to announce to his many friends all over the city that he has a surprise awaiting them on Saturday, June 25th.

Mothers and fathers, be sure to bring the kiddies along.

DR. WILSON IS ACQUITTED OF RAPE CHARGE

(By A. N. P.)

Chicago, June 11.—Dr. John T. Wilson, head of the Wilson Hospital of this city was acquitted of the charge of rape preferred against him by Miss Navajo Boozer, a pupil nurse, here Wednesday afternoon when he was tried before Judge Harry B. Miller of the criminal court.

The verdict of not guilty brought to an end a case which has attracted national attentian due to the fact that Dr. Wilson is one of the most prominent physicians and surgeons in the country, having served for a number of years on the faculty of Meharry Medical School from which he graduated some thirty years ago. When the initial charges were filed, Dr. Wilson charged that the young woman, who hails from Clarksdale, Mississippi, was attempting to wreak vengeance upon him because she had been dismissed from the nurse training institution of the Wilson hospital and that she was trying to extort money from him.

In the preliminary hearing the doctor was bound over to the Grand Jury on a charge of rape and when the court opened Tuesday afternoon the courtroom was packed with physicians, dentists and pharmacists, many of whom had studied under Dr. Wilson while he was at Meharry. Miss Boozer repeated her charge that the head of the hospital had committeed rape upon her.

Attorney Wendell Green, one of Chicago's most brilliant attorneys in cross-examining Miss Boozer, forced the complaining witness to contradict herself several times, in spirte of the defiant attitude which she assumed. After Dr. Wilson's testimony had been heard and the argument of his attorney closed, the verdict of not guilty was not a surprise.

Name Publicity Chairman of Community Chest

Don Francisco, vice-president and Pacific Coast manager of the advertising firm of Lord & Thomas & Logan, yesterday accepted appointed as publicity educational director of the coming annual appeal of the Los Angeles Community Chest. The appointment was made by the Chest's board of directors. He succeeds Harold Janss, director for the past three years.

Francisco has been president of the Advertising Club of Los Angeles and of the Pacific Coast Advertising Association. He is vice-president of the International Advertising Association and one of the best known advertising men in the world.

Members of the committee to work with him will be elected by Francisco within a few days. They will serve without salary, as also will Francisco.

Mississippi Slayer Rushed From State To Prevent Lynching

(By A. N. P.)

Montgomery, Ala., June 13.—Walter Burley, who was arrested in Jackson, Mississippi, on a charge of killing a white woman, was brought here Monday to safeguard him from the wrath of Mississippians bent upon lynching him. Burley is alleged to have confessed to the murder and the feeling was so high in Jackson that he was removed to Hattiesburg.

Hattiesburg, however, proved to be unsafe and the prisoner was carried to Gulfport, but here, too, it is reported that the officers refused to assume any responsibility for his life and he was spirited across the border of Mississippi into Alabama. At the present time he is confined in the "condemned cell" of Kilby Prison.

L. A. COUPLE TO SEEK DIVORCE

BY: R. G. LAMAR

For the last few days rumor has been current that Mr. and Mrs. Sidney P. Dones who reside at 1380 East 48th street, have become estranged. In as much as both parties appear to reside at the same address, it was given over as common gossip. However, upon investigation it appears that the couple who were married on September 1st in Memphis, Tenn., and whose wedding was heralded as one of the most elaborate affairs in recent years in Memphis had mutually agreed to separate. This was indeed a surprise to their many friends.

After Mr. Dones' marriage at Memphis and his return to Los Angeles with the charming Mrs. Dones, it was at first considered an ideal match, but recently it has been noticed that they seldom, if ever, were seen out together which led to the rumor that all was not well.

Mr. Bones, when interviewed on this subject, refused to make any statement. In keeping with his policy he stated that any statement would have to come from Mrs. Dones. It is understood that the mother of Mrs. Dones has arrived in the city. Her mission has not been ascertained. However, it appears that there is no hope of reconciliation between the couple.

Employe Of Famous Night Club Stricken

Early Thursday morning after having placed a carnation in the buttonhole of his employer's coat and bidding him good-bye, Mr. J. Goodman Braye was seized with a sudden pain and in less than five minutes passed away in the arms of his employer, Frank Sebastian, owner of the Sebastian Cotton Club in Culver City.

Mr. Baye was a native of Sidney, Australia and a graduate of Howard University. He was adopted and reared by Lippmon Tannanbaum, prominent and wealthy Jew of Chicago, Illinois, attended a Jewish Synagogue and spoke the Hebrew language fluently.

For eleven years Braye was the manager of the Tannanbaum Mining Company after which he became a Real Estate broker in the city of Los Angeles. Later he moved to Imperial Valley where he proposed plans for a Colored Industrial School.

At one time Mr. Braye's interest was centered in show life and he traveled with the well-known stock company of Stewart and Robinson. He was also a gifted playwright having written two plays: "The Black Millionaire" for which he received an offer of $30,- for which he received an offer of $20,000.

He leaves a widow, Mrs. Alleatheat Wynn-Braye, a daughter, Miss Alice Braye, a son, Louis Braye and a host of friends.

BOY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT, DIES

Last Friday, June 3, while crossing the street at 9th and Central, Gerald Brown, 14, living at 9th and Long Beach, was run over by a gravel truck. He died from these injuries Sunday, June 5th.

As Gerald started across the street, the traffic cop turned for the change of traffic. Seeing this the boy started back to the curb, but was knocked down, run over, and dragged by a truck that had started just a second too soon.

The boy's right leg from the thigh down was split open and he also suffered from injuries to his back and spine. The ambulance was called and he was rushed to the receiving hospital. His leg was to have been amputated Sunday, at 5 A. M. but Gerald passed away at 3 A. M.

He was well liked by all of his friends. He was a scholar of Lafayette Junior High School and was to have been one of the June graduates. He and his brother were frequently seen at 8th and Central where both sold papers after school hours.

The funeral was held last Friday at 3 P. M. with Conner-Johnson in charge. School friends acted as pall bearers.

SIDNEY P. DONES IS GRANTED APPEAL IN USURY CASE

BY: R. G. LAMAR

On last Saturday appeal was granted Sidney P. Dones on the matter of Ethel Davis who claims to have been charged more than one percent for a loan. The record of the files in the matter and the testimony of witnesses was that Ethel Davis sought a loan. Her property being heavily encumbered, she was unable to secure a second mortgage and in order to secure a second mortgage, she found it necessary to make the papers in the name of the third party. Sidney P. Dones allowed her to use his name as the third party and sold her note at her request for $500.00. All of which money was turned over to her, no commission or brokerage having been charged her whatever.

This case has now been appealed to the Superior Court of Los Angeles County. The attorneys who appear surprised at the adverse verdict in the lower courts, state that the higher court will never hold Mr. Dones as charged.

Introducing Rae Spiegel

BY: WILLIAM PICKENS

Rae Spiegel is a girl, so young that she will not tell her age for fear that the natural prejudice of older minds will discredit her achievements because she is a "child," relatively speaking. Rae has won several positions because of her industry and genius,—and then lost the position as soon as she turned up in person to claim it,—because she was so young. When she writes a review of some ponderous book, a magazine editor reads it and says: "That's just the woman for Literary Editor for this magazine." He sends for her; she arrives. "How old are you?"—Immediately his enthusiasm wanes, and he fumbles for an excuse not to employ her.

She is a Jew, a Russian, and has been in America just five years,—and there are very few Americans who at twice Rae's age have read half as much good literature as she has read. Her reviews of books on and by the Negro during the last twelve months are phenomenal,—if you only knew her age. And judged without consideration of age, they will stand up among the best.

And yet she read her first Negro book just about one year ago almost by accident. A small publication gave her "Bursting Bonds" to review. "That gave me an idea and started me to reading books by Negroes along with other reading," she says. Since that day she has read more books by and about the Negro than have the great majority of educated colored Americans.

With the traditions and the background of a Jew, an oppressed people, she has interpreted many of these books in reviews with an astonishing understanding. She is quite an embarassment to the hight school teachers where she attends school, whenever the subject of "the Negro" or of "Reconstruction" comes up in the class. A great grown teacher has more than once taken her to task for "defending the Negro."—"I am not defending anybody," said Rae "I am simply trying to interpret the facts. I am trying to reason out the meaning of the thing stated in the books."—Rae is gradually learning, perhaps, that "reasoning" is the last thing that race prejudice can ever tolerate. Reason is plain poison to such a case.

And Negro books are just one of Rae Spiegel's diversions. She can talk with you about Schopenhauer and Kant; about imperialism and revolution; about Eric Walread and Countee Cullen.—And at last she is about to land one job as book reviewer for a great daily paper.—The editor forgot to ask her AGE.

And this child just the other day was a little thing in Russia, jumping out of two-story windows in the back of the houses to escape the invading counter-revolutionists, with her little life scorned by aristocrats and menaced as a member of a despised minority. Small wonder that those high school teachers cannot keep her on this

Three Convicts Escape

(By A. N. P.)

Baton Rouge, La., June 14.—Captain J. R. Picou of St. Gabriel, penal farm, verified reports that three convicts had escaped. The general office of the penitentiary here declared that it did not know the names of the convicts and were without an official report. Captain Picou, however, said tonight that Roosevelt Simpson was slain, Beg Diggs, wounded, and Frank Hunter was successful in making a getaway, but was believed shot. Bloodhounds were unable to pick up the trail from a swamp, where it is believed he got away. The convicts were returning from dinner when the trio dashed for liberty 200 yards from the woods. The foreman of the guard called to them to halt, and when his second command had been ignored, the order to fire was given.

Says Work Is Scarce

A plea that work is scare set Odell Mayfield free arrested on a charge of vagrancy by Officer Slaughter and Kelly. The Public Defender stated that Mayfield had not been here long and had been unable to find work. He received a suspended sentence.

EDUCATOR DEAD

The passing of Mr. C. S. Simmons was indeed a shock to his many friends here. He served many years on the staff at Tuskegee under the late Boker T. Washington; twelve years principal of the high school at Tuscon, Aris., for the past two years connected with the work here, where he made many friends. Being ill he returned home some months ago. He leaves a wife, one sister, two brothers and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

Query of Eagle Reader

1024 Lorena St.,
Los Angeles, Calif.,
June 14, 1927.

DEAR ELITOR:

On opening a morning paper today, I was greeted by "Lynching Feared As Negro Trio Rushed to L. A." The previous evening's "Record" gave an account of an offence—RAPE—of the nature that the three men are acused of. The California Eagle of Friday, 10th inst, had a repot of the same crime committeed against a Negro woman by an armed burglar.

Obviously, some remedy for this state of things is overdue—as much in defense of the colored as of our other citizens.

Would the prompt hanging for it, when proven, be as effective here as it is in England, where a brutal attack was recently punished by execution (after trial by jury) within a month's time?

G. W. DANBON.

NOTICE !

Information of vital importance awaits a young colored woman who took the Civil Service examinations for the position of Student Visitor, May 11, 1927, at the California Eagle Office, 347 Central Avenue.

C. A. BASH.

IN ST. LOUIS

BY: C. A. B.

As we see it, the next biggest business project in St. Louis is the Peoples' Finance Corporation of which Chas. E. Herriot is the president, Editor J. E. Mitchell, Vice President; W. H. A. Barrett, Vice President; Geo. H. Anderson, Secretary; Edward L. Grant Assistant Secretary; E. L. Harris, Treasurer; D. W. Bowles, Chairman of Finance Committee and Counsel.

The Peoples Finance Corporation is housed in a five story modern building at Jefferson and Market Streets, not more than five blocks from the Union Station.

On the first floor of the building is the bank which is not as pretentious as the Chicago banks, but up-to-date nevertheless. The other floors are used by business and professional folk, such as physicians, lawyers, dentists, beauty parlors and tailors.

Other lines of business such as grocery stores, beauty parlors, tailor shops, haberdashers, and cafes are on a par with other cities of similar population.

Like Chicago, when we reached St. Louis, we found her in the throes of a political campaign. One colored woman contending for a place on the Board of Education, and a colored attorney trying to be of service to the city as councilman, and the same old story in the same old way was also the popular chant; some were for and some against, and they battled until the signal of defeat for the Blacks was lifted to the breeze, and those who battled like those who sat supinely by took a long breath, and looked up to the hills of prejudice from which cometh no help.

There are an hundred thousand Black folk in St. Louis. They live in all sections of the city. There are some very beautiful residences, and apartments owned by members of the apartments owned by members of the race, but again the same condition prevails here as in other cities of large Black population. The majority of these people live in dilapidated homes long since deserted by whites who have moved to more desirable sections.

St. Louis has segregated schools, and provides its hundred thousand Black population with but one high school which during active hours is packed like sardines. But please, if you should happen to go to St. Louis don't say anything about this, and other conditions in this progressive Middle Western City; for if you do the high-ups will tell you to go home, and mind your own business, and after all, that's the thing to do.

So, California folk, please keep your eyes open at home. Segregated schools stand first of all for inferior education.

Our last spirited experience in St. Lous was to be a participant upon the program at the Citizens' Meeting and National Conference held Wednesday evening, March 9th, at the magnificent Saint Paul A. M. E. Church.

And the very same evening we parted cheerily with our newly made friends, and boarded a mid-night train for Topeka, Kansas.

BOYS ON SAN BERDOO CARD

Whitey Black the hard left hooking middleweight who shares equal honors with Tiger Bob Robinson in Lester Joint's great little stable tops the bill at San Bernardino as we go to press in a 10-round battle with Billy Harma the boy who beat Charley Long twice. The other ten on the double main event are occupied by "Gentleman" Ham Jenkins (our boy) who is one of the cleverest welterweights hereabouts, who is booked with Bobby Bridges; Louie Contreras meets Gonzalo Lopez and Willie Cooper vs. Sammy Aguerre, which completes the bill.

In last week's article we published a copy of a letter we had sent to the State Corporation Commissioner at Sacramento, California. We also stated in this article that we might publish the answer to this letter in this week's article. While we have already received an answer from the Corporation Commissioner, we think it inexpedient just at present to give out this answer. We hope that it will be sufficient to the public to say that the matter is now in the hands of the State Corporation Commission, and we shall do our best to keep you fully advised on all future developments.

It has been and continues to be quite a job to get this iniquitious proposition straightened out and to land one or more of its equally pernicious promoters in the person where all crooks should be, but as our task seems to grow more difficult the greater grows our determination to see that this is accomplished.

This entire matter could have long since been straightened out, but with a Board of Directors of eighteen men who are supposed to be men of business, men of character, men of intelligence and prudence, not a single one except the men whose names are attached to these articles has ever raised his voice in protest to what has been going on in the financial affairs of this business.

It is not our intention to accuse or fall out with our fellow directors, for we feel that there are many upright, clean men among them; it is more of a question of men who have been and are still asleep or inactive concerning the things that should be their bounden duty.

Time and space will not permit us this week to write and publish the names of all of the directors of the company, and their different attitudes, but we hope at a later date to give you all of their names and to tell you just what attitude each one of them has seemed to express since our last stockholders' meeting. There is one thing that we can tell you and that is that only three of us have attempted to openly attack Hugh E. Macbeth in his rotten and ill-advised program. There are a few who have openly supported Macbeth in this "frame up," while there are others who continue to pat Macbeth on the back one minute and then are ready the next minute to turn and grin and shake hands. Such manhood as expressed in the latter group is of no special benefit to Macbeth or us. We would like to speak of another group of directors which we feel are superior to the last two groups we have mentioned. There are a few men who have not kept themselves informed about the land company's activities. Some of them have put quite large sums of money into the proposition. They see and know that it is a mess, yet they see no solution. They hate to face the conditions as they realy are; they are seeking and hope for some other way out. They have our profound sympathy.

Before we conclude we wish to thank the public at large for their moral support that they have given us. We have had personal praises and congratulations galore from them for our open fight against Macbeth's inefficient and ill-advised program. Some of the Negro politicians especially have congratulated us on having successfully put Macbeth entirely and unconditionally out of the last political campaign. So little was heard from him during this campaign that one of the fellows told us that he doubted if Macbeth even voted in the last election. We thank God that our fight has helped someone.

To the editors and publishers who have published these articles from time to time in their papers, we feel extremely grateful. Thank God that all public men and their institutions are not opposed to answering the call for justice and fair play. It has been and hope it will continue forever to be that the press is the one great factor for the shaping of public opinion. It happens in this case, as it has in many others, that these papers are only trying to give truth and thereby establish absolute justice without fear or favor. Again we thank you.

Pasadena Brevities

BY: MATT SOLOMON

The rostrum of the Friendship Baptist Church reminded one of a veritable flower garden on last Sunday morning, which was the occasion of the home-coming of the pastor, celebrated by an elaborate program participated in by representatives from every auxiliary of the church. Mr. Van Williams, Senior Deacon, acted as Master of Ceremonies which in a very admirable way stated the intent of the gathering. Dr. J. Madison Young, Dean of the West Coast Theological Seminary, preached the home-coming sermon depicting in a most beautiful way the theme of his text. A capacity crowd was out and much overjoyed at seeing the pastor look so much improved. The credit of the beautiful decorations is due to the artistic taste of the Fleur-de-lies floral committee under the supervision of Mrs. Daisy Barrett whose ability as a decorator is well established. The pastor expressed himself as being mighty glad to get back on the, ob jwith a large program to be worked out calling for the support of the entire membership.

Francis Harris, one of the popular young people of Friendship Baptist Church is convalescing from an operation due to an attack of appendicitis. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

The funeral of Mrs. Ruby Prince, the wife of Wm. Prince, one of the early pioneers of Pasadena, was held from the First A. M. E. Church, Monday afternoon, being officiated by Rev. Brown and Rev. Washington.

Dr. J. T. Whittaker, the popular physician of Pasadena is reported as being very ill at his home on North Fair Oaks, having been complaining for some time.

Fletcher Smith, the popular Superintendent of Friendship Baptist Sunday School is leaving Saturday for Nashville Tenn., to attend the B. Y. P. U. and S. S. Congress which convenes two or three days.

* * *

Miss Rochelle Hurd was fortunate enough to grace the throne on last Friday night when she represented the beautiful Queen Maria at the Friendship Baptist Church, when the Golden Rule Department of the Sunday School celebrated the finish of ther Aeroplane Drive with a great celebration in the Social Hall of the Church. The throne was of silver, trimmed in velvet and gold, on which sat the Queen dressed in a gold lace dress with a beautiful court train. The Queen surely looked her best and represented an ideal crowned head. Miss Hurd worked hard for the honor and deserves the plaudits of her many friends.

The Pasadena Star News deserves much credit for the expensive article contributed to James "Slick" Stocks the star all-around athlete of the Junior College devoting a whole column to the record acquired by this young man through persistent work which has made hi mthe idol of the whole athletic world on the coast. The long list of high marks won by "Slick" makes him the inimitable of the dust path and to add more to his laurels he has gone into the baseball game playing the role of a shut-out artist in the position as pitcher.

EXCLUSIVE 13 CLUB

The Exclusive 13 held its business meeting Friday, June 3rd at the home of Miss Ethelyn McVea. Being the first Friday of the month, the 13th had a bit of unfinished business to complete.

Mrs. Mable Jackson, a new 13 girl, was presented to the club.

Miss McVea was certainly an ideal hostess and served refreshments while the 13 completed plans for their baseball club.

ENTERTAINS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. Mamie James of Holmes Ave., was hostess to an elaborate four-course luncheon Friday afternoon in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Emma Gibson of Oakland.

The table was beautifully decorated with spring flowers and pretty motifs marked the place for twelve ladies. Mrs. Gibson left Sunday after a wonderful two week's stay here.

Mrs. Laura Anderson entertained the L. A. Social Club at their regular meeting with a beautiful luncheon and cards for twelve at the spacious home of her sister, Mrs. Joe Taylor, 10524 Grape St. First, second and third prizes were won by Mrs. V. S. Melton, Mrs. Annie Lovond and Mrs. John Thorne.

Mrs. Anderson proved herself a lovely hostess. Everybody seemed to have enjoyed themselves immensely.

Mrs. Frank Hammond entertained with a beautifully appointed diner party, Tuesday evening, honoring the Misses Clara Patterson, Aline Chatman and Messrs. Godfrey Washington and Emmett Jackson, all of New York City.

Minnie Albritton-Jackson bids farewell to her many friends, Sunday afternoon, June 19, 1927 from 5 to 7 P. M. at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Albritton, 2717 Council street.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Drisdon of Bakersfield, Cal., attended the commencement exercises of the University of Southern California to witness the graduation of their daughter, Helen L. Wheeler, who received the degree of LL.B. from the College of Law. The Drisdoms were entertained at breakfast at the home of Attorney and Mrs. Willis O. Tyler, and at dinner and supper parties at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Hamilton. Miss Marjorie Drisdom and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker of Bakersfield were also guests for the occasion.

IN MEMORY OF MY BELOVED HUSBAND SYLVESTER ELKINS

Who departed this life June 16, 1926

Today brings back sad memories
Of a loved one gone to rest,
Those who think of him today
Are those who loved him best.

No one knows the silent heartache
Only those who have lost cantell
Of the grief I have borne in silence,
For the one I loved so well.

On the hillside softly sleeping,
Far away from grief and pain,
May he rest in Jesus' keeping,
For we hope to meet again.

Loving wife,
FLORENCE ELKINS.

PIANO TEACHER TO GIVE RECITAL

Lilias G. Hart, piano technician, will present her pupils in a complimentary recital, Sunday, June 26th, at 3:30 P. M., at Zion A. M. E. Church, Pico and Paloma, assisted by Rowena Muckleroy, soprano and violin pupils of Sinclaire White Murdock.

The "impossible" happened when Moses let L. C. have the car for one whole day. And everything went along so smooth.

An interesting event for Sunday afternoon was the well-appointed dinner over which Miss Della Macklin of Holmes Avenue presided in honor of Mrs. Ella Garnett and daughter, Bertha, of Racine, Wisconsin. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Blakeney; Mrs. and Miss Devonport; Mr. and Mrs. James Yarbor; Mr. Martin Dinkins; Mrs. Mamie James; Mrs. Marguerite Estell; Mrs. Marguerite James and Mr. Laurance Norton.

FAMOUS MUSICIANS HONORED AT BREAKFAST

On Sunday morning, June 12, at 2769 West 12th street, Miss Emma Lue Sayers was hostess at a perfectly appointed breakfast honoring Miss Minnie Albritton, Los Angeles' own nightingale and Mrs. Lorenza Jordan-Cole, the celebrated pianist formerly of Los Angeles, also Miss Clotilde Bennett and Miss Ernestine Jones, brides-elect. The other guests present were Miss Harriett Jones, Mesdames Anna E. Guess, Zella Taylor, Isabell Clifton and Anita Conway.

Delicious viands, luxurious household appointments and pleasantly agreeable personalities blended into one perfect occasion for each guest. After expressing effusive appreciation for Miss Sayer's hospitality the guests departed happily, hoping to meet again on such a delightful occasion.

CARE OF THE TEETH
By Dr. J. Winiford Rout

Clean teeth seldom decay. The problem is to keep the teeth clean. Dental acries or tooth decay is largely a disease of childhood and adolescence. If the teeth are kept free from decay until the age of 25 the chances are very favorable that they never will decay, but it is so rare that we find, upon examination, a person of that age or older with perfect teeth that when such a mouth is found its owner usually receives front page publicity in the daily newspaper.

The fundamental cause of tooth decay is more than lack of care. It is rather what we eat and how we eat it. If we as a nation ate exactly what we should, the way we should, tooth brushes would be unnecessary, but since we do not, and soft fod is bolted and half chewed, every care must be taken both with the tooth brush and careful periodic examinations in order to prevent the formation of food plaques and the beginning of decay thereby. Although the enamel of the tooth is the hardest substance in the body, when once penetrated, by the acids resulting from decomposing food, it deteriorates very rapidly. And when once the enamel is removed from the tooth the tooth itself is very quickly destroyed by decay.

"To cure is a voice of the past! to prevent is the divine whisper of the future," and the activities of the various State Departments of health are directed toward prevention of tooth trouble, rather than cure after the damage is done.

To those of your who have children under 8 years of age: will you not, for their sake, take them to your family Dentist and have these teeth examined and cared for?

BISHOP HEARD UNDER FIRE AS LAYMEN HURL CHARGES

(By: A. N. P.)

Hartford, Conn., June 14.—The lie was frequently passed to Bishop W. W. Heard by various delegates in the closing session of the 79th Annual Conference of New England A. M. E. Church, Sunday.

It seems delegates went to the four-day session with blood in their eyes. The turbulent meets reached the climax Sunday morning during the appointment of ministers to various charges.

Pandomonium reigned when Robert Miller, lay delegate and trustee of the St. Paul Church of Cambridge Mass., in open session, accused the Bishop of bad faith in refusing to return Rev. E. K. Nichols to the Cambridge Church as promised. It was at this time the irate layman passed the short and ugly word.

So determined was Mr. Miller he wired members of St. Paul to lock the doors of the church against Rev. M. C. McCoy, formerly of Lynn, Mass., an appointee of Bishop Heard to fill the Cambridge charge.

Threats were made by other members to carry the Bishop before the council. They charged Dr. Heard with yielding to dictates of Rev. I. Stanley Jacobs, former presiding elder of the Boston district, of whom it was said, had a grudge against certain ministers in his diocese.

Rev. Jacobs was sent to the Metropolitan Church, Harlem, after being transferred to the New York Conference.

A Negro Helped Found Mohammedanism

New York, June 14.—In the June number of The Messenger, a Negro magazine published in New York City, Mr. J. A. Rogers, the noted Negro author writes: "When the Christian Negro points with pride to St. Augustine, the Numidian Negro, and tells what he did to advance Christianity the Mohammedan one can point to Bilal, and tell what he did for Christianity's greatest rival. The Negro is, however, hardly likely to do so, as Islam, not only in theory, but in actuality, knows no color line. This Bilal Ibn Rahab whom Mr. Rogers dubs the "Warrior Priest" is described as "dark, gaunt, with Negro features and bushy hair." He was the only one of Mohomet's original followers who did not recant when tortured by their masters for taking up the new religion. "In the depths of anguish the persecutors could force from him but one expression, 'Abad! Abad!' (One, only one God.)

When the Mohammedanism had spread with the aid of the sword from India to the Atlantic Ocean, says Rogers, "The important task of keeping alive these ideals (of Mohammedanism) in the minds of the faithful was left to Bilal, while Mahomet was busy with the plans of battle and of government." "Bilal took care that prayer was held no matter what was about to happen. At the battle of Ohod, while the enemy was advancing, he made the soldiers kneel for prayer, inspiring them with his fiery zeal, after which they rose and swept all before them although out-numbered and deserted by one of their allies just before the battle."

"Mahomet thought so much of Bilal" writes Mr. Rogers, "that he granted him precedence in Paradise. 'What shoes were those you wore last night?' he asked Bilal one morning. 'Verily, as I journeyed into Paradise and was mounting the stairs of Gold I heard your footsteps before me, though I could not see them.'"

"After Mahomet's death Bilal continued his duties under the Caliph Omar, Mahomet's immediate successor, but one. At the capture of Jerusalem, Bilal rode at Omar's right hand, and saw that all the Christian images, as well as the idolatrous ones were thrown out of the temples, and the places prepared for the worship of Islam." Bilal's influence lasted until he died.

This article is one of the series on great Negroes being written for the Messenger by J. A. Rogers, who is at present in Paris.

Books of Wm. Pickens to be Translated into Armenian Language

(By: A. N. P.)

New York, June 11.—Vahan Totovents, an Armenian scholar, asks privilege of translating into that language the life story and other books by William Pickens, and continues:

"I have been in America myself from 1909 to 1915 and have written many short stories about the sufferings of colored people under the American democracy. I think it will be very interesting for our people to read your own works about your own people."

Russia has already translated "Burning Issues," is now translating "The Vengeance of the Gods" and Germans have asked the privilege of translating the same books.

"Gas Talk"

"GAS TALK," is the name of a booklet which we have prepared to help our consumers to get the most satisfactory results from the use of gas.

It tells how to make certain appliance adjustments to get more efficient results.

It tells how to do a number of other things which will result in a more satisfactory and economical use of gas in the home.

Our collectors will distribute a copy of "Gas Talk" to every consumer when the next gas bill is presented.

If any patron fails to receive a copy, one can be secured at any of our offices.

WARNING!

If your gas range was built with a "grid" or open top, it is unwise and unsafe to equip it with so-called "solid tops", "gas savers" or "gas conservers." Adjust your burners if they need adjustment, but beware of devices sold by persons of doubtful reliability. A range manufactured with a solid top, however, is a different mastery it was designed for such operation.

EDITORIAL

If the fiction characters cuss, it's a high-brow magazine.

There are just two philosophies of life: Do unto others and do others.

And many people think they are good merely because they are tired of sinning.

One reason why success goes to the head is because nature doesn't like a vacuum.

About the only place where a conservative is handicapped is at the necktie counter.

Keeping shoes shines is expensive, but at least you needn't check them when you go in to lunch.

WHAT MAKES PROSPERITY

Prosperity means good business, and good business means active buying. Buying moves in a circle.

There are four factors in the circle of buying—the manufacturer, the jobber, the retailer and the buyer. Together these factors constitute the public. The manufacturer, the jobber or retailer is in a separate class from the buyer only so far as his business is concerned. In every other relation in life he is one small individual in the great mass called the public, and he is affected by the same living conditions that affect the latter. Outside his own business he, too, is a buyer, so he joins with the public in starting the buying impulse that sweeps around the circle. He buys the comforts and necessities of life, and he wants reasonable prices the same as the public does.

Not all Loss Angeles merchants are using the local papers to unload their shelves. But it can be depended upon that the ones who are, are the ones who are anxious to join hands with the public in bringing about prosperity and keeping the community prosperous.

A SERMON ON TOWN LOYALTY

No citizen is so powerful, none so humble, but what his town is an aid to him in some way or other. There is where he employs his labor or his capital, builds his home, enjoys the society of his kind and, in short, finds everything that makes life worth the living. Failing to find these things he usualy goes in search of them elsewhere. If he remains it is natural to suppose he has found that which he sought.

Since your town boosts you why not do as well by it as it does by you? To progress it needs the help of every citizen, and every citizen benefits individually from every community improvement, whether that improvement take the form of public works, population growth, increased prosperity or business development.

No community is so miserable and unattractive that it has not its boosters and none so perfect it has not its knockers, but that city or town achieves most in civic betterment which has the most boosters.

There are boosters and many of them in Los Angeles. They and their forerunners have made it the fine community it is and are making it the better community all want it to be in the future. But there are two reasons why every citizen should be a civic worker and booster. First, it is unfair to place the whole burden upon the few and, second, every citizen owes it to himself and his fellow citizens to do everything within his power to make the community better that it may the better serve all.

However, one should not make the mistake of confining his boosting to talking about the virtues of his home town. Direct advertising pays, but the kind of boosting that pays the highest dividends is sober and persevering endeavor of the kind that builds and beautifies the community.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

Tomorrow is usually a little further off than yesterday. Both, however, have a perspective which in some way shows them up in nearly their true relation and in other ways distort the view and make them appear in strange ways. Yesterday was just a little while since, today and tomorrow will soon be just one of the present days.

There are dreamers who are continually looking for the better day, for the time when men and women will become almost perfect. They forever talk about the "good old days" and deplore modern conditions and morals. They never tire of comparison particularly of the modern girl with the girl of their youth and always to the disadvantage of the girl of today. So obsessed have they become with the idea that the trend of morals and manners are on the downward track that acts of slightest indiscretion become degrading and the failure of extreme courtliness shows a decadence in manners.

Yesterday was not a whit better than the today in which we live and the morals of the youth today are the equal of those in the "good old days." Manners of today are better, there may be less gesticulation but there is more gentleness and unselfishness than was the case yesterday. Prudishness and snobbery are at a minimum and the advancement in these two phases of politeness alone more than recompense for what may have been lost in the manners of other days.

If you will back up those who cintinually hark on conditions today and forever praise those of other days, it will be easy to convince hi mthat conditions today are as good as a quarter of a century ago.

HOW COME THIS ?

That great preparations are being made to foist the Chinese Lottery Sharks upon us again. From whence comes the order to inflict upon a people who have been assailed by our chief as furnishing the major part of crime in our city? It appears that an unseen hand prepares to manipulate the strings and "presto" the Lottery Sharks begin to ply their trade. In this instance, however, their hand has been called in the making. Games that were to have opened up on last Saturday have been deferred to the coming Saturday, and perhaps the attempt will fail to materialize at all for reasons that are obvious.

Be it known that the Chinese Lottery game is just about the biggest graft that can possibly come forth, when the industrious Orientals flit from place to place plying their trade and rake in thousands of dollars per day for chances of picking the elusive 6 or 7 spot with but one chance in a million to do so.

The California Eagle has ever been to the forefront in its relentless warfare against this pernicious graft. We have fought them when it meant serious consequences to us on account of the fact that its backers would seek for reprisals by the boycott route on advertising, and subscriptions. This, however, failed to dampen our enthusiasm for we never ceased in exposing this, the greatest of all fakes and harmful to the utmost degree.

Talk about exploitation, somebody unseen with a canny influence in police affairs, will not hesitate to foist upon the people of the East side, this orgie of vice along with any other which they see fit unless we are eternally on guard.

In the future as in the past, we shall, with due vigilance, seek out and call attention to developments of all sorts of vicious propaganda which tends to discredit and lower the morale of our citizenship consisting of all peoples in all sections that the "Soaring Eagle" serves.

STAY TOGETHER

For more than thirty years this writer has stood in the forefront battling and contending that the only salvation for the ultimate success of our group is for a closer union of all forces, this has been a long time and the only times in which we have succeeded was the time when we had a semblance of unity. We well remember back in Kansas when the famous Lincoln Day Club was organized. For a time every faction and individual worth while was united on a program of accomplishments, and presenting a solid front in political endeavor we got almost everything we went after. However, as time passed on old man envy, selfishness and self aggrandizement got crossed up with progress and the potency of our influence was below par and we failed, signally so, to be counted in on the political program thereof.

Out here on these Western shores in the last city election, voters of our group got together as never before, and they actually brought things to pass. It was grand and great. A ray of sunshine it was for greater things to come if we can but keep up the spirit of getting together and remaining together.

The accomplishments from this situation will be so great that all can share in the glory thereof. It will be wholly unnecessary for anybody filled up with ego to say "I killed Cock Robin", for after all if "Cock Robin" is killed, it is the people who will kill him.

The main thing is having gotten together, for God's sake stay there. Eschew the spirit of envy, keep together as never before and all things will be added unto you as never before.

Mr. Little on Worthington avenue, is preparing to take a trip to Arizona and many other places.

Rev. Ramsey had a Rally, Sunday which netted $104 That was fine considering the short time that was given it and for the times being so dull.

Mr. Thomas came down and delivered an address to the U. N. I. A. which was enjoyed by all.

Negro And White In Street Battle

H. Turner, colored, was tried in Judge Leonard Wilson's Court, Thursday afternoon on a charge of assault and battery on the person of a white man by the name of Freeman. H. Turner, a white man, testified that Turner had jumped on Freeman and commenced beating him, John Bascomb, colored, testified that he had separated the two men Freeman himself stated that he had owed Turner $45.30, was talking with him about the debt on 42nd street when he suddenly smashed him on the jaw, knocked him down and began beating him. Turner testified thus:

"The man owes me money, judge, and I asked him for it, but he says I hit him and I didn't."

"Who struck the first blow?" asked the judge.

"Well, we just got to tussling about the same time."

"Well," said the judge, "I find you guilty but I will give you a 30 days' suspended sentence for two years provided you promise to behave and the next time you have trouble bring your troubles to the court.

CARLO CURTIS MAY BE ONLY REAL "BOY PROMOTER

GOOD BATH DAY BILL AT MAIN ST. ATHLETIC CLUB

Of all the "boy promoters" here the quiet, dapper Carlo Curtis looks more like a real kid than any of the rest. Maybe he is, maybe he "ain't," he may be just a little old man so far as we know but he certainly knows how to stage the kind of bout on his Saturday night bills that assure plenty of action and the quickest number of knockouts. Saturday's (June 18th) bill follows:

SATURDAY

MAIN STREET A. C.—Benny Farrell vs. Freddy Albin, main event, eight rounds; Red Bennett vs. Al Romo, semi-windup, six rounds; Jack Mandel vs. Bob Rodriques, six rounds;

Marie Finds $50 High For "Hooch"

Marie Brown was fined $50 or 50 days in Judge Turney's Court for Wright Act and possession. She paid the $50 but decided the price was too high for future indulgence.

OH BOY, JENNIE GOES FREE

Jennie Harris left Judge Turney's Court Room with a broad smile on her face. She had just been dismissed on a charge of possessing liquor without saloon license.

Behold The Scarlet Woman!

Susie Henderson, 757 Gladys, was released from custody of the Hawk by Murray and Stewart. She had been arrested for being a Magdalen.

JOHN WAS A ONE MAN ARMY

John Guillabeau, 1724 E. 51st St., may not be able to explain how he inherited such a name but he will have to explain what he was doing with a gun in each outside overcoat pocket when arrested by officers from Newton Street Station. He was discovered standing in the shadow of a tree near midnight and when searched in addition to his arsenal consisting of a fully loaded automatic and a six-shooter he also had a bill fold full of lottery tickets. He was booked on a suspicion of robbery charge.

AT LEAST THE FORD WAS SOBER

Sometimes a Ford shows the almost human intelligence it is said to possess when it cares to act unruly. But on the occasion a few nights past when Stewart Douglas was driving one, it is fortunate both for the car and the driver that it stopped when it did. Douglas was found at 28th and Central gloriously and helplessly drunk sitting up in his flivver, which had stopped there of its own accord out of the traffic but with the motor still runing. Its driver who was booked for drunken driving was unable to even hold the steering wheel any longer.

LIEUTENANT KRUG FAILS TO MAKE PEACE

Lieutenant Krug of the Newton Street division whose peace making tendencies and success as such was related in last week's issue almost met his Waterloo in Mrs. Nita Knutsem. She was drunk and fighting at 1015 E. 53rd St., when Officer Prince attempted to arrest her. She turned her combative activities on him and was doing him up brown when Officer Prince called on Lieutenant Krug to come to his rescue. Turning on him she ripped and tore at him like a wild-cat almost tearng off his uniform, until he had to lay down arbitration and use pure strength to subdue the drink-crazed woman. But even yet he is not discouraged in the powers of persuasion.

THIRD ATTACKER-BANDIT FINALLY CAUGHT

The third of the trio of attacker bandits whose capture has been anxiously hoped for by colored law-abiding citizens as well as white was apprehended at Oakland by Officers who have been trailing him. He is Joe Martin, alleged to be also a dope fiend. Information as to Martin was given in a willing confession by H. R. Hart, the first suspect arrested and said to be the ring leader. Hart who lives at 1248 W. 35th Place was arrested with three guns on his person by Officers McDuff and Green and made his confession to Chief of Detectives Cline and Captain Clem People of the Sheriff's robbery squad.

INTRODUCING RAE SPIEGEL

Five years ago she knew not a word of English. Today see how she can analyze Carl Van Vechten's rot and the American soul in the following dissection of "Nigger Heaven."—In the future, watch our releases and other publications for the name of RAE SPIEGEL.

CARL VAN VECHTEN'S "NIGGER HEAVEN" BY RAE SPIEGEL

I wonder whether the word "artist" does necessarily have to suggest bad logic. It certainly does in this case, and not only that it also implies poor analysis of human nature—especially Negro nature. It does not take much effort on our part to prove those points. We have quite a few characteristics that Carl Van Vechten, the author of "Nigger Heaven," attributes to the Negro race as distinctly Negro traits that are not so.

To state examples: Mr. Van Vechten puts these words into the mouth of one of the characters of the story "Negroes never premeditate murder—they commit murder under a passion." Except the fact that it is not characteristically Negro—that most murders committed by any people at the time of their act are done under the stress of passion, we face the direct opposition that there are many cases of premeditated murder in the South (done by Negroes). Another example: One finds that Carl Van Vechten think that C. P. T. (colored people's time) is a Negro trait and is synonymous with the word "late." I, as a Jewess, know that the Jews think Jewish time is synonymous with "late." An observer therefore says, "If that is true, there must be a general reason that would account for that. We see that it is not seemingly only a Negro trait, but also a Jewish one. What have those two races in common?" Investigating the situation, one finds that they were both slaves once upon a time. One knows that masters never were pleased with their slaves. They (the masters) always called the slaves lazy told them that they were inefficient, that they were late etc., and so on. That slaves never had a word of their own, that they always tried to follow the master. Knowing that then, one sees that the master really invented such "stuff" as C. P. T. That the slave followed in repeating that, told it to his children, and the children told it to their children, and so forth and so on tuntil it formed into a saying. And we, unfortunately, take for granted that it is so. We do not investigate to see whether this is characteristic of other people, and by assimilation, arrive at the right conclusion. As a matter of fact C. P. T. is more a saying than a practiced custom. We find many other instances in the book of such defective analysis.

If one does not know where the root of the evil is, he will not know how to get rid of the evil. And, as we saw, Mr. Van Vechten has not gotten the root of the thing, and as a result has the wrong solution to the abolition of race prejudice. One of the characters of the story believed that if the Negro would acquire wealth, he would eventually bcome independent and race prejudice would be eliminated. The fact is that the rich Negroes are hated yet more than the poor Negroes by the whites. Wealth is no solution to race prejudice. Social equality is and social equality can only be acquired by the masses of workers, both black and white, fighting together their common enemy, Capitalism.

As far as the "artistic" part is concerned, the book "Nigger Heaven," is not a great work of art. There are but few characters that are drawn clearly. Mary, the heroine, seems like an Egyptian mummy. The description of the Creeper may be a caricature, but it certainly is not a portrait of a living person. Byron, the hero, however, is well drawn. So well drawn in fact that we cannot only see him, but also meet him. I know I could hear him say, "I want to be not only a good Negro writer; I want to be as good as anyone." The other characters are so, so. The cabaret scenes are worthy of mention. They really are the most "artistic" descriptions in the book.

As a representative of Negro life as a whole, "Nigger Heaven" is a complete failure.

MR. STORK VISITS

Announcements of the birth of Owen Austin Troy, Jr., on June 10th are in the mails. The happy young parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen A. Troy, are residents of Oakland, California, but formerly Angelenos, and very well known. Mother and son are progressing excellently.

SIDNETTA DONES HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

June 14th, was little Miss Sidnetta Dones' 13th birthday. She was honored with a theatre party at the Metropolitan Theatre by her father, Sidney P. Dones.

Her friends and the friends of Mr. Dones who attended the show were: Jose Brice, Armondice King, Mr. Jerome Hatcher, Miss Mathilda Richer, of San Diego, and Miss Willams, student nurse at the General Hospital.

WILEY CLUB

The Wiley Club spent a very enjoyable evening, June 8th, at the beautiful home of Mss Freddie Mae Perry, 1193 E. 28th St.

A lovely repast was served after which plans were discussed for a get-to-gether of all former Wiley University Graduates. Dr. W. E. Bailey, the president, is working hard to make this the greatest club on the Pacific coast.

If you are a Wiley-ite and have not been attending the meetings, by all means start now and you won't miss here after.

APPRECIATION

June 14th, 1927.

Editor Calif. Eagle,
847 South Central Ave.,
Los Angeles, California.

Dear Sir: I desire to take this opportunity to express to the voters and citizens of the Tenth Councilmanic District my sincere thanks and appreciation for their support and confidence at the recent election, June 7th.

To the citizens of the Tenth District, and to the citizens of the City of Los Angeles at large, I promise a fair, impartial, clean, and honest business administration. I was elected on a platform of common sense in all matters pertaining to city government, and particularly in the matter of assessments. I will carry out this platform to the best of my ability. I have no entangling alliances or obligations, and inas much as my campaign was conducted on an independent basis, I will endeavor to serve the people as an independent councilman.

To the ex-service men, who are responsible in a large measure for my success, and to the California Eagle and other newspapers of Los Angeles, I extend my thanks.

Yours respectfully,
E. SNAPPER INGRAM,
Councilman elect 10th Dist.

Read This: It occurred in Alabama. Eugene Harris, 24 year-old Negro caddy at Highland Park golf course (Birmingham) was shot and killed by W. H. Derrick, caddy master who said that Harris was "caddying out of turn."

What manner of citizens comprise the membership of that club when the master of its links is compelled to carry a deadly weapon, "tote a gun" for fear of his life? Again, the opacity of the intellect of that membership must be great when it would have in its service a personage so conscienceless, so bereft of human decency, as to commit a murder for the infraction of a minor rule. Even the best trained dogs make mistakes. The last fight this writer can remember was because a companion in the hunting field shot and wounded a dog that made a mistake, or error, in retreiving a bird. The more one ponders over the brutal act, the more fiendish it appears. It does not speak well for the social status of Birmingham laws when the murder of their caddies heralds to the civilized world that murderous weapone are used to "tee" of their lives, and graves mark the final hole; yes, it might be that they will see that Justice is meted out to the slayer of Eugene Harris.

Now, read this: It happened in Illinois (Chicago). "Three Flying Negroes bring U. S. Track Title to Detroit High." Three Negro boys and one white boy, schoolmates, won the interscholastic track championship of America for the Northeast High School of Detroit. This quartette of youngsters matched speed, brain and brawn with 1,000 other boys. Youngsters who represented 182 high schools in 33 States. Color was forgotten. The cheers from the thousands of throats heralded the victory of the relay quartett when with flying feet they sped the way to victory, bringing he coverted honor of the interscholastic championship to their school. Some difference: Alabama-Illinois: And the meet was given under the auspices of the University of Chicago. No guns were used with murderous intent. Illinois and Alabama are both States of the Union, but there the story ends.

We are glad to see Kelly Miller still hammering away at the Civil Service Force. We remember when he advocated the appointment of Mrs. Mary Church Terrell to a, then vacant, position on the Commission there was no assistance from the Administration appointees. The "Master's Voice" said "Keep mum" and mum was the word. The professor says, "The Negro makes a great many demands of the party of his preference before election and of the administration immediately after election. Usually the guileful candidate knows how to jolly the brother in politics until his vote is secured and to soft-soap him after the victory has been won. I seem to have some faint recollection of one Mr. Matthews and his 14 points. But they amounted to less than the scrap of paper upon which they were written."

A year or two past we tried to cultivate a study of Negro history, and bring before the public the activities of our race in the formation, building and preservation of this nation. We started off with the observance of the battle of Bunker Hill, in which Peter Salem; Salem Poor, Leo, the Fifer" and others of the race played heroic parts. In that endeavor we had the splendid co-operation of Dr. W. Moore, minister, Third Baptist Church, San Fransico. After the inauguration of the effort we waited for a continuation of such moves, but to this date no demonstration in remembrance of our great racial characters has claimed the attention of our people. When we think of how replete in historical personages; how rich in historical love is the Negro race in the United States, it appears as if we are woefully lacking in our appreciation and give cause for others to think that we are a negligible quantity in the affairs of the nation. It gives to others the absolute right to believe that, aside from our bondage, we have no claim upon the respect of the nation. It is any wonder that they speak with disrespect of Frederick Douglass when they know nothing of our Revolutionary heroes, and never hear of Benjamin Banneker? They know that Negroes were slaves, you herald that to the world yourselves. But as to other achievements of the race. Well! Let your conscience be your guide—But let's wake up! We are part of the weave and woof of the nation. Let it be known.

AFRICAN WOMEN POWDER NOSES

(By: A. N. P.)

Philadelphia, Pa., June 10.—Mrs. Osa Johnson, wife of Martin Johnson, big game hunter, always found time to powder her nose. While relating her experiences of four years in the jungles of Africa, Mrs. Johnson asked "Who could love a woman with a shiny nose?" Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have spent practically all of their wedded life in the African wilds.

"At first I had difficulty in keeping the Negro women from stealing my powder," she said, "but I put my foot down on that, because I found powder was necessary for my husband's safe. Even in Africa, I could not forget that I had to be good looking for the same man."

Jake Kilrain Will Make Up For Size Against George Godfrey

CULVER CITY THURSDAY TO BE SCENE OF GREAT SPEED AND HITTING POWER

You can always tel la real fighter by whether he wants his opponent made to order or not. Not so with Jake Kilrain who burst out of two months' retirement last week like a skyrocket and knocked out his first opponent, a good, tough battler in the brief space of 13 seconds. He did not even know he had been matched to meet George Godfrey for his second start but although George outweighs him over 30 pounds he answered when informed of the match: "Well, I will have a chance to show what I can do against big fellows like that. As a rule I can box them better. Their weight never scares me and I don't care who I'm going to box, don't care if I see him till I get in the ring with him."

Godfrey and Kilrain will pack the Culver City Stadium. Jimmy Murray predicts a sell-out. Godfrey is already popular there from his knock-out of Jack Roper and Jake's fame has gone on ahead of him. A fine supporting card back up the main event.

UPPER-CUTS AND BLOCKS

BY: HARRY LEVETTE

Bah!

Managers! Bah!

Any manager who can't manage is a sorry make-believe of a bum trying to get something for nothing!

In the boxing game there has to be managers—someone supposed to have the interest of the boxer at heart, and see that he is not only given his share of the profits, but also sees that his best deeds get publicity.

But a fighter who has a dumb, double-crossing, lying, thieving, friendless, selfish joke hung on him, merely because he put his name on the dotted line not knowing what he is up against is in an awful fix and will be until his contract runs out. Sorry managers, who know nothing of the game themselves, and are too much "in bad" to get anything done for the poor fellow who has to take what he can get! Poorly trained, mismatched, probably living from hand-to-mouth. There have been more good boxers ruined by "no good" managers than there are "gallinippers in a Louisiana swamp. When oh when will the commission put the blink on them and weed them out, for the pick and shovel gang where they belong.

One kind cannot get matches for his poor, willing fighter, and another kind I know can get matches all right but spoils it all by taking his young, thoughtless boxer out on wild parties of wine, women and swell-head, just to satisfy his own craving for such and because the boxer is supplying more money than the manager has ever seen before.

Speaking of first one thing and then another, don't Lindbergh shine out as a super athlete? Nothing but a perfect body could have made that broad jump, high jump, pole-less vault, marathon clear across the big blue. Babe Ruth says, "they shall not pass," meaning the other "circle" stars who started out ahead of him at the beginning of the baseball season. Wouldn't it be great if Helen Wills would join the other heroes in bringing new honors to Uncle Sam by making the wonderful Suzanne jump out of the court while "over there!" After all isn't California the greatest place in the world for Sports? Where else would there be a channel swim, a channel cut-board race and a skirt skimmers derby all in the same season.

Giants Defeat St. Louis in Second Game 6-2

(By: A. N. P.)

St. Louis, Mo., June 16.—Air-tight pitching by Foster and his timely hitting of the American Giants wrecking crew in second end with Hornsby, lead the Chicagoans a 2-1 victory over the locals here Wednesday. The St. Louis aggregation used Davis and Frost in a stop the Giants but were unable to do so.

"Sock, Block and Take 'Em the Local Boxing Arenas

With the tumult and the shouting having died away from the Olympic classic Tuesday, the good bulk at Ocean Park and Wilmington, Wednesday the week-end will see plenty more doing as this time-table shows:

THURSDAY

CULVER CITY—Kid Lucero vs. Rosalio Caballero, main event, ten rounds; Felix Ramos vs. Dick McDaniels, semi-windup, six rounds; Herbert Turchi vs. Edward O'Hara, four rounds; Del Patrick vs. Gil Ramos, four rounds; Barney Danielson vs. Belvin Bobo, four rounds.

FRIDAY

Old Time Colored Fighters I Have Known in Old Bare Knuckle Days

[EDITOR'S NOTE: These reminiscenses of the old ring days are interesting from the fact that they happened before "some" of the readers were born and when "sheiks" and "malted milk cow boys" hadn't evoluted yet. You had to be a man to box in those days. "In the bag bouts,' framing and no decision farces were unknown. Mr. Soto a little Spaniard featherweight at that time is telling of the many boxers he met loves to tell of some of the great Colored fighters in those ancient though glorious days.]

To come on down th history one of the best Colored fighters I met was Tom Ward a featherweight in 1879. In 1880 I met "Black Tom" a great welterweight. Nobody ever heard any other name for Tom.

Charley Turner in 1882 was a great straight puncher and one of the best middleweights in the country.

Back to 1880, by the way, there was Looney Madden whom everyone though crazy but nobody could beat him.

June Dennis, 1883, was a fast lightweight.

Black Diamond, 1885, was another great lightweight.

Jerry Marshall in 1893 came here from Australia but could get no takers for his offers, and no one would even box an exhibition with him. Finally I boxed a four-round bout with him, so Mose Gunts, since then the originator of the Owl cigar could get a line on Jerry. And so on up to the present day Colored fighters have always stood high in the ranks of Fisticuffs.

DREAMLAND CAFE CROWDED NIGHTLY

The beautiful Dreamland Cafe at 108th and Central, formerly the Jamtland, reopened by Mr. George Henderson, was the scene Monday night, June 13th of a reception to the whole cast of the Plantation Revue consisting of 37 performers all red hot. Joe Sheffell head of the company had the honor place at the long guest table and acted as toastmaster, singing by request, "Tonight You Belong to Me." Sally and Gus Jones did a very funny team skit and the girls chorus had a bunch of unusually good-looking peppy girls.

SPEED WEBB A VISITOR

The versatile little "Buck-eye" artist Speed Webb, and a part of his wonderful trick-dog were also guests of the management, as was Shelby who rendered a well received number. The line, Allen brothers, a real "workout" team that makes real hoss dancing, so easy and light you know.

Watch that boy Jimmy Fenton, he shows the boys in the Coast League how to play 1st base and how he can hit that apple.

* * *

Handsome Billie Burke is showing Fenton the art of self-defense. Burke has Fenton shadow boxing like Oakland Duffy. Fenton is sure fast for a big fellow. When Fenton hits them they stay hit; ask Boole how Fenton can hit that White Laddie Boole told me that Fenton sure can hit that White Laddie. Boole says wait till I get Fenton out on the farm and play him billiards. Boole said Fenton will never see that White Laddie then.

* * *

Jimmy Fenton will be sold by the Oaks in 1928 for $10000 grand, then Jimmy Fenton said "I will take Johnny Conde, East, to see him play in the world series. Don't forget Mr. Fenton I want to go East; not to East Oakland.

* * *

Boole, Fenton and Delany sure like to play billiards. Fenton never lost a game yet; Boole 60; Delaney 40. Not so bad for a couple of young fellows. Fenton batting 1000, Boole 888, Delaney 744.

Lou Daro Plans Big Wrestling Show June 22

Jimmy London has been signed to meet Paul Jones of Texas in the feature bout of Lou Daro's mat show at the Olympic, June 22nd, while Nick Lutze of Chicago and Richard Schilkat the German giant, will clash in the semi-windup.

Negro Youths Star at Interscholastic Track Meet

(By A. N. P.)

Chicago, June 14.—Northeast High School of Detroit, represented by three Negro youths and one white boy, amassed 32 points to win the National Interscholastic Track Meet held here on Soldiers' Field, Saturday afternoon, and Fort Collins High School of Colorado, represented by 24 athletes won second place by garnering 19 1-6.

Saturday was really a "Race Day" and Negro youths played an important part in the meet. Beatty, of Northeast High School set a new world's interscholastic record in the low hurdles when after winning the high hurdles in fast time, stepped the low in 24 2-10 seconds. Foster the Negro boy from Cass High School, Detroit, equaled the world interscholastic record in the century dash when he made it in 9 4-5 seconds and won the 220-yard dash a 30th of a second behind the record.

The four-man track team of Northeast was composed of Beatty, Lewis, Snowden, and Schmidt, while the outstanding star of the meet was Tolan.

GIRL-ETICS

by: GLADYS MATHONICAN

BY: GLADYS MATHONICAN

June commencements, June weather, June brides! and all three need comment on, which I shall give in the next issue.

In the meantime hot California daytime weather and cool nights call for especial care as to diet during the summer months as cool weather causes the inducement to over-eating and leaving one unprepared for the next day's heat. Girls should eat meat only once a day during the summer with plenty of vegetables and fruits at all meals. June brides should not lay down their athletic activities just because they sign up for a life-time track and field meet, otherwise they will be fat and forty before they know it, undoing all the good that their school athletics brought about.

June commencements should be really commencements. A beginning in the full development of the body by athletic training and the clearness of eye, mind and brain that attends it. also the cheerful disposition that goes with a healthy body. But as I said above, more about these things next week.

Y. M. C. A. STAGES GYM SHOW

The 25th St. Branch Y. M. C. A. will hold its first Annual Gym Show, Tuesday night, June 21st at 7:30 P. M. This show will be characterized by original stunts, side-cracking clownings, expert gymnastic and entertaining games.

A real treat awaits those who will see Kimbrough, Washington, Silvers and Stovall in "Much Monkeying." The special act by the clowns, Willis, Chism and Brandon, is a "hum-dinger." Over thirty boys will give you an unusual interpretation of the "Marching Mongols". But the best of all is "Me O My" by McCoy, Penn and Russell. Betcha can't guess what it is.

MORRIS COHAN'S NEW STADIUM WELL LIKED BY FANS

Morris Cohan's new Stadium at Pasadena resembles Ebbs Field from the fact that it is well filled by its visitors. A much smaller crowd attended the last Thursday's bouts featured by the 15 second knockout of Gunboat Smith by the great Jake Kilrain, but the small crowd was due to the substitution caused by the Peete-Hawkins part of the card. As we go to press these fellows are pounding their gloves in the ropes.

THURSDAY

PASADENA—Billy Jenkins vs. Dee Kennedy, main event, ten rounds; Tom Morris vs. Carolos Manuel, semi-windup, six rounds; Brandis Forbes vs. Phil Black, six rounds; Tommy Dunn vs. Hamilton Schmidt, four rounds; Homer Peters vs. Lloyd Rolfe, four rounds.

TWO OPPOSITE TYPES MEET IN O'BRIEN-GANS BIG BATTLE

Next Tuesday night, June 21st at the Olympic when Baby Joe Gans and Tommy O'Brien crawl through the hemp, the packed jam of fans will view two absolutely different types of men square off to face each other for a glove duel. Baby Gans the "Young Master" is more like the Old Master than any other boxer who has ever borne that illustrious name. He is a perfect gentleman in the ring and out, quiet, cool, collected and can be found on the West side streets any time near his residence playing ball with his own family and the neighborhood kids. He has never been set down for a foul and often has been known to refrain from punishing an opponent too severely after finding out he had him fooled. This was shown in the battle against Jack Spar, whom he could have knocked out in the first round. He has never been disqualified for a foul or for dirty ring tactics, but he goes about his work of annihilating a rival boxer in a careful business-like way.

O'Brien on the other hand is just the opposite type. Truly a "killer" his whole expression in the ring shows fierceness and a cruel desire to do as much damage to a fighter out on his feet as to one alive and coming. Boxers who have fought him say he curses and berates them and the referee in low, angry tones all through the battle and puts venom in every punch. O'Brien has been set down several times for fouling and it is claimed that he did the same to Gans at their last meeting which he won. If so, barring a foul, Gans having just knocked out Gonzales the conqueror of O'Brien ought to be able to do the same to O'Brien by the eighth round.

HARRY BUBBER JOHNSON
Weight 145 Pounds

BOY WHO BEAT CHARLEY LONG HERE TO START TROUBLE IN GREAT WELTERWEIGHT

By some miscue the name and weight card of the picture got misplaced and was unpublished. So here he is again and his name is Harry Bubber Johnson, weighing 145 pounds. Johnson has only been here a few days but his records and clippings from up north show that he cut a wide streak among the welterweights he met around Seattle, Portland, Denver and other boxing centers. During his workouts at Vernon with the clever Baby Gans he has shown the speed and trickiness of a lightweight and pleases the crowd of every day spectators as much as if it was the first boxing they had ever seen which means a lot to many food dodgers are not crowd pleasers. The most notable as well as the most surprising victory was by Johnson was a close win over Charley Long now in Australia and one of the best boys in the game. His first start here is sure to be a revelation and his desire to make Baby "welter" in California ought to make him a nice prospect for the promoter always in need of new material. His manager is Mr. Joe Williams, 5151 Wall Avenue St. and phone number Cal. 0701.

TENNIS CHATTER

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CHAMPIONS AT JEFF HIGH JULY 3-4

BY: WILLIAM MELLS WATSON
1555 Court Street — DRexel 3742

Wee Philip Le Bron Davis of the Alpha Tennis Club who parks his Ford at 1126 E. 20th street, ATlantic 7431 is busily getting things lined up for Alpha's Southern California Championship Tournament, Sunday and Monday, July 3 and 4 at Jefferson High School courts.

The way the racquet swingers are beginning to prepare for the event makes it look like diminutive Philip will have his arms full of troubles by hop off time.

An unusually large crop of young bloods are making ready to grab off the king and queenships while as usual the older heads seem to think they are too good to be dethroned. But "have a care" Juliasette, and brother Jimmy Stocks as well.

The July contest of men's and women's singles will serve to prepare locals for the Annual Pacific Coast Championships which the Western Federation of Tennis Clubs is holding Labor Day in Oakland, California.

The Bay Cities Tennis Club of the northern town is planning on receiving more than a thousand southern visitors in September, locals enthusiasts and others so don't be caught napping as it costs real dough to migrate to the Golden Gate, better begin hiding sticks and stones now.

OLAF GERVINE, 18 pounds, is one one of the best prospects on the Coast —Barney Barnett is his manager and he predicts a lot of fame for his fighter.

YOUNG SAM LANGFORD what has become of you? Is it possible the promoters are going to let a boy like that get gray-headed waiting for the kind of fights he deserves?

YOUNG HARRY WILLIS has claimed the French Welterweight Championship owing to Lemoyer running out on him. Friedmann also refused to fight Willis but the Frost Star Diego boy will take them all. Hustling in clinches, bar secrecy, hardness of "what hate you?"

ERNEST HENRY has the powerful build of a wrestler with the quickness and locomotion of jumrich that a lightweight boxer possesses. He is said to grunt like a pinch trimmer.

MARQUART of the Southern clubs is raised quite well following four Gunboat lots of dukes, "Fighting" Jack Dempsey, Jack Renault, Gene Tunney and Harry Greb.

Hawkins Hems Up Mack House For Promised Return Match

Just as we started to press Morrie Cohan the great Pasadena promoter arrived with a broad smile lighting up his ever-cheerful frontispiece. He joyfully gave out the first hand information that he had at last gotten Watson Burn's name on the dotted line to meet Long Tom Hawkins in a long delayed return match. The biggest cause of his relief was due to the fact that his regular stadium customers have been worrying him ever since the doubtful foul that gave House the decision over Hawkins. Although promised a return match at once it seemed almost impossible to get it until after Clisby knocked Mack out in such short order. Pasadena fans most of whom like the big, game, willing Hawkins predict a clean win by a knockout for the San Diego boy.

Detroit Boys Make Records in Annual Chicago Track and Field Meet

Last Saturday on Soldiers' Field three colored lads and one white boy from the Northeastern High School of Detroit, won the twenty-third national annual interscholastic track and field games with 23 points; the second highest bid for team honors went to Fort Collins, Colorado, winners of the meet for the past two years, with 18 3-5 points. Three other lads annexed honors as wel as points in Coach Stagg's prep games. They were Brame, who broke the high jump record by clearing the bar at 6 feet 2½ inches. Brame is from Dayton, Ohio, and a student of the Roosevelt Hi. Tolan of Cass Hi of Detroit, won both the dashes. He won the hundred yards in 9 4-5, and covered the furlong in 21 5-10 seconds. Cecil Hairston of Englewood high school of Chicago won third place in the running broad jump.

Chicago Stil on Top in Negro National League Race

As we go to press Chicago is still on top in the Negro National League. The standing is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
American Giants	20	10	.677

YOUNG HARRY WILLS LAYS CLAIM TO FRENCH WELTERWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP

Tom Scott, manager of the great boy Young Harry Wills indignant at the run-out made by Owen Lafineur, holder of the French welterweight championship, has claimed the title for his sensational boxer. Added to this rumor was that of Corbett who also was to have given Wills a match. The general public did not know that an infected tooth so often a source of trouble to boxers was the cause of Harry Wills losing to Jack Sparr. The tooth had been troubling Harry but an Oakland dentist advised him not to have it pulled till after the first match with Sparr. He went into the match with a badly swollen and throbbing jaw. Unable to stand the pain and knew he had the dentist pulled after the bout and thought sure it would not handicap him any for the return match. But he figured without the tooth, consequently the damage had been done, the poison from the infected tooth went all through his system so he was not himself by any means for the second bout.

Harry is in great shape now and hurls a dare at all the local welterweights including Ace Hudkins, offering to box any or all of them for purses just to get them in the ring. He boxes Charley Feraci next at San Diego.

Five Thousand See Beauties Parade

(By: A. N. P.)

Detroit, Mich., June 11.—Twenty-one beautiful girls comprised the list of entries into Michigan's first Bathing Beauty Contest, sponsored by "The Owl," Detroit's leading weekly pictorial, staged here Monday night.

Beauty of form as well as feature was, of course, required of the contestants, and each participant seemed to have been blessed with an abundance of both. So striking was the beauty and so perfect the form that the judges found it a difficult task to award the six prizes and do justice.

A crowd estimated at five thousand poured into the beautiful Arcadia ballroom to witness the contest and to cheer for their favorites and later to dance.

Miss Mildred Whittington was crowned "Miss Michigan," she winning first prize which is a trip to Atlantic City given by the Owl, and other prizes given by various business houses. Chief among the prizes "Miss Michigan" received is a piece of real estate given by a real estate company her.

ACE FOREMAN IN CHICAGO

Ace Foreman the man around whose name has centered much discussion, favorable and otherwise, since his attempt a month or two ago to span the U. S. continent—West to East—has, according to A. N. P. reports, finally arrived in Chicago amid cheers and criticisms.

Handicapped at the very start by lack of funds, the very thing mainly essential to the success of anything, it is remarkable indeed that he and his mechanic have even reached Chicago, where they made an appeal for funds in their trail blazing effort to place the Negro aviator on the map.

Ace Foreman's effort is not a selfish one; he has a purpose and in his effort to carry out that purpose he is entitled to at least the good-will of the public which seemingly has thus far found itself unable or perhaps unwilling to assist him financially.

Nine-tenths of Lindbergh's success to span the Atlantic in a non-stop flight lay in the possibilities of his having acquired money with which to purchase a modern, up-to-date plane. Approximately $25,000 was raised.

Given one-half, yes one-third, this amount, Ace Foreman would have long ago made history in his attempted flight, for he is made of the same material that made Mat Henson famous, that has given the name Booker T. Washington a place in the hall of fame. That stuff that has made Abbott of Chicago, a mouthpiece the nation over.

The Negro has yet to acquire that feeling of responsibility that will make him respond to the worthy cause of such individuals as Ace Foreman and his mechanic. They have the ability to fly and it is to be hoped that Chicago Negoes will rise up and do their bit toward helping these worthy boys on their way to secure for the race a place in history of world's aviation.
